GEN. MADERO AGREES TO AN ARMISTICE AND PEACE PROSPECTS GROW BRIGHTER

C. F. WIEHE IS REAL ANGRY OVER STORY

Says It Is Nobody's Business If He Contributed to Lorimer Fund.

Hines' Secretary Is Mad Over Testimony Given By William Burgess.

Says He Would Shoot Newspaper Men and Do Other Mean Things.

Chicago, April 22.—Christian F. Wiehe, secretary of the Edward Hines Lumber company, who boasted, according to testimony given by William Burgess of Duluth before the Helm investigating committee at Springfield, that he had given $10,000 toward a fund to help elect William Lorimer to the United States senate, declared picturesquely yesterday that it was none of any one's business whether he had or had not given to such a fund. Much said by Mr. Wiehe, who was talking over the telephone from his home at 1520 West Jackson boulevard, cannot be printed because of profanity which dotted his remarks.

"Have you read the stories of the Lorimer investigation, Mr. Wiehe?" he was asked.

"What do you newspapers mean by printing such stuff and besmirching a man's character?" was the answer given. "A man can work years building up his character and business and then you blast it because somebody wants to talk about him."

"Did you subscribe $10,000 to a fund to elect Mr. Lorimer to the senate?"

Would Shoot Newspaper Men.

"It's none of your business whether I did or not," he shouted. "The newspapers of Chicago ought to be crucified. I'd like to shoot the whole bunch of newspaper men in Chicago."

"Did you ever talk with William Bur-

"OREGON PLAN" BECOMES LAW

Governor Signs Bill Providing for Direct Nomination of Senators.

St. Paul, Minn., April 22.—(Special to The Herald.)—Governor Eberhart this morning signed the Joseph R. Keefe bill providing for the nomination of United States senators by direct vote of the people, making the "Oregon plan" a law in this state. The bill passed the house unanimously and there were but six opposing votes on the final passage of the measure in the senate.

James A. Tawney, in a speech in Minneapolis last night, questioned the constitutionality of the law, but the governor says that he can find no point at which the bill can be seriously attacked along that line. While he does not consider the bill perfect, it was passed by a large vote by the legislature and as he believes in the principle he could not justify himself in vetoing it.

CLOTHES BLOWN FROM BODIES

Three Persons Killed in St. Louis By Explosion of Gasoline Tank Car.

St. Louis, Mo., April 22.—An explosion of a tank car filled with gasoline here today killed three persons and injured nine others, four of them perhaps fatally. The car was standing on the Wabash tracks at the plant of the Bell Oil company.

Their clothes were blown from their bodies and all were found more than 100 feet from the car. Four of the injured at the city hospital, according to attendants, cannot live because of the extent of the burns.

COMES DOWN IN MIDST OF SOLDIERS

Prince Henry of Prussia Has Thrilling Experience in Aeroplane.

Darmstadt, Germany, April 22.—Prince Henry of Prussia had a thrilling experience while flying in an aeroplane with August Euler over the military parade grounds today. The aviators were sailing along at a good clip, having made thirty-four miles in a circular course in forty minutes, when a cylinder in the machine broke and compelled the prince, who was operating the aeroplane, to make a hasty descent, which, however, was accomplished successfully. There was not time in which to choose a landing and the aviators came down in the midst of a drilling regiment of soldiers who were obliged to scatter to avoid being hurt.

IS AGAIN ELECTED PRESIDENT D. A. R.

MRS. MATTHEW T. SCOTT, Chosen Head of the Daughters of the American Revolution After Warm Contest With Mrs. William C. Story.

PRESIDENT IS PLEASED

Both United States and Mexico Will Be Relieved of Tangle.

Washington, April 22.—President Taft received the news of the arrangement for an armistice in Mexico with undisguised satisfaction. He was quick to inform the members of his cabinet and summoned Secretary of War Dickinson especially, for a short conference. The secretary was visibly pleased when he left the White House. The president's first information came from the Associated Press dispatches.

It is believed that the armistice will relieve both the Mexican and United States governments of an embarrassing tangle over the Douglas incidents. The president, though somewhat disturbed by occurrences in Mexico, has never abandoned hope that the warring factions would be pacified. He has been confident that Senor de la Barra would be instrumental in restoring Mexico to tranquility, and the fact that the former ambassador has participated in the negotiations for bringing about an armistice has pleased the president very much.

Zone Not Yet Certain.

Asked what was comprehended by "the zone between Juarez and the city of Chihuahua," in which the armistice is to be effected, Dr. Gomez declared he was not yet certain but expected a more definite statement soon.

In his original proposal he had indicated to the insurgent leaders the necessity of an armistice in the state of Chihuahua and the northern part of Sonora, which include those parts of Mexico contiguous to the United States where disturbances have been most frequent.

He intimated that if the zone did not include most of the American border he would make such a suggestion, as he was desirous of forestalling any further complications on the boundary line.

Dr. Gomez is said to be strongly of the belief that peace negotiations should be conducted on Mexican territory and at some city where neither federal nor insurgent forces are in evidence. He believes that the presence of arms too near the scene of negotiations would have a disquieting effect on the proceedings.

GERMAN STEAMER REPORTED LOST

Rio Janeiro, April 22.—The German steamer San Nicolas is reported lost between this port and Santos.

The San Nicolas sailed for Santos from Hamburg March 10 by way of Teneriffe March 25. The San Nicolas is owned by the Hamburg-Sudamerikanische of Hamburg and is of 3,041 tons net register. She was built at Hamburg in 1897, her principal dimensions being, length, 375 feet; beam, 40 feet; depth, 27 feet.

The San Nicolas is engaged principally in freight traffic. She has accommodations for a few second cabin passengers, but would be unlikely to have on board many, if any, persons outside the crew.

REBEL CHIEF WIRES AGENT

PEACE PROSPECTS BRIGHT.

Madero's Camp, via El Paso, Tex., April 22.—Prospects of peace in Mexico became roseate today when Gen. Madero in an interview with the Associated Press correspondent declared that he had never, and does not now, insist upon the immediate resignation of President Diaz as a necessary preliminary to the signing of a peace pact.

This admission was so startling that the correspondent repeated the general's word to Gen. Madero and asked if that was the statement he wished to make. He replied that the statement was correct and added:

"It has been said that I sent an ultimatum to President Diaz insisting that he must resign. I did not do so. I would like to see the revolution ended peacefully. I want no further bloodshed.

"I have always been willing to make concessions to bring the war to an end and there is no personal sacrifice I would not make. It must be borne in mind, however, that there can be no peace the terms of which are not satisfactory to the Mexican people.

"All my officers are in perfect accord with my views. Not one will try to continue the rebellion if they find that honorable terms are to be had and that the people of Mexico will receive those rights guaranteed by the constitution. When I say that my officers agree with me, it includes Pancho Villa; Villa, like the rest of us, is fighting for a principle, not for the love of fighting."

Gen. Madero gave out the interview after an early morning conference with his subordinate chiefs, Blanco, Salavar, Villa, Garibaldi and Orozco. Villa personally confirmed the statement that any terms acceptable to Madero would be accepted by him.

"LEFTY" CRAIG IS STILL ALIVE

Indianapolis, Ind., April 22.—George M. ("Lefty") Craig, pitcher of the Indianapolis association club, who was shot through the abdomen late last night while in his room at the club's training quarters, is still alive this morning, but the physicians at the city hospital, where he was taken, give little hope for his recovery.

There is considerable mystery attached to the shooting and the police at first were inclined to scoff at Craig's statement that he had been shot by a burglar, who had entered his room. This morning, however, the police say they are working on that theory.

Craig's home is in Philadelphia, but Indianapolis bought him from the Trenton club of the Tri-State league last season. He is 24 years old and unmarried.

MOVEMENT OF TROOPS

In Juarez Zone Must Be Stopped When Armistice Begins.

This Is One of the Conditions Imposed By Gen. Madero.

Federal and Rebel Troops Are Now Within Rifle Shot.

El Paso, Tex., April 22.—"Gen. Madero has agreed to delay his contemplated attack on Juarez pending peace negotiations providing the government will, on its part, bind itself to move no troops, particularly in the direction of Juarez. Before it can be said that an armistice has been arranged word must come from the City of Mexico that the movement of troops in the Juarez zone has been ordered stopped."

In these words members of the peace mission today described the situation when shown the announcement made by Dr. Gomez, the insurrecto representative at Washington.

Gen. Madero is now laying on his arms awaiting a reply from the Mexican capital as to its willingness to enter into the proposed armistice. It is believed that the truce will be arranged.

The next step on the program will be

Passenger Train Plunges Down Rocky Gorge in South Africa.

Cape Town, Union of South Africa, April 22.—A passenger train on the Kloeira railroad plunged to destruction in a rocky gorge, 250 feet deep through the collapse of the Blaaukrantz bridge, thirteen miles from Grahamstown, today. Thirty passengers were carried down with the coaches and are supposed to have been killed, though no details as to the casualties have been received.

—Copyrighted by George Grantham Bain.

ENRICO CARUSO.

SEEKS CURE BY MIRACLE

Caruso Goes to St. Januarius to Regain His Lost Voice.

Despairs of Recovering It Through Any Human Agency.

Rome, Italy, April 22.—Despairing of regaining his lost voice through human agency, Enrico Caruso will seek cure through a miracle of St. Januarius. Should he receive the benefit he piously hopes for he will offer a silver bust of himself to St. Januarius.

Ciaffariello, a Neapolitan sculptor who obtained notoriety through his trial for wife murder (of which crime he was acquitted), recently exhibited in Florence a plaster bust of Caruso. This was considered a striking likeness of the singer, and the sculptor told a friend he intended to have it cast in bronze. Recently, however, Ciffariello received a letter from Caruso, then in New York, ordering the bust to be cast in solid silver, regardless of expense.

In his letter the famous tenor explained that he intended to give the statue as a votive offering to the saint through whose intercession he hopes to recover his lost voice. He is said to be firmly convinced that the only effective remedy for his throat trouble lies in the miraculous power of St. Januarius, who blood, preserved in a glass vial in the Naples cathedral, is said to boil twice a year, when the saint's feast is celebrated, May 9 and Sept. 19.

Caruso, it is reported, intends personally to witness the miracle of the boiling blood, and if he is cured will offer the silver bust, to be placed in a conspicuous position on the saint's shrine.

ONE KILLED AND TWO BADLY HURT

In Mysterious Explosion and Fire Which Partially Wreck House.

Parkersburg, W. Va., April 22.—One person was killed, another fatally injured and a third seriously hurt in a mysterious explosion and fire which partially wrecked the house occupied by the family of William Caskey, a prominent business man, here early today.

W. E. Curry, manager of the Parkersburg Chair company, was killed, Mrs. William Caskey so badly injured that she probably will die, and her son, William, badly burned.

The cause of the explosion and other circumstances surrounding the affair are being investigated by the police authorities.

PEACE REIGNS IN DAUGHTERS' CAMP

Washington, April 22.—The Daughters of the American Revolution met today in the closing session of the twentieth annual continental congress. With Mrs. Matthew T. Scott re-elected president general and her entire ticket in office, and with Mrs. Story, the opposition candidate, pledged to support the administration, as she announced last night, a comparatively peaceful year in the organization is looked for.

In addition to the election of one vice president general to fill a vacancy, some unfinished business was taken up at today's session. Many of the delegates already have departed for their homes.

NOT A DULL MOMENT IN THE TRIAL

Auditors Never Know What the Camorrists Will Do Next.

Two Men and One Woman Are Examined By the Court.

One, an Exporter, Says He Hopes Trial Will Help Business.

Viterbo, Italy, April 22.—There is not a dull moment in the trial of the Camorrists. The auditors never know what to expect, but they crowd every available place in the court of the assizes daily, fully assured of some sort of entertainment. Today it was Vincenzo Avolio, the butcher, who disputed the law with the judge; Antonio Percuoco, the seller of tortoise shells, frankly expressing the hope that he would get some free advertising out of his misfortunes, and Maria Stendardo, "the beauty of Naples," who chose imprisonment rather than betray the man she loved, that were the principal performers in this strange mixture of comedy and pathos.

The two men are charged with being present at the meeting of Camorrist leaders at the Aida tavern in Bagnoli on May 26, 1906, when Gennaro Cuoccolo was condemned to death. When Avolio doffed the apron of his meat shop for other attire he chose the best in texture and cut, and when called for interrogation this morning he fairly dazzled the spectators with his fashionable array. He is a handsome man, but none was prepared for the oratorical exhibition which he made. He spoke like a scholar.

Claims He Should Not Be Held.

Avolio made the usual unqualified denial of guilt, but went further and at the proper moment drew from his pocket a small copy of the Italian criminal code and from it read passage after passage in support of his claim that there was no excuse in law for his detention as a suspect in the Cuoccolo case.

President Bianchi listened attentively for some time appearing much interested and when he thought the court and jury had been sufficiently instructed in the law interrupted:

"But, Avolio, you usurp my profession."

Unabashed, the prisoner responded:

"I might say as much more, but I don't wish to steal the thunder of my lawyer."

As Innocent as a Babe.

Antonio Percuoco, smiling graciously, was next called for examination. He assured the court and jury that

CLARK INVITED TO PHILIPPINES

Filipinos Ask Speaker and Other Democrats to Visit Them.

Washington, April 22.—Speaker Champ Clark and other Democrats of the house of representatives who have taken interest in the Philippines today were invited by Commissioner Mauel L. Quezon to visit the islands as guests of the Filipinos. The invitations were extended by direction of the Philippine assembly. A cablegram received by Mr. Quezon from Sergio Osmena, speaker of the assembly, was as follows:

"If Speaker Champ Clark and other congressmen will come to the Philippines we will not only show that our hospitality goes hand in hand with our high aspirations for freedom, but will give the American people the opportunity to learn the fitness of the Filipino for independence. In giving the Filipinos their independence the American people will be complying with the sacred duties they have assumed before the world and the Philippine islands. Such action will prompt the eternal gratitude of the Filipinos towards America, in whose justice we still have confidence. Invite them."

SENATE AND HOUSE TAKE A DAY OF REST

"Farmers' Free List" Will Probably Come Up in House Monday.

Washington, April 22.—Both branches of congress rested today. For the house members yesterday's adjournment over Saturday offered the first respite from daily sessions since the Democrats completed their organization.

The next business in the house is expected to be the "farmers' free list" bill. This has been brought in to offset some of the dissatisfaction farmers feel because of Canadian reciprocity, putting upon them, as they believe, most of the burdens of the anticipated free trade relations with Canada.

When the Canadian bill reaches the senate on Monday it will be plunged into an unorganized body. The committee vacancies have not been filled and a split between the regular and insurgent factions over the refusal of the majority to accept the insurgents as a distinct organization promises further delay in the announcement of the committees. It probably will be two or three weeks before the Canadian reciprocity bill emerges from the finance committee.

DOCTORS ADVISED OPERATION—DECIDED TO TRY GREAT KIDNEY REMEDY.

I want to tell you in a few words what Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root did for me, believing that my testimony may do some other suffering person a great deal of good.

About six years ago, I was dangerously ill, consulted three doctors, all of whom said I had kidney trouble. One of the doctors analyzed my urine and reported that I had gravel, and further said that in order to regain my health and life, an operation would be necessary. I did not want to be operated on as I was afraid that I would not recover. Someone told me of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root and said it was a reliable medicine for kidney trouble, so I decided to try it and went to Mr. Rose, the druggist, at 303 Central Ave., Minneapolis, and bought a bottle, took it, noticed results and continued taking it until I was entirely cured.

Having been free from any kidney trouble for over six years, I consider I am absolutely cured and know that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root has the credit.

I never fail to tell my friends about your remedy, as I believe it is the best of its kind. Your U & O Ointment is also very good. We are never without a jar in our house.

Yours very truly,
MRS. MARGARET E. ANDERSON,

WANT USE OF VACANT LOTS

School Principals Working to Encourage Children in Gardening.

Good Work Being Done in Salter and Irving Schools.

Interest in gardening and poultry raising is being aroused in several of the city schools. Especially good work is being done in the Salter and Irving schools, where the principals are personally interested in the work and are instructing and encouraging the children.

Room is needed for the children to put their interest to practical effect. Efforts are being made by Principal Mooney of the Salter school and Principal Foster of the Irving school to interest property owners in the vicinity of the schools to donate the use of vacant lots to the children. A. B. Hostetter, superintendent of agriculture of the Commercial club, is assisting them.

"The children should be encouraged and the property owners could put their vacant lots to no better use than allow the children to cultivate them," said Mr. Hostetter this morning. "People living in the vicinity of schools often complain of the children, but they would find if they would encourage them in gardening, that there would be quiet and industry instead of noisy play. The garden is really a playground for the child who is interested in it.

"People who donate the use of vacant lots for that purpose will be given financial returns in that the lots will be cleared of stones and will be in better shape at the end of the season than they were before."

Many of the children have no place near their homes for gardens and the plan of the school principals is to interest them in gardening, band them together, apportion the work and get the children accustomed to co-operation in gardening and its effect. Mr. Mooney and Mr. Foster have already made good progress and it is expected that other principals will also take up the work.

SHAMROCK COMPANY MAKES BIG RECORD

The Duluth stockholders of the Golden Treasure mine in the Seven Troughs mining district, Nevada, will be interested in the favorable news that comes from their property this week. The Lovelock, Nev., Review-Miner, in commenting on the progress of development work, says:

"The Nevada Shamrock Mining company, operating the Golden Treasure claim near Vernon, has just established a record for rapid sinking that will compare with any yet established in the Seven Troughs district. On Jan. 1, immediately after the papers were signed, active development work started, and while the number of men employed was limited, the work accomplished up to the first of the month was remarkable. An incline shaft was started and during January one shift was employed and two shifts for February and March. During this time the shaft was sunk to a depth of 400 feet.

"N. P. Kayler, one of the big stockholders in the Shamrock company, was in town last week buying air pipe and other supplies. Mr. Kayler is much elated over the present outlook for his company. He stated that work is progressing very satisfactorily, and it was his belief that it would be a matter of only a few weeks before something of a sensational nature would be found in the mine. 'It will require about 150 feet more of sinking before the ledge is cut,' said he. 'In order to reach this point, we propose to rush the work with all possible speed. The shaft is being sunk on an incline, and according to the surveys, we will cut the vein at the depth above mentioned. On the surface of this property, while it was being prospected last fall a fine ledge was cut. A splendid shoot of high grade ore was found. Some of the values run as high as $8,000 in gold to the ton. Altogether the conditions look very favorable, and we believe that when the ledge is cut at the lower level we will be rewarded with a substantial find of shipping ore. Our property is equipped with a new hoisting plant and other necessaries, and there is nothing to prevent the carrying out of our plans as we have mapped them.'"

NAVAL MILITIA AFTER RECRUITS

The Second division of the naval militia decided at a meeting held last evening to begin a campaign for recruits, only about forty men being actively in the service at the present time, while the full quota is 100.

It is desired that the new men be secured as soon as possible in order that they may be able to acquit themselves creditably when they accompany the Gopher on its annual cruise in August. The training ship will take part in the maneuvers, leaving here about Aug. 7 for Manitou island. There it will join the Great Lakes squadron, which will sail as a fleet to Chicago to attend the opening of the new naval station at that city.

Lieut. C. W. Kelly of the Second division was elected ordnance officer; R. T. Hugo was chosen to succeed him, and Joseph Carhart was advanced to the position of junior lieutenant, while Mason M. Forbes took Carhart's place as ensign. Chris Brian was appointed chief gunner's mate. Lieut. A. A. Farrington, who was formerly ordnance officer and signal officer, will continue in the latter position.

LAST RIDE FOR ROSSI

Mike Rossi will take his last ride some time next week.

The papers are being made out and some day during the early part of the week he will accompany Sheriff Meining to Stillwater, where he will spend the rest of his days.

Rossi was tried and convicted of the murder of Antonio De Meo about two years ago and was sentenced to be hanged by Judge William A. Cant of the district court.

Just lately the sentence was commuted to life imprisonment.

Rossi has been at the county jail for nearly two years. Next to William Schreiber he has spent the longest continuous sentence in the county jail of any prisoner in the history of the county. Schreiber was at the jail for nearly three years.

COPPERS WEAKEN UNDER PRESSURE

The professional element let go of stocks today in the face of a holiday and the proverbial "blue Monday" on which day the supreme court may hand down decisions of considerable interest to the market. Selling of coppers and other issues seemed to be more for the purpose of stimulating activity rather than to force a decided downward movement.

There was some forced scattered liquidation of weak accounts in the Boston market that undermined values in the early hours. Toward the close a reaction strengthened the market. Values closed from a fraction to a point lower.

Calumet & Arizona at $48.50 to $47.62½, Butte Coalition at $16.50, Giroux at $5.87½ to $5.81¼, Superior & Pittsburg at $13.87½ to $14 to $13.62½ and then to $13.75, Algamated at $61.87½, $60.62½ and $61, North Butte at $26.75, $25.50 and $25.87½.

Thompson, Towle & Co., say: One of the best informed men in the United States regarding Giroux tells us:

"There is not much guesswork about the value of the Alpha ore body, toward which three long drifts are now being driven on the 1,000, 1,200 and 1,400-foot levels from the new big five-compartment shaft, for while nothing has been said about it, I know for an absolute fact that on the 1,200-foot level of the old Alpha shaft, before it caved in, the Giroux people were 160 feet in high grade ore in the Alpha ore body, and this fact together with results from extensive diamond drill work, all in the ore, give absolute evidence of the value of this ore body, and it was upon this that the property was purchased. Before it was purchased President Cole and several of his associates were underground and thoroughly inspected this ore, so that they were not buying it on guesswork.

"I anticipate the opening up of an enormous body of high grade ore in the limestone, and they should be in it within four or six weeks' time."

* * *

There is considerable activity in this camp this spring and many rumors are afloat about the opening up of properties that have been idle, and of increased activity at the mines that have been at work.

Mr. Murphy of Prescott spent some time here last week and it is said that his intention is to erect a concentrating mill at the Old Tiger property. The Old Tiger, it will be remembered, produced several million dollars worth of silver years ago, and it is said that later development work has disclosed new ore bodies.

Mr. Murphy and associates also own the old Crown King mine which has been under litigation for several years and was recently acquired by him, and it is claimed that his intention is now to open up the old Crown King in earnest during the spring and summer. There is also talk of increasing the capacity of the Lincoln mine, situated about three miles east of Crown King. A very fine ore body about twenty feet wide has been cut in a crosscut off the main tunnel. This mine is operated on a lease.

At the Oro Belle gold mine, situated about five miles south of Crown King they have encountered higher grade ore than they have ever had in the history of the mine during the last forty years. This ore was encountered in a crosscut on the 600-foot level and has a four-foot ledge of $150 rock; besides, there is about twenty feet of $20 rock. The ore at this mine is reduced in a 20-stamp mill and the concentrates are shipped to the smelter at El Paso.

At the Pacific Copper mine, situated ten miles south of Crown King, a force of twenty men is employed doing development work. A body of very high grade copper ore is being developed at this mine, and it is rumored that the company is about ready to install a reduction plant.

At the Arizona Mascot Gold mine, situated two miles southwest of Crown King, and owned by the Lake Superior & Nevada Development Company of Duluth, Minn., a great deal of development work has been accomplished during the last two years. The mine has been in charge of Engineer H. E. Olund and 60,000 tons of $10 ore has been actually blocked out. A road has been built in to the property, and the grading for the new 100-ton cyanide mill and power plant that is to be installed there this spring and summer has been done. It is understood that this machinery was ordered about a month ago, and that the company, at its annual meeting in Duluth last Tuesday, ratifitd and approved the action of the directors in this respect, and that the outlook for an early production at this mine is very bright.

The machinery to be installed consists of a complete crushing plant, with one Blake crusher, one Dodge crusher, one Chilian mill, one tube mill and a complete cyanide outfit with agitaors, classifiers, pumps, filters, etc., also Merrills Zinc Dust Precipitation system, and a bullion refining plant.

The company will use crude oil for power, and a De La Vergne internal combustion crude oil engine of 250-horse power has been purchased. The company has a very complete camp and it is the intention of the directors to push the installation of this mill and plant as fast as possible.

CONFERENCE OF UNIONS

The labor unions of the city will get together Monday night at Rowley's hall for the conference, which has been planned.

It is probable that the conference will decide to meet a second night during the week, as it is thought that there is much more to do than can be done at one session.

Twenty-seven unions will be represented at the conference. There will be two delegates from each union. There is a good deal of enthusiasm over the conference and it is expected that much good will be the result of the meetings.

Just what will be done at the meetings or what will come up for discussion, is not known. Those who have the matter in charge say that they have no idea what will come up or what action will be decided upon.

The call has been made for the state convention of the State Federation of Labor which meets this year in June at Mankato. There will be a number of delegates from Duluth.

Lighting Talks

NUMBER 1. DULUTH, APRIL 22, 1911

To the People of Duluth:

This is the first of a series of plain, straightforward talks to the people of Duluth on the business, aims, and purposes of the Duluth-Edison Electric Company—and chiefly concerning the relations of this company to the public and to the welfare of this city.

Here is a subject of genuine interest to YOU, because it is a subject of very real importance to every taxpayer, to every public-spirited citizen, to every man who cares at all for the progress and development of his home community.

Therefore, we ask you to read—yes, and think about these LIGHTING TALKS. There will be a different one every few days. We shall be as brief and concise as possible, for we do not wish to waste either your time or our own breath. We shall give you FACTS, unequivocal and demonstrable facts, and figures that substantiate the facts.

Whatever misunderstanding or misconception may exist in this community concerning the affairs of this company and its relations to the city of Duluth and to the public, ought to be cleared away—for the benefit of the People of Duluth quite as much as for the good of this company. In a spirit of perfect fairness and perfect candor, we desire to clear away any such possible popular misunderstanding.

The first fact we wish you to remember is this:

We have built up this Electric Lighting business in Duluth as a PERMANENT business. This company is not going to be driven out of the Electrical field in Duluth, no matter what happens. We are in this business here to stay.

We are here to give this community the BEST SERVICE at the lowest prices commensurate with the best service.

We realize that our own welfare is inextricably bound up with the welfare of this city; and we are determined to do everything within our power to promote the best interests of Duluth.

We shall have more to tell you about this in "Lighting Talk" No. 2, in next Tuesday's HERALD. Watch for it.

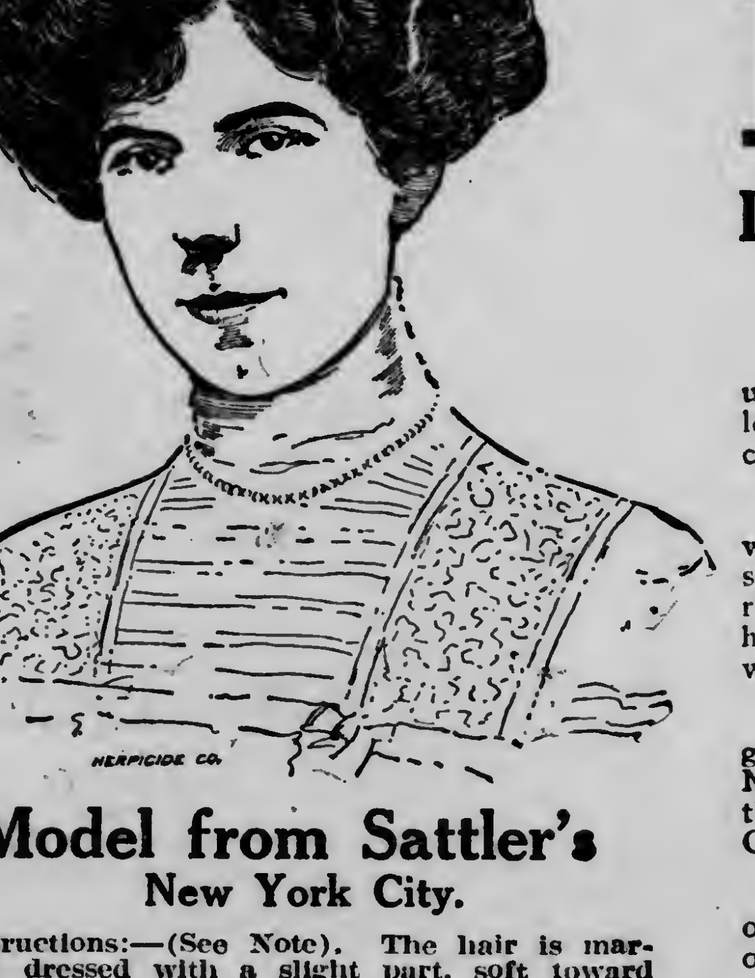
The Latest Style From New York

Every lady is interested in hair dressing styles because a becoming and effective coiffure adds much to her personal appearance. Individual attractiveness is very largely dependent upon the hair. Therefore, we say "Take care of your hair." A few moments each day devoted to brushing the hair, massaging the scalp and an application of Newbro's Herpicide from two to four times each week will accomplish truly wonderful results.



HERPICIDE CO.

Model from Sattler's
New York City.

The rest of the hair is taken up in center of the head and used as a foundation to which is added Grecian Puffs. An Aphrodite Coil is placed like a ribbon around the puffs. The ends of the coil are used to finish the dressing being made into two large loops and fastened with hair ornaments as shown by the back view.

THERE IS NOTHING BETTER.
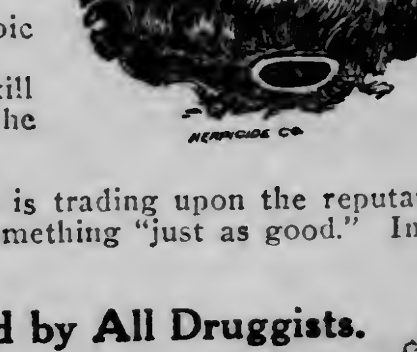
ASK YOUR DRUGGIST ABOUT BOTH.

HERPICIDE

IS A MOST EXQUISITE AND DELIGHTFUL HAIRDRESSING

Hair that is neglected shows it and quickly. It is uneven, dull, brittle and the scalp usually infesed with dandruff. Hair in this condition is unsightly and cannot be made to look neat, no matter how carefully arranged. The above simple suggestions relative to the care of the hair will, if followed, correct all of this.



HERPICIDE CO.

The hair takes on an astonishing luxuriance and beauty which are always associated with the use of this wonderful scalp prophylactic. With the removal of dandruff and the restoration of a healthy condition of the hair and scalp, the hair ceases to fall out and nature asserts herself in a manner which is almost at once noticeable. Try it and see.

Newbro's Herpicide destroys the invisible microbic growth which causes dandruff, and keeps the head clean. Newbro's Herpicide was the first preparation made to kill the dandruff germ. It has for years been known as "The Original Dandruff Germ Destroyer."

Any preparation for which the same claims are made is trading upon the reputation of Newbro's Herpicide and is an imitation. Don't take something "just as good." Insist on having genuine Herpicide.

The Automobile

AUTOMOBILE EXCLUDED

People Will Not Give Up Their Promenades to Motorists.

On March 5, the initiative, which is the popular method of deciding questions of public interest in Switzerland, was employed for the first time in regard to automobile traffic, and the result was the exclusion of motor cars from the most beautiful and attractive part of the country.

For several years there has been an agitation of the question whether motor cars should be admitted to the grisons, where they have so far been excluded, except from one short stretch of road between Chur and Landquart. The cantonal and federal governments have made numerous efforts to overcome the hostility of the people to automobiles, but whenever the question has been submitted to a popular vote it has been defeated. In 1906 and in 1910 regulations favorable to the motorist were presented, but were rejected by the people.

Last year the question was again taken up by the cantonal and federal authorities, who had the co-operation of the Swiss Automobile club, and an attempt made to secure the admission of motors to all the cantons by giving to the federal council authority to regulate the traffic in the confederation. This plan met with opposition in the grisons, and the initiative was resorted to and the following questions submitted to the voters in the canton:

To accept the popular initiative, prohibiting entirely the circulation of automobiles in the canton.

To accept a counter proposition of the federal council admitting the prohibition in principle, but authorizing the cantonal or state council to give permission for the circulation of automobiles in such communities as might be willing to accept them.

To reject the initiative and counter proposition and prohibit the circulation in the canton, with the exception of the road from Chur to Landquart.

The result of the election was the absolute exclusion of motor cars from tht canton.

For this opposition to automobiles in Switzerland there are some extenuating circumstances, and more excuse than the enthusiastic motorist is wont to admit. The Swiss roads are, in many instances, badly adapted to motor traffic. Many of them are narrow, with frequent sharp curves and steep grades which greatly increase the danger of accidents. They are much used in summer by tourists, and also by the native population, who employ them as a popular promenade, and both are opposed to surrendering what they consider their privileges and rights.

Another reason for the opposition to motors, especially on the part of the farmers, is the fact that the dust created by the automobiles causes serious damage to the grass in the neighboring fields. It is also alleged that the lime in the dust from the macadam roads is injurious to the animals pastured in the fields, and that many of them die from the effect.

REQUIREMENTS OF A MOTOR CAR

Studebaker Agent Tells What to Expect of the New Models.

"To be a success in this part of the country a motor car must be strong; it must be able to stand the wear and tear of hard going and rough roads; it must have a dependable motor, a motor that is always ready to go; all these requirements are contained in the Studebaker-Garford," says G. V. Thompson, the local agent, who is located with the Standard Automobile company at 412 East Superior street.

The Studebaker comes in all sizes. There is a seven-pasenger and if space permitted it might be well to linger on this model and tell of its beautiful lines, its luxurious furnishings, the powerful motor and many of its other virtues. There is a roadster, a demitonneau and many other shapes and sizes to please the fancy and fit the purse of all.

The Studebaker is a $4,000 car for $2,850. Until recently the seven-passenger sold for the former price, but the same car in the later models is sold with the price nearly cut in two.

Mr. Thompson, the local agent, has also for sale the Studebaker electric. About May 15 he will occupy the new garage being erected between Ninth and Tenth avenues east, on Superior street. For the present the gasoline cars are on exhibition at 412 East Superior street and the electric may be seen at the Electric Service company, across from the Board of Trade building.

PATRICK TO MAKE ONE MORE EFFORT TO GET OUT.

New York, April 22.—Beaten again and again but always hopeful, Albert T. Patrick, who is serving a life term in Sing Sing for the murder of William Marsh Rice, has set on foot another move to obtain a pardon. His brother-in-law, John T. Milliken of St. Louis, arrived here yesterday and engaged counsel who will appear before Governor Dix next Monday to ask for a hearing.

Suported by a decision of the state embalmers and the medico-legal society, Patrick's counsel wil contend that new evidence shows that congestion of Rice's lungs was not caused by the chloroform, which it was charged Patrick caused to be administered, but by chemicals in the embalming fluid used.

BIG BET ON THE WEATHER

Indianapolis Company Is Insuring Its Chances Against Rain.

Lloyds' of London Only Corporation in World to Take Bet.

Indianapolis, Ind., April 22.—Will you bet $10,000 to $100,000 that it will rain next Decoration day? This is what the Indianapolis Motor Speedway is willing to post as a wager with one of the world's greatest insurance companies that the time-honored custom of the weather man will be carried out and rain will come on the day of the 500-mile international sweepstakes race at the big brick track, when forty of the fastest cars in the world, manned by the greatest drivers, will compete for about $40,000 in gold.

The proposition that the Indianapolis Motor Speedway company has made to representatives of a famous English insurance company which takes these risks is that it is willing to pay $10,000 if rain does not come, providing the insurance company will pay $100,000 if wet weather prevails sufficiently to prevent the great international classic. This is the first time in the history of automobile racing that such a wager has been attempted or insurance against rain has been considered as a factor in a race meet, but the magnitude of the coming Memorial day event prompted the Speedway to consider the probable loss in event the weather was unfavorable. There is only one insurance company known which will attempt such a risk, and that is Lloyds of London.

This company is now figuring on taking a chance with the weather man, and it is highly probable that the policy will be issued covering the twenty-four hour period from 6 o'clock in the afternoon of May 29 to 6 o'clock in the afternoon of May 30. On the other hand, the Speedway has taken precautionary measures in event of bad weather, and will be able to pull off the big race on Saturday, June 3, if not on Memorial day. The postponement sanction for that date has been obtained from the American Automobile association, and spectators will see the race even if the weather should be unfavorable on Memorial day. During the past few weeks the cables have been busy between London and Indianapolis arranging the details of this enormous insurance contract, and it is possible that before May 1 the deal will be closed.

MOTORCYCLE TAKES HONORS

An aeroplane, an automobile and a motorcycle came together at Hartford, Cal., recently in a speed test that ended with honors to the motorcycle.

The air racer was a Curtiss biplane, driven by Eugene Ely, who recently collected mail from a United States warship in San Francisco bay. A Pierce four-cylinder machine upheld the interests of the motorcycle and the race was conducted as a four-mile relay, over a half-mile dirt oval which did not permit a very good speed showing.

The aeroplane made four miles, flying start in 5:59½. The automobile went two miles, flying start, in 3:30 while the motorcycle, with a standing start made two miles in 2:30. The time, per mile, was: Aeroplane, 1:30; automobile, 1:45 and motorcycle, 1:15.

Motorcycle Notes.

The Technical High School at Springfield, Mass., recognizes the motorcycle as having "arrived" and offers its students a course dealing with the building of a motorcycle engine.

Since Oct. 1, 1910, 2,000 members have been added to the Federation of American Motorcyclists.

Military authorities at Toronto, Ont., are planning the organization of a motorcycle squad for scout and signal duty.

C. H. Ferguson of Cleveland, Ohio, missed only five days riding during the past winter. Since Jan. 1 he has covered 1,054 miles.

Last November the San Francisco Motorcycle club had but sixty-two members. Now it has 343.

TO ENTER CHICAGO.

Independent Telephone Companies to Do Business With Windy City.

Chicago, April 22.—Judge C. C. Kohlsaat in the United States circuit court yesterday authorized the receivers of the Interstate Independent Telephone & Telegraph company to enter into a traffic agreement with the Illinois Tunnel company. The agreement will give the independent company an entrance into this city, for which its officers long have been working.

Connection will be made according to the proposed agreement with the twenty-nine exchanges of the company in Illinois with the Kintock company in St. Louis and 130 independent exchanges in Indiana, Kentucky, Ohio, Michigan, Missouri, Tennessee, Iowa, Wisconsin and Minnesota.

The interstate company went into the hands of a receiver shortly after new officers were elected in September, 1910. Charges of mismanagement were made against Henry H. Evans of Aurora, then president, and H. O. Wagner of Hinkley, Ill., was elected president.

Bankruptcy proceedings followed failure to pay $56,000 interest on bonds, but the interest was paid several months later.

KILLED FLIPPING TRAIN.

Young Man Loses Life Showing How to Turn Trick.

Pine City, Minn., April 22.—(Special to The Herald.)—Attempting to flip the south-bound train at Beroun Sunday afternoon proved fatal for Ludwig Havell, aged 25. Havel is said to have undertaken to show the boys how to "catch on" a moving train and used the limited for his experiment. Even those who saw the accident do not seem to know exactly how it happened nor did Havell who was conscious after he was injured. In some way he slipped and went under. It is thought if it had not been for the nearness of the depot platform the slip would not have been fatal but he seemed to be caught by the platform.

When picked up his right leg was off at the thigh and the three first toes of the left foot were gone. He was brought to the hospital of Dr. Wiseman at Pine City and given the best of care but was unable to stand the shock and died Tuesday night.

ENTRIES TO CLOSE SOON

Boys and Girls Must Get Names in for Poultry Contest.

Money Received for Chicks Will Be Distributed in Prizes.

Although a great deal of interest is being shown by the boys and girls of the city and many are preparing to enter, the written entries for the poultry contest to be conducted this year are coming in slowly. Those in charge of the contest have decided to set a time limit for entries, and no entries received after next Friday, April 28, will be considered in the contest.

The entries must be in next week in order that the members of the Duluth Poultry association, who are to furnish the one-day-old chicks with which the contestants are to be provided, may know how many are to be required. Norman D. McLeod, secretary of the boy's department of the Y. M. C. A., it receiving the entries and all entries should be made with him during the coming week.

Each contestant will be required to buy fifteen chicks at 10 cents each. The money thus received will be turned over by the members of the poultry association and will make a fund which will be distributed in prizes at the end of the season.

The contest is for boys and girls between 12 and 18 years of age. This year only the care of chickens hatched this spring will be considered in the prizes. Awards will be given for the different varieties, and there will also be a sweepstakes prize. Next year an advanced contest based on the chickens raised this year will be conducted. The contest will be conducted by the agricultural department of the Commercial club, the Y. M. C. A., the Duluth Poultry association and the poultry division of the extension department of the state agricultural school.

appointment of envoys to discuss terms of peace.

Armies Near Together.

Dawn today found the two armies at Juarez resting within rifle shot of each other. Each side has its cannon in position and in each army the soldiers are keeping close to their rifles.

The insurrectos have not changed their position. They still occupy the mountain range in a crescent shape about the city, one point of the crescent being northwest of Juarez and the other southeast, the army extending around the inside.

The mountains, the draws or gullies, and the foothills are full of dirty, unkempt, half-clad men, carrying arms of every description and wearing clothes of an equally conglomerate character. They busy themselves during the pending negotiations washing their meagre clothing supply at the river—but it is noticeable that there are more Americans performing this task, regardless of their small percentage in the army, than there are Mexicans—bathing their tired feet or begging from the Americans who crowd along the Texas side of the river in automobiles, on street cars or afoot. As the stream is not wide, the Americans can with ease toss cigarettes, small articles of food, bananas, oranges, apples and other things over the line. The United States soldiers patrolling the border make no effort to prevent this, but keep a watchful eye for any attempt to get ammunition over the river.

The senior Madero spent the night in El Paso after a short visit in camp with his son following his arrival last night. The father will have a meeting with his son today.

he was as innocent as a babe, that he was not at Bagnoli at the time the sentence of death was passed upon the Cuoccolos. Then in a whimsical vein he concluded:

"I am not a murderer or the companions of assassins. I am a business man and trade in tortoise shells. I send my goods to the United States, particularly, Chicago, and I do hope in the midst of my misfortunes that this trial will be a good advertisement for my wares."

There was special interest in the examination of Maria Stendardo, who is the only woman among the prisoners. She is the common law wife of Nichola Morra and one of the alleged principals in the murder. Her career has been a romantic one. Now 30 years of age, she retains much of the beauty that attracted numberless suitors in her youth. Of humble birth she was given in marriage at an early age to a dock laborer and with him set up a lodging house which attracted the attention of the police. Maria visited the local delegato and thereafter the Piazzo Amendola was not disturbed. Soon afterwards Maria met Nichola Morra and the state alleges became a power in the Camorra. All these allegations she denied today, saying: "I was arrested only because I was the friend and companion of Morra and refused to comply with the wishes of the Carabineers that I denounce him and that I love and whom I know to be innocent."

nouncement that an armistice is being arranged, Gen. Madero said:

Cannot Relinquish Advantage.

"I telegraphed Dr. Gomez that if an armistice is to be arranged it should be for four or five days and should include the entire region between Juarez and Chihuahua. We are awaiting a reply to this from the City of Mexico. We outnumber the garrison of Juarez two to one and cannot relinquish this advantage without assurance that the government will not attempt to send reinforcements. If the government sincerely wishes peace on a basis of justice as much as we do then there can be no trouble that we will come to terms."

The rebel leader's statement indicated that the batteries of peace talk fired at him in the last month and brought to a climax by a personal visit from his father, uncle and brothers last night and today all urging that the time for discussing peace has arrived, had their effect. The struggle in the state of Chihuahua has all but wrecked business and all are weary of it.

The denial that he ever insisted upon the immediate resignation of Diaz is allowed to pass unnoticed by the numerous individuals who have interviewed him independently and quoted him to that effect.

Agrees to Armistice.

Washington, April 22.—Dr. Vasquez Gomez, confidential agent of the Mexican revolutionists in the United States, today received a telegram from Gen. Francisco I. Madero, Jr., authorizing him to begin negotiations with the Mexican government for an immediate armistice. The message to Dr. Gomez from Gen. Madero, transmitted through Gonzales Garza at El Paso, reads as follows:

"Taking into consideration the actual situation, Gen. Madero accepts the armistice proposal covering the zone between Juarez and the city of Chihuahua in order to negotiate peace in conferences that are to follow."

The news of the agreement to arrange an armistice was immediately telegraphed by Dr. Gomez to Senor de la Barra, minister of foreign affairs at Mexico City, with whom he has been in constant communication during the last few days.

Gen. Madero's former message spurning an armistice gave Dr. Gomez a sleepless night, but he was jubilant today over what he believed to be the success of his activities and declared that Mexico now was on the road to peace. He wired Gen. Madero to send him complete instructions not only for the armistice, but for the peace conferences that are to follow.

Negotiations for Peace.

Dr. Gomez declared to an Associated Press representative that the negotiations for peace probably would be along the same line of the conferences which had been held with Senor Limantour and Senor De La Barra when they were in the United States.

He said it was very likely that he would go to Juarez in a short time but preliminary arrangements would be made with the Mexican government from Washington.

Mexican Ambassador de Zamacona was elated when he heard that an armistice had been agreed to by Gen. Madero. He seemed very confident that the disturbances in Mexico soon would come to an end.

The sudden change in the attitude of Gen. Madero, who, until late last night, was reported as obdurate against both armistice and peace proposals, was explained here by the fact that Dr. Gomez, in his numerous messages within the last twenty-four hours, pointed out the complication that had arisen between the United States and Mexico over incidents on the border. Although he had no access to the government officials, Dr. Gomez has been cognizant of the impression which recent Mexican developments had made upon the administration. He plainly showed his disappointment at the turn of events in Washington following the receipt of the Mexican notes.

Remonstrated With Leaders.

Dr. Gomez believed that American intervention was not an impossibility and hastened to remonstrate with the rebel leaders against any repetition along the American border of such incidents as occurred at Douglas.

He had received assurances from the Mexican government that it was disposed to consider any proposals the insurgents would formally submit. These, it was indicated would be laid immediately before the Mexican cabinet and every effort would be made to adjust the various differences out of which the rebellion arose.

In all of the representations made to Dr. Gomez by the Mexican government and strongly reiterated in communications sent from here to the rebel leaders, there was an appeal to patriotism and loyalty. The Mexican government in its relations with Dr. Gomez, particularly through Senor De La Barra, has shown a desire to treat the insurgents with all courtesy and good feeling and has indicated its earnestness to begin a systematic reformation of present conditions in Mexico.

Madero, Sr., Visits Son.

El Paso, Tex., April 22.—Francisco Madero, Sr., and the other members of the peace mission went early to the insurrecto camp today for what was intended to be a thorough discussion of the situation. The elder Madero, who is exceedingly proud of his son, the rebel leader, said that his mission would "come out right." Incidentally he told of the remarkable change in his son's way of living about a year ago.

"It is remarkable," said the father. "My son, he liked good wine and good beer, you know, and good food of all kinds. He was what you call a good fellow. One day he just quit everything, almost. He stopped drinking and smoking, and eating meat, all at the same time. He won't even eat eggs. He is a vegetarian.

"In those days he could not make a speech, could not even return simple thanks at a dinner. I have seen him blush and stammer when called upon. Now they tell me he talks wonderfully to large crowds. I have not heard him, but they say he is a fine orator. Never did a boy change so."

It is not to be inferred from the foregoing that young Francisco was previously dissolute, for he was not. His habits were temperate.

Col. Tamborel, commander of the military post at Juarez, expressed himself in a sarcastic vein today with reference to Madero's announcement that he would not attack the city within twenty-four hours.

"Bah!" exploded the colonel, "he will never attack. He is afraid. He will make one excuse after another, but there will be no attack. You will see."

Madero and the leaders under him would like to take the city across the river. They outnumbered the federal forces and believe that the task would be comparatively simple, despite Navarro's artillery. Madero does not wish to waste life, however, and he listened today with great attention to the argument that the revolution already has accomplished every reform demanded, save the resignation of Diaz, and the latter is a consummation not to be desired, it is argued. There can be no doubt, also, that Dr. Gomez has impressed him with the fear of American intervention. That is a development no Mexican desires, on either side.

WEST END

SEE INDUSTRIES OF THE WEST END

Shop Excursion Party Visits Iron Works, Mill and Traction Shops.

A "shop excursion" was held yesterday to the Clyde Iron works, the Scott Graff lumber mill and the general offices, shops and car barns of the Duluth Street Railway company. Nearly 100 business men took the trip, which was under the auspices of the Duluth Commercial club.

There was much of interest to be found at each place by the "excursionists."

At the Clye Iron works C. A. Luster, president of the company, took the party through the machine shop, structural steel plant, foundry, and pattern shops. Every machine was labeled so that the visitors might know what it was used for. The work in progress in the foundry interested the party, many of whom had never been inside an iron works before. Mr. Luster called attention to the fact that the smokestack was one of the few smokeless ones in the city.

Considerable time was spent by the "excursionists" at the mill yards of the Scott Graff Lumber company. The sawmill, drying room and factory were visited and it was pointed out that the mill turned out 100,000 feet of rough lumber on each of the two shifts and that the plant employed during the twenty-four hours, about 325 men.

Herbert Warren, general manager of the Duluth Street railway, met the party at the street car general offices and took them through the offices, machine shop, blacksmith shop, and barns. In the offices, they were shown the schedule system, which indicates where each car should be at any time of the day.

The party left the Commercial club rooms at 2 o'clock and spent the greater part of the afternoon on the "excursion." It was a decided success and the business men seemed impressed by the possibilities of the industries of the West end.

BANQUET IS POSTPONED

West End Club Will Not Hold Reunion This Spring.

The West End Commercial club will not hold its annual banquet this spring.

This was decided last night at a meeting of the organization. The affair will probably be held some time early in the fall. On account of the lateness of the season, it was thought advisable to put the matter over until autumn.

It was planned at first to join with the West End Hillside Improvement club in giving the annual dinner, but factions have split up the hillside organization and they were reluctant to take up the proposition.

Several other matters of importance were taken up at the meeting of the club last evening. Among other things the club recommended that Superior street from Fifteenth to Twenty-first avenues, be repaved. The resolution carried with it the recommendation that the paving be a permanent one, sandstone blocks being preferred. If sandstone block is laid, it is probable that the whole job could not be finished in less than two years, in which case only one side of the street would be paved this year.

Superior street at the West end is in a miserable condition and its pavement, which was laid five years ago, a disgrace to any thoroughfare, the business men say. They are tired of seeing repairs made to it and want the old pavement torn up and a good job done.

SURVIVES HUSBAND BUT A FEW WEEKS.

Stricken with grief over the death of her husband, two months ago, Mrs. Carrie Johnson, aged 67, died of heart disease this morning at her home, 2128 West Third street.

She was the widow of Nels Johnson, who died Feb. 4. After his death, she grieved continuously and relatives believe that her death was due largely to her grief.

She is survived by five children, all living in Duluth. She also leaves two sisters and one brother at Stockholm, Wis., and eleven grand-children in Duluth.

RAIN

Mr. Pluvius was restless yesterday and threatened all evening without any notable results. The frost arrived as per schedule last night, but today is bright and beautiful and another of those days that are responsible for the circulation of spring fever germs. Showers are predicted for tonight or tomorrow with continued chilliness.

A year ago today the temperature dropped to 16 deg, and there was a forty mile wind, which was certainly not ideally spring-like.

The sun rose this morning at 5:07 and it will set at 7:06 this evening, giving thirteen hours and fifty-nine minutes of sunlight.

Mr. Richardson makes the following comment on weather conditions:

"During the last twenty-four hours light rains fell over the Ohio valley and Atlantic states, the Southern Lake region and Missouri valley in connection with low pressure areas central over Virginia and north of Montana. Somewhat cooler weather prevails in the Ohio and Upper Mississippi valleys, Colorado and Wyoming; elsewhere the tendency has been towards an increase in warmth. The easterly movement of the disturbance now overlying Western Canada will probably cause showers at the Head of the Lakes during the ensuing thirty-six hours."

SKILLFUL TREATMENT OF

MEN'S DISEASES

The Northwest's Most Reliable SPECIALIST IN MEN'S DISEASES

THERE is nothing that speaks for more than actual facts which are everyday occurrences, and when we propose to demonstrate to any man afflicted with any of the diseases that come under our specialty, that we are constantly dismissing cured cases that have been existing in chronic and malignant form for months, it should be certainly enough that we do all we claim—cure diseases of the Pelvic System if they are in reach of medical science. Our ability is proven by the professional services we render, and, though we seldom fail to effect a cure under such circumstances, we receive thanks for our best and conscientious services.

Numerous Pelvic Diseases and Their Dangerous Development.

It is not generally known that such a large number of men are afflicted with some Pelvic disease and chronic complications arising therefrom. The most prolific source of chronic troubles in the Pelvic system is from what is considered the simplest contagious disease, and from neglect and improper medical attention it develops into Prostatits and finally Kidney and Bladder affections that become so serious as to be incurable. So many men of all ages begin with a little inflammation which should be cured in a few days. This condition, through improper attention or neglect of treatment allows the disease to incapacitate them for the physical and mental duties of man. Impure blood is a disease that in the primary stage, by our system of treatment is checked in its ravaging course and never amounts to more than a trifling blood disorder, though there are many who are gradually decaying and their misery doubled by the use of injurious treatments. Skin Diseases, Nervous Decline, Weakness and associated diseases are equally of a detrimental course if they are not treated promptly and scientifically. What is more vivid than the old adage, "A stitch in time saves nine," to a man whose health is being impaired by a treacherous ailment, and how can a man spend his money more wisely than to save his physical and mental powers?

Varicose and Hydrocystic Enlargements, Wasting, Weakening and Debilitated conditions so common among men, in fact, all troubles peculiar to men, are successfully treated by us, because we have practiced our specialty long enough to formulate scientific methods upon which we can depend, and conscientiously promise our patients entirely satisfactory results.

Blood poison is either specific or nonspecific. If specific, it has arisen by the transfer of poison, and it often appears in the form of scrofula, eczema or similar affections. The nonspecific form is skin diseases and eruptions which are due to the blood becoming laden with impurities from the whole system getting out of gear so that poisonous matter accumulates in the blood.

In the treatment of all blood diseases, the mistakes too often made are in giving medicines—so-called "blood purifiers"—and in taking patent medicines that are usually harmful because they stop the work of the excretory gland in throwing the poison to the surface, so that the outward sign will disappear for a while, and in so doing the poison in the system increases sometimes to the extent that it attacks the internal organs and becomes fatal. Don't allow the poison to be locked in your system. Have it eliminated, the components of the blood repaired, the tissues restored, and your whole system cleansed so that you will always have pure flesh and blood and robust health. Our treatment is a specific that completely reorganizes the blood corpuscles, by means of which every particle of infectious matter is eliminated. It has been thoroughly tested in the most severe cases and will eradicate every trace of the disease so that a sign never reappears.

Our study and extensive practice in the treatment of all forms of Kidney, Bladder and all Urinary Troubles have familiarized us to the extent that we have attained skill which insures successful treatment in all cases not absolutely incurable. We determine the condition by a scientific analysis of urine, and the severe genito-urinary troubles we have cured by our systematic course of treatment gives us such confidence in our method as to assure good results, and we offer you Consultation Free, Confidential and Private. A personal, thorough and searching examination is required, though if inconvenient to call, write us for information. Office hours are from 9 a. m. to 8 p. m., except Sunday, from 10 to 1. We accept no incurable cases and guarantee to cure every case we accept.

Judge Tells Why Men Go Bankrupt

Men In Various Stages of Physical Weakness Line Up At the Bar Of Justice.

"After all, it is not strange," says a judge who has presided in many bankruptcy cases, "that the ordinary type of bankrupt should be one who exhibits in his face and general condition a woeful lack of strength, mental concentration and endurance. They all seem to be bright, but I believe the cause of failure in their life-work is lack of that vitality and combative nerve-strength which are absolutely necessary to keep a man up and going."

Nerves are all that make you, whether you are a man, woman or child. The most remarkable nerve vitalizer ever known is without doubt Make-Man Tablets. They are also a powerful blood purifier. These little tablets are wonder-workers and absolutely safe for men, women and children.

Do you feel "all in," are you despondent, are you nervous, have you Kidney or Liver Trouble, Insomnia or Rheumatism? If so, you will never forget your first box of Make-Man Tablets.

Make-Man Tablets are sold at all drug stores at 50 cents a box. If you want to try them before buying, just drop a line to the Make-Man Tablet Co., Make-Man Bldg., Dept. 12, Chicago, Ill., and they will send you a trial treatment absolutely free.

Sold and recommended by all leading druggists and A. E. Swedberg, White Swan Drug Store, 3 East Superior street, also 2015 West Superior street.

IN THE BLOOD

A Permanent Cure By Hood's Sarsaparilla.

"On getting up one morning I found what seemed to be a mosquito bite on the calf of my right leg. Soon the sore grew larger and continued day after day, becoming more and more troublesome. One physician advised poulticing, another physician told me to use a rubber bandage, but the sore grew worse until there was not a spot of healthy skin as large as a ten-cent piece between my knee and ankle. A third physician prescribed a paste, and then a specialist in scrofulous troubles treated me for a year. The sore seemed to be healing, but in a few months broke out as bad as ever. I had now been suffering for more than five years. My leg was a dreadful sight. There were places so large and deep that an egg might have been put into them. I was told the leg must be amputated.

"One day a neighbor spoke of the value of Hood's Sarsaparilla for scrofula, and I thought I might as well take it. Before I finished the first bottle, I suffered less pain and could see the edges of the sore beginning to heal.

"So I continued taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, and before long the sore was completely healed and my general health perfect. I believe it my duty to tell what Hood's Sarsaparilla has done for me." Mrs. Josephine Sargent, 28 Lincoln street, Exeter, N. H.

Hood's Sarsaparilla effects its wonderful cures, not simply because it contains sarsaparilla but because it combines the utmost remedial values of more than twenty different ingredients, each greatly strengthened and enriched by this peculiar combination. There is no real substitute for it. If urged to buy any preparation said to be "just as good" you may be sure it is inferior, costs less to make, and yields the dealer a larger profit. Get

"A Medicine of Real Merit"

SAYS CIVIL WAR VETERAN, PAST 75 YEARS OF AGE

Mr. Phillip A. Barnett could not enjoy his meals and was in very poor health, because of a complication of stomach disorders. Nothing did him any good till he used Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey, the sure remedy for all stomach troubles, which put him on his feet in short order.

"I am past 75 years now, and a veteran of the Civil War. I have been troubled with several different complaints in the stomach, but I find great relief by using Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey. I can now eat things that I could not eat before and it is a great help to me. I will continue to use this valuable medicine and will recommend it to everyone who sees me or writes me. I have used a great many different medicines, with little relief, but Duffy's is a medicine of real merit."—Phillip A. Barnett, 156 Madison St., South Side, Easton, Pa.

MR. PHILLIP A. BARNETT, 75 years of age.

Ministers of the gospel, doctors of medicine, nurses and people everywhere unite in commending Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey, a perfect tonic stimulant, the one true medicinal whiskey. At this time it is especially valuable in rebuilding the system that has become run down by the long strain of winter.

is an absolutely pure distillation of malted grain. When taken at meal time it stimulates the mucous surfaces and little glands of the stomach to a healthy action, thereby improving the digestion and assimilation of the food and giving to the system its full proportion of nourishment. This action upon the digestive process is of great importance, as it brings to all the tissues and organs of the body the nutriment necessary to their sustenance, and indirectly to the whole system strength and vigor.

Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey is the only whiskey that was taxed by the Government as a medicine during the Spanish-American war.

CAUTION—When you ask your druggist, grocer or dealer for Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey be sure you get the genuine. It is sold IN SEALED BOTTLES ONLY—never in bulk. Look for the trade-mark, the "Old Chemist," on the label and make sure the seal over the cork is unbroken. Price $1.00 a large bottle. Doctor's advice and an illustrated medical booklet sent free on request. The Duffy Malt Whiskey Co., Rochester, N. Y.

MUST SERVE THREE MONTHS IN JAIL.

John Maki got three months straight in the county jail yesterday afternoon after he had been convicted in police court of disorderly conduct.

Maki is the restaurant man, who had a bloody fight with Eno Selkamaa, a bartender, in the American saloon on Lake avenue south, where both are employed. The trouble started over the price that ought to be paid for a broken chair. It appeared that Maki first struck Selkamaa over the head with a poker and then slashed his face with part of a broken beer bottle, and that he was the aggressor throughout. After Selkamaa had been assaulted it was shown that he had administered a severe beating to Maki.

$90,000 FROM STATE FOR GOOD ROADS IN COUNTY

Big Sum Is Available This Year Under the Elwell Bill.

How County May Secure the Maximum of State Aid.

Under the bill introduced in the last session of the legislature by Senator James T. Elwell of Minneapolis and passed, $90,000 of the money is available for road work in St. Louis county this year. All that is necessary for the county to obtain the money, or the equivalent credit, is for the county commissioners to confer with the state highway commission and decide upon a plan of action. Senator Cheadle called attention to the county's rights today.

Under the Elwell bill, the state will pay one-half of the amount of money expended for permanent road construction up to the limit fixed by the Constitution. No county may, under the Constitution draw more from the state than 3 per cent of the total road fund which is limited to ¼ mill, but under the Elwell bill the county may anticipate for ten years. The fund now amounts to about $300,000 yearly under the rate of ¼ mill, so that St. Louis county would be entitled to $9,000 yearly. By anticipating for ten years, the county could spend $90,000 of state money this year.

The bill provides that the county shall spend dollar for dollar with the state, but as the money to be expended for roads in St. Louis county this year will amount to nearly $250,000, there could be no hitch on the county getting the highest amount possible.

The bill provides that the county shall finance the road-building, and the state will provide its share of the funds in yearly installments for ten years. Thus the county may spend the $90,000 this year and obtain its return in ten yearly installments.

The bill makes possible the building of the north shore road this year and considerable other permanent road building, which had to be put off on account of insufficiency of funds. With the state guarantee behind them, there would be no trouble financing the venture by means of certificates of indebtedness and the county commissioners will very likely avail themselves of the opportunity offered by the bill.

If the entire $90,000 were expended this year, it would very likely be paid back before the end of ten years. The good roads movement gained ground in the recent session of the legislature and more state aid than is now provided may be expected within the next few years. The Dunn bill, which also passed at the recent session, provides for the submission of a Constitutional amendment allowing the legislature to levy up to 1 mill for the road and bridge fund. If the amendment should be adopted and the levy made to the Constitutional limit, the county would be allowed $36,000 yearly with the Ellwell bill still in force.

Even without that increased revenue in sight, the county can go ahead with $90,000 available and extend its plans for road-building this year.

MARINE

FLEET DUE HERE SUNDAY

Message From Soo Says the Passages Are Now Open.

Coal Fleet and Package Freighters Will Arrive Next Week.

The Soo passages are open. This news was conveyed to the G. A. Tomlinson company of Duluth this morning by a message from Capt. F. B. Root of the Great Lakes Towing company of the Soo.

The message stated further that down bound vessels passed around Neebish island this morning, and that the upbound boats passed Encampment at 11 o'clock this morning. This means that the upbound boats will come through the Soo some time this afternoon and the first boat of the season will be in the Duluth harbor Sunday night.

With the opening of the Soo, navigation for the season of 1911 is on. Though navigation officially opened on April 15, the Soo passages were blocked and there was nothing more in fact than the going into effect of the hull insurance.

There will be a fairly large coal fleet up here in a few days, according the reports from Cleveland, and there will also be a big fleet of package freighters.

The delayed opening of the passages will start the season off with a bigger rush than if the locks had been open at the time the hull insurance went into effect. Reports from Cleveland state that there are already a number of boats on their way to the Head of the Lakes, and a small fleet has been held at the Soo.

PALMER READY FOR HER TRIAL TRIP.

The big steel steamer William P. Palmer, built last season for the Pittsburg Steamship company, will go to Cleveland tomorrow or Monday and will be given her trial under the supervision of the officers of the company.

The William Palmer is a 10,000 ton steamer of the very latest design in modern vessel building. She is a sister ship to the two other boats that were constructed during the latter part of last season.

While no definite information is known at the Duluth office of the company at the present time, it is believed that the Palmer will arrive at the Duluth harbor at a very early date for her first cargo of ore.

Reports from Cleveland state that a contract has been closed for the transportation of 1,000,000 tons of coal by a Cleveland vessel owner to the upper lake ports. The deal is one of the biggest for several seasons. It is said the rates are the same as last season, the contract being closed on this basis.

That makes it look as if there will be very little change in the coal rates the present season, or at least until the coal-carrying business is well under way.

It is said that the shippers are very well satisfied to let the rates remain where they are at the present time. A reduction would mean that the vessel owners would have very much difficulty in making any profit.

PACKAGE FREIGHTERS LEAVE BUFFALO.

The seven boats of the Mutual Transit company which have been at Buffalo, have left that port for the Head of the Lakes. The boats had to break some ice to get out of the Buffalo harbor. It is stated that the grip of ice extended for miles outside of the harbor and made it very difficult for the passage of the boats.

MADE THE CIRCUIT OF NEEBISH ISLAND.

Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., April 22.—(Special to The Herald.)—The revenue cutter Mackinac returned last night from a trip around Neebish island, going down the east Neebish cut and returning by Encampment. Capt. Scott reports the ice in Mud lake so badly honeycombed that big carriers can easily force a passage.

The following boats are at Detour: Kensington, Northland, Munsey, Wickwire, Jr., Yates, McGean, America, Truesdale, Canadian, Leafield, Beattie. The steamer Rochester is at Sweetspoint, making slow progress through the ice, and is expected to head the fleet into the Soo this afternoon. The steamer Drummond, starting for Michipicoten for ore, was obliged to return to the Canadian Soo on account of the ice jam at Iroquois. She is taking on a load of steel rails for the lower lakes.

Grain Cargoes.

Vessels loaded in the harbor but not reported, follow: Kiefe, 25,900 bushels of corn at Elevator E, 13,000 bushels of durum at Elevator K; Allegheny, 53,000 bushels of corn at the Itasca elevator. Vessels loading: City of Bangor, 160,000 bushels of spring wheat at Elevator S, and 65,000 bushels of spring wheat at the P-V elevator.

PRISONER ON THE JOB

Revives Fellow Prisoner Who Falls in Fit in Police Court.

Edward Rayland, a nurse who practices in a "jag cure" institution, showed that he knew something about his business when Phillip Smith had a fit in police court this morning as the result of excessive alcoholic indulgence. Incidentally Rayland was also a member of the grist, being charged with second offense drunkenness, having been released yesterday morning after having been arrested the night before in a sadly intoxicated condition.

When Smith, who has been a stationery engineer, was brought into the courtroom he was apparently all right. But no sooner had the first name been called than he threw his arms over his head with an unearthly shriek and collapsed on the bench, with a violent attack of the delirium tremens.

In an instant Rayland was on the job. Throwing off his coat he loosened the collar of Smith's shirt, partially disrobed him and began to massage him. For several minutes Smith continued to curse the snakes which swam before him, and to throw the imaginary reptiles from him. But in a comparatively short time the erstwhile nurse had him quieted down. Later in the morning Smith entered a plea of not guilty to the charge of vagrancy, and his trial was set for next week. Smith has been arraigned many times on the charge of drunkenness. Rayland got off with the minimum.

CHILDREN INTERESTED

Many Apply for Seeds to Enter County School Contest.

Superintendent of Schools Sending Out Seeds Furnished By Commercial Club.

In response to letters sent out some time ago from the office of the county superintendent of schools to school children all over the county informing them of the prizes to be awarded for home-grown vegetables, more than 1,000 answers have been received.

All the children seem enthusiastic and the 1,000 who responded asked that they be sent seed.

The seed is being furnished by the Duluth Commercial club, but the work of lining up the children and interesting them in gardening is being done from Supt. N. A. Young's office in the courthouse.

Some time ago letters were written to the school teachers all over the country asking them to inform the children of the prizes and asking them to take some time in school hours each day to teaching the children of the several varieties of vegetables.

There are at present at Mr. Young's office more than 2,000 packages of seed. These will soon be sent out to the children that they may get an early start in the cultivating of their gardens.

The prizes have not been definitely decided upon as yet, but they will probably be in cash. There will be exhibitions at each district. The exhibit of the winners in the several lines will be brought to Dultuh later in the fall and will be on exhibition at either the Commercial club or at the office of the superintendent at the courthouse.

The children are shy of corn. They don't seem to take the interest in trying to raise corn that they do in the raising of other varieties of garden stuff.

All over the county there seems to be a great interest in the contest and those planning it believe that it will result in making a large number of enthusiastic young farmers.

Mr. Young is planning an exhibition of work done in the range schools. This will be held at his office soon.

ARRESTED IN ADVANCE

Police Have Alleged Thieves in Custody When Burglary Is Reported.

Officer Picks Up Two Suspicious Persons on Way Home.

Edward Johnson, 16 years of age, and Neil J. Matheson, 22 years old, were arrested about 3:30 o'clock this morning on a charge of burglary. The former will be turned over to the juvenile court because of his youth, and the latter will have his examination in police court next Wednesday morning.

The boys were seen by Sergeant Barber to board a street car going to Duluth from West Duluth. The officer was on his way home and the boys got on the car at Thirty-ninth avenue west, with a quantity of tobacco and soft drinks. They got off at Twenty-sixth avenue west. The sergeant called Patrolman Sundberg, who is stationed in the West end, and they located the two in the all-night restaurant at Twenty-sixth avenue.

The officers brought the boys to headquarters on suspicion. This morning the police were notified that the pool hall at 305 Thirty-ninth avenue had been burglarized, and the prisoners were charged with the crime.

Johnson claimed that they saw some men putting the goods on the sidewalk and that they took them to save them for the owner. The police allege that they were trying to sell the goods in the restaurant in which they were arrested. Johnson was allowed to go home, but Matheson's bail was fixed at $1,000.

BOAT SINKS IN THE LAKE

Two Fishermen Rescued From Icy Water Just in Time.

Two Finnish fishermen residing on Garfield avenue had a narrow escape from drowning in Lake Superior, when their boat sprang a leak about a mile from the shore shortly before 10 o'clock this morning.

It seems that their skiff had been laid up all winter and that the hull had not swelled sufficiently to make it watertight, but determined to go out in spite of this fact, they went out into the lake to try for an early catch. The water began to gain too fast for them and they began to signal for help. Forgetting to bale they yelled and waived their arms until one of the employes of the government engineer's office caught sight of them.

The government tug Essayons was lying at the pier with steam up and put out immediately. Almost at the same time the life saving crew was notified of the plight of the two men and started after them. Cutting the water at full speed the tug reached the drowning men first and took them aboard. The top of their rowboat was level with the surface of the lake, and it is stated that had they been compelled to wait but a very few minutes more they would have lost their lives. They had gone over the side of the boat and, immersed in the freezing water to their necks, were hanging to the sides.

When they were hauled aboard the tug they were so chilled that they couldn't talk. They were put down in the engine room where it was warm. They could scarcely talk English and their names were not learned. It was gathered that they lived on Garfield avenue and they were taken there in the tug.

SAGE AND SULPHUR CURES DANDRUFF

Restores Faded and Gray Hair to Natural Color—Itching Scalp Quickly Stopped.

This applies to Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy, for if it does not do exactly what is claimed for it, the sales would naturally drop off. However, Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy does "make good," as evidenced by its daily increasing sales. Druggists say that this preparation gives the best satisfaction of any hair remedy ever sold. Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur is clean and wholesome and perfectly harmless. It removes dandruff, strengthens the hair, gives new life to dull or parched hair, and gradually restores gray hair to natural color.

This preparation is offered to the public at fifty cents a bottle, and is recommended and sold by all druggists.

"To Them That Hath"

A SHORT SERMON TO FAT FOLKS.

"To them that hath shall be given" is a sentence that applies to fat people very neatly. It is common knowledge that once a human being begins to fatten up, to what they have already is added more than they want until finally a stage is reached where reduction must be made or decided disadvantage results.

Then comes forward the ages-old query, "Reduce—but how?" To the uninformed nothing suggests itself but the (to them) twin evils—less eating—more activity. They contemplate a more or less lengthy siege of dieting and exercising. So it may be said safely that every man or woman in the land now undergoing the fattening-up process has his or her mental eye fixed dubiously on that not far distant day when he or she will have to don the "ashes and sackcloth of reduction."

This is not an enlivening prospect, and so it is with considerable satisfaction that we announce the emancipation of the fat. Nowadays one may reduce much or little, a pound a day if desired, or hold their fat in check, absolutely stationary, without doing a tap of exercise, missing a single meal, doing a particle of harm or causing a solitary wrinkle. All that's required, as hundreds testify, is the taking after meals and at bedtime, of one Marmola Prescription Tablet, which tablets are sold by the Marmola Co., Farmer Bldg., Detroit, Mich., or any good druggist, at the uniform price of 75 cents, this sum being accepted for a case of tablets so well and generously filled that even one produces desirable results.

THE SUNKIST SPECIAL
SUNKIST ORANGES

3 MILLION ORANGES HERE

Another Big "SUNKIST" Sale Lasting All Next Week, Begins Monday, Apr. 24

The biggest lot of oranges that ever came to this city has just arrived—THREE MILLION of them. They arrived by special Fast Freight direct from the big "Sunkist" fruit groves of California. They are the "Sunkist" brand, famed for their delicious flavor and health-giving properties. Each local fruit dealer is laying in a liberal supply of "Sunkists" and on next Monday morning all dealers will put on a Special "Sunkist" Orange Sale, lasting throughout the week.

California's Finest Oranges

"Sunkists" are California's most luscious oranges—the choicest of each of 5,000 California Orange Farmers. They pack all their perfect oranges under the one name, "Sunkist," and ship them by special fast freight the day they are picked.

The "Sunkist" is a tree-ripened orange, seedless and fibreless—never pithy—every "Sunkist" is firm, solid and sound. It is picked by a gloved hand. No orange that falls to the ground or becomes bruised or damaged in any way, ever bears the "Sunkist" name.

How to Serve Them

Oranges are the most appetizing and nourishing food you can serve—at breakfast—in the sick-room—between meals—in salads, ices, sherbets and puddings.

There is no limit to the number of excellent dishes of which "Sunkist" oranges form the basis.

Buy a box of "Sunkist" oranges and your fruit dealer will make you a special price. You will find no trouble in keeping them as long as you want to, because "Sunkists" reach you in excellent condition.

Physicians Advise Them

Leading physicians say that to counteract the effect of meat and other heavy foods we eat, one should eat oranges liberally. It is a universally known fact that orange juice is an excellent food for the brain cells and a tonic for run down nerves. No better laxative than sound, ripe "Sunkist" oranges can be found.

Cost No More Than Common Oranges

"Sunkist" oranges are cheapest to buy because they are thin-skinned, fibreless and seedless. They are nearly all food and no waste. You lose money if you buy pithy, seedy, thick-skinned oranges.

Free Premiums for "Sunkist" Wrappers

The "Sunkist" orange always comes in a "Sunkist" tissue paper wrapper that protects the oranges and retains all their tree ripened flavor. This name on the wrapper means you are buying, at a reasonable price, the finest orange of all.

"Sunkist" wrappers should be kept and sent to us to secure, free, a set of genuine Rogers Orange Spoons, Dessert Spoons and Fruit Knives. The patterns are new 1911 styles, designed exclusively for us. They are as attractive and stylish as money can buy. All are Rogers quality, standard A-No. 1 plate and are fully guaranteed by the makers, Wm. Rogers & Sons. No advertising appears on any of our premiums.

"Sunkist" Lemons

The better grade of lemons are now packed in "Sunkist" wrappers. By calling for "Sunkist" lemons, you avoid the kind that are thick-skinned, pithy and insipid. "Sunkist" lemons contain 50 per cent more juice than any other lemons. "Sunkist" lemon wrappers are accepted by our premium department.

RECIPROCITY MEASURE PASSED BY THE HOUSE

Many Amendments Offered But None of Them Accepted.

Washington, April 22.—President Taft's Canadian reciprocity agreement, supported by all but a handful of Democrats and opposed by a majority of the Republicans, passed the house of representatives early last evening by a vote of 265 to 89. With nearly 200 Democrats in control and their action indorsed by a large body of the Republicans, the bill to put the agreement in force, was adopted with no amendments and in almost identically the form in which it passed the house in the last session of the preceeding congress.

The bill seeks to put into effect the formal agreement reached between President Taft and members of the Canadian cabinet for a reduction of tariff rates on many articles and free trade in many others, across the Canadian border. Added to it by the Democratic leaders is a section which "authorizes and requests" President Taft to make further efforts to secure still freer trade relations with Canada, in the form of additional reciprocal relations.

The passage of the bill marked the close of a fight that had raged in the house for six days. During that time the safety of the measure was at no time threatened. But the Democratic and Republican leaders working for its passage conceded all the opportunity desired by its opponents for debate and protest against it.

Following the same policy, amendments were admitted in the house yesterday for almost every section of the bill and in each case they were rejected by an overwhelming vote given by the friends of the measure on both sides of the house on the theory that any amendment would nullify it. Ten Democrats voted against the bill on its passage, while 197 Democrats voted for it. As in the case when the bill passed at the preceeding session of congress, a majority of the Republicans were found against it, the party vote being 67 for and 78 opposed. Representative Berger of Wisconsin, the Socialist member, voted for it, and Representative Aiken of New York, who ranks as an independent, voted against it. The negative vote was as follows:

The Vote Against It.

Republicans: Anderson, Minn.; Bradley, N. Y.; Burke, S. D.; Campbell, Kan.; Cannon, Ill.; Copley, Ill.; Currier, N. H.; Dalzell, Pa.; Davis, Minn.; De Forest, N. Y.; Dodds, Mich.; Driscoll, N. Y.; Dwight, N. Y.; Esch, Wis.; Fairchild, N. Y.; Focht, Pa.; Fordney, Mich.; Foster, Vt.; French, Idaho; Gardner, Mass.; Gardner, N. J.; Good, Iowa; Guernsey, Maine; Hamilton, Mich.; Hanna, N. D.; Hartmann, Pa.; Haugen, Iowa; Hawley, Or.; Sachs, Cal.; Helgeson, N. D.; Hinds, Maine; Howell, Utah; Humphrey, Wash.; Jackson, Kan.; Kendall, Iowa; Kennedy, Iowa; Kinkaid, Neb.; Kopp, Wis.; La Fean, Pa.; La Follette, Wash.; Langley, Ky.; Lenroot, Wis.; Lindbergh, Minn.; McGuire, Okla.; McKinley, Ill.; McLaughlin, Mich.; McMoran, Mich.; Malby, N. Total 78.

Democrats—Bathrick, Ohio; Claypool, Ohio; Doughton, North Carolina; Fowler, Illinois; Gudger, North Carolina; Hammond, Minnesota; Pujo, Louisiana; Rucker, Colorado; Webb, North Carolina, and Whitacre, Ohio. Total, 10.

Attempts to Amend.

The attempt to amend the agreement began with the final reading of the bill at 3 o'clock. The threats of Republicans opposed to the measure to make the Democrats vote against amendments for free meat, free lumber and free agricultural machinery, were carried out, but as the party leaders declared that any amendment would defeat the whole trade agreement they cheerfully voted these amendments down.

The Republicans who taunted them with opposing free admission of these important products were met with the assertion that the Democrats would lay the new "farmers' free list bill" before the house next week and that an opportunity would then be given to vote for free meet, machinery, lumber and a score of other things. This defense was met by Republican standpatters with the charge that the Democrats knew the free list bill could not pass the senate nor secure the president's approval.

Offers Whole Free List.

Attempts to put fresh and canned meats on the free list section of the reciprocity bill were made by Representatives Martin of South Dakota, Foster of Vermont, Lenroot of Wisconsin and Norris of Nebraska. Representative Lenroot finally offered the whole Democratic free list bill as an amendment, and, although Representative Sherley of Kentucky, who was presiding, ruled that it was in order, the Democrats stoically voted against it.

The section of the bill relating to free admission of pulp and paper provoked the sharpest discussion, drawing from Representative Mann of Illinois, the Republican leader, the statement that it was exactly in the terms agreed upon by the two countries.

"Let's bring Canada down here and surrender the halls of congress to them," exclaimed Mr. Cannon. Representative Longworth of Ohio pointed out that any reduction of duties as proposed in the free list amendments would violate the relations between the United States and all other countries, as it would give Canadian goods a special preference in the American markets.

"I challenge the statement that we are going to pass the free list bill later on with the expectation that it will not become law," said Democratic Leader Underwood in reply to statements from Republican opponents of the reciprocity bill. "The free list will become law, or the Republican senate that kills it or the Republican president that vetoes it never will be heard from again."

ABSENCE FROM MOTHER

Obliterates All Evidence of Love in Boy of Seven.

St. Louis, Mo., April 22.—Two years' absence from his mother has obliterated all evidence of child-love in Joseph Frank Baker, 7 years old, whom Mrs. Cora Zeitz, who claims as her own, charges was abducted from the home of her father in Boonville, Ind., two years ago.

"Mother! mother!" the boy cried to Mrs. J. W. Stewart, his foster parent, in circuit court at Clayton, Mo. "Don't let that woman touch me!"

Mrs. Stewart is the child's foster parent and Mrs. Zeitz filed a habeas corpus suit. She declares the child disappeared with George C. Steffe of St. Louis, two years ago, and in her search for the lad she has spent $3,000 and traversed six states.

When the boy was questioned in court, he told of three occasions when he was kidnaped. "That woman got me last Thursday," he said. "She got me twice before, and when I saw her I ran hard. I don't want to go with her."

Mrs. Zeitz has remarried since the child was born and is now a resident of Oklahoma City, Okla.

INSURGENTS ARE IGNORED

Demands of Republican Progressives Refused By Senate Committee.

Desired to Have Distinct Representation on the Committees.

Washington, April 22.—Formal demands made yesterday by insurgent Republicans in the senate that they be recognized as an organization distinct from the Republican majority of the senate and that they be given one-fourth of all of the majority membership of the committees and control of the assignments, were rejected by a vote of 7 to 4 at a meeting of the senate committee on committees.

Representatives of the regular Republican organization in the senate determined to check the insurgent demands after it was learned that President Taft resented the insurgent attitude in opposing policies recommended by him and the activities of this minority faction in putting barriers in the way of his renomination for the presidency in 1912. That this was the real reason for the widening of the breach between regulars and insurgents, was freely stated by some of the majority members.

That the insurgent members of the committee did not bolt is said to be due to the fact that the rejection of the proposition submitted did not carry with it a decision to give this faction a less number of places than they were entitled to in accordance with their number, which is about one insurgent to four regulars.

The action of the majority, it was declared, was intended merely as a declaration that the dominant faction would not recognize a minority of the party as having rights under a separate organization, while the members thereof claimed rights as members of the Republican party.

After the committee meeting, both the regular and insurgent forces went into sessions which continued until late in the day. Plans were made by both factions for renewed hostilities today, when assignments will be offered to insurgents as individual Republican senators.

The contest yesterday was in connection with a resolution introduced by Senator La Follette. The preamble stated the purpose of the insurgents as follows:

Resolution Offered.

"Whereas, there is a division among te Republicans of the senate, a minority of whom are known as progressive Republicans—to wit: Senators Clapp, La Follette, Bourne, Borah, Brown, Dixon, Cummins, Bristow, Crawofrd, Gronna, Poindexter and Works—each division being well recognized in the senate and throughout the country as based upon clearly defined differences on important legislative measures and questions of great public interest; and

"Whereas, the Republican senators known as Progressive Republicans are in the minority in the ratio of about one to four, now therefore, be it:

"Resolved by the committee on committees that the progressive Republicans be accorded by the committee on committees such proportionate representation upon the committees of the United States senate as their numbers bear to the total Republican membership of each of said committees and the assignments of one of progressive Republicans upon each committee designated by Senators La Follette, Bourne, Cummins and Bristow, the four progressive Republican members of the committee of committees, which said assignment and designation shall be approved and ratified by the committee on committees."

The La Follette resolution was debated at great length, all of the Republican regulars insisting that there was no precedent for the recognition of a minority within the party. Some of them predicted that the adoption of such a resolution would disrupt the party as similar demands would have to be dealt with later in party conventions. The vote on the resolution follows:

For—La Follette, Bourne, Cummins and Bristow.

Against—Gallinger, Lodge, Penrose, Heyburn, Warren, Smoot and Bradley.

Immediately rumors spread that the insurgents would bolt the committee and refuse to abide by the committee assignments made under any other plan and that they would seek an alliance with the Democratic minority to overthrow the control of the regular Republicans, but apparently there was no foundation for any of these reports. One insurgent member of the committee said that the future course of the insurgents would depend on whether they were treated fairly by the regulars.

BUSINESS LARGE BUT MOVING SLOWLY

New York, April 22.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s Weekly Review of Trade says: Business continues to move slowly, its volume, though large, being much below producing capacity and displaying a lack of interest and vigor. The accumulating deposits and reserves of the banks are one of the results of the general trade recession, but they impart strength to the banks and will enable them readily to finance the forward movement of enterprise whenever it sets in.

Dullness in pig iron has become more pronounced and production is on a reduced scale with the leading interests having only about 70 per cent of the furnace capacity active. Greater quietness is also apparent in the finished material markets and some curtailment of mill operations is reported, although it is not believed that the volume of new business in April was below the bookings in the preceding month.

Only a moderate demand is noted in the pig iron division and in foundry grades the restricted buying movement has brought quotations for future deliveries, bringing to a parity those of other months. Uncertainty as to prices on iron ore had a disquieting effect and a reduction of 50 cents per ton was reported at the close of the week.

In the drygoods markets there has been no special backward movement and some merchants believe the bottom has been touched on prices for cotton goods and other lines. Orders placed by jobbers are small as a rule, but indicate a healthy condition of stocks from the seller's viewpoint. There is some uncertainty as to future values and most of the business now being done is for May and June delivery, but this is in part due to the unwillingess of mills to make long contracts at present prices. At the same time the volume of production is being generally curtailed and limited to orders so that manufacturing centers are still giving evidence of depression. A fair export trade in cotton goods was done last week.

Gradual improvement is noted in footwear. New England manufacturers are receiving a slightly larger volume of orders and a satisfactory fall and winter business is anticipated. All hide markets are very quiet, with domestic tanners not operating except for such small parcels as will suffice for immediate pressing wants.

WHAT TO TIP THE WAITER.

Two Chicago Waiters Who Have Become Rich Give Advice.

Chicago, Ill., April 22.—If you are not wise to "tipping etiquette" peruse this:

When dining alone, 10 cents.

When entertaining a party, 50 cents or more.

When in doubt, 10 per cent of bill.

Add 5 per cent when the music is inspiring.

Be liberal, but don't overdo it.

Never "roust" the waiter; they often will ease something into your soup.

John Henry William Rehm, who, with Henry Hanginsen, another Chicago waiter, will pass the summer in Europe, traveling on the proceeds of tips paid him, gave the foregoing precepts and plans to follow them in giving away his money.

Rehm will take his wife and two daughters, Adeline and Elinor, on the trip. They will sail on the Lusitania, in the best quarters available, and for three months will "do" Europe in style.

The two Chicago waiters, who have been employed at big hotels for several years, have accumulated snug fortunes by saving their tips and investing them judiciously.

"A waiter should receive $50 a week in tips," said Rehm, firmly, in telling of his experience.

GIVES WIFE $100,000

To Drop Charges in Divorce Plea—Alienation Suit to End.

Cleveland, Ohio, April 22.—By an agreement between George E. Harbaugh, wealthy clubman and oil man, and his wife, who recently sued him for divorce, Mrs. Harbaugh and her son will receive more than $100,000, and in consequence the charges made against Harbaugh in his wife's divorce petition will not be brought into the divorce hearing.

Harbaugh will not contest the divorce suit.

It is said an alienation suit against Mrs. Catherine Trench, Lakewood woman, will not come to trial as a result of the settlement of the alimony and divorce case.

WILL THE SENATE DARE KILL IT?

By an overwhelming vote, the bill providing for reciprocity with Canada has passed the house. Will the senate dare to kill it? It is to be hoped not.

To be sure such action on the part of the Republican senate would, as far as political interests alone are concerned, please the Democrats immensely. It would mean that the same interests that induced the Republican congress to pass the Payne tariff bill are in control of a majority of the senate, and the people of the country have already shown what they think of a party that allows itself to be led by the nose by special privilege.

But this is no time to play politics. The agreement has been reached as a result of many years of watchfulness on the part of the two countries, and the present form is the fruit of long and earnest conferences on the part of representatives of the interested governments. To throw it away now would mean not only the loss for the present of the immense gains that must inevitably come to America through the operation of freer trade between this country and Canada, but in all probability it would mean that the trade relations of the United States and her northern neighbor must always be more or less strained.

There is no possibility of a doubt that this is true. England has for some years been seeking to develop closer relations, commercial and otherwise, between herself and her colonies and among the colonies themselves. She has viewed this reciprocity proposition askance, as likely to give to the United States benefits from Canadian trade that the mother country would be sorry to lose. If reciprocity is rejected now, it will give England a chance to complete her plans for imperial organization and shut America forever out of the benefits of open commercial relations with Canada.

That this step on England's part would be made easier by the course Canada must adopt if reciprocity is refused now, is also beyond dispute. Canada has waited patiently for the United States to show a willingness to renew the beneficent reciprocal agreement of 1854, that was cancelled partly because of political juggling and partly because America fancied that by so doing she was "getting back at" England for her sympathy with the South during the Civil war. Canada is willing, now, to enter into such an agreement. She feels the need of freer commerce in her own development, just as the United States feels the need of freer commerce with Canada as a means of extending her own commercial influence and prosperity. But she cannot be expected to maintain this receptive attitude forever. If the United States turns down this agreement now, Canada will enter wholeheartedly into the British imperial plans, and we will lose the benefits of reciprocity.

The reciprocity question is not simply one of lowering a few duties and abolishing others in our trade with Canada. It is a question of large and epochal development of American commerce and commercial relations, and in this connection is a significant step toward changing the tariff policy that has proved a means of oppression and injustice to a vast majority of the people of the country. Will the senate, in view of the duty that rests on its members to help build up the national interests, as well as in view of the almost universal demand for reciprocity, dare to overthrow this work of the house? Will it dare to take a step that will be but a means to throttle American trade abroad, and the American people's interests at home, just because the trusts and monopolies are fearful that reciprocity with Canada will mean the tearing down of the high tariff wall?

There are members of the senate who are so enslaved to special privilege that they will be perfectly willing to continue to betray national interests for the sake of their own monopolistic masters. There are others who have become so enamored of themselves and their own political prominence that they cannot bring themselves to support any proposition, however valuable, the realization of which would bring credit to somebody besides themselves. These two elements may be safely counted on to oppose reciprocity ratification by the senate. But it is hard to believe that a majority of the members of that body are either slaves of monopoly or worshipers at the shrine of their own vanity. It does not seem possible that the senate as a whole will dare to defy both the voters of the country. and the national welfare by rejecting the Canadian reciprocity bill as it passed the house.

FARMS AND THEIR OWNERS.

Without attempting to give a reason for such a state of affairs, the Des Moines Register and Leader presents some startling facts on the ownership of farm land in Iowa. It quotes a commercial report to the effect that in a "large farm region" in Dallas county "about four farms out of five in the territory covered are occupied and operated by renters, and that only a small proportion of the renters have long time leases." The paper declares that "throughout Iowa land tenantry is on the increase, and the custom of short term leases probably predominates."

This is a serious proposition for any state, particularly for one in which the agricultural interests are a dominant factor in life and business. It is an axiom of municipal experience that the man who owns his own home is a better citizen than the man who is paying rent. The same rule applies in the country to even a greater degree than in the city, for the land which is being tilled must be managed properly to give the best and most lasting results, and it is indisputable that the renter will not take the same interest in and care of the soil that an owner would take. He occupies it only temporarily, and it is only natural, however discreditable it may be, that he should seek to get the most he can out of it during his short term of occupancy, before it passes into some other hands.

As to the quality of the renter's citizenship compared with that of the owner, there can be no similarity. The development of a rural district means voluntary co-operation to an extent unknown in a city, where improvement and development are to a great degree enforced by local governmental agencies. The man who knows that his occupation of a given parcel of land is to end after one or two or three years has not the interest to work with his neighbors that an owner has. An owner often is willing to make a temporary sacrifice to gain a permanent benefit; the renter on a short term lease has no such incentive. If he can get along with things as they are he can see no reason why he should exert himself to bring about changes that will benefit, not himself, but his successor on the land, whoever that may be. He has neither the individual nor the community interest of the owner.

It would be interesting to receive some reliable reports on the cause of this falling off in the percentage of ownership among men who work farms. The independence of American farmers has been a point of national pride, and if any definite forces are operating to prevent that independence, they should be recognized and, if possible, overcome. Other states may not be suffering as Iowa is, or they may be. It is a proposition worth investigation and an evil that calls for correction.

HUNTING OUT THE LEAKS.

Evidently, the Democrats meant business when they said they intended to run the government's affairs more economically than they have been run under the Republican regime. The committee appointed by the house of representatives in congress has begun to report on the leaks it has found, and the result is—well, perhaps after all it is more or less what might have been expected.

Among other things the committee has dropped from the payroll some half hundred names whose owners could not be located, either in Washington or elsewhere, though no particular effort was made to locate them outside that city. The duties they were hired to perform were such as to require their presence in the capital, but there was nothing to show that they had even been in Washington during the present session of congress, at least. Yet their pay had been going on just the same as if they were on the job every day and working faithfully. And a peculiarity of their cases was that their absence seemed to have made no difference in the conduct of affairs at the capital. According to the committee, more cases of the same kind are likely to be uncovered later.

Stationery supplies have been another fat source of graft for employes of the house and of various committees, and even, in some cases it is said, for members of the house. And typewriters—according to the committee machines that cost the government $100 each have been "handed out lavishly, and in a way that would indicate that no particular account was kept as to who got them or what became of them after they left the care of the distributing officers," according to a Washington letter to the Philadelphia Record.

Why is it that statesmen (save the word!) consider it right and proper to waste, or more properly to divert, the people's money in this fashion? Instances of similar grafts were brought to light during the recent session of the Minnesota legislature, though none of the charges made involved articles that cost the state $100 apiece. But the system was the same. Perhaps the legislators would justify themselves by saying that they merely copied after the national congressmen. If that were to be their plea the country would have a right to laugh them to scorn, for assuredly the last congress was not composed exclusively of shining examples of civic righteousness.

It is all one system of petty graft, of dishonesty among men whom the people have seen fit to put in places of public trust. It is all wrong, and ought to be rooted out. If the Democratic house can get rid of the practices that grew up under the Republican management and at the same time avoid installing a similar system of their own, the people will be decidedly to the good as a result of the last election, even if congress should not pass a single bill or adopt a single resolution.

SOME POSTAL COMPARISONS.

Pending the investigation of governmental departments in general that the new congress is inaugurating, it is interesting to compare the finances of the United States postoffice with those of the Dominion of Canada. The comparison may not be particularly significant, since the conditions in the two countries are not identical, Canada having to transport mail over greater uninhabited districts than does the United States, and also since Canada has the 1-cent rate on drop letters, and a parcels post system. But a comparison is interesting anyway.

For the year 1910 the revenues of the Canadian postoffice were $11,068,753; those of the United States postoffice $224,128,657. Out of its revenue the Canadian postoffice ended the year with a net gain of $743,211; the United States postoffice department closed the year with a deficit of something more than $5,000,000.

It cost Canada, $3,646,598 to have the mails transported; the United States paid $84,873,687 for transportation of mails. That is, the transportation of the mails cost each Canadian 45 cents and each American 91 cents.

Canada had 12,887 postoffices, and the United States 59,580. The Canadian postoffice during the year handled 501,189,000 letters and post cards; the United States office handled 14,004,577,271 pieces of mail matter of all kinds.

Most of these figures, of course are of no significance as far as comparing the work of the two departments is concerned, but they show rather emphatically the comparative size of the two countries, and in view of the surplus on one side on a small amount of business, and the deficit on the other on an immense amount of business, there may be something deeper in the matter than is shown on the surface. It reminds one of the storekeeper who assured a customer that he sold a certain line of goods below cost and explained that he could afford to do so because he sold so many articles of that line that he made a profit on the whole transaction.

A GET-RICH-QUICK CONCERN.

One of the most interesting documents put out in many years is the report of the Pullman Palace Car company recently filed at the order of the interstate commerce commission. Somehow one begins to understand why the Pullman company has always resisted efforts to learn anything about its business and its returns. There has been plenty of evidence that the company was making money hand over fist, but it has not been possible heretofore to verify that belief.

Coming in connection with the general interest in what it costs the people of the country to travel and how much of that expense goes into the pockets of the carriers and allied interests as clear profit, the Pullman company report strikes home all the more forcibly. The most graphic illustration of its big gains is to be found in the statement that a man who owned $1,000 worth of its stock when it started in business almost fifty years ago would today own $100,000 of dividend-paying shares, without having invested another single penny.

This is a get-rich-quick business of amazing proportions—no risks, no illegalities, no trouble. Stockholders sit back with folded hands and once a year receive 8 per cent on their money and a few slips of paper that represent additional amounts on which they are to receive dividends the next year. And it all comes out of the traveling public.

HOW FAR DOES HONOR APPLY?

One of the most suggestive features of the testimony given in Minneapolis during the last two or three days by Former Chief Canterbury of the fire department of that city was the statement that the chief deliberately lied when he told the council investigating committee that a member of the city's legal department had not seen certain papers in connection with the purchase of land by the municipality. He explained that he gave this false testimony in order to shield the member of the legal department, and added that his lawyer had assured him that, inasmuch as no oath was administered to him when he testified, he was at liberty to say anything he pleased.

Just how far does honor go in men's dealings with one another? How much less dishonorable is it for a man to lie when he is merely making a statement than when he is testifying under oath? And does the fact of the administration of the oath make a man's duty to society any greater, any more real, than it would be without his having sworn to tell the truth? Under the state law, the former chief has not committed perjury, since he took no oath to tell the truth. But under the higher law, the moral law, if you please, or the law of common honesty which condemns the dealer who gives short weight or measure, which condemns the clerk or other person who gives short change intentionally, which condemns the man who lies deliberately in any case where he is asked a question and is expected to give a honest answer, Former Chief Canterbury is unqualifiedly guilty.

How does public opinion regard such an act as this? Very laxly, it is to be feared, or no lawyer would so demean himself, so cheapen his own character and so defy common honesty and justice as to advise a client to lie just because in so doing he would not be guilty of perjury. Huckleberry Finn tells how "the Hare-lip" to whom he was telling fanciful stories of life in England, held out a book and asked him to swear on that book that he was telling the truth. "I see it was nothing but a dicionary," says Huck, "so I done it." Huck was an ignorant, neglected boy, the son of the village drunkard, and we readily excuse his act. But was it, in fact, essentially different from this wilful lying just because one can do it and yet not have to suffer the penalty of the law? Not one particle.

How far does honor go in such matters? And in this same connection, why will any man lie to protect another in wrong-doing? By his act he not only commits wrong himself, but shares the guilt of the one he seeks to protect. If Former Chief Canterbury's course in this matter is in keeping with modern business and civic standards, those standards are sadly in need of renovation. We whip or otherwise punish children when they lie. It is too bad there is not some form of punishment that can be applied to men who do the same thing. It might help them to act honorably, whether they were in fact honorable or not.

Heretofore the Pullman porter has been the universal ideal of easy money concern, but now it seems that he was only following the example of his employers, and not beating it so much at that.

It is getting around toward that time of the week when all eyes turn once more to the supreme court. That tribunal is getting a lot of free advertising out of this delay in deciding the trust cases.

Anderson — Davis — Lindbergh — Steenerson—Volstead—yes, and Hammond—all lined up alongside with Uncle Joe Cannon and voting with him and Boost-'em-higher Dalzell and Ship Subsidy Humphrey. Can you beat it?

THE OPEN COURT.

(Readers of The Herald are invited to make free use of this column to express their ideas about the topics of general interest. Letters should not exceed 300 words—the shorter the better. They must be written on one side of the paper only, and they must be accompanied in every case by the name and address of the writer, though these need not be published. A signed letter is always more effective, however.)

APRIL 9 HAS NOT YET COME FOR G. A. R. MEMBERS.

To the Editor of The Herald:

I noticed in this evening's Herald the following: "Planning for Memorial day. Veterans may not have charge of ceremonies." "The older men no longer care to take the responsibility for the arrangements for the day and it is quite probable that the younger men will be asked to make the arrangements and carry out the program. The older men will march, address the school children and take part." I think you might have added "and be permitted to take seats upon the platform."

April 9, 1865, called Appomattox day, marked the beginning of the end; over a million men returned to their homes, the Civil war was a thing of the past, and all was over. I think I express the opinion of my comrades when I say that April 9, has not yet come to the members of the Grand Army of the Republic, it will be many years yet before we "no longer care to take the responsibility" or refuse to or are unable to deposit a flower upon the graves of our dead comrades. So long as a comrade remains, he will be found wending his way to yonder hillside and there depositing upon the graves of his dead comrades, a flower, as a token of remembrance.

We desire and seek the assistance of the Sons of Veterans, Spanish-American war veterans, and Citizens staff in the services of the occasion, but as members of the Grand Army of the Republic, we cannot refuse to take the responsibility of one of the duties for which the Grand Army was organized. The time will come, but not yet.

Hogs and Alfalfa.

Collier's: Alfalfa, according to one of the most intelligent farmers in Kansas, is the best money-making crop. The seed is not raised much in the eastern part of the state, as it grows better where there is drier weather. Where rains are frequent the crop will keep growing and does not run to seed so well as in the western and drier parts. In the western parts farmers often have a seed crop that brings from $25 to $75 an acre. In the northeastern part alfalfa is grown on the hills as well as in the valleys. Hogs can be raised on it in Kansas, getting half of their growth from the alfalfa, then fattened on a mixed diet of that product and corn, for 2½ cents a pound, gross. This allows for a fair rental for the alfalfa pasture and the hay. Cases of hog-cholera are rare where the farms are free from mudholes. When his hogship is dry, he will drink the scum from the mudholes. Hogs need fresh water to keep them from burning up upon a steady corn-fed diet. They should have grass during the grass season. The oldfashioned way, still common, was for the farmer to throw his corn out from the crib to the whole herd. This custom produced worms and cholera. Soft coal, pounded up and fed to the hogs, will cut the worms and save a herd from cholera, if given in time. A farmer with an alfalfa pasture for his hogs in summer and with the hay for them in winter will raise hogs for half what it costs him to feed corn alone. Fed alfalfa, the porkers will wean themselves in three weeks.

Flashed While He Fell.

The self-control that is an essential qualification of the thorough newspaper reporter was strikingly shown at the time of the death of the aviator, Arch Hoxsey, at Los Angeles last January. G. L. Seese of the Associated Press's Los Angeles staff was reporting the aviation tournament for the great newspaper organization.

The news that Hoxsey had begun his fatal fall was flashed over the Associated Press wires before the unfortunate bird man had struck the ground. From his seat in the grandstand Mr. Seese's eye, trained by watching the recent evolutions of many aviators, saw that Hoxsey was descending in a manner far different from his customary well-controlled swoops. It was possible that the aviator might regain control of his machine, of course, before it was too late to prevent a disaster, but Seese judged otherwise, and at the risk of incurring ridicule as an alarmist dictated to the operator at his elbow this "flash" message:

"Hoxsey is falling!"

Two minutes later came a bulletin announcing Hoxsey's death. Immediately behind this come a 600-word account dictated by Mr. Seese direct to the operator.

Ballad of the Fan.

Madly I long for the day
When I can sit in the sun
Roasting each negligent play
After the game has begun.
This is the acme of fun.
Other amusements seem flat;
Ho for the corking home run,
Ho for the crack of the bat.

Now that the team is away,
All other news do I shun;
Closely I scan the array,
Noting each prominent one;
All of my work is undone;
Chaos presides 'neath my hat;
Ho for the corking home run,
Ho for the crack of the bat!

Eagerly waiting the fray
Much as old Attila, Hun,
Waiting to pounce on his prey,
Daily I'm praying (no pun).
Just for the opening gun,
Nothing can stir me but that;
Ho for the corking home run,
Ho for the crack of the bat.
—W. F. Kirk.

Drinking Vessels.

London Chronicle: Beakers still survive, but some other drinking vessels of the past have wellnigh disappeared from use. Drinking horns, for instance, although of unbreakable material, seem to have vanished from our inns. In Wiltshire one occasionally hears an old stager order a "harn of yell," and in Wircestershire and Herefordshire cider is drunk out of horns; but they do not appear to be used in any other part of England. Whistle tankards, too, common enough at one time, are obsolete. The corporation of Hull has one of these tankards, in which the whistle comes into play when the tankard is empty, and this is said to be the only one of its kind in England.

Silver-Eyed Beefsteak.

New York Press: The London cop calls his half-penny herring his silver-eyed beefsteak, and there are hundreds cooking every minute in London town where one is eaten here. Any time of the year a big part of this city would profit by eating fish for a spell instead of beef. With no open air exercise beef is a heap harder than fish for the body to get rid of, because there is a good deal more water in fish than in beef or pork. Fish are fat or lean. Eel, salmon, herring are more than 5 per cent grease. Halibut and mackerel are 2 to 5 per cent fat; cod, whiting, haddock, even less than 2 per cent.

Two Sides To a Crime.

New York Evening Sun: It is all part of our tendency to be kind and considerate to lawbreakers; to think of the family of the man who has killed somebody instead of considering the family of his victim; to lay stress on the devotion of the relatives of the man who has looted a bank, rather than to take into account the broken depositors and their sharp sufferings. Hence the general approval of the fantastic extension of the pardoning power, which meets with no real, sane disapproval.

Turning the Tables.

Fliegende Blaetter: She—Well; I'm cleverer than you, anyhow.

He—If I were so clever as you think yourself, I should never have been such a fool as to marry you.

MINNESOTA OPINIONS.

Should Read History.

Red Wing Republican: Governor Eberhart, it is said, will not sign the bill proposing a constitutional amendment limiting the number of senators from any one county in the state legislature to seven. By not doing this he hopes to keep from aligning himself with either faction. The governor would do well to care a great deal less about factions and read Col. Roosevelt's speech that he made at the state capitol the other evening and then go back and ponder over American history. The men of 1776 made themselves immortal because of their protest, backed up by their lives, against taxation without representation.

What Might the World Become?

New Ulm Review: If in all cultured Christian lands the skill and energy, the, lives and wealth, now devoted to the building up of armies and navies, were devoted to training in friendship, not hate; in doing, not destroying; in peace, not war—what might this old world not become?

What Might Have Happened.

Owatonna Journal-Chronicle: It's lucky that all the troops had not been sent to the Mexican border, considering the hostilities that have developed in the legislature. Speaker Dunn's threat to call for troops doubtless was all that prevented several members of the house from slapping each other on the wrists.

No One In Sight.

Cambridge Independent-Press: Has the present session evolved one member who is worthy of consideration as a successor to Senator Knute Nelson two years hence? Not to any body's knowledge.

"Interests" Oppose Reciprocity.

St. Cloud Journal-Press: We notice that some of the agricultural papers, whose advertising columns are filled by the manufacturing trusts of the country, are using cartoons sent out by the Protective Tariff league in their fight against Canadian reciprocity. The policy of the tariff league, said to be supported by the big interests, is to let the tariff alone. The approval of the Canadian pact would be the first step to a downward revision, and the manufacturing interests are trying to head off that step being taken. If the people are satisfied with the present tariff law, they should certainly oppose reciprocity with Canada.

Send the News to Kelley.

Stillwater Gazette: A baseball item from Mansfield, Ohio, says the catcher of the Duluth club declares he has discovered the staff of life and it isn't bread. It is a liquid, nothing but the oldfashioned buttermilk, two glasses of which will do more to preserve youth, fill him with ginger and enable him to play the game to the limit and no doubt make him one of the phenoms of the year. Will some one kindly telegraph or telephone this discovery to Manager Mike Kelley?

An Inspiring Sight.

Mankato Free Press: What a spectacle! The speaker of the Minnesota house of representatives invoking the law to suppress the law-breaking lawmakers!

Reflections of a Bachelor.

New York Press: Success makes success sometimes, but enemies always.

Love thy neighbor as the disagreeable fellow ought to you.

Most people want to go out so much a funeral is better than nothing.

A Reformed Almanac.

Journal of American Medical Association: The Virginia Health Bulletin is issued in the form of an almanac. It has the calendar by months, the phases of the moon, the time when the sun and moon rise and set for each day, the important historical events and all the other time-honored earmarks of almanacs, but instead of the musty jokes and stereotyped testimonials of patients "pronounced incurable by the doctors," but cured by two bottles and a half of Indian Bitters, it has sanitary aphorisms such as "An open window is better than an open grave," "A dirty well is more dangerous than a dirty kitchen," "A good iron pump costs less than a case of typhoid," "Good water is one of the best insurance policies a family can carry," "Two dollars for a doctor is cheaper than a hundred dollars for a funeral," "If your milkman brings warm milk, make it hot for him," "Wire screens in the window keep crape from the door," "Typhoid germs are small in size, but they are more expensive to keep than blooded horses," "A light overcoat is better than a heavy cold," "Many a cough ends in a coffin," "It is better to sleep in the fresh air than in the fresh grave." A special subject is assigned to each month——smallpox to January, pneumonia to February, measles to March, infants' complaints to May, typhoid to July, colds and influenza to November, and consumption to December—with a page of commonsense advice in plain, simple language, under each topic. The Virginia department of health deserves hearty congratulations for its success in reforming one of our oldest family institutions and converting it into and evangel of health.

Americans In Mexico.

Mexican Herald: To judge from statements that have of late been appearing in American newspapers one would suppose that a bitter anti-American sentiment was being manifested here at the present time, and it seems to us the barest justice to this country and its people to state that this is not the case.

Thousands of Americans in this and other American cities of the republic are well aware that they go about their daily business and their daily pleasures without being molested in look, word or act, and that their relations with their many Mexican friends are just as pleasant and cordial as ever.

It is dangerous for persons at a distance or who are not thoroughly acquainted with the idiosyncrasies of a people to generalize about its tendencies and its moods. One needs to have had a long and intimate acquaintance with it to understand it. And for that reason it is Americans who have resided longest in Mexico who are most amused or indignant, according as they contemplate the matter, at the exaggerated and wholly misleading statements that are appearing just at present in several newspapers of the United States as to an anti-American feeling in Mexico.

Keeps Tab on Fish Stories.

Big fish stories melt with astonishing swiftness before the investigating search of a certain correspondent of Baily's Magazine, an English monthly devoted to sport.

"Many years ago," writes the sceptical gentleman, "I began the compilation of a complete angling record. I read every book on fishing which came my way, and made careful abstraction of all the big fish of whose capture they gave details.

"I tabulated them according to species, weight, method of capture, date, and so on, rejecting tales which were obviously apocryphal, and verifying instance after instance by letters to the captors or to others whose testimony would be acceptable.

"I called that stage number one. Stage number two consists in bringing this up to date by careful examination of the sporting papers and taking from them anything which may be described as a record. This has been by far the most interesting and entertraining branch of my self-imposed duty.

"I tremble to think of the fishermen's yarns I have run to earth. It is one thing to read in the papers of a fifty pound salmon or a forty pound pike or a four pound roach, but it is quite another thing to believe it."

A Bad Advertisement.

The Continent: Druggist (to his stout wife)—Don't come in just this minute. I am about to sell six bottles of my fat-reducing mixture.

SATURDAY NIGHT TALK

Empty Lives.

"Her life is altogether empty." So spoke sympathetically a neighbor of a woman from whom in quick succession had been taken three very dear to her, an aged mother, an invalid husband, and a little child, all of whom she ministered with the devotion and constancy of which only noble womanhood is capable. And now with all three gone it did appear that despite her big and well furnished house, there was little left for her to do and nothing left for her to enjoy.

That is one kind of an empty life, but pitiable as it may seem it is infinitely preferrable to a life that has never been anything else but empty. The woman just referred to had at least the comfort of recalling the days when her home, her hands and her heart were full. But some women and some men have always led empty lives. Nothing has been emptied out of them because there was nothing in them to empty. They have existed rather than lived. They have simply scratched the surface of real life. Singularly enough these persons are to be found in two widely contrasted spheres of activity. In remote country places, whither books and visitors seldom go, where the limitation of poverty is keenly felt, we find empty and vacant lives. But I consider them no more vacant or inane than certain lives lived in the midst of the city's glare and excitement, the lives of the butterflies of fashion, the people who must have each day some fresh excitement, who dare not stop and think about themselves or others, who are absorbed in superficialities and artificialities. They may not realize the emptiness of their lives until some sudden bereavement or reverse of fortune comes but they grow old rapidly, owing to the swiftness of their pace, and often before they reach middle life they themselves realize how few are their inward resources, how little they amount to, how unexpansible they are, how easily spared from the circle of their so-called friends.

But there is not much to choose between the empty life of the ignorant and narrow person in the country and the empty life of the giddy devotee of fashionable society in the city.

But empty lives of every sort need not remain in that condition. They can if they will open up four sources of enrichment. One is the field of knowledge. Never was the world so full of interesting and instructive books and periodicals; never were libraries so numerous or their custodians so anxious to make them serviceable to the world; never were there more inducements to choose some specialty and prosecute it, history, biography, physology, ethics or ecomonmics.

Then there is the fascinating field of one's own personality. You must have some specialty, something that you like to do and can do fairly well, some taste or talent which if you will but cultivate will yield you and your friends much happiness and profit. You may have to utilize odd hours and sacrifice some other things but the cultivation of your specialty will help fill up your depleted life.

There is the field of good will to others. A healthy human interest is a great preventive of ennui. This does not mean a prying curiosity or a disposition to gossip about one's neighbors, but a hearty interest in folk as folk, in individuals with whom you have to do day by day, or in chance acquaintances by the way. When you really begin to care for people, to care for their growth in the best things, then you own life is correspondingly enlarged.

There is a room called reverence in everyone's heart. Some of us hardly know that it is there. With others the custom for years has been to keep the room utterly closed, but some day open the door and explore a bit. You will be sure to find influences and forces which if given the sunlight and a chance to expand will quicken your whole being, make you more truly a man, greaten and broaden your life and lift it into fellowship with its maker. When that happens, which is the supreme event that can happen to any man, the danger of living an empty life will have passed away forever.

THE PARSON.

A MOMENT WITH THE WITS.

Punch: Child (during pause in sad song rendered with much expression)—"Oh, mummy, the poor lady herself isn't liking it, either!"

Washington Star: "What do you think of our patient?" asked one alienist.

"Wholly irresponsible," replied the other.

"Mentally or in money matters?"

Wagg—"Yes, I believe he is even going to marry a girl named Sue."

Birmingham Age-Herald: "There goes, Mrs. Whinger. She enjoys bad health."

"Did I understand you to say she 'enjoys' bad health?"

Louisville Courier-Journal: "The professor thinks highly of your intellectual powers. He says you look at him so understandingly."

"Yes; it is easier to look at him understandingly than to think up that highbrow gab."

Chicago Tribune: Stranger—"But when you have your system of subways constructed, and all your passenger traffic is carried on underground, how are you going to ventilate them?"

Resident—"Oh, the newspapers will attend to that."

Boston Transcript: Griggs—"Weren't you surprised that the customs inspector didn't find those things you smuggled in?"

Briggs—"Oh, no; my wife stowed them away. She can pack things in a trunk where she can't even find them herself."

Pointed Paragraphs.

It's easy to get the kind of help you don't need.

Murder will out—and so will the foolish things you do.

Many a man who thinks he is wise is unable to prove it.

Posing as a good example is about as exciting as being a cigar store Indian.

If a girl is unusually pretty people are apt to be surprised if she displays good sense.

It's easy for a woman who doesn't pretend to know anything to make a fool of a man who knows it all.

Marriage frequently gives two otherwise agreeable people a chance to tell each other the disagreeable truth.

Of course you are honest, but did you ever hear of any one going around looking for you in the day time with a lantern?

"Salting" Soul Mates.

New Orleans Picayune: We take a special pride in rejoicing when an affinity runs foul of—anything, from half a brick to a $10,000 damage suit, but when a jail sentence accompanies other punishment, we like it still better. There's no place like prison for soul mates and affinities; it has such a quieting effect on their nerves. The only wonder is that physicians do not order it for their physical good. A New York judge recently made a record for himself and the judiciary by "salting" a soul mate for a wad of his wherewithal, and it is to be regretted that he could not add a season in solitude to his decision which abstracted $10,000 from the gay Lothario in question. But, perhaps, this ruling will put a new phase on the soul mating and affinity business, for if it's going to cost $10,000 per, it will be unhealthy, to say the least.

TWENTY YEARS AGO

C. P. Flatley, now Northwestern agent of the Soo and South Shore lines at St. Paul and formerly commercial agent of the South Shore in Duluth, will quit railroading on May 1 in order to take charge of the Imperial Mill company's increasing business at Buffalo.

S. T. Harrison, the attorney, dropped into the American express office yesterday afternoon to get a $20 gold piece changed. The clerk jingled the money and said: "I guess not." It was a clever counterfeit of the issue of 1875. Mr. Harrison knows the man from whom he received it.

The mayor and two district court judges met this morning and decided on the appointments of park commissioners for the next four years. The result is an almost complete change, for with the exception of Col. Rogers, the members are all new. They are: Luther Mendenhall, B. Silberstein, H. C. Helm and W. K. Rogers. Mr. Helm was put on to represent the West end. He is a member of the library board from which he will resign in order to accept his new position. F. W. Paine and R. S. Munger would not accept reappointment on account of their business requiring all their time. Mr. Mendenhall will be elected president of the board.

The St. Joseph society filed articles of incorporation yesterday. Male Polish Catholics are eligible to membership and its object is to take care of the sick, bury the dead and assist widows and orphans. The first officers are: President and secretary, Walenty Krzeszwski; assistant secretary, Andezej Alnzolf; treasurer, Walenty Borowiak; marshal, Jan Majchrzak; standard bearer, Kazmiey Ludwikowski.

Miss Murray will take charge of the North American Telegraph company's office at West Duluth.

John Burgo and family of Bay City, Mich., are new arrivals at West Duluth and will make their home there.

Robert Stickland, the Floodwood postmaster, who has been on trial in the district court for manslaughter, was acquitted this morning.

W. H. Fallon, sergeant in charge of the signal service office at Duluth, has received notice from Washington that he has been transferred to Bismarck, N. D. His successor will be Sergeant Jacob W. Bauer of New York.

A. B. Robert expects to leave Duluth in about ten days for New Orleans, taking his family with him. Mr. Robert was head office man for Maj. Quinn in the government engineering service here, and goes to New Orleans to join th major there.

WHAT OF THE HOUR?

By SAVOYARD.

"Beware of false prophets, which come to you in sheep's clothing, but inwardly they are ravening wolves.

"Ye shall know them by their fruits. Do men gather grapes of thorns, or figs of thistles?"

As Grover Cleveland said on a like occasion, "This is a time for plain speaking." Is the cause of just and constitutional tariff taxation again to be frustrated by chicane on the part of its enemies and blunder on the part of its friends? Perhaps not. But why was the lamb out in ward of the wolf?

When Napoleon the Great hurried from a victorious campaign in Spain to confront on the Danube a fourth coalition of Northern Europe, conjured against him by the British cabinet, he found his forces dispersed by his chief-of-staff, Berthier, to whom he wrote: "What you have done appears so strange that if I were not sure of your devotion I should think you were betraying me. Davoust is at this moment more completely at the disposal of the archduke than of myself."

And when the Payne-Aldrich tariff was hatching in the Sixty-first congress, Senator Thomas S. Martin, a Gormanite of the straightest sect, was at the disposal of Nelson W. Aldrich and fetched and carried for monopoly whenever monopoly could not dispense with his services. Now that is history known of all men.

Mr. Champ Clark is the speaker of the Sixty-second congress, a position, the president being a Republican, which makes him the titular leader of the Democratic party. The action of the senate minority in electing Martin captain of a crusade against the tariff is not only a revolt against the decree of the country last November, but it is a challenge of the organization of the Democratic house of representatives. And whether they shall seize on the opportunity, or kiss the rod, will reveal whether Champ Clark is fit to be a presidential candidate and whether Oscar Underwood is fit to conduct a campaign against monopoly.

Never was audacity more needed in a Democratic leader, and it is not only the duty of Clark and Underwood to accept this defiance, but the occasion is freighted with all the fortunes of the Democratic party. Let Clark and Underwood hurl fast and furious their "pop-gun bills," a la Springer. In politics the great man propels himself through difficulties like a cannon ball, while the pigmy glides through them like a pestilence. The wine is drawn, let the Democratic house drink it. I know that on the Democratic side there are numerous men who rail at the G. O. P. as the slave of the tariff barons while holding out the hat for largess to their own pet industries. If Mr. Speaker Clark and Mr. Chairman Underwood do not grapple with these, the Democratic party will find leaders who will throttle them. The Democratic party entered into a solemn covenant with the country last November. Is it to be repudiated? We shall see. A movement is on foot to that end, and its leaders are confident of success.

There is much talk about "progressive Democrats." I have little patience with that sort of cant. Plain Democrat is good enough for me without the flounces and furbelows of the latitudinarians. The penitent thief on the cross was a very good Christian, and that man who holds to the teachings of Jefferson and Tilden is good enough Democrat for all desirable purposes. What is needed is a reform of men, not a progression of principles. The fathers gave us a representative republic, partly national and partly federal, and if the people can only be persuaded to be true to it nothing else is necessary. The Democratic party never lost a battle when it was Democratic, and it never gained one when it followed false prophets who proclaimed false gods. If we are to have a "progressive" government, the first step is to abolish the Constitution of the United States and return to allegiance to the British crown. They have a progressive Constitution over there.

But the tariff issue is again paramount. And why shouldn't it be so? The taxing power is the greatest attribute of sovereignty, and just taxation is the richest fruit of statesmanship. A tariff is a tax on consumption, a tribute levied on what the citizen must have. Our tariff, laid for monopoly mainly, and for revenue incidentally, is a hardship on the babe unborn and the dead unburied, for it taxes the swaddling clothes of the one and the shroud of the other; it reaches both the cradle and the coffin. The Democratic party seeks to lift some of the taxes on what men consume and fix it on wealth, and it is a great pity that the Martin machine in Virginia was impotent to induce the legislature of that commonwealth to ratify the amendment authorizing an honest income tax.

The most extraordinary phenomenon presented to the human understanding in the entire history of government among men is discovered in the drama enacted in the Southern states after the surrender of Lee at Appomattox and before the surrender of the Republican party when R. B. Hayes withdrew the regular army from its degrading and infamous duty of serving as a police force in the seceding states. Notwithstanding their armies were overthrown, notwithstanding their lands were devastated and their homes in ruins, notwithstanding alien vultures gnawed and tore at the South's very vitals, notwithstanding hostile and threatening bayonets were at every cross-road, notwithstanding hundreds of thousands of the South's best young blood emigrated to the North and to the West, notwithstanding hate ruled the council at Washington and oppression perched on the flag wherever it fluttered to the Southern breeze—notwithstanding this and these and all, the invincible Anglo-Saxon of the South rose in his majesty and seized on, regained and held every one of the eleven state governments that had made the Confederacy and drove the vandal horde from place and power. When some Gibbon or Hume, some Robertson or Macauley, in glowing periods, shall fittingly tell that glorious story, it will be the grandest political picture ever disclosed to the human memory and the human imagination, and it will thrill the heart and nerve the arm of the freeman, wherever his lines be cast, of countless generations yet to be.

And the South could have rid her people and the Northern people as well of the oppressions of the tariff had her sons been true. Carpetbaggery and all the innumerable knaveries and numberless ignominies that were in its train would yet be in the green tree, triumphant and flagitious, had there been at the South as many traitors then as there are protectionists now. If we labor under the oppressions of Aldrichism, it is because its miserable garbage is very enticing to certain Southern palates. The South will rid herself and the country of monopoly taxes as soon as, and not before, the South rids herself of her protectionists in the two houses of congress.

It is preached that as long as the stealing is going on the South must have her share. That is precisely what Pennsylvania says, exactly what New England says, except that Pennsylvania and New England do not play the hypocrite over it. They say to the South: "Here is the stealing going on, come and get your share. The stealing is unconfined, and it will ruin us the day it is made sectional."

* * *

Now the South is a cotton-planter, and Aldrich and Bailey, Dalzell and Martin may lay their heads together "till they are blue, black and mulatto," as Bill Arp puts it, and they can purvey none of their stealing for the man growing cotton, who is a taxpayer, and not a taxeater. He is the one whose property is stolen to make somebody else rich. Give him absolute free trade, and require the wealth of the country to support the government, and your cotton planter will be the most independent and the most prosperous farmer in the world. The old South, God bless her, knew it. The new South is trying to forget it.

Talk about raw materials. The manufacturer is not a consumer of them. He merely uses them to fit them for the consumer, who pays the tax, and consequently Mr. Bailey's proposal to tax the manufacturer on his raw material does not attain to the dignity of a cunning subterfuge. It is an insult to the intelligence of the cotton grower, who pays the tax on the raw materials the manufacturer licks into shape for him.

The wool-growers had a big powwow out West in February. They had a grand banquet, $25 the cover, all paid for by the poor devils who sleep under blankets taxed at more than 100 per cent. The wool spinners from New England were on hand, and the boss spoke to the millionaire shepherds, and here is what he said: "Never, never, never consent to taking the tax off wool." And yet Bailey says these spinning gentry pay that tax. If there is a man in Texas fool enough not to know that the manufacturer would favor free wool if he paid the tariff on it, it is the duty of the authorities to apprehend him. It is not safe for him to be at large, for he hasn't sense enough to keep out of the fire.

PEOPLE'S PALACE FOR NEW YORK

Madison Square Garden As a Civic Recreation Center---Its Threatened Loss Wakes Metropolis---How Besant Stirred London to Action.

By JAMES P. HEATON.

(Exclusive Service the Survey Press Bureau.)

"Now, if this young heiress wanted to do any good," declares Harry in All Sorts and Conditions of Men, "she should build a palace of pleasure." Why should there not be for the people a palace of delight which should contain libraries, reading rooms, clubs, music rooms for concerts, schools for music and dancing, athletic facilities and room for teaching all the arts and handicrafts? asked Harry in the story. This vision of a people's palace nearly thirty years ago fired the imagination of Walter Besant and James Rice.

The suggestion in the novel which was called on its title page "An Impossible Story," almost instantly aroused the city, and the people's palace for East London became a reality. After a delay of over forty years the fund left by J. T. Barber Beaumont in 1841 for the "intellectual improvement and rational recreation and amusement for the people living at the East end of London" together with money contributed for the purpose by Queen Victoria, the duke of Wales, Lord Roseberry, the duke of Westminster and others was put to the use for which it was set aside so long ago. The realization in the Old World metropolis of Besant's dream is an air castle that came true.

New York city, the New World metropolis, may become possessed of a palace of pleasure and delight through a chain of events equally strange. In New York there is just one block which is built over absolutely solid. It is Madison Square Garden, where formerly stood a railroad station. For years the city was treated to the amusing spectacle of passenger trains dragged down Fourth avenue by horses, because it was thought unsafe to use steam power in the heart of the city. After the station was moved farther north, Madison Square Garden became famous for its six-day walking contests.

For the present building the best architectural was engaged. Stanford White owed much of his reputation to the fact that he designed Madison Square Garden. His name will always be linked with it because it was on its roof that he was shot by Harry Thaw.

The traditions of the old garden have been partly reproduced in the new by the famous six-day annual bicycle races and the indoor athletic meets and games held there. The garden is famous, too, because it is practically the only building in America large enough to house Barnum & Bailey's circus or Buffalo Bill's Wild West, which elsewhere use tents. But to hundreds of thousands throughout the country the garden is associated with the annual horse show, which owes perhaps even greater interest to the chance it gives to observe in the boxes representative and labelled entries of America's aristocratic four hundred with their latest Parisian trappings that it does to king horse on the tan bark.

But with all these manifold uses Madison Square Garden stands idle much of the time. For most purposes its very size makes the risk of renting it too great. A political candidate must be sure of his audience else its expense of empty seats carefully noted by opposition paper throws cold water upon his ambitions. The basement with acres of space has scarcely been opened save during horse show week and in the spring when the circus has used it for its menagerie.

When the manageemnt this spring announced that the building was to be sold and suggested a concession in the price if the city would buy, everybody felt that were the garden to be torn down New York would lose a cherished possession. The fact that the garden was liable to be destroyed had been intimated before and various organizations had urged that it be saved and used as a civic and recreation center. Mrs. J. Borden Harriman called a meeting of all interested to consider the best use to which the building could be put and plans for raising the money necessary. Committees have been appointed and are now at work.

The plan to make of Madson Square Garden an industrial, civic and recreational center was broached by William R. Wilcox, chairman of the welfare department of the National Civic Federation in December, 1908. For the past two years the federation has been urging this idea and it has prepared an outline of the uses to which the building could be put from which most of following suggestions are drawn.

The workers in the department stores and in other great industries which employ thousands, have associations which need an enormous hall such as the amphitheater in Madison Square Garden for their annual entertainment. The thousands of employes of the street railway lines give each year a remarkable vaudeville show with their wives and children enjoying the performance.

Madison Square Garden can readily be used as a recreation center for labor. Recently a labor ball in the arena was attended by 13,500 people. Trade unions, associations of employes in private enterprises and beneficial organizations of postmen, policemen and firemen abound to make use of the garden for vaudeville entertainments, dancing parties and balls. One of the most dramatic scenes the garden has ever witnessed was when Dowie and his army of religious enthusiasts tried to win converts in New York by storm. Most saw merely an eccentric, petulant and corpulent old man with a waning following baited each day by the mob. But, others, who heard the choral singing by thousands of drilled voices wished that the garden might be used frequently by the German Saengerbund societies.

About three years ago the unemployed tried to hold a meeting in Union Square. The police disbanded it by force for obstructing the traffic, but not until after a bomb had been thrown and one man killed. The arena in Madison Square Garden offers a place where New York could hold its town meetings of dissatisfaction. Would not New York benefit by having a Hyde Park for free speech under cover.

For smaller gatherings such as lodge meetings, women's clubs, theatricals, entertainments for children and lectures Madison Square Garden has a handsome concert hall. There is also an assembly room that could be made a library, smoking or game room. There is already a restaurant which could be made a model factory lunch room. The theater in the building could be used for good moving picture shows. In the tower are eight floors of rooms for women's clubs and on the roof is a splendid roof garden. A gymnasium could be arranged and a swimming pool built in the basement. An employes' welfare exhibit has been suggested and the city could hold drills for firemen and policemen, budget exhibits and civil service examinations there during the slack season.

Prominent city officials are interested in having the municipality purchase the building either by itself or in conjunction with private citizens if they can be assured that the project can be made to pay. But can it be made self supporting as a people's palace? Almost certainly yes, though the plan is as worthy of subsidized support as the opera or the New theater. Certain expenses could be saved by using the garden for similar purposes for a longer period instead of having a dance one evening, followed by athletic games as the next event with a ball a few evenings after. The city by using it for purposes for which it now rents space could make the problem easier.

Across the river from New York city in Jersey City there is a People's palace that cost $300,000. It has been self-supporting from the day it opened. It offers for Jersey City just what Madison Square Garden can furnish for New York. City ownership would enlist the interest of hundreds of organizations and be advertizing of very great value. If New York avails itself of the chance offered, Father Knickerbocker will be able to show a more profitable use of a startegic location than can Philadelphia which allowed the old Pennsylvania Railroad station to become the home of a department store.

IN THE LITERARY WORLD

Combine the occult of the oldest nations with the intelligence of the newest, the enticing languor of the East with the ardor of the West, string the combinations upon a theme of love, dreams and mystery, and make every incident stand out as though it were a scientifically demonstrable fact, and you will have something like what is accomplished by this author. Infatuation and tragedy are played upon freely, and the names of great men and beautiful women are juggled together to bring about an effect that it does not seem possible can be unfelt by even the most hard-headed reader. The influence of the unseen upon the seen, the strange fascination of the veil between the two worlds, both these elements enter into the stories, with a vividness that reminds one of Poe's tales, but with none of the darkness and bitterness that he used with such power. The stories are weird and short, and, to one inclined to like writings that deal with spiritualism, hypnotism, telepathy and psychic marvels, cannot but prove pleasant reading.

MY THREE LOVES. By Beverley Dandridge Tucker, bishop coadjutor of Southern Virginia. New York and Washington: The Neale Publishing Co. $1.25.

A collection of the poems of the Southern divine, some of them dealing with themes incident to the Civil war, treating them from the standpoint of the Southern veteran, and others of general application. The stanzas are for the most part admirably written The verse is flowing and the phraseology free from the strained effects that mar so much of the poetry that is placed before the public. In some of the occasional poems in the volume the cry of sorrow over the death of those who went out to fight for the lost cause is so clear and strong that it cannot fail to move the reader. Throughout the volume a strong poetic conception prevails, making the contents enjoyable reading, whether the theme of the moment be one in which the reader sympathizes or not. The verses given here were well worth collecting and preserving.

ROBINETTA. By Kate Douglas Wiggin, Mary and Jane Findlater and Allan McAulay. Boston and New York: Houghton, Mifflin company. $1.10 net.

There is a well grounded impression among readers in general that anything in which Kate Douglas Wiggin has a hand will be "pretty." There is nothing in "Robinetta" to disabuse this belief. There are many paragraphs that are as delightful for their descriptive qualities as anything that has come from the pen of that author when not in collaboration with others. In fact, one is tempted to ascribe these parts to her, and the rest of the book to her assistants.

As for the story: Robinetta is a young American widow—it is queer, by the way, how many such are getting into popular fiction lately—who has only one line of relatives left—her mother's people in England. Inasmuch as these relatives never have forgiven Robinetta's mother for marrying an American, the quest of the young widow for trans-Atlantic sympathy is not much of a success, at least as far as those relatives are concerned. But her experiences among them furnish opportunity for some interesting character studies, and a background for the romantic part of the story. It can safely be read by anybody to whom hard mental effort brings the headache, and will be enjoyed even by those who care little for the usual run of novels.

Why is—or was—the "bad man" of the Western plains "bad," and what kept him so? The character is not new. It was treated long before the public heard of or saw "The Virginian." It has flourished in every class of book that deals with the early life on the prairies and among the cowboys. Usually the writer picks some virtuous cow-puncher of sure aim and unerring rope as the central figure, and leads the reader on to rejoice in the downfall of the "bad man" as he comes once too often in conflict with this paragon of human and ranch virtue. Here we have a story that centers about and in the "bad man" himself. We are shown the mental training and capacity and circumstances that make him of that stamp. We are shown the processes by which he is led to realize the evil of his way, and also those by which he feels compelled to continue in that same way. It is a psychological study of the "bad man," put into story form, and well told. If every writer of Western stories could supply the same atmosphere and bring to the task the same skill that enter into "Me—Smith," the reviewer would not look with such dread on every new novel whose cover indicates that it deals with the West and its ways.

THE RELIGION OF BEAUTY. By Raicy Husted Bell. New York: Hinds, Noble & Eldredge. $1.25.

Did you ever stop to think that the sky is your sky, the air is your air, the birds yours, the trees yours, the sun yours, and even the people about you and all else that you see are yours? That is the proposition that Dr. Bell puts forth in this book, and, like everything else he puts out in print, it is set forth in a convincing manner. You can see your possessions grow and swell until you would not change places with Rockefeller, Morgan and Weyerhaeuser combined. He puts another face on the local transportation proposition, too.

"Why," he asks in effect, "should I bother about spending money for a horse and buggy or an automobile, and have to take care of it or hire somebody else to do so for me, when for a nickel I can buy a whole streetcar or omnibus?" And he finds further satisfaction in the fact that, whereas, if he rode in buggy or automobile he might have to travel alone and be lonesome, in the car bus he is always sure to have company.

Dr. Bell's book is, in fact, a protest against the strenuous in life. He urges us to look around us and study what we see, find out the beauties in it, and translate them into thoughts and feelings. That, apparently, is the religion which he would teach, a religion of appreciation of what we have and what we can see and hear. His is a simple philosophy, an easy one to adopt, and an interesting one to read about. The prose text of the book is varied at times by verses, sometimes original, sometimes quoted. The book is an admirable gift, as suitable for picking up and reading as one could wish, and adapted to anybody's library table.

AN INTERPRETATION OF GENESIS, INCLUDING A TRANSLATION INTO PRESENT-DAY ENGLISH. By F. P. Ramsay, Ph.D. New York and Washington: The Neale Publishing company. $2.00 net.

Dr. Ramsay has no sympathy with those teachings of modern science that would relegate the story of the Book of Genesis to the limbo of legendary writings. He does not believe that the story of the creation was given in the form found in Genesis to appease the ignorant demands of the ancients, but that it all happened as it is set forth there. The charge that the discoveries and deductions of modern science are at variance with those of science as expressed in Genesis, he refutes by declaring that Genesis contains no scientific statements. In other words, he holds that the book of Genesis is "an intelligible and trustworthy account of events." He believes in the story of the rib, and he takes the serpent and the tree and the fruit (which he calls the fruit of the tree of "discrimination" instead of "knowledge of good and evil") just as literally, apparently.

Moses did not write Genesis, according to Dr. Ramsay. It is the work of "the fathers," men who lived long before Moses' time, and who had the accounts of such things as the deluge and other incidents from the lips of men who actually saw these things take place. He finds support in the later books of the Bible in forming this theory.

As to evolution being responsible for the human race, Dr. Ramsay holds that the evolutionists demand belief in two creations as distinct and direct as the one which they seek to discredit in Genesis. The first of these, he says, must have taken place when vegetable life became animal life, and the second when animal life was succeeded by human life. Thus, he maintains, the evolution theory demands greater credibility on the part of its supporters than does belief in the book of Genesis.

The "translation into present-day English" which the author includes in his book is exceedingly pretentious, but as far as it claims to be free from the familiar phraseology of the King James translation it is not up to its claim. Perhaps this is due to the habit of expressing certain things in certain forms, that might easily have hampered the translator in such a task. The difference is largely in individual words, much as it appears in the "revised" version as compared with the "authorized" version. Still, it serves to give further light on many passages, and so will be of undoubted benefit to theological students and others who care to spend time in Bible study.

Using many records and letters as a basis for his assertions, Mr. Fox brands Alexander Hamilton an intellectual giant, but in moral character nothing more than a weakling. He cites several incidents in connection with both the public and private life of his subject, and his attack on Mr. Hamilton's words, actions and character is exceedingly bitter. He complains against the holding up of such a man as he depicts to the youth of our country as in any way an admirable example, and holds that if Hamilton's life is to be told of at all in our histories, it should be revealed in its evil light as well as in its good light. The book adds but little if anything to what already was known about Hamilton, but it has furnished an excuse for the collection of accounts of some of the least admirable features in his biography.

GENEALOGY OF JEFFERSON DAVIS, PRESIDENT OF THE SOUTHERN CONFEDERACY, AND OF SAMUEL DAVIES, PRESIDENT OF MONROE COLLEGE. By William H. Whitsitt, A.M., D.D., LL.D. New York and Washington: The Neale Publishing company. $1.00.

The author goes to some pains to explain the source of his belief that Jefferson Davis was the second of his family to be born in this country, instead of the first, as has been asserted by some biographers. He has made a careful study of some of the records and letters written by or relating to the man who was president of the Southern Confederacy, and one gains the impression that it was while pursuing this research that he became interested in the college president whose name appears in the title of the book. Dr. Whitsitt finds that in the earlier days of our history there was no distinction made between the names "Davis" and "Davies," and he quotes some documents in which the same people are referred to by both forms of spelling. He explains in his preface that his research into the genealogy of Jefferson Davis has but just begun, and that this publication is in fact but in the nature of a report of progress in the work.

This is the first volume of an up-to-the-minute series of sea stories, pertaining to the new navy. The modern warship takes a prominent part in these invigorating stories, and interest never flags for an instant. They are right down to date, and it is a safe prediction that the boys will like them. This series is by the same author as the "Boy Aviators," which has attained great popularity. The books are fully illustrated.

Of Books and Writers.

"The West in the East From an American Point of View," by Price Collier, author of "England and the English From an American Point of View;" "A Defense of Prejudice and Other Essays," by John Grier Hibben, Ph. D., LL. D.; George Bird Grinnell's account of the early American explorers and their exploration, "Trials of the Pathfinders;" Maurice Hewlett's picaresque and picturesque narrative, "Brazenhead the Great"—these are among the important publications of the month of April. The Scribner list also includes a new novel by Sir "Q" called "Brother Copas," and such notable theological publications as Prof. Charles Foster Kent's "Biblical Geography and History," and Dr. James Moffatt's "Introduction to the New Testament."

Dr. Henry Smith Williams, the author of the recently published book, "The Science of Happiness," stands six feet, five inches in his stocking feet, weighs 225 pounds, and has a muscular development of corresponding proportion. He is quite the man from whom one would take advice readily. Brought up as the son of a physician whose views on the use of alcohol are reflected in his own writings, the author was naturally not brought into contact with alcoholic beverages. The Harpers are bringing out a new edition of his larger work, "The History of Science."

Among the books which the Macmillan company has in preparation to be issued within a few months is "The Presidential Campaign of 1860," by Emerson David Fite, author of "Social and Industrial Conditions in the North During the Civil War." This work is a description of the most exciting presidential campaign in American history, worked out from the standpoint of the people as well as from that of convention platforms and leaders; it represents an attempt both to picture everyday events as these were observed and discussed by the people, and to weigh the influence of these pictures on the political situation.

In the London letter of the Boston Globe last week the statement was made that American publishers have been so eager to secure the American rights of "The Autobiography of Richard Wagner" that one of them remarked that he would willingly lose $5,000 for the sake of publishing it. A publishing house which is not particularly anxious to lose $5,000 has nevertheless secured the American rights of this great work. Dodd, Mead & Co., of New York are the fortunate publishers.

"The Mansion of Mystery" by Chester K. Steele, and "Jess of Harbor Hill," by Ramie A. Sheridan have both gone into a second edition. These books were published to sell at 90 cents net instead of the usual price of $1.50, in order to meet the demand for first class stories, at a popular price. The big sales these books have already had has proved that the publishers, Cupples & Leon company of New York correctly estimated the ready market for low-priced, high-class fiction.

Many a reader has been cudgelling his brain as to the identity of "Norman Angell," whose powerful exposition of the fallacy that war can ever be economically profitable, even to the conquering nation, has been like oil on troubled waters to the restless jingoism that is endeavoring to shake the international equilibrium. Some time ago Dr. David Starr Jordan, president of Leland Stanford university, in the course of a lecture on "International Arbitration," disclosed the fact that the author of "The Great Illusion" (Putnam) is no other than Ralph Lane, the head of the Paris Daily Mail.

A great many novel readers will be glad of the chance which they are to have this spring of renewing their acquaintance with the charming "Miss Esperance and Mr. Wycherly" and all the others who peopled the book of that name written a year or so ago by L. Allen Harker. "Mr. Wycherly's Wards," which will be published by Charles Scribner's Sons in May, introduces the same characters that made "Miss Esperance and Mr. Wycherly" so popular and carries the story further.

Miss Maude Adams' recent order for a complete set of "Poet Lore Plays," closely following a similar order from David Belasco, shows the interest actors and producers are taking in this remarkable series of plays. The plan is to reproduce the most notable work of contemporary foreign dramatists in unabridged translations and the series already includes over fifty plays. "The Creditor" by Strindberg and "A Man of The World," by Marie Von Ebner-Eschenbach, which Badger announces for immediate publication, are the latest additions to the list.

That "the boy is father of the man" is trite but none the less true, and the training of today's boys is a vital matter for the nation of tomorrow. In "The Future Citizen," which Sherman, French & Company are just about to issue, the author, F. W. Myers, deals with the subject of children from many points of view—their significance to the individual family, the home, the nation, and the world; the moral, politic, and social influence of good or bad training and surroundings; the real importance of heredity. Mr. Myers is an educator of wide experience in dealing with young people and his present work is a valuable aid to all who are responsible for the upbringing of children.

Emerson Hough, author of "The Purchase Price," "54—40 or Fight," etc., writes his stories in a Chicago office, on the top floor of a skyscraper. Perhaps that explains why there is so much "atmosphere" in his romances.

The public will welcome the announcement that Doubleday, Page & Company have issued a complete guide to Rudyard Kipling's volumes, which now number over twenty-five, and contain, in addition to the novels, several hundred short stories and poems. This attractive little booklet, is known as "The Kipling Index." The Index comes within fifty pages and is designed to be a thoroughly practical guide for the average reader. With its help a person knowing a short story or poem may easily find the volume in which it is contained, or, knowing the volume, he may readily discover its contents. The titles are indexed under every important word, a feature which will no doubt redeem the shortcomings of many bad memories.

After an adventurous career, much of it spent in South American revolutionary enterprises, Capt. George Boynton—whose true adventures, chronicled by Horace Smith, are about to be published by A. C. McClurg & Co., under the title "The War Maker"—has predicted an American empire flying the Stars and Stripes. He thinks that the logical working out of the Monroe doctrine is that America must guarantee the financial stability and general good behavior of the small powers which she now protects against European aggression by virtue of that doctrine.

One of the most important scientific books recently published in France is "Les Theories d'Evolution" by Yves Delage, professor of the Sorbonne and member of the Institute, and M. Goldsmith, editor of l'Annee Biologique. The translation will be by Andre Tridon and will be published by B. W. Huebsch, New York, in the fall.

A book is announced by the Baker & Taylor company, under the remarkable title "Autobiography of William Shakespeare." The book is the work of L. C. Alexander, an English scholar, and the question remains open whether it should be regarded as fact or fiction.

A second posthumous volume of O. Henry's stories is announced by Doubleday, Page & Co., for publication in the fall. The title will be "Sixes and Sevens." Although the volume "Whirligigs" is the last of which the late short story master had the personal selection, it is interesting to know that the title "Sixes and Sevens" was chosen by Mr. Porter. This forthcoming collection will comprise the final volume of his stories, but will be followed somewhat later by the publication, also by Doubleday, Page & Co., of a volume of O. Henry material; including letters, documents, essays and other papers, as well as a sketch of his life.

Harper & Bros. announce that they have just published four new books: "Memories and Impressions," by Ford Madox Hueffer; "The King Over the Water," a novel by Justin Huntly McCarthy; "Natural Christianity," by Dean Fremantle of Ripon; "The Birth of Worlds and Systems," by Prof. A. W. Bickerton. The same firm is adding "The Well Beloved" to the new thin-paper edition of Thomas Hardy's novels.

Among the Magazines.

Scribner's Magazine for May contains a striking contribution from the English writer, John Galsworthy, who as novelist and playwright has taken his place in the front rank of contemporary writers. "The Little Dream" is a play of rare literary beauty; the scene is in the Swiss mountains, the characters are a mountain climber, a mountain girl and a guide. There is also a vision in which the mountains and flowers appear. Ex-Mayor George B. McClellan of New York, who was for eight years a member of congress, contributes a clear and very fair article on "Leadership in the House of Representatives." Although of the opposite party, he gives the highest tribute to Speaker Reed, "one of the ablest parliamentarians who has ever occupied the chair and one of the greatest men our country has produced." He also believes that Speaker Cannon "will leave behind him the record of an honest and a brave man." Price Collier journeyed for many months in the heart of India and was the guest of its native rulers. In "His Highness The Maharaja" he says that these native rulers range from progressive men with an English education to conservatives of the type of several hundred years ago. The charm and fascination of the scenery and the people are fully expressed in these remarkable articles.

The fiction in the May Woman's Home Companion includes the first part of the serial story by Zona Gale entitled "When Dreams Begin," delightfully illustrated by Alice Barber Stephens. The principal theme of the story is the struggle for adaptation between two young people, a situation which has its parallel in the experience of most newly-married husbands and wives. Marie Corell has contributed a delightful love story to the May Woman's Home Companion—humorous, ingenious and thoroughly readable. Among other fiction features are "The Circus Lady," by Hulbert Footner, an exciting tale; "The Indifference of Molly," a lively love story by Mary Hastings; another part of "The Flight of the Magic Carpet," a story of love and adventure by C. N. and A. M. Williamson; stories by Mary Heaton Vorse and Annie Hamilton Donnell.

The leading feature in McClure's Magazine for May is an article by Josephine Tozier on Maria Montessori, "A Wonder-Worker in Education." This is the first time that the wonderful educational discoveries of Madame Montessori have been described in the English language. By this new system that is here explained children of 4 learn to write in six weeks without effort or strain. "The City Bank: the Federation of the 'Great Merchants,'" another of the "Masters of Capital" series, by John Moody and George Kibbe Turner, deals with the growth of Wall street, and in particular with the rise of the City bank. "The Girlhood of Harriet Beecher Stowe," by her son and her grandson, Charles Edward and Lyman Beecher Stowe, gives a most remarkable picture of life in the family of a New England clergyman nearly 100 years ago. Another installment of "Great Cases of Detective Burns" in this number of McClure's tells the story of Charley Ulrich, one of the greatest counterfeiters the world has ever known.

The Ten Story Book for May is illustrated throughout by Rodney Thomson. "The Affair at the Inn," a stirring sketch of a father's love, is featured, and there is a very funny snake story. All the tales are bright, brief and clean. For instance, the way "the wealthy Mr. S. Sylvester Sprague" got into the spotlight and stayed there to gloat, will stir the good nature of almost any reader.

In every city thoughtful citizens regret the mistakes of the past. But what of a metropolis swept clean by fire to be built anew? Surely the result should be a municipality free from the graver mistakes of our grandfathers. But San Francisco's reply, writes Alice S. Griffith in the April Survey, is a city of tenements and not of gardens. Another article in this number which deals with living conditions is "The Bituminous Coal Miner and Coke Worker of Western Pennsylvania," by W. Jett Lauck, who made a special study of the subject for the immigration commission. W. J. Ghent, author of "Our Benevolent Feudalism," makes a discriminating appraisal of the influence upon public thinking of the Appeal to Reason which has brought Socialism to the minds and hearts of so many. Mary E. Richmond tells how the Russell Sage Foundation is trying to stop the prevalent custom of "passing" the beggar on to the next town instead of either buying for him a ticket straight through to his actual home or none at all. "Weeds and Diseases" by Robert Hessler shows the relation of the former to the latter and that the cries of race suicide and back to nature have a good foundation.

The April issue of Success Magazine contains a significant article entitled "The Oregon Idea," describing Oregon's experience in putting the government in the hands of the people. In "Missionaries to the Soil," Forest Crissey describes Uncle Sam's method of preaching the gospel of better crops to the farmers of the South. Inis H. Weed, in an article entitled "Daughters of the New South," tells the story of the work done by a group of women toward social betterment in the South. Mary Heaton Vorse, in "A Plea for Pure Fabrics," points out the need of legislation to protect us against the adulteration of cloths.

The issue of The Engineering Magazine for April is a special "Scientific Management Number." It marks the twentieth anniversary of the magazine, and is itself marked by the adoption of a larger page and a handsomer typography. The contributions are all characterized by the recognition of scientific management or of the broader philosophy of efficiency to which scientific management is a contributing influence. Harrington Emerson outlines the gospel of efficiency, enunciating briefly its twelve principles, with a brief illuminating and inspiring paragraph explanatory of each, and a more complete discussion of the ninth principle, "Standardized Conditions." H. L. Gantt describes "A Practical Application of Scientific Management," with many illustrations and colored charts. Charles Day applies scientific principles to the work of the consulting engineer, and H. K. Hathaway, Mr. F. W. Taylor's closest professional associate, defines the "Pre-Requisites to the Introduction of Scientific Management." The four great apostles of the new movement are thus each represented.

Among the important features of the April number of the American Review of Reviews are two articles apropos of the fiftieth anniversary of the attempt to form a Southern Confederacy and the resultant Civil war. One of these articles, by the Rev. Randolph H. McKim, rector of the Church of the Epiphany, Washington, D. C., gives "Some Glimpses of the Confederate Army," illustrated with photographs of camp and garrison scenes taken during the war and never before published. In the accompanying article, Admiral French E. Chadwick, U. S. N., explains the part played by the federal navy in bringing about the fall of the Confederacy. MOST ALL WESTERN STATES HIS HOME

HAMLIN GARLAND

Hamlin Garland has lived in nearly every Western state. Recently he has spent much time with the for the forest rangers in Wyoming and Colorado, and this intimate knowledge has gone into the atmosphere of his latest novel, "Cavanagh, Forest Ranger." Mr. Garland has been citicised sometimes for portarying the passing of the picturesque and lawless West and the reign of order which has come in its stead. His latest book is "Other Main-Traveled Roads." It is a companion volume of short stories to "Main-Traveled Roads," which gave Mr. Garland his first reputation.

DELEGATION TO HELENA

Duluth Will Be Well Represented at Northwest Development Congress.

Minnesota Special, Leaving St. Paul April 30, to Include Duluth Car.

Duluth will be well represented at the development congress of the northern tier of states, called by Governor Norris and the commercial bodies of Montana to meet May 4 and 5 at Helena, Mont. At a meeting of the committee of jobbers, manufacturers and representatives of commercial bodies at the Duluth Commercial club this morning arrangements were made to gather a Duluth delegation to be taken to Helena in a special car.

The belief that the tide of immigration which has set to the Southwest can be turned to the Northwest by intelligent development and exploitation of its resources, led to the call for the meeting. The call has met with immediate response from the other states, and the gathering will be representative of all the states interested in the movement.

Arrangements have been made in St. Paul and Minneapolis for a special train to carry the Minnesota delegation. The Duluth car will be taken by one of the regular trains to either St. Paul or Grand Forks and attached to the Minnesota special. A rate of one fare for the round trip has been made by the railroads.

Governor Eberhart has named as one of the ten representatives of the state C. P. Craig of Duluth. The Duluth party will include delegates from the board of trade, Builders' exchange, real estate exchange, produce exchange and the Commercial club, and representatives of the following wholesale houses and industries: Kelley-How-Thomson company, F. A. Patrick & Co., Stone-Ordean-Wells company, Marshall-Wells Hardware company, Northern Shoe company, Gowan-Peyton-Congdon company, Wright-Clarkson Mercantile company, Schulze Bros., Clyde Iron works, National Iron company, Burgess Electric company, Union Match company and American Carbolite works.

It is expected that others will be added to the list before the delgation leaves. The Minnesota special will pull out of St. Paul next Sunday evening, April 30, and the Duluth party will leave here that day.

TEN YEARS IN PRISON.

Italian Sentenced for Violating Traffic in Women Act.

Chicago, April 22.—Aldudino Mazzone, an Italian vaudeville performer, was sentenced to ten years' imprisonment in the Fort Leavenworth federal prison today by Judge K. M. Landis after being found guilty of violating the Mann act prohobiting traffic of women. His alleged victim was Dorothy Schmidt, a 15-year-old girl, whom he is charged with taking to Muscatine, Iowa, and deserting.

RICH MEN WORK WAY TO FRISCO

Had Wads of Money and Wanted to Pay Their Fare.

Ship Had Limit and Men Were Sent to Work as Crew.

San Francisco, April 22.—Two of the most unusual stowaways that ever came through the Golden Gate were on board the Matson liner Honolulu, which has arrived from the Sandwich Islands.

They were down on the ship's books as F. L. Wilson, cook's assistant, and J. C. H. Lubkens, ship's barber.

Wilson is a resident of Danbury, Conn., and has financial interests big enough to call for a Bradstreet rating as very wealthy.

The story is this: Several hours out of Honolulu the pair were identified as stowaways.

They held up wads of money and begged to be allowed to pay their passage like gentlemen to San Francisco. Capt. Bennett explained that this could not be done. "We are carrying all the passengers that the law allows," he said.

Wilson suggested that they be signed on the ship's articles.

"All right," said the captain, "but you will have to work."

"Put me in the kitchen," said Wilson. "I cooked a few meals one winter hunting moose in Maine."

Lubkens said he was a first-class barber with a safety razor.

Accordingly they were put to work. After a few trials on the passengers the barber didn't have much work to do and found his job a sinecure.

As a kitchen hand Wilson did little better. The cook complained to the steward at the end of the first day that if the new assistant was not taken out of the pantry the entire supply of dishes would meet with disaster.

gess of Duluth about the Lorimer election?"

"I don't know why I should go out of my way to talk to any paper in Chicago that prints such filthy rot that is being handed out now."

During Mr. Wiehe's conversation he made frequent pauses and a sound as of gasping for breath or sobbing came over the wire. When he had delivered the last remark he hung up the receiver and refused to answer further calls.

Frantic Outbursts Greeting.

Later in the morning Mr. Wiehe, at his home and at the office of the Hines Lumber company, met every effort to discuss the testimony of Burgess with frantic outbursts.

Repeated calls for Mr. Wiehe at the front door of his boulevard home yielded at first only an admission from his domestics that he was at his residence. Finally, however, he answered one of the calls at the door.

"Have you anything to say—" began a reporter.

Unprintable language answered the question and then Mr. Wiehe began to tell of the things he intended to do.

Makes Threats of Killing.

"Get away from here before I kill you," he shouted. "I don't know why you newspaper fellows are allowed to live. You are not fit to live upon this earth. If I had my way you would all be shot down. Yes, every one of you. The editors are worse than you fellows."

The door slammed and Wiehe disappeared.

Frequent efforts to obtain a more definite statement were met in the same way.

Finally Mr. Wiehe left his home by the rear door and went to the offices of the Hines Lumber company. Here he seemed to cool down somewhat, but efforts to get him to discuss the testimoney of Burgess continued to be futile. He met every question with tirades against the newspapers and finally left his office, declaring that he was endeavoring to find a place where he would not be questioned further.

Senator Lorimer Comes.

Senator Lorimer arrived in Chicago yesterday from Washington and went at once to the La Salle Street National bank. He denied that he had come to Chicago because of the revelations in Springfield and said that he knew nothing of what Burgess had testified, as he seldom read any of these stories. Senator Lorimer announced that he had no intention of going to Springfield at the present time, as he came here to attend to details of his banking business.

He declined to answer a question as to whether he would resign his seat in the senate.

MAY CANCEL SALOON LICENSE

Council Will Report on Lake Avenue Case Monday Night.

The police and license committee of the council will likely make a report Monday night on the recommendation of the mayor that the saloon license of Dunlop & Thatcher at 228 Lake avenue south be revoked on the ground that the place was run in connection with a house of ill-fame.

Nothing was done by the committee last week because of the absence of Alderman Wharton from the city. He has returned and has made an investigation of the matter.

The proposal to narrow Fifty-ninth avenue west, so that the Canadian Northern can cross it with a clear span is scheduled under unfinished business, but it is doubtful if it will be finally settled Monday night. The proposed lodging house ordinance will not be introduced until the ordinance committee has had a conference with the mayor and the city attorney.

NEW STREET COMMISSIONERS

Board of Public Works Makes Appointments for Coming Year.

The board of public works yesterday appointed the following men as street commissioners for the coming season; First district, W. H. Morgan; Second district, Paul Schubitzke, succeeding R. E. Simpson; Third district, A. Anderson; Fourth district, Edward Rudberg, succeeding Charles Spence; Fifth district, Patrick McGraw, succeeding Joe Becks.

Nels Nelson was appointed sewer commissioner; Dave McNutt was named as foreman of street cleaning; Frank Heidman was made street inspector; and Peter Heidman was chosen as inspector of fountains and watering troughs.

D. H. Clough was low on both bids for the paving of Third alley east between Twenty-first and Twenty-second avenues. On the concrete pavement with the curb his price was $1,036.45 and without the curb, $709.65. He was also low on the bid for improving the same alley between Twentieth and Twenty-first avenues east. He offered to pave it with concrete for $1,256.90 and with tarcon for $1,280.90. The board will hold a hearing Monday morning at which the property owners can appear to state which of the above contracts they would prefer.

PIERCE RESIGNS.

Assistant Secretary of Interior to Return to Law.

Washington, April 22.—Frank Pierce, assistant secretary of the interior, today tendered his resignation and it was accepted by President Taft.

Mr. Pierce first tendeded his resignation Dec. 1, to take effect this spring. Today he renewed his request to be "relieved in the near future." He will return to the practice of law.

Carmi A. Thompson of Ohio, second assistant secretary of the interior, probably will succeed Mr. Pierce.

MEN OLD AT SIXTY SHOULD BE YOUNG

The Secret of Life Is the Proper Elimination of Waste and the Building of Vigorous Nerves.

Dr. Duckworth, who is chief of staff of the United Doctors, who have one of their famous medical institutes at Duluth on the third floor of the Columbia building, gives out a very interesting theory in regard to the cause of the physical decline of old age. The doctor is of the opinion that most men lost their faculties and vigor much sooner than is necessary. He predicts that future generations will be much longer lived on account of a more general knowledge of medicine among physicians of the future.

The United Doctors system of treatment is based upon the proposition that there are three causes for the decline of the faculties and shrinking and shriveling of the various organs in old age.

First—The stomach, liver and bowels become clogged by over eating or eating improper foods. The result of the clogging is an improper elimination of waste products.

Second—The kidneys become weakened from over indulgence and excesses causing poor elimination of urates, phosphates, etc., and the formation of poisonous acids. The result of poor elimination by the bowels and kidneys is the storing up of a host of waste products in the system. The blood is clogged with waste which settles in the tissues, muscles and bones. The bones become hard, brittle and weak. The waste settles in muscles weakening and shriveling them and causing a multitude of aches and pains and a general clogging and stiffening in the whole body.

The third cause of premature old age is the weakening of the nerves due to excesses in living and worry and excitement of our life.

The usual treatment for the various aches and weaknesses of old age is physics and tonics. The physics weaken the bowels and kidneys still more and the tonics give a false strength which is simply a borrowing from the future which must be paid back with interest.

The rational and scientific treatment is a general cleansing and purifying of the whole system, including the blood, bowels, liver and kidneys. This cleansing is not done with physics or so-called blood purifiers, but must be done with special medicines suitable to the particular case at hand. Then after the system has been thoroughly cleansed, the various eliminating organs must be built up by suitable medication so that they will properly eliminate all the waste in future.

Then the nerves must be fed—not with nerve tonic or stimulants, but with nerve builders, nerve foods. The nerves control every organ in the body and if the nerves are weak the whole system is weak.

Thus the secret of health in old age is to cleanse the system and keep it clean. To build up the nerves and keep up the nerve tension and vitality.

"Give us an old man of sixty or seventy, who has no organic lesion, but who is simply broken down from excesses and wrong living, and by our modern system of treating the cause of the ailment we will clean him up and build him up so that he will have the elasticity, strength and manly vigor of an ordinary man of forty. Building up the nerves puts energy in the muscles, vim and vitality; makes the memory return and thoughts flow through the brain as old old."

One man of 76 whom we treated but three months said: "I wouldn't take $5,000 for what you have done for me."

Another man of 64 said:

"Doctor, you have turned back the hands of time for me. I feel as well as I did 25 years ago. In enjoy life. I enjoy work. I enjoy my home again."

ON THE IRON RANGES

ALICE VILLAGE WINS ITS CASE

Effort to Set Aside Incorporation Fails in State Supreme Court.

Hibbing, Minn., April 22.—(Special to The Herald.)—There is great rejoicing in Alice, the newly incorporated village near here, over the news from St. Paul that the supreme court yesterday upheld the incorporation of the village by dismissing the quo warranto proceedings begun by the Bangor Mining company to set aside the incorporation. The decision was per curiam, by the whole court, showing there was a unanimity of opinion in favor of the contention of the respondents, the village.

Decision Is Brief, to Point.

A copy of the decision received here today follows: Quo warranto—State of Minnesota, ex rel. George T. Simpson, attorney general, plaintiff, vs. village of Alice, et al., respondents.

Held, following a former decision on a demurrer to respondents' answer, that the facts disclosed by the record do not justify the conclusion, as a matter of law, that the village of Alice was improperly incorporated.

Writ discharged.—Per Curiam.

GREAT NORTHERN TO MAKE CHANGES

Superintendent Philbin Assures Hibbing Betterments Will Be Made.

Hibbing, Minn., April 22.—(Special to The Herald.)—Chairman Robert Stratton of the railroad committee of the Commercial club, has received the following letter from Supt. Philbin of the Great Northern road, assuring the Commercial club that the various local betterments the company has promised Hibbing will be carried out:

"Dear Sir—Referring to your letter of March 30, I am now in a position to inform you that we intend holding our depot and freight house in the present location for some time to come, with repairs and enlargements recently planned. Yours very truly, D. M. Philbin, general superintendent."

In this connection it is stated upon good authority, that notwithstanding the building of the new line south of town by the Missabe, the Missabe depot will not be moved from its present location for some time, possibly not for a year, and the present tracks will also be used for some months to come.

DRIVE FOREMAN MURPHY KILLED

Deer River, Minn., April 22.—(Special to The Herald.)—Vince Murphy, foreman of the Namakon drive was murdered at Wirt, eighteen miles northwest of here Wednesday night, by parties unknown. The deceased was a married man, having a wife in Minneapolis. He was shot through the right side, the body not being discovered until Friday morning, in the bushes between the depot and the river. Murphy was 35 years of age and was an old employe of the company. He was a man of steady habits and no cause is known for the murder. County Attorney A. McQuat, Sheriff Riley and Coroner Dr. T. Russell left this morning on a special train over the M. & R. for the scene of the crime. A number of arrests are expected.

HIBBING PUPILS ENTERTAIN.

Sixth Grade Give Commendable Performance in High Auditorium.

Hibbing, Minn., April 22.—(Special to The Herald.)—The entertainment given last night in the high school auditorium by the sixth grade was a great success and showed considerable skill on the part of those taking part in the proceedings. The program follows:

DELEGATES ALL LIKED HIBBING

Manner in Which Visitors at Conference Were Entertained Elicits Compliments.

Hibbing, Minn. April 22.—(Special to The Herald.)—One of the effects of the Methodist conference which closed here Thursday night was to widely advertise Hibbing among many who have only heard of the place as a mining center. All of the delegates spoke in the highest terms of the welcome they receivd, and it is understood that there will be a very strong effort made to hold the following annual conference in Hibbing as a direct result of the splendid success of the meetings just closed. The delegates said without hesitation that they had never been entertained better, and many said that this is the best conference in every way that they ever were present at in this district.

Rev. Mr. Pickard, the local M. E. pastor, said he felt greatly encouraged by the results gained, and felt that there was a very strong possibility of the next conference coming here.

In his address at the close of the conference Mr. Pickard spoke of the fine stamp of men in this city, saying, "In my opinion some of our Hibbing men are the finest that can be found anywhere."

He spoke of the hardy, rugged nature of the mining community, and its fearless, hard-working characteristics, winding up with the remark that although some of the conditions existent on the iron ranges might not be all that could be desired, still the good very far outreached the undesirable, and that we have a community to be proud of.

EVELETH SENIORS PLANT YOUNG TREE

Eveleth, Minn., April 22.—(Special to The Herald.)—Arbor day was fittingly observed yesterday afternoon by the seniors of the high school, assisted by the three lower classes. President Anna Sholund of the senior class presided, while Curtis Bent, the class secretary, assisted.

The program was given in the auditorium. Music was rendered by the high school orchestra. The governor's Arbor day proclamation was read by Class President Anna Sholund and State Superintendent of Schools Schulze's letter to the school was read by Secretary Curtis Bent. Leslie J. Tobin rendered a beautiful violin solo with Miss Tobin as accompanist. Maurice Levant gave a paper on forestry.

Rev. B. D. Hanscom of the M. E. church spoke of the importance of nature in every-day life. He gave a very entertaining picture of bird life and forestry in Maine.

Principal Arthur M. Cannon also spoke of the observance of the day. The classes then grouped about the campus while each member of the graduating class emptied a shovelful of dirt into the hole where the tree was planted. Prior to planting the tree, a bottle, containing the program and signed names of the graduates, and also the names of the faculty members, was buried in the hole, tobether with two small trees found in the woods by Secretary Curtis Bent and Ralph Wilk, members of the class. After the hole was filled each member of the class gave an appropriate quotation. This was followed by the class yell:

Ramble! Bramble! Cutter clear.
Look! The senior class is here.
We are one and two times seven—
The senior class of 1911.

AURORA PUPILS SAVING.

Thrift System Just Adopted Is Working Very Well.

Aurora, Minn., April 22.—(Special to The Herald.)—An innovation which is attracting considerable attention was recently introduced in the Aurora schools. A system of savings banks is being developed. The system has been in operation only a short time but already over $5.00 has been deposited. The scholars are taking an active interest, and in addition to learning the principles of banking are learning the habit of saving. The Aurora teachers are ever alert and during the year introduce many innovations which are quickly adopted by other schools.

HIBBING MINES SHIPPING.

Missabe and Great Northern Are Sending Down Ore.

Hibbing, Minn., April 22.—(Special to The Herald.)—Movement of ore is beginning to get under way both over the Missabe and the Great Northern. The Great Northern so far has the early start and the trains per day going out. The roads are sending down four and three trains a day respectively at the present time, all the ore coming from the underground.

Hemlock Notes.

Hemlock, Minn., April 22.—(Special to The Herald.)—Messrs. Paulson and Dahl have been at Duluth settling up about their tie business for last winter. During their absence Ole Hanson has been taking care of their horses.

Charles Engstrom has made a contract with Ole Hanson, Alfred Steen and Oskar Hanson to clear and put under cultivation ten acres of land during the coming summer.

Mrs. John Linden and daughter have been in Duluth this week.

The section house here is advancing rapidly, five carpenters working there.

EVELETH MINES ALSO SHIPPING

Eveleth, Minn., April 22.—(Special to The Herald.)—Local mines have commenced shipping operations. Ore is being shipped from the pockets of the shafts of the Adams, Fayal and Spruce mines. The ore is being emptied direct from the mine cars into the railroad cars and are being shipped to the docks.

The Leonidas mine will make its first shipments this summer.

JUVENILE BOOKS FOR THE SUMMER

Two Harbors Library Board Asks School for Use of Books for Youth.

Two Harbors, Minn., April 22.—(Special to The Herald.—A committee of the library board, composed of Dr. Budd, Mr. Owens, Mr. Daniels and Miss Borresen, waited upon the school board at its last meeting to request the loan of the children's books in the school library for the summer vacation.

The number of books in the children's department of the public library though larger than that in the school library, is small in proportion to the demand, and though new additions are being made as far as library funds will allow, the demand also constantly increases.

During vacation many children, who do not have the time during the school year for outside reading, come to the library. Miss Borresen would like to have regular lists of books for vacation reading made out and prizes offered to the boy or girl who reads the best list during the summer and writes the best description of the book he or she liked best. In order to do this there are not enough juvenile books in the library. It was thought that if the children's books of the school library could be borrowed during vacation, the plan might be carried out.

When the matter was presented to the school board it was found that the school librarian would remain throughout the month of June, and possibly longer, and that arrangements had been made to keep the library open one day a week during the rest of vacation. Even then they would not have the same opportunity to sit and read, and so the committee felt that they ought to persist in their original request. The school board realized the justice of these arguments, but wished time for further deliberation. It is to be hoped that the Two Harbors school board will follow the example of the school boards of Rochester, Morris and several other towns in the state in granting this reasonable request of the library board.

EVELETH ELKS PLAN CIRCUS OR CARNIVAL.

Eveleth, Minn., April 22.—(Special to The Herald.)—An indoor circus or a street carnival will soon be given by the Elks. A committee has been appointed to arrange for the affair. The burning of the Othello theater has left the Elks without a suitable place to give the circus, and many members favor holding a carnival on the streets.

TWO HARBORS CHURCHES MAKE ANNOUNCEMENTS.

Two Harbors, Minn., April 22.—(Special to The Herald.)—At the Presbyterian church tomorrow there will be the annual congregational meeting in the evening. Sunday morning, the pastor, John F. McLeod, will have for his subject "A Great Reception." The evening subject will be "Weighed and Wanting." Sunday school at the usual hour and young people's meeting at 6:45 p. m., subject: "Sabbath Benefits," George McLeod, leader.

Rev. T. Stanley Oadams, pastor of the First Methodist church will preach to the members of the Two Harbors lodge No. 155, I. O. O. F., in commemoration of their ninety-second anniversary next Sunday morning. The Thomas McClary lecture will be given under the auspices of the men's parliament, May 2, the subject being "The Man With The Hoe." Dr. McClary lectured last winter on the "Mission of Mirth," and was very well liked. This is a return engagement.

DELEGATES TO M. E. DISTRICT CONFERENCE AT HIBBING

MUST HOLD COURT IN OLD QUARTERS

Virginia, Minn., April 22.—(Special to The Herald.)—The April term of the district court will convene here next Tuesday, Judge Martin Hughes presiding. There are ninety-three cases on jury cases, forty-six of which are continued from last term; twelve court cases, eleven of which are continued; eight divorce cases, four of which are continued. There are in all sixty-one cases continued and thirty-two new cases.

It was expected that the coming term would be opened in the new courthouse but owing to the non-arrival of furniture the term will open at the city hall where court has been held heretofore. It was expected that the judges would be here but it has been learned by Clerk U. G. Halloway that Judges Cant and Ensign have heavy work before them in Duluth and that Judge Dibell has sixty cases ahead of him at Carlton. The newly appointed judge, Herbert A. Dancer, on account of partnership hindrances, will not be able to accept his appointment and qualify before May 1. Probably some time after the opening of the term the court will be transferred to the new courthouse and as soon as one of the other judges can come to Virginia both courtrooms will be used.

The grand jury will convene here at the opening of court and it is expected that about thirty cases will come in for its consideration.

Grand and Petit Jurors.

Virginia, Minn., April 22.—(Special to The Herald.)—A large party of Virginians will leave tomorrow night over the Canadian Northern for a visit to the agricultural lands in the Saskatchewan valley in Canada, their objective point being Humboldt. The party will be headed by D. T. Murphy, formerly superintendent of the Duluth, Rainy Lake & Winnipeg railroad, and they expect to be absent about ten days or two weeks. The Saskatchewan lands are attracting many settlers and investors and this party goes there for the purpose of taking up lands in that section of the country. They have chartered a combination sleeper and diner and will live in the car during the entire trip. Land is selling in that valley on an average of $16 per acre and is said to be one of the richest agricultural sections in Canada. Following is a list of those who will comprise the party:

Stanley Fitzgerald, Seth Lyden, J. H. Lepage, Otto Manner, Martin Moe, J. Karl, John Sunhlid, Paul Sevenich, Nels Anderson, W. J. Kell, F. J. Hughes, Joe Zind, E. Perry, S. J. Jones, Ole Johnson, D. T. Murphy, C. Christopherson, S. Beaurivage, D. N. McKenzie, I. Matson, J. Hickey, S. Maki, M. Peterson, J. Koppenen, Harry King, C. Johnson, F. A. Carlson, J. P. Olson, Ben Hoyer, Joe Lepage, William Owens, A. D. Bayne, J. M. Barrett, John Phillipps, W. Dawson, W. L. Smith, J. Anderson.

War on Eveleth Dogs.

Eveleth, Minn., April 22.—(Special to The Herald.)—A war is being waged on the dogs of this city by Chief of Police John Farley and all dogs will have to have tags by May 1 or be killed.

PROCTOR LODGE WILL CELEBRATE

Odd Fellows' Anniversary to Be Properly Observed in the Suburb.

Proctor, Minn., April 22.—(Special to The Herald.)—The ninety-third anniversary of the organization of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows will be celebrated Sunday afternoon at the Y. M. C. A. with a service under the direction of Rev. C. W. Ramshaw. Proctor lodge, No. 93, I. O. O. F., will attend in a body. An interesting program has been arranged for the afternoon. Rev. Mr. Ramshaw will deliver the sermon and will take for his subject, "The Mystic Links." The M. E. church choir will sing and there will be several solos by members of the choir.

The entertainment given by the St. Rose's Catholic church at the Savoy theater Tuesday evening was attended by a large crowd which thoroughly enjoyed the evening's entertainment. The Proctor orchestra furnished music during the evening. A solo by William Rossiter was well received. The proprietors of the Savoy theater donated the act of vaudeville which was given. The headliner of the program was the drama entitled "Among the Breakers," given by the sodality of St. Clement's church of Duluth. The play was in two acts. Miss Mary Chessgren took the leading part and showed her unusual dramatic ability. She is an elocutionist of some note and Proctor people never miss an opportunity of hearing her. The other parts were capably filled by several well-known West end young people.

J. H. Shunk will start the erection of a residence within the next few days. The building will contain eight rooms and a basement and will be located just east of John Hamerston's new residence. Barnum & Moe have the contract.

Comply with the village ordinance and have your house numbered. You can find out the number of your house by inquiring at the Journal office and also secure alumnium numbers at 5 cents each.

Rev. C. W. Ramshaw will speak at the M. E. church next Sunday morning at the usual hour. In the evening, Rex. C. R. Oaten of the Lester Park M. E. church, will occupy the pulpit.

Mrs. Fred Hanson is expected home Sunday after an extended visit with her parents at Whitewater, Wis.

Mrs. Charles Koons left today for Bergland, Mich., where she will visit a few days with her sister.

The Ladies' Aid Society of the M. E. church will be entertained by Mrs. W. C. Spornitz on Thursday, April 27.

The ladies auxiliary to the B. of R. T. will give a card party and social at the hall on Wednesday evening, April 26. Progressive cinch will be played, refreshments will be served and a social time will follow.

MINER GIVEN $7,800 VERDICT

Kalle Koivala was given a verdict of $7,800 against the Adriatic Mining company by a jury in district court yesterday forenoon.

Koivala sued for $20,000 for injuries alleged to have been sustained while working at the Adriatic mine. He charged negligence on the part of the company in that he was not provided a safe place in which to work.

LOWER PRICES FOR IRON ORE

Cleveland, Ohio, April 22.—Prices of Lake Superior iron ore for this year's delivery have been fixed at a reduction of 50 cents per ton, compared with last year's price. The Iron Trade Review today says that action was precipitated by the action of a Pittsburg concern in selling 550,000 tons at a 50-cent reduction.

NEW PLANTS FOR RED LAKE FALLS

Red Lake Falls, Minn., April 22.—(Special to The Herald.)—Red Lake Falls is to have a new seventy-five-barrel flour mill, a seventy-five-barrel fed mill and a sawmill all in one. The sawmill is to have a capacity of from fifteen to twenty thousand feet of lumber a day.

Leo Steinert is the enterprising citizen who is to do all of this. Mr. Steinert has a valuable water power on the Clearwater river and he has decided to construct a concrete dam and operate the combination mill with water power.

Mr. Steinert has purchased the sawmill outfit of the S. P. K. Lumber company at Plummer and is now getting the machinery on the ground. He has purchased a 25-horse power electric motor to operate the sawmill machinery and next week will commence sawing a quantity of logs he has on the ground to get timbers to be used in the construction of the mill. Mr. Steinert says that the work of the construction of the flour and feed mill and the dam will be done as quickly as possible and he expects to have the mill ready for operation about Aug. 1. The mill will be constructed on the south bank of the Clearwater.

WHAT THE KIDNEYS DO

Their Unceasing Work Keeps Us Strong and Healthy.

All the blood in the body passes through the kidneys once every three minutes. The kidneys filter the blood. They work night and day. When healthy they remove about 500 grains of impure matter daily, when unhealthy some part of this impure matter is left in the blood. This brings on many diseases and symptoms—pain in the back, headache, nervousness, hot, dry skin, rheumatism, gout, gravel, disorders of the eyesight and hearing, dizziness, irregular heart, debility, drowsiness, dropsy, deposits in the urine, etc. But if you keep the filters right you will have no trouble with your kidneys.

R. B. Postal, Highland Ave., Duluth Heights, Duluth, Minn., says: "I have taken Doan's Kidney Pills at different times in the past eight years and they have always given me relief from backache and other symptoms of kidney complaint. I am willing to recommend this remedy, for I have been given the best of proof that it is a good one. I keep Doan's Kidney Pills in the house most of the time."

SPORTING EVENTS OF THE WEEK

BASEBALL AT CENTRAL

Schedule for High School Nine Being Arranged at Present Time.

Matt Brown May Represent Duluth at Interscholastic Field Meet.

At a meeting of the board of control last Wednesday, Mr. Gibson was chosen as faculty manager, and Lloyd Le Duc as student manager. A meeting of the athletic association was held yesterday, and good baseball spirit was manifested. Speeches were made by Mr. Phillips, Mr. Gibson, Robert Mars, John Scanlon of last year's team, and Lloyd Le Duc. Word has been received from several high schools throughout the state and a schedule will be arranged as soon as possible. The Mora high school will be played at Mora on Memorial day.

The Duluth-Superior high school league will be reorganized and several games with the range towns will constitute a very good schedule.

At the athletic meeting the students were in favor of sending Mat Brown to participate in the interscholastic meet at the Minnesota university. If Brown is sent it is probable that he will land a couple of places for the Duluth Central.

CUBS ARE PICKED FOR PENNANT

Many Critics Believe Murphy's Pets Will Pull Down Rag.

Chicago, Ill., April 22.—With the opening of the season in both leagues, the training trips completed and the "weeding out" processes a thing of the past, the teams which comprise the American and National leagues now have settled down to the long, hard battle for premier honors and the honor, not to say anything about the financial returns, of battling for the greatest prize in baseball in the world's series.

Although the season has just opened and it is impossible to draw an accurate line on some of the clubs which finished in the second divisions last year, followers of the national pastime are prone to look upon the Cubs as champions of the National league and the Athletics the leaders in the American when the curtain drops on the preliminary season of baseball in October.

These great machines, under the capable and careful guidance of two of the greatest managers known to baseball, already have given signs of being as formidable as last season. Frank Chance, the fighting and playing manager of the Cubs, has not made any changes in the line-up of the team which has startled the baseball world with its greatest achievements in the past. There may be a change at any time, however, and that is the substitution of Heinze Zimmerman for Harry Steinfeldt at third base.

Manager Chance has all the confidence in the world in the ability of his veterans to repeat, win the title in the National league, and redeem the honors lost to the Athletics last year in the world's series. Chance discovered some of the cogs in his great machine, while others he perfected in a manner which has made the Cubs one of the greatest aggregations known in the history of baseball.

Jack Britton Outclassed.

St. Joseph, Mo., April 22.—Jack Britton of Chicago completely outclassed Jake Barada, a lightweight of this city, in a 15-round bout here last night. It was the first defeat ever administered to Barada. In the last few rounds Barada was groggy and held on a great deal.

Iowa Defeated.

Champaign, Ill., April 22.—The University of Illinois baseball team, conference champions, defeated Iowa by a score of 10 to 2 in the first local conference game today.

A Little Boost for the Rowing Game—Nelson, the Optimist—Old John L. Is Silent—Oarsmen Live Long—The Baseball Rules—A Story on Kid McCoy.

(BY BRUCE.)

HERE is a little boost for rowing.

The seasan is just starting. Duluth is going to make a desperate effort to win some prizes at the coming regatta of the Northwestern International Rowing association, which will be rowed on the waters of St. Louis bay. It is right up to the oarsmen and officials of the local club to work in harmony and with the goal of success ever held clearly before them.

It is, after all has been said and the book closed, the spirit that counts. While rowing in the cold evenings, that hold often until late in the Duluth springs, is not always the most pleasant experience in the world, the game is worth all the time and all the sacrifice the candidates give to it.

It gives every candidate, whether he be successful in making the crew or not, a stronger, cleaner and more symmetrical body, and also gives him a draft on the bank of good and sound health. It makes him clean physically and makes him bigger and stronger in every way. Indeed, rowing is worth quite all that the average chap can give to it.

Preaching and talk are helpful at times, and then again they have little effect. But right here it might be said that the discouragements of the past should not be barriers to prevent the right kind of spirit among the Duluth Boat club men.

There should be no reason in the world why Duluth cannot enter the regatta next season with just as good a chance for victory as any of the other crews. Here we have men larger than the men of the other crews, and if the fellows just make up their mind that they have to win, are going to win, somehow they will finish out in front.

Those who are in the know, make no bones about stating that the future of rowing at the club will depend much upon what showing the crews make at the 1911 regatta. There is a faction in the club that is mildly asking why the crews should keep on rowing, when they haven't shown any progress in the past. This mild inquiry has increased after the woeful showing at Kenora. The answer is, "It's up to you, boys."

Men who like to speculate, not upon the market, but upon some obstruse problem, have often wondered why the Duluth Boat club crews couldn't win. This season Mr. Edward Ten Eyck, a young man with lots of experience, has been employed to help solve the problem. With thorough co-operation upon the part of Mr. Ten Eyck, the candidates for the crew, and the officials of the club, the problem should be solved in the very best way—that of winning a first here in jolly July.

It will be very good for the club and will be the greatest encouragement to future oarsmen. Let's go out and win and do the talking afterwards. With "them" few remarks, let us close.

He's Wise; Don't Talk Fighting.

HAVE you noticed, gentlemen, that in all the noise that is coming from guys who were tough in a past period, this come back twittle and piffle, that there is one voice that is strangely silent. It's righteous roar of yore is stilled and gentle advice is the best we get from him who was some kiddo.

Direct reference is made to John Lawrence Sullivan, who in the days of the past used to challenge the world tri-weekly. But he is married, and there will probably be no more challenges from John. If other wives of once great had such a good influence, the bottom would drop out of the comeback idea.

What a Great Optimist He Would Make.

AFTER reading the statement of Battling Nelson, mayor of Hegewisch, Ill., and also at one time the champion lightweight fighter of the world, that he is just as good as ever, the only thing needed being a rest, a thought struggles desperately to express itself. What a great optimist he would have made. In times of panic or peace or war or frenzy of the country's pocketbook, had Bat been the official spokesman of the country, per instance James J. Hill, there would be nothing but optimism crawling out of his throat.

Any man, after taking the lacings of this Nelson boy, who says he can come back and knock the tough ones cold, should go in for raising small fruits in North Dakota. It's a cinch he would never be discouraged.

It Serves the Horrid Thing Right.

IF Jack Johnson got a "tummy" ache from merely going without a good dinner, just think of the thirty-three degree pain he would get if he were to eat horseradish and whipped cream, with banana fritters and some dill pickles and ice cream? The bigger they are the harder they fall, which is an echo from the speech before the mob by Robert Fitzsimmons.

Regarding the Baseball Rules.

THERE are many interesting interpretations that can be placed on the baseball rules. In many cases it is up to the judgment of the scorer. That is one of the reasons why baseball has proved of interest to the students of the game, and why it will always remain one of the very fascinating sports of the world; why other teams in other countreis are taking it up.

Now, for instance, a play came up the other day that was very peculiar.

A man was on third and a man on first. The man at bat hit a fly into right field. There were two out and the man on third madly dashed for home. The man on first did not realize that two hands were down, and kept hesitating between first and second, to see whether the man in the field would catch the fly. The man who hit the ball beat it on right after he had reached first and passed the hesitant player who was bonehead enough not to know that two men were gone. To cap it all, the man in the outfield dropped the ball. What about that play, kiddo?

The decision of the national commissioners was asked on it. They decided that the score counted, but that the man who passed the hesitating gink on the base lines was out. They held that the man had scored from third before the man rounding first had passed the hovering runner who was a pirouetting between first and second.

There are plays coming up almost every day that tax the ingenuity of the students of the game.

Cheer Up Boys; There's Hope.

A YALE statistician has figured out that athletes do not die young. Especially is thus true of oarsmen, according to the figure fined of Yale college. He says in cases of fortunate preservation, an oarsman may live to be 68 years of age. The upshot of all this means that there is yet hope that Duluth will win one of those races.

The extreme youth at which baseball players die, according to the same sharp, 38 years of age, would make the pennant prospects for the White Sox rather shaky.

How Deceiving Are Timid Looks.

GEORGE AUSTIN MOORE, who is pastiming at the Orpheum this week, tells a story on Kid McCoy, who has just filtered into bankruptcy, which illustrates that canny saying about looking wisely and leaping well. Mr. Moore was riding in an automobile in which the famous fighter, then long out of the ring, was a passenger. The party was out for a ride around the environs of Chicago. That doesn't mean in the vicinity of tht stockyards.

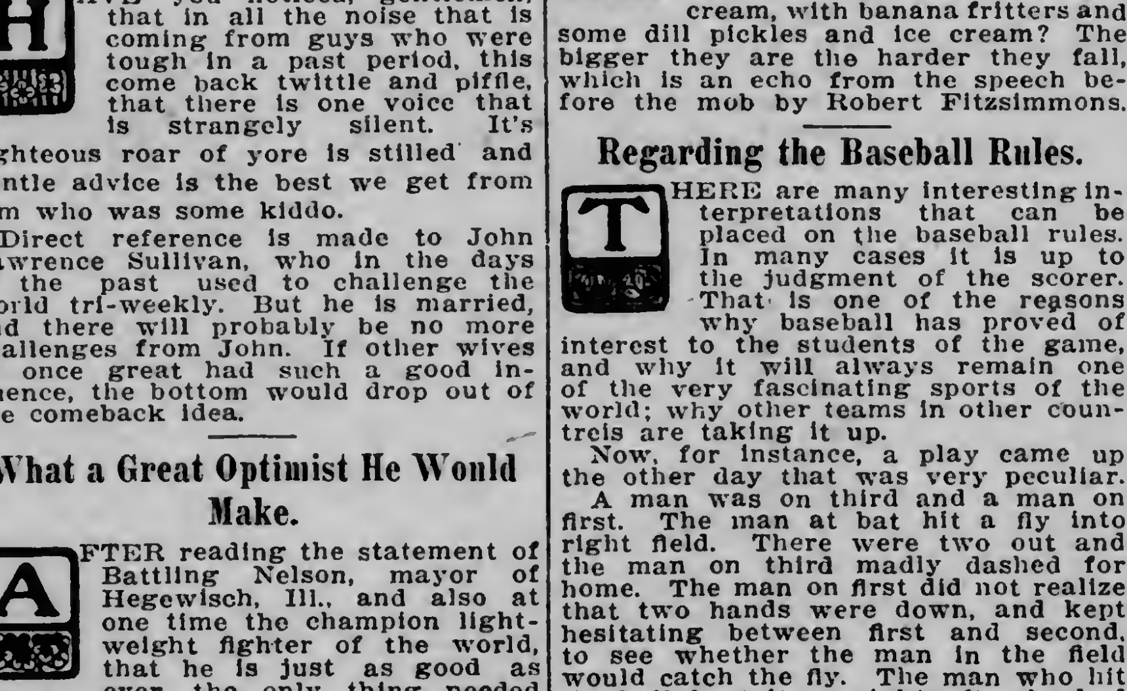
At one place the road was narrow, and the day was hot, nettling men's tempers. Two large truck drivers, of overhanging jaw and bulging back, were seated on the truck and treated the efforts of the men in the automobile to pass with democratic indifference. Finally they threatened to do dire things to the members of the party, for even asking them to turn out and allow the automobile some of the road.

Mister McCoy quietly shed his coat and said to one of his companions, a very tough young man, "Let me have the big one, as I like those kind." His friend was quite willing.

The truck drivers climbed down with a shame-to-do-it expression upon their countenances. There were two blows struck. Mister McCoy hit the biggest truck driver and his friend did the same. Then the truck team was led to one side of the road.

As far as the eye could follow the two prostrate objects, there was not a single move from the mighty fallen.

MAKES NEW SPEED RECORD IN A MORANE MONOPLANE



PIERRE VEDRINE.

Aviator Pierre Vedrine, in his Morane monoplane, established a new speed record by flying from Paris to Portiers in 3 hours, 10 minutes. The distance is 170 miles. This record is looked upon as a criterion for the racing aeroplanes at the coming international races in England. The Morane monoplane is a comparatively new type of racing aeroplane. It was designed by Leon Morane while lying in the hospital, after being severely injured last summer in an aeroplane accident.

ELLIOTT LANDS UMPIRE BERTH

President Force Completes Staff By Choosing Former Big Leaguer.

Claude Elliott, former pitcher for New York and Cincinnati in the National league, and also with Milwaukee in the American association, has been signed by President Frank E. Force of the Minnesota-Wisconsin league as an umpire. The signing of Elliott completes the umpire staff of the Minny league. W. E. Griffith, T. P. Schuler, Frank Corrigan and Elliott make up the staff.

President Force writes that Elliott is a big chap, standing over six feet in height, and did some umpiring in the American association in addition to his playing there. He has been very highly recommended to President Force. Elliott's home is at Pardeeville, Wis.

Official news also comes from the league headquarters that the Spalding baseball has been adopted as the official ball in the league. The vote on this was taken by mail, the various directors of the league expressing their preference for the Spalding firm, which made a very fair bid.

The Goldsmith people of Cincinnati also made a proposition for the official ball, and also stated that though unsuccessful this season, would be in the market next year.

President Force states that he has accepted the bid of the Winona people to attend the opening game in that city, and will participate in the opening exercises.

MANY VETERANS IN THE GAME

Clubs of Both Big Leagues Have Many Old Players.

Breakers loom ahead for the major league "vets." Slowly but surely the old-timers hailed a few seasons ago among the truly greats are slipping, and popular demand for new faces, coupled with the degeneration of these same old idols, is working tremendous changes in both circuits. The time-honored adage, "It isn't what you were, it's what you are today," is working overtime and the season of gloom is on in full blast.

There won't be any glaring shake-ups in the Cub troupe if "Husk" Chance makes good his statement of yesterday. The P. L. seems content to stand pat and go along with the battle-scarred warriors who clung to him through thick and thin and assisted in giving Chicago four National league pennants in five thrilling seasons. If young talent is to be injected into the betitled ranks the process will be applied to the hurling staff.

Reulbach Again Hearty.

"Big Ed" Reulbach is fast nearing his 30th year on earth, but Chance figures the wild man to enjoy a rip-roaring season of it, now that the anti-toxin treatments administrred last spring have parted company with "Reulie's" system.

As in the case of the Cubs, every other club in the two major leagues is burdened with venerable artists and the club owners seem loath to dispose of the stars of yesterday. These players are of inestimable value to their respective teams in more ways than one—otherwise they couldn't stick to their jobs.

Endurance is a grand quality in baseball as well as in automobiles and pugilism, but the best of them must some day fall for the count. Down at Pittsburg the bugs are wondering what the future holds for the athletic landmarks, to-wit, Clarke, Wagner, Leach, Leever, Phillippi et al. All these hearties have basked in the limelight for more than a decade.

Detroit has a bunch of old scouts in Crawford, Donovan, Mullin and Davy Jones, while the world's champion Mackmen have some aged boys in Davis, Bender, Plank, Hartzel and Murphy. Yet these grownups must stay on the job to lend the helping hand to newcomers who stand in need of considerable uplift in the finer points of pastiming.

RILEY SAYS HOPE IS GOOD

Believes Big Chap Will Develop Punch and Learn Fine Points.

(By Walter C. Kelly.)

Con Riley, the Midletown, Ohio, man who is tutoring Carl Morris, the Oklahoma giant, who is styled by his friends "the hope of the white race," writes that the big fellow gives rare promise of developing into a champion.

Riley, it will be remembered, was a few years ago considered one of the best known trainers in the country. He it was who picked up Kid McCoy when he was a mere stripling of a boy, and conditioned him for his early fights. He taught the Kid the first rudiments of the game, and handled him in several of his battles. Later on Con discovered Biz Mackey, and taught him the game. Under his direction, Mackey progressed rapidly, winning many bouts, and getting very close to the top round of the ladder in his class. Riley brought out several other boxers, and those who know him well realize that Morris is in good hands, for Riley knows all the finer points of the fighting game, and he can fit a man for battle as well as any trainer in the business.

He is a big husky fellow himself, and is a skillful boxer. He appeared in exhibitions with Kid McCoy back in 1896.

The writer met him in Buffalo several times after that when he was there preparing McCoy for his bouts with Tommy Ryan and Dick Moore. He is a thorough fellow about a training camp, and insists on his protege doing as he is told without grumbling. He will make Morris work, and if the big fellow has as good a head up his shoulders as Con claims he has, he will come to the front in a surprising manner in the next year or so.

Thinks Well of Morris.

Friend Kelly: Your letter to hand, and was pleased to hear from you. It reminded me of the old days at the beach in Buffalo when McCoy was the best in the business at his weight. Now about this boy, Carl Morris. Take my tip for it, he is a comer, for sure. He has the size and the weight. He is so tall and has such a great reach that none of the big fellows will be able to lay a glove on him when he masters the inside stuff about the game. He is a brainy youngster and is rapidly catching onto the knack of beating the other fellow to the punch. He is learning to feint properly, a trick which few fighters know anything about. He hits a good kick from a short distance and places his blows in the right place. Of course, he can't be expected to step around and side step and do fancy stunts yet, like a fighter of experience. But he is a steady fellow, who has a good head and eye. He is getting to judge distance well, and he blocks nicely, besides using his reach to the best of advantage. He will be knocking out fellows in short order within the next year or so.

I am not going to hurry him, but will keep on teaching him, and bring him along gradually until he has acquired the knack of drawing a lead, and countering as well with one hand as with the other.

Has Cool Head.

Another thing I like about Morris is that he is a good tempered lad, never losing his head, and he does what he is told. He licked Mike Schreck without getting a scratch, and he will do the same to others before he is much older. You know, old boy, that a champion can't be made in a day or in a month, or in a year. Jeffries found that out, and Al Kaufmann, who has been trying to get the title, has been convinced for some time past that a fighter must be willing to do a lot of hard work and be possessed of much patience if he expects to get the championship.

Now, I honestly believe that we have the raw material in Carl Morris. He has everything and only needs the experience. He is not getting a swell head, and he will never get it, for he is too sensible. He likes the fighting game, and he means to take care of himself, knowing that there is big money to be made by a fighter who earns the right sort of a reputation. Just keep tab on us and see if I am not right. Yours old friend,

CON RILEY.

Al Kaufmann, the giant California heavyweight, who is credited by most critics with being the best white man in his division, believes Carl Morris should be given a chance.

"Shreck was a bad man for Morris to fight," says Kaufmann. "He is hard for the best of them to fight because of his peculiar style. I think Morris shows in this fight that he is entitled to some consideration. Of course Morris has not speed and science, and is not expected to have acquired these things in so short a time. He is willing, apparently game, and being powerful, he looks as though he will make a fighter if properly trained and matched. He should not fight near-champions now because he is not in that class, but he may be if properly managed for a couple of years. I believe I could make a good fighter out of Morris. He looks the part to me.

Go East to Learn.

"I think it would be well for Morris to go to New York or San Francisco for six months and watch the boys work out there. He would see fights every night, and seeing the different styles of fighting he would learn a lot about the game. In fact, he could get more of an idea about the fight game, its diffefent tricks and all in a month in Frisco than he can get in two years in Oklahoma. I believe in giving the big fellow a good chance to make good. People are expecting too much of him now, because he has been so well advertised and because such big prices have been charged for his fights. He is merely a beginner, but a good one."

Minnesota 6; North Western 5.

Minneapolis, Minn., April 22.—Tht University of Minnesota baseball team defeated Northwestern yesterday, by a score of 6 to 5. The battery for Minnesota was Sutton and Herlig and for Northwestern, Manley Thompson, Pfeifer and Young.

CRACK COLLEGE STARS COMING TO MINNEAPOLIS

Davenport, Speedy Chicago Runner, Will Compete at Northrop Field.

Preparations Going On for Conference Meet—Gophers Will Meet Badgers.

Minneapolis, Minn., April 22.—(Special to The Herald.)—Preliminary entry blanks for the conference meet to be held on Northrop field in Minneapolis were sent out by the conference committee this week. The blanks have to be filled out and returned to the committee during the coming week. As soon as the preliminary entries are in, a line can be obtained on the contestants who will visit the University of Minnesota in June.

Helon Leach, manager of athletics at the University of Minnesota, attended a meeting of the conference managers in Chicago last week. At this meeting, plans for advertising and running the meet were proposed and it was decided that the conference board would handle all such matters itself, leaving only local advertising to Minnesota.

It was announced at this meeting that the proposed rule that no college be allowed to compete in the conference track meet that did not enter a team of at least eight men had failed to pass the conference. This rule was proposed to offset the advantage of competing colleges which sent but one or two men who were sure point winners. The conference decided that the enactment of the proposed rule would place too heavy a burden on the smaller schools and the proposed legislation was vetoed.

The rain of the past two weeks has not been frequent enough to interfere with the training hours of the track men and has been welcomed for the assistance it has given in getting the track into shape. The old track roller has been filled solid with concrete, making it much heavier and packing the track harder with each rolling. The track at present is in the best shape it has been any spring and the ground keepers say that it will be in prime condition for the conference.

Coach Stagg of Chicago, has written that in all probability Ira Davenport, who broke two conference records in the last meet, will enter the meet at Minnesota. Davenport has been doing great indoor work this spring and it is rumored that he may break his own records this spring if conditions are favorable.

In a dual meet with Illinois on March 11, Davenport lowered his indoor record for the quarter from 55 seconds to 54:4-5. The same afternoon he ran a half and lowered the Bartlett gymnasium record from 2:05 1-5 to 2:04 3-5. Davenport is looked upon as one of the best track men that Chicago has ever turned out and his team mates expect him to do a big share of the point gaining.

Coach Stagg is also expecting good work from Menual in the shot put, high jump and hurdles. Menaul is a football man, his only appearance in Minneapolis having been in the Chicago game of 1909. George Kuh is out for the hurdles and broad jump. He did 16 1-5 in the high hurdles last year and 22 feet, 2¼ inches in the board jump. Straube has not been running so far this spring because of illness, but expects to be in shape for the conference. Coach Stagg says that his team suffered a severe loss when Crawley, captain of the 1910 football team, decided to study Spanish in Spain.

Mr. Stagg is evidently laying his wires to get the pole vault in the coming meet. He writes that Frank Coyle beat Murphy of Illinois in the pole vault in the Chicago-Illinois dual indoor meet, jumping 11 feet, 7 inches. Murphy won the conference last year by jumping 12 feet, 4½ inches. Minnesota has not had a pole vaulter in several years that could come near to this mark.

Iowa's Future.

Iowa will enter Capt. Wilson, Jans and Engstrom. Jans will run the quarter and the half and Engstrom, who was captain last year, will enter the high and broad jump. Minnesota won the dual meet with Iowa last year, but the dope is now that the Iowa coach has some surprises this spring. A good line will be had on both teams when they meet in their annual dual.

Joy reigned supreme in the Gopher camp last week when it was announced on Monday that Capt. Stanley Hill had removed his incomplete infield work and would be eligible for all spring athletics. Hill is a mines student and as part of the work of his junior year he had to spend a week in underground surveying in mines on the iron range in Northern Minnesota. He did not do this last spring as he wanted to enter the conference, where incidentally, he pulled a second and a third. This left him with that part of his work incomplete and the bar had to be removed before he could enter intercollegiate athletics. Hill removes the incomplete by spending his Easter vacation underground.

Coach Grant expects Hill to make a much better showing in the meets this spring than he did last. All last spring, in fair or rainy weather, Hill had to tramp several miles a day in heavy cruisers' boots surveying soggy swamps and rough table lands on the outskirts of Minneapolis. This tramping interfered materially with his training, as he was forced into irregular hours for running, eating and sleeping. With regular hours and freedom from leg tiring work, Hill expects to make a better record.

Minnesota athletes faced the eligibility committee this week and Coach Grant will pick his conference team from the ligibles. They will be given plenty of opportunity this spring to show of what they are capable when the dual meets are pulled off. At present the team is lamentably short of field and weight men, but these defects may be made up before the dual meets.

After the all-university outdoor meet held yesterday afternoon, attention of track men is being directed toward the meet to be held with Wisconsin on Northrop field next Saturday afternoon. At the present, the dope looks about even on both of the colleges. Wisconsin has lost Adams, point winnner in the high jump and hurdles. Dohmen has not been training this spring but may decided to enter the meet.

Capt. Richards is said to be in fine form for the dashes, but was defeated by Capt. Hill last year. Gillette in the broad jump and Cleveland in the two-mile are two of Wisconsin's hopefuls. Ceveland will run against John Connely.

While the Wisconsin track team is trying conclusions with the Gophers, the baseball team will be on the other side of the field trying to beat out Coach Clarke's proteges. In preparation for the Wisconsin game Saturday, the Minnesota team will play Macalaster of Northorp field Monday, St. Thomas the same place on Wednesday and will journey over to the Midway for a game with Hamline on Thursday.

At a board of control meeting last week, contracts for two games with the Waseda university team were submitted but not signed because of a technicality. Waseda will be played in Minneapolis two games, May 26 and 27. It is possible that the games will be played on some other grounds than University field.

Some time ago the freshmen track men tried to arrange a dual freshman track meet with Wisconsin. The negotiations failed but the board of control has authorized the athletic management to arrange a meet with the Shattuck freshmen. This meet will probably be held some time during May. The freshmen team this spring is much better than usual and should have no trouble taking Shattuck into camp.

BROOKLYN DROPS THE FIRST HOME GAME.

Brooklyn, N. Y., April 22.—Brooklyn lost the opening game to Boston here yesterday 9 to 5. The weather was cold and threatening, but the big crowd whooped it up for the home team regardless. There was a parade, a flag-raising, and Borough President Steers threw the first ball into the field. Manager Dahlen received a monster horseshoe of flowers. Brooklyn was easily outclassed in the playing. The visitors batted out an early lead and clinched the victory by scoring five runs in the eighth. The locals made an ineffective rally in the ninth. Score:

NEW YORK LOSES OPENER; PLAYERS IN FINE FORM.

Philadelphia, April 22.—One of the largest crowds that has witnessed the opening game of the National league season in this city in many years, saw the home team defeat New York yesterday afternoon by 3 to 0.

Moore pitched one of the finest games of his career, only one hit, a single by Snodgrass in the sixth inning being made off his delivery. This was the second time that Moore has shut out New York this year at a total cost of three hits. Magee was the batting and fielding star of the day. He made two wonderful one-handed running catches, robbing Snodgrass of a probable home run and Murray of a triple, and he scored Knabe and himself in the first inning with a home run drive and later sent Lobert home with a hard grounder which Bridwell's clever fielding saved from a base hit. Before the game Manager Dooin was presented with an automobile by a number of his friends. Score:

HIGHLANDERS ARE DEFEATED AT HOME.

New York, April 22.—The American league season in New York, delayed by Thursday's rain, was opened with favorable weather and wtih the defeat of the Highlanders by Washington, 1 to 0. As was the case in the National opening, the game was a pitchers' duel, in which Russell Ford was worsted by Bob Croome.

Ford allowed fewer hits than his rival, but after Milan and Schaefer had singled in the first inning, he made a wild throw allowing them only one run. Catcher Street of Washington threw out four of the five men who tried to steal bases on him. Score:

SEASON IS OPENED BY BOSTON CLUB AT HOME.

Boston, Mass., April 22.—Before state and city officials—Governor Foss occupying a box and Mayor Fitzgerald throwing out the first ball—Boston won the first home game of the season yesterday by defeating Philadelphia, 13 to 4. Before play opened there was the customary parade in the center of the field and a flag-raising. Score:

NORTHLAND INSTRUCTOR A MOST PROMISING GOLFER

W. D. LEITH.

W. D. Leith, professional golf instructor at the Northland Country club, is considered one of the most promising young players in the country today. But 20 years of age, experts on golf play have declared that young Leith has a brilliant future before him.

He came here from Scotland, where he learned the game. Last season he competed in the Western Golf tournament, finishing about eighth in the competition. This season he will enter the American championships, to be played at Chicago, and his many friends in this city are expecting that the youngster will make a very good showing.

COLUMBUS PLAYERS HIT HARD AND WIN.

Columbus, Ohio, April 22.—Congalton, Downs, Perring and Lattimore hit Maddox hard yesterday, forced his retirement and gave Columbus a 5 to 3 victory over Kansas City. Hyatt's homer was the only helpful hit secured by the visitors off Liebhardt. Hinchman's fielding featured. The score:

		R.	H.	E.

LAUDELL ALLOWS BUT THREE HITS.

Indianapolis, Ind., April 22.—Laudell had the Indianapolis batters completely at his mercy, holding them to three hits and scored a shutout for Minneapolis 3 to 0. The visitors won the game by hitting Schlitzer hard in the latter part of the game, aided by the errors of the locals. The feature of the game was the batting and fielding of Clymer. The score:

BREWERS AND TOLEDO HAVE A SLOW CONTEST.

Toledo, Ohio, April 22.—Milwaukee defeated Toledo 3 to 1 in an uninteresting contest. The visitors bunched hits off Robinson in the third inning and off Billiard in the ninth, while Toledo was unable to hit Graham consecutively. The pitchers distributed thirteen passes. The score:

HOW THE EXPRESSION BONEHEAD ORIGINATED.

Ed Ashenback, for many years a manager of minor league teams, in his new book, "Humor Among the Minors," claims to be the originator of the expression "bonehead," which is now, with its synonymous terms of "solid ivory," "mahongany bean," "concrete dome" and "cement skull" so common in baseball.

Ashenback says that when he was managing the Shreveport team of the Southern league some years ago he had a catcher who could hit some, but who had the very serious weakness of not being able to gauge a foul ball, no matter how easy it was.

One day a batter raised a high foul directly over the plate, and the catcher, misjudging it, was hit squarely on top of the head by the descending sphere, which knocked off his mask and bounded away about thirty feet. That night Ashenback finished his supper early and was passing out of the dining room when he happened to walk behind the catcher, who was devouring his evening meal with gusto and enthusiasm. Stopping at the table, Ed passed his hands over the backstop's head, feeling for the bump which he thought would surely be there on account of the contact with the ball that afternoon. But there was no lump to be felt. "No wonder," said Ash. "How could there be a bump. Your head is solid bone."

RUMOR SAYS MARION WILL LEAVE MILWAUKEE.

There is already the rumor that Don Marion will come back to the bushes. It is also stated that two Minny league teams are after the services of the player now with Milwaukee. If his arm remains in good condition there is no doubt but that the big fellow would make one of the stars of this league. Whether Duluth will try to get the "rube" is not known at the present time, as Jawn Desmond is out of the city. One rumor has it that Biddy Dolan of Wausau is after Marion, while another report says that Tommy Schoonhoven has whispered something in the shell-like ear of Manager Jimmy Barrett of the Brewers.

JOHNNY KLING HAS COME BACK

Chance Says Great Backstop Is Faster Than Ever.

Catcher Johnny Kling is to surprise the fans who thought he showed a marked decrease in his work last season. At least so thinks Manager Chance of the Chicago Cubs after watching the famous backstop in practice in the South.

Chance had Kling do all the catching while infield work was on and was astonished with what ease he handled himself after the short time he had been with the club.

"Kling certainly does look good for this time of the year," said Chance. "He looks better to me right now than he did at any time last summer. I think he has been cheating the club. By that I mean he must have been doing some work at home before joining us. Did you notice the throws he made to second base in practice? He never threw any better in his life. At first I thought it was only a flash in the pan. But it was not. He kept up the excellent pegging throughout the practice, though there was a slight curve to his ball, but the speed with which the sphere sailed was what caught my eye.

"Without any idea of trying to boost Kling, I honestly think he will have as good a season as he had in 1908, and possibly better. The training he got last season put him back in stride again, although he did not do as wonderful work as many expected. The reason I think Kling will come back and be as good as ever is that he is a fellow who takes the best of care of himself. There is no player in the league who takes any better. Kling is lighter than when he closed the season last year and is faster. With Archer a much improved man, we will be stronger in our catching department."

ADAMS AND JEFFERSONS WILL MEET

One of the first baseball games of the season between the stronger teams of this city is scheduled for tomorrow at Athletic park, when the Jeffersons and the Adams will clash. Both of these teams were among the strongest in the city last season, and the contest should be both fast and interesting.

The lineup:

Jeffersons.	Position.	Adams.

New Boat Coming.

It is rumored here that a very high power speed boat is to be purchased by a Duluth man. According to the statement of a member of the boat club, the new boat will be in the 32-foot class, and will be the highest power boat at the Head of the Lakes.

One Conductor Helped Back to Work.
Mr. Wilford Adams is his name, and he writes: "I was confined to my bed with chronic rheumatism and used two bottles of Foley's Kidney Remedy with good effect. The third bottle put me on my feet and I resumed work as conductor on the Lexington, Ky., Street Railway. It will do all you claim in cases of rheumatism." It clears the blood of uric acid. All druggists.

RAILROADING A PLAYER TO THE MINOR LEAGUE

The waiving system that prevails in the major leagues has always had a queer look, but this season there have been so many unaccountable events that one is commencing to lose confidence in it.

Primarily, the waiving system was formed to protect the baseball player. When a club wanted to send any of its extra players to the minor leagues, it had to serve notice on the other clubs of its intention.

Should any other club want this player, it could obtain him by paying a nominal sum. This was done to prevent any club disciplining a competent player by railroading him to the bush leagues.

In theory it is a beautiful thought, a check to prevent any manipulation or slavish methods being employed by the club owner; but the owners evidently have found a way to get around it.

As conditions now stand, a club owner can send any player not exactly a Cobb, Collins or Mathewson to the minors without any other rivals taking advantage of the waiver rule. A gentleman's agreement exists, in which Owner Brown will waive on certain players belonging to Owner Smith, provided Owner Smith waives on his. This is a fine arrangement for everybody involved excepting the ball player.

Steinfeldt, the third baseman of the champion Cubs, was railroaded to tho minors. Chicago has been trying to get him out of the league for some weeks. When they first asked for waivers, both Cincinnati and Boston claimed the man.

Chicago then withdrew the demand for waivers, and ostensibly had changed its opinion regarding Steinfeldt and decided to hold him. Later, however, Steinfeldt was transferred to the St. Paul team of the American association.

For some reason, Cincinnati and Boston did not object this time, but permitted Steinfeldt to get out of the league.

Steinfeldt has no business in the minors. There are clubs in the National league who could use his batting and fielding ability and experience to good advantage. Pressure was brought to bear by the Chicago club to have this man put in slower company, where the salaries are lower.

Three weeks ago, when it was reported that Chicago was going to ask waivers on Steinfeldt, reliable reporters accompanying the Boston Nationals south sent stories to their paper that Fred Tenney would never waive on Steinfeldt, but would make every effort to get him for Boston.

He believed that this crack third baseman would be just the man to brace his tottering infield. In a few days Tenney changed his mind for unaccountable reasons.

It will be recalled that Steinfeldt had a salary controversy with his club this year. He poured in some hot shots at the Chicago club and received same in return. When he joined the team, correspondents reported that he appeared to be persona non grata with the executive side of the club.

Perhaps this has nothing to do with the matter, but it is a fact that the methods used to railroad a competent man to the minor league puts the blush of shame on major league baseball. Organization is necessary to make baseball a paying institution, but when any owner or owners use the power of their organization to oppress a player, then they are handling dynamite.

NO-HIT GAME IS AMBITION OF EVERY GREAT PITCHER

Chicago, April 22.—It is the ambition of every twirler, major or minor league, amateur or semi-professional, to pitch a no-hit game. An even higher ambition is to pitch a game in which not an opposing player reaches first base, says Umpire Evans of the American league.

Critics may argue that baseball enthusiasts want more batting; perhaps they do, but if one would pay strict attention to the crowd, when it seems as if some pitcher is about to achieve a no-hit game, I believe they would change their opinion. Never have I seen crowds under so terrific a strain, when about the seventh inning it dawned upon them that not one of the visitors had reached first base. Interested in the game, well, if you could hear the sigh of relief that goes up as the visiting batters are retired you would think so. What a hilarious crowd leaves the grounds if the feat is accomplished, what a disappointed lot of fans, if some visitor happens to spoil the record with a punk hit. The fans like plenty of hitting, if the home team happens to be doing the swatting, but the familiar cry of "take him out" is soon heard when the opposition begins meeting the ball on the nose. It makes all the difference in the world who is doing the hitting.

Since the pitching of a no-hit game is regarded as quite an extraordinary performance, it was quite a surprise to me in looking over the pitching records of 1910 to find that eighty-five no-hit games were pitched last summer. Of these only two fell to the majors, eighty-three of the contests taking place in the minors. Not a no-hit game was worked in the National, while strangely enough, the Cleveland club figured in the two light hitting contests in the American. Addie Joss shut out Chicago, while Chief Bender of the Athletics handed the Naps a similar dose. Despite the large number of no-hit games credited to the summer of 1910, it fell short of the record mark, for in 1909 eighty-nine such performances were pulled off, and not a single one was credited to the majors.

Two With Clear Bases.

Thus a perusal of the records reveals the fact that while no-hit games are the exception to the rule, they are by no means rare. Games, however, in which not a man reaches first base are decidedly few and far between, only about a half-dozen such feats having been performed since 1880. Last year being out of the ordinary in many ways, furnished two such exhibitions Pitcher Farthing of Lincoln shut out Topeka, 1 to 0, in which not a man reached first, while Pitcher Carmichael performed a similar feat for Buffalo against Jersey City.

There is no denying the fact that in order to pitch a game in which not a man reaches first, the twirler must not only be doing grand work, but he must have more than his share of luck, an element which plays a wonderful part in baseball. After such a wonderful performance a pitcher has a right to a lot of glory, but usually little is thought of the faultless support that was accorded the twirler, so necessary for the fulfillment of the feat.

Addie Joss of the Cleveland team is a great twirler, and what is even better, a modest twirler. When Joss in one of the crucial games of 1907 shut out Chicago without a man reaching first, his words to a newspaper man who went to interview him relative to the feat were:

"I was dead lucky to get away with it."

The scribe tried to make Joss see it differently by commenting on his great speed and excellent curves. Joss admitted that he was better than usual that afternoon, but insisted that luck played a bigger part than his pitching.

"Why, just think of that great catch Joe Birmingham made on that drive that looked good for a home run. Wasn't that a sensational play Larry made on that grounder over second? Remember that wonderful catch Stovall made of that high throw?" Thus Joss went on enumerating the many fine plays that were pulled off, which aided him materially in performing the feat. Joss pitched a wonderful game, but he was broad-minded enough to give his teammates a big portion of the credit.

Hard Luck Sometimes.

Luck often plays a prominent part in aiding a performance of that kind, and just as often it plays its little part in preventing the fulfillment of the ambition of every pitcher. If you doubt such a statement you should have been at two games pitched by Walter Johnson last year, and one in which Russell Ford of New York officiated.

Now, Walter Johnson is regarded as one of the greatest twirlers that ever lived, but as yet he has not broken into the no-hit game column. On two occasions last year Johnson seriously threatened such action, only to be defeated by the smallest of margins. If Johnson never accomplishes the feat during his baseball career he can content himself in knowing that no heaver ever had a closer call.

In the opening game of the season in 1910, Johnson was robbed of the honor simply because the seating capacity at the Washington park was unable to take care of the overflow crowd that was in attendance at the opening game. The hard-hitting Athletics opposed Washington, and Danny Murphy secured the only hit of the game, a rank scratch if there ever was one. With two strikes on him, Murphy hit one of Johnson's fast ones late, sending the ball to right field, where the crowd had overflowed to within a short distance of the infield. On a clear ground it would have been the easiest kind of an out, but Doc Gessler, who was playing right field for Washington, backed into the crowd in an effort to get it, only to see it fall about a yard out of his reach. The fact that the grounds were made so small that day, due to the big crowd, and the fact that Johnson was opposed to the hard-hitting Athletics, makes the performance all the more noteworthy.

Later in the season at St. Louis, Johnson shut out the Browns with but a single hit, another scratch, but still enough of a hit to rob Johnson of the glory that would have been so sweet to him. Frankie Truesdale was the first man to face Johnson in the opening inning. With two strikes on him he hit a roller down in the direction of second base. Instead of coming in on the ball, the infielder allowed the ball to play him, as he underestimated its speed. Truesdale, who is a very fast man, beat the throw to first by a step. That was the only hit of the day, and under ordinary conditions would have been a sure out, had the ball been judged properly.

Russell Ford, who twirled such a sensational ball for the New York Americans last year, had an experience that rivals the two hits of hard luck that befell Johnson. If anything, Ford's luck was more of the heartbreaking sort, for it happened just when the honor seemed within his grasp.

Pitching against the St. Louis club, Ford had gone eight and two-thirds innings without allowing a hit. Danny Hoffman, who had been unable to locate Ford's deceptive spitters with any success during the afternoon, was the batter on whom everything hinged. It looked as if Ford was sure to draw a no-hit game. The first two balls pitched were strikes and with the count two and nothing against Hoffman, the crowd began to leave the grounds. Realizing that everything possible depended on the next ball, Ford hurled up one of his most puzzling spitters. Hoffman took a healthy swing, but just chopped the ball, a weak fly in the direction of short being the result. It seemed so easy that many of the players on the bench started in the direction of the clubhouse. Roach, who was playing short, hesitated a moment, ran in five or six steps, then backed out and finally tried to catch the dropping liner with open hand, only to drop it. While the scorers would have liked to have credited it as an error, fair scoring made it a hit and Ford was robbed of victory just as it was about to settle on his shoulders.

Pitcher Dale of Texas shut out Houston last year without a hit, winning 6 to 1, the single tally being the result of four successive bases on balls. I umpired an even more peculiar game in which Dolly Grey of Washington pitched a no-hit contest, if ever one was pitched. Although Grey allowed only one hit he lost his game 6 to 0, as he gave eleven bases on balls, eight of them in one inning, when Chicago made all its runs.

No doubt the fans like hitting, but they also relish no-hit performances now and then, providing the visitors are going hitless.

AT THE THEATRES

AT THE LYCEUM

Tomorrow afternoon and evening will be given over to two special performances of "The Girl Question."

The show has been given on the road during the playing here of "The Midnight Sons" and upon its return tomorrow should go very much smoother than during the first few performances.

The piece has scored heavily on the road and the members of the company will return to Duluth for the last two appearances of the piece, prepared to give a performance that will please Duluth theatergoers.

Miss Maude Leone, Justin Cooper, Forrest Taylor, Helen Aubrey, James Nelson, William Donovan, Roy Walling, Jack Montgomery, the extra people and the big chorus will be seen in the farewell presentation of the gleeful musical comedy.

One of the best productions of the season is scheduled to follow "The Girl Question." Beginning on April 26 the London and New York light comedy success, "All of a Sudden Peggy," a comedy of modern life, will be the offering of the company.

This is the play that scored one of the greatest successes of the famous Duke of York's theater, London, and also was equally successful in America.

Miss Marie Tempest created the name part of Peggy on the other side of the Atlantic, while in the country Miss Henrietta Crossman found the whimsical and impulsive Peggy one of the most fascinating, as well as best, roles that ever fell to her good fortune. In this character Miss Crossman made one of the biggest successes of her very successful career.

After musical comedy it will be a welcome change to have Miss Maude Leone back in straight comedy. She has played the part of Peggy before, making one of the big hits of her stay in the West in this play. The character of Peggy is one that suits Miss Leone as to temperament, and she may be expected to give one of her best performances in the part of the ever changing and headstrong young women who does not know until the very last minute that she is really in love with the English lord.

The story of the comedy is woven around the whimsical and altogether impulsive character of Peggy O'Mara.

James Rennie will play the part of Lord Anthony Crackenthorpe. It will be perhaps the best role that this actor has been given during his Duluth engagement.

Mrs. O'Mara, mother of pretty Peggy, will be played by Mrs. Annie Adams, whom Duluth playgoers will be very glad to welcome in a good part again. Mrs. O'Mara is about the best part Mrs. Adams has been cast for since coming to Duluth as a member of the stock company, and the many friends she has made since coming here will be very much interested in her interpretation.

Forrest Taylor will be the Hon. Jimmy Keppel. A thorough and careful actor, Mr. Taylor should make much of this part. Since the company has been playing in this city Mr. Taylor has not had what might be called a "fat" part. In the forthcoming production Mr. Taylor will be entrusted with one of the important character parts of the play.

Opening on Wednesday there will be two matinees, the first coming on Thursday and the following one on Saturday. Special scenery is being constructed for the piece, which promises to be one of the feature productions of the stock players.

The following is from the Detroit Free Press:

"Henry, dear," said she sweetly.

"Hum," grunted Henry.

"Sarah Bernhardt is coming."

"Well?"

"I think we ought to go to see her. Aside from the pleasure we shall get out of it ourselves, think how nice it will be in the years to come for us to be able to tell our children that you and I once saw the divine Sarah."

"We can't afford it," growled Henry.

"Only $6, dear and perhaps she may never come again."

"Six dollars is almost a ton of coal," retorted the commercial Henry.

"But it's worth it. If you'll only do this for me I won't ask to go to the theater again for two months."

"I suppose if your mind's set on it we'll have to go. I'll borrow the money and get the seats tomorrow."

"If you're going to borrow the money, Henry, borrow $3 more and get a ticket for mother. She's just dying to see Bernhardt. And you know she's been always willing to come over to mind the children whenever we wanted to go out at night. This is a splendid time to do something for her."

"Look here, Mary, I can't afford to take all your family to see Bernhardt. If you want to blow them off to some theatrical amusement I'll stake them to the 5-cent show."

"Henry, what has my mother ever done to you?"

"Oh, rather than have words I'll stand for mother, too."

"I knew you would—and Henry, of course if we're going to sit in the $3 seats I shall have to—"

"Nothing more—nine beans is all I can afford to blow in now."

"But I haven't anything fit to wear."

"Say," he retorted angrily, "are you going to see Sarah, or is Sarah coming to see you?"

Sarah Bernhardt will come to the Lyceum on Monday, May 29, in "Madame X."

AT THE ORPHEUM

Two of the biggest feature acts on the Orpheum circuit are promised for next week's bill, as joint headliners.

The acts are Clayton White and Mary Stuart in "Cherie" and Bonita in "The Real Girl."

Each of the two acts is a recognized headliner, and only two weeks ago one of them was headlining the Orpheum bill in Minneapolis, while the other was the feature act of the Omaha bill. Duluth gets the two acts on one bill next week, and it is expected to be one of the best vaudeville programs of the entire Orpheum season.

Bonita is a former musical comedy star, and appeared last season in "Wine, Women and Song." She is assisted in her little musical comedy sketch called "The Real Girl," by Lew Hearn, who was the comedian with "Wine, Women and Song." Regarding the act the Minneapolis Journal has the following criticism: "A wisp of a man with a reedy, rasping voice, a goatee and a funny battered hat is the star of the Orpheum bill this week. His name is Lew Hearn and he is popularly supposed to be assisting Bonita in a melange called 'The Real Girl.' Properly exploited he could make a fortune for some musical comedy manager, as he is one of the real half dozen comedians. The sketch is a rehash of a part of 'Wine, Women and Song,' more amusing than it was in the original. A fine sense of proportion, unusual repression and a realization of the value of every line mark the artist. Bonita's mature and full blown beauty finds opportunity in two songs, while she drawls through the dialogue in her characteristic nonchalant and quietly amusing manner."

"Cherie," the comedy playlet presented by Clayton White and Marie Stuart, is claimed by Orpheum managers and other performers on the circuit, to be the best vaudeville sketch on the circuit at the present time. It is from the pen of George V. Hobart, who is probably the best known sketch writer of the present day. Mr. White and Miss Stuart are well known artists, and are making their first Orpheum tour in three years. Regarding the sketch a recent Des Moines criticism praises it as follows: "When one sees White, it is easy to discover whence much of the 'business' and even lines of less pretentious acts have been stolen. He is legitimately funny in a broad and happy fashion. Marie Stuart is a clever burlesquer, although her French woman must have emigrated from her native land at a phenominally early age. The tremendous tempo at which Mr. White carries the role of the sport, results in comedy scenes that are irresistible."

Next in importance to these two headliners on the bill will be Raymond and Calverly, two of the most popular German comedians in vaudeville. They have been called the Rogers brothers of vaudeville, and they have a comedy dialogue that is said to be one long laugh from start to finish.

While these three principal acts are straight comedy acts, the bill will not be all comedy. The Three California Girls will present a neat little musical turn. The company includes a pianist and vocalist, a cellist and a violinist. The act comes highly recommended by critics in other cities and is said to be a most meritorious musical turn.

The Narrow Brothers are comedy cyclists, who have recently come to this country from Europe. They present a trick bicycle act in which the comedy work is featured.

Al Carleton is a long, lank and very thin humorist, who has been doing monologues on the principal vaudeville circuits for years. He bills himself by the rather unlovely title of "The Original Skinny Guy," but he is said to have a genuinely amusing monologue, which is enhanced by his striking appearance.

Adonis will bring to the Orpheum next week the clever little canine performer Pierre. Pierre is a little dog that was picked up in the streets of Paris and trained by Henri French. He is being taken around the circuit this season by Adonis, and the act is said to be full of surprises.

The Orpheum motion pictures and the overture by the concert orchestra will complete the bill, which will continue all week with a daily matinee. The first performance will be given Sunday afternoon.

THE FOUR LONDONS,

MISS MAUDE LEONE.

Orpheum Notes.

Elbert Hubbard has broadened through his vaudeville tour. Aurora of the East is now to be duplicated in the West. The sage has purchased a tract of land near Duarrte, a few miles from Los Angeles, for the Western home of the Roycrofters.

* * *

Mazie King the toe dancer at present playing with Lew Fields' "The Henpecks," recently walked on her toes down forty-five flights of stairs in the Metropolitan tower without once resting. The feat attracted great attention in New York. She will in all probability be seen at the Orpheum next season.

* * *

One of the most romantic histories of any person before the public today is the life of Odiva, the famous swimmer and diver, who will appear at the Orpheum next season. She was picked up after a shipwreck by the natives of Samoa and raised by them until she was taken into the keeping of Englishmen, who educated her. She has the nautical art of the natives and the culture of her own countrymen.

* * *

Morris Meyerfield, Jr., of San Francisco, president of the Orpheum circuit, is now on his way to the old world on his usual quest for novelties, and incidentally pleasure. He was accompanied from Chicago to New York by Martin Beck, who journeyed to the Windy City expressly to meet him.

* * *

When playing in San Francisco recently, dainty little Bird Millman was done in oil by the well-known artist, Thomas Thoner. The canvas was presented to the little wire nymph.

* * *

A big production, with bucking broncos and other features typical of the "wild and wooly," will be seen at the Orpheum next season in "Cheyenne Days."

* * *

Maurice Gest, who became a son of David Belasco, by the marriage route, will produce for exploitation over the Orpheum circuit next season, a big ensemble feature entitled "The Darling of Paris."

* * *

The worthy heir and namesake of Pat Rooney, with Marion Bent, will be a feature of Orpheum bills in the near future.

* * *

Amy Rickard and Lester Lonergan are now in vaudeville in a little comedy that is scheduled for a date at the Orpheum.

* * *

The big noise on the Orpheum circuit this month will be heard in Los Angeles, where a beautiful new theater will be opened. Last month it was in Winnipeg where a new house was added to the chain.

* * *

AT THE HAPPY HOUR

The big act still holds the boards at the Happy Hour theater. The Dinky Dorum girls will be seen next week in a new show, introducing the team of Gladstone Brothers. The prices will remain the same. The films will include an Imp film, a Thanhauser and a Bison.

AT THE EMPRESS

With a thrilling acrobatic act as the principal attraction, the show at the Empress commencing Sunday matinee is one that is meeting with great success over the Sullivan & Considine circuit.

It is not often that an acrobatic act headlines a good vaudeville bill, but the Four Londons can easily top any bill. This act is comprised of two men and two women and their offering has been ranked as one of the best in its line. The audience finds plenty that is thrilling in witnessing the two young women doing somersaults and other equally difficult turns in midair fifteen to twenty-five feet above the stage. The young men work on unusually high bars, hanging by their feet and the two women do their stunts from the hands of the men. Frequently, they are tossed by one man to the other, performing many evolutions while in transit. The Four Londons work with one thing always in view, and that is, speed. It is their desire to present their numerous stunts in as short a time as possible. This accounts for their wonderful success as there is not a dull moment while they are on the stage, and they are working all the time.

This act requires plenty of nerve as the performers take their lives into their own hands at each performance and this they do without a thought of consequence. The young women are an illustration of feminine charm and grace, combined with physical strength. The Four Londons have appeared in all the principal hippodromes and circuses of Europe and were booked for an exclusive tour of the Sullivan & Considine circuit by its European agent, Mr. Obermayer, who has secured for this circuit many choice foreign attractions.

"Jackson's Honeymoon" is a new sketch which Somers and Storke will present, using it as a prelude to their xylophone playing. "This team has the idea of rapid action down to a science and their sketch goes like an alarm of fire," says a recent criticism, and it gets the audience laughing at the start, handing out the comedy so quickly that the laughs can't die out very well. 'Jackson's Honeymoon' has been voted one of the best laugh-getters in the business. It seems that all is not as it should be for the newly-married Jacksons, because one of the groom's friends plays a practical joke on them by writing Jackson that his wife has fits, which come on every other Wednesday. The friend says that the only way to control her when the fits are working is to slap her hands and feet. The wife receives a letter from the same joke-loving friend in which he explains to her that her husband has fits every other Wednesday and that when he is suffering from these, his mania seems to be to slap people's hands and feet. The letter then tells her the only way to subdue her husband is to 'soak' him. The result can be imagined. Mr. Somers is a Duluth boy and has a very wide acquaintance in this city, as he has lived here the greater part of his life."

In Caron and Herbert, the patrons of the Empress, it is claimed, will see two of the greatest knockabout comedy acrobats before the public. This team needs no introduction to the Duluth theater-goers, as they are known in every city where vaudeville is presented. Mr. Herbert is both a comedian and an acrobat. Usually a performer is a good acrobat but a poor comedian or a good comedian but a poor acrobat, but Mr. Herbert, it is claimed, combines both, and is claimed to be one of the foremost acrobatic comedians in vaudeville. His funny falls seem to indicate that he is constructed of some non-breakable material, as his tumbles from every conceivable angle and point would make an ordinary performer a candidate for a hospital. Mr. Caron contributes the sensational part of the act and his work is thrilling. This act, it is claimed, is so good that among performers it is used as a standard to judge other acts by and when an act is said to be nearly as good as Caron and Herbert, it considers itself as being highly complimented.

Pearl and Roth will present another of these acts on the rathskeller order. Both are said to be comedians of rare ability and to possess excellent voices and in addition to have mastered the art of ragtime piano playing. They will present a clever combination of song, comedy and piano playing. Their offering is termed "Forcing an Opportunity," which has no plot to follow but serves to give them a chance to display their talents.

As the added feature for the week, Al White's four dancing bugs will hold sway. Of all the acts arranged by Al White, this one is easily his masterpiece. The act consists of two men and two young women. The young women, in addition to being clever dancers, wear some very gorgeous costumes which set their act off in fine style. "They offer some very good eccentric dancing which is eccentric, and they make it look funny from the front," says a Milwaukee critic. A peculiar feature is the similiarity in physical appearance of the two men, as one pair, and the two girls as the other. It is difficult for one in the audience to tell the men apart and the same is even more true of the girls. The work of these four clever people covers a wide range of dancing and in hard shoe and soft shoe dancing, the four dancing bugs have won many laurels.

The moving pictures will be of the the same standard and will close a show that is right up-to-the-minute. A matinee daily at 2:45 and evening performances at 8 and 9:30. Seats may be reserved one week in advance by either telephone. A special school children's matinee is given every Saturday at 2:30, when all students under 14 years of age are admitted for 5 cents. Special attention is paid to the comfort and entertainment of ladies and children at all times.

GOSSIP OF THE RIALTO

Maude Adams' appearance in London in "Chantecler" is again talked of.

* * *

* * *

Sir Charles Wyndham celebrated his birthday Wednesday. He owns up to 74.

* * *

"The Whip," which established a new record by running two seasons at Drury Lane, is to be done in Paris.

* * *

* * *

"The Blue Bird" and "The Piper" closed the season with the New Theater company in New York.

* * *

"Excuse Me" is making a great hit in New York, where it is declared the funniest farce of the season.

* * *

Tetrazzini's farewell concert of the season at the New York Hippodrome drew an audience of 6,000 persons.

* * *

Harry Lauder's son, John, who is a student at the University of Cambridge, is distinguishing himself among the oarsmen there.

* * *

Having been successfully tried on the road, "The Belle of New York," condensed to a vaudeville sketch, is now to be featured at the London Palladium.

* * *

There is talk that Mildred Holland will present her own dramatization of "David Copperfield" when she closes in "The Triumph of an Empress."

* * *

Helena Frederick, who has been singing a tabloid version of "The Tales of Hoffman" in vaudeville, is soon to appear in a one-act operetta called "Gypsy Love."

* * *

Elizabeth Newbold, a young Australian soprano, is the latest "boom." She has the strong recommendation of Melba, and she is to be heard at the London Hippodrome.

* * *

Harry Kelly will not appear in support of Valeska Suratt, but will play the one-night stands in "His Honor, the Mayor," under the management of Al Aarons. Kelly formerly won success in this play.

* * *

* * *

Malcolm Scott is to figure as Glory Quayle in a vaudeville burlesque of "The Christian," which Wentworth Croke, who made a fortune with Hall Caine's play on the road, will shortly produce.

* * *

William Gillette's revival of "Held by the Enemy" met with such success that it had to be repeated a week in New York. "Sherlock Holmes" is meeting with like favor, it is said.

* * *

Louise Rutter, leading woman for William Gillette, is finishing a book which deals with the comparative moral, artistic and living standards of women of the stage in this country and Europe. The book will be published next fall.

* * *

Next season Lulu Glaser will manage herself. She will appear in a new musical piece, the book of which will be by Stanislaus Stange.

* * *

"A Romance of the Under World," a playlet in three scenes, by Paul Armstrong, is a drama of police courts and prisons, pretentious but splendidly staged and acted, according to New York reports.

* * *

Eddie Foy begins a vaudeville tour, under the direction of M. S. Bentham, at Cincinnati, Ohio, next Monday. He will have a new sketch, requiring a special scenic production and a company of four to support him.

* * *

Hilda Spong and company, under the direction of Alfred T. Wilton, will open at the Garrick theater, Wilmington, next week, in a new one-act playlet, written by Grace Heyer, entitled "The Woman Pays," staged by Henry Miller.

* * *

Thomas Terriss, the English actor, starring in vaudeville, is the son of William Terriss, who was shot at the stage door of a London theater years ago.

* * *

Arthur Cunningham, who used to star in Irish comedies, is playing a sort of George Monroe role at the Winter Garden, and his partner is Harry Fisher, who worked with Monroe in "The Midnight Sons."

* * *

Seymour Hicks' spectacular production of "Joan of Arc" is now promised for April 4 at the Coliseum in London. It will employ Ellaline Terriss as its heroine and 150 performers. Guy Laking, the king's armorer, has undertaken the supervision of the military detail.

* * *

Pauline Perry, now in vaudeville with the miniature opera, "The Silver Bottle," will have the prima donna role in a new Franz Lehar operetta next season. Weil and Darmstadter will make the production. E. A. Weil will be remembered as general manager for Walter N. Lawrence.

* * *

Margaret Anglin has accepted for production next year a new drama by Count Leo Tolstoi, the son of the late famous Russian author, who is visiting in this country. Count Tolstoi outlined to Miss Anglin the story of the play, a Russian drama, and she made a contract for it at once. The manuscript will be delivered by the middle of July.

* * *

The continuance of grand opera in Philadelphia has been assured by Edward T. Stokesbury, who has agreed to make up whatever deficiency there will be the current season. This, it is said, will amount to close to $100,000. In addition to this there will also be a guarantee of $100,000 to insure the presentation of grand opera for next season.

* * *

A peculiar feature of the performance of the French Grand Opera company is the absolute adherence by the stage manager to the traditions of the Parisian stage. As has been done in France for nearly 200 years, the rise of the curtain is announced on the floor with a wooden mallet in place of the electrical buzzer now commonly used in all American theaters; and the prompter's box, with its overshadowing hood, still occupies the center of the stage.

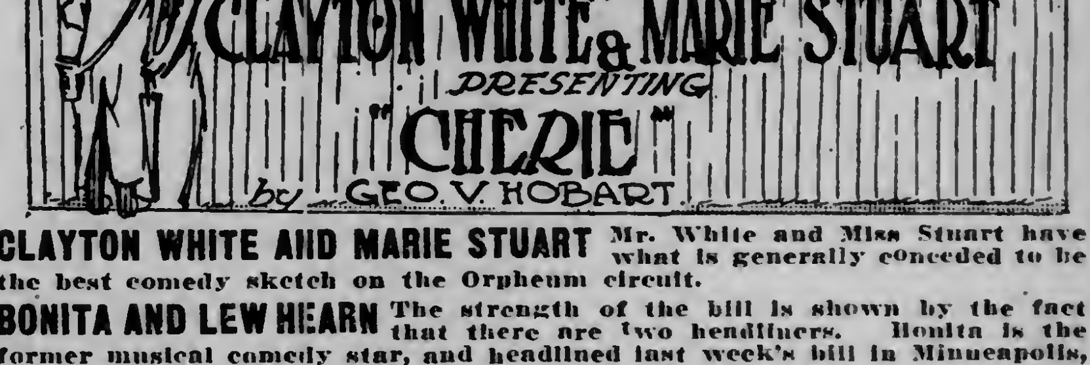
BILL FOR WEEK OPENING SUNDAY MATINEE, APRIL 23rd



CLAYTON WHITE AND MARIE STUART Mr. White and Miss Stuart have what is generally conceded to be the best comedy sketch on the Orpheum circuit.

BONITA AND LEW HEARN The strength of the bill is shown by the fact that there are two headliners. Bonita is the former musical comedy star, and headlined last week's bill in Minneapolis, while Mr. White and Miss Stuart were featured in Omaha.

RAYMOND AND CALVERLY These two clever performers are two of the best German comedians in the business.

CALIFORNIA GIRLS This little troupe of three girls include a pianist and vocalist, a violinist and a 'cellist. They have a dainty and refined musical act.

NARROW BROS. The Narrow Brothers are two very clever European trick cyclists, who feature comedy in their act.

QAL CARLETON This quaint comedian is known as "The Original Skinny Guy." He's just a long, lank monologist, who gives a monologue of about fifteen minutes that is a scream from start to finish.

ADONIS AND COMPANY The "company" in this act consists of a very clever little dog, Pierre, which hails from the gay capital of France. Don't miss him.

The Kinodrome and the Orpheum Concert Orchestra will complete the bill.

When "Mother" closes it tour Jane Corcoran, who has been playing Elizabeth Terhune in that production, and also played the title role for a short time, will make her second starring tour in Frances Aymar Mathew's play, "Pretty Peggy." It will be remembered that Grace George originally appeared in the play, in which the famous Peg Woffington is the central figure. The production will be made by Arthur C. Aiston and J. Emmett Baxter.

Sarah Bernhardt will appear again at the Globe theater in New York before she sails for home, presenting "Sister Beatrice," which has been seen at the New theater, and which she will produce at her own theater in Paris.

* * *

Liebler & Company have started rehearsals of "Marriage a la Carte," which is to be given a spring production in Chicago, beginning in two weeks. Many changes have been made in the dainty McLellan-Caryl musical comedy, and a large number of newcomers will be in the East when the new version is given. Emma Wehlen, the fascinating little lady from Vienna, will head the company.

* * *

The Shuberts announce that a new comedy by Rida Johnson Young began rehearsals yesterday and will be prepared for an immediate spring opening. The principal role in this new piece is to be played by Helen Lowell, who scored such a notable hit last year at the Bijou theater as Lizzie in Miss Young's other comedy, "The Lottery Man."

Fred C. Whitney, not content with having secured Richard Strauss's "Der Rosenkavalier" for America, has signed contracts with Jan Kubelik, violinist, to play eighty concerts in the independent theaters of the United States and Canada next season, opening in October in New York city, where two concerts will be given.

* * *

"The Woman," William C. De Mille's new play, which is to be presented by David Belasco at the National theater in Washington next Monday night, will have a cast comprising William Courtleigh, William Harrigan, Edwin Holt, Guy Nichols, John Ellis, Jane Peyton and Helen Ware. The play had a copywright performance in London last week.

* * *

A change was made in the personnel of Henry W. Savage's staff the other day, when T. Daniel Frawley succeeded Robert Hunter as chief of the engagement department. Hunter resigned his position in order to take charge of his summer stock company—the Hunter-Bradford players—at Hartford.

* * *

Not content with having written the novel and a part of the stage version of "The Garden of Allah," with which Liebler & Co. will open the New theater next season, Robert Hichens also has undertaken to compose its incidental music. Mr. Hichens studied music in Bristol and London for several years after leaving Clifton college.

* * *

Following the custom inaugurated by him several years ago, William A. Brady will make another all-star revival of a popular old drama this spring. This year's offering will be a massive scenic production of "The Lights o' London," with an all-star cast, including several actors now playing in New York.

"The Lights o' London," which was originally presented in this country at the Union Square theater by A. M. Palmer's company, and which has had several notable revivals since that time, is one of the most famous among English melodramas. It will be presented May 1, following the run of "The Deep Purple."

Jefferson De Angelis' new management is now Frazee & Lederer, who signed a contract with the comedian for a term of years.

Under the new auspices, De Angelis will appear next season in a musical piece entitled "The Jolly Tar," which he wrote himself out of his own head. The score is by William T. Francis, one of Charles Frohman's musical directors.

De Angelis has been nursing "The Jolly Tar" for a long while, always manifesting the utmost faith in its success. While playing in Pittsburg he gave a special performance of the piece. Instead of taking part in it himself, he cast Frank Doane, a member of his company, in the title role.

"The Cave Man," by Gellett Burgess, will be Robert Edeson's medium, under the direction of Henry B. Harris, next season.

Avery Hopwood and Robert Dempster, who have been in Europe for several weeks, went to Vienna for the first performance in that city of Mr. Hopwood's play, "Seven Days," after which they went to London. From the latter city Mr. Dempster sailed, April 12, for New York.

NEW PROGRAMS OF PHOTOPLAY

Bills for Coming Week at Odeum and Lyric Theaters.

"Madame Rex" is the big feature film this week at the Odeum theater. It tells the story of a woman who was forced, on the death of her husband, to assume the management of a gambling house. Her young child, a girl, she placed in a convent and kept her in ignorance of her occupation. Seventeen years after, the woman becomes engaged to a young nobleman. He meets the girl, falls in love with her, and the mother sacrifices her love that her daughter may be made happy. The film is both interesting and exciting and will be a big feature of this week's show.

Other films at the Odeum will be 'Easter Babes," "The White Squaw," and others. There will be an illustrated song by Mr. Caruso.

At the Lyric the bill of photo-play will be featured by "Opportunity and the Man." This is an intensely interesting story of two men. One man starts with the best of prospects, has money and is engaged to a beautiful girl. He falls, however, and becomes a common burglar. He is arrested and taken away by the police. The other man, presented by chance with a five-dollar note, uses it as a start in life. He makes good, marries the less fortunate man's sweetheart, takes over his beautiful home, and as the story books say, "lives happy ever after."

Other films at the Lyric will be "In Old Florida," "The Wooing of Winnifred" and others. There will be an illustrated song by Mr. Mistachkin.

BIG ELM TREE ON ROLLERS

Beautiful Tree at Brookline, Mass., on Property Owned By Franklin R. Webber, Formerly of Duluth, to Be Moved Forty-One Feet.

ELM TREE READY FOR MOVING.

A Boston paper gives the following account of the transplanting of a large and beautiful elm tree on property at Brookline, Mass., owned by Franklin R. Webber, formerly of Duluth:

"Unfavorable weather conditions interfered with the interesting work of transplanting a beautiful elm tree to a new resting place forty-one feet distant, on property owned by Franklin R. Webber, at the corner of Beacon and Kent streets, Brookline, this morning.

"The tree is to be moved in the same manner as a house is moved on blocks and rollers, the only difference being that the work of preparing the roots of the tree, so that they may be raised without being broken, is much more difficult than merely loosening a house from its foundations.

"D. F. Cosgrove of Malden, whom Mr. Webber secured to do the job, has everything in readiness for the 41-foot journey, and had it not been for the wind and rain this morning the large tree would have been started. Mr. Cosgrove expects to start the tree moving tomorrow.

"The tree is one of the most beautiful specimens in Brookline. It weighs fifteen tons, but when the tree starts, the blocks and rollers will bear a strain of forty-five tons, due to the fact that thirty tons of earth will be caried intact with the roots of the tree.

"An interesting plan has been devised by Mr. Cosgrove for moving the tree. First, the workmen got a line on how far the roots extended. Men who know say that roots of a tree do not extend further than its widest branches. This proved to be the case in the tree Mr. Cosgrove is moving. Then the men tunneled under the tree until they came within four inches of 'hardpan.' Six tunnels were dug, all meeting in the center. Three men worked on a tunnel.

"When the necessary earth was excavated the men shored up the tree and roots. A platform of blocks was formed about the street to hold it steady. Before starting the tree towards its new resting place it will be raised from the ground five feet, then the entire weight of forty-five tons will come on the blocks and rollers.

"The work is very difficult, from the fact that the tree now rests on a deep slope, and considerable care will have to be taken not to upset it. The tree will be moved by hand, the workmen using large bars to shove the rollers along.

"The most difficult part of the work will be the replanting, where great care will have to be taken in laying the roots. The roots of the tree are in excellent condition. The tree is 45 years old, and according to Mr. Cosgrove will live through two generations.

"When the tree is finally replanted two 4-inch pipes are to be sunk beneath it, and into these water will be run for 50 minutes every day all this summer, to nourish the roots and insure their healthy condition. Steel guys will be placed across the tree to hold it firm for the first month or two, as the wind is liable to make it sway and thus injure the roots.

"This is the twenty-first tree Mr. Cosgrove has transplanted, and he says it is the largest one he has moved in this state.

"Mr. Webber, who lives at the Touraine, is to have a house erected on the spot now occupied by the tree. In looking over the tree he found that it was such a fine specimen that it would be a shame to cut it down. It is costing him over $500 to have it moved. Mr. Cosgrove says the tree is worth $2,000.

"Before starting the work all branches of the tree will be cut back and treated, so that the roots might draw more strength. It is likely that the tree will be rather backward for the first year, but after that it should be just as good as ever. The soil surrounding it is said to be very good."

LITTLE DICKY, THE LOST WILD DUCK

A BIRD DAY STORY.

(By D. Lange.)

WHEN we found little Dicky, both he and we were in distress. Our party had been caught in a storm on Devils lake, North Dakota, and we had been compelled to beach our steel launch on the shore of a somewhat sheltered bay. Some of our party had their life preservers on, expecting to swim for their lives any minute.

Little Dicky, being a duck, did not need life preservers, but his trouble was even more serious than our own, because he was a very little duck, scarcely twenty-four hours old, and he had lost his mother. When we found him he was paddling with his little feet as fast as he could, trying to swim across the bay against wind and white caps. "Peep, peep, peep, peep," he called with a high baby voice as he struggled out to sea, but the result was always the same; no sooner did he reach the crest of the incoming breaker than wind and wave caught him with full force, and, wet and tired and covered with flecks of seething foam, he was cast back on the beach from which he had started.

Joe, our 14-year-old boy, picked him up and we all wished that we could take him back to his mother on the leeward side of the bay, but the bay was too shallow for our launch and we had no small boat with which to search for his mother, so Joe put Dicky in the hollow palms of his hands and took him along.

Dicky did not try very hard to get away when we caught him; in fact he was so tired out that his little legs could neither run nor paddle very fast, nor did he seem to care whether we took him along or not.

After five or ten minutes Joe opened his hands. "Oh, look here!" he exclaimed, "my little duck is asleep."

There sat the little wild creature, the tip of his bill tucked under a stubby wing, with his eyes closed, as happy and content in the boy's hands as a baby in his mother's arms.

A little later we went to explore the shore for half a mile. As it was rather inconvenient to carry the little duck with us, we wrapped him up in a blue handkerchief and put him down on the warm and sheltered side of a boulder. He opened his eyes dreamily and uttered a few "peeps," but seemed quite willing to continue his nap and enjoy a warm and dry place.

When half an hour later we returned to look for him he was gone. We did not expect to see him again and went down to the lake to make sure that our launch was not pounding. As I walked along the sandy beach Joe called out to me, saying:

"Look out, there is the little duck; don't step on him."

And there he was, calling with his fine baby voice and looking like a disconsolate child that has lost his mother and appeals to strangers for help. He did not try to get into the lake this time, but came towards, and when Joe bent down to pick him up he made no real effort to get away, although he did seem a little afraid.

As Joe found it rather awkward to carry the little duck in his hand, he put him in his coat pocket, which Dicky accepted at once in place of his mother's sheltering wings and warming breast. We found several patches of wild strawberries, and while we were picking berries Dicky was given his liberty, which he improved by picking small, whitish flies and other insects off the vines and grasses. He showed no longer any fear of us, and when we moved from our patch to another he allowed himself to be picked up by Joe and carried along, resting cotnentedly in Joe's pocket as we looked for fresh strawberry patches or walked about after other things of interest.

Towards evening we went to a farm house for supper. Joe would not part with Dicky, and while we were eating an occasional soft "peep" came from Joe's pocket. When bedtime came we made a camping place in the farmer's barn and Joe hung his coat on a nail. For sometime, while we were still talking we heard now and then a faint chirp from Dicky. But soon we all fell asleep, after the hardships and adventures of the day.

Next morning when Joe woke up and looked for his duck we were all half afraid that Dicky might have scrambled out and been lost during the night, but he was there answering with a lusty "peep, peep." The night, although it was the middle of July, had been quite chilly, but Joe's pocket evidently had been just the right substitute for the wings and warm body of Dicky's mother.

We now felt that Dicky ought to have a substantial breakfast, because we knew that he did not get very much to eat the day before. I softened some bread in sweet cream and tried to feed him. However, while Dicky knew by instinct how to catch bugs off the weeds, he did not know how to eat bread from a toothpick. He did eat some, but it was slow work. Then it struck me he might pick his food out of a shallow dish of water, and this plan worked better. His instinct come to his assistance, and it was interesting to watch him dabble about in the saucer in true duck fashion. It was not long before he had fished out a square breakfast, and he concluded by trying to take a swim in the dish.

But now the question came up again what to do with him. We had no means of keeping him and caring for him permanently; the farmer had no flock of young ducks which he might have joined, so it was decided that the best thing to do was to let him go. In my coat pocket I carried him down to the lake shore. Here I picked out a nice grassy pond, where I thought he would have a good chance to survive and grow up. I sat down on the margin of the pond, reached out my arm as far as I could, gently put little Dicky afloat on the quiet pool and started to walk away.

And then occurred one of the most touching scenes I have ever witnessed in bird or animal life. I had expected that Dicky would strike out for the middle of the pond. He did nothing of the kind. As soon as I turned he came swimming and running after me as fast as his little legs would work. In a most imploring manner, entirely different from the contented chirp in Joe's pocket, he uttered his appealing call. "Oh, please don't leave me, don't go away, take me with you!" he seemed to say.

I did not have the heart to leave him, but sat down to watch what he would do. He bagan to feed at once, running about in the short grass and picking off numerous small whitish flies. Once or twice he caught a large black fly, which seemed to have a bad taste, for he shook his head violently, threw the fly out of his bill and caught no more of that kind, although the insect was so common and conspicuous. I stayed with him and watched him feeding fully half an hour. In whatever direction I turned he quickly and anxiously followed, uttering an alarmed plaintive "peep, peep" if I started suddenly. To the appeals of such an innocent and pretty little creature I could do nothing else but take him back with me and return him to Joe.

The boy kept him all day, alternately watching him forage for insects and having him sleep in his coat pocket. The little creature seemed to be getting stronger from hour to hour and ranged further, and I suggested to Joe that he fix up some safe little box for him for the night. We had now decided that we had to keep him and I was afraid without some safe sleeping quarters we might accidentally hurt or lose him.

After supper, several of us sat talking near some tall weeds and had not thought of Dicky for about half an hour. At the conclusion of some story Joe felt in his pocket for Dicky.

"Oh, my little duck is gone. Dicky is gone!" he exclaimed. We spent some time looking and listening for him, among the weeds, but Dicky was gone, and we never saw him again.

Dicky may have worked his way to the lake shore, where food was abundant and where, at that time, his enemies were not numerous. Perhaps he even found his mother again, or some other mother duck allowed the little orphan to join her flock until he had learned the many things a duckling must know before he can take care of himself.

WHAT IS PATRIOTISM?

Does Not Consist in Heroism Alone—Means Protection of the Country in Its Rights, By Maintaining Its Laws and Institutions—How Can Patriotism Be Taught?

By LAFAYETTE BLISS.

THE love of country and the passion which moves a person to serve his country by defending it from its enemies is called patriotism. When we think of patriotism we usually think of that spirit which prompts a man to shoulder a gun and go out in defense of his native land. But while patriotism means heroism, it means more than that. It means the constant positive action of the will, which in times of peace as well as in war, operates to protect the fatherland in its rights, by maintaining its laws and institutions. Bishop Berkeley says in one of his maxims that "where the heart is right, there is true patriotism." How can this spirit of patriotism be infused into the hearts of the young, or is it possible to teach patriotism? I believe that in many ways love of country may be fostered in our schools.

Patriotism is not necessarily taught, however, by simply flying the flag over the schoolhouse, or by saluting it in grandiloquent phrase, or by mere instruction upon the structure and working of our government, or by loud boasting of our achievements in war, or by an accurate knowledge of the dollars and cents of our commercial supremacy, althought these may be made an important means to that end.

A boy may learn to salute the flag with eloquence and grace, but if as a man he debauches his fellow citizens by giving or accepting a bribe, he has not learned the lesson of patriotism. If as a boy he shouts with fervor and enthusiasm, "My country 'tis of thee," but as a man he thinks it no crime to cheat and rob that country, then he is not the stuff out of which patriots are made, or he was spoiled in the making. He may pass 100 per cent in civics in the school, but if his heart is not right he will be intolerant of the rights and opinions of others, he will not be willing to give a due share of his time and energy to public affairs and he will be continually placing party before country.

Patriotism Begins About the Hearthstone.

The teaching of patriotism should begin in the home at a very tender age. It is safe to say that if a boy is not a patriot in his heart at the age of 10 he will never be one. Home is the first school and in the home must be laid the foundation of all the civic virtues. There he must learn his first lessons to cheerfully submit to rightful authority, there he must receive his first impulses to earn an honest living, to cherish worthy ambitions, to be persistent in right things, to have due regard for the rights of others, to cultivate self-respect and self-control. There would be little if any lawlessness in the state were there no lawlessness in the home. Shall we expect law-abiding, patriotic citizens, to grow from children uncontrolled in the home, or shall we not see that anarchy in the home means anarchy in the state? Men do not gather figs from thistles.

There seems to be among us a widespread misconception as to the real meaning of liberty. Personal liberty does not mean an absolute release from obedience to anything but one's own will. It means merely freedom of choice, whether we choose to follow our own unrestrained wills, or to render obedience to the will of another, or the will of our fellows as set forth in the laws, customs and rules of civilized society. It would be well for our country if every boy before the age of 10 would learn that personal liberty at no time in life releases him from obedience to something. The simplest acts of life, in the home, the school, and the state are surrounded by restrictions and limitations, and the sooner he learns this, the better citizen he will make and the happier he will be. He is hemmed in on all sides by these restrictions or laws, which are natural, moral, or legal. If he jumps from a great height, gravity is not set aside to save him; if he puts his hand into the fire it is burned; nature's laws are inexorable and she exacts a penalty for every violation. He must learn to obey the customs of society and to yield obedience to the legal requirements of the state or he will suffer some loss, material or otherwise. Thus we see that obedience to well-considered laws lies at the foundation of good citizenship, and every well-regulated home will devote its energies to the securing of a wiling obedience of its children to the authority of parents, teachers, social and business customs, and the moral and legal requirements of the state. This is the foundation of patriotism.

The Duty of the School.

But what can the school do toward the teaching of patriotism? The schools have done much in the past and will do more in the future than in the past toward aspiring a true patriotism, a patriotism which loathes everything that brings shame to a nation's honor, or to its reputation before the world. The school that forms in its pupils habits of punctuality, industry, a love of work, respect for law and order, and an intense passion in their hearts to see their country glorious through the reign of intelligence, honor and justice in all its public affairs, that school is teaching practical patriotism—a patriotism that will make our country "best to live in and easiest to die for." Our schools need to teach the boys and girls that the patriotism of the political boss and the spoils politician is a sham patriotism, although as a rule they pass for the most intensely patriotic citizens in their communities. The patriots most needed today are those who are willing to take an infinite amount of pains—patient determined, long-continued, not spasmodic pains, to give the American people good government and save American institutions from the political pirates and despotic freebooters that like a crowd of black harpies have taken possession of the government in many places, especially in our large cities. This kind of patriotism is the kind that is most required today, and while it is not as showy as dying for one's country on the battle field, yet he who devotes his life to preserving the honor of his country and protecting her institutions, is as much a hero as he who, in a moment of ardent enthusiasm, gives his life for that country in war. Men have always found it easier to die for their country than to live for it.

Developed Local Patriotism First.

Another thing that I would have the children taught in school is that patriotism like charity should begin at home. One of the troublesome problems of today is the government of our cities. Many people who are patriotic enough about national affairs are totally lacking in local patriotism. In recent years the American city has forged ahead in political importance owing to the increasing drift of American life into it, and when we stop to consider the magnitude of interests which hang upon its proper development, we must be convinced that the field for municipal patriotism is wider and more important here in America than in any other country in the world. The government of a city will be as pure and honest and as intelligent as the mayor, aldermen and other men who officer its various departments are pure and honest and intelligent, and no more so. Why should we not give more attention to local matters of government and not get so excited about Canadian reciprocity, the Mexican insurrection and other matters far removed from our homes?

Dynamic Patriotism.

The foundation of the work in teaching patriotism must be based upon the teaching of good morals, but children's imaginations must be appealed to, and their enthusiasm must be inspired, otherwise their patriotism will be of that weak, passive, negative, conscienceless kind which allows so many otherwise good men to be absolutely indifferent to every public duty. Patriotism like religion is an appeal to the imagination. Do you think there would be as many stay-at-home voters among our better citizens, as many political scandals, such frequent barter of ballots, and would the leaders of our great business houses, railroad, and other corporations lay themselves open to accusations of criminal complicity in bad government so often, if men's imaginations were quickened to show the true relation of such evils to the fair fame and fortune of our republic? I believe not. Most men who practice these forms of civic treachery, would give their lives to repel a foreign foe and would regard as treason, treachery to their country under stress of war. Can they not be made to see that treachery to the principles of the republic is as fatal in times of peace as in war?

A Concrete Example.

For an object lesson in the teaching of patriotism come with me in your imagination to a mining and lumbering town on the Mesaba iron range. It is Memorial day, the one national holiday left that is celebrated with dignity and patriotic decorum. The sun shines bright and the earth is carpeted with green and white flowers. We are standing on the public school grounds. Assembled there, are citizens to the number of several thousand, many among the assembled throng are learning their first lesson in American patriotism for they were born under alien skies. They are watching intently the main entrance of the large school building. Soon there is seen coming down the steps young men and maidens, boys and girls to the number of 2,500, all clad in gala-day attire, with wreaths of flowers and with banners and flags thrown to the breeze, as their lines pass between the lines of the proud fathers and mothers on either side. They are the jewels of their parents and the hope of this land. A procession is formed headed by the band. Those boys in the band may not be the most accomplished musicians, but when they blow their horns and beat their drums, and the familiar strains of "The Star Spangled Banner," and "O Columbia, the Gem of the Ocean" are wafted back over the lines they mean every note, and the hearts of all are with them. Through the main street they march and back to the spacious auditorium where in unison they give this salute to the best flag that ever floated in the blue air of heaven: "I pledge allegiance to my flag, and to the republic for which it stands; one nation indivisible, with liberty and justice for all." Then three rousing cheers are given for the red, white and blue, and three more for the brave men of two wars who at different times in our history took their lives in their hands and went forth to do battle that the principles of the republic might endure and be spread over the earth. Such a sight, my fellow citizens, can be seen in no other land but our own. Then the pupils of the different rooms take their respective positions in the hall which has been tastefully decorated in the national colors. Then songs are sung by the large school chorus, and the boys' glee club, breathing forth sentiments of the most fervid patriotism. A speaker, one of their teachers addresses them. The substance of his remarks is as follows:

An Address to the Young.

"My friends: This day and the thoughts which it suggests are dedicated to that which is highest and noblest in man. Our flag which you have been saluting on your line of march and here in this hall, is the symbol of our government, the freest, the best and the most just government on the face of the earth. This government was founded in this new land by our forefathers in faith and prayer and patriotic zeal. They left their own homes, homes that they loved, across the ocean and came to this new land that they might be free. It was their desire, and it should always continue to be the desire of their descendants, that wherever the streaming folds of this flag are seen, no matter where carried upon the earth, there should spring up hope and inspiration in the hearts of the oppressed and down-trodden. In our country we have no monarch and no hereditary lawmakers. Our citizens are the most intelligent in the world. Here public schools make it possible for every one to get an education, and good books and magazines are found in every home. We should be proud of our native land, and be ever watchful to do those acts which will reflect credit upon its reputation and refrain from doing anything that in any way would stain with meanness and dishonor its fair name. We can be proud of the solid merits of our country and its achievements in the arts of civilization without being boastful. The true patriot, while he is pained at the triumph of evil men and vicious measures, does not spend his time in useless fault-finding and political whining, but he works hard to make his country stronger and better.

"These old soldiers in whose honor we are assembled today, set an example in 1861, of patriotic devotion to the Union, which shall be revered by their countrymen throughout all future time. We like to see men who stand for something—for high principles of right and justice. These men not only stand for their principles and voted for their principles, but they went forth on the field of awful carnage, amid gleaming bayonets and clashing steel, amid the din and roar of conflict and supported those principles by force of arms that we might have a country. The debt of liberty we owe them we can never fully pay, but we can emulate their example by standing firmly for what we believe to be right. Liberty, my friends, is something that cannot be won for all time, and those who would continue free must be ever ready to strike a blow in their own behalf. A real live, growing nation can never be entirely free from dangers, but each generation must face its own dangers and solve its own problems. If the American republic ever furnishes a theme for a Gibbon—which I pray God it never may—it will be because this generation, or some succeeding generation, had not the patriotism, the virtue, and the moral courage to solve the problem and face the difficulties of their own time.

"We have many dangers with which to contend. The seductive promises of agitators who offer to substitute state-help for self-help are undermining the sturdy independence of our younger citizens, more and more of whom are joining the ranks of the voluntary idle. Why should a young man plan for an honest, independent living by hard work when he is assured that the state will provide for all his wants later? But be not deceived, my friends, that program will never be put into operation.

"Another danger that we should guard against is the growing disrespect for law and order among certain classes of our citizens. Evidence of this is seen in the crime of lynching, confined not alone to the Southern states, for 3,000 persons have been lynched in sixteen years in forty states, only five states being free from this crime. Think of the fact that under the shadow of the Constitution, human beings have been put to death without trial or proof of guilt—not only have they been put to death but many have been tortured—burned at the stake in the presence of large masses of citizens, with all the hideous, inhuman barbarities, that only the most cruel, uncivilized Indian tribes have practiced. Let us take this blot from our flag. Anarchitsts, or the inhuman practices of anarchists, should never be tolerated in our fair land.

"The license of speech and print in this country amounts to what George W. Cable calls 'our national vanity of liberty.' The slanders and distempered misjudgments of a wanton yellow press, that grossly abuses and outrageously misrepresents public officials, causes multitudes of people to look upon men in public life as outcasts and criminals. We Americans need to cultivate more reverence and less arrogance in the look from below upward to our political superiors. There are other dangers that ought to be mentioned in this connection but time will not permit of their discussion.

"I believe our most insidious dangers are within the body politic and not without it. We have no need to fear the envious rivals of the old world, but we do need to fear the corruption of money, which like a canker worm is gnawing at the heart of society, breeding sloth, indolence, luxurious immorality, the loss of manliness and moral courage. We do need to fear lest we sink to meaner ideals, to coarser ways of life, to more vulgar types of literature and art, to a more open craving after wealth, and a more insolent assertion of pride and force.

"Yet while these dangers are very real, I am firmly of the conviction that the people, whose progenitors enacted Magna Charta, the Great Declaration, and the Emancipation Proclamation, have the moral force and virtue to overcome them."

Thus he spoke, and a great cheer of approval went up, for their imaginations and consciences were touched. Then after covering with flowers the graves of the veterans of the Civil war and the Spanish war, who lie buried in the cemeteries of that place, they all went to their homes, having received a lesson in patriotism which none will soon forget.

The Proper Use of Commemorative Occasions.

The public holidays that are provided for in the laws of the state should be kept in the spirit of the law. I believe that in no case was it the intention that school children should be turned adrift on the streets with no appropriate exercises to commemorate the particular days. There is no better opportunity for inspiring patriotism in the hearts of the young than the sober, earnest contemplation for an hour or more, of the life and services of some man or woman who has done something for humanity and our country. On Washington's bithday, every public school in the land should devote some time to the consideration of that one American character which has stood the test of time and has grown brighter with the years."

It is one of the characteristics of our age that the great statesman, poet, artist, musician, philanthropist, and even educator is entitled to rank as high as the warrior and soldier—a distinction which had never been accorded in the history of the world, until the days of the great republic. What an awakening there would be, and what an elevated patriotism would be inspired, if on the birthdays of each of the following, one hour a year could be devoted to an earnest consideration of their services to the world: Lincoln the emancipator; Franklin the philosopher-statesman; Webster the defender of the Constitution; Jefferson the scholar-president; Grant the greatest general of modern times; Marshall, Kent, and Story, the great jurists who made foreigners respect us, and made us respect ourselves through the reign of law; Fulton, who with his steam navigation changed the Mississippi valley from a wilderness to the garden of the world; Morse, who made it possible for a man to send his thoughts by lightning, over mountains and plains and under the waves of the sea; Whitney whose cotton gin made cotton king; Beecher, Mann, Emerson, Hawthorne, and Longfellow, who contributed each in his own way to the eternal glory of the American name. We Americans should be proud of the men grown on our soil, for America truly means opportunity. Every public school room should be a hall of fame, on the walls of which should be hung the portraits of America's greatest men and women, for the teaching of biography is an important means to be employed in teaching patriotism. To guard against domestic dangers, even more than foreign dangers; to educate the people and all the people in ways of correct living and in the high duties of citizenship, to lead pure lives and to cultivate noble purposes, these are the essential duties of every American patriot today, "that the republic may receive no detriment," that the nation may rise in true majesty, and that democratic government may not disappear from the earth.

$3.50 Recipe Cures Weak Kidneys, Free

Wouldn't it be nice within a week or so to begin to say good-bye forever to the scalding, dribbling, straining or too frequent passage of urine; the forehead and the back-of-the-head aches; the stiches and pains in the back; the growing muscle weakness; spots before the eyes; yellow skin, sluggish bowels; swollen eyelids and ankles; leg cramps; unnatural short breath; sleeplessness and the despondency?

I have a recipe for these troubles that you can depend on, and if you want to make a quick recovery, you ought to write and get a copy of it. Many a doctor would charge you $3.50 just for writing this prescription, but I have it and will be glad to send it to you entirely free. Just drop me a line like this: Dr. A. E. SHAFT OF THE LUCKY BOY BOTTOMED IN RICH ORE

Great Showing Encountered at Depth of Fifty-Six Feet.

New Ore Body Discovered on the Section 30 Property.

Ely, Minn., April 22.—(Special to The Herald.)—At a depth of fifty-six feet the north shaft of the "Lucky Boy" group of iron mines is bottomed in solid ore that averages 61.10 per cent in iron and .034 per cent in phosphorus.

The Kennedy interests are in high feather and all Ely is stirred over the news. It is declared that such a showing of magnitude and richness never before has been made at that depth in all the history of the Vermilion iron range.

Local mining men are amazed at the grade of ore encountered. One of the most prominent in the district has made some comparisons of deep interest. He has taken the figures of the Lake Superior Ore association for a recent year, those figures being the natural assay, showing cargo averages for an entire season, as follows:

	Iron.	Phosphorus.
Chandler	57.93	.0378
Pioneer	60.07	.0353
Savoy	60.167	.0365
Section 30	59.57	.0699
Section 30, Bessemer	59.97	.0425
North shaft, Lucky Boy group	61.10	.034

This North shaft on the "Lucky Boy" group has been a record-breaker and history-maker from the very beginning. An outcrop of iron ore was discovered by accident. Surveyors at work knocked off a small fragment of what was taken for greenstone. By chance, this fragment was picked up and the under side showed iron ore of startling quality. Work was started and, at a depth of twenty feet, the shaft bottomed in solid ore, and has kept in that condition every foot of the way. Greater depth, with lateral workings, will be awaited on the range with keen interest.

Two Shafts Being Sunk.

Diamond drilling was done liberally last year on the "Lucky Boy" group and attractive bodies of ore were proven at different depths. The work now under way is development rather than exploration. Two shafts are being sunk, the North and the South, but the South shaft will be the main working one. It now is down sixty-five feet and openings will be driven from the bottom in three different directions at a depth of about 125 feet. Ore-bodies will be opened up and, among other work, connection made between the North and the South shaft, a distance of about 500 feet. At present, twenty-two men are employed.

The "Lucky Boy" group of mines is equipped with comfortable camp buildings and a steam power plant of ample capacity. Steam drills are being worked at present, but, early in May, compressed air will be available. The Vermilion-Mesaba Iron company has purchased an air compressor of 8-drill capacity and it is on the way to the mines.

The "Lucky Boy" group of iron mines is less than a mile from Ely. It is in a trough, between distinct greenstone walls, that cuts the country right through to the Chandler mine at Ely. There are 280 acres in the group—80 acres in the southwesterly part of section 33, 63-12 120 acres in the northeasterly part of section 5, 62-12, and 120 acres in the northwesterly part of section 4, 62-12. The three properties in the group are contingous and form practically a solid tract.

The quiet, successful financing of this work is the admiration of this end of the Vermilion iron range. Just how it has been done, the public has no details but results speak for themselves.

The avowed purpose of Mr. Kennedy, is to skillfully and quickly make the "Lucky Boy" group a shipper of iron ore. The showing in the North shaft, together with diamond drill results, inspire great local confidenec as to the outcome.

New Ore Body at Section 30.

But the Lucky Boy group is not the only history maker around Ely. Many local mining men have been willing to admit that Section 30 had about 500,000 tons of good iron ore developed but have refused to commit themselves further. The sale of 225,000 tons for shipment this season failed to influence their figures.

Now comes an unoffiical but credible report that, during the past winter, the Section 30 operators have found an entirely new and distinct ore body, one that was utterly unknown before, and that, already, 2,500,000 tons of ore have been proven.

These figures are hard for some people to accept but fair minded and competent mining men credit them.

Everything is moving along splendidly at Section 30. A large force is employed. The camp is growing. Houses are being added constantly and families steadily move in, thus making the place populous, permanent important. Very close to 1,000 tons a day are being hoisted and shipments for the season soon will begin.

At the Chandler.

Capt. Kent is doing great work on the old Chandler. This mine was the first producer at Ely and has a record of 9,537,378 tons. The United States Steel corporation decided that there was not enough ore left to warrant another season's operation and therefore surrendered the lease a couple of years ago.

When Capt. Kent came back last year to start work in the interests of a little company of wise men, much laughter was the result. That laughter became much louder when an opinion was expressed that about 4,000,000 tons of ore would yet be hoisted from the Chandler.

Capt. Kent is working sixty men, divided into two shifts. He has a stockpile of about 40,000 tons of as fine hematite ore as any one could wish. It is claimed that the revival of the Chandler mine already has resulted in the development of 1,000,000 tons of merchantable ore. The greater portion of the ore on the stockpile has come from exploration work.

"Dave Adams Homestead."

Capt. E. F. Bradt is making some swift history around Ely. For many months, he has represented interests that undertook the thorough exploration of the "Dave Adams Homestead," held under option by the Section 30 Exploration company. Two diamond drills have been in operation all winter. Machinery is on hand for shaft sinking and it is believed that work soon will begin.

A short time ago, two heavy duty diamond drills moved onto the northeast quarter of section 25, 63-12. This property be.onged to the Lazarus Silverman estate. Parties not positively known have secured it. Capt. Bradt has charge of the exploration. One report has it that a cash bonus of $50,000 was one of the considerations. Some declare that Cleveland money is back of the deal while others declare that it is New York money.

This property was drilled considerably years ago, with varying results.

White Iron Lake.

The local belief is that there is a deal on whereby the White Iron Lake Company soon will turn over its property in section 2, 62-12. President La Brec, however, has kept silent when questioned.

On the 155-foot level of the White Iron Lake mine, a cross-cut was run 175 feet. A drift 15 feet long, at the end of the cross-cut, is in ore that assays from 50 to 55 per cent.

A crew is doing some test-pitting and the second blast in a pit, started southerly from the shaft, threw out ore as solid and heavy as anything at the Soudan mine. Samples at the hotel here indicate a very high percentage in iron. The body is about seven feet wide where found.

Work will begin next week on the property in sections 2 and 3, right west of the White Iron Lake mine. The fee belongs to P. D. Jones, Pames La Brec and E. Morin. An option has been taken by the Frederick Mining company, backed by Chicago, Detroit and Ely capitalists. This deal has been worked through by F. C. Platt, superintendent at the White Iron Lake mine, a young man, but a graduate of the Michigan Colleges of Mines and very successful so far on the Vermilion range.

Westerly from Ely, along the core of the Soudan iron-bearing formation, there is general activity. Drilling is said to show excellent results on the John Smith property, south of the Southall mine, in section 9, 62-13.

Diamond drilling is progressing on the John Bisbee claim under the patronage of the Duluth-Vermilion Iron company. No reports as to results have been heard.

Almar Is Busy.

The Almar Iron mining company is setting a hot pace in section 15, 62-14. A finely organized crew of miners is working and the company is showing energy and enthusiasm that is inspiring to the entire range. An effort is being made to induce the county commissioners to construct a wagon road across the Almar, to the McCue and thence to the Mud Lake group and the Knife Lake slate belt east of Pine island.

Nothing special has developed recently with the Marquette & Vermilion, but General Manager Barrett expects to have a crew at work soon.

Drilling is in progress at the Irona, but bad roads delay reports. It is reported that President Fred Rossom has had a very attractive offer to turn this property over to an operating company.

Two drills are working on the Vermilion Steel & Iron extension. The shaft on Vermilion Steel & Iron is down 220 feet, bottomed in mixed greenstone and paintrock. If ore is not struck before that, cross-cutting will be started when the 250-foot level is reached, but if the shaft breaks into ore above that level, it will be sunk on down into the ore body. The shaft is 6 by 14 feet in the clear and, so far, no water has been encountered.

Scott-Bevier Property.

Impassable roads have held up late reports from the Scott-Bevier property in section 36, 63-15. The shaft is down ninety feet, bottomed in mixed ore. Hole No. 13 at a depth of 231 feet had passed through 190 feet of broken ore. Hole No. 14, now in progress, was down 171 feet, bottomed in low grade ore at a depth of 171 feet. As high as twenty feet in twenty-four hours were being drilled when the last report was received.

The Vermilion Iron Development company is making brilliant history on the Pine Island property of 320 acres. The big working shaft is down about 170 feet, bottomed in mighty promising ore. After the first of the month, two drills will be going steadily in this shaft. Cross-cutting probably will begin at the 250-foot level.

The company will instal an electrical lighting plant and a new and very effective electrical drill, manufactured by the Fort Wayne, Ind., Electric works. This drill is doing wonderful work in the Canadian Northern tunnel near Duluth and it is claimed that standard air drills cannot equal its efficiency. The full complement of machinery—engine, generator, dynamo, drills, etc., has been ordered and will be installed as soon as navigation opens.

A new boat, named Pine Island, 36-feet long, 8-foot beam of 24-horse power capacity, has been shipped to Tower and will be ready as soon as navigation opens.

An office and small clubhouse have been completed at the mine for the convenience of Supt. Carmichael and visitors at the mine.

The company has on hand a large quantity of coal and camp supplies, therefore bad roads and the impending breakup of the ice do not retard work.

North American.

T. J. Walsh announces that trouble with water at the big concrete shaft at the North American is over. The big pumps will be stopped, thus reducing costs, and a No. 7 Cameron put in, that now being ample, Mr. Walsh states, for all requirements. Sinking night and day, seven days a week, has been resumed and every one is in high feather around the works. Twenty-two men are employed at present.

It is reported that the North American hotel has the second story up and it is announced that the brick plant will be in operation soon.

Two drills are at work on the Minnesota Steel & Iron company's property. Hole No. 7 showed fifty-one feet of exceptionally good ore and fifty feet not quite so good. Water from the drills now runs as red as blood.

There is a little stir around the Roy mine lately. One report has it that a carload of Roy ore will be shipped to the Jones furnace for a test.

Paul Chamberlain, who recently resigned his position as superintendent of the Walsh mines, is taking a short rest. It is believed by some that he will identify himself with the J. C. McGreevy interests.

With the resignation of Mr. Chamberlain comes the announcement that E. F. Bradt, one of the most clever mining men in America, will act as consulting engineer for the Walsh interests.

La Chance Mine.

On the La Chance mine Mr. La Brec has resumed drilling in Hole No. 1. It was drilled 666 feet deep, and now will be drilled several hundred feet deeper for the purpose of catching and testing another belt of formation to the south, believed to be a continuation of the choice formation cutting the Minnesota Steel & Iron company's land.

Travel in connection with iron matters is very heavy on the range. As soon as navigation opens and roads have dried up, some very prominent iron men are expected to make tours of the range. At no time since the revival of exploration on the Vermilion has the outlook for activity, capital and results been more bright.

BUTTE INDEPENDENTS ARE GETTING INTO CONDITION

Will Be Able to Add Largely to the Montana Production.

Financial Arrangements Finally Made By the Butte & Superior.

Butte, Mont., April 22.—(Special to The Herald.)—Several very important independent copper mining companies in the Butte district are getting into condition to add largely to the Montana production whenever the call of the market warrants it, and a few others are also making developments to that end. The most important of the independents, of course, is the East Butte, which owns a big mine and also a smelter. While the East Butte is out-putting about 1,000,000 pounds of copper a month, it could easily double that production, as it has opened several very large and rich ore bodies in the Pittsmont mine. The second largest independent producer is the Tuolumne company, but its oputput also is restricted to about one-third of its capacity. The Butte-Alex Scott is making regular shipments to the East Butte smelter, but it is not attempting a large production, though its mine is capable of it. The Butte-Ballaklava company developed a magnificent mine to the producing stage when it got into a controversy wtih the Anaconda company over one of the veins, and work on that had to be stopped pending litigation, but other veins are being opened and the Butte-Ballaklava people say they will begin production again soon. The Butte & Superior company, a concern of many vicissitudes and the misfortune of an ill heritage from promoters and others who were orginally connected with the company, has finally made financial arrangements and is carrying on mining, making shipments of about 300 to 400 tons of zinc and copper ore daily. The Elm Orlu Mining company, a Clark corporation, has good producers in the Elm Orlu and Poser mines, which are big profit owners for the ex-senator. The Butte Central Copper company has a producing property in the Ophir mine and is blocking out ore while the shaft is being sunk deeper. Preparations are being made to resume work on the Pilot mine, adjoining the Elm Orlu, by the Pilot-Butte Mining company, which is now controlled by the Tuolumne people, who are confident that they will be able to develop the Pilot into a producer and dividend payer as quickly as they did the Tuolumne mine. The Pilot has a shaft 750 feet deep and is surrounded by producing mines. It is the intention of the company to extend some of the workings of the Butte & Superior and develop the Pilot ore bodies at a depth of 1,600 feet and raise on the shaft from that depth, which can be done in comparatively few months. There are enough important producing and developing companies in Butte to make it pretty certain that the Anaconda company is very far from owning the district or controlling it.

Mining Without Water.

To mine without water is the object of a machine which has been invented and patented by people in Anaconda The machine is known as a dry amalgamator for amalgamating ore without water and for placer mining where no water is available. The patent was taken out a year ago and a sample machine is said to have worked most successfully. A company has been formed, ground secured and a machine is being built to test the new machinery. While those who understand the operation of the new invention are not much disposed to talk, it is learned that the machine promises to revolutionize the method of dry placer mining. Some men who are very familiar with placer mining have examined a model of the new machine and have expressed the opinion that the system is perfectly feasible. The inventors have been offered $35,000 for the patent and $1,000 for the building of one machine, but both offers have been declined. The ground secured for the test of the machine was rendered famous over forty years ago and is known as Prairie Gulch twelve miles northeast of Anaconda. The place is known as Frederickton and was located by the late Col. J. C. Thornton, father of W. D. Thornton, president of the Greene-Cananea company.

While Col Thornton and the pioneers who were associated with him spent very large sums of money in constructing a flume some twelve miles long to bring water to the scene of operations they got little in return as while the water brought down some of the sand containing the yellow metal, bedrock was too deep and it is claimed the valuable part of the ground was never reached. Col. Thornton and his men made living expenses and that was about all. In time the colonel abandoned the ground and went to Butte where he located the Gagnon mine which is today one of the best properties owned by the Anaconda company. The experiments with the dry amalgamator will be watched with great interest all over the country, especially in parts of this state where placer mining thirty-five to forty years ago was carried on very extensively. It was placer mining which first brought the territory now known as Montana before the world as a great producer of gold and who knows but that the new system of dry placer mining may again bring about results which will attract attention to Montana as one of the rich gold producing states of the Union.

Butte & Superior.

A mining engineer has been here for some days in the interests of a Boston and New York firm, making a close inspection of the Butte & Superior mine and there is no doubt the report of the engineer has been favorable as the company has sent out a notice to all stockholders who had an option on bonds at the rate of $95 for every $100, that the option has been cancelled. The brokerage firm has undertaken to underwrite the bonds and the company as a result will receive enough money to care for all present indebtedness, possibly build the proposed concentrator and operate on an extensive scale. With regard to the building of the concentrator there are some of the directors who are opposed to the undertaking of this work at the present time for the reason that good returns are being received from the ore shipped to the Basin works and that a large amount of money has been expended in equipping the basin concentrator with new machinery for the economical treatment of the ore. The information that the firm has undertaken to underwrite the bonds will be good news to every stockholder. That the mine is rich in zinc ore there is no question. Opportunities were offered in the past to place the property in the hands of W. A. Clark, who undoubtedly long ago would have placed the mine in such a position that today it would have been recognized as one of the big zinc producing properties of the country. The Butte & Superior last month earned close to $45,000. The mine is equipped with the latest machinery and with the floating of the bonds ought to enjoy a more prosperous year than that of the past twelve months.

Butte Central.

The sinking of the Ophir shaft of the Butte Central Copper company is going along at a most satisfactory rate and it is expected that a depth of 1,000 feet will be reached by about the middle of July. At the present time the shaft is down a little over 700 feet. Development work is going on on the 100 and 300-foot levels and a considerable amount of rich silver ore is being blocked out. It is expected that word will be received in a short time from the directors in Boston concerning the proposed construction of a concentrator. The ground was surveyed and graded for the building last fall and it is understood that the material has been ordered.

Butte-Alex Scott.

There have been some reports sent East that it is contemplated to stop shipping ore from the Butte-Alex Scott for a time, in order to afford better facilities for development work, but such is not the case. The property is now enjoying a greater amount of prosperity than at any time in its existence. and both development work and shipping will be carried along without interruption. The company is shipping a car of ore every day to the East Butte smelter, and the returns received since the first of the year have been most satisfactory. Since Jan. 1 the mine has turned out 1,200,000 pounds of copper running 8.75 per cent copper. Development work is going on on the 500, 1,400, 1,500 and 1,600-foot levels, and the ore being shipped is being sent out from all the levels. The development work is being prosecuted on a very extensive scale. In the Little Annie, which was recently opened after being closed for about three years, men are making rapid headway with the new shaft. In the Butte-Alex Scott some new equipment is being installed, and it is expected that by the first of the month the company will be in a position to at least double its shipments. The directors are said to be so well satisfied with the earning capacity of the mine just now that they figure on being able to order a dividend before the close of the year.

East Butte.

There was a report in circulation within the past few days that the East Butte company had cut another rich vein, but if there is any truth in the report, the management refuses to confirm the story. The rich ore body on the 800-foot level is now opened up for about 1,100 feet with a width of about thirty feet, and the values are running along just about the same. The improvements at the smelter are being pushed along vigorously without interfering with the actual operations, and when the alterations are finished a consnderable saving is expected in the working of the plant. The smelter business has increased very considerably in the past few months, and when the work on the third furnace is completed it will be immediately placed in commission. The increase in smelter business is due to the large amount of custom ore being received from mines in this and the Radersburg district. Some idea of the growth of the East Butte business in a year may be gained by the statement that a year ago the operating profits were $10,000, as compared with from $35,000 to $50,000 in recent months.

North Butte.

The recent discoveries of rich bodies of ore in the North Butte property are simply a verification of the predictions made long ago that the mine would be found to be one of the very best in the district at depth. The finding of an exceedingly rich body of ore in the shaft at a depth of 2,750 feet was hardly expected and came somewhat as a surprise even to the management and the engineers. The extent of this ore body is as yet uncertain, but there is every reason to believe from examinations made that it is an extensive one and carries values all the way from 9 to 20 per cent copper.

Mountain View.

It is expected that the Mountain View mine will be ready to start up about the first week in the month hoisting ore by compressed air from the plant operated by electric power from Great Falls. Just as soon as the Mountain View is in successful operation the Bell mine will be closed down for the purpose of changing the engine to equip it for the new system. The St. Lawrence mine which, has been down for many months, during which the shaft was retimbered, will also be started about the first of the month. This mine will be in a position when operations are resumed to run for a long time without any repairs. The Anaconda mine will not be in a position to be put in commission for many months yet, as the retimbering of the shaft will take at least seven months more. The men are now down close to 1,700 feet and there are 700 feet more yet to go. The High Ore has not been worked since the fire and under present conditions there is no need of again putting it into commission until it becomes necessary to close some other mine down, as all the ore required for the two smelters is being very easily sent out by the properties now working.

Stewart.

Reports received confirm the statement recently made that the Stewart company is contemplating the erection of a concentrator, those in charge urging this action as a matter of economy, on the ground that it is too expensive to ship the ore to Wallace. It is stated that the company is in a position to build the mill without touching the funds now going into the treasury from the monthly earnings, as a certain amount has been put aside for the concentrator and it is sufficient to pay for the same. The cost is estimated at between $75,000 and $100,000.

ENTIRELY NEW C. & A. SMELTER

Report at Douglas That Complete New Plant Will Be Built.

Douglas, Ariz., April 22. — It is stated here on good authority that it has been agreed by the Calumet & Arizona Mining company to build an entirely new smelter to take the place of the old plant of that company now in operation just west of this city. Of course this determination could not be verified until after the directors have placed their O. K. on the plans; still it is declared that the plans for an entirely new smelting plant are now very nearly complete, and it is claimed that the old plant will continue in operation until the new one is complete.

The plans, according to this report, include two monster blast furnaces, to be sixty feet long and five reverbatories, McDougle roasters and several other new features. The building of such a plant would of course require much time and would give employment to a large number of building mechanics, thus adding much to the trade of Douglas.

It is known that the company is getting ready to either remodel the present plant or build a new one. After the annual meeting something defînte may be expected regarding their decision.

HANCOCK IS PRODUCER

Seneca Has Suspended Operations for an Indefinite Period.

Houghton, Mich., April 22.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Hancock Consolidated Mining company has entered the ranks of the producers with an output of 250 tons of rock daily. The copper content of this rock is unknown. It is the first test ever made of rock from this formation, Hancock No. 3 lode, so-called, and the results will be watched with interest. The rock itself is of a decidedly rich appearance and can be expected to yield not far from twenty pounds fine copper per ton of rock milled. Production begun at the rate of 250 tons daily, will be gradually worked up to around 750 tons, which latter rate is likely to persist for the first year, though the mine is easily capable of supplying double that tonnage.

Seneca.

The Seneca Mining company has suspended operations for an indefinite period. Work has been confined to exploratory work both by diamond drill and through the medium of shaft and underground openings. A depth of about 1,000 feet had been attained. This work resulted in the disclosure of some copper ground at depth but not commercial. The ground so far as opened is found badly shattered, too much so to give much promise of commercial values. This company is one of the Calumet subsidiaries affected by the proposed Lake Superior consolidation in which Calumet & Hecla is the prime mover.

Isle Royale.

The Isle Royale Copper company is opening remarkably rich copper ground in the territory tributary to No. 4 shaft. It is by far the richest ground encountered in the Isle Royale lode in many years and just such ground as the old Huron mine produced in the days of its prime many years ago. Sinking in No. 5 shaft has been resumed according to program and development generally is on the increase. Production has been reduced to around 1200 tons of rock daily through one of the mill units having been put out of commission, but the improved character of the rock being milled promises to offset the decreased rock tonnage and give a normal production of copper this month at least.

La Salle.

The La Salle Copper company has materially reduced its mill shipments of copper rock and at the moment is producing at a rate of a little more than 1,000 tons of rock monthly, compared with 5,000 tons earlier in the year. Present operations are confined to development work in two shafts sunk about 1,000 feet apart in the so-called Tecumseh tract, the deeper of which has attained a depth of around 2,000 feet. The Kearsarge formation which has given the district such rich mines as the Wolverine, Ahmeek and South Kearsarge, is very narrow at this point on the Tecumseh tract and also very lean, a combination that offers little encouragement for the future.

Adventure.

The Adventure Consolidated Mining company continues actively engaged in shaft sinking. Nothing has been done in the way of development work in the so-called No. 1 Adventure lode, which is intersected by the shaft at about 950 feet depth, and according to present plans nothing will be done above a depth of 1,500 feet in the shaft, which is now something over 1,300 feet deep. At about 1,500 feet a crosscut will be run both ways across the formation with the object of intersecting lodes 1 and 2 and the new lode lying between. This new lode was first opened in the shaft showing a width of sixty feet, of which quite twenty-five feet was found to carry copper in commercial quantities. It lies about 100 feet under No. 1 lode.

The Lake Copper company has received its new hoist and this week is putting in the foundations of the new power house. The boiler plant and also the compressor house have been completed and are now in service. Both are of brick and steel construction, the former housing five boilers and the latter one sixty-drill air compressor, and are among the finest plants in operation in this district. Development in the mine continues to show excellent copper ground at all points. The new shaft being opened by raises from the several levels is rapidly nearing completion, and will soon be ready for holing through to the surface. It will have its collar near 400 feet north of the present shaft.

LOOK FOR GIROUX SHIPMENTS SOON

New Working Shaft in Position to Determine Alpha Ore.

As time approaches when shipments are expected to begin from the Giroux Copper company at Ely, interest is especially diverted to this issue, with a view of seeing what effect this will have on the market price of the stock.

The impression prevails that were it not for the unfortunately poor conditon which prevails in the copper market at the moment, the shipments which this company will shortly make should be very important in showing a substantial earning power because of the high-grade character of the Alpha ore body.

The new main working shaft of the Giroux Consolidated company, now being complete to the 1,400-foot level, is now in a position to pursue a definite plan of outlining the ore bodies already partially developed by the old management through the Alpha workings. Three drifts are being run in different directions from the station at the 700-foot level of the main shaft, and two drifts are also being run at the 1,000-foot level. At the 1,200-foot level, which will be the main connecting level between the old Alpha workings and the new shaft, less water is being encountered than was the case a few weeks ago. The water in the old workings is now about sixty feet deep and is receding steadily, but not so rapidly as at first.

Crosscutting is also in progress from the 1,400-foot station toward the Alpha workings, and a bulkhead will be put in as soon as the crosscut aproaches the point where an inrush of water may be expetced. A pump with a capacity of 600 gallons per minute has been ordered for the 1,400-foot station and is now on the way. The permanent hoisting plant at the new shaft is now working smoothly, and the buildings of the temporary power plant are being taken down and removed.

DULUTHIANS EXPLORING

Near Plummer at the Western End of the Gogebic Range.

Volunteer's Palmer Lake Mine to Be Shipper This Season.

Duluth interests are exploring in the vicinity of Plummer, Wis., at the western end of the Gogebic range. A diamond drill is being employed with J. T. Bush of Norway, Mich., in charge of operations. It is the expectation on the Gogebic that, while the Lake Superior region as a whole possibly will show a falling off in shipments, compared with the outgo a year ago, this particular range will send out fully as much ore this season as in 1910. The production last year was 4,315,000 tons, the largest in the history of the district.

From the Steel corporation's Norrie group, Gogebic range, and which comprises the Norrie, East Norrie, Aurora, Old Pabst and New Pabst properties, a production in excess of 1,250,000 tons is expected this season. It is from a portion of this tract that J. M. Longyear of Marquette, Mich., and Brookline, Mass., is receiving the substantial royalties that have helped make him a multi-millionaire, he having been attracted by the mineral possibilities of the lands many years ago when he was prospecting the region.

The Ashland mine of the Cleveland Cliffs company is counted on this season for an output approximating 225,000 tons. Next to the Newport and the Norrie, it is the largest shipper on the Gogebic range.

J. R. Thompson, general manager of the Newport property at the time of the discovery of its big new ore body at a depth of 2,000 feet, and to whose persistent efforts that discovery was made, is interested in a property on the Marquette range at present and is meeting with continued success. This propery is the American mine, in the territory west of the city of Ishpeming. The American was idle from 1893 until 1907, when it was taken over by Mr. Thompson and the M. A. Hanna interests of Cleveland.

Volunteer to Ship This Year.

A new shipper on the Marquette range this season will be the Volunteer Ore company's Palmer Lake mine, in which Thomas F. Cole of Duluth is interested. While it is too early to predict what the future of the Palmer Lake property will be, the development of the mine is progressing satisfactorily. The shaft is below the 400-foot point and several levels are being opened. There is a considerable tonnage of ore in stock and shipments will be started shortly. A force of 160 men is employed. The Palmer Lake mine differs from others previously opened in the Cascade district, in that the ore is of Bessemer grade.

The Cleveland Cliffs company is to erect a number of modern mine buildings at its Negaunee property, the new shaft at which is now being walled with concrete from top to bottom. A miners' change house which will be one of the largest and most complete in the Lake Superior district is one structure for which plans are now in preparation, and an office building and a laboratory are two others.

It has been stated there is a possibility the Lake Superior Mining institute would hold its annual meeting this year in some locality remote from the district, invitations having been extended by Spokane and Detroit. As arranged originally, however, the convention will take place on the Menominee range.

An interesting development in the Iron River district of the Menominee is the discovery of ore on the Lindahl property at Beechwood. Little is known of the find as yet, but the discovery is of some importance in that it widens out the Iron River zone. The ore was tapped at a depth of 212 feet.

BARNES-KING HAS PROPERTY IN VIEW

Gold Claim in California Is Now Receiving Consideration.

At a meeting of the directors of the Barnes-King Development company held in Butte a very favorable preliminary report on a gold property in California was received, but Mr. McGee, the company's expert, was not prepared to recommend its purchase until he had made a more thorough personal examination, and the directors appropriated $1,000 to pay the expenses of such an examination. Mr. McGee will make another trip to California, and it is possible that a final report will be submitted at a meeting of the directors that will be held in Butte April 27. Some of the directors have also favored an investment in the Georgetown district west of Anaconda.

The directors adopted a resolution cutting off payment of members of the board for attending meetings and hereafter they will serve without compensation.

MINING IN THE BLACK HILLS

Lead, S. D., April 22.—The Homestake Mining company is rushing work on its $1,000,000 hydro-electric power plant in Spearfish canon, and is making better progress than at first expected. Not only is the four and a half miles of tunnel work, the hardest part of the project, completed, but its cement lining is about finished and within a short time water will be run through. The concrete dams, reinforced with steel pilings and bar steel, are completed, ditches dug and tiled and the company is now directing its energies toward the power house. Sixteen carloads of machinery have arrived at the Homestake camps in the canon and are being unloaded to set up for the plant within a few weeks. The grading for the plant has been begun and is being pushed with the return of good weather. When the plant is completed some time this coming fall the plants at Lead, Terraville, Central City, Gayville and Deadwood, where the ore is treated, will all use electric instead of steam power, the latter being used as auxiliary. The electric plant now being constructed will generate from 6,000 to 10,000 horse power.

Work at the Echo mine in the Maitland district now consists of timbering a station in the main tunnel 450 feet in, where an electric hoist will be installed and a shaft sunk on a ledge of good milling ore 200 feet wide. It will be put down 200 feet below the tunnel. There the ledge will be prospected and crosscut.

In the Rochford district Joe Mitchell is developing a graphite prospect that appears to be of commercial extent. The deposit is a vertical ledge twenty feet wide and has been prospected with a tunnel and can be easily mined. Mr. Mitchell sent some samples to a Chicago house and is waiting to hear the result before more thorough development.

MINNESOTA HISTORICAL SOCIETY

SOCIETY

THIS first week of social freedom has been a most busy one. The two events of the most importance were the receptions held Tuesday and Wednesday for the new presidents of the Minnesota and Michigan universities, who were guests in Duluth this week.

Graduates of the Minnesota university honored George E. Vincent, the new president of that institution, with a reception Wednesday afternoon at the Commercial club, when a large number of guests took advantage of this opportunity to meet the guest of honor. Among the hostesses who assisted during the receiving hours were; Mesdames—

C. A. Luster,
W. H. Hoyt,
W. E. W. Bohannon,
W. A. McGonagle,
George Gray,
C. H. Bagley,
Robert Yost,
F. H. White,
F. E. Adams,
C. E. Adams,
R. E. Denfeld,
E. R. Peyton,
B. P. Neff,
C. M. D. Rice,
C. E. DeWitt,
J. H. Hearding.

President Harry B. Hutchins from Ann Arbor, the Michigan university, was the guest of honor at an informal banquet followed by a reception Tuesday evening at the Commercial club rooms. During the evening he was greeted by a large number of the Michigan alumni and their friends. The hostesses for this reception were: Rev. and Mrs. A. W. Ryan, Mr. and Mrs. Conklin of Superior, Mr. and Mrs. John Dwan of Two Harbors, Mr. and Mrs. Loren Jones, Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Dancer, Mrs. Z. D. Scott, Mrs. Frances H. De Groat, Mrs. Hugh Burgo, Miss Margaret Ryan and Miss Agnes Wells.

Wednesday afternoon Mrs. M. H. Kelley entertained at a large tea for the members of the Saturday club at her home, and a number of other teas, luncheons, bridge parties and musicals have been given.

Next week Dr. Rubinkam's course of lectures, under the auspices of the Twentieth Century club, will begin and several weddings will take place.

Showers, teas and dinners are being given for the brides-to-be, and guests are arriving daily for visits here.

Informal Affairs

Mrs. M. H. Kelley of 606 East Second street entertained at an afternoon tea Wednesday afternoon at her home for the members of the Saturday club. The rooms were pretty with Easter lilies and hyacinths, and a handsome centerpiece of these flowers adorned the table in the dining room.

Mrs. W. J. Stevenson and Mrs. A. H. Brocklehurst presided in the dining room, assisted by Miss Charlotte Brocklehurst.

During the afternoon a musical program arranged by Mrs. E. Frank Barker was given. Miss Frances Berg played a group of piano numbers, Miss Glenn Bartholomew sang, and Miss Elizabeth Maddox was heard in a vocal number and a violin number. Miss Berg played the accompaniments also.

* * *

Mrs. G. E. Diehl was hostess at a bridge luncheon Wednesday at her home, 1813 East Second street in honor of Mrs. Harry Johnson of Coleraine, who is the guest of her mother, Mrs. F. C. Berry of Chester terrace. Covers were laid for ten guests and the table appointments were in yellow and green, tulips being used in carrying out this color scheme.

* * *

Easter flowers and appointments suggestive of spring and April showers were most charmingly combined in an effective decorative scheme at the Easter luncheon given Wednesday noon at the First Baptist church by the members of the Ladies' Aid Society of that church. The tables were arranged as a cross and suspended with soft green and ornamented with flowers. One of these was immediately over the joining of the two arms of the tables and under it was grouped a large cluster of Easter lilies. The lilies were the only flowers used on the tables. After a delightful luncheon a pleasing program was given containing numbers by Mrs. H. Brown, contralto, a violin duet by Miss Eleanor Kraft and Miss Georgia Evans, vocal numbers by Miss Myrtle Hobbs and some readings by Mrs. R. E. Sayles.

The part of the parlors used for the program was a perfect bower of beauty being profusely decorated with sprays of peach blossoms.

After the program the women put the heading and ribbons on a number of small bags which had been made with the exception of this finishing by Mrs. W. B. Patton, and which are to be sent to a mission.

* * *

Mrs. W. D. McGill entertained at bridge at the Webster tea rooms Monday afternoon. Easter lilies and hyacinths were the flowers used about the rooms and the prizes were won by Mrs. J. C. Shepard, Mrs. C. E. Dice and Mrs. H. L. Joyce. Among the guests were:

Mesdames—
J. C. Shepard,
N. B. Morrison,
G. F. Watson,
J. M. McNaughton,
A. J. McCulloch,
C. B. Nunan,
O. F. Wennerlund,

She went down to be present at the celebration of Mr. and Mrs. Gregory's fifty-fifth wedding anniversary on April 11. The Marquette Mining Journal of April 12 printed the following account of the celebration:

"The home of H. Gregory on Fourth street was the scene of a happy family gathering last evening. Their children attended a dinner at that hour in their honor and spent the evening with them in observance of the fifty-fifth anniversary of their marriage. Mrs. Charles H. Merritt came down from Duluth for the occasion and three of their daughters, Mrs. Will Ellison, Mrs. Charles Brainerd and Mrs. E. E. McIntosh and their husbands were present. Only one daughter was absent, Mrs. Will Mies of Spokane, Wash.

"Mr. and Mrs. Gregory are enjoying the best of health and promise to be spared for many more happy anniversaries."

Mrs. Merritt was the guest of honor at five afternoon teas and luncheons during her visit in her home city.

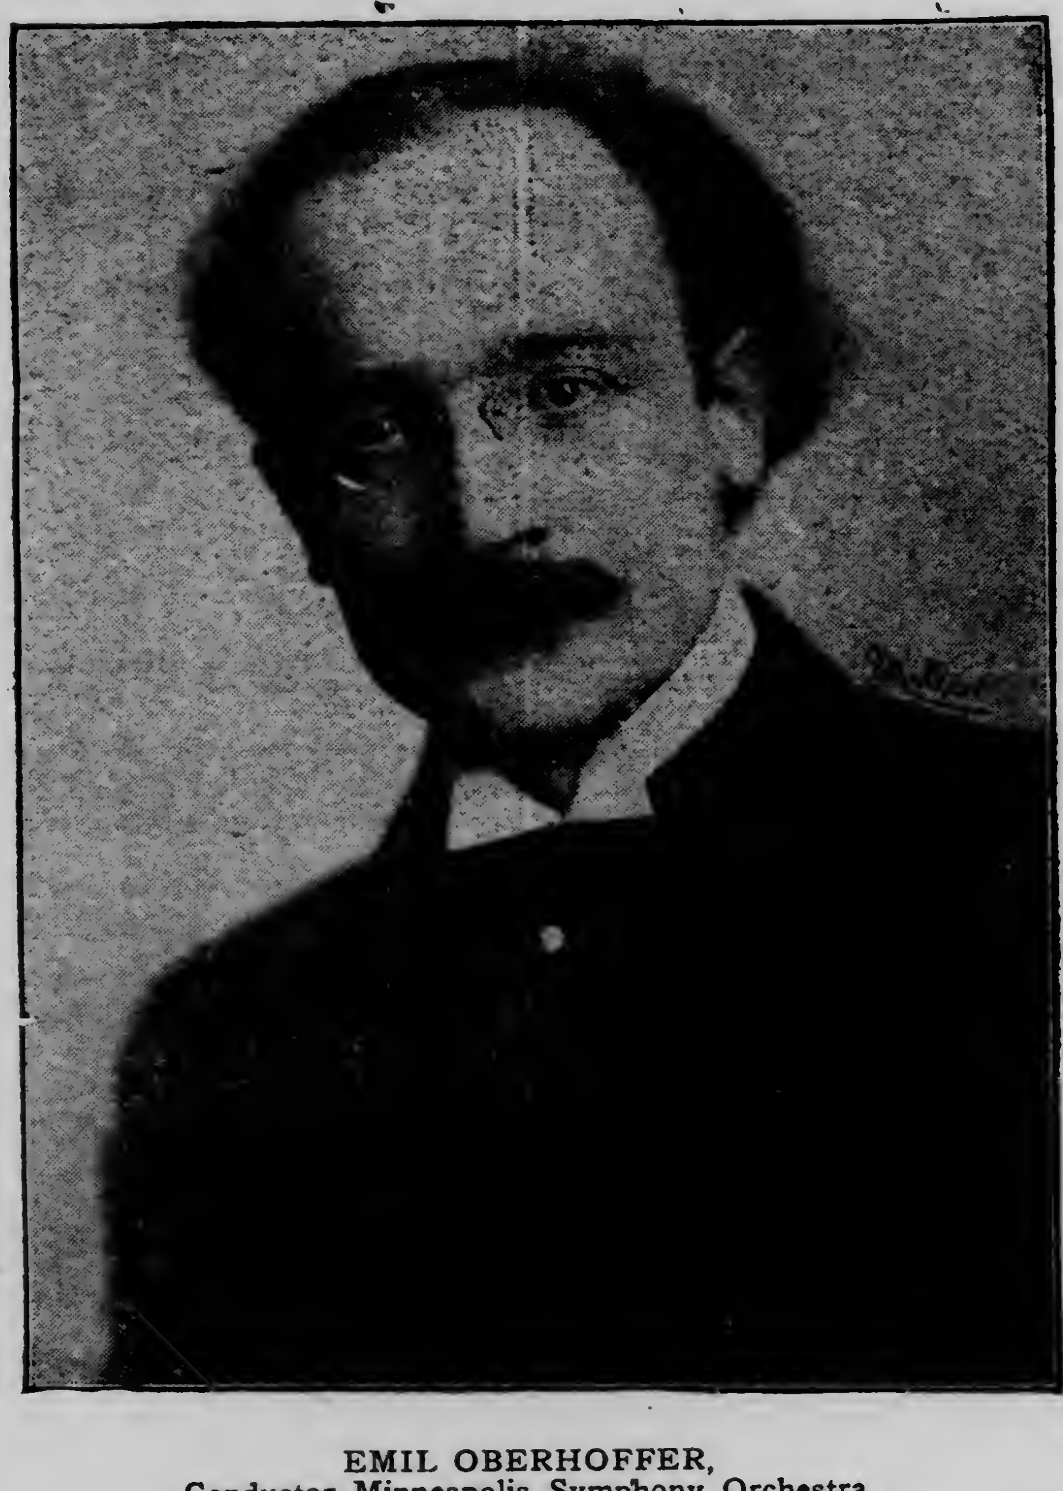
HAPPENINGS IN CLUBDOM AND THE MUSICAL CIRCLES

Minneapolis Symphony Orchestra and the Spring Festival—Dr. Rubinkam's Series of Lectures—Events of the Past Week.

DULUTH will welcome back its first love in symphony orchestras June 2 and 3, when the Minneapolis organization will appear at the Lyceum in a spring festival of music. The concerts will be given as usual under the auspices of the Duluth committee consisting of Horace W. Reyner, Stephen H. Jones and T. W. Hugo and every prospect is for the most successful and delightful series yet presented to the Duluth public.

The program for the festival will be similar to that of former years in arrangement. The first afternoon there will be children's matinee and Mr. Oberhoffer, the conductor of the orchestra, says that the children's matinee in Duluth is one of the events he anticipates with great pleasure and it is in this city that he finds the keenest appreciation and most cordial response among the children. Mr. Oberhoffer has selected a delightful program for the little folks and has placed two of his finest soloists on the children's program.



EMIL OBERHOFFER,
Conductor Minneapolis Symphony Orchestra.

The first evening program will follow and Beethoven's Eroica symphony will be played as the symphony feature. The popular matinee will be given Saturday afternoon and the concluding concert in the series will be presented Saturday night, June 3, when numbers from Italian, French and German opera will be presented.

Four years ago the Minneapolis orchestra went on a tour of one week at the conclusion of the Minneapolis season. Duluth was included in that week's tour. This year the orchestra is out for an eleven weeks' tour and many proffered engagements had to be refused, the tour of nearly three months being inadequate to satisfy the demand for the orchestra throughout the West. The orchestra opened its tour for this season at Winnipeg March 23, 24 and 25, and will not return to Minneapolis until June. The Duluth dates are June 2 and 3.

The orchestra played at Chicago March 9 of this year and was received with most flattering enthusiasm and has firmly established itself in the city that is the home of the Theodore Thomas orchestra.

The Soloists.

For this tour Mr. Oberhoffer has chosen as soloists Lucille Tewksbury, soprano, who appeared with the orchestra last year; Agnes Staberg Hall, soprano; Genevieve Wheat, contralto; Charles Hargreaves, tenor; and Marcus Kellerman, basso.

Rubinkam Lectures.

DR. NATHANIEL I. RUBINKAM of Chicago, a well known lecturer who will come to Duluth next week to give a course of three lectures under the auspices of the Twentieth Century club at the Endion Methodist Episcopal church, Nineteenth avenue east and First street, will give Duluth one of the best literary treats of the year. His ability as a lecturer has been proven to Duluth people who heard him give a course of lectures on Ibsen and Ibsen plays two years ago under the auspices of the same club, and they are anticipating this course with delight.

Dr. Rubinkam, when in Chicago, lectures every Sunday afternoon on various subjects under the auspices of an organization called the Rubinkam association. A special musical program is given at each lecture and a regular congregation of about 1,000 attends these lectures.

His course of lectures to be given here include the following subjects: Thursday afternoon, April 27, at 3 p. m., "Tennyson and Darwin"; Saturday afternoon, April 29, at 3 p. m., "Jose Echegaray and 'The Great Goleoto'"; and Monday evening, May 1, 8 p. m., "Maurice Maeterlinck and 'The Blue Bird'".

The first lecture will include the history and philosophy of Tennyson and his poems and the effect which Darwin had upon him.

The second subject is one which is less generally known than the others. Jose Echegaray, the Spanish dramatist, furnishes an interesting subject, and his best known drama, "The Great Goleoto," of which the English translation is "The World and His Wife," is much finer in the original writing than in the English form, which has been given to the American people. In the translation the play has lost much of its original lessons and beauty of form. Dr. Rubinkam will take his lessons and material for this lecture from the original Spanish version.

Of the last subject, "Maurice Maeterlinck and 'The Blue Bird'" so much has been written in magazines and newspaper reviews that interest in this fantastic play and its author has risen to unusual degrees and the choice of this topic was a happy one.

Dr. Rubinkam, while in the city, will be a guest of Dr. and Mrs. A. E. Walker of 2107 East First street.

NEXT YEAR'S PROGRAM.

Ladies' Literature Class Will Study Tennyson and Browning

The Ladies' Literature class which has just closed a season of study of literature will next year study the philosophy of literature, taking up Tennyson and Browning. These two poets will be taken up with the intention of getting the philosophy of the poet through his works, instead of simply studying the various poems as the members did this year.

The subjects for the twelve meetings will be as follows:

1. Landmarks in the lives of Tennyson and Browning.
2. Tennyson's treatment of nature.
3. Browning's interpretation of nature.
4. Tennyson as a poet of humanity.
5. Lecture—Elizabeth Barrett Browning, and the Humanitarian Movement.
6. Browning's portrayal of human nature and conduct.
7. Tennyson's psychology of God, life and immortality.
8. Interpretative readings from "In Memoriam."
9. Browning's theory of God, life and immortality.
10. Tennyson's portrayal of womanhood.
11. Womanhood in Browning.
12. Lecture—Message of Wordsworth, Tennyson and Browning to the present age.

musical circles, is that of Mme. Olga Samaroff, one of America's leading pianists, to Leopold Stokovski, conductor of Cincinnati Symphony orchestra. She has announced that the wedding will probably take place by May 1, following which they will travel in Europe. They will purchase a summer home near Munich, and after Conductor Stokovski's three years' contract with the Cincinnati orchestra is up, they will make their residence abroad.

Mme. Samaroff visited Duluth two or three years ago, when she played in concert before the Matinee Musicale club and was the guest of honor at a reception given by Mrs. John A. Stephenson at the Commercial club.

SEASON AT END.

Saturday Club Finishes Three-Year Course of Study.

WITH a program on French literature the Saturday club closed its season's work today at the clubroom of the library. A study of France which has been the work of the club for the past three years was finished. The women have studied French literature, history and art and have spent considerable time in the study of current events.

Today's program was as follows:

Sherwin, honorary director, Mrs. O. H. Simonds.

FIRST CONCERT OF CLUB.

Duluth Choral Society Will Sing "Erl King's Daughter" at Lyceum.

THE Duluth Choral society which was organized a short time ago by a number of enthusiastic musicians of this city with Alfred Wiley as director will make its first public appearance in a concert to be given May 16 at the Lyceum theater.

The club will give as a foundation for the concert "The Erl King's Daughter" and the soloists will be Miss Clara Williams of Minneapolis, who is a soprano of well known ability both in her own city where she is soloist at one of the largest churches and also in Duluth as she has sung here before the Matinee Musicale club and at other affairs. Miss Mary Syer Bradshaw of this city, and George Suffel, baritone, also of Duluth.

"The Erl King's Daughter" was composed by Niels W. Gade, a Danish composer, and is taken from the Danish version of the Erl King myth.

Sir Oluf in this production will be George Suffel.

Miss Bradshaw will sing the role of Sir Oluf's mother which is a part well fitted to her voice. Miss Williams will be the young and beautiful daughter.

The opera gives a chance for much chorus work and ensemble work being free from long and difficult arias.

Practice for this concert with a large and able chorus has been being conducted for some time and the work promises to be one of the most artistic productions of the kind ever given here.

"A Real Scotch Nicht."

ON THE evening of Wednesday, April 26, many hundreds of the sons and daughters of Scotia will be gathered together in the U. O. F. hall to listen to "the Harry Lauder of St. Paul"—John A. McGuckin. Mr. McGuckin has been the entertainer of the clan and its friends before now, and he is well known. The program to be rendered will be as follows:

Bagpipe march—"Oh, Wad I Were Where the Gaudie Rins" ....
Piper Colin Thomson.
Opening remarks ....
Chief Robert Ferguson.
Song—"Piper McFarlane" ....
John A. McGuckin.
Song—"Loch Lomond" ....
Miss Bartholomew.
Gaelic song—"Theid Mi Gad Amharc"
J. H. Matheson.
Song—"The Lea Rig" ....
John A. McGuckin.
Scotch reel by four clansmen........
Piper, Kenneth McGregor.
Remarks—"Pawky Scotch Wit"......
Simon Clark.
Song—"I Loved Her Ever Since She Was a Baby" ....
John A. McGuckin.

"Auld Lang Syne" by the audience.
Accompanist, Miss Lillian MacAskill
Informal dance after the concert.

Executive Board.

The regular monthly meeting of the Executive Board of the Twentieth Century club will be held Monday morning at 10 o'clock promptly. Every old member as well as the new are urged to be present as some very important matters are to be brought up for consideration.

Lester Park Club.

The Lester Park Literary club will hold its last regular meeting of the year at the home of Mrs. Harriet Carey, 5131 London road on Tuesday afternoon. Election of officers will be held but no regular program will be given.

Sewing Guild.

The sewing guild which works in connection with the Bishop's club will meet Monday afternoon in one of the rooms of the Brothers' high school building where the members will sew for the children of St. James' orphanage.

Receipts Gratifying.

The women of the Twentieth Century club, who had charge of the benefit entertainment given Wednesday evening at the Y. M. C. A. for the Neighborhood house in the West end have announced that the financial side of it was very gratifying. The entertainment itself was a good one and all who had numbers acquitted themselves creditably. The boys in their little play "Sir Gareth of Orkney" presented their act with good ability and the rest of the program consisted of vocal numbers by Charles O. Applehagen which are always a pleasure; a splendid violin duet by Miss Elanore Kraft and Miss Georgia Evans accompanied by Miss Ethel Molitor; a delightful vocal solo by Miss Margaret Lenahan, readings by Mrs. W. A. Kaake and games and performing animals.

Considering the fact that no effort was made to sell tickets except at the door the sum raised is exceptionally good.

The rummage sale which has also been held by the same committee yesterday and today has netted a good amount for the same fund.

D. A. R. Meeting.

At the annual meeting of the Liberty chapter of the D. A. R. which was held Wednesday afternoon with Mrs. A. E. Walker, 2107 East First street, reports of the year were given and the following officers elected for next year: Mrs. R. E. Denfeld, regent; Miss Julia Ensign, vice regent; Mrs. J. T. Watson, recording secretary; Mrs. Jay Cooke Howard, correspondent secretary; Mrs. S. R. Holden, historian; Mrs. C. C. Cokefair and Mrs. N. J. Upham, directors.

Mrs. Seymour Returns.

MRS. ROBERT MORRIS SEYMOUR has returned from Minneapolis, where she has completed her work for the season and is home for the summer. Last fall she was engaged by the Plymouth church club as leader of its Bible class, which has closed a most successful year with over 100 members. During the year the study included a course on the "Relation of Prophetic Literature to Modern Conditions," and on William James' "The Varieties of Religious Experiences." Mrs. Seymour has made a big success as a Bible teacher and leader of study, and has been recognized as a leader in this line in the state.

Her usual courses on psychology have been conducted in both Minneapolis and St. Paul during the year with as much manifestation of enthusiasm as has been the case in former years.

At the close of the season for the Bible study class a brilliant reception was given for Mrs. Seymour Friday evening at the residence of Mrs. L. R. Brooks on Mount Curve avenue. In the receiving line with Mrs. Brooks and Mrs. Seymour were: Rev. and Mrs. Harry P. Dewey, Mr. and Mrs. C. N. Chadburn, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Keith, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Barnes and Mr. and Mrs. Ben Woodworth.

WORK ON FRONTIER.

S. A. Blair to Give Sunday Afternoon Address at the Y. M. C. A.

The speaker for the Sunday afternoon meeting at the Y. M. C. A. will be S. A. Blair, the Sunday school evangelist and missionary.

Mr. Blair has been engaged in frontier work during the past twenty years and has organized scores of Sunday schools in small villages far from civilization, where today there are cities with paved streets and strong churches. In Bemidji he organized the first Sunday school, beating the railroad into the town, carrying a pack with supplies eighteen miles, the nearest railroad being that distance from the town. He cut the trees from the lot and directed the building of the first church in the up-to-date city. His story will prove intensely interesting to those who have followed the development of this Northwest country. His subject is "Twenty Years on the Frontier." His work has been very sucessful on the ranges also and far up along the Canadian border.

Miss Myrtle Hobbs, who was so enthusiastically received at the last Tuesday night's "pop," will be the soloist. All men are welcome.

BOY SCOUTS MENACE.

Minot, N. D., April 22.—That the organization of the Boy Scout movement is a menace to the people of the United States is the contention of Arthur Le Sueur, who will speak on the subject at the Socialist meeting at the Lyceum theater Sunday afternoon.

"Boy Scouts" has been selected as the topic for the meeting and President Le Sueur will make the principal address, attacking the idea of the Boy Scout movement.

IS BOUND OVER FOR ASSAULTING OLD MAN.

Minot, N. D., April 22.—William Stevick was bound over to the county court under $100 bonds this week by Judge Murray on a charge of assault and battery preferred by James Baldock, a neighbor, who lives twelve miles south of Des Lacs. Stevick is a young man and weighs 170 pounds. Baldock is an old man and of slight stature. Stevick was put through a severe grilling by State's Attorney Nash. Stevick admitted that "he was warm under the collar."

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

Anonia Will Give Play—Dr. Vincent Speaks to Students—Seniors Hold Class Meeting—Declamation and Oratorical Team Chosen — Freshman-Sophomore Dance—Musical Society—Central Debating Team to Meet Minneapolis West High.

The Anonia society of the high school has extended an invitation to the faculty and students of the high school to attend the play which will be given next Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock. The story of the play deals with college life in a girls' school and should prove to be a very interesting one. The cast, which was selected and drilled by Mr. Brackett, is an exceptionally good one.

Mildred Sayer takes the role of Josephine Scott "Capt. Joe." Lillian Laskey will play the part of Mildred Lynn, the captain's roommate. Ruth Douglass as Kate Winston, the second team forward, and Nathalie Craig as "Pat" Dickenson, the class president, are both well cast. Estelle Goering will take the part of the unathletic Sue Carpenter, and June Powell, the little freshman, will be played by Wanda Bergevin.

The members of the basket ball teams will be represented by Evna Rakowsky, Margaret Swemby, Austrid Hovde, Esther Dahl, Bessie Warren, Sophie Solheim, Esther Ott, Helen MacLeod and Marie Watkins.

The musical numbers of the program will be given by Ludwig Melander, Rosalind Bondy and Roy Flaaten.

Dr. Vincent of the University of Minnesota left a marked impression on the high school students when he spoke in chapel Wednesday morning. His talk was illustrated by several stories which caused considerable merriment among the pupils. In the main part of his speech Dr. Vincent clearly outlined the value of efficiency.

The high school students are of the opinion that a university under the leadership of such a man as Dr. Vincent must give the best results, and it is more than probable that a number of students have decided to attend the University of Minnesota since the visit of Dr. Vincent.

* * *

The senior class held a very enthusiastic meeting last Wednesday. Plans for the class night program were discussed and the arrangements for the same left in the hands of Stanley Lamb. It is the intention of the class to produce an original program unassisted. A report of the senior class play shows net earnings of about $500, which will go toward publishing the 1911 Zenith.

Next Friday evening the Central debating team will meet the team from the Minneapolis East high school in the assembly hall of D. C. H. S. Roger Lerch, Jesse Cohen and Fred Weinberg will be the debaters for Central.

MINNESOTA UNIVERSITY

May Fete Proceeds to Go to the Northrop Tribute Fund.

Degree in Three Years By Going to Summer School.

Minneapolis, Minn., April 22.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Northrop Tribute fund will receive the proceeds from the May fete which is to be held on Thursday, May 18, or in case of bad weather on Friday, May 19. One dollar was decided upon as the price of admission for the entire fete, including the evening performance. During Easter vacation, the work has progressed, sixty-six costumes being completed by girls at work in Shevlin.

The 1912 Gophers will appear for the first time at the May fete. The book contains all the big events of the college year, starting out in September, it contains new views of the "U" buildings and campus, also many unknown incidents in the life of pupils are laid bare. The book is one big review of all that has happened in the year that helps to make loyal Minnesotans.

Fifteen junior foresters left St. Paul for the head of Lake Itasca, where they will pitch camp for their regular four months of summer work. Regular class recitation hours will prevail in their forest work. This work is conducted as a regular course of practical laboratory work and is aimed to make the student more familiar with the practical side of forestry. They will break camp about the first of September.

The introductory course in general botany at the coming summer session is offered by Prof. Huff. This work will include not only lecturers, recitations and laboratory work, but also field excursions for which the summer season is particularly favorable.

* * *

Miss Alma Strand, formerly of Duluth, has been pledged Alpha Phi at the University, which she is attending.

* * *

Baron d'Estournelles de Constant, founder and president of the International Conciliation association and the leading authority of the world on arbitration will visit Minneapolis and speak in chapel. The baron will speak in English on "The New Politics of Peace." Baron d'Estournelles will be entertained at lunch by President Vincent. He will speak on international arbitration in the evening. The baron is in a course of an extended tour of America with interests of international peace. He has taken up the cause with enthusiasm and zeal, and in both Europe and America has won a reputation as an eloquent and inspiring speaker.

Dr. Hall of the geology department is very seriously ill since his return from San Diego, Chile, where he attended the international conference of Scientists of North and South America. Dr. Hall has taught at Minnesota during one-half of his life of 66 years. At his request, Dr. Hall was granted permission to retire from active duties at the university at the end of this academic year and devote his time to research and writing.

* * *

Arrangements for commencement week are rapidly nearing completion. Rev. J. E. Freeman will deliver the bacalaureate address June 4. President Vincent has consented to deliver the regular commencement address on commencement day, June 8.

* * *

Descendants of old Erin on the campus have already been bound together by a common tie and from time to time organizations have been formed, composed mostly of Irishmen, as the Red Headed club last year, but the most prominent students in college have evinced a desire to get together some kind of a permanent organization.

They have concluded that the best way to do that will be to form an Irish club.

* * *

Mrs. George E. Vincent, wife of the president, has announced her definite acceptance of the invitation to apnear as Queen Elizabeth in the May fete. The members of the faculty will take the remaining roles in the court scene in which Queen Elizabeth is the leading lady. Future generations of university students are to have the benefit of the experience of those in charge of the first May fete. A large scrap book, well bound, will be left in the university library, containing all the clippings from the various Twin City publications in regard to the fete, and preserve them for the students who undertake similar celebrations in the future.

Students of the university can now secure a bachelor's degree in three years by combining the regular work with attendance at the summer school sessions. The university summer school and the state's training school for teachers, which have hitherto been held jointly under the supervision of the state department of public instruction, will be conducted separately this year. The summer school will commence June 16 and close July 20.

Only the university summer school will have sessions on the main campus. The curriculum of the summer school has been greatly enlarged, over seventy courses being offered this year. Not only for college students will the summer school be open, but also for experienced teachers, wishing further preparation for the teaching of high school subjects. The school will be open to all men and women whom the various instructors judge to be capable of persuing the work in the different courses to advantage. Those who wish university credits, must present the same credentials which are required for entrance to the institution. Registration will commence June 16.

Each course carries three university credits and no student will be allowed to register for more than two courses. The school lasts six weeks. The fees required are $5 for registration, $5 for tuition in each course and $3 in each laboratory course. Women attendants will have the use of Sanford hall at $6 per week. Both men and women students will have the privilege of the armory and the gymnasium.

Dean Woods of the agricultural school will open the state training school for teachers on June 19 for a six weeks' session.

D. A. R. PRESIDENT IS RE-ELECTED

Mrs. Matthew T. Scott Victorious Over Her Insurgent Opponent.

Washington, April 22.—Mrs. Matthew T. Scott of Illinois last night was declared re-elected president general of the Daughters of the American Revolution for the next two years. Of the 1,086 votes cast, Mrs. Scott received 614. Her opponent, Mrs. William C. Storey of New York, received 466, and six of the ballots were blank as to choice for president general. The tellers spent almost twenty-four hours in counting the vote and the result, which, it was expected, would be announced at the morning session of the congress yesterday, had to be postponed until last night.

With Mrs. Scott was elected the entire administration ticket, except one vice president general, who received ten votes less than the number necessary to elect and for which position a new ballot will be taken.

When Mrs. Scott entered Continental hall after the vote had been announced, preceeded down the center aisle by a dozen charming young pages and followed by a score more bearing great baskets and arms full of American beauties, jonquils and other flowers, she was received with wild applause. Scarcely had she mounted the platform before Mrs. Storey asked recogniton. She declared that she had no bitternes in her heart because of her defeat and urged all members of the organization to uphold, as she intended to do, the hands of their newly elected president general.

The mother, Mrs. Monroe Dziurgot, and the older child, Joseph, are dead, and the father and baby are in a hospital, where it is said both will recover. Dziurgot in the hospital told of the poverty which followed his long illness, and then related the desperate agreement with his wife that the two should poison themselves and the two babies. "With my last 25 cents," he said, "I bought the poison at a drug store. I took it home and my wife and I mixed it in the little milk we had left. The milk was the only food we had in the house. Some was given to the children, my wife drank some and I drank the remainder. There was not enough for me or I could have died with my wife and boy.

"I stayed with my sick wife until all the money we had was gone. I could get nothing to do, and we did not want to live and see the little ones suffer. Yesterday we agreed it was better to die than to starve and see the children starve before our eyes."

He became ill five weeks ago and was forced to leave his work. His resources were utterly exhausted, and when he recovered his wife became ill, and the man could not leave her and the children.

NEWS OF THE NORTHWEST

CLOSE DEAL FOR CHURCH

Carlton Presbyterians Have Acquired Edifice Built for the Catholics.

Building Owned By Duluthian, Subject of Litigation, Finally Sold.

Carlton, Minn., April 22.—(Special to The Herald.)—Yesterday Rev. James Watt, pastor of the McNair Memorial Presbyterian church of this place sent a formal acceptance of an offer from Wallace Wells of Duluth for the sale of the Catholic church edifice fronting on Chestnut street, this city, to the Presbyterian Church Society. This was in accordance with instructions given him by a meeting of the congregation and trustees of the church held in the old church parlors on Thursday evening.

Some five years ago Bishop McGolrick of Duluth let a contract to a Mr. Roberts of Duluth for the construction of a church for the Catholic people here. The church was completed except for the finishing and some of the flooring, when for some reason the bishop refused to accept it on behalf of the church. Legal action was brought to compel him to pay for the building himself, but the courts held that in his capacity as trustee of the denomination of which he was bishop, he was not personally liable for this debt. Mr. Roberts had filed a mechanics' lien on the building, and there were also a number of other workmen and other creditors of the enterprise.

Pooled Their Claims.

They pooled their claims and when the time limit had expired on the lien, they sold the claims to Wallace Wells of Duluth. About a year ago the women of the ladies' aid society tried to negotiate for the purchase of the building, but were unsuccessful, and the subject was dropped. A few months ago, however, Rev. Mr. Watt and one or two members of the church commenced a quiet plan to secure it. Matters came to a close this week, when Mr. Wells offered to sell for the sum of $2,875. The old church building will be offered for sale immediately the new one is fitted up for use, and the parsonage will also likely be eventually disposed of or moved. It is said that the funds for this purchase were for the most part supplied by one or two local philanthropists."

GIVEN LESS THAN COMPANY OFFERED

Carlton County Farmers Did Not Benefit By Suits Against Railroad.

Carlton, Minn., April 22.—(Special to The Herald.)—District court adjourned Friday evening until Monday morning. Only one case was decided this week. It was the joint trial of the cases of four farmers near Sawyer, asking for damages from the Northern Pacific Railway company for fires caused by the company's engines last fall. Isaac Walli sued to recover $716 and was given a verdict for $250; Erick Nelson asked for $500 and was awarded $150; John Savuoja asked for $1,360 and was given $500, and Jalmar Suhonen asked $400 and was allowed $135. It is said that the railroad company had previously offered to settle for larger amounts than the plaintiffs were given by the court.

Case on All Week.

Monday afternoon the case of the Carlton County Farmers' Mutual Fire Insurance Company vs. Foley Bros. was brought on for trial and has occupied the attention of the court ever since, and was not completed when court adjourned last night. This is a case wherein the fire insurance company seeks to recover remuneration for a loss paid on the policy of a farmer who lived down south of Wrenshall two years ago. Messrs. Foley Bros & Larson, as a firm of railroad contractors, were grading the roadbed for the new Soo line, and it is alleged that men in their employ allowed a fire to get from under their control, spread and do damage to the assured farmer's home. The insurance company paid out $800, and seeks to recover this amount. As the suit was originally brought against the firm of Foley-Bros. & Larson, and as Larson died before the papers were served on him, it has involved his heirs in the case, so that the real responsibility in the matter has been hard to fix. The case is being hard fought and long drawn out.

STRAP HANGERS WIN.

Minneapolis Street Car Company Ruled Against in Federal Court.

Minneapolis, Minn., April 22.—Judge C. A. Willard of the federal district court has denied the injunction applied for by the street car company to restrain the city of Minneapolis from enforcing its recently passed "strap hanger" ordinance. The ordinance provides that street cars shall not take on passengers after all the seats are filled and others are standing equal to 25 per cent of the seating capacity of the car.

The measure, Judge Willard ruled, did not impair the obligation of the contract between the city and the company, and does not deprive the company of its property without due process of law as was alleged in the company's bill.

In passing comment on the ordinance, the court declared that it appealed to him as perhaps not drastic enough, as it permits the crowding of a car when there is no other within 300 feet. He suggested an ordinance merely prohibiting the company from taking more than seventy-five passengers in a car at any state time.

FOLLOWS OREGON IDEA.

Wisconsin Senate Passes Act Governing Senatorial Elections.

Madison, Wis., April 22.—A bill favoring the election of United States senators by direct vote was passed by the senate yesterday, 17 to 8. The bill modeled after the Oregon law provides that a candidate for the legislature may make one of two statements in relation to his position on the subject of the election of United States senators. One statement is that he will abide by the majority of the votes of the people and the other is that he will consider the vote of the people advisory only and will not be bound thereby.

A workmen's compensation bill passed the assembly 69 to 13. This bill has many of the features of the English and German laws pertaining to industrial insurance and was framed after many hearings in various parts of the country.

MANY NEIGHBORS ARE AT FUNERAL

Last Rites for Carlton County Farmer Who Was Electrocuted at Carlton.

Carlton, Minn., April 22.—(Special to The Herald.)—The body of David Lavigne, who was killed here Wednesday, was taken to his farm Thursday, and the funeral was held from the home yesterday afternoon at 1 o'clock. Rev. James Watt, Presbyterian minister of McNair Memorial Presbyterian church, Carlton, conducted the services. Interment was made in Hillside cemetery at Carlton. The funeral was attended by many of the farmers of the county, as Mr. Lavigne had lived here nearly twenty-five years.

David Lavigne was born near Quebec, Que., Can., and was about 53 years of age. He left a widow and six children. He was instantly killed Wednesday morning, by a shock from an electric light wire in James Dunphy's barn. Together with Alfred Karl, one of his neighbors, Lavigne had been over at Scanlon the day before and hauled away a load of lumber and were on the way home, and passed through Carlton. It being about 7 p. m., and raining heavily, the two men decided to sleep in Mr. Dunphy's barn, where there was ample room and dry hay. They put their horses away, got some lunch and then lay down on the hay in a stall to sleep.

Turns on Light, Is Killed.

At about 5:20 Mr. Lavigne awakened, looked out the door of the barn, made a remark about the weather and reached for the electric light. He was thrown to the floor instantly, flames spurting from his hand which grasped the wire. His companion, hastily seized the same wire, but further up where the insulation was intact, gave it a yank which broke the circuit and then tried to get assistance but it was too late, as Lavigne was undoubtedly killed instantly.

Around the town the same night and in the morning several other people received shocks of more or less severity from their incandescent lamps. The cause of the trouble was that the Cloquet Electric company, which supplies the town with power and light, had been compelled to stretch its heavy voltage and light wires on poles of the Duluth Telephone company. Having had occasion to make some telephone repairs on Saturday and Monday, the telephone linemen, it is said, removed one of the heavy voltage wires temporarily, and when it was replaced it was not put on the insulators, but was laid across the wooden cross-arm of the pole.

Rain Sonks Insulation.

The heavy rain soaked up the insulation and became a conductor. One of the electric light wires was burned off and fell to the ground. Then the 2,300 of voltage from the power wires passed into that circuit of the electric light wires, with the result that all the incandescent wires on that group were carrying 2,300 volts, instead of only some 110, as they were intended, besides being grounded. Every leaky joint therefore allowed the current to get out with such force that it resulted in this one death and many bad scares and narrow escapes.

DEERWOOD HAS NEW PRESIDENT

J. T. Hale Chosen to Fill Out Unexpired Term of Late Emil Carlson.

Deerwood, Minn., April 22.—(Special to The Herald.)—The village council Thursday night appointed J. T. Hale as president to fill the unexpired term of the late Emil Carlson. Mr. Hale is a prominent business man and takes an active interest in the upbuilding of the town.

There is considerable activity in business circles this season and many needed improvements are planned by the village officials.

The new store building of A. F. Nygard is nearing completion, and when finished will be one of the largest on this range.

R. A. McManning of St. Paul has finished his contract with the Soo railroad at this point and left with his crew for points in Wisconsin.

The maltshop dealers who were recently arrested on a charge of selling intoxicating liquors without a license, had their hearing. No convictions were made. It is reported that the evidence furnished was of somewhat unreliable nature.

The lake is now open and the boats will soon commence to make the regular trips between this city and Crosby.

GETTING NEW ORE CARS.

Lake Superior & Ishpeming Road Acquires 100 Up-to-Date Ones.

Marquette, Mich., April 22.—(Special to The Herald.)—About sixty of the 100 ore cars ordered by the L. S. & I. Railroad company from the Clark Car company of Pittsburg, a year ago last fall, have been shipped from the factory and they are being placed at various side tracks along the line as they arrive. The entire order is expected to be delivered within a very short time. When purchased, the contract called for the delivery of these ore cars at the opening of the shipping season last spring, but the company was unable to make delivery at that time and arrangements were made to postpone the filling of the order until this spring.

Several of the new cars are now in the Marquette yards of the L. S. & I. road, and as they are considered the last word in ore car construction, they are being examined with interest by many people. Rapidity of dumping is the feature of the new cars that marks the greatest departure from the style of ore cars now in use. Though steel practically replaced wood in the construction of ore cars several years ago, it is only within a comparatively recent time that any improvements have been made, the object of which was to facilitate the dumping of their loads.

Judge Vinje's Big Vote.

Madison, Wis., April 22.—Secretary of State Frear has completed the tabulation of the official returns of the vote for judge of the supreme court at the election on April 4. Judge A. J. Vinje of Superior, the only candidate, received 158,281 votes. In addition there were 1,047 scattering and 90 blanks.

PICKEREL IN THE SEWER.

Twelve Pounder Taken From Subterreanan Channel in Little Falls.

Little Falls, Minn., April 22.—It has always been an easy matter to make a nice catch of the finny tribe in the Mississippi river at this point, but the pulling in of a nice pickerel in the heart of the city was a stunt left for Charles Tidd to accomplish. Mr. Tidd, who is employed by the Water Power company, was assisting the trouble men in fixing the sewer on Second street northeast Tuesday. At a point midway between Broadway and First avenue northeast there is a man hole and in this is a sort of bowl or cup, which at the present time is full of water. In this Mr. Tidd found a pickerel measuring nearly three feet in length and weighting twelve pounds. The fish was alive and apparently enjoying his strange home to the fullest extent. The fish had come up the sewer from a point near Maple island where the city's drainage empties into the river.

LOW RATE TO MONTANA.

One Fare to Helena on Account of Development Congress.

St. Paul, Minn., April 22.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Northern Pacific will join with the Great Northern in making a rate of one fare for the round trip to Helena, Mont., on account of the Northwestern development congress, May 1 and 2. This will make the fare $29.40, instead of $59, and is one of the lowest rates made in the Northwest for years. On this account it is expected that there will be a heavy volume of business.

The rate will apply from Duluth, as well as from the Twin Cities.

Manitowoc Woman 106.

Manitowoc, Wis., April 22. — Mrs. Kate Hudzinska, aged 106 years, an inmate at the St. Mary's hospital for the aged, has just been discovered and listed by solicitors for a new city directory. She was born in Poland and shows remarkable vitality. A year ago she assisted in gardening and housework.

PENINSULA BRIEFS

Iron Mountain—Estore F. Faucault, a pioneer resident of the Menominee range, died last Monday evening at his home in Homestead at the age of 78. Mr. Faucault was a native of Quebec, Canada, and came to the United States in 1861, locating at Clarksburg, Marquette county. Mr. Faucault is survived by a wife and nine children: Felix of Crystal Falls, Matilda Michaud of Florence, Wis., Cyprian of Hibbing, Matt of Iron Mountain, Mrs. John Koester of Milwuakee, Henry of Homestead, Mrs. William Johnson of Paslatka, Mrs. M. Freckelton of Milwaukee, and Miss Artimese of Homestead.

Houghton—William Tolkinen, aged 63, died at the county infirmary Thursday afternoon. As the deceased had no friends in this country, he was buried Friday afternoon at the infirmary cemetery at the expense of the county.

Calumet—The members of the Red Jacket Congregational church tendered a reception to the Rev. R. W. Farquhar and wife Tuesday evening in the church parlors.

Houghton—The class day exercises of the graduating class of 1911 of the Michigan College of Mines took place Thursday evening at the college gymnasium. The speaker selected to deliver the address was William L. Saunders, president of the Ingersoll-Rand Drill company.

Calumet—The condition of John Bianchi, who was seriously injured this week through being crushed by a freight elevator at Vertin Bros. store, is encouraging.

Houghton—The death of Mrs. Elizabeth Kekola, aged 67, occurred Thursday at Mohawk. The decedent was an old resident of this district. She is survived by her husband and two sons. The funeral will take place Saturday afternoon, with services at Mohawk, Rev. A. Heideman, Jr., officiating. Interment will be in Lake View cemetery.

Hancock—John McDonald of the canal life saving crew returned this week from Canada, where he spent the winter, and is ready to report for service when the station opens, which is likely to be in the course of a day or two. The lighthouse at the canal was put into commission last Saturday night, with Noah Bennett again in charge.

Marquette—At the May term of circuit court, which opens May 15, forty-two aliens in this county will be eligible to citizenship, provided they can pass muster at the hands of the court.

Calumet—William Billedeau, well-known hammer and drill expert, and Miss Harriet Rondy, daughter of Anthony Rondy of Blue Jacket, were married Wednesday at St. Anne's French church by Rev. Father Boissoneault. Joseph Billedeau and Miss Victor Rondy, sister of the bride, attended the couple. Mr. and Mrs. Billedeau will reside in Calumet.

Marquette—The Lake Independence Lumber company is defendant in a suit brought by Barney McFarland through his next friend, John E. McCullough, in which the plaintiff asks damages in the sum of $15,000 for injuries received while employed at the Big Bay mill.

Escanaba—After being out but a short time a jury in the circuit court here found Nicholas Thinnes not guilty of violating the state liquor laws. The testimony of Rev. C. W. Rutledge of Ishpeming and Capt. Plumb of the Salvation Army, who were the principal prosecuting witnesses, was most conflicting.

Republic—Thomas Conlin, one of Republic's best known and highly esteemed residents, died Monday of heart disease. Mr. Conlin was born in Oxford, Mass., forty-eight years ago. He came to Upper Michigan over thirty years ago as a lumberman. Twelve years ago he engaged in the lumber business for himself and was the active manager until his recent illness.

Ishpeming—Thomas H. Gribble, the county treasurer, has accepted the position of chief of police for the Oliver Iron Mining company on the Marquette range, succeeding John Carney, resigned. Mr. Gribble began work immediately. He will retain the treasureship until the close of his term, as the duties with the Oliver company will not in any way interfere with his county job.

MINNESOTA BRIEFS

Staples—David Stevenson, for many years a resident of Verndale and well known to most of the older settlers in this vicinity, died at Los Angeles, Cal., on April 11, and was buried at that place. He was about 68 years of age and is survived by his wife.

Perham—The annual meeting of the union fire department was held recently. C. W. Lotterer was elected chief; Martin Schmit, assistant chief; James H. Shea, secretary, and John Oswald, treasurer. The meeting decided to cut the town into four districts, using the railroad track and Seventh street as the dividing lines.

Detroit — L. O. Larson, prominent Cormorant farmer, candidate for sheriff on the Republican ticket and well known Becker county citizen, loaded his household goods and farm implements here and left for Whitla, Alberta, Can., where the family will make their future home. Mr. Larson has been one of the county's most progressive farmers.

Pine City—F. P. McKusick is busily engaged these days in preparing the boat livery for business. He has four power launches and a string of row boats, and these will be put in first-class shape for service.

Moorhead — At a meeting of the Commercial club Tuesday evening, with an attendance of over fifty members, final action was taken upon the proposition for the building of a $60,000 modern hotel, which was submitted by the Northwestern Mutual Investment company of Fargo. The agreement or contract was approved by the club without a dissenting voice. and after a full and free discussion of the points of the agreement.

Little Falls — The market sheds on the Joslin property abutting Broadway on the north have been sold to William Pedley, Sr., who will immediately tear them down and remove the lumber to his farm east of the city. The sheds were erected at considerable cost by merchants on Broadway several years ago for the benefit of the farmers. The land upon which the sheds are located is part of that which is now being transferred to the government for a federal site and this necessitated their removal.

St. Cloud — Sunday morning at 7:30 high mass will be celebrated at the Church of the Immaculate Conception in honor of the 50th anniversary of the marriage of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Theisen, 602 Ninth avenue south. Mr. and Mrs. Thiesen were married at St. Joseph by Rev. Father Clemens, O. S. B.

Braham — Frank Katzel has been transferred as section foreman from Nickerson to Isanti, his household goods going down on Monday's local freight.

Brainerd — F. E. Hitt, formerly in charge for ten years of the local express office, has returned after a three years sojourn in California and has purchased the George A. Abbott confectionery store. He has taken possession and will continue the policy of the store, making it one of the popular stores of the city.

Mora—Mrs. John Gjerstad, aged 63, a prominent lady of Knife Lake town, died Monday of Bright's disease. She had been seriously ill for five weeks. She had been a resident of Knife Lake about thirteen years. She is survived by her husband and three sisters, two of whom live in South Dakota, and one in Portland, Or., also a brother residing in Canada and another in Illinois.

Fergus Falls — John Holt, an aged farmer living east of Elizabeth was seriously hurt by an angry bull last Wednesday. He tried to drive the bull out of the yard adjoining his residence, when the bull turned on him, knocking him down and rolling Mr. Holt some distance to a fence, which he crawled under and no doubt saved his life. He has several ribs broken and breast injured.

Hinckley — A new Odd Fellows' lodge was instituted at Willow River last Saturday night with twenty-one members, seven of whom joined by card from other lodges and fourteen by initiation by the grand officers and the Carlton degree team. The lodge will be known as Willow River lodge, No. 38.

WISCONSIN BRIEFS

Waukesha—Henry Schaefer of Menominee Falls, swallowed paris green and died. Schaefer had seemed peculiarly restless while he said he was trying to locate some lost shoemakers' tools at home. His wife tried to convince him that any of the tools mislaid must be about his shoe shop. When she found him he denied that he took poison, but later admitted it.

Grantsburg — The Burnett County State bank has been organized here by local capital and will be located at Webster as soon as the new Soo extension reaches that place.

Fond du Lac—It is expected that in addition to the 100 veterans of the Twelfth Wisconsin battery who will attend a reunion here on June 9 and 10, the Sixth and Eighteenth batteries will also meet here at that time on their return from the state encampment at Green Bay.

Randolph—The Rev. A. L. P. Loomis died here Thursday morning, aged 73. He was one of the best known Congregational ministers in the state, and had visited many parts of the world. He had recently inherited $35,000 and was planning another world trip.

La Crosse—Arrangements are already under way for the entertainment of the delegates to the sixth annual meeting of group seven of the Wisconsin Bankers' association, which will be held here on May 25. The group was organized in this city.

Milwaukee—Mrs. Harriet Armour, aged 96, died Thursday morning at the home of her son, Danforth Armour. Mrs. Armour was the widow of Marvin Armour. She came to Milwaukee with her husband in 1844, making the trip in a lumber wagon. She is survived by two children, Miss Hattie E. Armour and Danforth H. Armour, both of Milwaukee.

Madison—The joint committee on finance Thursday night held a public hearing on the Sanborn bill appropriating $50,000 to be used in connection with the celebration of the Pery victory on Lake Erie during the war of 1812. Prof. Reuben G. Twaites, secretary of the Wisconsin historical library, Senator Whitehead and Senator Sanborn spoke in favor of the measure.

Racine—Robert Bell, a merchant policeman, claims he is "just as young as he used to be," though he was 70 years old on Thursday. "Bob" fought with the Twelfth New York infantry and the Third New York artillery all through the Civil war. He was one of the few yellow fever victims in Libby prison who survived. He is particularly proud of the fact that he once shook hands with Abe Lincoln.

DAKOTA BRIEFS

Grand Forks—Secretary Bacheller of the Fair association is busy getting the material together for the publication of the premium list. Several new departures have been made this year, especially in the woman's department.

Minot, N. D.—The Missouri Valley High Carbon Fuel company has purchased a site and will erect in Minot by Oct. 7 a briqueting plant with a capacity of 300 tons a day and a gas plant with a capacity of 1,500,000 cubic feet of gas a day.

Fargo, N. D.—On Monday night, April 24, at the Salavtion Army, Lieut. Col. Marshall and Maj. Boyd of Minneapolis, will conduct a very special meeting. Col. Marshall has spent a great many years in the Salvation Army. He is a very interesting and earnest speaker, so be sure and hear him.

Jamestown, N. D.—For the second time this week in about a quarter of a century the local organization of locomotive engineers gave a dance here. The armory was crowded and every one reports a delightful time.

Grafton, N. D.—Company C gave one of its popular dances Tuesday evening at the armory. The armory was handsomely decorated with flags and bunting. The Grafton orchestra rendered the music for the occasion. Over fifty couples besides the members of Company C were in attendance.

Valley City, N. D.—If plans tentatively discussed at the rooms of the Commercial club work out as expected, Valley City will soon have a permanent Chautauqua session every summer under the auspices either of the club, or a Chautauqua association.

Hot Springs, S. D.—This city is following the lead of larger and wealthier cities in establishing a press service which will be maintained by the Commercial club. Their purpose is to advance the reputation of Hot Springs as a health and pleasure resort.

Aberdeen, S. D.—James Muir of Pemberville, Ohio, a veteran of the Civil War and postmaster at that place, was in the city Thursday on his way to Timber Lake near which place he has a homestead. He was one of the successful ones in the recent drawing and filed on a quarter section by proxy, and is now going out to see his land for the first time. Mr. Muir says that this is his first trip west of Chicago.

FIRST STREET PROPERTY IS FEATURE OF MARKET

Government Deal Closed and Two Other Lots Are Sold.

Transfers of Improved Residence Property Make Up Week's Business.

Two important sales of property, besides those made to the United States government, were made on First street this week. The government closed the deals for the site for the proposed new federal building, and now owns the entire block between First and Second streets and Fifth and Sixth avenues west, with the exception of a small tract at the northeast corner of the block, which is owned by St. Louis county. The government paid cash to the sellers of the last three tracts this week.

Mork brothers, who sold their property at the northeast corner of Sixth avenue west and First street to the government purchased through Stryker, Manley & Buck from Donald McLennan and W. L. Seaton a lot 40 by 140 feet at 607 West First street. The consideration was $15,525. It is expected that Mork brothers will remove their business to the new location when they are ordered to vacate by the government, which will probably not be for some little time yet.

A 50-foot lot and a small house at 613 West First street was sold this week by Elizabeth M. Richardson to the Eustis Loan & Realty company. The purchaser was represented by Little & Nolte and the seller by Stryker, Manley & Buck. The consideration was not given in the deed.

* * *

Other sales reported by Stryker, Manley, & Buck this week are:

Brick building containing two flats at 1101 East Fifth street, sold by Margaret Harris to Anton E. Johnson. The consideration was $7,000. Mr. Johnson lives at Tower, Minn., and expects to move to Duluth with his family soon.

Lot 65 by 140 feet on the upper side of Third street between Twenty-fifth and Twenty-sixth avenues east sold by Frances Rees Wright to L. R. Bondy. The consideration was $2,200.

House and lot at London road and Fifty-seventh avenue east sold by Rachael A. Eckert estate to W. J. Holmes. The consideration was not given in the deed.

* * *

Frances J. Underhill has sold to Margaret Carpenter a lot 35 by 140 feet on the upper side of Second street between Fifth and Sixth avenues east. The consideration was not given in the deed.

* * *

Juliette Fonda has sold to Michael E. Scott, a property on the upper side of Gladstone street between Forty-seventh and Fifty-eighth avenues east for $5,100.

* * *

Moses Shapiro has sold to John T. Stack a property, 50 by 140 feet on the upper side of Second street, between Second and Third avenues east, for $6,000.

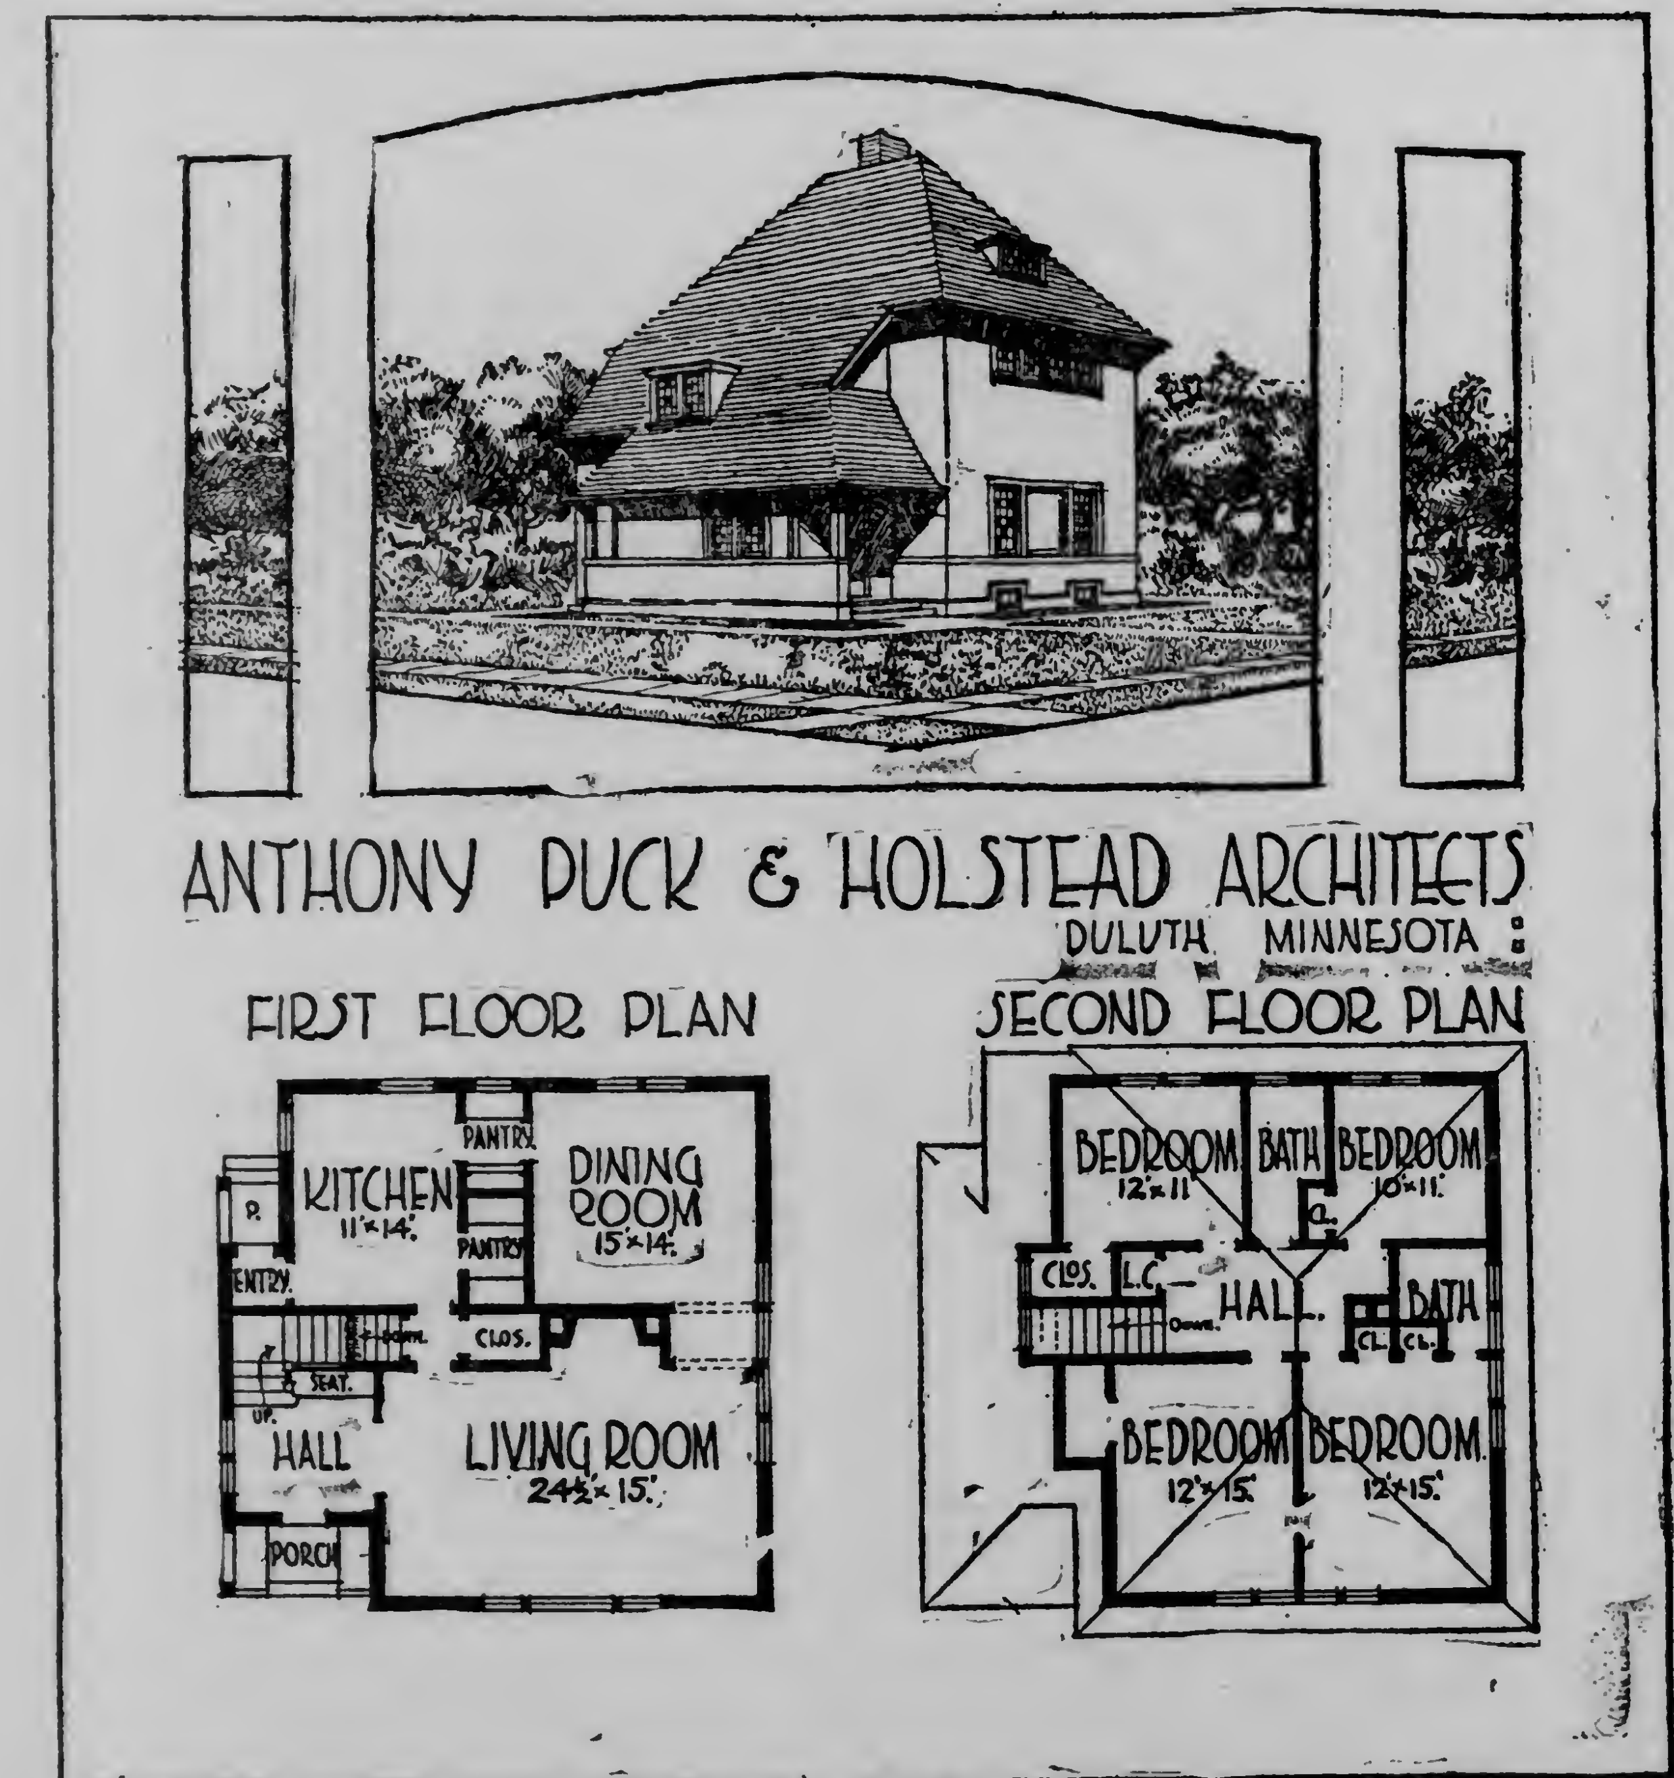
SIMPLE, BUT ROOMY HOME WHICH WOULD COST $5,000 IN DULUTH



The simplicity of exterior design and the coziness and roominess of the plans are the attractive features of this illustration. The exterior is of brick up to first story sills and stucco above with shingle roofs.

The plan is very attractive and all the space is well and economically utilized.

From a well lighted hall the entrance is directly into the living room, a large, pleasant and comodious room with open fireplace and arched opening to dining room. The kitchen, pantries, etc., are all very conveniently arranged and finish a complete first story.

The second story plan shows four good bedrooms with ample closet accommodation and two bathrooms—the owner's bedroom having a private bathroom. Though the roof is low the bedrooms would all have walls extending the full height of the ceiling.

Living room, hall and dining room to be finished in stained oak, kitchen, pantries, etc., in birch, and the second story pine finish for enamel. Floors through would be maple.

The estimated cost of such a house to be erected in Duluth or vicinity is about $5,000, including heating and plumbing.

There's a Home Waiting for YOU on Nebagamon!!

You can own a fine home on the shores of this lake if you want to. Yes, YOU. All it takes is a little money down, a little determination and a little work. You can't get anything without those. We are not going to have many of those larger-sized truck farming tracts on the shores of the lake left by the time you read this ad. If you want one big enough to make MONEY for you, at the same time having the best time of your life—you will have to do something quickly! Better see us right away and arrange to go out and SEE this land.

REAL ESTATE AND BUILDING

WEEKLY SURVEY OF REAL ESTATE DEVELOPMENTS

First Street's Position—Moving Day and the Dilatory House-Hunters—Home Building Companies Active—Gately Plans—Real Estate Men to Boost—Week-End Sales Soon.

THE real estate market showed more life this week than it has any previous week this year. There was pronounced inquiry for every class of property and several deals were closed, most of the important ones being in First street property.

In fact, First street has scored heavily all along this spring. Several important deals in property on that thoroughfare have been put through and the inquiry all spring has been strong. The demand for business places among renters has also been strong and the street has made progress in popularity in keeping with the progress of former years. First street is no longer a secondary business district. It is right in the main business district and the lower rentals and increased opportunities for business are attracting more tenants to First street every year.

* * *

MOVING day is approaching rapidly and only the naturally slow people have failed to sign their leases by this time. For the last six weeks the people with an eye to the best opportunities have been making arrangements for a shelter for this year. There is one class of people who hang back, looking at house after house, flat after flat, cannot be satisfied and finally stick to the place they have, if it has not been rented to somebody else, or make an unsatisfactory choice because they must make one of some kind.

They are the people who are in the field now and there isn't much left for them. The wise house-seeker doesn't wait until the middle of April to close his lease. He gets busy early in March, has the whole field to pick from and usually picks a winner. The others take the remnants.

The disposition shown by renters this year will put something of a check on flat building. Detached houses are in demand, and no detached house that is habitable need remain long unrented, especially if it has a little ground around it. The houses of that class are few, however, for the man who rents a detached house usually makes full use of all the ground around it and there are few houses on fifty-foot lots to rent.

THE home-building companies are busy. Scores of houses have been contracted for on the easy payment plan this year and the companies engaged in the business will be responsible for much of the building activity in the city this season. The work is not confined to any one section. Most of the companies will build anything from the modest $1,500 home of the workingman to the $10,000 house of the man of means, most of the contracts calling for homes costing from $3,000 to $6,000.

The plan is especially popular among salaried men. The man on an ordinary salary has a hard time saving enough money to build a home of his own. He goes on paying rent year after year, until he is almost discouraged. Then he comes up with $600 or so, buys a lot, appeals to the home-building company and has his home built. The amount that he was paying for rent goes into the cost of his home and in about ten years he has paid for it.

The Alliance Real Estate corporation will build a number of houses in Harrison's Brookdale division this year. Last year the company confined its attention almost exclusively to Woodland. Harrison's Brookdale division is in the Piedmont avenue district, which is rapidly growing. The company will sell the lots and build homes on the easy payment plan, and has already entered into a number of contracts.

IT IS rumored that John W. Gately of Chicago, of the Gately stores, is contemplating a large improvement to his local holdings on Superior street. Mr. Gately was in Duluth recently to look after store and property interests, and it is known that he looks with favor on Duluth realty as a form of investment. That investments in the Northwest, generally, are looked upon as very good by Mr. Gately is shown by the fact that he is planning a $1,000,000 skyscraper in Minneapolis, where he recently purchased a site adjoining the Orpheum theater on Seventh street between Nicollet and Hennepin avenues.

REAL estate men are interested in the publicity campaign to be conducted on behalf of Duluth this summer with the water fete featured. Real estate men are natural boosters for their city and they have always done what they can to let Duluth people know what a great city Duluth is. The trip of the National Association of Real Estate Exchanges to Duluth last year was a great education. Scores of real estate men in all parts of the United States have been talking about Duluth since last June and the meeting was the direct cause of a number of investments being made there.

A number of Duluth real estate men will go to Denver to the meeting of the national association this year. They will go for the benefits to be derived from the meeting and also as advertisers for Duluth. They will distribute pamphlets telling of Duluth and will continue the propaganda started among the real estate men of the country last year.

* * *

IT IS about time for the new plats to be coming out and the Saturday and Sunday sales may be expected early in May. The weather has not been entirely favorable thus far this year, but the agents having plats for this year have been waiting, ready for the campaign when the time is ripe. They will begin to get busy soon and the people who have the land hunger will be given an opportunity to satisfy it.

RESIDENCE BUILDING

Large Number of Small Homes Will Be Built This Year.

Richard Hanson Has Contract for C. P. Craig's New Home.

Residence building is still occupying the attention of the architects and builders of Duluth. If all present plans go through, there will be more residences built this year than ever before. The total cost may not be as great as in some years, for as many expensive buildings may not be built; but the number of small homes for wage earners and salaried men will be great.

Few business buildings of any kind have been planned thus far and the apartment buildings planned are all of the smaller kind—duplex and three and four-family buildings.

* * *

The most important building announcement of the week was that the contract had been let to Richard Hanson for the new home for C. P. Craig at Twenty-fourth avenue east and Fourth street. It will be a twelve-room brick residence, 30 by 60 feet, and will cost about $20,000.

* * *

F. L. Young & Co. are preparing plans for a modern ten-room frame residence to be built for Miss Margaret Carpenter on the upper side of Second street between Fifth and Sixth avenue east. It will cost about $5,000.

* * *

Joseph Polski has let the contract to Nicholas Mueller for a duplex brick building on the lower side of Fourth street between Twelfth and Thirteenth avenues east. It will cost about $5,000. Austin Terryberry is the architect.

* * *

Austin Terryberry has made plans for a residence to be built for himself on the lower side of Fourth street between Twenty-first and Twenty-second avenues east. The contract has been let to Fraser & Falconer. The building will be a modern frame residence and will cost about $5,000.

* * *

J. J. Wangenstein is taking figures on a duplex brick flat building to be erected for Martin Kris on Second street between Fifth and Sixth avenues east. The bids will be opened next week.

* * *

The contract for a garage and extension for a sun room at the residence of C. F. Haley, Twenty-fourth avenue east and Fifth street, has been let to George Lounsberry. Bray & Nystrom are the architects.

* * *

The contract for the new Catholic church to be erected at Grand Rapids, Minn., has been let to Edward Jackson of Bemidji. The building will be 42 by 120 feet and the exterior will be of pressed brick and stone. It will seat about 500 and will cost $20,000. Ellerbe, Round & Sullivan of Duluth are the architects.

* * *

J. J. Wangentsein is preparing plans for a modern three-story hotel building to be erected at International Falls for the Duluth Brewing & Malting Co. It will cost about $45,000. Bids will be opened about May 1.

* * *

W. C. Poehler has sold his residence at 2501 East Fifth street to E. J. Collins. The consideration has not been announced.

BUILDING.
DULUTH

OFFICES AND STORES FOR RENT.

The Fidelity Building is fire-proof: the heating and ventilating systems are most modern; the elevator and janitor service is efficient and dependable. All offices are daylight.

The court of the Fidelity Building is much larger than that of any other office building in the city, consequently all offices are better lighted and better supplied with fresh air. These things, while all small features in themselves, really constitute the difference between offices that are desirable—that are conducive to work and comfortable to be in, and places that are stuffy, dark, poorly ventilated and disagreeable, for both the occupant and those having occasion to transact business in the building. Attractive offices inspire confidence and lend an air of prosperity; they create an impression that is quite desirable.

LEGAL NOTICES.

RESOLVED, BY THE STOCKHOLDERS of Gopher Real Estate Company, a Minnesota corporation, that Articles V and VI of the Articles of Incorporation of said Gopher Real Estate Company be amended to read as follows:

"ARTICLE V.

The amount of the capital stock of said corporation shall be one hundred and fifty thousand dollars ($150,000.00), to be paid in from time to time as called for by the Board of Directors. Said capital stock shall be divided into fifteen hundred (1500) shares of the par value of one hundred dollars ($100.00) each.

ARTICLE VI.

The highest amount of indebtedness or liability to which this corporation shall at any time be subject shall be one hundred and fifty thousand dollars ($150,000.00)."

State of Minnesota, County of St. Louis —ss.

We hereby certify that the foregoing resolution was duly adopted by unanimous vote of all the stockholders and members of Gopher Real Estate Company, a Minnesota corporation, at a meeting of said stockholders and members held at Duluth, Minnesota, on April 14th, 1911, at which meeting all of the stockholders and members were present, and executed a written consent on the records thereof that the business transacted at said meeting shall be as valid and binding as if said meeting had been duly called.

Dated this 14th day of April, 1911.

REINER HOCH,
President of Gopher Real Estate Company.
W. E. DAY,
Secretary of Gopher Real Estate Company.
(Seal, Gopher Real Estate Co., Incorporated, Duluth, Minn.)

ORDER FOR HEARING ON PETITION FOR ADMINISTRATION—

State of Minnesota, County of St. Louis.—ss.

In Probate Court.

THE PETITION OF Milo Dukich of Buhl, Minnesota, having been filed in this Court, representing, among other things, that Don Medich, then being a resident of the County of St. Louis, State of Minnesota, died intestate, in the County of St. Louis, State of Minnesota, on the 7th day of June, 1910; leaving estate in the County of St. Louis, State of Minnesota, and that said petitioner is the first cousin of deceased, and holds a power of attorney from father and mother of said decedent, and praying that Letters of Administration of the estate of said decedent be granted to Pete Radakovich.

IT IS ORDERED, That said petition be heard before this Court at the Probate Court Rooms in the Court House in Duluth, in said County, on Monday, the 1st day of May, 1911 at ten o'clock, A. M., and all persons interested in said hearing and in said matter are hereby cited and required at said time and place to show cause, if any there be, why said petition should not be granted.

ORDERED FURTHER, That this Order be served by publication in The Duluth Herald, according to law, and that a copy of this Order be served on the County Treasurer of St. Louis County not less than ten days prior to said day of hearing.

Dated at Duluth, Minn., April 8th, 1911.

By the Court.

S. W. GILPIN,
Judge of Probate.

RUSHING TRESTLE WORK FOR NEW RAILROAD THROUGH WEST DULUTH

PILE DRIVERS AT WORK.

The new line of the Canadian Northern railway, which will be elevated from Fifty-ninth avenue west to the bay front, is rapidly taking form and this week pile drivers drove the piles necessary from Fifty-ninth to Fifty-sixth avenues west. William M. Hauser & Co. are the contractors.

Next week the work will be pushed from Fifty-sixth to Central avenues. Then the old shirt factory building at Fifty-fourth and Grand avenues will be torn down. It is an old landmark and of late years has been used for flats. This may be the site of the new depot.

As soon as the piles are placed from Fifty-ninth to Central avenues, the contractors expect to put another crew at work laying the timbers for the trestle. Most of the material necessary is already on the ground and more is arriving evey day. The street crossings will be spanned with steel.

WILL INSIST ON A DEPOT

West Duluth Commercial Club Wants Council to Rush Soo Case.

Would Go Into the Courts If That Is Necessary.

A resolution was passed last evening at the West Duluth Commercial club meeting asking the city council to demand of the Soo road that a depot be built at West Duluth, as provided in the franchise which it holds. If legal steps are needed, the club recommends that they be resorted to.

The club also will push the matter of crossing gates at the Northern Pacific crossings at Fifty-seventh, Sixty-third, and Raleigh streets.

It was reported at the meeting that a permit had been taken out by the Northern Pacific road for the installation of water service in the West Duluth depot and that the depot would have a sanitary closet.

The proposed narrowing of Fifty-ninth avenue west in any way by the Canadian Northern railway, which will build a bridge over the street, was opposed by the club.

A vote of thanks was extended to the women of Asbury M. E. church for the supper served at the annual banquet, to the Duluth Edison Electric company for its electrical displays, and to C. M. Brooks for the use of the lumber necessary for tables at the affair.

James O'Brien, a West Duluth baseball enthusiast, last evening asked the West Duluth Commercial club to put a baseball team in the city league under the title of the West Duluth Commercial club team. The matter was not acted upon.

Mr. O'Brien will be recommended to the consideration of the business men of the Central and Grand avenues by the club. There are some who object to the club spending money for equipping a team. Mr. O'Brien will take the matter up with the business men next week.

SUPERIOR

STRICT ENFORCEMENT OF GARBAGE CAN ORDINANCE.

The garbage can ordinance will be enforced in Superior. This was decided upon last evening at the monthly meeting of the board of health. There has been much complaint because of insanitary conditions and the health board members propose to carry out the provisions of the ordinance to the letter. It provides that every household shall have a garbage can and that arrangements be made for emptying the same at regular intervals.

NEW SUMMER HOMES AT LAKE NEBAGAMON.

Many new summer homes are planned this year at the popular summer resort, Lake Nebagamon, according to C. F. Stone, postmaster and a well known business man there, who was a visitor yesterday in Superior. He says that there is much activity in the way of platting lots for new homes and looks for one of the best seasons that Lake Nebagamon has ever had.

In Municipal Court.

When arraigned yesterday in municipal court, Iver Erickson was fined $25 and costs with the option of thirty days in the county workhouse on a charge of carrying concealed weapons. In default of payment of the fine, he was sent to the workhouse. Erickson was arrested in a lower Hammond avenue resort.

Arthur Welty and Henry Schommer, the two Billings Park boys who were arraigned in municipal court on a charge of forgery were dismissed when brought up for an examination yesterday.

Policemen's Ball.

More than 1,100 people attended the twelfth annual ball of the Superior police department held last evening at the Hotel Superior. The decorations were unique and the musical program, which was given by the Grand Opera house orchestra, was well rendered.

SPREADS TO LA CROSSE.

Workers in Button Factory in That City Quit.

La Crosse, Wis., April 22.—The button cutters' strike, which has tied up the pearl button industry down river, spread to La Crosse this morning. The cutters in the employ of the Wisconsin Pearl Button company struck against a new wage scale which they claimed meant a reduction of wages, but which the company claim means no reduction. Other departments of the big plant are not yet affected.

CHIEF JUSTICE FISK

To Preside Over the North Dakota Impeachment Court.

Bismarck, N. D., April 22.—(Special to The Herald.)—Judge C. J. Fisk of the supreme court will preside over the sessions of the North Dakota impeachment court Monday afternoon and Tuesday, President Burdick of the senate having gone to Randolph, Minn., where he will remain for that time. No session was held today.

CLARK MINE CASE AGAIN

Rogers' Heirs Now Suing Crosby, McClintock and Barnes.

Former Suit Against Mining Company Won By Defendant.

Judge C. F. Amidon of Fargo will be in Duluth Monday to hear demurrers and motions in four actions brought in United States court by heirs of James M. Rogers against Wilson G. Crosby, J. N. McClintock and Edward W. Barnes. The actions grew out of the litigation over the Clark mine, which has been in the state and federal courts in this district for a number of years.

The cases in which arguments will be made Monday are those brought by Mary T. Rogers, Amanda Elizabeth Guinn, V. Ella Fisher and Narsis Janie Hickman. The actions are brought to collect damages from the three defendants under the claim that the quit claim deeds obtained from the plaintiffs and other heirs of James M. Rogers and later conveyed to the Clark Iron Mining company were obtained by fraudulent representation. The damages asked are on the basis of a valuation of $720,000 on the property.

It is charged that the deed under which the Clark Iron Mining company originally claimed title to the land was not signed by the James M. Rogers to whom the patent was issued and that the three defendants were cognizant of that fact. It is claimed they then represented to the heirs, who were ignorant of the real value of the land, that it was practically worthless, had been sold for taxes and would cost more than it was worth to be redeemed. It is also charged that McClintock, who is alleged to have have conducted the negotiations, claimed to be a real estate dealer from Tennessee, while he was really an attorney at Duluth. It is alleged he represented the land to be "range" land, which was understood by the plaintiffs as pasture land, practically worthless, as the term is understood in the Southwest, where they lived.

The quit claim deeds were obtained at ridiculously low prices, it is claimed, Amanda Elizabeth Guinn, who claims a one-eighteenth share of the estate, alleging that she received only $30, whereas her portion was estimated to be worth $40,000. It is alleged that after the deeds were obtained, Crosby, McClintock and Barnes received large sums of money and shares of stock from the Clark Iron Mining company and divided the receipts.

It is alleged that the Clark company acted in good faith, but that the three defendants conspired to deprive the plaintiffs of their rights and the suits are to collect damages from them.

Similar actions were brought against the Clark Iron Mining company by the Rogers heirs some time ago and were decided by the state courts in favor of the company.

MANY ATHLETES ARE ENTERED

Nearly 300 Will Compete in Annual Drake University Events.

Des Moines, Iowa, April 22.—Ideal weather prevails for the second annual Drake university relay meet at the Drake stadium this afternoon. Nearly 300 athletes from all the principal colleges and universities from the Middle West are in Des Moines.

Coach A. A. Stagg of Chicago university arrived this morning with eight of the best quarter-milers from the university including Ira Davenport. Illinois university has teams entered in three of the events. Every school in the Missouri valley conference will compete and in addition every Iowa college is represented. There will also be an interscholastic class of races with three Des Moines high schools and four outside schools entered.

Harry Gill, Illinois university trainer, will be referee.

Washington, April 22.—(Special to The Herald.)—Representative Steenerson has been tendered and accepted an honorary vice presidency of the International Peace forum. While Representative Steenerson is a man of peace, he is the father of the bill to increase the efficiency of the militia of the United States. In other words, Representative Steenerson believs that the very best way to preserve peace is to be prepared to meet any emergency that may arise.

YOUNG WOMAN DIES OF BLOOD POISONING.

Hilda Johanna Grenvall, the 18-year-old wife of John Grenvall of 2026 West Fifth street, died in St. Mary's hospital this morning of blood poisoning. She was brought to the hospital four days ago.

Mrs. Grenvall was formerly Miss Hilda Anderson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Matt Anderson of 418 Weeks avenue, Superior. She was married about a year ago.

The funeral will be held Tuesday from the First Norwegian Danish M. E. church Twenty-fourth avenue west and Third street.

TRUSKETT RELEASED ON $50,000 BONDS.

Topeka, Kan., April 22.—The state supreme court today approved the $50,000 bonds of A. A. Truskett, who was convicted in Montgomery county of the murder of J. D. S. Neeley, a wealthy oil operator of Lima, Ohio. He will be released pending the appeal of his case. The bond is the largest ever ordered by the supreme court.

PRISONERS RELEASED

Converse, Blatt and Brown Leave Jail at Juarez.

Set Free at 12:30 a. m. By Order of President Diaz.

El Paso, Tex., April 22.—Ralph Converse of Glendora, Cal., Edwin Blatt of Pittsburg, Pa., and Richard Brown of El Paso held in prison in Juarez, were released here at 12:30 today on orders from President Diaz. Brown was with the insurrectos hospital corps and had not borne arms. Converse and Blatt had borne arms and were arrested by Mexican federals on Texas soil.

Troops Return to Agua Prieta.

Naco, Sonora, Mex., April 22.—The three hundred Mexican federal troops sent here from Agua Prieta Thursday returned today to Agua Prieta.

It was reported here upon what appeared to be good authority that Lieut. Troncozo, the Mexican officer wounded at Agua Prieta, who was alleged in official representations from the City of Mexico to have been hit by a shot fired from the American customs house, was really wounded by one of his own men. It is stated that Troncozo died the day after he was shot.

Further it is stated that an American was responsible for Lieut. Troncozo's being brought safely across the line after he was wounded.

Surrounded By Rebels.

El Paso, Tex., April 22.—A special dispatch to the El Paso Herald from Torreon, Mex., says that the town of Mapimi in the state of Durango is surrounded by rebels. The Penoles Mining company, a German concern has large interests in the state of Durango.

Capture Ammunition.

Washington, April 22.—According to a telegram from Col. Steever in command at El Paso, the United States authorities there captured on the night of April 19-20, 27,545 rounds of ammunition. An attempt was being made to smuggle the cartridges into Mexico.

May Go to Hospital.

Washington, April 22.—By order of Secretary of War Dickinson authority has been wired to the commanding officers at Douglas, Ariz., to permit twenty-five wounded Mexican soldiers accompanied by attendants, all unarmed and without uniform, to proceed in a special car from Agua Prieta by way of Douglas to a hospital at Cananea. No munitions of war, according to the order, which was given out at the White House, will be allowed on the car.

WHEAT FIRM; CORN HELPS

Strength in Latter Cereal Gives Wheat Longs Confidence.

Shorts Run—Foreign Markets Up—Barley Is Stronger.

Duluth Board of Trade, April 22.—Wheat advanced today. May gained ⅝c and July went forward a similar distance. Cash wheat was 1c over the May delivery. Oats lost ⅝c, rye was 1c up and barley gained 1c. Durum advanced ½c.

Linseed was weaker, May and July losing ½c. There was no significance to the decline. Palata seed at Antwerp for the current delivery was $2.18 a bushel, slightly weaker.

The wheat market today continued to be a trading affair. In the early hour there was some weakness and values declined but after noon the pressure subsided and the market rallied sharply, advancing fractionally over the opening. The strength was due chiefly to the advance in corn which was exceptionally strong not only here but abroad. The firmness in the corn market gave the longs in wheat courage to support the market. Shorts were timorous and ran to cover. Shorts have not made any money lately and they are not disposed to press the market until the May liquidation begins.

This expected liquidation may not have the downward effect on values as expected by the pronounced bears. It is likely that the longs will continue to change into distant deliveries as there are few who care to take and pay for the actual grain. If the bull leaders and elevator men keep the wheat for storage it would create a natural corner. There is said to be a considerable supply of wheat in the country but shorts are easily frightened and it would not be surprising if they bid up the market on themselves several cents before much wheat can be brought in to relieve the situation.

The flour demand shows improvement and the cash demand for wheat at the leading markets was reported to be broader. The cash market is still relatively dull, however, and has not attained sufficient proportions to make it a strictly bull card. The crop outlook is unchanged. In Wetsern Kansas moisture is needed. Scattered precipitation is predicted for the Southwest. Warmer and unsettled weather is the prediction for the Northwest where seeding is in general progress under first-class conditions.

The foreign markets were higher, generally, Liverpool being especially strong. American shipments will be lighter this week, the demand for Australian cargoes continues.

The cash position of oats is exceedingly strong. The futures lack snap. Receipts are light and at Chicago the spot position is in a more favorable condition than the May delivery. Indications point to a strong oats market until after seeding, when the movement from the interior may be freer. Farmers probably will hold onto supplies until the new crop start is reassuring.

The barley position is easier on account of the relative cheapness of prices on the Pacific coast. Tables at all of the leading markets are kept cleaned up. Coast barley is obtainable at around $1 a bu, and may continue to prevent any materially higher prices in the Middle states. The reserves in the East and West are the lightest in many years. Many barley specialists believe that $1.25 a bu will be paid for barley before the next crop is available.

MARKET GOSSIP

The Crop Report issued by the department of agriculture has the following: "With a 'world' wheat crop in each of the past two years of upward of 3,000,000,000 bu—larger by a few hundred million bushels than any previous record — with now opulent supplies and reduced prices on practically all markets, the season of 1911 has opened with prospects that, in so far as areas and conditions of vegetation are known, present few abnormal features. In Argentina and Australia, the great exporting countries of the southern hemisphere, the harvests finished early in 1911 have probably given a combined yield somewhat in excess of that of 1910. The harvest now approaching completion in British India gives assurance of results approximating the record. In most countries of Europe, where plant life has but recently awakened from hibernal dormancy, the situation is less clearly definable; in the United Kingdom, France, Spain and Italy deluges last autumn delayed and in some localities curtailed seeding, but the winter was for the most part mild and humid and with local exceptions, vegetation is believed to have been largely restored to a condition normal to the season. The winter in Germany, Austria-Hungary and the Balkan states was excessively cold, and although considerable areas of winter cereals were at times devoid of snow cover, the damage, it is maintained, as limited and insufficient to affect general results at harvest. Concerning the state in which cereals on the vast acreage of Russia emerged from a winter of almost unprecedented severity, comprehensive information is not yet available. Over the greater part of Europe abundant snow protection at critical periods is believed to have been effective; late commercial reports, however, speak of extensive damage in southwestern and southeastern governments.

Broomhall cabled from Liverpool—The wheat market at the opening was quiet and ⅛d lower, being influenced by the lower Buenos Ayres closing; this offset the firmness in American cables yesterday. Later and during the remainder of the morning, the market was supported and prices advanced and at the close the market was steady and ⅛d up from the opening and unchanged from yesterday. Crop advices are favorable and receipts here are increasing but speculators supported on the strong advance in corn, renewed demand for Australian cargoes and lighter American shipments this week as indicated by Bradstreet's. On the whole the market was dull with the undertone very steady. The corn market opened unchanged, later and during the morning shorts covered freely with heavy speculative buying induced by the strong advance in spot, which was 1¾d to 2½d higher and the scarcity of Platte spot. American shipments are expected to be light and there are very few Danubian offers with Argentine crop prospects very bad. The undertone was strong at the close with May 1¼d higher and July ⅞d higher than yesterday. Cargoes arrived off coast three and awaiting orders none. Wheat in distant positions firm with a better inquiry. Corn strong, holders asking 3d to 6d advance.

CHICAGO MARKET.

Wheat Shows a Decided Irregularity in Price.

Chicago, April 22.—Decided irregularity in the course of prices took wheat traders by surprise today. Nearby deliveries were strong, the distant weak. Firmness of cables and the absence of selling pressure locally let the May option ascend. Favorable conditions for seeding appeared to have a depressing effect on July. Bears made an active stand against the latter month. The opening of the market as a whole was ¼c lower to ¼@⅜c higher. May started at 90⅝c to 90¾c, a shade off to ¼@⅜c up, rose to 91c, and reacted to 90½c. July fell to 87½c, a drop of ⅝c under last night.

Subsequently the late months advanced because of the bulge in corn and as a result of shorts covering for the week end. The close was steady with May at 91c, a net gain of ½@⅝c.

Sensationally bad crop prospects in the Argentine hoisted corn. Cash houses here were good buyers. May opened a sixteenth to ⅝c higher at 51 to 51½c, and advanced to 51½@51⅝c.

Export sales led to a further gain. The close was steady at 51¾c for May, ¾@⅞c higher than last night.

Oats eased off soon notwithstanding the continued bull movement in corn. Trade was light. May opened unchanged to ⅛c higher at 31⅞c to 32c and then receded to 31⅞c.

Provisions were firmer with hogs. Business, however, was dull. First sales showed a gain of 2½c to 15c, with July options at $14.87½ to $14.92½ for pork, $8.00 for lard and $8.05 for ribs.

MINNEAPOLIS MARKET.

Sentiment Changes and Many Traders Favor Bull Side.

Minneapolis, Minn., April 22.—Sentiment changed today and many traders favored the bull side of the market. Reports of deficiency in precipitation caused the change. Moderate support was given the market in spite of the easiness in foreign quotations. May closed ¾c higher than yesterday; July ½c higher and September ⅛@¼ higher. Local elevator stocks of wheat decreased 111,100 bu for one day.

Minneapolis today received 211 cars of wheat against 97 a year ago; Duluth 22 against 19, and Winnipeg 164 against 34. May opened 96⅛c; high, 97½c; low, 96⅞c; closed, 97¼c. July opened 97c; high, 98⅜c; low, 97c; closed, 98⅛c. September opened 89¾c; high, 90¼c; low, 89½c; closed, 90⅛@¼c.

Cash wheat continued about steady. Demand strong and in excess of more liberal receipts. No. 1 northern sold for 2½@3½c above May. No. 1 hard closed $1.00¾; No. 1 northern, 99¾@$1.00¼, to arrive, 99¼@$1.00¼; No. 2 northern, 96¼@98¾c; to arrive, 96¼@98¾c; No. 3 wheat, 94½@97½c; No. 3 yellow corn, 51½@52c; No. 3 white oats, 31@31¼c; No. 2 rye, 89½@90c.

Millstuffs—Shipments, 2,152 tons. Market was voted steady. Some mills feel an easy undertone. Prices unchanged. Bran in 100-pound sacks, $21.00@22.00.

Flour—Further advance in wheat sent prices up again. Demand slightly improved and the market was fairly active. Shipments today, 42,427 bbls; for the week, 323,539; last week, 298,459; year ago, 199,071. First patents, in wood, f. o. b., Minneapolis, $4.60@4.90; seconds, $4.50@4.80; first clears, $3.10@3.55; second clears, $2.10@2.75.

Flax—Receipts, 5 cars, year ago, 8; shipments, 3. Demand good for both spot and to arrive flaxseed at 1c above the Duluth May contract. Closing price, $2.58.

Midway Horse Market.

Minnesota Transfer, St. Paul, Minn., April 22.—Barrett & Zimmerman report: There was a heavy demand for good horses out of the logging woods, and a number of good sales were booked. This class of horses are big value for money as a lot of them have only been in the woods one season. Local retail demand from teaming interests continues satisfactory, and the market has a much better tone than a week ago. Mules moved slow. Shipments were made to Grantsburg, Unity and Spooner, Wis.; North Branch and Duluth, Minn.

RALLY NEAR THE CLOSE

Heavy Selling of United States Steel—Losses Partially Regained.

New York, April 22.—The active issues sold off in the opening transactions at the stock exchange today. United States Steel declined to 74, the lowest point of the week, on the first sale of 2,400 shares. Union Pacific, Reading and Missouri Pacific declined fractionally. International Harvester gained a point.

The market was weak and feverish during the first hour. Heavy selling concentrated upon United States Steel, which fell to 73¾c and the entire list was heavy, many of the active issues showing losses, Union Pacific and Reading declining 1⅛ and 1⅜ respectively. About the only exceptions to the market's all around heaviness was International Harvester, which gained 2 points in anticipation of its forthcoming annual report. Sloss-Sheffield Steel and United States Rubber yielded 2 points.

The market closed active with a rally in progress. The volume of trading was well sustained in the second hour and the list showed little recuperative power until just before the close when a rallying movement brought substantial recovery from the low level. There was some weakness in the local traction stocks. International Harvester preferred declined 2½ points.

Hogs—Receipts, 2,500; steady; range, $5.85@6.85; bulk, $5.95@6.

Cotton Market.

New York, April 22.—The cotton market opened steady at unchanged prices to an advance of 4 points, near months being relatively firm in response to better Liverpool cables than expected, continued large English spot sales, and the bullish week-end figures, while the new crop reflected generally clear weather in the South. There was considerable realizing for over the week end, but this was more than offset by covering and bull support during the early trading, with May contracts selling up to 14.93 and July to 14.99, or about 6@7 points net higher, and into new high ground for the movement. July cotton in New Orleans sold at 15.00 this morning.

Futures closed very steady. Closing bids: April, 14.87; May, 14.94; June, 14.98; July, 15.00; August, 14.69; September, 13.45; October, 12.94; November, 12.87; December, 12.85; January, 12.82; March, 12.94. Spot closed quiet, 10 points higher; middling uplands, 15:10; middling gulf, 15.35. No sales.

EQUITY HEADS TO ADDRESS FARMERS

National President and Organizer of Equity Society Coming to North Dakota.

Fargo, N. D., April 22.—(Special to The Herald.) — National President Sharp of Kentucky and National Organizer Long of Wisconsin have been secured by President Squire of the North Dakota Union of American Society of Equity to lead an aggressive campaign to be conducted in North Dakota during the latter part of May and June.

As a result of the organization of a terminal elevator association, the farmers are greatly interested and applications are in for fifty meetings in the state.

BIG SAWMILL WILL SOON BE RUNNING

Plant Being Built at International Falls to Be Among Largest in State.

International Falls, Minn., April 22.—(Special to The Herald.)—The basement of the power company's office building has been remodeled to provide offices for the timekeeper and paymaster. Time clocks have been received, so this end of the business of the big institution will soon be working on a better system than has heretofore prevailed.

The big sawmill is now under roof and work has been started on the sorting sheds. The interior of the mill is being rearranged to some extent to permit of the installation of a third band saw, which will materially increase the capacity of the mill. When completed it will contain three bands, a gang and a resaw, and will be one of the largest in the state. It will be in operation in sixty days and will employ approximately 400 men.

The papermakers' Easter ball given at the city hall Monday night proved a big social and financial success.

William Durrin of Northome, chairman of the county board, was here this week signing warrants and attending to other official duties.

Deputy County Auditor Sheeran is very busy, because upon him has fallen the task of measuring and weighing out the carload of seed which the state has provided for the fire sufferers of last fall. The seed was hauled to the courthouse for distribution.

It is expected that the M. & I. will at an early date announce the resumption of their week-end passenger train service to this place, as in previous seasons, which will give us a train out Sunday evenings and one in Monday mornings.

The gravel train on the M., D. & W. is busy and in consequence the company tracks in the local yards will soon be in first-class condition.

Laundry Employe Injured.

Carl Robedeau had a narrow escape from serious injury the first of the week by being caught in the shafting of the International steam laundry, where he is employed. Before the machinery could be shut down he had been jammed against the ceiling and all of the clothes on the upper part of his body town off. He suffered no injuries beyond a few bruises of minor importance.

The Amity club of Fort Frances will give a ball at the city hall on the evening of Tuesday.

D. T. McPhee has purchased lot 5, block 10, adjoining one lot which he owned, thus giving him a fifty-foot business lot on Third street in the center of the district where there is so much building activity in sight.

L. L. Enger of Minneapolis is up looking after his Fort Frances property interests.

International Falls will probably be able to boast of two bands before the season is over. The old band is being reorganized and another organization is to soon be formed.

Townsite Manager Kinney's plant of Townsite Manager Kinney's pan of garden purposes is popular, as it will not only provide ground for the raising of vegetables but will aid in the clearing up and beautifying of the city. Herman Koeneke, the well-known truck gardener, initiated the movement and others are following suit.

Clerk of Court Drummond this week issued a marriage license to Otto Aas and Miss Mary Uran of Northome.

Judge Langland of the municipal court Monday married Ole Vold and Mamie Hanson of Loman, and on Tuesday erformed a similar ceremony for Charles Haggblon and Alma Olson of Margie.

PREVENTED FROM ENDING HIS LIFE

Crazed with liquor, Hector Badeaux jumped into the icy waters of the bay from a Garfield avenue dock last evening and would have drowned had he not been pulled out by men who hurried to the scene after seeing him leap.

When he had been hauled to the shore, the police were notified, and he was taken to the headquarters station in the patrol wagon. On the road he began to revive and fought most of the way to the station. He had to be given attention for a considerable time after being locked up.

Badeaux was arraigned in police court this morning charged with being drunk. He entered a plea of guilty and was given a straight sentence of seven days in the county jail. This was done to sober him up so that he would not start drinking again and make another frenzied attempt to jump into the bay.

SESSION ENDS.

New Jersey Legslature Concludes Fruitful Meeting.

Trenton, N. J., April 22.—The 1911 New Jersey legislature ended a 16-weeks' session last night with a record of much progressive legislation, and with Governor Wilson as the effective force in bringing about such a result.

The governor issued a statement last evening in which he said the session was one remarkable for good feeling and achievement.

"I think it will always be remembered," he said, "as extraordinary in that it witnessed the fulfillment by the legislature of every important campaign pledge. Much remains to be done, * * * but no single legislature could possibly be expected to accomplish more.

The governor then recites the more important legislative enactments, including the employers' liability bill, the primary election reform act, the corrupt practice act and the law for the regulation of public utility corporations. The governor sent to the senate yesterday a list of seventy-five appointments, which were confirmed. Among them was the name of George L. Record, one of the state leaders of the progressive Republicans, to be a state assessor. Winthrop M. Dandiels, senior professor of economics in Princeton university, was named as a member of the public utilities commission.

If you will bring your Calumet & Arizona and Superior & Pittsburg certificates to Paine, Webber & Co.'s office, we will have them transferred into the new Calumet & Arizona stock for you.

LEGAL NOTICES.

NOTICE—

Pursuant to the terms and conditions of Ordinance No. 85, of the City of Two Harbors, Lake County, Minnesota, which said Ordinance is entitled, "AN ORDINANCE PROVIDING FOR THE ISSUANCE, FORM AND SALE OF FIVE THOUSAND FIVE HUNDRED DOLLARS OF NEGOTIABLE BONDS OF THE CITY OF TWO HARBORS, MINNESOTA, FOR THE PURPOSE OF RAISING FUNDS WITH WHICH TO PAY BONDS IN LIKE AMOUNT DUE FEBRUARY FIRST, A. D. 1911;" Notice is hereby given that the City Council of the City of Two Harbors will meet in the Council Chambers in the City Hall of said City of Two Harbors on Monday, the 8th day of May, A. D. 1911, at eight (8:00) o'clock P. M., and will then and there receive bids for the purchase of said bonds authorized to be sold, to the amount and of the tenor hereinafter stated. Said bonds to be known as "THE CITY OF TWO HARBORS WATER AND LIGHT IMPROVEMENT REFUNDING BONDS," and are to be issued and negotiated at not less than par value thereof, the same being the face value, which is $5,500.00, and accrued interest to date of delivery. Said bonds to be made payable in ten years, upon the First day of February, A. D. 1921, and drawing interest at the rate of five per cent per annum, payable semi annually on the First day of February and August of each year, both principal and interest to be paid in gold coin of the United States of America of the present standard of weight and fineness at the First National Bank of Chicago.

Any person may bid on one or more of said bonds in any of the following named denominations, viz: $100.00, $500.00, $1000.00; and if the said bonds shall be accepted the bonds shall be of tho demoninations called for by such bids. Where not inconsistent with such bids the bonds shall be of One Thousand dollars each.

All bids must be without conditions or qualifications; must be sealed and have name and address of bidder on outside of envelope. No bid will be considered unless the bidder making same shall have deposited with the City Clerk of said City, before two o'clock P. M. of the day on which bids are to be received, a certified check or Certificate of Deposit on a National or State Bank, payable to the order of the City of Two Harbors without conditions, for an amount equal to one per cent of the full face value of the bonds proposed to be bid for.

Given under my hand and seal this 10th day of April, A. D. 1911.

P. J. MacALPINE,
City Clerk.
By GEO. J. O'CONNOR,
Deputy.

In Probate Court.

In the Matter of the Estate of John Beckman, Deceased.

THE PETITION OF Adolph F. Swanstrom, Jr., as representative of the above named estate, having been filed in this Court, representing among other things, that for reasons stated in said petition, it is necessary and for the best interests of the estate of said deceased and of all persons interested therein, to mortgage certain lands of said deceased in said petition described and praying that license be to Adolph F. Swanstrom, Jr., granted to mortgage the said land:

IT IS ORDERED, That said petition be heard before this Court, at the Probate Court Rooms in the Court House, in Duluth, in said County, on Monday, the 15th day of May, 1911, at ten o'clock A. M., and all persons interested in said hearing and in said matter are hereby cited and required at said time and place to show cause, if any there be, why said petition should not be granted.

ORDERED FURTHER, That this order be served by publication in The Duluth Herald, according to law.

Dated at Duluth, Minn., April 22nd, 1911.

By the Court,

S. W. GILPIN,
Judge of Probate.

(Seal, Probate Court, St. Louis County, Minn.)

CHARLES E. ADAMS,
Attorney for Representative.

D. H., April 22, 29 and May 6, 1911.

CERTIFICATE OF INCORPORATION —OF— WALHALLA IRON AND STEEL COMPANY.

Know all men by these presents, That we, the undersigned, have voluntarily associated ourselves together for the purpose of forming a corporation pursuant to Chapter 58 of the Revised Laws of the State of Minnesota for the year 1905, and the acts amendatory thereof and supplementary thereto, and do hereby adopt the following Certificate of Incorporation:

ARTICLE I.

The name of this corporation shall be WALHALLA IRON AND STEEL COMPANY, and the general nature of its business shall be the mining, smelting, reducing, refining and working of iron ore and other minerals, and the manufacturing of iron, steel, copper and other metals, and marketing the products thereof, and the buying, owning, working, selling, mortgaging and dealing in mineral lands and other real and personal property.

The principal place of transacting the business of the corporation shall be at Duluth, in the County of St. Louis and the State of Minnesota. Branch offices may be established by the Board of Directors either within or outside of the State of Minnesota, as may from time to time be determined by the management of said corporation.

ARTICLE II.

The time of the commencement of this corporation shall be the 14th day of April, 1911, and the period of its continuance shall be thirty (30) years.

ARTICLE III.

The names and places of residence of the persons forming this corporation are as follows: Abraham Wikstrom, Cotton, Minnesota; N. A. Bergstrom, Duluth, Minnesota; Henry Nelson, Duluth, Minnesota; B. E. Wellberg, Duluth, Minnesota; F. W. Erickson, Duluth, Minnesota; J. D. Johnson, Duluth, Minnesota; John Nord, Duluth, Minnesota.

ARTICLE IV.

The government of this corporation and the conduct and management of its affairs is hereby vested in a Board of Seven Directors, who shall all be stockholders, and, except as herein provided, shall be elected by the stockholders, at their annual meeting, which shall be held on the second Tuesday of September in each year, and who shall, within ten days thereafter, elect the following officers: President, Vice President, Secretary and Treasurer. Any two of the said offices may be held by the same person, with the exception of President and Vice President.

The first annual meeting of the corporation shall be held on the second Tuesday of September, 1911, but until such time and until the Directors thereat elected shall be qualified, the following persons shall be and constitute the Board of Directors of this corporation, namely:

N. A. Bergstrom, Henry Nelson, B. E. Wellberg, F. W. Erickson, Andrew Anderson, all of Duluth; August Anderson of Kelsey, Minnesota, and Abraham Wikstrom of Cotton, Minnesota; and until such annual meeting is held, and until the Directors thereat chosen shall have elected officers, and until such officers shall have qualified, the officers of this corporation shall be as follows:

Abraham Wikstrom, Cotton, Minnesota, President.

N. A. Bergstrom, Duluth, Minnesota, Vice President.

Henry Nelson, Duluth, Minnesota, Secretary.

F. W. Erickson, Duluth, Minnesota, Treasurer.

The officers and directors of this corporation, except those herein designated as such to act in the first instance, shall hold office for one year, or until their successors are elected and qualified, and in case any vacancy occurs in any of the offices or membership of the Board of Directors of this corporation, either before or after the first annual meeting, the same shall be filled by the Board of Directors until the next annual meeting, and until such vacancy shall be filled by election held in accordance with these Articles.

The Board of Directors shall also have power, when in its judgment cause exists, to remove any such officer of this corporation from his position and declare the office vacant.

ARTICLE V.

The amount of the capital stock of this corporation shall be Five Hundred Thousand Dollars ($500,000), and the same shall be divided into Five Hundred Thousand shares (500,000) of the par value of one ($1) dollar each, and the said stock shall be sold either for cash or for property and things of value deemed by the Board of Directors to be equivalent thereto; and such determination by the Board of Directors to be final and binding upon the parties in interest. Of this amount two hundred thousand shares shall be placed in the treasury of said company as treasury stock. Said stock shall be used and paid out as directed by the Board of Directors.

ARTICLE VI.

The highest amount of indebtedness or liability to which this corporation shall at any time be subject shall be the sum of One Hundred Fifty Thousand Dollars ($150,000).

In testimony whereof, the undersigned parties have hereunto set their hands and seals this 11th day of April, 1911.

COWAN IMPEACHMENT TRIAL IS EXPECTED TO BE ENDED THIS WEEK

ASKED TO CONTRIBUTE TO THE LORIMER FUND

CLARENCE S. FUNK
Of the National Harvester Company, Who Testified That Edward Hines Wanted Him to Contribute to Senatorial Slush Fund.

HOME FROM SPRINGFIELD

William Burgess Doesn't Know How He Happened to Be Called.

Says That W. H. Cook Will Also Be Called as Witness.

William Burgess, the Duluth electrical contractor who loosened another bomb at the hearing of the senate investigating committee at Springfield Thursday in connection with the probe into the election of Senator William Lorimer, has returned to Duluth.

Mr. Burgess created a new sensation when he declared that C. F. Wiehe, a brother-in-law of Edward Hines, the lumber baron, had told him that he had contributed $10,000 to a jack pot of $100,000 which was spent to boost the junior Illinois senator into the then vacant chair. The alleged conversation took place the first part of last month, when Mr. Burgess, Mr. Wiehe and several others were en route from Winnipeg to Duluth on the Winnipeg Flier.

Mr. Burgess stated that he doesn't know how he happened to be subpoenaed to appear before the investigating committee. "An attorney came up here and got me, and that's all I know about it," said the contractor this morning.

Asked if he had heard that W. H. Cook, one of the prominent Duluth lumbermen, had been subpoenaed to appear before the same committee, he stated that he understood that such was the case. Mr. Burgess said that he didn't know whether Mr. Cook had appeared before the committee or not, and that he had not seen him while he was away.

As far as can be learned the only conection which Mr. Cook has with the

MILITIA IS IN CHARGE

Troops Settle Down to Preserve Order in Muscatine, Iowa.

No Public Meetings of Any Sort Can Be Held After Dark.

Muscatine, Iowa, April 24.—Military rule went into effect in Muscatine today by order of Maj. George W. Ball, in charge of the state troops sent to Muscatine to preserve order during the local labor troubles. No public meetings of any sort are to be permitted after dark. Any person on the streets after 8 o'clock in the evening will be compelled to state his business to the military patrols. Anyone on the street after 11 o'clock will be escorted to his or her home and the name and address taken. A repetition of this will result in the arrest of the offender. No crowds will be permitted and three

Only Rebuttal Testimony and Arguments By Counsel to Come.

Eighty-Five Roll Calls on the Charges to Be Taken.

Outcome Apparently Hinges on the Question of Drunkenness.

Bismarck, N. D., April 24.—(Special The Herald.)—That this will be the final week of the now famous John F. Cowan impeachment trial appears quite probable at the present time. With only the rebuttal testimony to come, and not a great deal of that, and such rebuttal to be followed immediately by arguments and the voting, general indications are that by next Saturday night the impeachment case—the first the state has had and the thirteenth in the history of the United States—will have been closed.

No more exciting days in the entire trial have occurred than will be those of this week. Interest will reach its greatest point in the final arguments of leading counsel for both sides, with George A. Bangs leading the fight for the prosecution and Tracy R. Bangs fighting for acquittal. These arguments, which have been limited by rules of the court to five hours for each side, will be heard by packed galleries and corridors, and will easily be the most dramatic feature of the entire trial.

Naturally just now interest centers about the rebuttal evidence of the prosecution. About thirty-five subpoenas had been issued by the prosecution, and this means that there will be between fifteen and twenty witnesses placed on the stand, that being about the ratio of witnesses used in the direct evidence. Bismarck is so far from the actual scene of the several incidents in the life of Judge Cowan that it necessitates the bringing of many witnesses to the city whom it is afterwards found cannot be used. There were 156 witnesses paid by the state who were subpoenaed by the prosecution for the direct testimony, but of that number only about seventy-five were actually placed on the witness stand. The number for the defense not placed on the stand was not so great, about seventy-five being subpoenaed, while about fifty-five were placed on the stand.

Question of Expense.

The expenditures of the state up to

OVER MILLION TO PLAY WAR GAME

Berlin, Friday, April 14.—Germany will have under arms in connection with the field maneuvers this summer, practically 1,000,000 men. In addition to the regular army strength of 622,000 men, over 355,000 reservists will be called to the colors, making a total effective strength for the army of 977,698.

Adding to these the men serving with the fleet, an armed force of considerably more than a million will be engaged in the gigantic war game.

The new firing regulations for the field artillery, just published, contain in addition to former directions for fire against captive balloons, a new set of instructions governing the use of artillery against dirigibles and aeroplanes. It is admitted, however, that artillery fire against aeroplanes offers slight chances of success without enormous use of ammunition.

'EMPEROR OF SAHARA' WANTS MONEY BACK

Brings Suit Against the Carnegie Trust Company for $2,000,000.

New York, April 24.—Jacques Lebaudy, "the man who would be king," and who succeeded in his ambition to the extent of crowning himself "Emperor of the Sahara," one of the dry districts in Africa, has sworn out a claim of $2,000,000 against the Carnegie Trust company. He alleges that the company, by means of collusion with men in France, bogus sales and other frauds, cheated him out of houses in Paris and domains in other parts of the Gallic republic to the value of more than $2,000,000.

He wants this property back or the money for it, and, if he gets the houses and estates, he wants $900,000 damages for the injury done to them through deforestation and other things, while they were in the hands of the man to whom the Carnegie Trust company transferred them as the outcome of what he terms a "pretended sale."

Orin H. Cheney, superintendent of the state department of banking, in charge of the Carnegie Trust company, has rejected the claim, although he admits that the company has in its possession $320,000 belonging to Lebaudy. This sum, according to Lebaudy, represents the proceeds of the "pretended sale" by the Carnegie Company of the Lebaudy patrimony in France, and he refuses to accept it as being ridiculously inadequate in view of the real value of the property.

SWENSON WILL GO TO NORWAY

President Appoints Minnesota Man Minister to That Country.

Washington, April 24.—President Taft today sent to the senate nominations including the following:

Henry S. Boutell of Illinois, as minister to Switzerland.

Edwin V. Morgan of New York, as minister to Portugal.

Laurits S. Swenson of Minnesota, as minister to Norway.

Mr. Boutell's appointment without committee action, was immediately confirmed because of his long service in congress.

The senate also confirmed the appointments of William W. Rockhill as ambassador to Turkey, and former Governor Curtis Guild, Jr., of Massachusetts, as ambassador to Russia.

FLORIN WINS APPEAL FROM FEDERAL COURT DECISION.

Fargo, N. D., April 24.—(Special to The Herald.)—S. O. Florin, now serving a prison term on a bank wrecking charge, won in his appeal from the sentence of Judge Amidon of the United States court and will not have to serve four months in prison for sending unmailable matter.

After his appeal in this case he was arrested in connection with [illegible] Lakota bank failure.

Indianapolis, Ind., April 24.—Leo M. Rappaport, counsel for the International Association of Bridge and Structural Iron workers, today secured a writ of replevin in the justice of the peace court for the books that were seized by the police Saturday night in the offices of the association in the American Central Life building in this city. A constable appeared at the grand jury room with the writ which had been issued against County Prosecutor Baker and Supt. of Police Hyland, but when the prosecutor told the officer if he attempted to serve the Sixteen Forced to Flee From School Dormitory in Night Clothes.

Johnson City, Tenn., April 24.—Sixteen young women had narrow escapes from death by flames early today, when the girls' dormitory of Washington college was destroyed by fire. The girls were forced to flee in their night attire. They lost all their belongings. The dormitory was destroyed. The loss approximates $20,000.

TROOPS TO FEZ.

French Government Sending Soldiers Rapidly to Capital.

Paris, April 24.—The French government is preparing for every eventuality in Morocco.

The war office was advised today that the first French flying column organized at Bouznika, near Casca Blanca, on the west coast of Morocco, under the command of Maj. Simon, for the relief of Fez had already left for that capital by way of Rabat.

Another column is being rapidly organized and will follow the first. The government is sending about 10,000 reinforcements to Casca Bianca. These troops are composed of several regiments from France and 1,500 Senegals.

INSURRECTOS ACTIVE IN PLACES OUTSIDE OF PROHIBITED ZONE

Attack City of Rosario Which Is Not Protected By Armistice.

Mexican Government May Send Gunboat to Port of Acapulco.

Armistice May Be Extended Beyond the Period of Five Days.

Washington, April 24.—The Mexican government may send the gunboat Gen. Acapulco to protect Americans in that city in the event of an attack by insurrectos. The state department was so advised today by Ambassador Wilson.

Acapulco is not included in the armistice, the rebels in that territory not being under the control of Gen. Madero.

David F. Thompson, formerly American ambassador to Mexico, is among the Americans there.

Insurrecto activity at other points along the Mexican Pacific coast was reported today by Consul Alger at Mazatlan who fears an attack on that important port. The revolutionists already have attacked the city of Rosario, which is not far distant. Noncombatants were allowed to leave the town.

May Extend Armistice.

El Paso, Tex., April 24.—It was learned this morning that if there should be need of a longer period than five days in which to conclude peace, the armistice signed yesterday between Gen. Navarro of the federal forces, and Gen. Madero will be extended from next Friday, when the five days agreed upon expires at noon.

Negotiations for peace this morning had extended just far enough to put each side in possession of the outlines of the others demands. Gen. Madero has known and sacredly guarded for two weeks information as to what the government will grant. He telegraphed Mexico City yesterday the nature of his own basic demands. Following this, a long telegram was received from the Mexican capital, but no indication of its contents leaked out.

The negotiations were at this stage today when they were resumed. Yesterday's experience demonstrated that negotiations by telegraph, with most of the lines in Mexico out of commission are too slow and tedious, especially where hundreds of words of code must be used.

Wish to Appoint Envoys.

For this reason both parties wish to appoint envoys with full power to act. The naming of the envoys, the selection of a meeting place and traveling to it, it is thought, will require more than the four days remaining of the truce and hence the determination to extend its duration if necessary.

A member of the commission today described the negotiations as being in a very delicate stage where an undiplomatic slip might spoil everything. "However," he added, "we have gone so far now I am certain that no matter what hitches may occur, a basis of peace will be reached."

Nearly all of the Americans with Madero, feeling that the fighting is over, are preparing to quit the paths of war for the walks of peace. Many Mexicans, of the same opinion, already have made tentative applications for work in this country. Scores of the rebels

Court Hears Application for Writ of Habeas Corpus for Doctor.

Kansas City, Mo., April 24.—Arguments on the application for a writ of habeas corpus for Dr. B. C. Hyde, under a life sentence for the murder of Col. Thomas H. Swope were begun before Judge Slover of the circuit court today here.

Dr. Hyde was in the courtroom, it being the first time he has been allowed to leave the county jail since the birth of his son last September.

The petition for the release of Dr. Hyde sets forth two reasons why he should be given his liberty on bond. First, that the proof was not evident and the presumption not great that the physician is guilty of murder in the first degree. Second, that he is not guilty.

Attorney Frank P. Walsh made the principal argument for Hyde and County Prosecutor Virgil Conkling represented the state.

Mr. Walsh argued that the opinion of the supreme court by which the first trial of Hyde was reversed and remanded, attacked the evidence of the state as not showing that Col. Swope died of poisoning as charged but rather that death was due to senile debility.

PARDON REFUSED.

Stripling, Who Escaped Prison, Must Serve Sentence.

Atlanta, Ga., April 24.—The application for pardon of Thomas E. Stripling was denied by Governor Brown. Stripling was until recently chief of police at Danville, Va., and was under life sentence for killing W. J. Corbett. He was sent back to prison on charges brought against him fourteen years ago. At that time he was sentenced to life imprisonment, but he managed to escape through bribing one of the wardens of the prison. Since then he had been an active and popular official among the people of Danville.

PROGRESSIVE REPUBLICANS

To Get Chairmanships of Two Important Senate Committees.

Clapp on Interstate Commerce and Bourne on Postoffices.

Washington, April 24. — Senator Jonathan Bourne, Jr., one of the "progressive" Republicans on the senate committee on committees, will be given the chairmanship of the committee on postoffice and post roads. This was announced at the White House today by Senator Smoot, a member of that committee, who said also that Senator Clapp will get the chairmanship of the committee on interstate commerce, to which he is entitled under the seniority rule.

The selection of Mr. Bourne means that Senator Crane will retain the chairmanship of the committee on rules, as he is the ranking member of the postoffice committee.

The announcement of the senate committees before the close of the present week was promised today. The senate adjourned until Thursday after a 40-minute session.

Having caught up with its work, the house program today dealt with emergency bills, with a report late in the afternoon on the free list measure by Chairman Underwood, of the ways and means committee. A week or more of debate on the measure is anticipated, though its ultimate passage is not doubted.

LINER GOES TO BOTTOM

Pacific Mail Steamship Asia Sinks Off South China.

Passengers and Mail Saved By Ship of Taku Steamship Company.

Tokio, April 24.—The Pacific Mail steamship Asia, from Hong Kong for San Francisco, has sunk off Finger Rock, South China. The passengers are reported rescued and the mails saved.

The Asia struck Sunday morning while feeling her way cautiously through a thick fog, in the direction of Shanghai. Her wireless signals of distress were picked up by the steamer America of the Toyo Kisen company, which was en route from Shanghai for Hong Kong. The latter vessel immediately replied "We are coming to your assistance."

No further message was received by the America, which pushed hard in the direction of the Asia.

The America arrived off Finger Rock at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon, but owing to the fog, which continued heavy, was unable to discover the wherabouts of the distressed steamer. The America laid to until the weath-

CALENDAR TO BE HEAVY

Long List of Cases for the Grand Jury's Consideration.

One Murder and One Manslaughter Case on the Docket.

The May criminal calendar will be the largest in several terms. Already there are on record at County Attorney Norton's office, more than thirty cases for the consideration of the grand jury which will meet next week.

The cases to be considered by the grand jury include: Forgery, grand larceny, assault, murder, swindling, manslaughter, mayhem, robbery, child abondonment and rape.

The fact that the grand jury has not met in nearly two months accounts for the accumulation of cases. After the May term is over there will not be another meeting of the grand jury until September.

The May term includes one murder and one manslaughter case. Charles Hill will probably be indicted on a charge of murder in the first degree. He is accused of shooting Axel Hill at No. 18 Sixth avenue west on March 28. The shooting is said to have taken place after a quarrel.

Ed Davis is accused of manslaughter. He is claimed to have killed John Taylor with a peavy after a fight in a lonely cabin near Brimson, Minn. The peculiar part of the two cases is that both crimes were committed the same day.

There are a number of lesser crimes such as forgery, swindling, robbery, assault and grand larceny. The March criminal term was handled by Assistant County Attorney Greene. The May term will be conducted by John H. Norton, county attorney.

WEATHER—Fair weather tonight and Tuesday; not much change in temperature; moderate easterly winds.

ROCKPILE NOT NEEDED

Work More Plentiful in Duluth and Idle Men Are Scarce.

Applications to Associated Charities Are Growing Less Numerous.

The rockpile will be closed about May 1.

As the boats are starting to run, railroad work is opening up and work is becoming more plentiful in the woods and on the farms near the city, there seems to be no longer need for the rockpile and it will be closed up during the summer months to be opened again next fall when work is scarce.

There have been but few applicants for work at the office of the Associated Charities during the past few days. Those who have applied have been referred to the van companies and other concerns that are badly in need of help at this period of the year.

For the past few days there have been no men working at the rockpile. The number ran up to as high as sixteen in one day. This was during the early part of the present month, however, when work was by no means plentiful.

Those who have had the yard in charge claim that it has helped in a great many ways. They claim that it has driven undesirables out of the city, that it has helped men to better jobs and that in a number of other ways it has proved its worth and practicability.

STEAMER MORELAND SETTLED BY STORM.

Houghton, Mich., April 24.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Reid Wrecking company of Sarnia, Ont., whose tugs Sarnia City and Manistique wintered in Houghton, will resume operations on the stranded steamer Moreland at Eagle river this week. The engineers of both tugs, with their assistants, are in Houghton fitting out for the season. Capt. Tom Reid will arrive to take command early in the week.

Advices from Eagle River say that the bad storm of last week had a bad effect on the Moreland. She has settled four feet aft and the cracks in her sides have reopened. It is probable that all the work done last fall will have to be done over again.

MARINE NEWS

ORE SHIPPING WILL BEGIN AT ALL DOCKS THIS WEEK

Four Trains a Day Arriving at the Missabe Docks.

Although a cargo of ore left the Great Northern docks at Allouez last Friday, the iron ore shipping season may be regarded as beginning this week as shipments from the docks of the three ore carrying railroads will be made within the next few days.

The Oliver Iron Mining company, mining subsidiary of the United States Steel corporation, has no ore booked for shipment from the docks yet, although it may be known by tomorrow whether any boats of the Pittsburg Steamship company, a subsidiary of the United States Steel corporation, are due to load here in the next few days.

Independent organizations will send out ore this week. Some have made sales at 50 cents a ton cheaper than last year. The cut was caused by a sale of 550,000 tons of Lake Superior ore at reduced prices by W. P. Snyder & Co. To date the sales and resales of Lake Superior ore have amounted to about 1,000,000 tons. The Oliver Iron Mining company is not a retailer of ore and the parent company, the United States Steel corporation, does not sell ore.

About four trains of Missabe range ore are arriving daily at the docks of the Duluth Missabe & Northern in the West end. A boat is expected here Wednesday to load independent ore for a Lake Erie port. In the next week or ten days several boats are expected to arrive, but the local offices of the Missabe have not yet been informed as to the identity of the boats or their destinations after loading.

The Duluth & Iron Range is transporting about 15,000 tons of ore daily to its docks at Two Harbors. Shipments are from both the Missabe and the Vermilion ranges, all of the producing properties on the latter range sending out ore. All of the Vermilion mines but two are operated by the mining subsidiary of the United States Steel corporation. The La Belle of the M. A. Hanna interests will load about 8,000 tons of independent ore Thursday for Cleveland. The dock officials at Two Harbors have not been advised as to any boats that may load ore in the near future.

The Great Northern is shipping 300 cars of Missabe range ore to the Allouez docks. The first cargo of ore was taken out last Friday and several boats are expected to load this week. Two independent boats are expected to get away with ore early in the week.

Shipments of ore from the Cuyuna range, which have been held up on account of the delay in the completion of the Soo dock, will be started in a few days. The first shipments will be from the Kennedy mine of Rogers, Brown & Co., at Crosby. This will be a fourth ore road at the Head of the Lakes this season.

FERRY'S RUDDER CHAIN PARTS

Passengers Terrified as Boat Drifts Toward the Rocks.

Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., April 24.—(Special to The Herald.)—Consternation prevailed among the 150 passengers of the Bawating, the ferry which runs between the two Soos, when last evening the chain which operates the rudder parted, and the vessel was rapidly drifting on to the rock pile.

They were but a few yards off it when the damage was repaired and the vessel was again brought in to her course.

FALLS FROM MASTHEAD.

Lucky Sailor Bounces Off Ship's Rigging Into Lake.

Fort William, Ont., April 24.—The first accident of the season happened in Port Arthur harbor Saturday afternoon when a sailor fell from the masthead of the steamer Jacques, when seized with cramps. In the fall he struck the rigging twice, a fact that saved his life, as he bounced out and lit in the lake from which he was fished after several attempts. Beyond a few bruises he is apparently unhurt, though he is still in the hospital.

SHALLOW WATER IN THE POE LOCK.

Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., April 24.—(Special to The Herald.)The Poe lock went into commission this morning with a draft of 17 feet 6 inches, the lowest stage of water since the opening of the canal. The Wetzel lock will open as soon as new upper lifts are hung.

NORTHERN WAVE REACHES HOUGHTON.

Houghton, Mich., April 24.—(Special to The Herald.)—Navigation opened in Portage Lake yesterday, the Mutual line steamer Northern Wave coming through from Duluth. It will load copper at Houghton and Dollar Bay, by taking the first shipment of a $3,000,000 consignment, on the docks now. The captain reports no ice in Lake Superior.

FIRST BOATS REACH PORT

Vessels Toot a Noisy Welcome to Rochester and North Wind.

Remainder of Fleet Held at Soo Expected Before Night.

With the arrival of the package freighters North Wind and Rochester last night from lower lake ports, the 1911 navigation opened.

The North Wind is a Mutual Transit company boat and the Rochester belongs to the Western Transit company. Both boats came through from Buffalo where they laid up all winter. Both were loaded with west bound package freight. The steamers Phillip Minch, the Arcadian and Yates, passed the Soo yesterday and will arrive in the local harbor some time today.

All the boats in the harbor tooted a noisy welcome to the two boats from Buffalo when they arrived in port, about 9 o'clock last night. While the local port has been open some time and while the smaller boats have been running for several weeks between Duluth and the north shore points, it was not until the arrival of the lower lake boats that the marine season in this city could be called open. The trouble this year was at the Soo. The ice was thicker than usual and it was not until Saturday that the boats could get through.

The boats that have been in the local harbor for the winter season are getting away in good shape. The Buffalo, Davock, North Lake, North Sea, Boland and some others got away during the last few days and as all this calls for work on the part of the tug companies, the local harbor is taking on many signs of activity.

The steamer J. S. Keefe, loaded with grain, cleared from the local port yesterday for Buffalo. The City of Bangor finished loading grain this morning and she will clear for the lower lakes this afternoon. There is not as much grain to go out this spring as usual. But few boats have loaded and no chartering has been reported outside the few boats that have loaded and are taking grain at the present time.

There is a general movement of steel corporation boats from Lake Erie ports today. The boats have been at the different ports all winter and some of them have been ordered to Duluth. Some of them will bring coal and others will come light.

April 24 was the date set some time ago for the general movement of the boats to Duluth and unless the plans have been altered at the last minute, the fleet is now on its way here.

The work of loading boats at the Missabe ore docks, it is expected, will begin Wednesday if the shipments from the mines are heavy enough by that time to permit of the work being started. The steamers D. G. Kerr, J. H. Reed, James H. Hoyt and F. E. House will be the first boats to be loaded.

The shippers are not rushing their business this spring. At the start even the package freight outlook is dull. They seem to be awaiting the outcome of the Standard Oil company and the American Tobacco cases. The westbound business is said to be in a healthy condition but not a great deal is expected of the eastbound for some time to come.

Vessel men predict a slow spring with an improvement of conditions along about mid-summer with a quickening to almost a rush next fall.

Goodrich Officers.

The Goodrich Transportation company has announced the following captains and engineers for its fleet: Christopher Columbus, C. E. Moody and George McLaughlin; Alabama, Edward Daylor and A. Zeitsch; Virginia, E. E. Redner and J. Beroutka; Carolina, Con McCauley and J. Brouer; Indiana, J. A. Wilson and C. Munroe; Arizona, C. C. Fowler and Charles E. Clark; Iowa, W. E. Franklin and J. Marie, Mich., April 24.—(Special to The Herald.)—Up—Cornelius, midnight; Augustus, 2 a. m.; Flagg, Randolph, Warner, 4; Crowe, Osler, 5; McKee, French, 6; Kennedy, 6:30; Butler, Lambert, 7:30; Glenmount, Mullen, 8:30; Matthews, 9; Superior, 10; Morrell, 11. Down—Edmonton, 9:30 last night; Jaques, 11; Sonoma, 9:30 a. m.; Wahcondah, Gordon, Glenellah, noon.

Up Sunday—North Wind, Rochester, 3:30 p. m.; Phillip Minch, 5; Acadian, Yates, 8. Down—Buffalo, Davock, 2:30; North Lake, North Sea, 4:30; Boland, 6:30.

Grain Cargoes.

Shipments of grain not reported: Keefe, 150,000 bu of durum wheat; City of Bangor, 214,000 bu of spring wheat. No vessels are loading but 5,000 bu of linseed and 30,000 bu of spring wheat are being loaded into cars.

DR. HILL HAS MADE NO PLANS BEYOND JULY 1.

Rochester, N. Y., April 24.—Dr. David J. Hill, in an interview today said that no one had been authorized to connect his name with the presidency of Princeton university or the chancellorship of the University of New York.

Dr. Hill, who with Mrs. Hill, is visiting here, said that the reason set forth in his letter to President Taft, was the only one for his resignation as ambassador to Germany.

Dr. Hill said he had no plans beyond July 1, when his resignation is to take effect.

NEW TUGS FOR DULUTH

Steel Vessels in Place of the Inman and Superior.

Minnesota, Built This Year, One of Most Powerful on Lakes.

Duluth will have two new tugs, the Minnesota, a new steel tug, and the Harvey D. Goulder, a steel boat that has been in commission but a short time.

The tugs will leave Cleveland during the week and will take the places of the Inman and the Superior. These latter named boats will go into commission at Cleveland.

The new boats will be operated by the Union Towing & Wrecking company, the local branch of the Great Lakes Towing & Wrecking company.

The Minnesota was built this winter at the yards of the company at Cleveland. It is of the latest model in this variety of steamer. The boat is of steel construction and is said to be one of the most powerful of the boats owned by the company.

The Goulder was built a few years ago and is as good as new. The local branch is gradually getting all steel tugs. There is much heavy work such as ice-breaking to do in the local harbor and the steel boats stand the wear and tear better than the steel faced wooden models. The wooden hulls wear longer and give good service at lower lake points.

The Inman and the Superior have been in the local harbor for a number of years. The Inman was owned by the old Inman line and the Superior was once the property of Capt. Singer, who at one time owned and operated a tug line in this city.

The new tugs will leave Cleveland for Duluth some time this week and the crews which bring them up will take back the Inman and Superior.

TWO COUSINS WANDER AWAY FROM HOME.

Answering the first call of spring, two cousins, each about 3 years old, lost themselves along the banks of Chester creek, several blocks from their home, this morning. Some neighbor who saw the tots wandering aimlessly along the stream feared that they might fall in and be drowned, and notified police headquarters.

Officer Eugene F. Rothie responded to the call on the motor cycle and found them on the creek between First and Second streets. One of them told him that they lived near Fifteenth avenue east and London road. When he reached the vicinity he turned them over to a young lady who was looking for them. One of them was said to be the son of S. H. Bruen of 1431 London road and the other of W. H. Bruen of 1429 London road.

FISHERMEN HAVE BUT POOR LUCK

Claim That It Is Still Too Early for Trout Fishing.

Hundreds of enthusiastic disciples of Isaac Walton sought streams near Duluth yesterday in quest of the wily trout. The general report was that catches were small.

Experienced fishermen state that it is too early to get the speckled beauties, and that the fishing will not begin to be good for two or three weeks yet. They say that one is more liable to get pneumonia or rheumatism than anything else, particularly if a start is made Saturday afternoon and the night is spent in a tent. They state that if a person is determined to go out Saturday, he should be certain that he will have a cabin or farmhouse, equipped with a big stove, in which to pass the night. Capt. A. McDougall and Dr. W. H. Magie reported a fair sized catch on a trip to the Brule yesterday.

ADDITIONAL SPORTS

OPENING GAME IN CHARGE OF PRESS CLUB.

Des Moines, Iowa, April 24.—The Des Moines Press club is in charge of the arrangements for the opening game of the Western league season on the home grounds today. The St. Joseph team will oppose the locals. State and city officials have accepted invitations to attend the contest. All will ride in the automobile parade which precedes the game and which will include the baseball teams and newspaper men. Music will be furnished by a local band. Governor Carroll will pitch the first ball and Mayor Hanna will receive it. Weather conditions are ideal. The game will be called at 3:30.

WINNIPEG GETS NINE PLAYERS FROM DUBUQUE.

Dubuque, Iowa, April 24.—Manager Rowland of the Dubuque Three-I team, today announced that he had traded Catchers Buckley and Lutgen, Outfielders Taylor and Freer; Third baseman Ring, and Pitchers Ray, Dye, Lett and Isaacs to the Winnipeg team of the Canadian league in exchange for Catcher Kreitz, Pitcher Fosberg, Outfielder Olsen, and a cash consideration. Taylor will become manager of the Winnipeg team.

Lincoln Juniors Win.

The Lincoln Juniors defeated the Adams Juniors by the score of 11 to 10 Saturday. The batteries were Berg and Ecker for the Lincolns and Lundberg and Helam for the Adams. The Lincolns, who average 13 years of age, want games with other teams. The manager's telephone number is Lincoln 259-X.

REGENTS MAY SELECT SITE

Steps Taken to Expedite Beginning of Work on Farm School.

Dean Woods and Soil Expert Will Make Survey of Land.

It is very probable that the board of regents of the state university will make a definite selection of a site for the Duluth demonstration farm school at the meeting May 4, instead of a committee being appointed at that time to make the selection. By a site being tentatively selected by Dean A. F. Woods of the agricultural school and being recommended for purchase, it is expected that the beginning of work at the school will be greatly expedited.

The original plan was to have as many sites as are considered available listed for the inspection of the committee of regents appointed to make the final selection. By that plan little progress could be made until after the meeting of regents. Now it is proposed to have the list of sites made as soon as possible, so that Dean Woods and a soil expert may come to Duluth and make a survey. The survey will include an examination of the depth and nature of the soil on each piece of land submitted and the collection of such other data as will be valuable in making the selection.

Dean Woods will place the data thus obtained and other such information as he has at the disposal of the board of regents and will recommend that a site be selected. Although the money for the school will not be available until next year, it is believed that arrangements can be made for the immediate acquirement of any site selected and work can be started this year. That being the case, Dean Woods is anxious to begin the work as soon as possible.

LOOKING FOR ROY A. CONCHER

The local police have been asked to aid in the search which is being made for Roy A. Concher, formerly of this city, who disappeared last Tuesday from Centralia, Wash., where he recently engaged in the restaurant business.

The letter sent to the local authorities states that Mr. Concher was raised in this city by D. H. Stevenson, a former resident. He is thought to have been temporarily deranged mentally by business cares, having worried about his affairs, and to have wandered back to his old home.

ROY A. CONCHER.

Mr. Concher is said to be a man of good habits. He is about 5 feet 6 inches tall, weighs about 160 pounds, and has black hair, blue eyes and a fair complexion.

WEST END

BACHELORS FORM CLUB

New Social Organization Is Organized With Fifty Charter Members.

Any "Unattached" West End Man Is Eligible to Join.

The West End Bachelor's club has organized.

A grand opening, at which 150 people including members and invited guests were present, was held yesterday afternoon at the club rooms on Nineteenth avenue west and First street. The hall, which will be used for future metings is owned by Charles Gustafson and was formerly St. Luke's Episcopal church.

There are over fifty charter members in the new organization. Any bachelor over 25 years old and under 50 is eligible to be taken in, provided he is a resident of the West end. The club plans to hold social meetings this summer. The club was formed for social purposes only.

At the grand opening yesterday, a program of speeches and music was given, followed by a lunch. Among those who made talks were Alderman W. L. Bernard, Alderman Curran, Alderman Charles Hoar, Alderman Bergstrom, A. Horngren, Chris Hanson, Oscar Lindquist, L. Peterson, M. Seasted, A. R. Wollin, Jack Wollin, Frank Peterson, Charles Gustafson, Louis Ledin, Gust Carlson, William Carlson, R. B. Fisher, P. Peterson, Sievert Jensen and Charles Bostrom.

THE BOY AND HIS GAMES

Pastor Makes Plea for the Encouragement of Children's Sports.

Rev. J. H. Murray, in his sermon last evening at Grace M. E. church, likened the game of marbles of the boy to the game of life of the man. His talk was a plea for the encouragement of children's games, for more playgrounds and other things, without which, he says, a boy's life would be incomplete.

"Your boy needs a pocket full of marbles, a ball, boxing gloves and a punching bag, not that you want to make a fighter and rowdy out of him, but because you want to make a man of him," he said.

"I am pleading for the boy of tomorrow," he said. "Give him a chance. Don't scold, nag and beat all the spirit and sense out of him. A little wood pile is good, but in big doses is fatal. A small dose is a stimulant, a large dose an emetic. Not only let him play but show him how. Better still, play with him, and later, perhaps, when you are gone, he will remember you not only as a father but as a companion and as the best friend he ever had."

LATER COLLECTION OF WEST END MAIL.

West end people want a later collection of the mails.

Through the West End Commercial Postmaster A. P. Cook will be asked to comply with this request, if possible to do so.

The West end business men claim that the last collection of outgoing mail at 3:15 o'clock in the afternoon is far from being satisfactory. They want another collection made at about 4:30 in the afternoon.

West End Briefs.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Olson of 2118 West First street are spending a few days at their summer home at Lake Nebagamon.

Rev. C. E. Bergsalk of Maynard, Minn., is a guest at the home of Rev. and Mrs. Swaney Nelson of 2212 West Third street.

Mrs. H. P. Bye of Fergus Falls, Minn., is a guest at the home of her sister, Mrs. Harold Wold, 2609 West Huron street.

The wedding of Miss Katherine Larson and Hans C. Madsen, both of the West end took place at the home of the bride's mother, 324 North Nineteenth avenue west, Saturday evening. They will live in the western end of the city.

Miss Ella Clausen of 1306 West First street has been called to Iowa, on account of the death of a sister.

Hickory Teeth Used.

Frank Forbis of Horse Cave, Ky., an aged man, has worn his own teeth to the gums, and eats by means of a set which he whittles out of hard hickory. When one set wears off he whittles another. He is ninety years old, and when he gets too old to whittle, it is suggested that he use golden grain belt beers, which will aid digestion so that the hickory teeth will not be necessary. Try them on your table. They will surprise you. Order of your dealer or duluth branch minneapolis brewing company.

CLOQUET OFFICIAL REPORTED BETTER

Is in Duluth Hospital and Neighboring City Is Interested in Case.

Cloquet, Minn., April 24.—(Special to The Herald.)—J. A. E. Grenier, who was taken to St. Mary's hospital in Duluth last week, is reported as slightly better. Mr. Grenier is the city clerk and has lived here since boyhood. His sister, Mrs. De Villiers, arrived from Montana Friday, and with his wife, several other sisters and his mother, have been awaiting the outcome of his very serious illness from inflammatory rheumatism. Mr. Grenier is known to everyone in the city, and an interest in his welfare is everywhere expressed.

The Christian Endeavor Society of the Presbyterian church gave a social in the church parlors Friday night.

Clarence Gardner has gone to Salem, Or., where he has a position as foreman with the Columbian Box company.

Leonard Skemser, who recently came here from Eau Claire, has resigned his position with the St. Louis River Mercantile company, and returned to Eau Claire.

Miss Effie G. McLaird, secretary of the Young People's Board of the W. C. T. U of Minnesota, will lecture at the Methodist church Wednesday evening at 7:30.

H. J. Danielson and wife and children have been at Fergus Falls for several days, where they were called by the death of Mr. Danielson's sister.

Otis Smith will spend the week on the Cuyuna range on business.

Mrs. Alex McGillvray and Miss Catherine McDonald entertained Saturday evening at the home of the former in honor of Miss Della V. Scott, who left this morning, with her mother, Dr. M. M. Pratt, and her sister, Miss Pearl Pratt, for St. Paul, where they will reside.

Mrs. Harvey Hanson and son are visiting relatives at Oshkosh, Wis.

Superintendent of Schools Peter Olesen, S. L. Coy, Alex Summerfield of Cloquet and Attorney Oldenberg of Carlton, went to St. Paul Friday to meet with the state high school board.

Phil Hanson and wife and Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Spoor spent Sunday in Duluth with Mrs. Spoor's sister, Mrs. Bessie Holland.

Mrs. C. L. Dixon will be hostess to St. Andrew's guild Tuesday afternoon.

Mrs. N. P. St. Onge arrived here from Canada Friday to visit her sisters, Mrs. P. Sarazin and Mrs. A. Loisel.

The parish of St. Andrews Episcopal church has elected the following officers: Wardens, William Kelly, George McCoubry; vestrymen, C. B. Watkins, Arthur Ross, Gust Schiebe, William Lane, A. D. Haish, Dr. Alex Barclay, Walter L. Case. C. B. Watkins was elected treasurer and Attorney W. L. Case clerk. The report of the treasurer showed that there is no indebtedness against the parish, and in all departments there is a balance in favor of each organization.

The Cloquet Building and Loan association have moved into the rooms in the Summerfield block formerly occupied by the Commercial club.

George Gudbar has succeeded Matthias Johnson as manager of the Prudential Insurance company in this city. Mr. Johnson moved to Duluth several weeks ago, to work for the company there.

Mrs. M. E. Davis will be the hostess to the North Country Study club Saturday afternoon.

SUNDAY LAW UPHELD.

Jury Finds Bismarck Theatrical Man Guilty Under New Law.

Bismarck, N. D., April 24.—C. W. Temple was found guilty by a jury of violating the Sunday theater closing laws passed by the last legislature. This is the first conviction in the state under the new law and follows a long fight in Bismarck.

Temple has been arrested three times. In the first two cases, the jury brought in verdicts of not guilty, the verdicts being the subject of sensational sermons in local churches in which the memders of the juries were openly condemned for their action.

All three juries were composed of the most representative business men in the city and included county officials. Temple was fined the limit, $50 and costs, and is now out on bail pending an appeal to the supreme court which will be taken at once to test the constitutionality of the law.

LEO McMANUS BURIED.

Young Man Who Died Here, Buried in Polk County City.

Crookston, Minn., April 24.—(Special to The Herald.)—The body of Leo J. McManus, the young man who died recently in Duluth, was brought here today by Mr. and Mrs. T. B. McManus and buried in Oakdale cemetery. High mass of requiem was celebrated in the pro-cathedral by Rev. Father J. Wurm at 9 o'clock, and the body was then taken to Oakdale cemetery, where it was committed to the earth. The deceased was born here and grew to manhood in this city.

URGES CHILDREN TO BE HOMECROFTERS.

Bishop James McGolrick urged the boys and girls at the 9 o'clock mass in Sacred Heart cathedral yesterday to plant vines, vegetables and flowers for prizes given by the bishop.

The bishop said he had received a large shipment of seeds of various descriptions from the secretary of agriculture which could be had by children upon application to him. At the end of the growing season he will give prizes for the best products.

In this way, he said, the minds of the younger generation could be trained to beautify the city and make useful garden plots on vacant lots.

GRISTLE BREAD.

New York Sun: "What is gristle bread? Why, that," said a baker, "is a kind of bread that is peculiar to Norway and to some parts of Germany. In Norway it has ben made for many years, and here there are bakeries in which it is made for Norwegian patrons who still prefer it wherever they may be.

"In making gristle bread the loaves when first formed up from the dough are laid on boards and put through an extra heated oven in which there is baked on them an outer crust, or skin; the gristle. Then the loaves are turned over and put through the oven again, so that the gristle may be baked all over them. This quick oven makes only that outer crust on the loaves, which are then placed in another oven for their final complete baking.

"Originally in Norway gristle bread was made of rye flour only. In this country there was a demand for a handsomer and larger loaf, and wheat flour was mixed with the rye, as has now to some extent come to be the custom in Norway also. Here the proportions now used are about half and half, the result being a bigger loaf of the same weight as one of all rye.

"Gristle bread costs more than ordinary bread because of the greater time and labor required in making it."

RAILROADS

GRAND TRUNK NEXT IN LINE

Reported That It Is Planning to Invade Minnesota From North.

Its Two Great Rivals in Canada Have Chicago Connections.

Duluth and the Twin Cities have long looked for the Grand Trunk Pacific to invade Minnesota and the following dispatch to the Cincinnati Enquirer from New York will be of interest:

"According to advices from the Northwest the Grand Trunk Pacific railroad is planning to take early steps in the construction of a line into the United States for the purpose of securing direct connection with Chicago. As a basis for this it is believed that the extension of the Regina branch into Ward county, North Dakota, which has been officially announced as intended, is the first step in plans to reach St. Paul and Minneapolis, and there secure connection for Chicago. As this extension is to be rushed to completion this summer, such a through route might be a reality in time for the autumn movemetn of grain.

"The Grand Trunk Pacific, it is said, is compelled to make direct connections with the Twin Cities and Chicago in order to be on a parity with the Canadian Northern. The Canadian Pacific has its own line into Chicago over the Wisconsin Central. The Canadian Northern this fall will have its own line operating to Duluth and Superior and from there will have a traffic agreement with the Chicago & Northwestern to Chicago.

"The railroad may be compelled to build a great deal in order to reach the Twin Cities from Western Canada, and it is not regarded as likely that it will attempt to construct a line between the Twin Cities and Chicago. It might make a traffic agreement with one of the lines. There also is a possibility that it might purchase the control of one of the lines.

"With the Hill lines connected with the Burlington, the Canadian Pacific and the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul having their connections with Chicago via the Twin Cities and the Canadian Northern via Duluth, there is left only the Grand Trunk Pacific of any of the trans-continental lines with no direct connection with Chicago and the Twin Cities from the West."

LESSEN DANGER OF TRANSPORTING EXPLOSIVES

According to a report issued by the bureau for the safe transportation of explosives and other dangerous articles, which includes in its membership 194 railways, eleven steamship lines and two express companies, only one person was killed by explosives in transit in 1910, as compared with 52 in 1907, 26 in 1908 and 6 in 1909.

On the other hand the total number of boxes of high explosives condemned as unsafe for transportation remains large, the figure for last year being 10,902, as against 10,029 in the preceding year. After making extensive inquiries covering many countries, B. W. Dunn, chief inspector of the bureau, has prepared a schedule of minimum distances, which, he says, should be maintained between magazines used to store explosives and inhabited buildings or public railways. A magazine containing 1,500 pounds of explosive, he says, should not be less than 600 feet from inhabited buildings or 360 feet from a railway. These distances he points out, are for cases where there is either a natural or an artificial barrier between the magazine and the house or railway. If there is no barrier, he declares, the distances should be at least doubled.

FIREMEN'S WAGES ARE IN DISPUTE.

Locomotive firemen on all the Western railroads are in a new dispute with the managers over the wages which should be paid on certain classes of engines. The managers have notified the union representatives that they will continue to pay the present rates until May 16, which is one year from the date the arbitration board made its award. Grievance committees from a number of the roads are in Chicago to take the matter up with their respective companies.

When the arbitration board which adjusted the dispute between the firemen and the railroads made its award last year, it gave a general increase to the men on all engines. The managers claimed that a mistake was made in awarding the same wages to firemen on engines which have "superheaters" attached, as on other large engines, because the work is much lighter. The men refused to accept any reduction. The managers propose to force an adjustment of the controversy next month.

COMEDY SKETCH ORPHEUM HIT

Clayton White and Marie Stuart Feature of New Vaudeville Bill.

It was apparently George V. Hobart's intention to make a record-breaking laugh producer when he wrote the one act farce "Cherie," and the mirth provoking possibilities of the sketch were fully demonstrated by Clayton White and Marie Stuart at the Orpheum theater last evening.

The sketch was easily the best feature of the new bill, which is fully up to the Orpheum standard.

The story opens with a laugh and ends with a laugh, and there is a laugh in nearly every line of the sketch. It is a well constructed little sketch, carrying far more comedy than the average vaudeville playlet, and it is splendidly produced. In fact it stands as a model for comedy sketches, and many other producers have not been slow to use it as such, for some situations and lines can be recognized in newer sketches. "Cherie" has been in vaudeville for many seasons and it is looked upon as a high class property by managers and producers.

Clayton White and Marie Stuart get everything out of it that there is. Mr. White uses slang as if he liked it, and as if it came naturally to his lips.

The other headline feature this week is presented by Bonita and Lew Hearn. Two or three years ago "Wine, Women and Song" was one of the more or less popular musical shows, and it was kept on the road and made money chiefly through the efforts of Bonita and Mr. Hearn. They have taken the third act of the musical comedy, expurgated it, boiled it down a little, and made a vaudeville turn out of it. They call it "The Real Girl."

Bonita has beauty of a rather striking mature type, and Hearn is a clever comedian, impersonating a back East farmer. They get a very good measure of comedy out of the act.

The work of the Three California Girls, Misses Marshall, Ames and Freeman, pianist and vocalist, cellist and violinist, respectively, also came in for unusual appreciation from the music-loving portion of the audience. They present a neat little musical turn, including one or two good ragtime numbers which are usually avoided by women's musical acts. They played them well, and they also appeared to good advantage in their more pretentious selections.

The comedy hit of the bill was the act of Raymond and Caverly, two German comedians of the conventional type. Some of their jokes are antiquated, and some of them new, but they kept things moving all the time they were on the stage, and the old jokes seemed to draw as much laughter as the new ones. Judged by the applause, they were the hit of the bill.

The opening act this week is a neat little gymnastic and equilibristic act presented by a man who bills himself as "Adonis," and a cleverly trained little fox terrier dog. The act is far above the average in real merit, and is more entertaining than one or two of the acts in more prominent positions on the bill.

Al Carlton's grotesque appearance and solemn demeanor make him a novelty as a monologist. He has the requirements of a really first class monologist, and he should be far funnier than he is in his present act. He is funny in spite of his present act, not because of it. He also springs some meant to be serious philosophy of the George M. Cohan type, and ends by waving the American flag in a patriotic song that listens very much like the immortal George M. The offering as a whole seemed to please.

The overture this week is from "Pagliacci," and is well played by the Orpheum orchestra, and the motion pictures are fully up to the standard and interesting. The bill will continue all week with a daily matinee.

DULUTH BOY ON EMPRESS BILL

Perrin Somers Appearing in Vaudeville Comedy Sketch This Week.

A Duluth boy, Perrin Somers, is appearing on the Empress bill this week, in "Jackson's Honeymoon," a comedy sketch.

Mr. Somers is well known in the city. He has been in vaudeville several years and his present offering is easily the best work he has done. The sketch tells the story of an amusing complication that arises in the life of a newly married couple as the result of a joke played by a friend. It is an unpretentious but most amusing little act and Mr. Somers and his partner, Miss Storke, finish their turn with an exhibition of their skill on the xylophone.

Al White's "Four Dancing Bugs," "a quartet of extraordinary foot-workers in a terpsichorean spectacle," were a hit with the three large and enthusiastic audiences that attended the opening performances yesterday.

The Dancing Bugs certainly have educated their feet well in the art of dancing and tearing off unique steps. Their act is a whirl of dancing. They introduce many new and odd steps and their costumes are both showy and new.

The bugs were most popular with yesterday's audiences. In fact, they could have stayed out in front a long while longer if they had no one to please but the audience.

The bill this week at the Empress is well balanced. It embraces some good tumbling, a musical, comedy and dance act, a playlet that is entertaining and some fearless and daring aerialists, who perform thrilling tricks from bars hung high in the air.

Caron and Herbert are tumblers who open the bill. Their act is lively and they have some tricks new to Duluthians in the tumbling line. They mix in some comedy with their work and their act proves to be agreeable.

Pearl and Roth call their act "Forcing an Opportunity." They dance some, sing a little and to show that they understand music they tear off several dashing numbers on the piano. They have some good jokes; the act is well dressed and is pleasing from every point of view.

"The Four Londons" have an aerial act that for thrills is the genuine article. They perform from high bars and some of the stunts are hair-raising. They have been taken away from the white tops to please vaudeville audiences and they surely do that.

The show closes with the usual motion pictures. The bill is one of the most pleasing that has been offered at the Empress in some time. There will be three performances daily, one each afternoon and two each evening, during the remainder of the week.

"All of a Sudden Peggy."

Miss Maude Leone will return to straight comedy work this week and on Wednesday evening will open a short engagement at the Lyceum theater in "All of a Sudden Peggy."

"All of a Sudden Peggy" is a pretty little play which deals with an impulsive girl, who is supposed to be in love with a lord.

Anthony Crackenthorpe, played by James Rennie, is the lucky lord who, after a lot of trouble and many complications, finally wins Peggy. The work of Mr. Rennie is well known and he can be depended upon to hold up his end of the fun.

The part of Mrs. O'Mara, Peggy's mother, will be taken by Mrs. Adams, and the other parts are in responsible hands.

The first performance of "All of a Sudden Peggy" will be given at the Lyceum theater Wednesday evening.

FAIR

The Easter parade didn't have anything on yesterday's parade. In fact, there were more people in the fashion show of the first Sunday after Easter and the temperature was a wee bit higher. The mercury dropped to 32 deg. again last night, and although this bright sunshine and cloudless sky is delightful, nobody would complain much if the chilliness were eliminated. Continued fair weather with little change in temperature is the prediction for tonight and tomorrow.

A year ago today was fair but chilly.

The sun rose this morning at 5:04 and it will set at 7:08 this evening, giving fourteen hours and four minutes of sunlight.

Mr. Richardson makes the following comment on weather conditions:

"Fair weather prevailed during the last twenty-four hours except that light to copious rains fell over Montana, Wyoming, Western South Dakota, Nebraska, Kansas and Eastern Texas in connection with the low pressure conditions central over British Columbia and Arizona. Somewhat warmer weather has developed in the extreme Northwest. Temperatures as a rule are about normal for the time of the year. At the Head of the Lakes fair weather with continue throughout the ensuing thirty-six hours."

Chicago, April 24.—Forecasts for twenty-four hours ending at 7 p. m., Tuesday:

North Dakota — Generally fair tonight and Tuesday; not much change in temperature.

Montana — Generally fair tonight and Tuesday, except probably unsettled in south portion; warmer in north and west portions tonight.

Upper lakes—Light to moderate east to southeast winds; fair tonight and Tuesday; slightly warmer Tuesday.

BARTENDER IS BURGLAR

Norman Kell Detected in Saloon on Second Avenue West.

Caught By Policeman After Short Chase Through Crowd.

Caught in the act of burglarizing Al Wagner's Annex saloon at Second avenue west and First alley, Norman Kell, a bartender, was captured by the police about 10:30 o'clock last night after a short chase through the crowd which gathered in front of the place when the patrol wagon with a squad of officers stopped in front of the building.

The man who is said to have been with Kell, who was evidently acting as an outside watch, made his escape when the policemen pulled into the alley. It is stated that his identity is known.

Fred L. Clark, proprietor of a shoe store next to the saloon, notified the operator at headquarters that while he was in the rear of his store, he saw a man go through the back window of the saloon. The patrol wagon, with Lieut. Fritz and Officers Louis Johnson and Youngberg, hurried to the scene. Patrolmen Perry, Andree and Wanvick had also been summoned by telephone from nearby beats.

Lieut. Fritz went through the front door just in time to see Kell going through the back window. Kell dropped to the ground almost next to two policemen and tried to make his getaway through the crowd. Patrolman Andree was hard on his heels and got him before he had been able to get further than the street. At the station a small steel wedge, such as is used in raising window sashes, was found in his pockets, together with a small amount of loose change. Kell has been living in a flat building near Second avenue west and Fourth street, and as far as known has done but little work the last three or four months. He has been arrested before.

Kell waived examination when arraigned in police court this morning on a charge of third degree burglary. He was bound over to await the action of the next grand jury, which meets the first part of next month.

NAILS SELF INTO COOP.

Little Falls Man Has to Re Rescued From Predicament.

Little Falls, Minn., April 24.—W. H. Hall, former register of deeds of this county, now manager of a grocery house here, had the experience recently of being imprisoned for several hours in a chicken coop which he had just completed. The coop was constructed with a large window, but a very small door, for use by the chickens only.

The window was the last item on the building to be finished, and this was done from the inside of the coop. When securely nailed on, the owner found he had imprisoned himself. He called to his family lustily for two hours before any one heard his cries. With the help of neighbors he was finally released by the tipping over of the henhouse.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER

Absolutely Pure

The official Government tests show Royal Baking Powder to be an absolutely pure and healthful grape cream of tartar baking powder, and care should be taken to prevent the substitution of any other brand in its place. With no other agent can biscuit, cake and hot-breads be made so pure, healthful and delicious.

Royal Baking Powder costs only a fair price per pound, and is cheaper and better at its price than any other baking powder in the world. It makes pure, clean, healthful food.

HUGO KREMER DIES SUDDENLY

Department Manager at Marshall-Wells Taken By Ruptured Blood Vessel.

Hugo J. Kremer, 1203 East Second street, died suddenly yesterday morning at his residence from a ruptured blood vessel at the base of the brain.

Mr. Kremer was heard groaning in his room by his wife, who immediately summoned a physician, but he was dead before the doctor reached his side. Several days ago Mr. Kremer complained of pains in his head, which he attributed to neuralgia.

He was manager of the mill supply department of the Marshall-Wells Hardware company and was one of the oldest men in the firm's employ in point of service. Before taking charge of the department he was one of the firm's traveling salesmen, covering what is known as the Ashland district. He had an extensive acquaintance in Duluth and tributary territory and was popular with all who knew him. He was a member of the Duluth council, Knights of Columbus.

He is survived by his wife and one child, his mother and three brothers at Fond du Lac. Wis., and another brother at Green Bay, Wis.

The body was taken to the undertaking rooms of C. J. Stewart, where the post-mortem performed by Dr. J. A. McCuen, county coroner, revealed the fact that death had been caused by the rupture of a blood vessel at the base of the brain.

The body will be shipped this evening to Fond du Lac, Wis. No services will be held in Duluth, but they will take place at Fond du Lac.

this afternoon in the trial of the case are approximately $38,000, while up to Saturday evening there had been paid out by the state auditor the sum of $25,529.63. The average daily expense of the trial is $1400 to $1,500, slightly higher than had been anticipated. The total cost of the trial will be approximately $50,000 unless it should come to a close earlier than anticipated.

The average amount paid to the witnesses that are subpoenaed is between $40 and $50, some going as high as $75. This accounted for by reason of the large amount of mileage that is paid, being 5 cents a mile each way, by the most accessible shortest route to and from Bismarck.

These expenses are paid by the auditor by authority of the resolution passed by the state legislative assembly providing for legislative expenses, the impeachment trial being considered as a legislative expense.

Voting Will Be Interesting.

When the work of voting is commenced there will be an intensely interesting feature of the trial enacted. Each charge and specification against Cowan must be voted upon immediately; this is, every individual specification must have a roll call. There are eighty-five specifications all told, thus necessitating eighty-five roll calls. The call on some of these will be merely formal by reason of the fact that no evidence has been introduced by the prosecution tending to support them. The charges are there, however, and must be disposed of through the roll call.

Should the senate cast a two-thirds vote on any single specification, then Judge Cowan will be impeached. The court has to prescribe punishment, which punishment may be disqualification from ever holding renumerative public office in the state, or disbarment from practice of law. Conviction would also mean the removal of Judge Cowan from office.

There will be forty-eight senators voting on the impeachment, only one member having been permanently excused. To avoid impeachment it will require only sixteen votes, while thirty-three will be necessary to convict. Senator Movius of Richland county has been absent from the trial up to the present time, but a subpoena has been served upon him to attend the remainder of the trial.

Met Every Charge.

In many particulars this trial has been unusually interesting. The manner in which the charges of the prosecution have been met by the defense has been peculiar, flat-footed denials being made of every charge that has been lodged against him of drunkenness in public places and drunkenness on the bench. It is to the latter charge that particular attention has been given by both sides, as it is generally conceded that even though Judge Cowan might have been proven to have been under the influence of liquor once or twice outside of the courtroom, it would be a difficult matter to impeach.

There are several instances in which drunkenness upon the bench is charged. There are two Rugby incidents, two or three drug permit hearings, in addition to one or two other incidents that have been alleged to have taken place in the courtroom at Devils Lake. The Rugby incident during the June term of court, 1909, is the one to which the prosecution will in all probability give particular attention in rebuttal. This is the one that Scott Rex has testified to, and in contradiction of whom several attorneys have been called, making flat-footed denials of any intoxication upon the part of the accused. The charges of drunkenness during the times the drug permit cases were before him in Devils Lake have also been flatly denied, as have several other cases of this nature.

With regard to the Minot stockyards incident, the Minot law office incident, the Churchs Ferry depot platform, Lakota hotel, three election days, Hansboro, Bisbee and Gilbertson store incidents, there has also been absolute flat denials of guilt. The Minot incidents, Churchs Ferry and Gilbertson store incidents are not included in the specifications, hence the court does not take any vote upon these, evidence on them having been introduced by the state merely for the purpose of proving the general charge of habitual drunkenness.

Drugstore Charges.

On the charges of frequenting drugstores and purchasing liquor therein, no evidence was introduced by the defense, the manner in which this charge has been met being largely that of attempting impeachment of the witnesses for the prosecution, together with the revealing of prejudice against Judge Cowan upon the part of those witnesses. There was not a great deal of evidence on those charges for the prosecution either.

Generally speaking, it is practically entirely upon the question of drunkenness that the outcome of the case hinges, and it is to those charges that both prosecution and defense have given special attention.

It has been the purpose of the defense throughout to show that the case is nothing more or less than the outcome of the political fight that now exists and has existed for years in the city of Devils Lake, with Judge Cowan on one side and the faction that is pushing the impeachment case on the other side.

persons together will be adjudged a crowd. All social and religious meetings of every description will of a necessity be abandoned as long as the troops remain in Muscatine.

But few additional workers returned to the factories this morning. Yesterday's button workers' picnic at Weed park passed without incident. Large crowds were present, but there was no disorder. Clarence Darrow of Chicago, announced as the speaker, was unable to be present. The speeches made by union leaders were taken down in shorthand by a representative of the military authorities. Soldiers were present on the grounds. The arrival today of the Sibley tents and cook stoves indicates that it is the intention of the state authorities to keep the troops here until all possibility of further disorder is passed. The troops will camp at Reservoir park.

The latest report received by the agent of the Pacific mail steamship line at Yokohama says that the Asia was sunk but that it is believed the passengers with the mails were saved.

The Asia sailed from Hong Kong Friday, and was due in San Francisco May 19. She operated regularly between those ports and was commanded by H. Gaukroyer. The vessel was built in 1883 and registered a little less than 5,000 tons gross.

up to this time, had never been out of their native mountains. They gaze with awe at the tall buildings of El Paso and are ambitious to secure work on this side of the border. There is plenty of it for them in the railroad construction camps.

The Associated Press dispatch from Paris stating that Gen. Bernardo Reyes, idol of the Mexican army, is to return to his own country to assist in restoring tranquilty was read in the insurrecto camp and among the federals at Juarez with the greatest interest. Reyes, it is said, does not desire the presidency, and is regarded as the loyal among President Diaz's followers. His influence with the army is greater than that of any other man. The soldiers love him, for he has always stood their friend.

Among the people, a promise from Gen. Reyes is as good as an accomplishment. To him, it is believed, will be entrusted the holding of state and municipal elections.

Terms of Armistice.

El Paso, Tex., April 24.—An armistice of five days beginning at noon Sunday and effecting the district between Juarez and Chihuahua and west of the latter city was made effective yesterday in an exchange of identical letters signed by Gen. Francisco I. Madero for the rebls and Gen. Juan Navarro for the government.

The truce provides that there shall be no movement of troops on either side during the next five days and that provisions and medicines may be brought to either camp from the American side without payment of duty.

1—Both forces which operate in the rectangle formed by principal points of Chihuahua, Juarez, Casas Grandes and Minaca shall remain at the points they actully occupy on this day (April 23), with neither side advancing, nor forwarding reinforcements.

2—All work on fortifications, trenches, battlements of any and all descriptions on the repairment of railroads or other military works shall be suspended.

3—It shall be permitted to bring in by way of Juarez all provisions, forage, clothing, medicine and other necessities of life, without payment of duty. Intoxicating liquors are excluded from this provision.

4—This armistice shall remain in effect five days beginning today at 12 o'clock noon.

5—Passes to and from camp shall be granted to members of the Madero family, peace commissioners, those hauling supplies and others whose legitimate duties require their passage to and from camp. The form of the pass shall be agreed upon.

case is that he was on the same train as that on which the conversation of Mr. Burgess with Mr Wiehe took place. It is possible that he may also have had a conversation with Mr. Wiehe along the same lines as Mr. Burgess. Mr. Burgess says that he wasn't present when he had his conversation with Mr. Wiehe relative to his subscription of $10,000 to the slush fund.

Cusson Not Present.

"Did you see the published statement of Mr. Cusson relative to your conversation with Mr. Wiehe?" Mr. Burgess was asked. "Yes, I saw it," he replied. "Mr. Cusson must have been dreaming. He was in the smoker part of the time with the party in question, but he was not present when that conversation took place."

The substance of the testimony given by Mr. Burgess before the committee was as follows:

A—"I made some remark disparaging to Mr. Lorimer's election. Mr. Wiehe immediately took up the cudgels, and wanted to know what I knew about Mr. Lorimer's election, and I told him that the only thing that I knew about Mr. Lorimer's election was what I had read in the papers. He wanted to know if I got my information from the Chicago Record-Herald. I told him I got it from the local papers in Duluth and the Chicago Examiner, and he made the remark that I did not know very d— much about it. I told him that it was credited around the country that Mr Lorimer had used a considerable amount of money to secure his election, and he said that Mr. Lorimer had not used a dollar of his own money for his election. He started in to tell me how Mr. Lorimer was elected, and finally he made this statement: 'There was a jackpot raised to elect Mr. Lorimer. I know what I am talking about, because I subscribed $10,000 to it myself.'"

Q—"Was anything said about the general assembly of Illinois in that conversation?"

A—"He did make this remark, that it was impossible to get anything of merit through the Illinois legislature without the use of money."

Q—"Who was present at this conversation?"

Q—"Did Mr. Wiehe tell you to whom he paid the $10,000 which he said he subscribed to the jackpot?"

A—"He did not."

DULUTH CLERKS NOT AFFECTED

The railway mail service as far as it applies to Duluth is not affected by the disturbances in Minneapolis, where the clerks and the officials are at war over the proposed organization of a braich of the Brotherhood of Railway Mail Clerks, according to Newton de Forrest, chief clerk of the railway mail service, who has his office here.

"All of the boys running in here are apparently contented with conditons and I do not believe they are affected by the conditions in Minneapolis," was all Mr. de Forrest would say. He says he has no knowledge of the proposed organization or of the reported recommendation for dismissal of a number of the clerks. He says he does not think any of the men running into Duluth are involved.

Minneapolis has been the storm center for the trouble in the railway mail service in the Northwest all this year. When protests arose over the alleged unfairness of the retrenchment measures adopted by the post-office department only a faint echo of them were heard here, while the service in the Twin Cities was plunged into chaos. The same is true of the present trouble and if any of the Duluth men are affected, nothing is heard from them.

CHRISTIAN DEMOCRACY.

Rev. Gebauer Preaches on Social Distinctions and Their Foundation.

Rev. George R. Gebauer preached on "Christian Democracy" at the First Unitarian church yesterday morning. The church, he said, should be neither for the rich only nor for the poor only, but should be the people's church, rich and poor, ignorant and educated, all being welcome. The church is aristocratic, he said, in that it seeks to raise all men to the divine level, but it is democratic in that endeavor, for it seeks to raise all men, not a special class of men.

Rev. Gebauer deplored social standards and their bases. No man has the right to claim distinction because he is descended from some one who was great, he said. Every man should stand on his own merits. The man who makes money honestly and by his own endeavor does not claim distinction because of his money, he said, for he is not a snob. The snob gets his money by other means. No man can claim distinction on account of education, he said, for the man who is educated in one line may be ignorant in another, while the illiterate may have wisdom beyond the knowledge of the man with a university education.

GRAND FORKS TO ENTERTAIN

Commercial Club Will Give Dinner to Delegates From Minnesota.

Duluth and Twin City Men to Be Entertained En Route to Helena.

Grand Forks, N. D., April 24.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Duluth and Twin City delegation to the Helena development congress will be entertained by the Grand Forks Commercial club, when they pass through this city on May 1.

The special train from the cities will arrive in Grand Forks at 11 a. m., and the party will be here until 1 p. m. As yet arrangements are tentative, but the Commercial club is planning a big dinner for the delegation. Grand Forks will send several delegates to Helena. President Lander of the Commercial club will appoint them in the next few days.

DETOUR COUNCIL NOW DEADLOCKED

Neither Side Refuses to Yield Upon the License Question.

Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., April 24.—(Special to The Herald.)—The village of Detour at the mouth of the St. Mary's river, which has furnished more political excitement during the past few years than any small town in Northern Michigan, is again on the map.

A year ago the village elected a "dry" council and no saloons were allowed. This spring the "wets" secured a majority of the board of trustees, standing 3 and 3 with a "wet" president.

Now the "drys" refuse to attend the council meeting and, lacking a quorum, no licenses can be granted. Both sides have retained counsel and the matter is to be carried into the courts.

CROW WING COUNTY TEACHERS HAVE MEET.

Brainerd, Minn., April 24.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Thirty-second semi-annual convention of the Crow Wing County Educational asssociation concluded its two days' sessions Saturday. The attendance was large and much interest was shown in the proceedings. Former County Superintendent J. A. Wilson was presented with a handsome gold signet ring by the teachers of the county. Principal R. Graham of Deerwood, presided at the convention. The out-of-town speakers included Prof. E. G. Quigley of the College of Education and Supt. T. A. Erickson, county superintendent of Douglas county.

DRINKERS UNABLE TO RESIST CRAVING

That the Poison of Alcohol Creates—Become Slaves to the Habit.

SHOULD TAKE 3-DAY CURE.

It Drives Poison Out of the System, Removing Desire.

The habitual use of intoxicants is altogether a bad thing. The drunkard finds every avenue of employment closed to him. To the business man excessive drinking spells ruin. It robs the professional man of his talents, of his reputation and of his substance. It undermines health. It destroys morals. It is the handmaid of crime. It brutalizes its victims. It brings torture and despair to unhappy wives and clothes numberless children in rags. The history of over-indulgence in alcoholic stimulants is an open book and it always reads one way. There is only one thing the man can do who is addicted to the liquor habit if he does not want to meet the fate of all other drunkards, and that is to stop it. Oh, but you say, "I can't. I have tried that. The appetite is too much for me. I can't resist the craving." Have you ever thought of the Neal Cure? It takes that craving away. The craving results from a poison alcohol leaves in the system. The Neal Cure drives out that poison. It cures in three short days. It cures without the use of hypodermic injections or dangerous drugs. The cure being effected in so short a time can be taken without publicity. It is certain as well as prompt. It is like staying three days at a first-class hotel. If you are afflicted with the drink habit and really want to be cured or if you are interested in a friend or relative who needs treatment, write to the Neal Institute company, corner Belknap and Seventh streets, Superior, Wis., for their free booklet giving full information and a copy of their contract. It will be mailed to you under a plain sealed envelope and everything will be strictly confidential. You can be treated at the Superior Institute, or at the St. Paul, Minn., Institute, 676 Dayton avenue, or the Minneapolis, Minn., Institute, corner Fourth avenue south and Seventh street, whichever happens to be the most convenient to you.

PULLS UNCONSCIOUS YOUTH FROM WATER

North Dakota Minister, With Garden Rake, Saves His Son's Life.

Ellendale, N. D., April 24.—(Special to The Herald.)—Lying unconscious for several minutes at the bottom of a deep pond as the result of the overturning of a canoe was the experience of Harold Farrand, 14-year-old son of Rev. Mr. Farrand of this city. He was dragged out on the end of a rake by his father and it was some time before physicians were able to say that his life was saved.

The youth and Avery Smart were in the canoe when it overturned, and Smart, being a swimmer, reached shore before he discovered that his companion had gone down. He immediately notified the boy's father and pointed out the spot where he went down.

The water was cold and the lad suffered a severe chilling.

INTERURBAN CARS WILL SOON START

Grand Forks and East Grand Forks to Be Connected in Six Weeks.

Grand Forks, N. D., April 24.—(Special to The Herald.)—Within six weeks a regular street car service will be in operation between this city and East Grand Forks, including Pickett baseball park, according to the statement of Manager Thomas Roycroft of the Grand Forks Street Railway company.

The work of laying the track will begin the latter part of next week and one and a half miles will be laid this season. The extension will involve an expenditure of nearly $25,000 and as soon as it is completed a fifteen minute schedule will be installed. The baseball fans are most anxiously waiting for its completion for the park is more than a mile from this city.

MUNICIPAL ABATTOIR.

Will Be Discussed By Grand Forks People at Banquet.

Grand Forks, N. D., April 24.—(Special to The Herald.)—The municipal abattoir will be the subject of discussion at the Commercial club dinner tomorrow evening and State Pure Food Commissioner E. F. Ladd of Fargo will be here to give an address on the subject. The Commercial club and city council committees who have been investigating the matter will report and other speakers will be Dr. G. F. Ruediger of the university, Dr. J. Grassick, Dr. E. J. Davidson and City Attorney J. B. Wineman.

The dinner is one of the series inaugurated by the club for the purpose of bringing vital city questions before the business men for open discussion. They continue but two hours and while one talks the others eat.

CONDUCTOR MAY DIE.

Bitten By Passenger and Blood Poisoning Sets In.

Menominee, Mich., April 24.—(Special to The Herald.)—As the result of knocking down an intoxicated man who attacked him, Conductor William Jones of the Milwaukee railroad, is at the point of death at a Milwaukee hospital. The conductor had trouble with a man who was drunk, as he was taking his train out of Iron Mountain, and struck him a stiff punch in the face. His knuckles were cut by coming in contact with the fellow's teeth. The conductor paid no attention to this wound until blood poisoning set in.

ATE POISONOUS HERB.

North Dakota Child Has a Very Close Call.

Sheldon, N. D., April 24.—(Special to The Herald.)—From the effects of eating water hemlock, a poisonous herb growing in abudance along the bank og the Sheyenne river, the little daughter of Herman Schultz of this city became violently ill and before medical assistance arrived was unconscious and paralyzed. The fact that she rejected the contents of her stomach as soon as she lost consciousness probably saved her life.

BUTTE MINER KILLS WOMAN AND HIMSELF.

Butte, Mont., April 24.—Ad Lewis, a pioneer miner and resident of this city and vicinity for a quarter of a century, shot and killed Mamie Smith, the landlady of a lodging house, and then, turning the gun on himself, blew out his brains, both dying side by side within a few seconds after the first shot was fired. As to the motive for the crime, it will probably never be positively known, although there does not seem to be any doubt but that the couple had some trouble over money matters.

BRAINERD'S CONTRACT FOR LIGHTING ENFORCED.

Brainerd, Minn., April 24.—(Special to The Herald.)—Sunday morning the Toltz Engineering company had finished connecting with the city lines and is furnishing all the electricity used by the city thus supplanting the Northern Pacific railway shops which have carried the city a year since the municipal plant was destroyed by fire. The Toltz Engineering company of St. Paul has erected a power house and has a ten-year contract to furnish the city electric power and light.

RAILROAD OFFICIAL HAS AIDED BRAINERD Y. M. C. A.

Brainerd, Minn., April 24.—(Special to The Herald.)—In the annual report of general secretary of the local Y. M. C. A., Mr. E. L. Ludwig gives much credit to George T. Slade, the third vice president of the Northern Pacific railway for aid rendered the association. He made it possible for the association to secure free electric light from the shop plant and also was instrumental in having the shop library transferred from the Northern Pacific railway shops to the Y. M. C. A. Among the improvements suggested by the secretary are a swimming pool and a gymnasium in a separate addition to the building.

BULLDOG TOO FAITHFUL.

Guardian of Wisconsin Sorority House Bites Male Invader.

Madison, Wis., April 24.—A bulldog, a belated Easter bonnet and an expressman formed the elements of a serio-comic tragedy that already has cost the Kappa Kappa Gamma sorority at the University of Wisconsin $50.

"Snap," a blooded Boston terrier, purchased recently by the girls to guard their home against depredations of night prowlers, buried his teeth in a tender spot on the anatomy of Anthony Cook, a local expressman, as he was delivering a package at the sorority house. Cook's injuries were so serious that he was hurried to the Pasteur Institute. The Kappa girls followed the expressman to the hospital, where a settlement of $50 was agreed upon.

"Snap" has been placed under surveillance of university doctors, while the Kappa girls are looking for a less impulsive guardian for the house.

ARE BOUND TO MARRY.

Crow Indian Chief and Chicago Girl to Outwit Opposition.

Sheridan, Wyo., April 24.—Miss Madeline Sullivan of Chicago and Chief Plenty Hawk, the biggest Indian from the standpoint of physique on the Crow reservation, are making preparations for marriage, which they declare will be performed despite the interference of relatives and Indian officials. Plenty Hawk has purshased two lots at Lodge Grass, where he says he is going to erect a shack for his "paleface."

Miss Sullivan writes the Indian several times a week. He is unable to read, being of the "blanket" type of redskin, a squaw reading her letters to him and the Indian grunts in satisfaction.

The Indian agent declares he will eject Miss Sullivan from the reservation if she appears.

STILL AFTER CANTERBURY.

Minneapolis to Sue Accused Chief of Fire Department.

Minneapolis, Minn., April 24.—James R. Canterbury, former chief of the Minneapolis fire department, acquitted of wrongfully acquiring city funds through a real estate deal, will have to fight the city's suit for the $3,000 in question in the courts. City Attorney Daniel Fish announces that the case will proceed and come up in the September term of court.

Canterbury was accused at his late trial of purchasing a lot at University and First avenues southeast, in Minneapolis, after he had learned that the city wanted a repair shop site for the fire department and had voted so in a committee meeting of which he was a part.

The property was purchased by Canterbury from the Connecticut Mutual Life Insurance company for $6,000 on the partial payment plan. The deed was duly filed. Then he sold the land to Mrs. Sarah Guile, a relative, for $6,500, and the deed was filed. Next Mrs. Guile sold it to the city for $9,000.

It was the contention of the city that Mrs. Guile was used as a blind to cover up the Canterbury ownership.

LAYING CORNER STONES.

Two Celebrations in Grand Forks Early in May.

Grand Forks, N. D., April 24.—(Special to The Herald.)—May 7 has been announced as the date for laying the corner stone of the magnificent new Presbyterian church which is now in process of construction and President F. L. McVey of the university will be the principal speaker. S. S. Titus will lay the stone and in the receptacles will be placed the history of the church and church records.

The foundation of the church which is to cost $75,000 has been completed and laying the brick on the superstructure began today.

The corner stone laying at the new city hall will take place the following day, May 8, and President McVey of the university and President E. P. Robertson of Wesley college will be the principal speakers. Mayor M. F. Murphy will lay the stone and the ceremonies will occur at 3 o'clock in the afternoon.

BOARD OF CONTROL IS STUDYING WHITTIER CASE.

St. Paul, Minn., April 24.—Members of the state board of control have begun an investigation which will determine whether F. A. Whittier, superintendent of the state training school for boys at Red Wing, shall be retained. The board has over 1,000 pages of typewritten testimony taken before the legislative investigating committee to review. P. M. Ringdal, chairman of the board, said:

"The legislature made no recommendation and it is up to us to review the testimony and make whatever further investigation is necessary in order that some definite action may be taken. We are doing so entirely upon are own initiative and not by reason of any complaint."

A USELESS EXISTENCE ENDED

BECOMES A VICTIM TO NEWBRO'S HERPICIDE

The dandruff germ is a busy little microbe constantly at work and always doing the same thing. Apparently with fiendish intelligence it burrows down into the hair follicles, destroys the hair life and finally crowds out the hair, causing baldness.

There are two sure ways of stopping the harmful career of this invisible microbic growth. One is to wait until the germ has induced incurable baldness, after which the atropied hair follicle offers no sustenance to the germ; the other is to USE NEWBRO'S HERPICIDE.

The dandruff germ cannot exist where Newbro's Herpicide is used intelligently. By killing the dandruff germ, it thus checks further accumulations of scarf skin and prevents the hair from coming out.

While many imitations and substitutes are offered for Newbro's Herpicide, there is nothing "just like it" or "just as good."

PINE RIVER VOTES TO BUILD NEW SCHOOL.

Pine River, Minn., April 24.—(Special to The Herald.)—Pine River will have a new high school building this year, which will be ready for occupancy for the fall term. The new building will be thoroughly modern and fireproof and will cost $25,000. This was settled Saturday at a special meeting of the school district which was called by a number of petitioners residing in and about the village. Eight hundred dollars was also voted for use in obtaining added grounds to the school plot.

New Telephone Service at Pequot.

Brainerd, Minn., April 24.—(Special to The Herald.)—C. O. Field, wire chief of the Northwestern Telephone Exchange company of Brainerd, was at Pequot Saturday examining the plant and making arrangements to install a new and up-to-date system in the village. Subscribers have grown so rapidly that a new plant is an imperative necessity.

Deerwood House Burns.

Deerwood, Minn., April 24.—(Special to The Herald.)—The residence of Fred Olson, electric light superintendent, was burned Friday night with all its contents. It was recently built and Mr. Olson had just removed his family from Brainerd to Deerwood.

Roberts, Wis., Scorched.

Hudson, Wis., April 24.—A portion of the main business section of Roberts, Wis., eight miles from here, was wiped out by fire. The fire originated in a livery barn conducted in connection with the Roberts hotel. Calls for assistance were made upon Hudson and St. Paul, and the Omaha road provided a special train to take the Hudson firemen to the scene.

Eight buildings were burned.

Montana Bartender Kills Self.

Belt, Mont., April 24.—Placing the muzzle of a 38-caliber revolver to the right side of his head, William Malmberg, a bartender, fired a bullet into his brain and was unconscious and dying when persons who heard the shot broke into the room where the tragedy occurred, over the Occidental saloon. Malmberg lived forty-five minutes but never regained consciousness.

YOUNG GIRLS ARE THIEVES

Three Children Trapped By West Duluth Drug Clerk.

Electric Buzzer Gives Alarm When Cabinet Door Is Opened.

A marked coin and an electric burglar alarm formed the trap set by a drug clerk at West Duluth yesterday to catch three small girls, whom he suspected of petty thievery.

Three sisters, aged 12, 10 and 8, West Duluth girls, whose names are withheld, were suspected of several small thefts about the store of the Spencer Pharmacy company, Central avenue and Ramsey street, and the clerk, Jerry Mikiska, laid the trap, in which they were caught.

One of the girls stayed outside of the store, and the other two came inside. The oldest one asked of the drug clerk if she might use the telephone at the rear. On this pretense she stepppd into a little room partitioned off from the rest of the store, where the telephones, were, and while there opened a small cabinet where it has been the custom for the proprietor, Julius Lindgren, to keep some cash on hand.

A coin had been left there, but the little burglar was not clever enough to see that it had been marked. When the cabinet door opened, it caused an alarm to be given in the front part of the building by means of an electric buzzer. Mikiska hurried back to the rear and found the girl in the act of closing the cabinet door. He demanded of her the money. She denied that she had taken any. After a search he discovered the marked coin in a secret pocket in her waist.

The girls had evidently planned what to do in case that they were detected. The accused girl began to scream and her cries brought to the drugstore a number of people who were passing by on the street. The girl then pretended to swoon and laid on the floor. Her sister, standing by, declared that she had fainted and wanted a doctor sent for.

Mr. Lingren was notified and with Lieut. Charles Wilcox of the West Duluth police, came to the store, where the girls were held. The youngsters were turned over to the authorities. Mr. Lindgren says that the parents of the children will make good the shortage and that as far as he is concerned, the cases against them will not be pushed.

Because of their tender years, it is not thought that they will be arraigned in the juvenile court.

DUCKS PLENTIFUL.

Unspsortmanlike Hunters Said to Be Slaughtering Many of Them.

People who live up the St. Louis river are complaining of the treatment that wild ducks receive at the hands of unsportmanslike hunters, who, it is claimed, are shooting them during the early morning hours of the day. This is a violation of the game laws.

Thrown From Buggy.

Alfred Fleischer of Fleischer Bros., West Duluth, while driving between Bay View Heights and Proctor was thrown out of a buggy and received a serious scalp wound. The accident followed a sudden start of the horse, which had become frightened. Fleischer lives at 631 North Fifty-seventh avenue west.

Sand Pit Dangerous.

People living in the vicinity of Fifty-seventh avenue west and Redruth street have complained to the West Duluth police about a sand hole, from which the board of public works has been hauling sand. It is claimed that the children of the neighborhood often play there when not watched and that it is a dangerous place. The hole is on Redruth street between Fifty-seventh and Fifty-eighth avenues.

WOUND MAY PROVE FATAL

Angered By Beer Being Squirted in His Eye, Man Uses Knife.

Dominick Malerbo, Said to Have Been Aggressor, Dangerously Wounded.

Angered because beer was squirted in his face, Annibale Mandatore, alias Frank Rogo, stabbed Dominic Malerbo about 7 o'clock last evening in the boarding house of John Biotti at Fifty-sixth avenue west and Main street.

Malerbo is at the Duluth hospital in a very dangerous condition because of excessive loss of blood and Rogo is at the West Duluth police station charged with assault in the second degree.

It appears that Rogo and another man were in an upstairs front room bargaining over the loan of $2 when Malerbo came into the room. They didn't want him there and told him to get out. Malerbo had a bottle of beer in his hands and squirted some of it in Rogo's face. He then left the room and came back with a stick, with which he struck Rogo over the head and the hand.

Drawing a big hunting knife from his pocket, Rogo slashed Malerbo under the right arm pit, inflicting a cut about two inches deep and about four inches long. Bleeding profusely Malerbo made his way to the floor of one of the downstairs rooms and lay there until the arrival of Dr. David Graham, who dressed his wound and had him removed to the hospital.

Borrows a Bicycle.

Had not Sergeant Barber fortunately been able to borrow a bicycle from a fireman who happened to be returning to the station from his supper, Rogo would have been able to make his escape. As it was the sergeant reached the scene in time to help Patrolman Oscar Peterson corral him. Rogo had attempted to get out one of the side windows, but it was so far above the ground that he was afraid to make the leap. By the time he had gotten around to the other side of the house Patrolman Peterson was coming towards the house along Fifty-sixth avenue. Seeing the officer he turned in the other direction and was cut off by Sergeant Barber. They immediately searched Rogo and took the bloody knife from his pocket.

Malerbo appears to have been the aggressor throughout, according to the police. Capt. Fiskett of headquarters, who is of the same nationality as the combatants, helped in the investigation last evening.

Residents of West Duluth feel that the officers at that station should be provided with some means of rapid locomotion. They state that calls frequently come in from long distances and that without even a bicycle it is hard for them to give them proper attention. At best the number of men is too small, they say, and they claim that their efficiency could be increased by the installation of a motor cycle.

STRUCK BY FREIGHT TRAIN

Thomas Gordon Has Narrow Escape From Instant Death.

While walking along the Northern Pacific right of way, yesterday afternoon, Thomas Gordon, aged 67, an old West Duluth resident living at 3806 Grand avenue, was struck by a freight train and hurled into the ditch. His injuries will not be fatal.

He was on his way to visit his nephew, H. B. Randall, 4601 Magellan street and the accident occurred at about Forty-second avenue west. A fractured clavicle and a few cuts about his head and hands were the extent of his injuries.

He was taken to the Duluth hospital.

BURNS MAY PROVE FATAL

Anna Johnson, 15-Year-Old Proctor Girl, Horribly Scorched.

Girl's Clothes Catch Fire While She Is Burning Grass.

Fifteen-year-old Anna Johnson of Practor was so badly burned Saturday afternoon, that she may die from the injuries. She was brought to St. Mary's hospital.

The girl was burning grass in the front yard of her home, when the flames caught in her dresses and set her clothes on fire. The child tried to beat out the flames with her hands, and finding it impossible, screamed for help. Her cries attracted the attention of her mother, who put out the fire, but not before the girl was horribly burned.

Rr. Specht of Proctor was called. He made a hasty examination of her burns, administered temporary relief and had the girl hurried to a hospital. The child's body was frightfully scorched, her back being burned to a blister. Dr. Specht stated today that she had about an even chance for recovery.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Johnson who live on a farm near Proctor.

Dies of Tuberculosis.

Bror Hjalmar Soderstedt, 25 years old, a laborer in the sawmills, died this morning at his home, 3713 West Sixth street, of tuberculosis. He is survived by a widow and his mother, Mrs. Inga Hoglund of 3820 West Seventh street. No funeral arrangements have been made.

West Duluth Briefs.

SUPERIOR

SOUTH END CAR LINE COMPLETED

Heavier Steel Now Used on Street Railway Lines to South Superior.

With the exception of surfacing and balasting, the work of relaying steel on the South end car line has been completed by the Duluth Street Railway company. The work has cost several thousand dollars. Light rails, which were placed there when the company first built in Superior, more than twenty years ago, have been replaced with heavier steel.

On the East end line new steel has been laid from Newton avenue to the Nemadji river. At the Billings Park Soo trestle the tracks had to be lowered four feet so that the structure would clear traffic. It is expected that double truck cars will be run on the Billings Park line this summer.

MORE TRAINS THIS YEAR.

Great Northern Railway Is Well Equipped for Rush of Ore Season.

The Great Northern railway is preparing for the rush ore season. Plans have been made for the equipment of forty-five crews to handle the movements of ore trains between the mines on the range and the Alouez docks. This is five more crews than last year.

Only a small number of trains are now running, but it is planned to work up gradually to the maximum. There are 500 more cars this year than last available for hauling ore.

BLAMES FELLOW EMPLOYE FOR HIS INJURIES; SUES.

Victor Horri, who was hurt at the Great Northern freight sheds Nov. 20, 1910, blames a fellow employe for his injuries and Saturday started suit in circuit court to recover $800 damages from the Superior Stevedore company for hirng an incompetent employe.

A fellow workman dropped a heavy sheet iron bundle on Horri's feet, the latter claiming that he was seriously and permanently injured.

SUPERIOR GIRLS WIN DECLAMATORY CONTEST.

At the Western division declamatory contest of the Lake Superior district of the state Lyceum league, held Saturday evening at Hayward, Wis., Miss Laura Cote of the Superior high school won first place and Miss Eileen Keough of the Nelson Dewey high school captured second place. A speaker from Washburn took third place.

The Superior girls will represent the Western division in the district conference, which will be held later at Ashland.

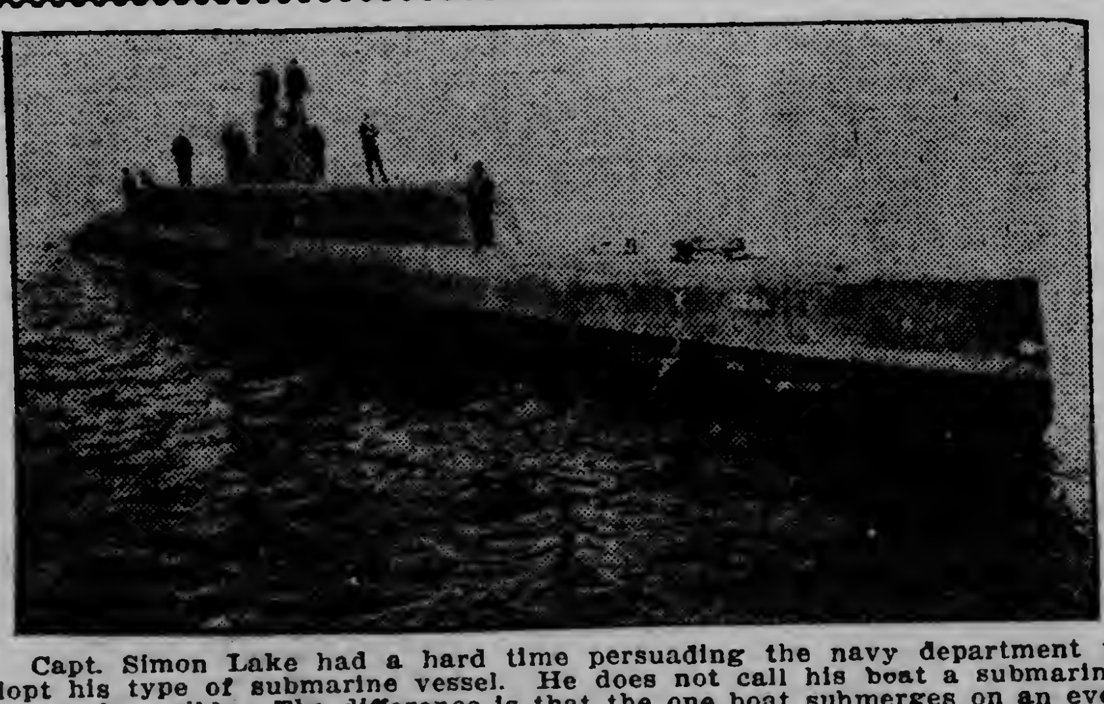
STATUE OF DIANA GIVEN TO THE PUBLIC LIBRARY.

A statue of "Diana of the Chase," standing four feet high, was presented to the public library Saturday by the Women's Club of Superior. Mrs. W. H. Crumpton presented the statue to the library board, acceptance on behalf of the board being made by Col. Hiram Hayes. The statue will be placed in the art room.

Conference Closes.

After a week's service, the annual district conference of the Red river valley district of the Norwegian-Danish M. E. churches came to a close last evening at the Bilings Park Norwegian-Danish M. E. church. Tonight the congregation of the Billings Park church will celebrate its twentieth anniversary with appropriate exercises. Several pastors who have been attending the conference will remain over for the anniversary celebration this evening.

THE SUBMERSIBLE BOAT, SEAL



Capt. Simon Lake had a hard time persuading the navy department to adopt his type of submarine vessel. He does not call his boat a submarine, but a submersible. The difference is that the one boat submerges on an even keel while the submarine dives. Capt. Lake has always believed it possible to construct a cruiser submersible or one that would be able to go far afield. He is now completing for the United States government the Seal, in which he proposes to cross the ocean. He believes that the cruising type of submarine will offset in a measure the torpedo boat destroyer and the scout which have become factors in naval maneuvers.

To Take Up New Duties.

Thomas E. Lyons, former city attorney, will step into the office of a state tax commisisoner next Monday, May 1, and will move his family to Madison, where he will make his legal residence. He was appointed a weeks ago by Governor McGovern to succeed Judge N. S. Gilson.

New $6,000 Marquee.

The new $6,000 marquee, constructed entirely of bronze and glass, will be placed over the Tower avenue entrance of the federal building this week. Skilled workmen from the Hecla Iron works are in Superior to undertake the job. The new canopy will be a decided improvement over the new one now in use.

ALL OF THEM ARE OUT NOW

Officials Connected With Ballinger-Pinchot Trouble Have Resigned.

Washington, April 24. — With the resignation today of Edward C. Finney as chief law officer of the reclamation service, to take effect May 1, practically all the officials of the interior department whose names figured prominently during the Ballinger - Pinchot investigation have severed their government connection.

Shortly after the conclusion of the investigation H. H. Schwartz, former chief of the field division of the general land office, resigned to go West to practice law. Then came the resignation of Secretary Ballinger, followed by the announcement of the resignation of Oscar Lawler, author of the famous Lawler draft of the president's letter exonerating Secretary Ballinger of the charges against him.

Frank Pierce, first assistant secretary, announced his resignation last Saturday to take effect within thirty days, and today brought the announcement of Mr. Finney's resignation.

All of these officials have resigned to engage in the practice of law, some in the West and others remaining in Washington. Jesse E. Wilson, former assistant secretary, left the department March 4.

ACTION ON MINING MERGER POSTPONED

Stockholders of Osceola Await Decision of United States Circuit Court.

Boston, Mass., April 24.—The stockholders of the Osceola Mining company were compelled today to postpone definite action on the proposed merger with the Calumet & Hecla Mining company, until May 1 through the delay of the United States circuit court in Michigan in deciding upon the validity of such a merger. It is expected that postponements will also be voted by the other Calumet subsidiary companies which are scheduled to hold merger meetings this week.

AGAIN NO BIG DECISIONS BY THE SUPREME COURT.

Washington, April 24.—The supreme court of the United States today concluded its weekly duty of handing down decisions without announcing opinions in either the Standard Oil or the Tobacco suits, under the Sherman anti-trust act.

MR. WIEHE AND THE PRESS.

Christian F. Wiehe of Chicago is not an ardent admirer of the public press. In fact it would hardly be an exaggeration if one were to say that he has a certain dislike for the newspapers and the men who work on them. And all because they printed some matters that concerned him and which, even in the heat of an intense and sulphurous indignation, he did not see fit to deny, though they had to do with a matter of intense interest and importance to the people of the country. It is quite possible that Mr. Wiehe would indorse the words from the play of King Henry VI, Act IV, Scene 7:

> Thou hast most traitorously corrupted the youth of the realm in erecting a grammar school; and whereas, before, our forefathers had no other books but the score and the tally, thou hast caused printing to be used, and, contrary to the king, his crown and dignity, thou hast built a paper-mill.

Truly, the press is no friend to the man who schemes to do shady deeds and keep the knowledge of them from the public. If the press of this country had nothing else to recommend it, it would yet be valuable for the publicity it gives to such transactions as accompanied the election of William Lorimer to the United States senate There are those who denounce the newspapers for the extent to which they find out matters not intended for publication. But that very feature of their operation is one of the greatest safeguards, not only of the welfare of society, but of our municipal, state and national institutions.

This Lorimer affair is itself one of the best examples of this work on the part of the press. It was through the columns of a newspaper that the people first learned of the corruption that put the "blond boss" in the senate, and it has been through the newspapers that they have been kept informed on the shameful details that have attended his presence there. Is it regrettable that such doings as those at Springfield came to public knowledge? Or that the fact that our system of government was being corrupted was made known to those dependent on the retention and purity of that system?

Or take another kind of example: How would the people of any state or even any city be kept informed as to how their officials were conducting affairs entrusted to them, if the newspapers were to furnish no such information? And again, how much more would shamelessness and even crime flourish were it not that there is a wholesome regard for public opinion as it must view individual action when the facts are reported in the public press? Many a man and woman is deterred from doing certain things by the thought of "how it would look in print." And there are numberless instances of the aid of the press in notifying distant communities of crimes committed, in time to make certain the capture of the fleeing criminal.

Mr. Wiehe did not like the way his statement to Mr. Burgess looked in print. He did not like the way his action looked in print. Had he but thought of it in time, he could have omitted the action, and avoided the unpleasantness that has resulted. Mark Twain wrote: "There are several good protectors of principle, but the surest is cowardice." To the man or woman whose principles fail to be protected by these other means, the thought of how it will look in print furnishes a wholesome deterrent. This is well, and it is well, too, that when corruption is practiced, the men involved should be given a chance to see how the thing looks in black and white, as well as that the public should be given a chance to learn and pass upon the matter. It is one of the advantages assured to our nation by the established principle of a free press. Such tirades as that of Christian F. Wiehe are interesting, but they do not change the facts. Indeed they rather serve to bring home to the public some of the good points about the newspapers. The press can afford to give Mr. Wiehe a unanimous vote of thanks.

USING THE CHILDREN'S EYES.

Every once in a while some really useful and sensible idea comes out of New York, some scheme that is so simple and practical that it seems surprising it never was thought of before, or at least never put into practice before. Maybe it is because New York is more in need of such ideas than any other place on earth that it is given the first chance at them. Anyway, it gets them, once in awhile, and then it brags more than a small boy with a sore toe. The rest of the country can take these things freely, as part payment for enduring the Thaw trials and other like inflictions that come from the same locality.

New York's latest idea sprang from the trouble the city is having to keep its pavements and curbs and parks and other things in good shape. It was started by a woman's club, and is being worked out by that same organization. It is simply the application of the natural tendencies toward observation that are to be found in the healthy young human animal.

The way it is being carried out is this: All the boys and girls are told how curbing and pavement and parked spots and public buildings and walls ought to look. They are told, too, to be on the lookout for places where these things have been allowed to fall into bad condition, and to report all such instances to a woman designated by the club in charge of the work. This woman makes it her business to check up on these reports of the youngsters and where she finds there are really serious conditions, reports then in turn to the proper city authorities, in order that the evils may be corrected and the repairs made. The children also will help to locate the trouble if any particular place is found to be repeately getting out of repair, and it is believed they will be exceedingly useful in helping to identify persons who misuse public property.

The women who have taken this work upon themselves have cut off a great big task. When one considers that the children go practically everywhere and see everything, it is easy to see that the mass of reports turned in will be bewildering. But if the plan succeeds, as there is no reason why it should not, the number of reports will be lessened gradually from the very fact that the idea bears fruit in a better keeping up of the places that are seen and reported upon.

Then there is another value to the plan, in that it will give the children a personal interest in the work the city is doing in the maintenance of public places. There will be an earlier conception of an individual share in municipal affairs, and that will mean, or should mean, better citizenship when the children reach mature years.

New York's plan is not half bad, to say the least. Maybe it would be worth trying in other cities. At least it should serve to prevent the actual running down of parts of the city property through the impossibility that its condition should go unnoticed.

MAKE IT UNANIMOUS.

Sunday was a bright, beautiful day. It was a good day to be out. It was the kind of a day that puts a fellow in good spirits, and makes him feel that he is ready for the first thing that offers. A good part of Duluth's population appreciated the beautiful weather, and took advantage of it to leave the house and get around in the sunshine.

Among other living creatures that approved the day in all its loveliness was one certain Mr. Fly. His address not being definitely known, it is impossible to give it here, but he came out and stretched his legs and his wings and pulled at his head and began to fly around and buzz. He went here and there, wherever fancy and tempting odor led him, found a door open and buzzed into a house, and finally alighted on a table and patted himself on the back, literally.

About that time a small boy saw him, and picking up a newspaper that lay handy the youngster made it into a kind of a bat and swatted Mr. Fly. The remains fell just in front of a pet kitten. Funeral announcement unnecessary.

Whether that small boy grows up to be a rich man, poor man, beggar man or thief, he has done one good act. It would be well if the people of Duluth would make the act unanimous. Every warm day from now on will bring out the flies, and every bit of refuse of every description will breed more of them. Every exposed bit of food will furnish not only a place on which flies can feed, but on which they can and will leave some of the impurities that they pick up in the streets and alleys and gutters and barnyards and garbage cans. And every fly that enters a house will bring contamination with it, and possibly disease and death.

Swatting the flies is good. It helps. But it is not the only thing that is needed. Down in Atlanta, Ga., there is a movement to make that place a flyless town. A double-barreled ordinance has been passed requiring that all garbage must be screened to prevent the breeding of flies, and that all food must be screened to prevent contamination from flies that breed in spite of precautions. It is a good ordinance, and the city authorities are promising that it will be enforced to the utmost.

Now Minnesota isn't Georgia, and Duluth isn't Atlanta; but flies are flies, whether they are in the North or the South, and they are just as pesky and pestiferous and deadly in one place as the other. The beautiful little story about the prince whom a fly awakened just as his enemies were about to seize him is all right as a bit of sentiment and literature, but there is just a possibility that, if the whole story were known, that same fly left on the prince's face the makings of a fine epidemic. So when you see a fly, don't bother about sentiment, but swat him. Good, systematic screening will help to thin them out. If Atlanta, down in the hot and humid South, can make effective war on flies, surely Duluth, in the cool and invigorating North, can do at least as well. The fly season is just beginning. Now is the time to go after them both by law and might.

A PROBLEM FROM HOOSIERDOM.

Every once and awhile something pops up somewhere that makes one wonder if the men who make laws are as far-seeing and wise as we would like to believe. Indiana is the latest to furnish a source of doubt, and it all arises in a comparison of voters and saloon keepers and their rights as citizens.

It appears that in Indianapolis there are three or four men who are not native-born Americans, but who are in the saloon business. There is a provision in the laws there that no man not a full-fledged citizen shall be permitted to run a saloon. Also there is in force the national law that an immigrant must take out naturalization papers in order to become a full-fledged citizen, and there is another law that an alien who has taken out his first papers and declared his intention to finish his naturalization course shall have the right of suffrage.

That all seems simple enough, but some complications have arisen. These men of alien birth have been found guilty of violating the ordinances regarding saloon patronage and the hours for keeping their places of business open. The other day they applied to a court for their second naturalization papers, whereupon the judge, taking cognizance of the fact that they had violated the liquor selling laws, refused to issue the papers. This heads off the possibility of their becoming full-fledged citizens, and inasmuch as they cannot become citizens they must give up their saloon business, since the law provides that none but citizens can sell liquor.

Now comes the other complication: Under the law, the fact that these men have declared their intention to become citizens makes it possible for them to vote in the various elections, though the refusal to grant them the completing citizenship papers makes it impossible that they should carry out that intention.

It makes an odd situation. And it raises the question, is it right to give a man citizenship privileges when by his own deliberate act he has debarred himself from becoming a bona fide citizen? Also, why should a man who is under a legal disability as a result of his own act, be given a vote by which he may work to remove the disability and the provisions of law that brought it about?

Boston and Brooklyn are keeping up their consistent record of last season.

THE OPEN COURT.

(Readers of The Herald are invited to make free use of this column to express their ideas about the topics of general interest. Letters should not exceed 300 words—the shorter the better. They must be written on one side of the paper only, and they must be accompanied in every case by the name and address of the writer, though these need not be published. A signed letter is always more effective, however.)

WARNING TO MOTOR BOAT OWNERS.

To the Editor of The Herald:

Motor boat owners going up the river for the first time this year ought to exercise the greatest care. The lowness of the river has greatly increased the danger of running on to sandbars and mudbanks and has also brought numerous deadheads nearer the surface. If the greatest precaution is not used they will find themselves hard aground or minus a wheel. No ventures should be made outside the regular channels, and even in them a sharp lookout should be kept. Already this year two or three accidents of the nature mentioned have occurred. No later than Saturday night one party of nine men was out all night as a result of too great confidence in their ability to navigate the river. A BOATER.

Duluth, April 24, 1911.

A QUESTIONABLE ACTION.

Sioux City Tribune: The legislature of Minnesota has sent to the governor a bill for a constitutional amendment depriving the three largest cities of the state of equality of representation in the senate, and the governor says he will sign it though he disapproves of it. He would let the voters of the state pass judgment upon it. The amendment will limit representation of those cities to seven senators each. It needs an amendment of the Constitution for that instrument required equal representation throughout the state proportioned to populations. Some years ago an amendment was adopted requiring a proposed amendment to get a majority of all votes cast at the election, a change intended to protect corporations, but one that may operate to defeat this measure, as failure to vote upon it counts against it.

The amendment is the culmination of a long standing jealousy by the country of the cities. Out in the country there is a feeling that the cities get what they want and the country does not; that the cities look out well for themselves and let the country take care of itself. Largely, this is the fault of the common practice in country legislative districts of regarding service in the legislature as an honorary matter which should "go around" among the "boys." The consequence is that their representatives and legislators, unfamiliar with parliamentry procedure, are at a disadvantage in contests with the city members who, generally, are trained debaters and expert parliamentarians.

But there seems to be a larger question than rural jealousy. Does not the proposed amendment strike at the very root of Republican government? If cities can be limited in representation they can be deprived of it. For when departure is made from the fundamental position of equality of representation based on enumeration, no line can be drawn where discrimination shall cease. The framers of the Federal Constitution recognized this as one of the foundation principles of a republic, and provided that "representation and direct taxes shall be apportioned among the several states according to their respective numbers." And to insure this a census of the people was required to be taken every ten years. The act of congress authorizing a state government provided for an enumeration to determine what representation the state would be entitled to. The proposed limitation plainly conflicts with the spirit if not the letter of the Federal Constitution.

Assuming that a majority of the voters of a state has this power to limit city representation, is it fair or just that they should use it?

"O, it is excellent
To have a giant's strength; but it is tyrannous
To use it like a giant."

He Disturbed the Salmon.

Truth: Some queer charges are brought from time to time in the police courts in connection with game and fish preservation, but that brought against a collier at Cockermouth seems to be unique. The man was charged with disturbing salmon on their spawning beds by walking up and down the river banks.

It was stated in evidence that the fish were so numerous that some of them had been driven right into the side of the spawn, and that they ceased if anybody stood on the bank and looked at them. This sounds rather like a scientific fairy tale, but the magistrates believed it and fined the collier 15s for prying into the domestic affairs of the Salmonidae.

Fate of a Silent Husband.

Belgrade correspondence Pall Mall Gazette: Kossara Svetkovitch, who confessed to having murdered her husband, was sent to prison for one month at Kraguyevan Assizes. Kossara proved that on her wedding day her husband had forbidden her to speak to him unless he first addressed her.

During four years he had spoken to her only seven times, and then to use words of blame. At table he indicated his wants by pointing to them. He had never even looked at their two children, and professed not to be aware of their existence.

The jury recommended her to mercy.

A Few Bunches of Words.

Philippines Monthly: The other day a little girl was looking at a picture of a number of war vessels, when she suddenly looked up at me and exclaimed, "See what a flock of ships!" I corrected her by saying that a flock of ships was called a fleet and a fleet of sheep is called a flock.

And here the American teacher might take this subject up for the benefit of his little brown pupils who are trying to master the intricacies of the English language, and explain that a flock of wolves is called a pack, and a pack of thieves is called a gang, and a gang of angels is called a host, and a host of porpoises is called a shoal, and a shoal of carabao is called a herd, and a herd of quail is called a covey, and a covey of beauties is called a galaxy, and a galaxy of ruffians is called a horde, and a horde of rubbish is called a heap, and a heap of cattle is called a drove, and a drove of blackguards is called a mob, and a mob of worshipers is called a congregation, and a congregation of soldiers is called a corps, and a corps of ladrones is called a band, and a band of locusts is called a swarm, and a swarm of people is called a crowd, and a miscellaneous crowd of city gents is called the public—and the public must pay the tax.

Regains Sight At 82.

Burlington, N. J., dispatch to New York World: Having regained her sight after a years blindness, Mrs. Mary A. Wright, 82 years, who, it is said, is the oldest Sunday school teacher in New Jersey, appeared before her class amid the waving of handkerchiefs. For sixty-five years Mrs. Wright has taught a Sunday school class. It was thought when she went to the hospital that she never would see again, but one of the rarest operations in the history of optical surgery was performed, and Mrs. Wright said she was ready to give many more years to the service of the Sunday school.

Damning Evidence.

Life: "Madam," says the agent of the Black Hand, "we have a picture of you and Count de Gayleigh riding in an automobile. Send $10,000 to us or we will publish the picture."

"What care I?" haughtily says the lady. "The count is a gentleman in every way, and, besides, he is going to marry my daughter. There can be no scandal connected with my riding with him."

"That's not the point. It was a 1908 model car."

With a low moan, the unfortunate woman sank to the floor, after giving a feeble indication that on reviewing from her faint she would write a check for the hush money.

MINNESOTA OPINIONS.

Too Many Idle Acres.

Montevideo Leader: Minnesota has 155,759 farms averaging 177 acres each. It would be better for Minnesota if she had twice as many farmers on the same land and as many more on as much other land. There are too many idle acres in Minnesota and the acres that are cultivated could and ought to yield twice as much. The average price per acre of her improved lands has advanced from $26 to $46 during the past ten years. With more farmers and more intensified farming these prices can also be doubled. These may appear to be big figures, but they will not look big a few years hence.

Are the Limit.

Moorhead Independent: The representatives to the legislature who took up time worrying about reciprocity with Canada, dallying with a just reapportionment measure and then voting to whitewash Whittier and his minions in charge of the training school—are the limit.

Old Tariff Fight Renewed.

Sandstone Tribune: It's going to be a renewal of the old tariff fight between the Republican and Democratic parties in the next general election. It's been twenty years since we had a real good out and out tariff discussion and it looks now as though some one would pretty soon get a chance to prove that "the foreigner pays the tax." The man who can do that can lift himself by his boot straps.

Many Will Deserve It.

Little Falls Transcript: No more people can be hanged in Minnesota; but many will continue to deserve it, even if they do not receive it notwithstanding nor notwithhanging.

Dig Up Another Excuse.

Wilkin County News: Senator Marden has dug up another excuse for his vote against reapportionment. He says the Steel trust was back of the Congdon bill, and his ntaural and inherent hatred of corporations, especially of the Steel trust, was aroused; hence his vote. Wouldn't that jar your system? The idea of a typical Republican politician like Marden, whose matin and vesper prayer—when he prays—and every personal endeavor is in favor of about any old kind of a corporation or trust, kicking on the poor innocent Steel trust and making of it a scapegoat for his vote, is a sight for sore eyes. But, of course, Marden didn't mean what he said. He was merely enlarging the aperture of exit, in other words, the hole to crawl out at.

Altogether Un-American.

Red Wing Republican: Governor Eberhart did well not to sign the "seven senators bill. While it will probably never be put up to the voters because of irregularities connected with its passage, nevertheless the people will not tolerate the men who are willing to stand for it. It is altogether un-American.

Queer Idea of Justice.

Pine County Courier: The legislature which just closed seemed to have a queer idea of justice. They turned down reapportionment and also voted to give the large cities less than their fair share of representation. The law making farmers from the southern districts must have been the "whole thing" during this session.

Ralph's Exoneration.

Warroad Plaindealer: State Drainage Commissioner Ralph has been exonerated from the charges made against him before a legislative investigating committee. Like all men that accomplish things, Ralph seems to have cut some of the "red tape" in connection with his work occasionally, but no case of dishonest dealings was found Ralph has been one of the main forces for the development of Northern Minnesota.

"Bankrupt Sales."

Pine County Pioneer: It is astonishing the way people will flock to a sale of "bankrupt stocks" and other fake sales put on by traveling merchants, who go about the country with stocks of shelf-worn and damaged goods, and sell them at prices far in advance of the regular price charged by local merchants for a better class of goods. The mere fact that these people make money by traveling around with these goods is the best evidence in the world that they are selling them at a price which makes them a profitable investment—for the man who unloads them on the consumer. The safest place to buy goods in the long run is of the man who will be here next season to replace those that prove unsatisfactory.

Pointed Paragraphs.

It is only the sneaking kind of enemies a brave man fears.

A woman has faith in a man's judgment—if he does as she suggests.

If you are unable to keep your troubles to yourself they will expand.

An old fashioned gentleman is as polite to a girl of 58 as he is to one of 18.

It isn't polite to ask a guest how long he is going to stay, yet every hostess is anxious to know.

It doesn't matter whether you give his satanic majesty his due or not; he'll get it just the same.

You are wrong, Cordelia; a man doesn't acquire that dark brown taste in the early morn from wearing tan shoes.

Reflections of a Bachelor.

New York Press: The wedding presents that you cast upon the waters sink.

Compared with being nice to some people even the gout is fun.

It's extra easy for a man to make a fool of himself when a girl arranges it for him.

When a man takes the family to the theater he looks as if he were going to a funeral.

The man who sells you gold bricks doesn't do it because he's so smart, but because you're such a fool.

City Without Pawnshops.

New York Sun: The city of Paterson, N. J. with a population of 125600 has only one licensed pawnshop and it is believed that the permit for that will not be renewed when it expires. This condition is not due to lack of applicants for the privilege of lending money on personal effects. Mayor McBride is constantly importuned to license pawnbrokers but he is opposed to the business, and has consistently refused to act favorably on the applications.

Several years ago the board of trade of Paterson, organized a "remedial loan company," for the purpose of advancing money to worthy persons in temporary need. This organization charges the lowest possible interest on advances, and its design is to meet the necessities of those who in another community might patronize their uncles. In doing this Mayor McBride believes that the "remedial loan company" provides for the legitimate wants of the community, and does all that a well-regulated panwshop should do.

The Woman in Business.

Woman's World: What many girls, and women, too, fail to realize is that work—any work, be it for the commercial and impersonal world that pays for it with a small weekly check, or for the dear personal world which pays chiefly in love—that any work is a privilege. No matter how monotonous it may seem it carries with it a responsibility which should win a response not only of respect and interest, but of affection; and which should result in making for the girl a larger and more admirable personality. Of course, a girl may be overdriven, in which case she can hardly be expected to love her work. What she needs is to be taken away from it and nursed back to steadiness of nerves. But assuming that a girl has a normal working day, lasting seven or eight hours (unfortunately it is sometimes nine), she has no excuse for not feeling an interest in it, for not understanding that she owes it an attention that has nothing to do with the wage she draws for it.

TWENTY YEARS AGO

L. H. Grieser, a well known Duluth citizen, has just taken out a patent for a device which promises to bring about a revolution in reaping and binding machinery. The invention is a straw binder, a machine which involves an entirely different principle from any other yet produced. It may be used as an attachment to any old macihne, or in connection with the binder complete, which Mr. Grieser has also invented. The peculiarity of the invention rests in the fact that only the butts of the straw will be used, all of which is taken from the bundle itself. Its economy is evident from the fact that no twine or wire is used. Mr. Grieser will leave for Washington in a few days to superintend the manufacture of the first machine.

The Duluth Bankers' Baseball club was organized last night. The following officers were elected: Honorary president, James C. Hunter; president, Colin Thomson; vice president, J. H. Noyes; manager, H. E. Smith; captain, J. D. Mahoney; secretary and treasurer, C. D. Shepard; managing committee, Leon Shaw, E. M. Parsons and E. Maxfield. The club has about thirty members.

City Assessor Cooley has completed the assessable valuation of the city of Duluth and finds it to be $26,784,710. The valuation before the outlying districts were taken in was $23,766,653. On Jan. 1, 1893, Lakeside will come in, Jan. 1, 1894, West Duluth, and Jan. 1, 1895, Fond du Lac. The present assessed valuations of these vilalges are $1,794,723, $5,811,446 and $840,578, respectively. The present total for these three suburbs is $8,446,747, which added to the valuation of Duluth amounts to $35,221,457.

The graduates of the Red Wing high school will hold a banquet at that place in June and have appointed J. D. Hancock of West Duluth to respond to the toast, "Our High School."

Alex. Michaud, one of the proprietors of the Merchants hotel, recently acquired some valuable property in Joplin, Mo., and has made a proposition to the leading men of the city to build and run a first-class hotel there.

Miss Alice M. Young of San Diego, Cal., sister of Architect Young, arrived in the city yesterday. She was a teacher in the high school at San Diego and may teach here.

Alexander Jenswold, who has been visiting his brother, John Jenswold, during the winter, returned to Emmetsburg, Iowa, today.

Capt. Alexander Davidson, who has sailed Lake Superior since 1850, died a few days ago at Bayfield, aged 70.

The Park Hill Cemetery association has betn organized by Danish and Norwegian Lutherans. The first trustees are: B. Landfold, A. Jarstad, J. Solem, S. Handal, O. Melvik and L. Arneson.

A MOMENT WITH THE WITS.

Washington Star: "Why don't you sell that old mule of yours?"

"Well, suh," replied Uncle Rashberry, "I jes doesn't dare. I han't de face to sell him to one o' de neighbors, an' he wouldn' last foh a drive long enough to sell 'im to a stranger."

Detroit Fress Press: "Pa, what is a philosopher?"

"A philosopher, my boy, is one who tells other people that their troubles don't amount to much."

Philadelphia Record: Hoax—I have discovered the only sure way of keeping ahead of the races.

Joax—How's that?

Hoax—Don't follow them.

Boston Transcript: Hicks—Bluffer is talking of purchasing an automobile.

Wicks—Bluffer Why, he couldn't buy a charge of ammunition for an air gun.

Chicago News: Teacher—Now Harold, can you tell me what made the Tower of Pisa lean?

Harold—I guess there must have been a famine in the land.

Puck: Weary Walter—You've got your nerve going up to that house for a handout. Don't you know they keep a dog?

Tattered Teddy—Sure, what of it? De lady is one of dese Fletcherites, and after de dog gits a piece of you she makes him masticate it 132 times before she lets him take another bite.

Yonkers Statesman: She—What are you laughing at?

He—Your hat.

"Oh, dear! Haven't I got it on straight?"

"Yes, that's why I'm laughing. It looked so funny on straight."

Puck: "What's the matter yith your nephew that's sick over at Skeedee?"

"Oh, he prescribed for himself out of a dooter-book," replied the Old Cadger, "and nearly killed himself with a misprint."

Newark Star: She—But, George, you could never support two.

He—Well, I'm only looking for one.

London Opinion: Mistress (engaging servant)—I hope you know your place?

Servant—Oh, yes, mum! The last four girls you had told me all about it.

Louisville Courier-Journal: "What cured him of flirting?"

"He started a flirtation with a lady who turned out to be selling an encyclopedia at $200 a set."

Fliegende Blaetter: "How did the fatal accident in the air omnibus happen to Dr. Jenks?

"He was used to stepping off the street car before it stopped, and tried it with the air bus."

Cleveland Plain Dealer: "I don't know what to buy for my husband. He has stacks of neckties."

"Cigars."

"He gives them to the janitor."

"Suspenders?"

"He wears a belt. I know what I'll do. I'll buy him a hall rug and a pair of bedroom curtains!"

The Divine Sara's Rule.

Mme. Berhardt, at a supper in New York, smiled sympathetically over the story of a young actor who had applied vainly for the post of secretary to a rich widow, says the Detroit Free Press.

"He failed, I understand," said Mme. Bernhardt, "because he didn't wear his best clothes. Now a young girl applying for a secretaryship to an elderly millionaire, would never make such a mistake as that.

"I believe, do you know, that the one great difference between men and women is this:

"When an important step is to be taken a man asks, 'What shall I say?' a woman, 'What shall I put on?'"

The Flesh and the Devil.

Daily Mirror: ("If you are fat * * * you are far less likely to become a criminal than if you were thin."

The criminal propensities
Which seethe beneath my hat
Against the grain
I must restrain
Because I am so fat;
I often long to crack a crib,
And would, without a doubt,
Did I not own
To twenty stone,
Which, you'll admit, is stout.

If my circumference were less
I would a burglar be,
But who can crawl
On roof and wall
With adipose like me?
No pantry window yet was made
That would my bulk admit
Without a strain
Upon the brain
Or apoplectic fit.

In cupboards I could never hide,
Nor under bedsteads creep,
And, if I could,
My breathing would
Arouse my prey from sleep;
No stairs without alarming creaks
My pressure can sustain—
No choice, you see,
Is there for me
But honest to remain!

—Truth.

The Wrong End.

Southwest: A stout old gentleman was having trouble with the telephone. He could hear nothing but a confused jumble of sounds, and finally he became so exasperated that he shouted into the transmitter:

"Is there a blithering fool at the end of this line?"

A Long Wire Span.

Newport Signal: The span of telephone wire just placed across the bay is one of the longest anywhere in the state of Oregon. The wire runs from a pole near Capt. Wellander's house to one about 100 feet high on south beach, and the distance from pole to pole is 2,500 feet, or nearly one-half mile. Its average height above the water is about 125 or 130 feet, and will clear the masts of any vessel coming in here at present.

American Gold Mines in Korea.

Consul General George H. Scidmore of Seoul, Korea, reports that the American gold mines in the Unsan district are spoken of in the press of that city as "the biggest concern of its kind in Asia." In 1910 fiscal year the seven mines had earnings of $1,434,495 and total expenses of $810,818, leaving a net profit of $623,677. The ore resources on July 1, 1910, were 838,520 tons, valued at $3,948,475.

The manager said: "We employ about sixty Americans and Europeans, 150 Japanese, 350 Chinese and several thousand Koreans. Considering the wages paid, the Koreans are the best miners in the world. They are skillful, work fairly steadily, and are good natured and easy to handle."

The company has its own thirteen mile railway to bring the cord wood from the forest covered mountains of Chosan, 3,000 feet above sea level.

He Was Sober.

Chicago Tribune: The hour was 1 a. m.

Inside the dimly lighted hallway stood Mrs. Dorkin with a grim smile on her face.

The front door was bolted.

"John," she said, in cutting accents, "you have been dissipating at the club again!"

"Maria," spoke a voice outside, rapidly, clearly and distinctly, "he blew lugubriously on the blooming bugle."

Instantly she unfastened and opened the door.

Mr. Dorkins had not been dissipating.

WOMAN'S REALM.

Mrs. Stella Prince Stocker, who has been visiting in the West has given a series of her interesting lecture recitals on the opera in Seattle, where she is visiting at present and the following report of them was given in a recent issue of "The Town Crier," of that city:

"Mrs. Stella Prince Stocker gave the first three days of the week, a series of lecture recitals on opera, at the home of Mrs. Charles D. Stimson. Monday and Tuesday mornings she gave Wagner's 'Niobolungen Ring,' and Wednesday afternoon, Debussy's 'Pelleas and Melisando.' Mrs. Stocker's audience, though small—for the lecture series was so hastily arranged that but little publicity could be given it—was highly delighted with her recitals and her wonderful ability as a pianist. Mrs. Stocker plays from the score of the opera, and, as she plays, tells the story, interpreting most sympathetically and intelligently the text with vocal as well as pianistic illustrations, giving her listeners a comprehensive insight into the work, in such a vivid, interesting way that they are familiarized with the music of the opera and its principal characters, almost as much as if they had witnessed its actual production. An effort is being made to have Mrs. Stocker return to Seattle and give a longer series of those thoroughly delightful and inspiring recitals. Should she consent to do so, music lovers have a rare treat in store, for her repertoire contains the 'Niobolungen Ring,' 'Parsifal,' Lohengrin,' 'Die Meistersinge' of the Wagner operas, and Pelleas and Melisande' (Maeterlinck-Debussy.)'"

Mrs. Stocker will be home next week.

BOYS WILL GIVE PLAY.

Woodland Pageant Will be Presented at Neighborhood House.

A pretty little woodland pageant is what the boys of the Neighborhood House are now working up. It will be presented at first at the Neighborhood House and afterwards in the open air. It will be ready for its first presentation about the last of May. The characters in the play will be Belgian hares, jack rabbits, bears, Indians, and others.

REDMOND'S DAUGHTER IS A PLAYWRIGHT

MISS REDMOND.

John Redmond has a daughter who has inherited his literary taste. She has contributed to many papers and recently she had a sketch produced at the Palace theater, London. "Falsely True" was such a success that a London manager has engaged Miss Redmond to write a play for his theater. The pretty young Irish woman is only 21 years old.

HOUSEHOLD ECONOMY

To Wash House Linen.

To save your linen and your labor put half a pound of soda in an earthenware pan and pour over it two quarts of boiling water; then take half a pound of soap, shred it fine and put it into a saucepan with two quarts of cold water.

When boiling, and the soap is thoroughly dissolved, add to the contents of the earthenware pan. Mix well, and let the mixture stand till cold, when it will have the appearance of a firm jelly. Let your linen be soaked in water the seams and any other soiled part rubbed well with soap the night before.

Get your copper ready and add to the water about a pint of the above soap jelly. When lukewarm put in your linen, and allow it to boil for 20 minutes. Rinse it in the usual way, and that is all which is necessary to get it clean and to keep it in good color. Housekeepers will find the above recipe invaluable.

Darns.

The reason why your darns shrink after they have been washed for the first time, in spite of having good loops at the end of each line of darning, is that although the vests themselves no longer give, the wool used for mending is new and shrinks when brought into contact with the water. The only remedy that we know of is to shrink the mending wool itself before it is used.

Put the skein into a basin, fill up with boiling water, and let it remain there until the water is cool enough for the wool to be removed. It is, perhaps, needless to add that it must be allowed to dry thoroughly before use.

Helps For the Housekeeper.

To iron clothes easily damp the clothes and fold them neatly. Then roll tightly and lay aside for several hours. After this the clothes can be quickly ironed.

To clean your machintosh wash it well with soap and water. Never let it get really dirty, as it will be extremely difficult to restore it to a good color again.

When cleaning a frying pan do not scrape it with a knife, for afterward the pan will be more liable to "catch." Boil out the pan with hot soda water, and if necessary, scour with fine sand.

THE EVENING STORY

"A Matter of No Importance"

By Nolan of Castleknock.

"How time flies!" remarked Jessop as he and Woodward seated themselves in the tent. "Why, old chap, it must be quite ten years since we last met."

"Nearer eleven!" amended Woodward as he lit his pipe.

"By Jove, so it is! You went to India in '89, shortly before my first mar———."

"And been grilling there ever since," suplemented Woodward quickly.

"Oh, but ever since that big hill fight at Aswi they think no end of you at home," demurred the other man a little enviously, "and now you have been given a brigade in Africa! Oh, you've done well, whereas I have done nothing—nothing that is, but get married twice!" added Jessop, laughing boisterously.

"Ah, yes—you've been married twice!" said Woodward, with a queer look in his eyes, and the hand that held the pipe trembled slightly.

"To Julia Watson first—you remember Julia? Of course you do! Why, you were sweet on Julia yourself once!" cried Jessop, with one of his noisy laughs.

Woodward's face whitened a little and his hand still trembled as he shook the ashes from his pipe.

"And she—she died," he said, ignoring the imputation.

"Six months after we were married," explained Jessop, moderating his voice with obvious effort. "You see," he went on, confidentially, "it was all a beastly mistake—our marriage, I mean. Julia never said anything, but I've often thought she had a row with some other 'Johnnie,' and married me out of pique. At any rate it ruined my temper and her health—she developed nerves and insomnia, and one day there was an 'accident' with a laudanum bottle. Awfully rough on me!" he added ruefully.

"Of course!" agreed Woodward, with grim sarcasm; but his face was very white as he spoke, and for some moments he gazed out silently into the gathering gloom.

Far away in front stretched the long lines of the camp, its avenues of tents rising dim and undefined in the growing darkness, like ghosts in a fog; while occasionally the snap of a Boer rifle broke the silence as some daring sniper made long pot shots at the wearied camp.

But Woodward hardly thought of these things, or, if he did, they but symbolized the points in his own misery, for the dropping shots were as clods falling on the doffin of long buried hopes. "She had a row with some other 'Johnnie,' and married me out of pique."

Jessop's careless words rang through Woodward's brain with maddening persistence. Why should he care whom she had married? She had satisfied her "pique" as Jessop phrased it, as many another woman had done before her; and he had suffered as many a man had done before and would do after him. Why should it trouble him now? Why should he be upset now by the blundering, if accurate, speculation of the man before him?

Were all his efforts, all those years of fierce repression, to count for nothing now? All those years through which he had sweated and fought and striven for the "waters of Lethe"—were they all to vanish now before the random speculation of the man before him?

"No!" his brain answered fiercely, but his heart whispered "Yes!" And the heart won, as it generally does in the end.

For, lo, as he sat there looking out through the opening in the tent, the memory of those ten bitter years, "years that the locusts had eaten," faded away, and in their place there came stealing back those other days that had gone before—the days when she loved him, the days when, as Jessop expressed it, he, Woodward, had been "sweet" on her!

It all came back to him now as he gazed straight in front with blind, unseeing eyes—all, even that last trivial quarrel which had sundered them forever. Every detail passed across his brain like the pictures in a cinematograph—even the glint of gold in her hair, the light in her eyes, the tenderness in her voice—all came back.

"But what is the use?" he thought dully. "She is dead—dead—dead! The light went out of those dear eyes long years ago; it was ten years since a dose of laudanum silenced forever the tenderness in her voice and——"

"Yes, as I was saying," broke in Jessop, "it was a mistake from beginning to end. Julia's tastes and mine were utterly dissimilar. I was fond of sport, whereas she cared for nothing but books and social problems, and—and—well, rot of that sort."

He paused for a moment. The firing on the heights increased in volume and something went zip through the top of the tent.

"Now," continued Jessop, with a casual glance at the bullet hole, "my present wife is absolutely different—suits me down to the ground. She was one of the Booths—remember the Booths of Boston? Of course you do. Ripping girls on a horse, hardest riders in the country, and Jenny, my wife—why, she can give me points in a twenty mile walk!"

"You are to be envied," said Woodward dryly.

For a moment Jessop paused and glanced at him doubtfully; then his overweening self-satisfaction as quickly dismissed suspicion.

"Yes," he agreed complacently, "on the whole I think I am. Pity you didn't marry Julia, old chap,"—generously—"your tastes were similar, and, by Jove, I always thought it was you she cared for—on my honor I did! No one could have been more surprised than I was when she accepted me on the night of her sister's ball. Do you remember Lady Vernon's ball, Woodward—the one just before you went abroad?"

"I wasn't there," said Woodward a little hoarsely.

"I remember it so well," continued Jessop, blissfully unconscious of his companion's remark; "it was on the 18th of December, the night before the Venner steeplechases, and—by Jove, how curious!—tonight is also the 18th of December, exactly the tenth anniversary of the ball.

Woodward started slightly, but said nothing.

"What a rattling affair it was!" continued Jessop enthusiastically. "Do you remember the supper?"

'I have said I wasn't invited," repeated Woodward in a dry, level voice.

"Eh? Not invited? Oh!"

In a moment Jessop had sprung to his feet and was looking down at his companion rather shamefacedly.

"I say, old chap," he said at length, "I hope you will forgive me. I've got to own up that it was through my stupidity you received no invitation to Lary Vernon's ball."

"Your stupidity?"

"It's rather difficult to explain. At first I thought of writing, but at that time you were in some outlandish place or other with no postal address, and then the whole thing slipped from my memory until now."

"Yes?"

"Well, the truth of the matter is this," continued Jessop ruefully. "Julia asked me to post your invitation to Lady Vernon's ball, and I forgot all about it."

"You forgot all about it!"

The words came through Woodward's lips slowly, and in the flickering candle light his face seemed to have grown horribly gray and old.

"I was playing billiards with Vernon," explained Jessop, "and afterwards we helped the ladies with the invitations. The printer made a mess of the date, and the error wasn't discovered until too late to be rectified, so we spent the evening helping Julia and her sister to alter the date on the cards."

"Go on!" said Woodward in a hard dry voice.

"When all had been sent to the post, as we thought, one was found on the floor. It was your invitation, which Julia had dropped. They asked me to post it on my way home, and—well, old chap, I forgot it."

He looked at Woodward as he spoke, expecting some remark; but none came from the man who sat gazing, gazing with hard, wide open eyes into the deepening shadows.

"Afterwards it must have got mixed with some other papers and been put away; at any rate, I only came across it again six months after Julia's death. I'm awfully sorry, old chap!"

"Awfully sorry!" repeated Woodward vaguely as Jessop rose and opened a battered writing case.

"I thought we should meet some day," he said, handing a large envelope to Woodward, "therefore I have always kept it carefully. It's a lucky thing," he added, with a laugh, "that it was a matter of no importance!"

Woodward took the letter and for some moments looked at the handwriting of the woman who had died ten years before, the woman he had so passionately loved.

Outside the darkness had increased, and the bullets of the Boer snipers were pattering with deadly persistency amongst the long lines of canvas.

But death held no place in Woodward's thoughts as he drew the glittering candle closer and opened the envelope with unsteady fingers.

Inside lay an ordinary invitation card with the origial printed date—Jan. 2nd.—erased, and another—Dec. 18th substituted in the writing of the woman who had died. The year had been added—1899.

What misery might have been saved, how different the world might be now, had that little card reached its destination ten years earlier.

Then suddenly the peculiarity of the date struck him.

"The 18th of December, 1899!" he repeated, wondering. Why tonight was the 18th of December, 1899! The card had been dated ten years in advance!

"How extraordinary!" he cried, as he quickly pointed out the error to Jessop.

"The 18th of December, 1899! By Jove! Of course, it should have been 1889!" Jessop cried. "But what an extraordinary mistake for Julia to make, and why should she have put the year at all?"

"I don't know," said Woodward slowly; "it's very strange. It——"

He stopped short as he turned the card over and read the words which were scribbled on the back——

"If you still have the old love for me come at 11. I shall be waiting. Julia."

For a moment the world seemed to rock beneath his feet, and in his ears there was a great rushing and roaring of sound, through which the tap, tap of the Boer rifles came like the driving of nails into a coffin.

Then suddenly Woodward's brain cleared and he grew strangely calm. In a flash he understood it all.

"If you still have the old love for me come at 11."

Those few words had been her pecae offering, that one phrase laid her pride in the dust; and he—he had placed her in the ordinary ruck of women, whilst she—she had waited and waited for the man that never came.

Just a scrap of paper, a few lines of print, an altered date—and yet it had ruined two lives!

He regarded it for a moment stupidly; then suddenly his thoughts reverted to the man whose negligence had been so disastrous, and just for that instant Jessop was nearer death than he had ever been from the rifles of the Boer forces.

"What is wrong?' he cried, startled by the color of Woodward's face. "I hope there was nothing on the card of——"

"Nothing!" said Woodward dryly. "It was, as you say, 'a matter of no importance.'"

"You—great heavens!" cried Jessop suddenly as he sprang to his feet with a gesture of horror. "Do you see her—do you see her?" he whispered in a hoarse tone. "She is standing beside you!"

"Who?" Woodward glanced behind him as he spoke, but could hear or see nothing save the patter of the Boer rifles away in the darkness and the face of a cheap alarm clock that hung at the back of the tent.

He mechanically noted the time. It wanted twenty seconds of 11.

"Julia, Julia!" cried Jessop, his burly frame shaking. "Don't you see her? She is standing beside you—she points to the card in your hand—she——"

Woodward looked down quickly, but could see nothing—nothing except the words she had written ten years before——

"If you still have the old love for me come at 11. I shall be waiting."

Then, even as he raised his head, something came through the tent with a "zip" and struck him on the forehead.

For a moment Woodward grew rigid, then pitched forward heavily on his face.

As he fell the clock began to strike 11.

Hints for the Boudoir

By MILDRED WYCKOFF.

The Well-Dressed Girl.

No matter how many dresses and coats, hats and pairs of shoes a woman has, she will not merit the epithet well dressed unless her clothes are carefully brushed and made neat when necessary by a few stitches.

Every time a coat and skirt are taken off they should be carefully brushed and then hung in a large wardrobe, so that nothing will push or crease them out of shape. Although cloth shows the dust more quickly than homespun or tweed materials, it is just as important that these fabrics be thoroughly brushed, so that not a speck of dust be permitted to lodge in the loose weave or wooly surface.

Woe to the girl who wishes a velvet or velveteen suit to be her pride if she is not careful about removing every speck of dust from it with a soft brush.

To keep all collars neatly boned seems a small detail, but it is really by no means unimportant if a neat appearance be aimed at.

The neglect of this small detail is capable of marring the effect of the handsomest outfit.

Gloves that are not spick and span and shoes that are not polished and in good repair are the finger-posts of neglect.

Always have the shoes well polished and clean, for besides looking well it is an economy for the shoes to be kept well.

Scurf on the Face.

"My face keeps coming out in blotches of scurf. Do you think you could favor me with a remedy?" asks Ethel.

Your condition points to the fact that your blood needs a tonic and you would find an orange eaten the first thing before breakfast a splendid blood purifier. Avoid rich, fatty foods, take as much outdoor exercise as possible, eat plenty of green vegetables, and avoid eating foods such as rice and potatoes.

A little boracic ointment applied to the blotches of scurf will help to soothe the skin.

Mrs. Housewife, Don't Miss This

There are 17 ingredients used in it, each the finest of its kind.

The flavor is matchless. You have never tasted a spaghetti dish which begins to compare with this.

The recipe is secret. Our kitchens alone can prepare it.

But we supply it to you ready cooked for less than you would spend to make it if we told you how.

We use to make it:

Durum wheat spaghetti.
Herkimer County full cream cheese.
Best creamery butter.
The same superlative tomato sauce we use in Van Camp's Pork and Beans.

Everything in it is the best money can buy. And our famous chefs do the compiling.

You have simply to heat it and it's ready to serve.

This is the most popular dish that we ever created. We had no idea how many people wanted such spaghetti.

When you serve it first everyone at your table will say something nice about it. When you serve it to guests—to women guests—they'll ask for the recipe.

Your grocer has it in stock or can get it. Ask him to send a few cans.

LAST "POP" OF SEASON

Orchestra of Forty Pieces Is Feature of the Program.

Tumbling, Reading, Singing and Comedy Sketch Are Offered.

For the last "Pop" of the season at the Y. M. C. A. the members of the program committee believe they have arranged the best program of the series.

The big feature of the evening will be the large orchestra of forty pieces under the direction of Gustave Flaaten. Mr. Flaaten has been rehearsing with the orchestra for the past six weeks in preparation for the numbers they will present Tuesday night and he has secured some of Duluth's best talent. The selections to be given are all of a high order and have demanded weeks of practice on the part of the musicians. Perhaps in point of interest the "Festival March" by Papini and the "Henry VIII" dances by Gern will be the most popular. The latter number is included in the program to be presented here by the Minneapolis Symphony orchestra in June.

Another star number of the program will be the acrobatic work, tumbling and contortion work by Wendlandt, Grenner and Grenner. This will be the first public exhibition that these men have put on this season and it is expected that their number will be an interesting one. Master Grenner, aged 12, who does the contortionist work, always makes a big hit. His work ranks with that of most professional contortionists. It is expected that the work of the group will be the best exhibition of tumbling that has been presented at the local gymnasium for some time.

Miss Agnes Johnson has consented to give a humorous reading, "The Swede at the Baseball Game." This number is being given at the special request of the committee. The program will be concluded with a one-act farce entitled, "Six Cups of Chocolate," presented by six young ladies.

Owing to the large number which will doubtless be present, the committee in charge has arranged so that any members of the association desiring to reserve seats for themselves and friends may call at the office before Tuesday noon and seats will be reserved for them free of charge.

The program follows:

"Festival March" ....Papini
Flaaten's Conservatory Orchestra.
Gustav Flaaten, Director.
"Cloister Scene" ....Rubenstein
Flaaten's Conservatory Orchestra.
Reading—"The Swede at the Ball Game" (by special request)......

COLLEGE MEN IN POLITICS

They Are Raising Standard of Government, Says "Boy Orator."

University Graduate Has Been Cheer Leader at Big Conventions.

"The Grand Old Party Megaphone Man," J. Henry Smythe, Jr., of Philadelphia, a 1909 graduate of the University of Pennsylvania, is visiting his classmate, Donald K. Harris, the son of L. C. Harris of 1203 East First street. Mr. Smythe, who has won national fame through Republican national convention cheer-leading and campaign speeches, is enjoying his short visit to the Zenith City.

"The Boy Orator" as Mr. Smythe is called is connected with the National Republican College league, with which the G. O. P. clubs at Minnesota and Wisconsin are affiliated. Alfred E. Lunt of Boston, is president of the organization which included in 1908 100,000 members in over 300 clubs. "Proud of their record in campaigning and in work at the polls, college men know that their efforts have raised political standards and ideals," says Mr. Smythe.

J. HENRY SMYTHE, JR.

In 1904 at the Chicago national convention Smythe with a megaphone and stars and stripes created the record-breaking "Roos-e-velt!" ovation. In 1908 he led the "Three cheers for Taft and Sherman!" He participated last June in the greeting of Col. Roosevelt by invitation of the New York City Republican club. He led the members on their boat down the harbor in "Three cheers for America's foremost citizen, Theodore Roosevelt, the genius." He next started a unison yell of "Welcome Home."

"Sons of presidents and governors have set the example of patriotic political service," Mr. Smythe said today. "Robert A. Taft, while at Yale, and Charles E. Hughes, Jr., at Brown university, are notable instances. University undergraduates and alumni know that their efforts have raised political standards and ideals.

"The object of our league are 'To arouse college men to an interest in the practical administration of popular government; to promote discussion and investigation of politico-economic problems,' and to inculcate the principles of the Republican party."

Stumped for Taft.

"The Megaphone Man" was "on the stump" for Taft in Maine, Maryland, New York and Pennsylvania, under the auspices of the national, state and city committees. Smythe received a letter from Congressman Bennet, director of the Republican speakers' bureau in New York, saying: "For the services you rendered in the campaign I beg to thank you on behalf of the national committee. You asked for no pay for your services, nor did you ask any money for expenses; whatever you have done has been done for love of the party, and for this we are sincerely grateful."

Smythe attended the Roosevelt and Taft inaugurations. On March 3, 1909, at the White House, Smythe shook hands "good-bye" with the retiring president, and on March 5 extended to the new chief executive "best wishes for a successful administration." He also attended the inaugural ball.

President Roosevelt invited young Smythe to attend the notification exercises at Oyster Bay, and greeted him with the words, "I am pleased to meet such a typical 'first-voter.'" The megaphone man later made several campaign speeches.

Smythe's success in politics by which he has won national fame should inspire young men to engage energetically in politics and as militant Republicans. Smythe is just 27 years of age, and he has been the youngest speaker on the list of the Republican national headquarters in two campaigns. Smythe's patriotism and laudable ambition are best appreciated when it is known that the megaphone man has never accepted pay for his services even for expenses.

Smythe's earlier history includes a visit to the Chicago World's fair, where at the age of 9 he went around the grounds for several weeks all by himself. Two years later he made his first trip to Washington. The Pan-American and Jamestown exhibitions received his earnest study, as did the St. Louis exposition, which he attended after casting his first ballot for then President Roosevelt.

Leslie's Weekly in 1904 said:

"Not a little of the enthusiasm manifested in the protracted applause which followed the nomination of President Roosevelt by the Republican national convention at Chicago was created by a youth who, mounting the platform, waving a flag and shouting through a megaphone, stirred the vast crowd again and again to vociferous cheers. The young man who made this somewhat senational debut as a public character is J. Henry Smythe, Jr. He aspires to become a politician and his appearance before the big audience in the Chicago Coliseum was deliberately planned by him, but it was a surprise to the officers of the convention. If the success and boldness of his debut be reliable signs of success, young Smythe bids fair to mount high on the political ladder. He is bright and intelligent above the average of his years. In his own city he is well known as a chess player, having been champion of the Gambit club and excelling in simultaneous play, frequently winning games from as many as twelve opponents at one time.

"The parable of the talents proves that much is expected of J. Henry Smythe, Jr. He has made a good start."

Most Children Are Wheat-Hungry

Nearly all children have wheat-hunger—a craving for the body-building elements found in the whole wheat, the most perfect food given to man—his "staff of life" for four thousand years.

The whole wheat contains all the elements needed to build the perfect human body. This cannot be truthfully said of any other cereal. It is through the shredding process (patented and owned by The Shredded Wheat Company) that the whole wheat is prepared in its most digestible form.

By this process all the tissue-building elements in the whole wheat are retained, while the outer, or bran, coat is scattered along the shreds in infinitesimal particles in such a way as to stimulate peristalsis (bowel exercise) in a natural way.

Give a child two Shredded Wheat Biscuits every morning with hot milk and a little cream and he will be fully satisfied and will lose his taste for mushy porridges that are usually bolted down without chewing.

You can't build sturdy boys and girls out of books and sermons. Their bodies must be developed from the food they eat. Shredded Wheat is an ideal food for them to study on, to play on, to grow on.

Shredded Wheat Biscuit with hot milk or cream makes an ideal breakfast for school children and is quickly and easily prepared. The porous shreds of cooked wheat combine naturally with all kinds of fresh or stewed fruits, making a complete, wholesome meal. Your grocer sells them.

TRISCUIT is the Shredded Wheat wafer—a crisp, tasty, nourishing whole wheat Toast, delicious for any meal with butter, cheese or marmalades. Always toast it in the oven before serving.

IRON AND STEEL.

Low Prices Call Out Numerous Inquiries From All Sections.

New York, April 24.—The most interesting development in the steel trade at the close of last week was the placing of a contract for 10,000 tons of reinforcing concrete steel bars, the initial order for the Kansas City terminal. The plans for the terminal call for 240,000 to 300,000 tons of steel and it is the most notable structural project before the trade.

The low prices prevailing for fabricated structural steel have called out numerous inquiries from all sections and contracts are now pending calling for 150,000 tons. The grand total of structural work now up is from 700,000 to 800,000 tons. Last week orders were closed for 21,000 tons.

Business in other finished steel products were contracted. The steel corporation blew out several furnaces. Rail contracts aggregated 22,000 tons.

The 1910 iron ore season opened with the sale and re-sale of about 1,000,000 tons of lake ore at a reduction of 50 cents per ton from the prices prevailing during the two previous years.

The volume of business in pig iron was light.

MUST APOLOGIZE.

Superintendent of Naval Academy Censured in Beers Case.

Washington, April 24.—An apology from Capt. John M. Bowyer, superintendent of the United States naval academy, to Miss Mary H. Beers and her father, Prof. Beers of Yale, has been ordered by the secretary of the navy for a slighting remark about Miss Beers made by some one at the academy as a result of her attendance at a hop there. Miss Beers was governess in the family of Lieut. Tarrant and her escort was later informed he should not have invited the young lady because of her position.

OLD FISHERMAN DIES.

Capt. Dennis Hines, Old-Time Ashland Man, Called.

New Richmond, Wis., April 24.—Capt. Dennis Hines, a pioneer of St. Croix county, died at the state hospital for the insane at Oshkosk, where he had been a patient for a year. He was for several years in government service in Washington. Of late years he has been a prominent figure in Lake Superior fishing circles, making his headquarters at Ashland, Wis. He was born in Ireland about seventy years ago.

BLAST EXPOSES COPPER IN COPPER COUNTRY.

Calumet, Mich., April 24.—(Special to The Herald.)—While digging a trench for a water pipe on the Cardinal farm last week, it was necessary to remove a large boulder by blasting and underneath it rock rich in copper and carrying traces of free silver were found. This is the first find of this character that has occured in the Torch Lake towns for many years and it has caused no little interest.

BEST CITY ON THE COAST

Portland Appears Livelier Than Any of Them, Says Duluthian.

Portland is the best city in the Pacific Northwest, according to William Horkan, who returned Saturday from a visit to the coast. He says the North Dakota and Montana towns he passed through, also Spokane and Seattle, looked quiet, but Portland appeared to be enjoying splendid times.

Mr. Horkan met many former Duluthians in the Webfoot metropolis. He says the Warren Bros. Construction company that laid the East Superior street paving has a big paving contract in Portland, having undertaken to pave nearly 150 miles with various materials this year. John Hilliard, a former Duluth contractor, is in charge of the concrete work on a twelve-story hotel designed to cover a block and have 950 rooms with baths. Mr. Horkan also saw a number of men who used to be in the lumber and other lines of business here, all of whom appear to have prospered.

Seattle struck the Duluth man as being considerably overdone, the boom that accompanied the Alaskan exposition having left many backers of big undertakings considerably obligated and it may require several years for normal conditions to return.

"I must say," concluded Mr. Horkan, "that Duluth has all of those cities beaten in the way of street car service; both Seattle and Portland struck me as being behind the procession in that regard."

Escapes From Oshkosh Asylum.

Milwaukee, Wis., April 24.—For the third time within three years, Frederick M. Hunter, a gigantic and powerful negro murderer, has escaped from the Northern hospital for the insane at Oshkosh and is believed to be headed toward Milwaukee. He left the hospital early on Saturday morning.

ELOPES WITH CONVICT.

Marquette Woman Reported to Have Left With Paroled Man.

Marquette, Mich., April 24.—The report that F. Richards, a paroled prison convict, and Miss Florence Lempke, a domestic in the employ of Judge C. R. Brown, had eloped, seems to be confirmed. The girl told some of her friends that she intended to run away with Richards. The couple have been missed since Wednesday and Warden Russell has taken steps to locate Richards and bring him back to serve out the remainder of his sentence. It is supposed they went to Richards' home at Owen Sound, Ont.

Richards was sent to the Marquette prison June 26 1907, from Alpena county, under sentence of from two and a half to five years for larceny from the prison. March 1 this year, he was released on parole with orders to remain within the county of Marquette and report to his next friend, Rev. Mr. Rogers. Since his parole he worked at the docks and seemed in every respect a reformed man. He even expressed a desire to be converted, and with this end in view borrowed several books from local persons. The books he forgot to return.

Old Norway, Mich., Man Dies.

Norway, Mich., April 24.—(Special to The Herald.)—John Farm is dead here of old age. He was a resident of Norway for thirty years. Mr. Farm was the grandfather of Mrs. Teckla Farm-McKennie, the noted concert singer.

Paper Rates Ordered Reduced.

St. Paul, Minn., April 24.—Rates on print paper from Little Falls to Albert Lea have been declared excessive by the members of the railroad and warehouse commission and an immediate reduction ordered.

The Hennepin Paper company of Minneapolis alleged that it was being discriminated against in the matter of shipping rates by the following railroads: Rock Island, Milwaukee, Northern Pacific and St. Louis, a rate of 17½ cents per hundred weight being charged from Little Falls to Albert Lea, while the rate from Rhinelander, Wis., to Little Falls for a rival paper concern was fixed at 14½ cents.

S.S.S. DRIVES OUT BLOOD HUMORS

ECZEMA
PIMPLES
RASHES AND ALL ERUPTIONS OF THE SKIN

The intimate relation of the skin to the blood is shown by the fact that impurities or poisons of any character are usually manifested in some form on the outer cuticle. The germs of fever in the blood will cause a flushing and redness of the skin; in like manner the uric acid of Rheumatism will cause inflammation, while malarious poison produces a sallow and chalky hue; and so with other impurities.

The skin is a real barometer to the blood, and the character of impurity infecting the circulation is determined by the effects on the outer tissue. Humors in the blood produce what we term in general, Skin Diseases. These are divided into several classes known as Eczema Acne, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Psoriasis, Pimples, Rashes, etc., and each of these troubles indicate the presence of humors or acids in the circulation. The humors and acids by their irritating nature cause the delicate flesh just beneath the outer skin to ulcerate and discharge, and soon the skin is disfigured with eruptions which often are torturing to the sufferer because of soreness or intense itching. External treatment cannot cure an internal trouble, and for this reason salves, washes, lotions, etc., can have no curative effect on skin diseases. Such treatment can perhaps soothe, and make the irritated flesh more comfortable, but the real cause must be removed by purifying the blood before skin trouble can be cured.

I want to tell you of the great good I received from the use of S. S. S. I am now 75 years old and had suffered with Eczema for forty years caused by a humor in my blood, and could find nothing to cure me until I tried S. S. S. I suffered intensely with the itching and burning; pustules would form from which there flowed a sticky fluid; crusts would come on the skin and when scratched off the skin was left as raw as a piece of beef. I suffered agony the long years I was afflicted, but when I used S. S. S. I found a perfect cure. There has never been any return of the trouble.
Stockham, Neb. C. H. EVANS.

S. S. S. cures Skin Diseases of every kind by purifying the blood and removing the humors from the circulation. It neutralizes all impure acids, cools the over-heated blood, builds it up to normal strength, multiplies its rich, nutritious corpuscles, and adds to its purity in every way. Then the skin instead of being irritated by acrid impurities and humors, is nourished, soothed and softened by pure, rich blood. Book on Skin Diseases and any medical advice free. S. S. S. is for sale at drug stores.

ON THE IRON RANGES

NEARLY 100 CASES ARE TO BE TRIED

Court Term Beginning at Virginia Tuesday Promises to Be Long One.

Virginia, Minn., April 24.—(Special to The Herald.)—The April term of the district court will convene here tomorrow morning. A grand jury will be charged and it is thought that there will be about thirty cases for this body to dispose of.

Among the important cases to be tried at this term are those against the St. Louis River Dam & Improvement company, a subsidiary of a Weyerhaeuser lumber company of Cloquet. There are fourteen cases in all and are brought by farmers living along the river south of Aurora. The cases arise out of the overflowing of land located in township 58-15, in the vicinity of Frying Pan lake. The cases are of wide interest as they involve the right of boom companies to build dams and back up streams in floating logs. One of the cases was tried a year ago and was decided in favor of the plaintiff. It was taken to the supreme court and the award of the lower court sustained. The amount of damages claimed by the land owners, on account of the destruction of growing crops by the backing up of the water and the flooding of the fields, range from $150 up. The importance attached to the cases is not on account of the sums involved, but of the large lumber and land interests that will be affected by the decisions.

The coming term will be a long one, as there are ninty-three cases on the calendar, besides the criminal calendar to be tried.

FRANCHISES TO BE CONSIDERED

Eveleth, Minn., April 24.—(Special to The Herald)—A meeting of the city and village councils of the range will be held in the city hall here Wednesday afternon to consider the franchises sought by the promoters of the range electric roads. The public affairs committee of the Commercial club will meet the delegates.

Assurances have been received from Biwabik, Virginia, Chisholm, Buhl, Gilbert and Aurora, that they will send delegations.

GIVEN $100 FINE FOR USING KNIFE

Hibbing, Minn., April 24.—(Special to The Herald.)—Nick Hill wos fined $100 and $12.86 costs or ninety days in municipal court today for cutting Matt Saari at the corner of Pine and Second avenues Sunday night. Hill had followed Saari into a saloon and called him names. Matt was cut badly over the left eye. The doctor states that the cut one-sixteenth of an inch nearer would have taken the eye out.

Both are Finns. Vacola Monica was fined $20 and $4.75 for being drunk and fighting. James Morella, George Caramoti and Louis Francis were each fined $50 and $4.75 for resisting an officer on the street Sunday night at 8:30.

CURRENT HIBBING NOTES.

Hibbing, Minn., April 24.—(Special to The Herald.)—The fire department made a quick run last night to Donovan's bakery. The only good the run did, however, was to show just how quickly the department can turn out and give the teams exercise as the fire proved to be of no account. Somebody had started a fire in the stove and some one thought the house was on fire and turned in the alarm.

Three blind-piggers of Stevenson were fined a total of $328 on Saturday in the municipal court. They were T. Nocovich, Steven Valiche and Matt Variche. The police are vigorously pushing the fight against the illegal sale of liquor.

The Winston & Dear company is actively pushing stripping operations and will put two steam shovels and a day and night shift to work at the Burt mine during the present week. The Drake & Stratton company is now fully equipped for the season's work in the new quarters on the Brooklyn road and started four shovels to work this morning at the Dale pit. The Oliver company are running three shovels at the Hull-Rust and six at the Sellers pit and all running double shift. Butler Brothers have not yet got their forces to work for the season.

In connection with the proposed ordinance for all residences, hotels, etc., to have closed garbage cans, very considerable effort is being made in certain quarters to get the village council to arrange for the free haulage of garbage within the city limts under restrictions.

Mrs. Della Camp of 219 Center street expects to go to Milwaukee at the end of the week to visit friends in that city.

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Barrett will go to Duluth tomorrow for a few days' visit. Mr. Barrett went to Sturgeon lake with C. A. Remington for the first fishing trip of the season yesterday. They left early in the morning and went out by auto returning early Monday.

M. Teller of the Oliver police staff at Carson Lake, has gone to Green Bay, Wis., for a few weeks pleasure trip. Mr. Teller will be the guest of relatives whils there.

Guy and Walter Camp made a trip to the woods yesterday on their new tandem auto-cycle. The machine is a powerful one and is one of the best on the ranges, and is said to make high speed when out of the jurisdiction of Chief Wring.

Want Pink Cheeks—Red Lips?

Some unfortunate men and women are prone to wonder why some of their friends are blessed with an abundance of color—pink cheeks and red lips—while theirs are always colorless. The reason for this last named condition is—there is not enough red blood corpuscles in the blood—under a microscope the blood is thin and watery. The fresh is flabby, too. Well known physicians assert that the regular administration for several months, of three-grain hypo-nuclane tablets will greatly improve the color, add to the weight, make the cheeks pink and the lips red, and in general be very beneficial. For self-administration, obtain from any of the best apothecary shops.

EX-MAYOR KILLS LYNX WITH CLUB

FRANK ANSLEY.

Hibbing, Minn., April 24.—(Special to The Herald.)—Ex-Mayor Frank Ansley has qualified for the big animal hunting class by a deed of prowess performed in the woods near here when he killed a lynx with a club.

He thought he heard a partridge drumming and crept cautiously up to see if he could get a glimpse of the bird. Instead he saw a full-grown lynx.

Ansley hurled a club with so true an aim that he knocked the lynx over. Rushing upon the animal he stamped upon it and succeeded in killing it, although not without considerable damage to his clothing.

The former mayor will preserve the hide.

ARRESTED ON RUMORS.

Restaurant Man Held on Charge of Killing Murphy.

Grand Rapids, Minn., April 24.—(Special to The Herald.)—Rumors that he said he shot Vince Murphy, the veteran logger, killed north of Deer River, led to the arrest of Vincent Wood, who runs a restaurant fifteen miles north of Deer River, and Sheriff Riley has him in the county jail here pending the inquest to be held this week. A "sweating" process is said to have thrown little light on the story and Wood may soon be released.

Murphy was found Friday with a bullet hole through the right side. That he had been murdered was believed, because there was no weapon anywhere to uphold the theory of suicide. The body was behind a clump of bushes and there were appearances which gave rise to the theory that the killing had occurred somewhere else and the corpse later dragged and hidden in the underbrush.

The authorities are continuing a thorough investigation.

Wood denies that he knows anything of the shooting.

Mrs. Murphy, who lives in Minneapolis, notified the authorities that she would come here at once.

ELY FIRE WARDEN.

Office Has Been Created By Council of Vermilion City.

Ely, Minn., April 24.—(Special to The Herald.)—The city council has created the office of fire warden, it being the unanimous opinion of the council the danger from fire is sufficiently great to justify the expenditure of public revenues for the salary of an official whose sole duty shall be the prevention of fires through patrolling "danger zones" and keeping an eye on careless storage of inflammable materials.

It is expected that there will be a lively contest for the office as soon as it is officially declared in existence.

A. E. Brownell was appointed city engineer at $125 per month and N. G. Erickson street commissioner at $75.

T. W. Tool was reappointed city electrician; A. J. Thomas, city attorney; Iver Wistad, city clerk; and Anton Wuloz, janitor at the city hall.

All the old police officers were reappointed.

TWO HARBORS ODD FELLOWS ATTEND CHURCH.

Two Harbors, Minn., April 24.—(Special.)—The Two Harbors' lodge, No. 155, Independent Order of Odd Fellows with Kings' Daughters lodge of Rebekahs, No. 176, attended divine service at the First M. E. church yesterday morning, in honor of the ninety-second anniversary of Odd Fellowship in America. There was a large delegation and the church was crowded. The Rev. T. Stanley Oadams preached an appropriate sermon by request, and excellent music was furnished by the choir. Miss Florence Oadams rendered some excellent selections on the organ. Beautiful floral decorations were the gift of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Owens.

EVELETH ODD FELLOWS TO OBSERVE ANNIVERSARY.

Eveleth, Minn., April 24.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Odd Fellows will observe the ninety-second anniversary of the founding of the order with an entertaining program. Those who will take part are Secretary Richard Trevarthen, William Pope and S. J. Williams, E. B. Hill, Miss Matilda Skramstadt, Noble Grand Ferdinand K'ang, and Edward Lesperier.

SMITH'S SALARY BILL LOST IN THE SHUFFLE.

Eveleth, Minn., April 24.—(Special to The Herald.)—Senator James P. Boyle returned Saturday from St. Paul and has resumed his duties as city attorney, which have been filled during his absence by Assistant City Attorney Edward L. Boyle. He stated that the bill he introduced for the raising of State Treasurer Walter J. Smith's salary from $3,000 to $5,000 failed to pass because of the press of business of the final days of the session.

TO MEET IN ST. PAUL.

Annual Gathering of Assistant Postmasters July 18.

Eveleth, Minn., April 24.—(Special to The Herald.)—The fourth annual convention of the Minnesota Association of Assistant Postmasters will be held at St. Paul July 18, according to the announcements being sent to the fifty members by Assistant Postmaster Fergus R. Ellsworth of this city, and treasurer of the organization. The first meeting of the convention will be held in the Federal building and will be addressed by a representative of the postoffice department and other speakers.

The officers of the association are D. E. Wood of Pipestone, president; N. E. Nelson, Fergus Falls, first vice president; W. C. Weld, Duluth, second vice president; J. H. Weddendorf, New Ulm, third vice president; Fergus R. Ellsworth, Eveleth, secretary and treasurer. President Wood has been appointed a postoffice inspector and Vice President Nelson is acting as president. D. E. Wood, Pipestone; F. R. Ellsworth, Eveleth; H. V. Peterson, Virginia; T. E. Hughes, Minneapolis; E. C. Boyd, Lake City, compose the executive committee of the association.

COMPANY M PUTS IN BUSY SUNDAY

Hibbing Militiamen Spend Day Fixing Up New Rifle Range.

Hibbing, Minn., April 24.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Hibbing company put in some strenuous work on Sunday at the rifle range. The members started out soon after 7 in the morning and marched out to the new rifle range, just south of Alice and immediately got to work making firing pits and embankments and doing the necessary work for the fixing up of the new range. The boys took two meals with them and lunched in camp style, returning to town shortly after 5 o'clock. Both officers and men worked hard and great credit is due their efforts to make the range one of the best in this district. The company already has a high standard of marksmanship and it is expected to still further raise this during the coming season. The range will probably be completed in about two weeks' time and soon after that date the first shoot will be arranged for.

The new range will prove more efficient than expected. Those competent to judge state that it will be all that is needed for the company.

Many of the business men of Hibbing have shown their appreciation of the efficiency of the company by donating some splendid prizes to be competed for under various conditions by the members of Company M.

HIBBING MEETING TO DISCUSS RAILROAD MATTER.

Hibbing, Minn., April 24.—(Special to The Herald.)—A public meeting will be held here Friday evening in the council chamber for the purpose of considering the proposed changes to be made by the Missabe railroad. The one great matter of importance is the moving of the present passenger and freight depots and adjoining trackage. President McGonagle, General Superintendent Kreitter, Chief Engineer H. L. Dresser and several officials will be present.

REPRESENTATIVE HEALY RETURNS FROM SESSION.

Hibbing, Minn., April 24.—(Special to The Herald.)—Representative John A. Healy, who returned from the St. Paul legislature on Saturday night, is somewhat better after his recent indisposition, although he has not fully regained his usual health. He was taken with an attack of the grip and lumbago while returning to Hibbing a few days ago, and was obliged to stop in Duluth until he felt well enough to travel the balance of the journey.

Mr. Healy said, in talking of the session, that it was certainly one of the most hardly fought sessions that St. Paul has seen for many years.

This is Mr. Healy's first term. He served on a number of important committees and sub-committees, among them being labor and labor legislation; military; game and fish; insurance; public parks, and several others.

Eveleth Lodges Parade.

Eveleth, Minn., April 24.—(Special to The Herald.)—The City band and Austrian lodges yesterday afternoon held a bid parade on the local streets, which attracted much attention. Following the parade a dance was held at Vail hall with many in attendance.

COFFEE CONGESTION

Causes a Variety of Ails.

A happy old lady in Wisconsin says:

"During the time I was a coffee drinker I was subject to sick headaches, sometimes lasting 2 or 3 days, totally unfitting me for anything.

"To this affliction was added, some years ago, a trouble with my heart that was very painful, accompanied by a smothering sensation and faintness.

"Dyspepsia, also, came to make life harder to bear. I took all sorts of patent medicines but none of them helped me for any length of time.

"The doctors frequently told me that coffee was not good for me; but without coffee, I felt as if I had no breakfast. I finally decided about 2 years ago to abandon the use of coffee entirely, and as I had read a great deal about Postum I concluded to try that for a breakfast beverage.

"I liked the taste of it and was particularly pleased to notice that it did not 'come up' as coffee used to. The bad spells with my heart grew less and less frequent, and finally ceased altogether, and I have not had an attack of sick headache for more than a year. My digestion is good, too, and I am thankful that I am once more a healthy woman. I know my wonderful restoration to health came from quitting coffee and using Postum." Name given by the Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

"There's a reason," and it is this. Coffee has a direct action on the liver with some people, and causes partial congestion of that organ preventing the natural outlet of the secretions. Then may follow biliousness, sallow skin, headaches, constipation and finally a change of the blood corpuscles and nervous prostration.

Read the little book, "The Road to Wellville," in pkgs. "There's a Reason."

Ever read the above letter? A new one appears from time to time. They are genuine, true, and full of human interest.

PUBLIC BUILDING FOR TWO HARBORS

Representative Miller Introduces Bill Appropriating $75,000.

Washington, April 24.—(Special to The Herald.)—Representative C. B. Miller today introduced a bill carrying an appropriation of $75,000 for the purchase of a site and erection of a public building at Two Harbors, Minn. The bill provides that no more than $10,000 shall be expended in the acquirement of a site.

LAKE VERMILION NOW ABOUT OPEN

The Mary Bell Makes Few Trips Preparatory to Resuming for Season.

Tower, Minn., April 24.—Special to The Herald.)—Lake Vermilion is practically open. Some ice is scattered about the lake's surface, but the winds and sun are fast causing its disappearance. The Mary Bell has made a few short runs to try out the machinery. The government launch made its first trip across Pike bay Sunday morning.

Rev. W. T. Hughes of Ely occupied the pulpit of the St. James Presbyterian church Sunday evening.

The Vermilion Lumber company, will probably start its sawmill this week. After a short time the mill will be operated with both day and night crews.

Prof. W. T. Cartwright has tendered his resignation as superintendent of schools and expects to study law. His successor has not yet been made public.

The city council is causing the park to be cleaned up and a number of dead trees have been removed.

The shaft of the Scott-Bevier mine is now through some 175 feet and good ore is being encountered. This property is one of the most promising of the new properties in this vicinity.

The house occupied by William Wilson having been sold, he will move his family to a house on South Second street.

The first game of ball at Tower was played Sunday afternoon by local players.

BETHEL AT VIRGINIA.

Rev. Mr. Moody Leases Building for Such an Institution.

Virginia, Minn., April 24.—(Special to The Herald.)—J. T. Moody, formerly in charge of the Bethel at Duluth, gave a very interesting talk on "Rescue Mission" at the First Presbyterian church last night. Mr. and Mrs. Moody have leased the Central hotel to establish a Rescue Mission. The Central hotel has been conducted by Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Sutherland for the past eighteen years.

BIG SOCIALIST MEET.

Virginia Locals to Have Gathering Tuesday Evening.

Virginia, Minn., April 24.—(Special to The Herald.)—With J. S. Ingalls as the principal speaker, the various Virginia Socialist locals plan on holding a big meeting Tuesday evening. Mrs. E. V. Pitkinnen will have charge of the ladies' reception committee, and many women are expected to attend. The Socialist band will furnish the music. The Boys' Military band, composed of boys ranging in age from 9 to 18, gave a concert in the city park yesterday which proved very enjoyable to the public. The boys organized the band, bought their own instruments and hired their own leader.

WOODSMAN DROPS DEAD.

Erick Johnson Expires While Walking Through Virginia Alley.

Virginia, Minn., April 24.—(Special to The Herald.)—Erick Johnson, for a number of years past employed by the Virginia & Rainy Lake company in its lumber camps north of this city, died suddenly of heart failure in an alley between Wyoming and Mesaba avenue yesterday. He had been spending several days in the city and while walking in the alley he fell to the ground and expired immediately. Dr. J. H. Crowe, deputy coroner, pronounced the man dead, and a post mortem examination will be held today. Johnson was about 45 years of age and single. The body was taken to the Fleming morgue, where the funeral arrangements will be made later. He has no known relatives in this section of the country.

VRGINIA BRIEFS.

Virginia, Minn., April 24.—(Special to The Herald.)—Mrs. J. H. Crow will give a lucheon to a company of ladies at her home on Hemlock street Thursday afternoon.

Mrs. H. S. Gillespie and son have been visiting relatives and friends in Minneapolis the past two weeks.

The family of Robert Garvey arrived from Ashland, Wis., yesterday and will make their future home here.

Editor D. E. Cuppernull of The Virginian left Saturday for Chicago to meet Mrs. Cuppernull and daughter Jane, who have been spending the past two months at Miami, Fla., as guests of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Pfremmer, formerly of Hibbing.

Former Alderman and Mrs. D. W. Elmquist will soon remove to Duluth to make their future home. Mr. Elmquist has disposed of his interests in the Sodergren drug store here and will engage in the wholesale drug business in Duluth.

Thomas Coughlin, turnkey at the city jail, transacted business in Duluth the latter part of the week.

The "hard times" social given by the Elks at the Fay opera house Friday night was a decided success in every particular, those attending pronouncing it one of the most enjoyable social affairs of the season.

Register of Deeds and Mrs. M. C. Palmer of Duluth, were Sunday visitors in the city as guests of Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Smith of the Fay hotel.

VIRGINIA YOUTHS ARE PROSECUTED FOR CRIMES.

Virginia, Minn., April 24.—(Special to The Herald.)—Chief of Police Ellis Walsh has returned from Duluth, where he appeared against five local boys, who were implicated in several burglaries. John Shugel, aged 12 years, who with Sere Salki broke into the Virginia & Rainy Lake company's office, was sentenced to the training school at Red Wing, and his accomplice was discharged. Elmer Erickson, aged 14, and Tony Mark Eddy, 10 years, each received sentences to the training school. These two latter were implicated in the postoffice robbery some two weeks ago. Frank Flank, aged 14, who was caught in the postoffice with these boys, was also discharged by Judge Ensign in juvenile court, the judge giving the discharged boys a severe reprimand and warning them not to stray from the straight and narrow path.

LUMBER FOR HOTEL.

Material for Tower Junction Establishment Is Arriving.

Tower, Minn., April 24.—(Special to The Herald.)—Ten carloads of lumber have arrived at Tower Junction for the new North American hotel, the frame of which is up to the third story. Seventeen men are now busy on the structure.

A carload of brick making machinery arrived Saturday for the North American Brick, Tile & Pottery company. The work of placing the machinery in the power plant is progressing rapidly and soon the work of erecting a building over the machinery will begin.

Eveleth Young Men's Club.

Pants "Soaked" for Drink.

Eveleth, Minn., April 24.—Special to The Herald.)—Two men recently entered the Scott dye house and while one engaged the proprietor in conversation the other remained in the front, stealing a pair of valuable pants and making his escape. The pants were later located in a local saloon, where they had been left by the thief, and every effort is now being made by the police to find the culprit.

Supt. of Police Hyland was summoned before the grand jury with the books seized Saturday night and an investigation was started by the grand jury. Prosecutor Baker says that the investigation will be made along two lines, first whether the officers of the International Association of Bridge and Structural Iron workers had any knowledge of the explosives that were found in the basement of the building, where their offices are located; and second, whether the enemies of the iron workers' organization had anything to do with the placing of the explosives in the building.

Grand Jury Takes Cognizance.

That the grand jury has taken cognizance of intimations, contained in statements attributed to officials of the Iron Workers' association, that the organization is the victim of a conspiracy by agents of the employers who had "planted" dynamite to "create" evidence, was the statement of Prosecutor Baker.

"I must decline now to say," said he, "whether we shall subpoena the national officials of the Iron Workers' association and the private detectives and attorneys that have been active in uncovering the deposits of dynamite here. Thus far we have summoned only the superintendent of the Indianapolis police. The books of the association will remain in my charge as long as I think we need them in our inquiry. No court has power to take this evidence from us. We also shall investigate the question as to whether certain persons collected dynamite here with the intention of blowing up buildings. The probe into the dynamiting of structures in process of building in this city last year will be reopened. We will review all the local aspects of the case before this session of the grand jury closes."

President Ryan of the Iron Workers' association declined to comment further today on the investigation. He said that telegrams of sympathy and offers of help both for the association and its secretary, J. J. McNamara, were pouring into the office today. He refused to make public the names of the senders of the telegrams. He and other executive officers of the association were in consultation all day, but would give out no information as to what further steps they intended to take.

Explosive Was Stolen.

Tiffin, Ohio, April 24.—Detective William J. Burns, who yesterday, unearthed a large quantity of dynamite which he alleged was brought to Tiffin and hidden in the abandoned quarry owned by James McManigle, father of Ortie E. McManible, arrested in Detroit, is continuing his investigations in Toledo this morning.

Burs declares that the explosive was stolen from the France Stone company at Bloomville on Jan. 26 last and brought to Tiffin. He alleges that young McManigle used some of it in dynamiting outrages against the National Erectors' association.

No arrests were made in Tiffin but Burns intimated that there might be sensational developments in Toledo.

Burns at Toledo.

Toledo, Ohio, April 24.—Detective W. J. Burns arrived here at 11 o'clock this morning and immediately went into conference with Chief of Police Knapp. Further than to say that he expected to make an arrest here late today, the detective refused to give out anything. He probably will go to Indianapolis tonight.

Miners Will Contribute.

Denver, Col., April 24.—The Western Federation of Miners stands ready to levy an assessment of $5 upon each of 50,000 members as a defense fund for Secretary J. J. McNamara of the Structural Iron Workers' Union.

This statement was made by Charles H. Moyer, president of the Western Federation of Miners, this morning.

Investigations Continue.

Indianapolis, Ind., April 24.—Investigation declared to be directed toward exposing persons and methods responsible for eighty explosions and great property loss in various parts of the country during the last two years continued today in this city and at Tiffin, Ohio. At the latter place Detective William J. Burns and J. A. G. Badorf, assistant counsel for the National Erectors' association, were following certain details connected with their discovery there last night of 400 pounds of dynamite "planted" in a shed. In this city Walter Drew, principal counsel for the Erectors' association, conferred with the police and with Frank P. Baker, county prosecutor, as to further inquiry to be made in the case. Mr. Drew this morning received a telegram from Burns and Badorf saying they expected to return to Indianapolis late today.

Following the arrest of J. J. McNamara, secretary-treasurer of the International Association of Bridge and Structural Iron workers, here, and the arrest of J. B. Bryce, alleged to be J. B. McNamara, and Ortie E. McManigle at Detroit, all of whom are being taken to Los Angeles to answer indictments charging them with complicity in the Los Angeles Times building explosion, in which twenty-one lives were lost, there continued to be rumors today of further arrests in the matter, but the police and others concerned declined to comment on them.

The agents of the Erectors' association, an organization of structural iron contractors, against whose efforts to conduct "open shops" the explosions are elleged to have been directed, also refused to say today whether they expected to find more "plants" of dynamite than those already uncovered. The "depots" in which it is charged the "wrecking crews" stored explosives to be used from time to time so far found are as follows:

"Depot" of "Wrecking Cans."

Shed in the rear of the home of James McManigle, father of Ortie E. McManigle, at Tiffin, Ohio, 400 pounds of dynamite found last night, alleged to have been stolen from France Stone company's quarry at Bloomville, Ohio, last January.

Storage compartment in the basement of the building in Indianapolis in which the offices of the International Association of Bridge and Structural Iron Workers, 100 pounds of exploding apparatus was found surrounded by papers and books of the association, Saturday night.

The shed at the home of D. Jones, near Indianaolis, alleged to have been rented by J. J. McNamara, twenty-five pounds of dynamite and two quarts of nitroglycerin was found Saturday night.

President Ryan of the Iron Workers' association, last night issued a statement condemning the police for having "railroaded" J. J. McNamara out of Indianapolis and toward Los Angeles, and asking the public to withhold judgment because, he said, evidence before had been created by agents of enemies of labor.

Other members of the executive board of the association today affirmed that this would be the attitude of the association. They said it always had denounced the use of explosives in labor union disputes, and disclaimed all responsibility for the destructive methods of the campaign.

Burns Makes Raid.

Indianapolis, Ind., April 24.—Detective William J. Burns, who led in the arrest of John J. McNamara, secretary-treasurer of the International Association of Bridge and Structural Iron Workers here last Saturday for complicity in the alleged dynamiting of the Los Angeles Times building, Oct. 1, last, in which twenty-one persons were killed, is expected to return to Indianapolis some time this morning from his trip to Tiffin, Ohio. At Tiffin Burns confiscated about 400 pounds of dynamite stored at the home of James McManigal, father of Ortie E. McManigal, who with James W. McNamara, is on his way to Los Angeles in custody of officials. More developments are expected here with the return of Burns and it is predicted that more arrests may be made.

It is said some of the records taken from the offices of unions here in the raid Saturday night will have important bearings on the cases of the men when they are put on trial. It is said there are a number of receipts, showing that money has been paid to the men under arrest and that the dates of these receipts correspond to the dates of some of the larger explosions and also that these disbursements were not printed in the union's journal as prescribed by the union's constitution.

Indianapolis labor leaders are loud in their denunciation of McNamara's arrest and the action of the police in spiriting him out of the state. The central labor union meets tonight and it is intimated that strong resolutions on the subject will be adopted.

Indianapolis Headquarters

Indianapolis, Ind., April 24.—Investigation that was expected to show, according to the police and Walter Drew, attorney for the National Erectors' association, that Indianapolis for two years has been the headquarters of a conspiracy that has resulted in eighty destructive explosions of dynamite, causing a property loss of $2,000,000 or more, continued yesterday, after the sensational arrest of John J. McNamara, secretary treasurer of the International Association of Bridge and Structural Iron Workers, late Saturday.

After months of investigation directed by William J. Burns, a private detective, John J. McNamara, international secretary of the Bridge and Structural Iron Workers of America, the headquarters of which are in Indianapolis, was arrested here charged with complicity in the dynamiting of the Los Angeles Times, Oct. 1, 1910, when twenty-one lives were lost, and the plant of the Llewellyn Iron works at Los Angeles.

Four hours after McNamara was arrested detectives found two quarts of nitroglycerin and seventeen sticks of dynamite in a barn near Indianapolis. The barn, the detectives say, was rented by McNamara from T. H. Jones, the owner.

The later investigation of the international offices of the union revealed in the basement of the building 64 sticks (about 60 pounds) of dynamite, 200 feet of fuse, 500 dynamite caps, one dozen small alarm clocks, and a leather case made to carry a 10-pound can of nitroglycerin. Detective Burns took possession of all the explosives.

McNamara's arrest followed an investigation lasting several months, during which a force of detectives have been in Indianapolis. Burns himself made frequent trips to Indianapolis and was at all times in touch with the investigators here.

Requisition papers from the governor of California having been signed by Governor Marshall before the arrest, McNamara was taken to police headquarters by Detectives Gerber, Dugan and Simon, whre he was arraigned by Judge Collins in police court.

Removed From City.

The requisition was granted and twenty minutes after McNamara had been seized in the association headquarters in the American Central Life building, where a meeting of the executive board of the organization was just adjourning, he was taken from the city by four detectives in an automobile.

Ten assistants of Detective William J. Burns, employed by the National Erectors' association worked with the local police and detective department.

The Erectors' association, it is stated represents in its membership 80 per cent of the structural steel and iron contractors of the United States. Against them, in their efforts to operate "open shops" it is alleged, explosions of dynamite under bridges, viaducts and buildings from Springfield, Mass., to the Pacific coast, have been directed.

It was after the most serious of the explosions, that which wrecked the Los Angeles Times building, costing the lives of twenty-one persons, that the indictments were returned by a grand jury in Los Angeles upon which were arrested here J. J. McNamara, and in Detroit, J. B. Bryce, alleged to be James McNamara, brother of John J. McNamara, and Ortie C. McManigle. Rumors are many that more arrests here were impending, but the police refused to discuss them.

In Controversy With Officers.

President Ryan and other officials of the bridge and structural iron workers consulted at their headquarters all day. Daybreak yesterday found the officials of the association and their counsel in violent controversy with Detective William J. Burns and his operatives, the local police and Attorney Drew, for the Erectors' association, as to whether or not a search warrant held by Burns vested in him power to seize the books of the association. Superintendent of Police Hyland finally determined to remove the books to police headquarters, where it was stated a transcript would be made of receipts and expenditures made by authority of Secretary McNamara during the last two years. Mr. Drew said these entries would be offered as evidence when the accused were brought to trial at Los Angeles.

The books were taken from a safe in the offices of the association after an expert had cut the locks, and over protests of the officers of the union and their counsel, Detective Burns, Attorney Drew and Assistant District Attorney Ford of Los Angeles, began an examination of the books which continued for several hours when it was decided to take the books to police headquarters

Declaring that the police had "kidnaped" J. J. McNamara and that the finding of dynamite in a storage compartment belonging to the offices of the association of bridge and structural iron workers was not proof of McNamara's guilt because detectives foten had "created" evidence against labor unions, Frank M. Ryan, president of the Iron Workers' association last night issued a formal public statement on behalf of himself and the executive board.

Asks Judgment Be Withheld.

Mr. Ryan said the organization is "emphatically opposed to the use of any explosive for the destruction of life and property in labor disputes" and asks the public to withhold judgment in the case until the facts are known. The statement praises McNamara and continues:

"To the public it may seem that the finding of explosives in a vault supposed to be in his sole control, is evidence of his guilt, but to those who know, as we do, that in times gone by private detectives in the employ of manufacturers have wilfully created such evidence for the purpose of convicting labor leaders, and that such facts have been established in our courts time after time, the mere finding of explosives will not prove so convincing.

Already there is evidence in our hands to the effect that strangers had access to the vault in which the dynamite is said to have been found.

"To us it seems strange, indeed, that the police should find it necessary to kidnap Mr. McNamara and take him to Chicago in an automobile, when, as they assert, they have an abundance of evidence on which to convict him. If they actually have this evidence, we cannot undertsand why they should have been unwilling to allow him to confer with his attorney and to preserve such of his rights as he might have had in the courts of Indiana. Evidently those men feared the outcome of any proceedings in this state and prefererd to take their prey into a district which they knew is intensely excited.

"We are necessarily forced to the conclusion that this action was taken only because Mr. McNamara is an officer of a labor organization, as we have never known of similar procedure in the cases of others than labor leaders."

Another "Plant" Found.

A message received here from Tiffin, Ohio, where Detective W. J. Burns, who led the raid on the offices of the International Association of Bridge Workers here, went yesterday, stated that a "plant" of between 300 and 400 pounds of dynamite was found there.

The dynamite was contained in a rough wooden box, locked with a padlock and hidden in a shed in the rear of the home of James McManigle, father of Ortie E. McManigle, one of the men indicted in connection with the Los Angeles Times building explosion, arrested at Detroit and now being taken to Los Angeles. Detective Burns was accompanied to Tiffin from this city by J. A. G. Badorf, assistant to Walter Drew, counsel for the National Erectors' association. Entering the shed at McManigle's home, where they arrived just after nightfall, they found a wooden partition with a locked door. Breaking through this door, they saw the box. Detective Burns was prepared with a key which fitted the lock of the box. The dynamite inside was tightly packed and it was estimated the total number of sticks weighed between 300 and 400 pounds.

Electric Appliances Found.

Cincinnati, Ohio, April 24.—Several saws, a considerable amount of electric wire, an electric bell and an electric battery tester, according to the police, were among the articles found yesterday by detectives when they searched the residence of Mrs. John A. McNamara, mother of John and James McNamara, charged with complicity in the dynamiting of the Los Angeles Times building. The search lasted for several hours and the rooms occupied by the two men now under arrest were examined thoroughly, it is declared.

The articles mentioned above were found in a trunk in the room of James W. McNamara, but nothing of importance was found in John McNamara's room.

When the detectives called at the McNamara home, the mother was not aware of the arrest of her two sons. When shown a newspaper containing an account of it she appeared surprised for a minute and then broke down and wept bitterly.

"My boys are innocent, I know they are," said Mrs. McNamara between her sobs. "Their arrest is simply a plot to ruin them."

CARNEGIE TO APPEAR BEFORE GRAND JURY.

New York, April 24.—Andrew Carnegie and his fiscal agent, R. A. Franks, are to be called before the grand jury to testify concerning their relations with the Carnegie Trust company and with William J. Cummins, Joseph B. Reichmann and other directors of the institution.

District Attorney Whitman's decision to issue the subpoenas was arrived at when the statement appeared in print that state banking department had delayed closing the Carnegie Trust company last fall because of belief that Mr. Carnegie intended to supply money to save the institution.

ROUGH GOING FOR THE SOX

Duluth Squad Loses to Kalamazoo By Score of 9 to 6.

Kalamazoo, Mich., April 24.—Kalamazoo, of the Southern Michigan league, defeated Duluth here yesterday afternoon by a score of 9 to 6. It was a slugfest, considered from both sides. The visitors gathered in ten hits and the home team twelve. In the eighth the locals were able to bunch their swats and pulled in three runs, enough to take the game.

Chaffee, catcher for the visitors, did some brilliant work with the big mitt and also with the stick. Reinhardt, otherwise known as a fielder, was seen on the slab and did some stalwart work with his slants. The game was marked with some sensational fielding on both sides.

Duluth came strong in the first inning and held the lead until the final, when the "Mazoos" took a lively spurt and landed the game after it seemed lost. Score: R. H. E.

Batteries—Reinhardt and Chaffee; Hughes, Rich and Keifel.

Fort Wayne, Ind., April 24.—Fort Wayne repeated the daily dose to the Duluth visitors Saturday, only she made the administration a trifle strong and put over the defeat by a 13 to 0 score. The locals did the White Sox up in good fashion and at no time did they appear dangerous.

It was a complete snow-under, although the twirlers for the Northern boys all did heroic work. They were wild, however, and the team made gross errors when the counted most. Higley, Humm and Isley were used in turn.

Jerger, a big fellow, who heaved them in the Central association last year, was put against the O'Brien recruits. Jerger did not have any speed but his jerk delivery and floaters had the visiting batsmen at sea. Fort Wayne did not hit hard, gathering thirteen runs off of five scattered hits. Only in the fifth did they bunch two smashes.

Fort Wayne has turned over Pitcher Hewes to the Duluth club, and Darby O'Brien has signed up Pitcher Doty, who played last season with Evansville in the Central league. He pitched eighteen games for Evansville last year. He lost eleven of them and won four.

The team left here Saturday for Rockford, where all of the veterans of last year will join it. Six games are scheduled in the Illinois city. Madison on May 1 and 2, is the last of the real training trip of the Duluth team. They play Superior May 3 and 4.

RED SOX WIN BY RALLY IN NINTH

Kid Taylor's Men Fall on Racine Pitcher and Pull Out Victory.

Racine, Wis., April 24.—Superior took a fall out of Racine in a ninth-inning rally yesterday. The Northerners were on the way to finishing a 3 to 1 loser when in the final half of the ninth the Head of the Lakes men landed on the Racine hurler and knocked Taylor out of the box. Score: R. H. E.

Racine, Wis., April 24.—In the second game of the series between the Superior team in the Minny league, and the Racine team in the Wisconsin-Illinois league, Racine defeated the visitors 6 to 1 Saturday, due chiefly to the heavy hitting by the locals, and to the pitching by Flynn for Racine. The locals piled up thirteen hits, but the visitors stopped many rallies of the locals. Score: R. H. E.

CHICAGO RELAY TEAM WINS AT DES MOINES.

Des Moines, Iowa, April 24.—Chicago university's crack relay team Saturday afternoon won the one-mile university relay, the feature of the relay carnival held at the Drake stadium. Chicago took the lead at the start, although Menaul was penalized for a false start. Although Bermond of Missouri and Davenport of Chicago finished the race for their respective teams Bermond had no chance to show the mettle in him against Davenport, as the Chicago man had too great a lead on the Missourian when the last relay was sent away.

Illinois university pulled two firsts out of the university class by winning the two-mile and the half-mile.

Missouri did great work in winning the four-mile, Steele leading his team to victory.

In the college class, South Dakota pulled out with two victories, winning the two-mile and half-mile by brilliant running.

The following university teams which won first received cups:

Illinois, two for two-mile and half-mile; Chicago, for mile; Missouri for four-mile.

College teams winning cups were South Dakota, two, for two-mile and half-mile; Des Moines college, for four-mile; Coe college, Cedar Rapids, for mile. Members of the winning high school teams received medals.

FUTURE GREATS START SEASON

The Adams Athletic association baseball team got away to a bad start and the Jeffersons of the Duluth-Superior league showed unexpected strength yesterday when the opening game of the season at Athletic park went to the Jeffersons by a score of 6 to 3. The Jeffersons touched Murphy and Olson for eleven hits and bunched things up for five runs in the fifth and sixth. Although Mueller was hit safely seven times and his support was decidedly wobbly, he pitched himself out of holes with mid-season skill and held the Adams in check. The only time the West end boys were dangerous was in th seventh inning, when they were halted after two runs had been scored. Blaski of the Jeffersons and Kriz of the Adams each gathered three hits. A double play by Maske and Pease was the fielding feature.

In a remarkably well-played game at the Fifty-second avenue west grounds yesterday afternoon, the Fitwells won from the All-Stars by a score of 1 to 0, in twelve innings. Dick Thorsen did the hurling for the All Stars, while Talbot and Johnson threw for the Fitwells. Both were strong and went the whole route, the All-Stars losing in the twelfth when Thorsen and his support slipped a cog simultaneously.

Thorsen struck out sixteen men, and Talbot and Johnson also had the All-Stars well marked. Manager Sears of the Fitwells made a catch in the outfield that was the fielding feature of the game. The catchers were Boerner for the All-Stars and Bushe for the Fitwells.

ENGLISH POLO TEAM IN AMERICA NOW COMPLETE

E. W. E. PALMES.

CAPT. LESLIE ST. C. CHEAPE.

Two more polo players from England have arrived to join the English team which is practicing at Lakewood, preparatory to the international match which takes place late in May. They are Capt. Leslie St. C. Cheape and E. W. E. Palmes. They are joining the other two Englishmen at Lakewood, where they have been practicing in association with the American players in a spirit of sportsmanship which is unusual. Hitherto up to the arrival of Capt. Cheape and Mr. Palmes, the two English players had been playing with American associates. There is now a full British team to practice with the American cup team.

"NINE MEN IN A BOAT"

Select Party of Duluth "Sports" Fail to See Cock Main.

Thankful to Reach Land After Hazardous Midnight Journey on River.

Saturday afternoon and evening word had been tipped off to the few select ones that there was to be a "main and a good one," and that those caring to go should quietly and without any fuss meet in the West end, where the genial inviter would stow them away on a power boat, and thus they would proceed to the pit. This pit was located in a spot called variously "The Lion's Den," "The Robber's Roost" and its real name, and it is located in Wisconsin.

Nine accepted the invitation, and only luck or nine good angels kept them out of the obituary column today.

Making a "sneak" past several "cops," the nine made their way through black darkness to the boathouse where the power boat was "champing its bit." The man who owned the boat then got busy and when the one-cylinder finally got going, he immediately steered the 22-footer into another boathouse—but that might have been an accident.

Finally, after much back-firing, choking, sighing and sputtering, the engine kicked the boat out into the bay, and some one started up with "Sailing, Sailing, Over the Mighty Main," but he was reminded that it was "sailing to the main." Hardly had the boat gotten under way when she said "souse" with her nose and stopped on a sandbar in the bay.

Nine engineers at once began advising the real engineer.

"If I could only see a post," said the real engineer, "I'd know where to go."

"There's a post," said one of the others, and, after rocking, pushing with oars and with much advice, the real engineer got the boat headed for the post, which proved to be a smokestack on a building five blocks from the bay, and the boat again said "souse" and stopped against the bank.

Briefly, this happened three times before she was gotten into the river.

Suddenly, upon rounding a point of land, the engine started to race, and the real engineer said that he had lost his wheel. "Picked up a fishnet," he said briefly.

Seven of the engineers immediately discovered that his clutch had slipped, and he was told to go ahead.

No Lights on River.

Up the river sped the boat. No one knew where he "was at," and no lights showed to direct the course of the cockelshell and her "freight of human souls."

Ice formed on the boat's prow, on the oars, which were used frequently to push off from the bank, and on the clothing of the occupants of the boat. By this time all had become aware that they were on a fool's errand, and all expressed a willingness to get out and walk. But that, according to the real engineer, was an impossibility, as he declared he could not land in the utter darkness.

"If I can ever get into the river," he said, "I will be all right."

"Well, there's the river, right ahead," said some one, and the boat "dashed" forward at a speed of six miles an hour. Then she stopped. A wire had been crossed by one of the passengers putting his foot on it. After some tinkering, the wire was readjusted. "We are taking on a lot of water," said the real engineer. He got out the pump, and one of the strong men of the crowd volunteered to work it. He did. After two pulls he broke the sucker.

Nothing to it now but to make a run such as the boat had never before accomplished. So he "crowded on all power," and shot through the darkness, until he had reached the neck of Spirit Lake. "Here's where four were drowned last year," volunteered one cheerful individual. Suddenly the boat made a wild swing to the left, went hard aground and the waves following her crashed over the stern and past her. She was hard aground on a sand bar, and after feeling on both sides of the boat with the oars it was discovered that on the right side there was two and a half feet of water, and on the left side there was twelve feet.

Stuck Until Daylight.

In the pitchy darkness of 2 a. m. with the ice forming on the boat, and with the river going past at quite a pace, someone struck a match and all faces looked serious under its rays. "We will stay here until daylight," said one of the party. And they did.

At 4:30 a. m. they pushed the tail end of the boat into deep water, and then the prow came off the sand. In the cold, clear morning light, sailing up the river was easy. Many ducks took wing at the sight of the boat load of "sure-thing" guys, lately turned "boobs." The cold of the night and the subsequent early morning mist, had had its effect upon the spirits of the crowd. Finally, a landing was made near the great bridge, and all shook hands and said: "Terra firma, you're all right." Each handed the real engineer a simoleon, and each held up his right hand and said, "never again."

Then, hustling to the pit-side, they were informed that the fighting had been over for several hours.

Wiser, and yet happy that they were alive, the crowd walked across the bridge, and there boarded a train for the city. As they crossed the bridge, the choking of the one cylinder in the power boat was heard strangling down the river, and the crowd gave three cheers—for the fact that they were not in the boat.

Those present were: "Pete," Sam," "Jack," "Harry," "Mac," "Jude," "Mike," and two men who owned the boat.

GOOD RECORDS AT GUN CLUB SHOOT

F. Russell Has Best Mark in Field of Forty-Three.

Some good records were made at the Northwestern Gun club grounds yesterday afternoon. The fine weather resulted in a large crowd being out and forty-three men took a turn at the traps. Some shot at twenty, some forty and some sixty rocks, a total of 2,555 being used. F. Russell, with 86 per cent had the best record, and Hugo Eisenach with 82 and Otto Kalkbrenner with 81, also showed up well.

Following are the records, based on a possible 100 points:

LEFTY CRAIG DIES OF BULLET WOUND.

Indianapolis, Ind., April 24.—George M. (Lefty) Craig, pitcher of the Indianapolis club of the American association, died last night at the city hospital from a bullet wound received in a struggle with a burglar at a mineral spring resort, the training quarters of the club near the city, last Friday night. The police have been unable to find a clew to the identity of the man who shot Craig.

BOB BURMAN MAKES NEW AUTOMOBILE HISTORY.

Daytona, Fla., April 24.—"Bob" Burman celebrated his 27th birthday yesterday by making new automobile racing history at Daytona beach. He clipped the mile record down to 25:40 seconds and the kilometer to 15:88 seconds and lowered Barney Oldfield's two-mile world's record of 55:87 seconds to 51:28.

Burman was in his 200-horse power Blitzen Benz. He had placed the mile mark Saturday at 26:12 and the kilometer at 16:27.

Burman maintained a speed of 150 miles an hour in his two-mile try or a fraction less than that in his one-mile trial which was 151 miles an hour. The kilometer trials, which set the mark down to 15:88 seconds, were made at approximately 155 miles an hour and give the young pilot the distinction of traveling faster than anything heretofore driven on wheels.

Celebrate Golden Wedding.

Loretto, Pa., April 24.—Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Schwab, parents of Charles M. Schwab, the steel magnate, celebrated their golden wedding anniversary at their home here yesterday. Mr. Schwab is 70 years old, his wife is 69.

SOO MAN'S GREAT HEN.

Claims to Have Plymouth Rock That Lays Record Egg.

Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., April 24.—(Special to The Herald.)—Duncan McGragor is the owner of a white Plymouth Rock hen which he thinks is entitled to the world's record for laying large eggs. Mr. McGregor is exhibiting an egg laid by the hen which measures eight and a quarter inches around the long way and six and an eighth inches around the short way.

Diaz Calls Reyes to Mexico.

Paris, April 24.—General Bernardo Reyes, the Mexican ex-minister of war has received a call from President Diaz to return at once to Mexico. Diaz asks his aid in settling the revolution. General Reyes expects to sail for New York within a fortnight, perhaps within a week.

EAGER TO WEAR TIGHTS

Many Would Be Actresses---Willing to Pay for Costumes.

Police Arrest Suspects, But Release Them for Lack of Evidence.

The arrest Saturday evening of Robert Allan, 55 years old, and Carl Deadwyler, 28 years of age, on a charge of swindling, is said by the police to have saved a score of local would-be actresses several hundred dollars.

Today is said to be the day on which they were to turn their money over to Allan in return for the costumes which would put them behind the footlights. But it seems that the whole scheme was nipped in the bud by their arrest.

Allan advertised in local papers that he could secure positions for women and girls who wished to go on the stage. A number called on him in answer to the advertisement. The police say that he told them that he wouldn't charge them anything for the positions which he would secure them, but that it would be necessary to give him from $60 to $200—according to the position which they were to get—with which to buy the costumes. He is alleged to have told them that the costumes were the essential requirement after his services had been enlisted.

The authorities assert that it is surprising how many Duluth young women are anxious to let go of their hard-earned dollars for a chance to wear tights and help entertain the amusement-loving public. It seems that scarcely any of those who applied to Allan had enough money, but it is claimed that they told him that they would raise it. The understanding, it is said, was that they were to put the money in his hands today. The police say that with the money in his possession he would have told them to return in a week, or thereabouts, to get their costumes and directions as to where to go, which would have given him ample time to land in parts unknown.

Deadwyler was arrested with Allan for an alleged swindle worked in connection with selling an attachment for braces for bedsteads. Their plan is said to have been to sell one-third of the exclusive rights to certain territories. The police felt that they didn't have sufficient evidence to secure a conviction in either case and the men were released this morning. As far as known Deadwyler had no connection with Allan in the theatrical game.

Values Advance When Shorts Are Caught—No Decisions.

The stock market was stronger today as an attempt was made to run in the crowd who had gone short in expectation of unfavorable decisions from the supreme court. The decisions were not handed down and speculators began to buy stocks, causing shorts to run to cover. The shorts were of the flaxen haired variety with little cash and they put stocks up sharply while trying to cover.

The possibility of reciprocity with Canada and the clearing of the Mexican situation are having a favorable effect. However, the commercial situation is not bullish and holders are receiving no encouragement from that quarter.

Keating was the feature of the local market. Nearly all of the 2,030 shares, representing today's business on the local exchange, comprised transactions in Keating. The stock hit a new high level this year when it sold at $3.12½ after opening with sales at $3. Calumet & Montana sold at 33c.

Amalgamated sold at $61.37½ to $60.62½ to $63.12½ and off to $63 at the close. Butte Ballaklava sold at $4.87½ to $4.75. Giroux sold at $5.87½ to $5.81¼. Butte Coalition at $16.50, $16.37½ to $17, Greene at $6.25 to $6, Ojibway at $5.25, Superior & Pittsburg at $13.75 to $13.87½ and North Butte at $25.62½ to $25.50 to $27 and off to $26.75 at the close.

According to leading copper producing and smelting interests, the copper metal market remains quiet but steady at 12⅛@12¼c for electrolytic. Sales were made yesterday on the basis of 12.20@12.25c, delivery in thirty days, and indications are that further business will be done on that basis. While it is admitted that the sales of small amounts of the metal have been made recently around 12c, the transcations are declared to have been of a special nature, and therefore are not a criterion of trade conditions. It is said that consumption both here and abroad is healthy. It is expected that the April statement of the Copper Producers' association will show an improvement over March.

Julius H. Barnes, secretary and treasurer of the Keating Gold Mining company, has returned from the property, which is in the Radersburg district of Montana. He said that thus far this month shipments have averaged $35 a ton at the smelter. Stoping is in progress on the sixth or lowest level of the property and values are running higher than on any other level. In the near future drifting will be started to cut the other two veins known to exist. The development will disclose whether or not there are veins other than those revealed by surface indications or previous development work.

GOVERNOR WILL NOT SIGN BILL

Does Not Believe Signature Necessary to Proposed Amendment Measure.

St. Paul, Minn., April 24.—(Special to The Herald.)—The bill proposing a Constitutional amendment limiting representation of the counties in the senate to seven members is still unsigned by Governor Eberhart and will not be signed. He does not believe his signature necessary to make it legal.

"I don't think there is any question about the amendment going before the people," the governor said.

Protests against the bill are still being made. Attorney General Simpson has been asked to give a written opinion as to whether the governor's signature is necessary. He has not yet written it.

In the session laws of 1911, which made their appearance this morning, the act is included. It is chapter 395.

TEN MINERS ARE PROBABLY DEAD

Terrific Explosion of Gas or Dust Occurs in Ott Mine.

Elk Garden, W. V., April 24.—Ten miners are reported to have been killed in a gas or dust explosion in Ott mine No. 20 of the David Coal & Coke company, about a mile from this place, today.

Supt. Robert Grant and a number of miners entered the mine shortly after the explosion to rescue the mine workers, who are all Americans, and are supposed to be dead. The explosion wrecked the mine, according to the latest reports.

There were a number of men at work at the time of the explosion, although the full day shift was not put to work this morning. As far as can be learned, all the miners got out except the ten who are reported to be dead.

Found Dead in Bed.

New York, April 24.—Edward C. Taylor, for fifteen years superintendent of the Brookdale stock farm, where James R. Keene and Harry Payne Whitney developed many of their racing horses, was found dead in his bed at the farm this morning. He was well known to all horse breeders and trainers.

RECIPROCITY BILL SENT TO SENATE

Referred to Committee on Finance Not Yet Organized.

Washington, April 24.—The Canadian reciprocity bill was conveyed from the house to the senate today and without comment was referred to the committee on finance. It cannot be taken up until the organization of the committee is completed.

William S. Kenyon of Iowa, and Nathan P. Bryan of Florida, took the oath of office in the senate today as senators from their respective states.

APPROPRIATIONS FOR CONGRESSMEN

House Passes Bills for Mileage, Stationery and Other Things.

Washington, April 24.—Correction of mistakes in transportation bills of the last congress and matters relating to the organization of the house when that body met today, postponed the prospective debate on the free list bill. The house passed an appropriation for mileage for senators and members of congress amounting to $201,000; for stationery for the members of the house, $49,750; for employes, including pages and clerks, $17,554.

Minority Leader Mann again attacked what he called the "hurrah for economy," which he declared was now being followed by resolutions increasing the number of employes.

Representative Lloyd of Missouri objected vigorously to what he said was "misrepresentations" on the part of Mr. Mann.

4-INCH GUN FOR GOPHER

A four-inch gun of the same type as that in use in the Armory for winter practice will be mounted this year on the Gopher, the training ship of the Minnesota naval militia. The gun has been assigned to the militia and is expected to arrive soon. The Gopher will not be back in the harbor until after May 1 and the gun is expected to be here to be mounted when the ship arrives.

The naval milita forces of the country have been deficient in work with the guns and that has been the principal criticism of them. All of militia forces are seeking to increase efficiency by target practice and much good work has been done by the Duluth militia this year with the four-inch gun which was recently installed in the Armory. The boys have gained familiarity with that type of gun and will thus be able to do better work with the new gun on shipboard.

The Gopher, equipped with new engines, will be back in the harbor shortly after May 1 and several target practice week-end cruises are expected to be held before the annual maneuvers in August. The Gopher is equipped with four one-pound, two four-pound and one six-pound gun. Whether any of the guns will be dismantled when the larger gun is mounted has not been decided.

NOT SATISFIED.

Representative Korbly Wants More Than Apology for Miss Beers.

Washington, April 24.—Representative Korbly of Indiana does not consider an apology from the naval academy authority as sufficient amends for the alleged snubbing of Miss Mary Beers at a dance given in the academy recently. He addressed a letter today to Secretary of the Navy Meyer, demanding full particulars of the incident, and declaring that if they are not forthcoming he proposes to urge a congressional investigation of the matter.

Miss Beers is said to have been "snubbed" because she is employed as governess in the household of an officer at the academy.

DAVIDSON TO URUGUAY.

President Will Probably Appoint Former Governor to Position.

Washington, April 24.—After a conference with President Taft today Senator Stephenson of Wisconsin announced that the president probably would name Former Governor Davidson of Wisconsin as minister to Uruguay to succeed Edwin V. Morgan, transferred to Portugal.

WILL HAVE A HEARING

No More Men Will Be Railroaded Out of Indiana, Says Governor.

Moyer Says the Case Is Similar to One He Was In.

Indianapolis, Ind., April 24.—Governor Marshall today assured F. M. Ryan, president of the Structural Iron Workers, and Leo M. Rappaport, attorney for the organization, that if any more requisitions come from the governor of California for any person in Indiana in connection with the Los Angeles dynamiting, he will take what steps he may deem proper to insure the accused man a hearing in the court, with an attorney, before he is extradited.

In making the assurance, the governor said he wished it to be understood that he was not criticising Judge James A. Collins, of the Indianapolis city court, for the court's action of Saturday evening.

"I presume," he said, "that Judge Collins did his duty. But in view of the fact that it has been charged that J. J. McNamara, who was extradited Saturday, has been 'railroaded' from the state without proper opportunity to present his case, I believe every precaution should be taken, in the event of other requisitions, to guard against a repetition of the charge.

"In the event such additional requisitions should come, I will make it one of the conditions of the state warrant that the accused man must be given opportunity to appear in court with an attorney to contest the validity of such warrant if he so chooses."

Frank M. Ryan, president of the International Association of Bridge and Structural Iron workers, was subpoenaed to appear before the Marion county grand jury this afternoon.

"A Frame-up" Says Moyer.

Denver, Col., April 24.—President Charles H. Moyer of the Western Federation of Miners, in talking about the arrest of McNamara, said:

"I consider the entire affair a frame-up similar to the one I and my associates were victims of some years ago in connection with the death of Former Governor Steunenburg of Idaho. The arrest of McNamara shows on its face that it was a frame-up. He was treated exactly as we were. He was not given a single show either by the governor of Indiana or the courts of Marion county.

"The charge that dynamite was kept by McNamara in the headquarters of his organization is silly. If he was in the blowing up business he would have too much sense to keep the dynamite around the headquarters. It is very easy to hire Orchards to plant dynamite where the detectives who paid them to plant it can find it.

"The persons instrumental in McNamara's arrest will have to produce good evidence to show why he wanted to blow up the Los Angeles Times, when he is a member of the Structural Iron Workers' organization.

"Their case might have looked better had they arrested a member of the Typographical union. The Western Federation of Miners went through just such a siege. It is hard on the individual, but it strengthens the organization and also solidifies union labor.

"All unions came to our support and now the Western Federation will reciprocate. We will take official notice of the arrests as soon as it is necessary, and we stand ready to levy and pay willingly an assessment of $5 each on a membership of 50,000 or more to help defray expenses of this, the second great fight that has been started by the enemies of organized labor against its principles.

"Detective Burns has simply taken a number of explosions that have occurred over the country, employing a few 'Orchards,' and worked up a case. I do not know McNamara personally, but I do know President Ryan of the strucutral iron workers. He was a former Colorado mining man. I know him to be one of the most conservative men in organized labor. I suppose he directs the policy of his organization and I know his policy would not be one of dynamiting."

On Way to Frisco.

Kansas City, Mo., April 24.—According to officials at the Unoin depot here, Ortie E. McMonible and J. B. Bryce or J. B. McNamara, arrested for complicity in the alleged dynamiting of the Los Angeles Times building passed through here in the custody of detectives on the California limited on the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe railroad at 9:10 this morning. None of the party left the train and none was seen by newspaper men.

The train is due to reach La Junta, Colo., at 10:40 o'clock tonight, and to arrive in Los Angeles Wednesday afternoon. John J. McNamara, secretary-treasurer of the International Association of Bridge and Structural Iron Workers, also arrested for alleged complicity in the Los Angeles dynamiting, and the three detectives who are taking him to Los Angeles, passed through here yesterday afternoon on the Missouri Pacific.

HEARING ARGUMENTS IN SUIT OF ROGERS' HEIRS.

Judge C. F. Amidon of Fargo is hearing arguments in United States court in the actions brought by heirs of James M. Rogers against Wilson G. Crosby, John N. McClintock and Edward Barnes, in which damages are asked on the claim that deeds to the property now owned by the Clark Iron Mining company on the range were obtained by false and fraudulent representations.

The arguments which opened today are on demurrers and it is expected several days will be consumed in placing the matter before the court. J. B. Richards and D. G. Cash are appearing for the plaintiffs and J. L. Washburn and John G. Williams for the defendants.

IS MARRIED TO CHINESE.

East St. Louis Girl Weds Calumet, Mich., Laundryman.

Calumet, Mich., April 24.—Special to The Herald.—Charles Sing, a laundryman, and Miss Sadie Constant, daughter of Paul Constant of East St. Louis, Ill., were wedded Saturday by Justice of the Peace William Fisher. Witnesses were Sam Hing of Calumet and Mrs. Harriet Hutchins.

The wedding attracted a great deal of local attention. The couple met some years ago in East St. Louis. The bride resembles, somewhat, the Chinese in complexion and features but claims to be American. Sing is the son of Charles Sing and Taun Hay of China and was born in the flowery kingdom. He has resided in America a great many years. The groom is 34 years of age and the bride 22. They will live in Calumet.

New Postmasters.

Washington, April 24.—(Special to The Herald.) — The president today made the following nominations: Cornelius Berghuis to be postmaster at Clara City and Sarah Dahl at Cottonwood, Minn.

HAVE CLAIM TO THRONE OF FRANCE

M. NAUNDORFF.

MADAME NAUNDORFF.

A committee of the French senate has cleared up a point in French history which has been debated for many years. By their decision they give to Mons. Naundorff the right to claim descent from Louis XVI and Marie Antoinette. This decision creates a posible claimant to the throne of France, if the volatile people of that country should ever return to a monarchy. The son of Louis XVI was confined in the temple and was supposed to have been put to death. The Naundorff family have always claimed that he was not put to death, but that friendly hands took him from the prison and substitutes for him a child of unknown parentage. This child was killed and the dauphin was brought up by the Naundorff family. The question has been debated for many years. The committee which now decides it in favor of the Naundorff family, is headed by Boissy d'Anglas. Among the points quoted in favor of the Naundorffs is the fact that when the church was asked to say a mass for the repose of the soul of the dauphin it refused to do so on the ground that the dauphin was not dead.

REWARD DWINDLES.

Only About $25,000 in Sight for Capture of Dynamiters.

Los Angeles, Cal., April 24.—The $100,000 announced broadcast as the aggregate of rewards for the capture of the Times dynamiters has dwindled to an amount probably not exceeding $25,000. Of this latter sum but $5,000 in cash actually is in sight.

If Detective W. J. Burns can prove that James B. McNamara, arrested in Detroit, is the "J. B. Bryce," named by a Los Angeles grand jury as one of the men responsible for the explosion, the county of Los Angeles will pay him $5,000. If he can arrest M. A. Schmidt and David Caplan, indicted in Los Angeles, the county is pledged to pay him $10,000 additional.

The announcement of the huge sum as a reward originated in an appropriation of a large amount by the Merchants' and Manufacturers' association. It developed, however, that this appropriation was to defray the expenses of running down the guilty men and not as a reward for their capture. It was announced today that the Merchants' and Manufacturers' association has spent about $30,000 in the hunt for the dynamiters.

The affiliated labor unions of California, through the San Francisco officials, pledged a reward of $7,500 for the capture and conviction of the dynamiters and as far as known this offer still stands.

Outside of Bryce, Schmidt and Caplan, the three men named in Los Angeles, indictments for the alleged purchase of the dynamite near San Francisco, no price is on the head of anyone.

MRS. SULLIVAN DIES.

Aged Duluth Resident Dies at Home of Her Daughter.

Mrs. Katherine Sullivan, 85 years of age, died suddenly this morning at the home of her daughter, Mrs. William T. Smith, 117 West Fourth street, with whom she has been making her home.

She has resided in Duluth the last twenty-five years and had a wide circle of friends and acquaintances who will be grieved to hear of her sudden end. Her son-in-law, William Smith, is very well known in Duluth. The funeral arrangements have not been completed.

STATE'S APPEAL IN RATE CASES NOT YET FILED.

St. Paul, Minn., April 24.—(Special to The Herald.)—Another delay was occasioned this morning in the filing of the state's appeal from Judge Sanborn's decision in the Minnesota rate cases.

Attorneys for the state said the vast amount of stenographic work in connection with the appeal caused the delay. It was ammounced the appeal would be filed some time this week.

Denver, Colo., April 24.—The anti-Speer strength switched to C. B. Ward in today's senatorial ballot. Ward, Democrat, received 32 votes; Speer, Democrat, 27; Vaile, Republican, 29. Necessary for a choice, 51.

GOMEZ CALLED TO MEXICO BY MADERO,

Washington, April 24.—Dr. Vasquez Gomez, head of the confidential agency of the Mexican revolutionists here, today received a request from Francisco I. Madero, Jr., to come immediately to Juarez to participate in the peace parleys there.

Dr. Gomez will start in two or three days. He has some important work to complete before leaving.

Fire at Colon, Panama.

Colon, Panama, April 24.—One life was lost and several persons were injured during a fire that did $50,000 damage on Front street between Ninth and Tenth streets today. Five houses were destroyed and for a time the business section of the place was threatened. The canal zone and local fire brigades checked the flames after a hard fight.

JEWEL THIEF'S RUSE.

London Globe: A novel method of defrauding a jeweler was successfully carried out by a Paris thief. He drove up in a carriage to the jeweler's shop with his right arm in a sling, and was ostentatiously attended by a footman carrying a rug. He selected jewels to the value of £250, and when the moment came for payment, asked whether the jeweler minded him sending his man home for the money.

No objection was taken to this course, and then there was another request. "Would you mind writing for me. Just write, 'Please give Robert £250,' and sign it 'Henri.'" The jeweler wrote the note and in fifteen minutes Robert was back with the cash.

When the jeweler went home a light dawned. "What," his wife asked, "did you want that £250 for?" The thieves had made the jeweler, whose name was Henri, pay for the gems with his own money.

"HONORABLE AND RESPECTED."

London Evening Standard: A curious old Bavarian custom is just about to be altered in Bavaria by the minister of justice. Criminals executed in the prison of Straubing have hitherto been buried with memorial crosses placed over them stating: "Here lies the honorable and respectable so and so" if the criminal were a married man, while the graves of the condemned and executed bachelors bore the words: "Here lies the virtuous so and so."

It has now been decided in future to inter them without any such complimentary remarks.

Shipments—Wheat, 14,179 bu; last year, 483,928 bu; oats, 2,700 bu; linseed, 8,029 bu; last year, none.

Duluth Board of Trade, April 24.—Wheat lost some of its early strength today and closed only ⅛c up for May wheat while July declined ¼c on account of the continued excellence of reports from the winter wheat area and further rains in Oklahoma and the Southwest. Cash wheat was 1c over the May delivery. Durum wheat gained ⅜c. Oats lost ¼c. Rye and barley were unchanged.

Linseed was stronger, the May option showing an advance of 3c. July was in as much demand and although it sold up to $2.60, closing bids were at $2.59½, a net advance of 2½c. A bidder offered $2.00 for September delivery, but there were no sellers. The bid was interesting, as it shows the attitude of some people toward the situation in its relation to the future. Plata seed at Antwerp closed $2.17.

The wheat market was strong today, reflecting the continued decrease in the visible supply and bullish crop reports from abroad.

The strong feature of the situation is the position of cash wheat; especially in the Northwest. There has been an advance of several cents since the first of the month. The steady reduction in the visible supply has brought the total down to about the same as at this time last year. This has focused attention on the almost overlooked fact that the spring wheat crop shortage in the Northwest may soon become a stern reality.

There is every reason to expect a heavier withdrawal of supplies in the remainder of this season than in the corresponding period last year because of the marked conservatism of flour buyers during the last few months and the probability of a larger and more active demand in the remainder of the season. This is the critical period of the year for the winter wheat crop and it is probable that present favorable conditions have been fairly well discounted. Any accident either to the spring or the winter wheat crops, imaginary or real, probably would have a very bullish effect on values.

The wheat supply decreased 1,675,000 bu in the United States. The Australian acreage, according to mail advices, is likely to show some curtailment on account of continued heavy rains. The foreign markets were influenced by the speculative demand for wheat and the good demand from the continent. The German government's report on wheat was regarded as bullish. The condition of wheat in Germany was given at 76 per cent compared with 86 per cent a year ago.

World's shipments were smaller than expected and were about on a level with those of last week. Reports from Russia, while not favorable, show signs of improvement in crop prospects. The Russian winter wheat crop is in a favorable position but the spring wheat season is late.

The speculative activity in the American markets continued and the longs were active. The sentiment is not so bearish, so far as immediate developments are concerned. The shorts are timorous and are not disposed to oppose the advance. When the May deal is out of the way, it is likely that the favorable winter wheat conditions will become a predominant factor. At present the shortage of spring wheat, improved milling and flour demand and bullish reports from some foreign countries are the chief factors outside of the speculative activity.

The Flour Situation.

Considerable progress toward a more satisfactory flour situation was made last week. Northwestern mills reported an appreciable improvement in the demand and booked a larger volume of contracts than in any week for a long time. Mills in the winter wheat region received more business also.

There has been some exaggeration as to the extent of the volume of new business, and it is apparent that some producers have had more success in securing orders than others. All reports say that shipping instructions on old contracts have come in more freely, and that in this respect the improvement in the situation in the last week has been marked. Some mills, it is said, now have a comparatively small number of old orders on their books.

Says a Minneapolis report: "The response in buying has been encouraging and indicates that the distributors of flour are in the market for supplies on a more liberal scale than in several months. It has been possible for millers to quote close prices to their regular customers, owing to the great strength in the millfeed market."

The cleaning up of old orders is showing more improvement than the booking of new orders, so far as the East is concerned. Stocks held for shipment to New England buyers are being gradually and steadily reduced, although there is still high-priced flour to come forward, which interferes with the placing of fresh contracts.

In the East, where the bulk of the flour production is used, soft winter wheat flour, especially pastry grades, has been unusually active. There has been a fair demand for fancy clears and New York straights. The bulk of the business has been at prices in the range of $3.90 to $4.10 a barrel for supplies in wood. As high as $4.25 is asked by some mills, but there is enough offerings at lower prices to enable buyers to obtain all they want without paying over $4.10 a barrel for it. For ordinary clears as low as $3.75 is quoted by some sellers. Winter wheat patent is selling with more freedom, the highest price reported on actual sales being $4.70. A few winter wheat mills have been willing to sell at $4.40. Millers are more inclined to sell for immediate than delayed shipment at current prices. It is a long time since buyers of winter wheat flour were so numerous as last week. Indications are that the trade is beginning to get out of supplies.

Millers last week did not quote spring patents at less than $5.25 a barrel and as high as $5.60 is asked in some instances. A fair quotation for first patent is $5.25 to $5.50, leading trade brands selling at $5.40 to $5.50 a barrel. Business in spring wheat flour has not been as good lately as in winter wheat grades. Some millers say that the situation, aside from the improvement in ordering out flour on old contracts is as dull as in previous weeks. Others, however, have booked a fair amount of new business. There is some flour offered by resellers at below mill quotations and under $5.25 a barrel. This flour was bought at around $4.85 by speculators who took a flyer when the market was depressed.

Many flour buyers consider the late advance in wheat as chiefly speculative and believe that with the May deal out of the way, there will be a drop in prices. Most of them think the present price of flour is safe. It is pointed out that the situation is strengthened by the fact that there soon must be a sharp shrinkage in the value of millfeeds and that to a certain extent the buyer who does not take serious thought of the future requirements of his trade is speculating to a greater degree than the buyer who acts now.

MARKET GOSSIP

One of the partners in a big Liverpool grain house is now traveling in Russia. His letter from Odessa, April 11, received here yesterday, gives his view of the wheat situation. He wirtes: "Spring planting of wheat is three to four weeks late. This means that the hot weather usually experienced in June will catch wheat in its growing instead of in its ripening stage and may do great harm. There is no doubt that the present conditions tend to induce holding of wheat rather than selling. Winter wheat prospects are reported unfavorable over a larger area. It is impossible to say the extent of this as conditions vary greatly in the different districts. The damage to the crop in the Crimea came too late to admit of resowing."

Broomhall cabled from Liverpool—The weakness in Buenos Ayres at the close of Saturday was offset by the lighter offerings here and values at the opening was unchanged with the undertone steady. Later there was a rush of shorts to cover and the market developed pronounced strength and advanced ½@¾d. Buying was prompted by the unfavorable Russian report received late on Saturday and the very unfavorable German official report. The continent received a large percentage of the world's shipments and were bidding freely for cargoes arriving, notwithstanding the increased number, six off coast and fifteen awaiting orders. Receipts are lighter and stocks show a decrease. The Mark Lane markets were very firm owing to the scarcity and there was a better spot demand with fewer Plata offers. There was some little disposition for profits just before mid-day with a slight decline but at 1:30 p. m. the market was again strong and ½@⅝d higher than Saturday.

The corn market opened firm and ¼d higher and later May advanced an additional ½. Shorts covered excitedly on the light world's shipments, smaller Danubian shipments, 612,000 bu against 1,190,000 bu last week, and the very strong spot markets with an advance of 4d in Plata. Of the world's shipments the United Kingdom received only 470,000 bu from a total of 1,841,000 bu.

Germany—There have been general showers with the weather warmer and the crop outlook shows some improvement. India—The weather is fine and the crop is being harvested under favorable conditions which is making rapid progress. Russia—Our agent at Nicolaieff, Southwest Russia, cables that the weather is fine and spring seeding is progressing rapidly. Arrivals at the ports are nil; farmers being very busy with field work. The wheat market is very firm owing to the heavy buying by the continent. Liverpool close—The market showed an easier feeling at the close, values declining ¼@⅜d with some disposition to take profits, stimulated by the more favorable reports from Germany. Argentine opening—The wheat market at Buenos Ayres opened strong and sharply higher on the continued rains which are delaying movements and hindering seeding.

CHICAGO MARKET.

Unfavorable Reports Give Wheat Prices Upward Tilt.

Chicago, April 24.—Wheat was more affected today by foreign than by home news. Unfavorable Russian advices and bad prospects in Germany gave prices an upward tilt. The fact that ocean passage figures were much under those of the previous week was also an influence on the bull side of the market. Nevertheless, the fine outlook for crops in the United States acted with the lagging cash demand as a brake on the tendency toward an advance. The opening was ⅜c higher to ⅛@¼c down. May started at 91¼c to 91⅜c, a gain of ¼c to ⅜c, reacted to 91c and rallied to 91¼c.

Decrease in the visible led to a further gain, but better weather in Germany caused a decline. The close was steady with May at 90½@90⅝c, a net loss of ⅜@½c.

Lightness of world shipments gave strength to corn. Besides offerings here were limited. May opened the same as Saturday night to ¼c up at 51¾c to 52c, and rose to 52⅛c.

After an additional rise, the market turned downward with wheat. The close was easy with May ⅛c net lower at 51⅝c.

Pit tarders in oats followed the corn lead, but commission houses were fair sellers. The result was about a standoff. May started a shade to ⅛c dearer at 37⅛@32c to 32c and fell back to 31⅞c.

Provisions went sharply lower on account of the big run of hogs. Some of the packers were selling with a free hand. First transactions showed a decline of 7½c to 35c, with July delivery $14.90 for pork, $8 for lard and $8 to $8.05 for ribs.

MINNEAPOLIS MARKET.

Moderate Profit-Taking Sends Wheat Prices Downward.

Minneapolis, Minn., April 24.—An early advance in wheat brought about moderate profit taking which was the cause of a sharp break in prices during the late session. May closed ⅜@½c lower than Saturday; July ½@⅝c lower and September ⅜@½c lower. Local elevator stocks of wheat decreased 150,000 bu for two days.

Minneapolis today received 259 cars of wheat against 174 a year ago; Duluth 50 cars against 24, and Winnipeg 281 against 452. May opened 96⅞c; high, 98c; low, 96⅝c; closed, 96¾c. July opened, 97⅞c; high, 98¾c; low, 97⅝c; closed 97⅝@¾c. September opened, 90c; high, 90¾c; low, 89⅝c; closed 89¾c.

Cash wheat, steady to possibly a trifle easier. Demand good but not quite as active as formerly. No. 1 northern sold for 2@2½c above the May contract. Closing cash prices: No. 1 hard, $1.00¼; No. 1 northern, 99¼@99¾c; to arrive, 98¾@99¾c; No. 2 northern, 96@98¼c; to arrive, 95¾@98¼c; No. 3 wheat, 93@96¾c; No. 3 yellow corn, 52c; No. 3 white oats, 31@31½c; No. 2 rye, 90@91½c.

Millstuffs—Shipments, 2,698 tons. Market quoted steady. Bran, $21.00@22.00.

Flour—In flour the market was steady today. Big mills reported good demand and smaller mills a varied demand. Shipments fairly heavy and prices unchanged. Shipments, 58,153 bbls. First patents, $4.60@4.90; second patents, $4.50@4.80; first clears, $3.10@3.55; second clears, $2.10@2.75.

Flax—Receipts, 22 cars; year ago, 21; shipments, none. Demand continued good for both spot and to arrive at 1c above the Duluth May. Closed $2.61.

Barley—Receipts, 71 cars; year ago, 51; shipments, 44. Barley market firmer today. Excellent demand, especially for malting grades. Prices up around the highest ever recorded in this market. Closing range, 72c@$1.09.

ADVANCES IN STOCKS

Market Active and Prices Rise Strongly in Late Trading.

General Level Is Pushed Well Above Last Week's Close.

New York, April 24.—The stock market was active and firm at the opening today. United States Steel was the most active issue, but although 10,000 shares were sold in the first few minutes the price receded only ⅛ point from Saturday's closing. Most of the other stocks advanced small fractions with the exception of Erie and Southern Pacific, which receded slightly.

Heavy offerings of United States Steel on distrust over trade conditions sent it down a point to 72¾ and weakened the whole list sharply. Union Pacific, St. Paul, Reading, Pennsylvania and American Smelting receded a point from their best prices, and Chesapeake & Ohio, American Cotton Oil, Virginia-Carolina Chemical and several other specialties sold 1 to 1¼ below last week's closing. Supporting orders and covering by shorts caused a good fractional rally, but the market became stupid at the recovery.

Discouragement over the industrial outlook especially in the iron and steel trades, seemed to be chiefly responsible for the selling of stocks this morning which weakened the market. Although it was the supreme court decision day, less apprehension than usual was shown as to the possibility of decisions in the anti-trust cases, trading being considerably more active than on recent Mondays. Liquidation of a large bull pool, was said to be in progress and the weak tone of the market was attributed partly to this cause.

Following the rally of the first hour, there was another decline which was due to heavy selling of Reading, which fell 1¼ to 149¼, its lowest level of the year. Lehigh Valley and Northern Pacific also gave way 1¼ and there were large losses in an extended list. At midday the market was steady at a slight recovery. Bonds were irregular, the New York city new 4¼'s touching another high record of 102⅜.

The market closed strong and active. Prices moved up strongly in the late trading, with an especially large demand for Amalgamated Copper, Union Pacific, Reading and United States Steel, which had been the early weak features. The general level was pushed well above last week's close.

Cotton Market.

New York, April 24.—The cotton market opened firm at an advance of 2 to 11 points in response to higher cables and reports of further rains in the central belt. Trading was very active and realizing more or less general at the advance, but the large offerings were remarkably well absorbed and after the opening July contracts sold up to 15.11 with the general list showing a gain of about 6 to 11 points. The fear of unsettled weather in the South probably helped new crop positions and October contracts sold at 13.00, but the advance in the late months seemed to be largely in sympathy with the old crop conditions.

Spot closed quiet, 5 points higher; middling uplands, 15.15; middling gulf, 15.40; sales, 100 bales. Futures closed very steady. Closing bids: April, 14.96; May, 15.02; June, 15.07; July, 15.13; August, 14.84; September, 13.54; October, 13.02; November, 12.94; December, 12.92; January, 12.89; March, 13.02.

HOP PILLOWS.

New York Sun: A man who suffered from sleeplessness picked up in Austria recently what seemed to be the best remedy he had ever found. It was nothing more or less than a pillow stuffed with hops. An Austrian peasant woman recommended it not alone as a sleep producer but as a beautifier as well.

Returning to this country the man bought some New York state hops, famous for their beer making qualities, but to his surprise they did not work as well as the hops he had tried abroad. He found out by experiment that hops that made good beer didn't necessarily produce good sleep.

After he had sampled a lot of different kinds of hops he found that by mixing hops grown in Bohemia with hops grown in California and Oregon he got a combination which seemed to answer all purposes in the sleep producing line.

He decided that he had hit it right when he took a couple of pillows he had stuffed with this combination in his office downtown home with him on the elevated. He got in at Rector street, carrying the pillow and sat in one of the double seats. Two men and a messenger boy sat with him.

At Fifty-ninth street all three were in profound slumber. Several other persons who had been reading newspapers near him were in evident distress in their efforts to keep awake.

Inquiry at different drug stores seemed to indicate that the hop pillow idea was a new one, though hops have long been known to have sleep inducing qualities, as shown particularly in the case of beer. According to those who have tried hop pillows, you get all the soporific qualities of the hops in this way without breaking any temperance pledges or suffering any harmful effects.

FISH THAT EAT OYSTERS.

London Globe: As a result of recent investigations, T. Southwell finds that the fishes most destructive to pearl oysters are those commonly known as globe fish.

Another fish belonging to the group known as Pagrina is seldom or never found without oysters in its stomach. The larger species of rays and sharks are suspected of committing great ravages in the oyster beds, but hitherto Mr. Southwell has not been able to convict them by finding oysters inside them.

CRANBERRIES IN PACKAGES.

London Globe: Evaporated cranberries will soon be as much of a staple as evaporated apples or evaporated peaches, and by way of educating the consuming public to a taste for the delicacy in this new and economical form the packages of evaporated cranberries will bear several standard recipes for preparing the fruit.

This introduction of cranberries in package form is expected to afford an entering wedge for cranberries in the foreign market. Heretofore the people over seas have not taken very kindly to the American delicacy, although efforts have been made to create a demand for Cape Cod berries, particularly in Great Britain. However, the growers have figured out that much of the responsibility for this lack of appreciation lies in the fact that the cranberries were not available in packages, the form in which the British housewife likes to purchase such eatables. If that premise is correct a market can be created abroad for any surplus of the crop not consumed in the United States.

THIS DOG A FISH HOUND.

Decatur, Ala., correspondence Memphis News-Scimiter: James B. Holland of Limestone county, has a dog which possesses almost human instinct, according to a story related by R. H. Walker, late state immigration commissioner and editor of the Limestone Democrat. Mr. Walker says that when Mr. Holland goes on a fishing trip he carries neither bait nor fishing rod and line. He selects a deep hole or eddy and climbs a tree directly over the water. Then he commences to cast gravel slowly over the water, one stone at a time, and the fish, attracted by the falling of the gravel in the water, begin coming to the surface.

In the meantime his dog is sitting on the bank, watching every movement of his master and of the fish. As a fish comes to the top of the water the dog makes a quick spring into the water and seizes the fish in his mouth, and, swimming to the shore, deposits his catch safely on the ground far enough away from the water's edge that the fish cannot get back into the water. The operation is repeated until Mr. Holland has as many fish as he desires. Climbing down from the tree he gathers up the fish and puts them in a basket and goes home, the dog carrying the basket with him.

Mr. Walker says that Mr. Holland is a man of "untarnished veracity" and will give any one a sworn statement to the fact if necessary, or will take them to his home and show them that his dog will do what he says he will.

LEGAL NOTICES.

Notice of Sale of Collateral

Notice is hereby given that, pursuant to the certain agreement and declaration of trust, dated the first day of May, 1909, between The Black Mountain Mining Company and the undersigned, the undersigned will, on the first day of June, A. D. 1911, at the hour of 2:30 o'clock P. M., at the Stock Exchange in the Rookery Building, in the City of Chicago, State of Illinois, sell, or cause to be sold or offered for sale, at public auction, for cash, to the highest and best bidder, the following securities and property, towit:

(1) 9994 shares of the Capital Stock of the Banco del Oro Mining Company, organized under the laws of the Republic of Mexico;

(2) 4992 shares of the Capital Stock of the Cerro Prieto Commerciale Cia, S. A., or Compania Commerciale De Cerro Prieto, S. A. (Inc.), organized under the laws of the Republic of Mexico;

(3) All moneys transferred to the undersigned by The Black Mountain Mining Company;

(4) All credits, choses in action, bills receivable and accounts receivable transferred to the undersigned by the Black Mountain Mining Company;

(5) All claims and demands of any nature owned by The Black Mountain Mining Company and transferred by it to the undersigned;

(6) All statements, documents, instruments, or books evidencing the above claims or demands and delivered to the undersigned by The Black Mountain Mining Company and in his possession at the time of such sale.

The foregoing securities and property will first be offered for sale separately and in parcels less than the whole, and will be sold in such manner as will realize the highest aggregate amount in cash, and will be sold without recourse in any event against the undersigned.

For further particulars in respect to the above mentioned securities and property, inquire of C. H. Lucht, Room 1012, No. 135 Adams Street, Chicago, Illinois.

LEGAL NOTICES.

NOTICE—

Pursuant to the terms and conditions of Ordinance No. 85, of the City of Two Harbors, Lake County, Minnesota, which said Ordinance is entitled, "AN ORDINANCE PROVIDING FOR THE ISSUANCE, FORM AND SALE OF FIVE THOUSAND FIVE HUNDRED DOLLARS OF NEGOTIABLE BONDS OF THE CITY OF TWO HARBORS, MINNESOTA, FOR THE PURPOSE OF RAISING FUNDS WITH WHICH TO PAY BONDS IN LIKE AMOUNT DUE FEBRUARY FIRST, A. D. 1911;" Notice is hereby given that the City Council of the City of Two Harbors will meet in the Council Chambers in the City Hall of said City of Two Harbors on Monday, the 8th day of May, A. D. 1911, at eight (8:00) o'clock P. M., and will then and there receive bids for the purchase of said bonds authorized to be sold, to the amount and of the tenor hereinafter stated. Said bonds to be known as "THE CITY OF TWO HARBORS WATER AND LIGHT IMPROVEMENT REFUNDING BONDS," and are to be issued and negotiated at not less than par value thereof, the same being the face value, which is $5,500.00, and accrued interest to date of delivery. Said bonds to be made payable in ten years, upon the First day of February, A. D. 1921, and drawing interest at the rate of five per cent per annum, payable semi annually on the First day of February and August of each year, both principal and interest to be paid in gold coin of the United States of America of the present standard of weight and fineness at the First National Bank of Chicago.

Any person may bid on one or more of said bonds in any of the following named denominations, viz: $100.00, $500.00, $1000.00; and if the said bonds shall be accepted the bonds shall be of the demoninations called for by such bids. Where not inconsistent with such bids the bonds shall be of One Thousand dollars each.

All bids must be without conditions or qualifications; must be sealed and have name and address of bidder on outside of envelope. No bid will be considered unless the bidder making same shall have deposited with the City Clerk of said City, before two o'clock P. M. of the day on which bids are to be received, a certified check or Certificate of Deposit on a National or State Bank, payable to the order of the City of Two Harbors without conditions, for an amount equal to one per cent of the full face value of the bonds proposed to be bid for.

Given under my hand and seal this 10th day of April, A. D. 1911.

P. J. MacALPINE,
City Clerk.
By GEO. J. O'CONNOR,
Deputy.

(Corporate seal, City of Two Harbors, Minnesota.)

TRICKS OF THE JACKRABBIT.

New York Sun: "The fox is no match for the jackrabbit in speed," said a hunter who has taken note of that sprightly creatures ways. "I don't mean the big, stilt legged rabbit of the far Western plains, but the Northern or Canada hare, which was introduced to the thickets and brush lots of Southern New York a few years ago.

"Fleet as the red fox is on his velvet feet, this same jackrabbit could give him half a mile start in a two mile race and win in a canter. Yet if the dogs could be started after a fox and a jackrabbit at the same time over the same course the rabbit would be caught while the fox would still be in a good lead of the pack.

"That's because the fox has the longest head of the two. He knows a thing or two that the rabbit hasn't been able to get into that rattle brain of his yet and never will be able to.

"The trouble with the jackrabbit is that he is long on timidity and short on fact. In a race of that kind he would start away at the top of his speed and at the sound of the dogs and keep up the gait as long as he heard the dogs behind him. The fox is crafty and would make no such a blunder as that.

"He would take things easy until the hounds pressed him too close. Then he would put on more steam, and decrease or increase the pressure as circumstances required. A chase that would exhaust the jackrabbit would find the canny red fox well in the lead and compartively fresh.

"But the jackrabbit drops into many cute and cunning tricks when you are on his trail with the dogs. He will run for rising ground if he can and will avoid soft ground. If you will take notice, you will see that the rabbit can run up hill faster than he can go down. The reason for that is easy to see. If he put the force in his long hind legs going down hill that he needs for full speed, the leverage would jack him up behind so far that he would be tumbled heels over head, like a clown tumbling somersaults in a circus, and the dogs would be on to him before he reached the bottom. Therefore, knowing that the dogs can go down hill at full speed, the jackrabbit has cunning enough to shy off a downhill course and keep to the uphill route if he can. And the steeper the run up hill is the better he likes it.

"His reason for avoiding soft or wet ground shows him to be quite capable in some respects if he is a little incompetent in others. His feet are covered with thick stockings of fur, and these stick to the yielding soil or moist surface, and of course delay his flight, while he has observed that the pursuing dogs have no difficulty in getting swiftly over that sort of ground; so he gives it as wide range as he can.

"A course can't be any too rough to suit the jackrabbit, but it must be dry. Yet he can swim like a duck, and will plunge in and swim a wide stream if one happens to lie in his way when fleeing before dogs or a fox, but he hasn't the instinct that prompts him to seek water to throw the enemy off the scent, as the deer has.

"The space a jackrabbit can cover in his leaps is astounding. His nest is in some clump of the tall wild grass always found in his bailiwick, or among sheltering bunches of flexible weeds, or beneath some protecting bush. When pressed by pursuers, and he concludes to play one trick of his to increase the chances of his escaping from them, he puts on steam, and heads in the direction of his nest, stopping opposite it at a distance from it the greatest he can cover at a leap and I have known such a leap to measure fifteen feet and more.

"Then he squats, doubles his flexible backbone into an animate spiral spring, and his stout, long hind legs snap out like a catapault. Hig in the air the impetus carries him and he judges so nicely the distance to his nest that he drops squarely into the well concealed spot.

"Thus he breaks the trail, and even if the dogs are smart enough to maneuver about and by and by rout the crouching rabbit out again he has had a good rest and a breathing spell and starts in the race refreshed and good for another long run.

"The jackrabbit has other strategic tricks that serve him well on occasion. He will run in pastures among sheep, jump on the top of stone walls and follow them long distances, matching in this the cunning of the coon, and will even force a fresh rabbit to go on with the race, following the new starter a few rods and then leaping aside to the shelter of some bush or brush pile while the dogs keep on after the fresh rabbit. But as a rule the shallow patedness of the jackrabbit will predominate and he will persist in doubling again and again over the same course, which is sure to end in his undoing.

"The jackrabbit can not only hear sound a great way off but can hear in one direction with one ear while the other is listening for indications of danger in another direction. It is not uncommon to see one of these long eared chaps standing erect on his hind legs, with one ear turned well back over his shoulder and the other pushed forward toward his nose. He is listening in both directions, and if presently he goes scouting off across country with those amazing leaps of his you can make up your mind that he has heard danger approaching from one quarter or the other, or perhaps from both, and is taking the way that to him seems best to get away from it. If the jackrabbit was as wise as he is swift and alert he would need fear neither fox nor hound."

THE MENU CARD.

At a banquet given by Duke Henry of Brunswick in 1541 he was observed in the intervals of the dinner to be seen consulting a long slip of paper which reposed at the side of his plate, to which he every now and then referred. One of the duke's guests, whose curiosity was aroused, ventured to ask his grace what the paper was for.

He explained that it was a sort of program or catalogue of the dishes he had commanded from the cook. "To the intent that if some delicacy, which especially appealed to his appetite, were marked for a later stage in the repast, he might carefully reserve his appetite for it." The simplicity and utility of the idea, says the London Globe, at once took the fancy of the duke's convives, and the menu card from that moment became an institution. The new fashion was so much admired and traveled far and near, and was adopted in England and France at once.

It is curious to note that Menu was the son of Brahma, whose institutes are the great code of Indian civil and religious law. Fare as relating to food is very old, indeed, and we have in Luke: "There was a certain rich man which * * * fared sumptuously." And there are many other references to fare as meaning food. Fare, for provender, dates from the Norman conquest, but bill of fare came much later, though Dr. Johnson gives it as an English compound.

Our great forefathers, however, in times of yore contented themselves by merely looking at the dishes and taking things as they came. They were not quite so particular as we are nowadays. In the great houses the menu card was absolutely installed, while the bill of fare reigned supreme at the inns and taverns. The old fashioned bills of fare used in private mansions by the nobility and gentry were usually written on large cards elaborately ornamented with gastronomic symbols and all kinds of eccentric caricatures.

They were, moreover, written on a large card, which was conveniently placed in a prominent position on the table, so that usually only one or at the most two were required for each day.

And this was quite necessary, as nearly every establishment had its own particular method of sending up the varied viands in a variety of forms and changes. In our times we can be tolerably certain that the fish will follow the soup, and that the entree will be followed by releve, and one can fairly gauge what sort of a demand each course will make upon his digestion and appetite.

Not so in days of old, when each country seemed to have its own special program of culinary curiosities. As one writer says: "Close study fails to reveal the existence of any principle of arrangements. You might begin upon custards and pastry, together with kid, swan and capon, and you might wind up your dinner with a concluding course of curlews and egrets, venison, plover, oxen, quails, snipe and hyrchouns."

These little eccentricities have not quite died out, for in the Fen country it is no uncommon thing for the dinner to be commenced with a roly-poly jam pudding, with soup, fish and meat to follow, while in Norfolk and Suffolk it is still the custom in middle class families to have baked or boiled pudding with gravy as a prelude to the proper courses.

There were no really set rules for the proper serving of food, at suitable intervals, and more often than not before the preliminary soup was introduced all the food prepared was piled on to the plate of each diner, fish being the only separate dish.

But then it frequently happened that if fish were to be of the meal, fish and fish alone—various kinds—was served. Here, for example, is a meal of 1512: A quart of beer each, a quart of wine, salt fish, red herring, white herrings, and a dish of sprats. Another time it would be a round of beef, but no fish.

In the beginning the menu card was sufficiently modest to be sensible, but as time went on fantastic designs became a feature and some of the first artists of the day—as now—were engaged to show their skill in the art of unexpected decoration. As the cards grew smaller the designs, curiously enough, grew larger, but at least there was the great advantage of each guest being supplied with one for his own personal gratification; and moreover the habit of printing them came into vogue.

NAMES IN SIAM.

Christian Herald: The late king of Siam had for a full name Phra Bat Somdeth Phra Paramindr Maha Chulilongkorn Phra Chula Chum Klo Chow Yu Hua, and this does not include his titles. A wag in Bombay saw it in the paper when the ruler was visiting that city and was being received by the British officials, and passed it over to a young Irish subaltern with the challenge that he pronounce it. The young fellow looked at it a moment and then handed it back. He said he was not long enough winded, but he was sure he could play it on the garrison club piano if the instrument were a couple of octaves longer.

The king's uncle, however, who was also a prince high priest, had for one name alone the following collection of letters: Pawaratsawarlyalongkaun. Any one who can get through this and not flat one of the notes has lived a long time where he can look out of the window and see the gilded peak of a wat or temple shimmering in the equatorial sun.

OLD HUNTER'S AMBITION.

Pittsburg Dispatch: A unique character, whose life in many respects was a parallel to that of Cooper's famous Leatherstocking, passed away yesterday when James Stephenson died in the house in Summit township, Washington county, where he was born seventy-four years ago. He never left his home without his old rifle, and hunting was a mania with him. Early in life he formed an ambition to find 100 bee trees before he died. He found his ninety-ninth tree several years ago, and before he succumbed to heart failure he was trying to locate the tree that would crown his record.

Stephenson was a pioneer of Washington county. His father was born in Berkeley county, Va., on a plantation adjoining that of George Washington. The elder Stephenson and George Washington were friends.

WHEN EDISON "ARRIVED."

Columbia Magazine: Thomas Alva Edison came from Nashville, Tenn., to New York in the early '70s to work as electrician in the offices of the Franklin, Pacific and Atlantic and Atlantic and Pacific Telegraph offices, which were located on Broad street, near Wall. "Country boy" was stamped all over him. He wore a browish suit and his hat was a soft butternut; his long, lanky hair stood defiant of brush or comb.

With Mr. Edison were two young telgraph experts named Wright and Johnson, the former a short man with a deep bass voice and the latter slighter and taller than Edison himself. They had as an experiment room a small light-tight wooden cabinet, fitted up in the office. It was an everyday occurrence for the three men to rush out to escape from the smoke and fumes which issued as the result of their experiments.

Edison was regarded as a "coming man" in telegraphy, nevertheless. His first successful invention showed his quick and facile genius. He was very deaf and one had to speak quite loudly to make him hear conversation; yet his ear detected the faintest metallic click. One day, while in the midst of business, when brokers' messages, general telegrams and press dispatches were on the hooks, the company was served with an injunction restraining it from the Page sounder, which was controlled by the Western Union. The keys were silenced.

Edison grinned and sat down at an instrument. He reached out for a sheet of tin, used in making "manifold copies," and called for a stout pair of scissors. From one of his pockets—which were always bulging with wire and other appliances—he took a pair of pliers. First he detached the Page sounder from the instrument, while an intensely interested crowd watched. Then he cut a section of the thin sheet about three inches wide and four to five inches in length. He sliced it at either end, making two joints, through each of which he bored a hole. He then curved it lengthwise, doubled up the ends and fitted them to the instrument precisely where the Page sounder had been and tapped the key. The clicking—a joyful sound—could be heard all over the room. "He's got it! He's got it!" was the cry, and, sure enough, the response from the other end of the line, "Did you get me?" "O K! O K!"

Within an hour every instrument in the room was equipped with the improvised sounder and business was resumed. The injunction was completely obviated. In a few days, under Edison's instructions, the factory of the company was turning out hundreds of the new model. Edison's patents now number nearly a thousand, but none of them brought him greater fame than this.

In the matter of the application of Red Cliff Lumber Company to register the title to the following described real estate situated in St. Louis County, Minnesota, namely:

All those pieces and parcels of lot Two (2), and the Southeast Quarter of the Southwest Quarter (SE ¼ of SW ¼) of Section Five (5), and Lot One (1) of Section Eight (8), in Township Forty-nine (49) North of Range Fourteen 14)) West of the Fourth Principal Meridian, heretofore embraced within the plats of the townsite of Oneota, and Harrington's Addition to Duluth, the plats whereof are on file and of record in the office of the Register of Deeds of St. Louis County, Minnesota, and the lands, or lands covered with water contiguous, and the riparian rights incident and appurtenant thereto, all situate in the City of Duluth, County of St. Louis and State of Minnesota, and particularly described and bounded as follows, to-wit:

Beginning at a point on the center line of Fortieth avenue west in the city of Duluth, formerly Collingwood avenue, in the townsite of Oneota, according to the plat of said townsite of record in the office of the Register of Deeds of St. Louis County, Minnesota, one hundred twelve (112) feet distant, measured at right angles southerly, from the southeasterly line of Oneota street in the city of Duluth, formerly First street in said townsite of Oneota, thence easterly thirteen hundred thirty and 04-100 (1330.04) feet, more or less, on a line drawn parallel with, and one hundred twelve (112) feet distant measured at right angles southerly from the said southeasterly line of Oneota street aforesaid to a point on that certain boundary line, prolonged southeasterly in the same straight line, which intersects the east line of said Southeast Quarter of the Southwest Quarter of Section Five (5), in Township Forty-nine (49) North, of Range Fourteen (14) West, five (5) chains, sixty-eight and one-half (68½) links north of the quarter section corner on the section line between said Sections Five (5) and Eight (8) in said township and range, and which is defined as the northerly boundary line of those certain lands conveyed in and by two warranty deeds, executed by John B. Sutphin as grantor, one unto John A. Willard as grantee, and the other unto Albert Harrington as grantee, each bearing date June 15th, 1886, and recorded June 18th, 1886, in the office of the Register of Deeds aforesaid, in Volume 9 of Deeds, on pages 119 and 120 thereof respectively; thence southeasterly one hundred seventy-two and 25-100 (172.25) feet on said boundary line prolonged southeasterly as aforesaid, to a round iron bolt placed on the meander line of the St. Louis River or Bay, and fixed and established as a monument at the point of intersection of said boundary line, prolonged as aforesaid, with the line dividing certain submerged lands, or lands covered with water, or riparian rights, between said John B. Sutphin on one part, and said John A. Willard and Albert Harrington on the other part, as said dividing line is fixed, defined and established as and for a boundary line, designated as "Line B," by the joint agreement of said parties, dated July 1st, 1889, and recorded, with the map thereto attached and by reference made a part thereof, in the office of the said Register of Deeds, August 3rd, 1889, in Book "I" of Agreements, on pages 16 to 25 thereof, both inclusive; thence southerly five hundred thirty-five and 83-100 (535.83) feet on said dividing line to the point of intersection thereof with the southeasterly boundary line of the railroad right-of-way of the Duluth Transfer Railway Company, now the Northern Pacific Railway Company, as said right-of-way is defined in that certain instrument dated April 20th, 1892, and recorded in the office of said Register of Deeds July 6th, 1892, in Book 70 of Deeds, on page 272 et seq. thereof, which said point is seven hundred eighty-nine (789) feet distant, measured at right angles southerly, from the said southeasterly line of Oneota street aforesaid; thence westerly on the southeasterly line of said right-of-way to a point thereon, which is four hundred sixty-two (462) feet distant, measured at right angles westerly, from the said line dividing said submerged lands or riparian rights; thence southerly on a line drawn parallel with and four hundred sixty-two (462) feet distant, measured at right angles westerly, from the said line dividing said submerged lands or riparian rights, to a point on and intersecting at right angles the dock or harbor line on the northerly side of the St. Louis River or Bay, as said dock or harbor line has been heretofore duly established and was September 8th, 1890, confirmed by the Department of War of the United States; thence westerly on the aforesaid dock or harbor line to the point of intersection thereof with the center line of said Fortieth avenue west (formerly Collingwood avenue as aforesaid) prolonged southerly in the same straight line; thence northerly on the center line of said Fortieth avenue west (formerly Collingwood avenue), prolonged southerly as aforesaid, to the place of beginning. And also any and all lands covered with water, and riparian rights and privileges, if any, which may now or hereafter exist southerly of said dock or harbor line and between the said easterly and westerly boundary lines of said tract above described, prolonged from their said intersections with said dock or harbor line southerly in the same straight lines.

Excepting thereout and therefrom that certain part and parcel of said lands described as follows: Beginning at a point on the westerly side of Eastern avenue, as said avenue is delineated on the plat of said Harrington's Addition to Duluth, extended southeasterly at the distance of seven hundred eighty-nine (789) feet from the southeasterly side of First or Oneota street; thence along the produced westerly side of Eastern avenue, one hundred forty (140) feet to a point; thence southwesterly parallel to Oneota street one hundred (100) feet to a point; thence northwesterly parallel to said Eastern avenue one hundred forty (140) feet to a point; thence northeasterly parallel to said Oneota street one hundred (100) feet to the place of beginning, being the lands heretofore conveyed by said Albert Harrington and John A. Willard to one Nils Bergquist by deed recorded in the office of said Register of Deeds in Volume 56 of Deeds, on page 618 thereof.

And excepting further thereout and therefrom so much of that certain part and parcel of said above described lands particularly defined and described in and granted and conveyed as and for a railroad right-of-way, by that certain instrument, bearing date April 20th, 1892, and recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds of said St. Louis County, Minnesota, July 6th, 1892, in Book 70 of Deeds, on page 272 et seq. thereof, executed by Albert Harrington and Laura Harrington, his wife, and John A. Willard and Anna M. Willard, his wife, as grantors, unto Duluth Transfer Railway Company as grantee, as lies easterly of the center line of Boston Pier Block, in the townsite of Oneota, according to the plat thereof aforesaid,

Applicant,

SHERIFF'S EXECUTION SALE—

Under and by virtue of an Execution issued out of and under the seal of the District Court of the State of Minnesota, in and for the Eleventh Judicial District, and County of St. Louis, on the 20th day of April, 1911, upon a Judgment rendered and docketed in said Court and County in an action therein, wherein Frerker Bros. & Co. was Plaintiff, and A. L. Hoverson was Defendant, in favor of said Plaintiff and against said Defendant, for the sum of Four hundred thirty-one and 93-100 dollars, and Seventy cents increased costs, and whereas the property hereinafter described was on the 8th day of February, 1911, duly attached in said action, which said execution has to me, as sheriff of said St. Louis county, been duly directed and delivered, I have levied upon and will sell at public auction to the highest cash bidder, at the Sheriff's Office in the Court House, in the City of Duluth, in said County of St. Louis, on the 10th day of June, 1911, at ten o'clock in the forenoon of that day, all the right, title and interest that the above named judgment debtor had in and to the real estate hereinafter described on the eighth day of February, 1911, that being the date of the attachment of said real estate, or any interest therein which said judgment debtor may have since that day acquired. The description of the property being as follows, to-wit: Lot numbered ten (10) in block numbered one hundred fifty-eight (158), Portland Division of Duluth, according to the plat thereof on file and of record in the office of the register of deeds of St. Louis County, Minnesota, said real estate being in said county.

Dated, Duluth, Minn., April 20th, 1911.

PRINT A HERALD WANT AD--AND RENT THAT GOOD-ENOUGH-FOR-ANYBODY HOUSE OR APARTMENT

SENTIMENT OR BUSINESS?

ON WHICH BASIS DO YOU BUY ADVERTISING SPACE?

Some men buy advertising space in a paper because the paper tells them that "it deserves their support," not because the space will produce results.

Then they charge the amount up to their advertising appropriation.

An advertising appropriation is the seed of the modern business, properly sown and cultivated it will multiply a hundred fold.

So that each cent taken from the advertising appropriation robs the advertiser not of one cent, but of a potential dollar.

Be charitable, not with the seed, but out of the abundance of the harvest! Next time a paper approaches you with an appeal for your "support"—subscribe for the paper out of your private purse if you like, and have it sent to a friend, but don't buy alleged "advertising" space and deduct the cost from the amount you can afford to spend in real advertising.

Business and sentiment are oil and water—they won't mix. The heavy-lidded poppies luxuriate over the business-graves of hundreds who have refused to accept this truism.

And remember—every time you "buy" 10 cents worth of space in a worthless advertising medium, you are throwing nine dollars and ninety cents into the lake.

That isn't even charity—it's just foolishness!

STARTLING STORY OF LORIMER DEAL IS TOLD BY W. H. COOK

Duluth Man Appears Before Investigating Committee at Springfield.

Tells of Conversation Hines Had Over Telephone in Cook's Room.

Said He Would Be Down to Springfield With All Money Needed.

Springfield, Ill., April 25.—W. H. Cook, an official of the Virginia & Rainy Lake Lumber company of Duluth, Minn., before the Helm investigating committee here today, declared that he overheard Edward Hines of Chicago, in a room in the Grand Pacific hotel in Chicago, in a conversation over the telephone say that he would be down to Springfield on the next train "with all the money that would be needed."

This conversation was said to have been the night before Lorimer was elected, and the witness said the conversation was supposed to have been with Governor Deneen. Later Hines, the witness said, appeared greatly excited because he had discovered he was talking to Governor Deneen instead of Former Governor Richard Yates. Later in the examination Cook was accused of having an animus against Hines because of business relations.

Cook admitted that he held a conference with Edward Hines at the Grand Pacific hotel in Chicago shortly before the election of William Lorimer to the United States senate in 1909.

Cook testified that Hines met Cook and a Mr. Turrish, another lumberman from Duluth, in the lobby of the Grand Pacific.

"How are things going at Washington?" Turrish asked Hines, testified Cook.

"Like hell!" replied Hines, said Cook.

Cook then stated that Hines said he decided the lumber interests needed a better senator at Washington and that Lorimer had been settled upon as the proper man to take care of the tariff on lumber.

Relating another conversation, which he said took place at the Grand Pacific hotel, May 25, 1909, Cook testified that he met Edward Hines by an appointment arranged by C. F. Wiehe.

"Mr. Hines," said Cook, "was coming back from Washington on the Pennsylvania limited that day. Mr. Hines came into the hotel from the Jackson boulevard entrance, and asked the number of my room so that he could receive a long distance telephone call which he had put in.

"William O'Brien of Duluth was also with us.

"During our talk the telephone rang, and I answered it, and the girl said, 'Here's Springfield, the governor is on the wire.'

"Hines told the governor that he had just left Senator Aldrich and President Taft in Washington the night before and that they insisted Senator Hopkins could not be returned to the senate.

Has All the Money Needed.

"Hines said over the telephone: 'It's all settled, governor; I'll be down to Springfield on the next train with all the money that will be needed. Don't stop at anything.'"

Cook then stated that he had a meeting with C. F. Wiehe a year later in May or June, 1910. This also occurred with William O'Brien at the Grand Pacific hotel.

Wanted Them to Leave Town.

"Welhe seemed extremely anxious for us to get out of town at once. He said that we would be called before the grand jury which was investigating the Lee O'Neil Browne bribery case. Wiehe told us that Hines had called Wiehe out of bed to send him (Wiehe) to the Grand Pacific to hurry O'Brien and me out of town."

Cook stated that this meeting with Wiehe occurred at midnight. O'Brien and I expressed some reluctance to hurrying out of town in any such way without having had any sleep. So we finally decided to go to bed at the Grand Pacific, which we did. Wiehe expostulated, and declared that Hines was in serious danger and that the newspapers would "get him if something did not intervene."

Cook then related a meeting with Edward Hines in the office of Attorney Alfred E. McCordic in the Rookery building in Chicago. "At this time," Cook testified, "Hines referred to the telephone call which had taken place in my room at the time the telephone girl said the governor was on the line."

Talked to Deneen Instead of Gates.

Cook said that Hines was greatly excited because he (Hines) said that that he had just discovered that instead of talking to Former Governor Gates at that time by a mistake he (Hines) had been connected with Governor Deneen at Springfield.

Cook testified that Hines insisted that if this ever became public a lot of prominent Minnesota and Illinois people would be ruined.

"Hines demanded," said Cook, "that O'Brien and I never mention the matter to anyone or repeat any part of the conversation under any conditions."

Cook also testified that he was aboard the Winnipeg Flyer on the night of March 7 last, at which time William Burgess, also of Duluth, says C. F. Wiehe boasted of having put up $10,000 to aid the election of Lorimer.

"I did not hear the conversation between Wiehe and Burgess," said Cook, "but that night upon our arrival at Virginia, Minn., Burgess told me of what Wiehe had said to him."

At this juncture C. F. Wiehe, through Attorney Thomas Dawson, requested that he be allowed to ask Cook some questions.

Wiehe was brought into the committee room and faced Cook.

"Did you send me a threatening letter, which you asked me to give to Edward Hines in which you said that unless Mr. Hines did certain things regarding the Virginia & Rainy Lake Lumber company, you would expose him in connection with his activity in aiding Mr. Lorimer's election?"

Cook admitted having sent this letter.

Wiche then asked Cook if he (Cook) had in Chicago threatened to sell his stock in the Virginia & Rainy Lake Lumber company to a thousand negroes with the purpose of compromising Edward Hines, as head of the company. Cook denied that he had done so.

Wiehe then asked Cook if the Edward Hines Lumber company did not hold $130,000 of his (Cook's) notes and mortgages.

"Yes, that is true," admitted Cook.

The letters from Cook to Wiehe and from Cook to F. E. Weyerhaeuser, in which Cook demanded that Hines withdraw as president of the Virginia & Rainy Lake Lumber company or suffer exposure in connection with the Lorimer matter were introduced.

In this letter, Cook declared that unless Hines withdrew, he would publicly expose Hines' alleged corrupt practices in the election of Lorimer.

Springfield, Ill., April 25.—The state senate bribery investigating committee went into executive session immediately upon reconvening at 9 a. m. At that time the members of the committee had not decided upon what recommendtaion to make to the senate regarding Edward Tilden.

After the committee had been in executive session half an hour Attorneys Nathaniel Sears and Ralph Crews of Chicago, representing Edward Tilden, walked into the room for a private conference with members of the committee.

Among witnesses who appeared this morning in answer to subpoenas were C. F. Wiehe, brother-in-law of Edward Hines; Former State Senator B. F. Downing of Dixon and Former Repre-

DEMANDS OF INSURGENTS

Washington, April 25.—The crisis in the fight between regular and insurgent senators over places on the standing committees is expected to be reached late today. Through Senator La Follette the insurgents have filed their demands and the committee on committees has taken them under consideration.

The insurgent list has not been made public, but it is known that although Senator La Follette was conceded by the regulars a place on the finance committee, the insurgents insisted that Senator Cummins also should be named, and that the regulars also were willing to give Senator La Follette a place on appropriations, but that he demanded instead a place on interstate commerce, of which Senator Clapp is to be chairman and Senator Cummins a member; that Senator Bourne has been given the chairmanship of the postoffice committee and Senator Bristow a place on the same committee, but Senator Bourne demanded to go on appropriations also. These places and the vacancies on foreign relations, judiciary and privileges and elections are making most of the trouble.

The regular Republicans plan to take three places on the finance committee. Senator Penrose is to be promoted to chairman, while the new members are to be Heyburn, Clark of Wyoming, who is to retire from foreign relations, and Gallinger. Senator Warren will be chairman of appropriations and Smoot made a member.

Senator Cummins is given foreign relations by the regulars' slate, but he wants judiciary instead. Senator Smith of Michigan is slated for chairman of territories and Senator Sutherland chairman of public buildings and grounds, Senator Heyburn, the ranking member of the latter committee, retaining manufactures.

SMALL FINE FOR BOOTH

Chicago, April 25.—W. Vernon Booth, who was president of the now defunct fish firm of A. Booth & Co., was fined $2,000 by Judge Kavanaugh in the criminal court today on a charge of obtaining credit and money under false pretenses from the Continental National bank.

It was learned that the case against Frederick R. Robbins, former assistant treasurer of the company, will be nolle prossed.

The specific charge against Booth and Robbins is that of having conspired to defraud the Continental National bank out of $300,000, although the failure of the concern involved

PHILIPPINES ARE MENACE

Washington, April 25.—Representative Cox of Ohio is at the head of a movement of Democratic congressmen to make the Philippines and their independence a party measure at this session of congress. At the next meeting of the majority caucus he will ask that a resolution calling upon the war department for a statement showing what the islands have cost the United States since the American occupation, be made a part of the majority program.

This resolution, Mr. Cox regards as an entering wedge toward neutralization of the islands. "The Philippine situation," said Mr. Cox today, "is the most menacing before us. Wars of the future will be over lands in the Orient.

"If the people could see what the Philippines have cost, I am positive the islands and their future would be accorded serious and immediate consideration. Neutrality of the islands could be arranged for by treaty."

EARNINGS FOR QUARTER.

Steel Corporation's Report Shows $23,519,203.

New York, April 25.—The quarterly report of the United States Steel corporation, made public today, shows earnings of $23,519,203 for the quarter ending March 31, 1911. The report gives the net earnings of the corporation for the quarter ending March 31 as $20,001,817.

The board of directors re-elected all the old officers with the exception of W. B. Dickson, who resigned his position as vice president some time ago. His place was not filled.

DIAZ IS CONVINCED PEACE WILL SOON BE RESTORED IN MEXICO

Sends Message in Reply to Query of the Associated Press.

Insurrectos Are Waiting for Word From the Mexican Government.

Expected Peace Negotiations Will Consume at Least Two Weeks.

New York, April 25.—President Diaz of Mexico has addressed the following dispatch to the Associated Press:

"Mexico City, April 25, 1911.—In reply to your message in which you ask me concerning the actual situation in this country, I am convinced that conditions of peace, interrupted for the moment, will return to Mexico, and that all Mexicans will unite with the single purpose of furthering the development and progress of the country.
"PORFIRIO DIAZ."

Waiting for Commissioners.

El Paso, Tex., April 25.—Interest in the peace situation at Gen. Madero's camp today is centered in the hope that word may come from the Mexican government of the appointment of its commissioners for the conference at which it seems almost certain terms of peace in Mexico will be agreed upon. The insurrecto commander, it is understood, is ready to announce his ap-

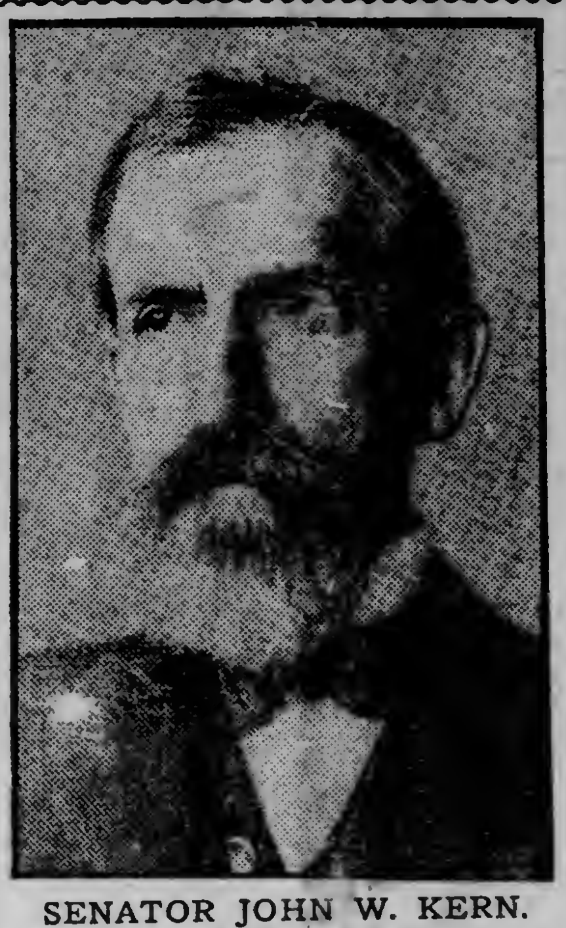
EPISCOPALIANS AT WASHINGTON

Clerical and Lay Members Gather for Twenty-Ninth Church Congress.

Washington, April 25.—Prominent clerical and lay members of the Protestant Episcopal church from all parts of the country gathered here for the opening today of the twenty-ninth church congress of the denomination in this country. A communion service held this morning in St. John's church, was addressed by Rev. Dr. John G. Murray, bishop of Maryland. The delegates will be received at the White House this afternoon by President and Mrs. Taft, and later in the afternoon by Rev. Dr. Alfred Harding, bishop of Washington at Mount St. Albany, the site of the proposed Washington cathedral.

The real work of the congress, which will last three days, will begin tonight with an address to the convention by President Taft and with speeches on "The Values of Protestantism."

KERN PRESIDENTIAL BOOM IS LAUNCHED



SENATOR JOHN W. KERN.

Indianapolis, Ind., April 25.—Prominent Democrats from over the state met here yesterday and formally launched a presidential boom for United States Senator John W. Kern of Indiana. A Kern presidential club was organized.

CHAIRMAN GARY NOT TO RESIGN

Says There Is No Foundation Whatever for Such a Story.

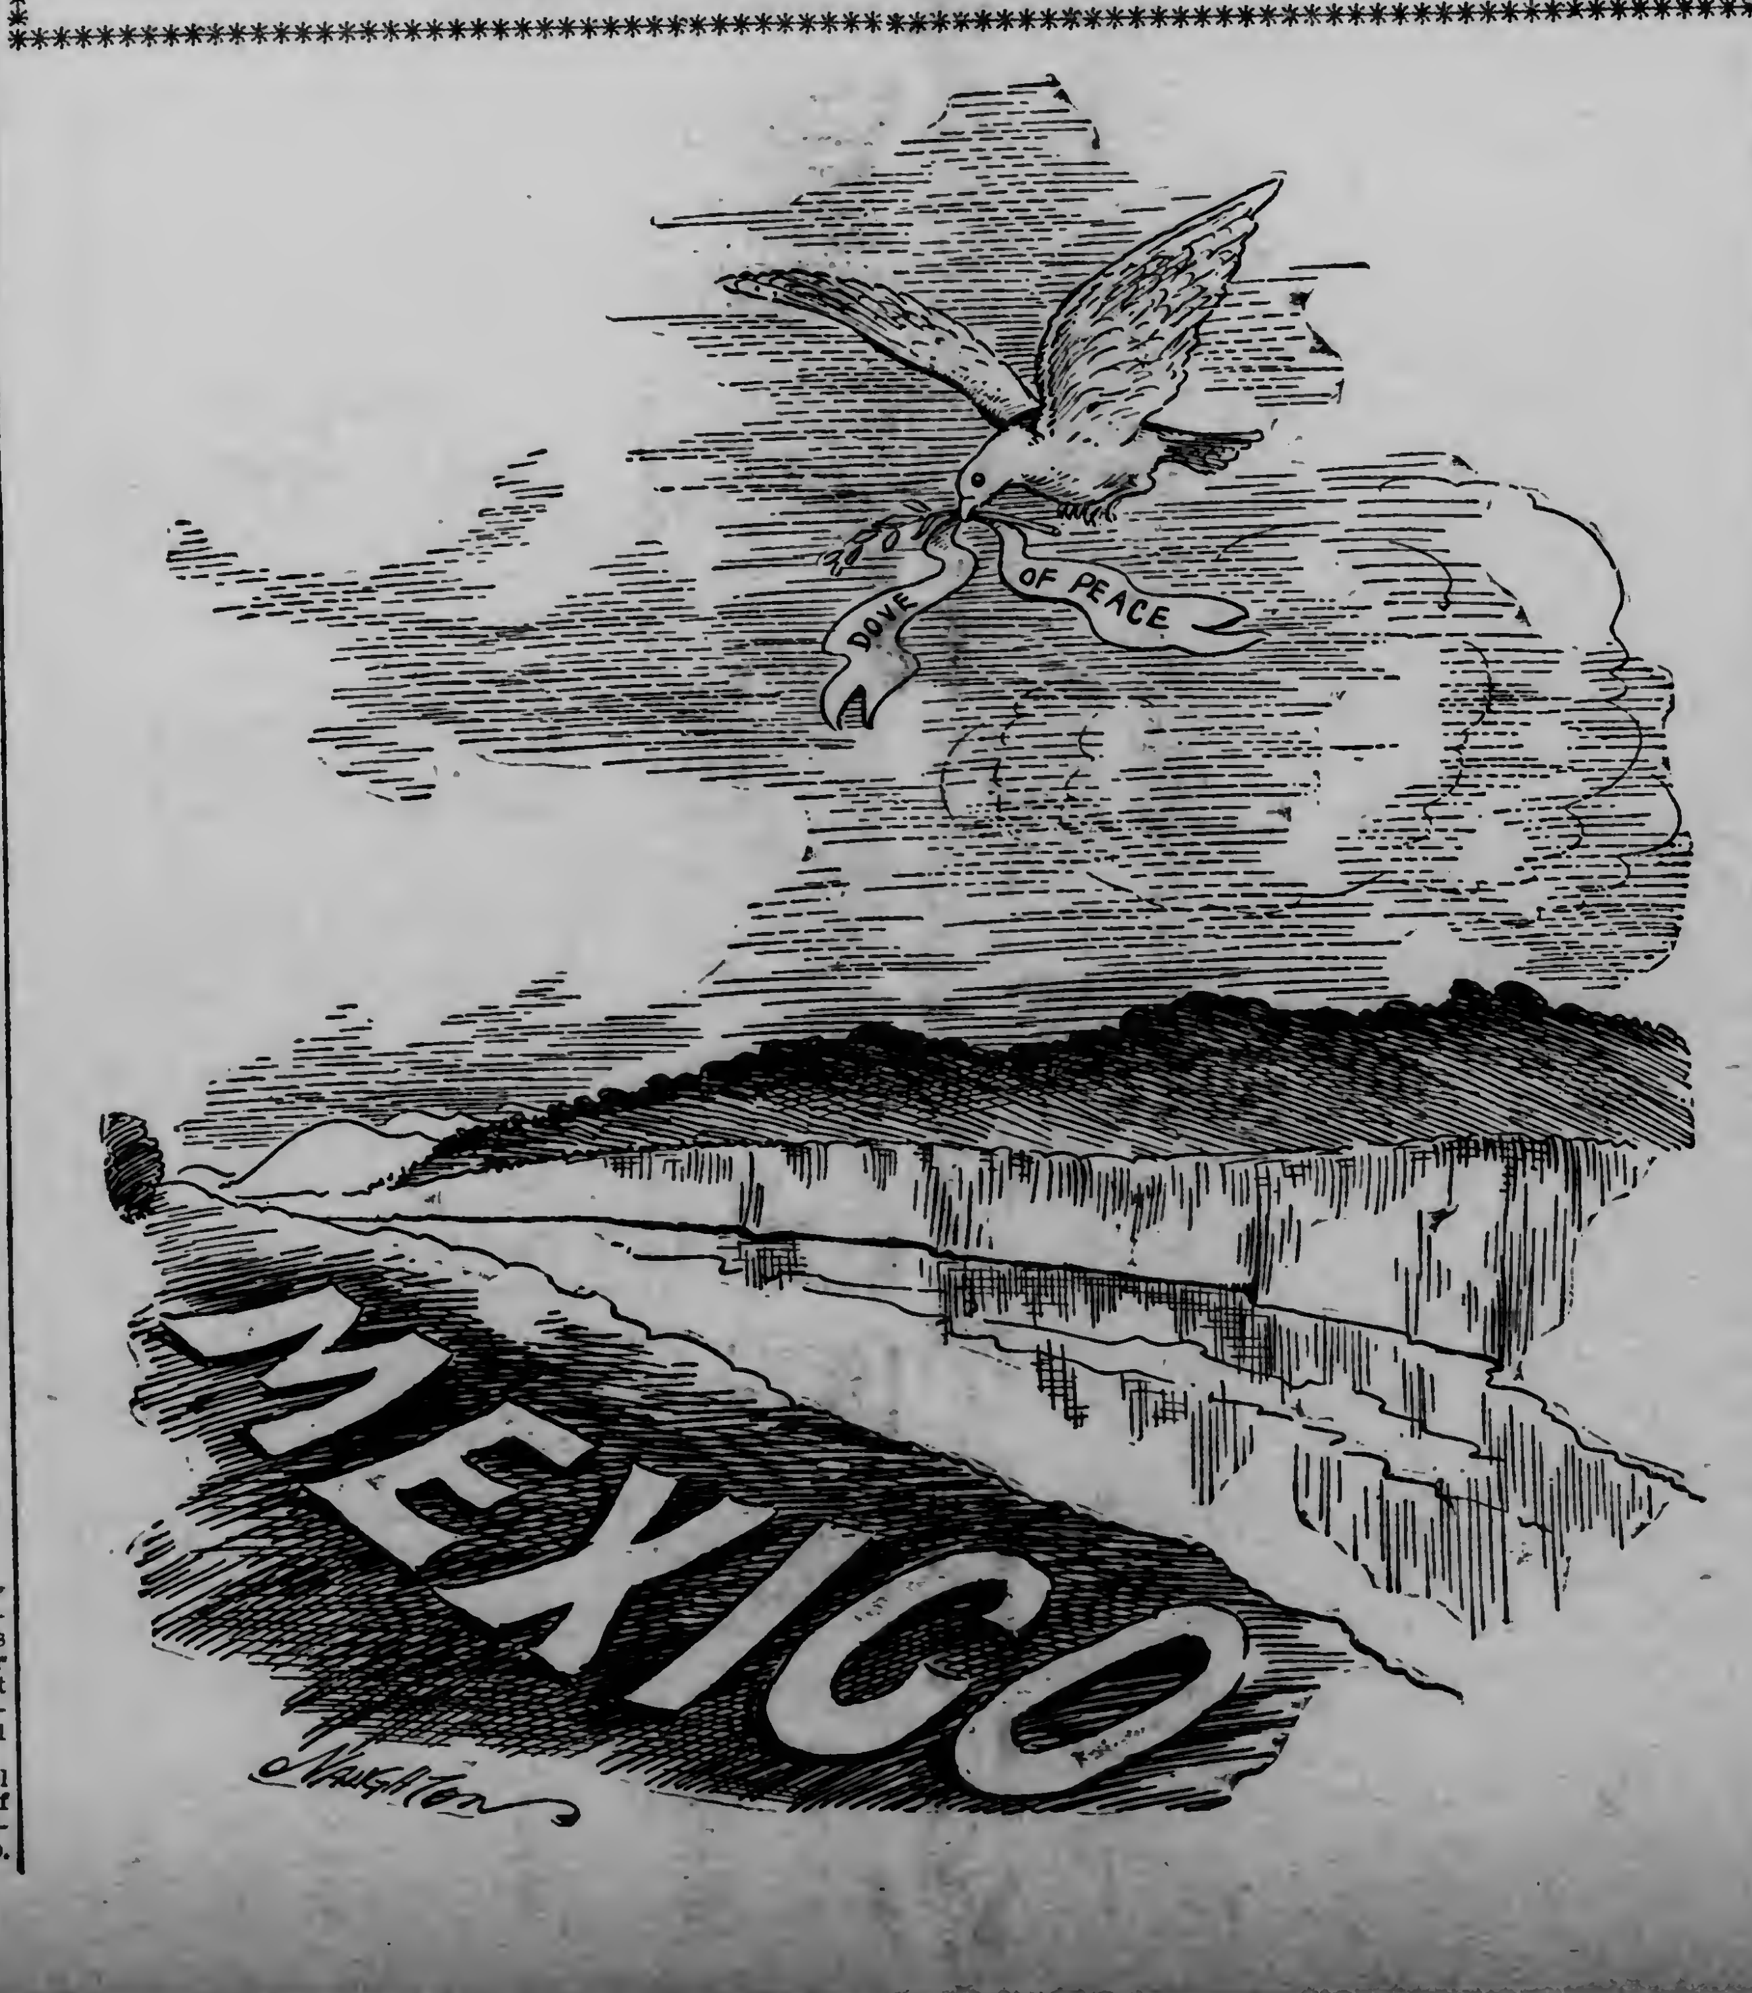
New York, April 25.—Former Judge Elbert Gary, chairman of the board of directors of the United States Steel coporation, today authorized a denial of a story that in the near future he would retire from the head of the organization. Judge Gary's statement follows:

"There is no foundation for the published suggestion that my retirement from the position of chairman of the board of directors of the United States Steel corporation is or has been under consideration. There is perfect harmony in the entire working organization and in the finance committee, and in the board of directors."

SUDDEN ARRIVAL OF SPRING IN SIBERIA.

Alexanderovsk, Government of Archangel, Russia, April 22, delayed in transmission.—Reports from Western Russia and Siberia tell of the sudden arrival of spring. The ice has broken up in the rivers, and with the melting snows has caused abnormal high waters, which are doing great damage.

LOOKING FOR A PLACE TO NEST.



ALLEGED KIDNAPERS OF UNION OFFICIALS AT INDIANAPOLIS ARE BOUND OVER TO THE GRAND JURY

WOULD LIE AT ANY TIME FOR MONEY

Witness Admits This on the Stand and Is Promptly Arrested.

Says He Swore Falsely When Casting Vote at Brookston Election.

Claims He Was Told He "Would Be Taken Care of."

After making the statement on the witness stand in Judge Cant's courtroom in district court this morning that he would lie at any time provided he was paid for it, Alex Shacdock, 21 years old of Brookston, Minn., was placed under arrest at the instance of Judge Cant and taken to the county jail where he will be confined until the meeting of the grand jury when a perjury charge will be placed against him.

Shacdock, who was a witness in the Brookston election contest cases at present going on before Judge Cant, had made the statement earlier in his cross examination that he had testified falsely when questioned by the election judges at the village, and admitted that he did it at the instance of his employer Ernest Gustafson, F. J. McMahon and Edward Donnely.

After admitting that he had lied

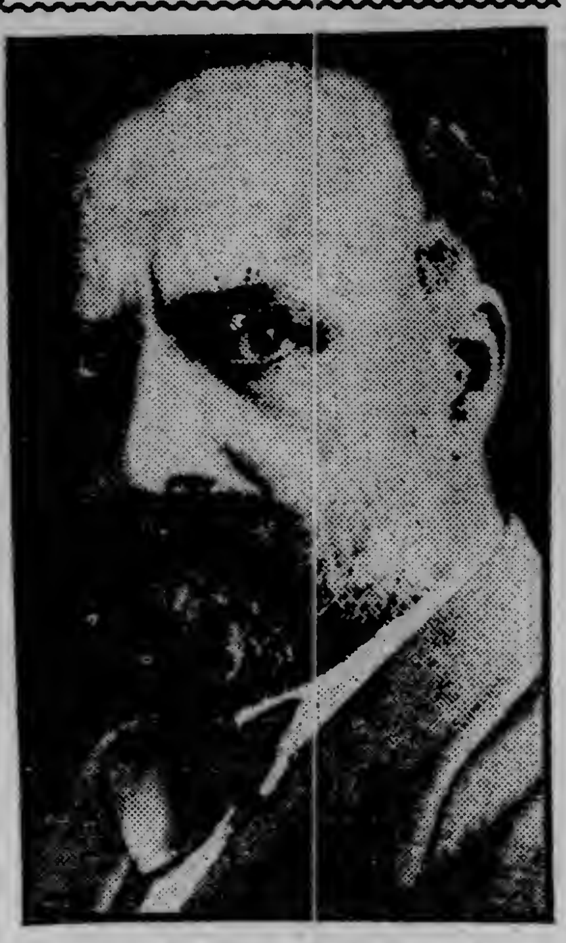
PEOPLE ARE "SAVAGES."

Californian Does Not Like Electioneering in Ireland.

Cork, Ireland, April 25.—John Donovan, a Californian, who was active in the last election campaign here, was a witness at today's hearing of the petition against the election of Capt. Anthony Donelan, the Nationalist whip, who defeated William O'Brien in the east division of Cork county.

Donovan declared that he had had enough of electioneering in Ireland and intended to return to California. He thought that the people of Youghal were "savages." He admitted having promised to distribute money among the poor of Youghal if Donelan was elected.

MADE CHANCELLOR OF NEW YORK UNIVERSITY



DR. ELMER E. BROWN.

New York, April 25.—Dr. Elmer Ellsworth Brown of Washington, United States commissioner of education, has been appointed chancellor of New York university to succeed the Rev. Dr. Henry Mitchell MacCracken, resigned.

FREE LIST BILL IS UP

Wahsington, April 25.—The free list bill was taken up in the house today and for several days to come it will hold the center of the legislative stage. Chairman Underwood of the ways and means committee, in explaining the proposed measure, acknowledged that it would mean a reduction in government revenues by at least $10,000,000 a year, but declared that this would be more than met by government economies.

"This free list bill is not offered as compensation to the farmer for the products of his that were put on the free list in the reciprocity bill," said Mr. Underwood, "because we do not believe the passage of the reciprocity agreement will in any way affect the farmer's income.

"One of the objects of this bill is to remove from the protected list those implements that the farmer uses in producing his crops. The other purpose is to reduce the cost of living to

FIFTEEN BODIES ARE RECOVERED

Elk Garden, W. Va., April 25.—Fifteen bodies have been taken out of the Ott mine, No. 20 of the Davis Coal company at 10 o'clock today, victims of the disastrous explosion yesterday. Eight other dead bodies are supposed to be in the mine, which the rescuers are trying to recover. The fourteen bodies recovered were found about one-half mile from the entrance. The bodies are charred and badly mangled and identification will be difficult.

This morning John Laing, chief of the West Virginia department of mines, started an investigation of the cause of the accident. A special train arrived this morning, bringing Assistant Engineer L. W. Jones of the government bureau of mines stationed at Pittsburg, accompanied by first aid men John T. Ryan and David D. Davis.

The mine is almost directly under the town of Elk Garden, which is on a hill. The mouth of the mine is about half a mile from the town.

In striking contrast to the usual mine explosions, the victims in this case with one exception are Americans. They are: John Pritchard, Arthur Pritchard, Tamoor Runyon, James Brown, John R. Wilson, Roy Wilson, Lester Wilson, William Pugh, Hawthorne Patten, Thomas Wilson, Geel White, William Pearson, John White, William Shears, Harry Tannum, James Dumphy, L. O. Lempsy, Edward Hershberger, Thomas Yost, Charles Wilson, William Helsol, William Busky. Busky is the only alien.

The mine usually employs 200 men in the day and the same number at night. Owing to a temporary suspension of work, fewer men were required in the mines. Two engines with rescue crews and equipment were sent here from Thomas, W. Va., fifteen miles away.

REBELS NAME A NEW SULTAN

Tangier, April 25.—Advices from Mequinez, thirty-six miles southwest of Fez, and one of the summer residences of the sultan, announce that Mulai El Zin, a brother of Sultan Hafid, has been proclaimed sultan by the rebel Zammours, who, after capturing the place, pillaged the shops and killed several Jews.

To Re-Establish Order.

Casa Blanca, Morocco, April 25.—Gen. Moinier, commading the French forces here, has issued a proclamation to the rebellious tribesmen stating that France does not propose to occupy new territory, but merely to assure the safety of foreigners and reestablish order under the authority of the sultan. The tribes are told that if they will end the rebellion and discontinue their menaces, France will stop the march of her troops toward Fez, but otherwise the French government will be obliged to pacify the country and severely punish the leaders in the revolt.

Bail of Two Attorneys Increased From $5,000 to $10,000.

Unable to Give Necessary Bonds, Are Taken to County Jail.

Constables Unable to Find Detective Burns After Vigorous Search.

Indianapolis, Ind., April 25.—Walter Drew of New York, counsel for the National Erectors' association; W. Joseph Ford, assistant district attorney of Los Angeles, and Frank Fox, a chauffeur, charged with having kidnaped J. J. McNamara, secretary-treasurer of the International Association of Bridge & Structural Iron Workers, were arraigned at 9 o'clock this morning before Justice of the Peace Manning. They waived preliminary examination and were bound over to the grand jury.

William J. Burns, detective, employed by the National Erectors' association, who arrived in this city from Toledo at 2:15 o'clock this morning, was sought by constables with a warrant for his arrest on the charge of kidnaping McNamara, but they could not find him.

Bail Increased.

Drew, Ford and Fox, when arrested last night, were released under bond of $5,000 each for Drew and Ford and $3,000 for Fox. Their bond to hold them for the grand jury today was set

REBUTTAL IN COWAN TRIAL

Bismarck, N. D., April 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—Four witnesses for the prosecution were examined this morning in rebuttal, the fifth week of the Cowan impeachment case opening with a continuation of work along practically the same line that has been followed throughout the entire procedure.

Dan V. Brennan, probably the most important witness of the morning, was called for the purpose of refuting testimony that had been introduced previously by the defense, when Norman Morrison and Fred Bassford were on the stand, both of them testifying with relation to certain conversations in which Brennan had declared his intention of "getting" Cowan. Brennan this morning refuted such evidence and declared the statements attributed to him had not been made.

There was a continuation of the flat denials that have characterized the trial, when B. H. Bradford, a Minot attorney, was placed on the stand. He declared that upon the occasion of Judge Cowan's visit to the Minot stockyards for the purpose of purchasing horses, he was, as a matter of fact, under the influence of liquor.

ALL ENJOY A GOOD SLEEP

Muscatine, Iowa, April 25.—Muscatine awoke refreshed from a long sleep this morning, the result of its first night under strict military rule, which early cleared the streets and sent many residents home at unaccustomed hours.

Soon after 8 o'clock last night the streets were almost entirely deserted. Street cars, empty, save the carmen, ran as usual, but aside from these there was scarcely a sign of life except the steady tread of the patrols who guarded the town from the river bank to the furtherest outskirts. Store keepers were permitted to keep their places open, but soon closed for lack of patronage. All the accustomed places of amusement were dark before 8 o'clock.

The night passed without a ripple, but the second day of the reign of military law opens with the strike situation unchanged.

Company M of Fairfield arrived this morning to take the place of Company C, the local militia organization, which will now be relieved of strike duty.

JURY DISSATISFIED IN CAMORRA TRIAL

Viterbo, Italy, April 25.—The trial of the Camorrists has been adjourned until Monday because of the illness of a juror who failed to appear when the session was to have been resumed today.

It is reported that the trial may be transferred to some other city because of dissatisfaction on the part of the jury. Early in the proceedings the members petitioned the court for an increase in the fees allowed them, but no response to their request has been made. Accordingly, it is said, they are inclined to use obstructive measures. If one after the other is taken sick no further progress can be made under the present circumstances.

Mrs. Schenk Released.

Chicago, April 25.—Mrs. Theresa Schenk, who shot and killed her husband, Charles Schenk, after a night of revelry, March 18, at their home in Park Ridge, was discharged from custody yesterday after the return of a no-bill by the grand jury. Mrs. Schenk shot her husband from the top of a stairway just as he was beginning to ascend. She declared she mistook him for a burglar.

If Wrong Has Been Done Clerks, It Will Be Righted.

Washington, April 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—Senator Nelson has taken up with Postmaster General Hitchcock, the cases of C. C. Van Dyke and C. S. Duff, railway mail clerks, recently demoted, because it was alleged they sought to promote an affiliation between the railway mail clerks and the American Federation of Labor. Postmaster General Hitchcock promised Senator Nelson to give the case careful review and consideration, and if a wrong has been done these clerks he will be only too happy to right it.

Railroad Man Writes Remarkable Letter

In 1903 and 1904, I was a terrible sufferer for about five months with kidney and bladder trouble. I could not sleep nights and was obliged to get up ten or fifteen times to urinate. I passed mucus and blood continually. One doctor said I was going into consumption and gave me up to die. Had two other doctors but received no help from either of them and am sure I would have been in my grave had I not seen your advertisement in the "Daily Eagle Star." After taking several bottles of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root I was entirely cured.

In the last two years I have been a railroad fireman and have passed two examinations for my kidneys successfully so that I know that my kidneys are in excellent condition now as a result of your great preparation.

Yours very truly,
GEORGE KENSLER,
1422 Mary St., Marinette, Wis.

Personally appeared before me this 25th of September, 1909, George Kensler, who subscribed the above statement and made oath that the same is true in substance and in fact.

HENRY GRAASS,
Notary Public,
Door County, Wis.

Letter to

Binghamton, N. Y.

Prove What Swamp-Root Will Do For You

Send to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., for a sample bottle. It will convince anyone. You will also receive a booklet of valuable information, telling all about the kidneys and bladder. When writing, be sure and mention the Duluth Daily Herald. Regular fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles for sale at all drug stores.

NEW PROCESS WILL SAVE ZENITH FURNACE FLUE DUST

Company Being Formed to Handle 250 Tons Daily.

Will Cut Off Waste of From 10 to 20 Per Cent of Ore.

Fred C. Harris, general superintendent of the Zenith Furnace company, Richard Schell, also of Duluth, and Eastern parties have closed a deal with the Jones Process company to use the patents of the Jones step-process furnace, during their duration, in the treatment of blast furnace flue dust.

The success of experiments with the Jones furnace and the completion of the deal just closed, means that millions of tons of flue dust, which now represents an absolute loss of 10 to 20 per cent of the whole ore treated in blast furnaces, will be saved and treated at a nominal cost.

Flue dust is composed of minute particles of dust as blown over by the blast in the furnace and runs in the same percentage of iron as the ore used in the furnace. It is so fine that it cannot be kept in a blast furnace and when it is discharged through the flues by the blast it is caught and descends to flue catchers.

In the past, this flue dust has been absolute waste. Numerous attempts have been made to treat it, but although some of them have been successful in treating the dust, none have been practical. They have fallen down in capacity and cost, and it is believed that with the Jones process those handicaps are overcome, for any amount of the dust can be treated at a nominal cost.

Mr. Harris, who is one of the best known iron men in the West and Northwest, has followed the Jones process closely since the first patents were taken out, and he has been convinced by experiments made that the process is an unqualified success, in the treatment of flue dust as well as of low grade ores.

It is proposed to treat the flue dust by the step-process so that it will be reduced to metallized state in briquette form. In that form, it can be put back into the blast furnace and can be treated in the same way as scrap. There will be no dust to it and no waste after the treatment.

Company Being Formed.

A company is now in the process of formation by the people who closed the contracts for the use of the patents in treating flue dust and they say that the first plant for applying the process will be in operation early in August. The first plant will probably have a capacity of 250 tons of dust daily, although any capacity desired may be obtained. The location of the plant has not yet been decided upon.

Mr. Harris, who is interested in the new process, came to Duluth seven years ago and took charge of the Zenith plant. He has made a pronounced success of it and the plant, under his direction, is now producing pig iron at a lower cost than anywhere else in the Northwest.

"I have been experimenting with flue dust for fifteen years and was one of the first to attempt its treatment with electricity," said Mr. Harris. "It can be treated with electricity, but the cost is prohibitive. With the Jones furnace, I believe we can treat dust at such a cost that Eastern blast furnaces will put their dust back into their furnaces at a lower cost than the original ore."

Millions upon millions of tons of flue dust are available ofor immediate treatment and it is believed the proposition to use the Jones process will be received with interest by pig iron manufacturers. The dust has not only been an absolute waste, but its disposition has formed a serious problem at blast furnaces, and if actual operations measure up to the results of the experiments, of which there is no doubt in the minds of those interested, the new process will mean a great economy in the operation of blast furnaces.

The Jones step-process furnace is now regarded as an unqualified success, the experiments at Iron Mountain, Mich., during the past year having been highly satisfactory to those interested in the company. Another furnace is now being erected at Republic, Mich., and it is expected that others will follow. Contracts were recently closed whereby the Jones furnace will treat great quantities of low grade ore owned by J. M. Longyear and Lee Higginson of Boston.

PARK READY BY JUNE 1

New Ball Grounds Will Be Completed in Six Weeks.

Work Will Begin Wednesday Morning, Says Manager Desmond.

Work on the new ball park will begin tomorrow. Dredges will begin depositing the sand and the work will be rushed from this time on so that the park may be formally opened on June 1, according to John Desmond's statement today.

The season will be opened at the old park in the West end. The team will play there about a week when it will move over across the ship canal to the new park.

The Sox have six games at Rockford and from there they go to Madison, Wis., where they play May 1 and 2. They play with Superior at Superior on May 3, 4 and 5 and with the same team in Duluth on May 6, 7 and 8.

The regular league season opens on May 10 with Duluth playing Red Wing at Red Wing. After a swing around the circuit Red Wing opens in Duluth on May 23.

The new park will be much larger than the old. There will be a larger seating capacity and boxes will be located under the stand where spectators may be protected from the lake winds.

FITWELLS AND ALL-STARS

Two Fast Independent Teams Will Meet for Side Bet.

The first ball game of any consequence of the present season in Duluth will be played next Sunday at the old ball park when the Fitwells and the All Stars will clash on the diamond. It is understood that the teams will play for $100 a side or $10 a man. Both aggregations have some first class performers in their lineups and a classy exhibition should be the result.

The teams will line up as follows:

"FLAG DAY" AT PHILADELPHIA

World's Champions Will Hoist Pennant on Home Grounds.

Philadelphia, April 25.—This is "Flag day" at the American league baseball grounds in this city, and the pennant won by the Philadelphia team of last year's champions of that organization will be unfurled to the breezes with all due formality.

A feature will be the presence in the grandstand of Governor John K. Tener, once a star pitcher, who will put aside the cares of state and journey from Harrisburg to witness the flag-raising ceremonies and see the game with Washington. President Ban Johnson of the Washington club, will be among the notables present.

One reason for selecting the opening game with Washington for the first display of the pennant was a desire to honor Manager McAleer and his players for the part they took in the all-star games against Philadelphia last fall just previous to the opening of the world's championship battle with the Chicago Nationals. Experts claim that these games had much to do with keeping the Philadelphia Americans keyed up and in condition to administer defeat to their powerful Chicago opponents.

Later in the season the world's champions flag will be unfurled.

IRON RIVER TEAM WANTS GAMES.

Iron River, Wis., April 25.—The Iron River baseball team has been recently organized and is now open for a schedule of Sunday games. The manager, P. G. Bogle, is anxious to hear from the managers of the various ball teams in Superior and Duluth in regards to open dates.

Milwaukee at Home.

Milwaukee, Wis., April 25.—Columbus is pitted against Milwaukee in the first "at home" game of the American Association baseball season in Milwaukee this afternoon. "Stoney" McGlinn is slated to pitch for the home team with Marshall behind the bat. Liebhardt or Pennybaker and Bemis probably will make up the battery of the visitors.

PUZZLING LAKE BAIKAL.

Japan Advertiser: The riddle of Lake Baikal, in Central Asia, is similar to that of Lake Tanganyika, in Central Africa. In both cases a large body of fresh water remote from the ocean contains organisms apparently marine. Both lakes, again, contain a very large number of species not found elsewhere. Lake Baikal contains numerous salmon and seals, as well as three species of herring. It also contains a few mollusca of apparently marine forms.

One of the most remarkable features of the lake, perhaps, is that although it is frozen over for about five months in the year, the animal life is extremely abundant and varied. This may be partly accounted for by the existence of hot springs.

One of the latest attempts to answer the riddle of Lake Baikal is that of the Russian investigator, M. Berg. Of the thirty-three species of fish found in the lake, he finds that fourteen are peculiar to it, while nineteen have a wide distribution in Siberia and Europe. Many of these peculiar species are without near relations anywhere. Of the mollusca, 90 per cent are peculiar.

M. Berg does not think the facts demand the hypothesis that the lake was once marine. He believes that it has always been fresh and that the fauna peculiar to it has had a twofold origin. A part has originated in the lake itself during the long ages of its existence, and the rest is a portion of the prehistoric fresh water fanua of Siberia which it has preserved.

A HEALTHY, HAPPY OLD AGE

May be promoted by those who gently cleanse the system, now and then, when in need of a laxative remedy, by taking a desertspoonful of the ever refreshing, wholesome and truly beneficial Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna, which is the only family laxative generally approved by the most eminent physicians, because it acts in a natural, strengthening way and warms and tones up the internal organs without weakening them. It is equally beneficial for the very young and the middle aged, as it is always efficient and free from all harmful ingredients. To get its beneficial effects it is always necessary to buy the genuine, bearing the name of the Company—California Fig Syrup Co.—plainly printed on the front of every package.

FOUR MORE INSPECTORS

Aimed to Make Duluth a "Spotless Town" This Spring.

Board of Public Works Has 150 Men at Work.

The spring cleaning work of the board of public works is in full swing in all parts of the city, and May 1 the health department will start four additional sanitary inspectors to help make Duluth a "spotless town."

The work board has about 150 men at work at the present time with fifteen teams. They are cleaning up and hauling away the winter's accummulation of dirt and filth in the streets and alleys and expect to have the city in normal conditon in a comparatively short time.

Many back yards and some front yards are in sad need of a thorough cleaning and the officials of the health department will make it their business to see that this is done. The inspectors who will be put on this work will be instructed to visit every lot in the city and to serve notice upon the owners or tenants of all of them which are not in proper condition. After the expiration of a reasonable time they will be visited again, probably be a different inspector, to ascertain whether or not the notices have been observed. If they have not, the health department officials have stated that arrests will be made under the city ordinance regulating public health.

Toward the middle or the latter part of next month the mayor and the health commissioner will designate a general "cleaning day," on which it is expected that the finishing touches will be applied. At that time the school children are told by their teachers what the day means and they should make it their special business to see that their own yards are in the best of shape. They are also given a few hours outdoors in which to put the grounds surrounding the school in fine condition, removing all dirt, sticks, stones or papers which may be on them.

CHINESE PIRATES CAPTURE FIREMAN

Attack Steamship Asia as Soon as the Passengers Are Removed.

Shanghai, April 25.—Warships probably will be sent to recover as much as possible of the wrecked steamer Asia's cargo, which was deserted to Chinese pirates when the passengers and crew were taken off by the Chinese steamer Shoaking.

The value of the cargo, made up chiefly of silk, is estimated at $500,000.

After the passengers had escaped, pirates attacked the crew, and though the sailors put up a hard fight, captured one stoker and carried him away. The others of the crew, with the passengers and mails, were brought here. The Asia is a total wreck.

REPORT ADVERSE TO IMPROVEMENT

Not Advisable to Continue River Work Beyond Spirit Lake.

Washington, April 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—The acting chief of United States engineers today transmitted to congress a report on a preliminary examination of the St. Louis river, Minnesota and Wisconsin, from the head of the present project near the north end of Spirit lake up to New Duluth and from thence up to the stone quarries near Fond du Lac.

It is the opinon of the district officers, which has been reviewed by the board of engineers for rivers and harbors, that while the United States will eventually find it advisable to improve the locality in question, the latter is not worthy of improvement at this time.

At the present time the 20-foot depth extends from the Duluth ship canal to the head of Big island; thence to the head of Spirit lake, the upper limit of present project, the depth is fourteen feet; thence twelve feet to New Duluth. From New Duluth to Fond du Lac the depth is seven and one-half feet to eight feet; thence to the stone quarries a narrow channel exists with a depth of three to four feet.

TO INVESTIGATE ALL POSTMASTERS

To See How Much Actual Work They Do for the Government.

Washington, April 25.—Postmasters of the country are to be subjected to a rigid investigation by congress. The house committee on expenditures in the postoffice department has decided to act in response to a resolution introduced by Representative Saunders of Virginia, providing for such an inquiry. The committee is to ascertain how much actual time postmasters devote to the service of the department, their outside business affiliations, political activities and whether they are personally active in campaign work, especially with reference to the collection of political assessments.

The committee will report the resolution to the house tomorrow and will be called up for passage immediately.

GRAND JURY IS PLACED AT WORK

Charged By Judge Hughes at Virginia and Starts Considering Cases.

Virginia, Minn., April 25.—(Special to The Herald.) — Judge Hughes charged the grand jury at noon today. C. E. Hendrick of Virginia was appointed foreman of the grand jury. All the petit jurors were excused until 9 o'clock tomorrow morning.

RAILROADS

FREIGHT RATES ATTACKED.

Commission Asked to Adjust Them on Equitable Basis.

Washington, April 25.—Alleged unreasonable and unjust class freight rates from Omaha to Colorado common points were attacked today in a complaint filed with the interstate commerce commission by commercial clubs of Omaha, Sioux City and St. Joseph, against the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe railway and other carriers. The commission is requested to adjust the rates on an equitable basis.

Railroad Notes.

The big Mallet engines recently bought by the Duluth, Missabe & Northern for hauling ore cars up the steep grade between the ore docks and Proctor, have demonstrated their fitness. They have "made good." They have hauled more than fifty-five cars up the hill, which they were guaranteed to do, in comparison with the twenty-eight usually pulled by engines which have been in use.

NEXT MEETING WILL BE IN JUNE

Duluth Will Have Chance to Entertain Northern Minnesota Congress.

W. R. McKenzie of Bemidji, secretary of the Northern Minnesota Development association, was in Duluth today and conferred with Secretary H. V. Eva of the Commercial club on the plans for the next meeting of the association, which will be held in Duluth June 1 and 2.

Mr. McKenzie says that more interest than ever in the work of the association is being shown throughout the northern part of the state and that every county will be well represented at the Duluth meeting. Legislative action and lack of action are being discussed in all the counties and the representatives of the different counties will be in Duluth to exchange ideas and map out a plan of campaign.

The program for the meeting has not yet been decided upon. A local committee will soon be put in charge of the arrangements and the delegates will be well taken care of on their visit to Duluth.

THE SMALLEST REPUBLICS.

Chicago News: It is usually supposed that Monaco is the smallest independent state in Europe, but as a matter of fact there are three states that are still smaller. It is also a matter of common belief that France, Switzerland and Portugal are the only republics in Europe, but there are two others, the republics of Andorra and San Marino. These two republics and the principality of Liechtenstein are all of them smaller than Monaco, and they all claim to be autonomous and independent.

Liechtenstein is crowded away between Austria and Switzerland, and it used to have a tiny army of its own, but this was abolished for fear some one might want to fight with it. Austria keeps a benevolent eye upon Liechtenstein, while France performs a similar paternal function toward Andorra, which is in the Eastern Pyrenees, but San Marino looks after her own territory, thirty-three spuare miles in extent, without foreign aid.

The people of San Marino are as proud of their glorious republic and of its enlightened institutions as republicans anywhere else. San Marino has an army of 1,000 men, and these 1,000 men have been found amply sufficient to keep at bay the predatory hordes of military Europe.

Lighting Talks

NUMBER 2 DULUTH, APRIL 25, 1911

FOR THE BENEFIT OF ALL

In this Age of Electricity, the business of supplying Electric Service for light and power is more intimately bound up with the welfare of the modern city than almost any other enterprise.

The Duluth Edison-Electric Company is so closely identified with the prosperity of this community, that if the city advances the company must advance with it; if the growth of Duluth is retarded, this company is among the first to suffer.

For many years this company has been an important factor in promoting the business and industrial growth of Duluth. For many years we have been building up an Electric Light and Power business for the purpose of giving this community the BEST SERVICE at the lowest prices at which such service can be given, in fairness to the public and the company alike.

In "Lighting Talk" No. 1, we told you that we are in this Electric Lighting business HERE TO STAY. It is to YOUR interest to remember that. And we want you to understand just what it means.

The Electric Light Company differs from all ordinary manufacturing or merchandizing concerns in two important particulars, namely: .

(1) The Electric Light Company does not deal in commodities; it performs a SERVICE. And by the quality of that service it must stand or fall—succeed or fail.

(2) The Electric Light Company cannot be transplanted to any other city.

The Duluth-Edison Electric Company has invested many hundreds of thousands of dollars to serve the People of Duluth. Both investment and Service are local, and by their very nature cannot be moved to any other place. If this company is to continue in existence, it can only be right here in Duluth.

We submit that there is no reason why this company should not continue to exist. It was organized and is conducted in accordance with the Laws of a law-abiding State. And under those laws this company cannot be forced out or driven out of the Electric Lighting business in Duluth.

Furthermore, this company enjoys the confidence of this community, because its Service NEEDS NO EXCUSES.

Think this over—and watch for "Lighting Talk" No. 3 in next Thursday's Herald.

GARDEN FOR CHILDREN

Pupils of Salter School Will Cultivate Large Vacant Lot.

Owners Donate Use of Land —Forty Individual Garden Plots.

In line with the homecroft movement and as a partial result of interest in talks given before the boys and girls of the C. C. Salter school on gardening, both of vegetables and flowers, the plot of ground, 150 by 150 across from the school on Sixteenth avenue east and London road will be turned into a large garden by some of the pupils of that school.

About forty children will divide the plot and will plant and care for individual gardens in which they are planning to raise vegetables and flowers for marketing. Nearly half of these are girls, there being about fifteen girls who will run their own gardens.

The ground has been loaned to the pupils by Little & Nolte, Mendenhall & Hoopes and C. H. Berris for their use during the summer and it will prove a benefit to the land as it will be cleared from all rocks and stones. The children who will work the ground have raised money for the plowing and are anxious to begin their work.

This movement will probably be taken up in other schools.

DROPS 300 FEET.

Gaastra, Mich., Miner Falls From Bucket Down Shaft.

Iron River, Mich., April 25.—Gilbert de Grasse, aged 21, met death in a tragic manner at Gaastra, near here recently when he fell from the bucket near the top of the shaft at the Corry iron property and plunged to the bottom of the workings, a distance of 300 feet. He met death the eve of a two weeks' leave of absence granted him to be married that he might take his bride on a wedding journey.

DEATH IS DUE TO OLD AGE

Mrs. Anna Jacobson Passes Away at Age of 92.

Mrs. Anna Jacobson, 92 years of age, one of the oldest residents of the city, died last evening at St. Luke's hospital of complications resulting from old-age. She is survived by three daughters, Mrs. O. M. Anderson of Duluth, Mrs. Carrie Olson of Jacksonville, Fla., and Mrs. Anna Powers of Spokane, Wash., fourteen grandchildren and eight great grandchildren. She has resided in the state the last twenty years. Death was due to complications resulting from old age. The funeral will take place Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock from Stewart's undertaking rooms, 222 Third avenue west, with interment at Forest Hill cemetery.

THE CHROMATIC HERO.

Puck: At first glance the novel's title, "The Rainbow," seemed to be lacking in significance, but as it afterward developed that the hero Blushed crimson, Was blue with the cold, Had his lips grow gray, Was seized by a black rage, Fell into a brown study, Grew green with envy, Purple with indignation, Livid with fear, Yellow with chagrin, and Scarlet with embarrassment, the title proved to be entirely apt.

GRANDMOTHERS' BEAUTIFUL HAIR

Color and Beauty of the Hair Preserved with a Harmless Remedy Made from Sage.

Druggists everywhere comment on the fact that they are selling large quantities of sage for making old-fashioned "sage tea," such as was used by our grandmothers for promoting the growth of their hair, making it fluffy and beautiful and restoring its natural color.

The demand for this well-known herb for this purpose has been so great that one manufacturer has taken advantage of the fact and has placed on the market an ideal "sage tea," containing sulphur, a valuable remedy for dandruff and scalp rashes and irritations, called Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy.

The manufacturers of this remedy authorize druggists to sell it under guarantee that the money will be refunded if it fails to do exactly as represented.

This preparation is offered to the public at fifty cents a bottle, and is recommended and sold by all druggists.

Cleveland Vesselman Makes Contract for Ore at 1910 Rates.

The ore shippers are feeling their way. They are testing the temper of the trade in other words. Some sales are being made in Cleveland but only such amounts as they may need for immediate use. They are awaiting the developments of the season before laying in much stock.

One contract for carrying ore was made Monday. The deal covers about 200,000 tons of ore. The rate clause calls for the going rate which is understood, and is so stated, to be 70 cents from Lake Superior and 55 cents from Lake Michigan.

In the face of the chaotic condition that prevails among vesselmen this contract is expected to have considerable to do with the season rates. All kinds of rumors were spread about rates, but outside of the one charter, no business was done.

For the last three years the vesselmen have pursued a constructive policy of operating and have tried to build up the vessel business from every angle. It was feared that the reduction of ore prices might have some detrimental effect and a waiting policy seems to be the plan.

Those who have been leaders in the vessel business are against any reduction in rates and the ore shippers were too much occupied with other matters yesterday to fully take up the subject of freights. It is believed by the more conservative vessel managers that if no contracting is done for a few days and the going rates demanded for such scattering ore cargoes as may be offered early in the season when the business gets to going, contracts will be made at the rates named in the first carrying contract of the season.

A reduction in rates at this time it is feared will spell ruin for the efficient organizations that have been established. Wages, insurance and other operating expenses are the same as last year and even with the largest ore traffic ever handled on the Great Lakes, profits were no more than sufficient to pay small dividends. With the season traffic several millions less than in 1910, and everything indicates a smaller season, the vessels can not be expected to make as much money.

The holding back of ships until there is enough ore business to keep them going and freight rates at last year's scale vessels will probably be able to break even and possibly make a little profit. Cutting of rates will not increase the amount of ore to be sent down and will not help a boat make money.

Some shippers who have vessel connections plan to put one boat at a time into commission until the business picks up. What tonnage they have beyond that amount necessary to keep a vessel busy will be given oue at the going rate. They are willing to pay on the basis of 70 cents from the Head of the Lakes and most of the connected shippers are believed to be willing to meet the rate. From the shippers' standpoint it is not so much a matter of a few cents difference in the price per ton for carrying ore, as of being on an equal footing with other shippers.

DOWNBOUND BOATS TAKE NEW CHANNEL.

Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., April 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—The present arrangement for boats passing the Soo canal is for downbound boats to take the new channel north of Bridge island and upbound vessels the south channel. Men have been stationed on the walls to notify ships regarding this order which may be interrupted from time to time on account of contract work effecting one channel or the other.

WIND IN THE MOVING PICTURES.

Philadelphia Ledger: "What makes the wind blow so much in the moving pictures?" The question is asked by almost every one who has been bitten by the bug of moving picture show. It is a fact that in every scene where there's hal fa chance of getting up a breeze it blows a tornado, or at least a brisk gale disports itself in the trees in the background and the skirts of the harassed heroine in the front.

A moving picture man solved the problem.

"That's easy," he replied in answer to a query. "If the pictures were taken when the air was perfectly still, then if the living characters happen to be still also the picture would be as dead looking as a 35 cent chromo of 'Twilight.' So a time is selected for photographing the scenes outside when the wind is playing old hob with things generally, trees swaying and skirts fluttering and hair flying—haven't you ever noticed how much more effective a woman is when her hair is streaming behind her like the burgee on a racing yacht? Then too when everything's busy moving it looks like there's something doing all around."

FIRST COAL IS RECEIVED

Steamers McGean and Truesdale Make Port From Lower Lakes.

First Lumber Cargoes of Season Soon to Be Loaded.

The first cargoes of coal were received in the local harbor this morning when the steamers J. A. McGean and William Truesdale came in loaded with this commodity from the Lower Lakes.

These two boats were the first of a number which are expected during the present week. The movement has been quite general down the lakes and while a number of the boats are coming light to await ore cargoes, many of them are coming with coal.

The City of Bangor got away with a load of grain yesterday afternoon. Boats are going out as fast as they can be made ready and can get a load. Boats are also making port regularly and the 1911 navigation is well under way.

The steamer Simon Langell with two consorts is expected about the last of the week from Lake Erie. She will probably be the first boat to load lumber this season. It is reported that chartering is being done on a basis of $2.50 from the Head of the Lakes to Lake Erie ports. This, it is said, is about the same rate as was in effect last year.

MOVING DAY APPROACHES

May 1 Is Saddest Day of Year for the Renters.

Van Companies Report That Usual Shifting Will Take Place.

Renters and agents are engaged in their annual squabble over rents, improvements and renovations; father and mother are having animated discussions over whether the new house is better than the old, and whether they should keep the front bedroom for the family or take a roomer; van company employes are carefully explaining that it is a physical impossibility for one team to move the effects of two families at once, and are listening as patiently as possible to the charge that the rough men they have on their vans broke the right fore leg off Mrs. Smith's beautiful bird's-eye maple dresser.

Did you ever move? Did you ever decide that the house you were living in was entirely too small; that the location was not up to what you could afford on your salary; that you didn't like the agent you rented from, and, anyway, a change once in a while is the best thing one can have for the enjoyment of life?

Did you ever start out to rent a house, or have your wife drag you out on that joyful mission? Did you ever drag your tired feet from avenue to avenue, from street to street, from car line to car line and far off the car line; visit backyards unspeakable and stairs innumerable; interview agents obdurate and owners uncivil; and then, in desperation, make a selection of a house that you know will not suit you or anybody else in the family?

Pity the poor man of the household on moving day! Why not pity the poor woman too, you say? Why not? Because she doesn't need pity. When a woman cleans house or when a woman moves, she is in her glory. So it seems to the mere male man. She plunges into it with all the vim that a football player displays in the big game of the season. She doesn't exactly have a smile on her face, but there is a fierce joy in her grimness. She disturbs the established order of things and makes the dust fly around, while the mere male man looks on in speechless wonder.

The Man's Lot.

Picture the poor man of the household on moving day! On the night before things have been assembled, which means that the household furniture is thrown into jumbled heaps in the middle of the floor of the rooms. Pictures are torn from their hooks and curtains from their poles. Clothes are packed away in trunks and boxes and bed clothing is packed in bales. Hardly has he laid his tired form down on the bed before he is shaken out of his sleep and brought to his feet at the unearthly hour of 6 a. m. or thereabouts. The moving man will be along at 7 o'clock and things must be ready.

A day from the office is no holiday on moving day. It is a day of toil and torture. With nervous qualms the man of the household watches the seemingly careless van crew handle the furniture that he carefully picked out and paid for at the rate of $15 per month. He sees chair legs broken and clothing soiled. He sees the piano scratched and the bookcase jarred and he is helpless to save them.

When all is moved, all is confusion. The assignment of rooms is a task for an infallible diplomat or an obdurate dictator. Things that were carried upstairs must be carried down again. Things that were carried downstairs must be carried up again. Half the night he works, and it is with fierce joy that he escapes to the office in the morning, grabbing breakfast at a grab-and-eat lunch room on the way. Partial order has been restored when he returns to the house, but there are pictures to be hung, trunks to be stored and a thousand and one things to be done.

Moving day! Moving week rather! There is no joy for the man of the household when May 1 approaches.

Official Moving Day.

May 1 is still official moving day in Duluth and in most other places throughout the country. In Chicago an attempt is being made to change, and it is likely to meet with some encouragement, but the established rule holds good throughout most of the country.

Why do people move on May 1? Why is the mid-day meal eaten at 12 o'clock? It might be relished more at 1. Why do men wear vests? Why are coats worn in the office? Why are wedding rings given? Why are a million other senseless things done? Because it's the custom.

The matter was discussed at the meeting of the National Association of Building Managers last year. "Where did the custom originate?" someone asked, and nobody could answer. It just growed.

One variation has been made in Duluth from the custom of making all leases expire May 1. Leases for flats expire Sept. 1. No short-term leases are made on flats, for if one were to rent a flat in the fall, with a lease expiring May 1, there would be nothing to prevent one leaving the flat May 1, seeking some cheaper place where the cost of heat is not counted, and returning to the flat in the fall for another short period.

The amount of moving in Duluth this year will show little falling off. There are the chronic movers, who move every year by force of habit; the movers who are dissatisfied with flat life and are seeking detached houses; the movers who are dissatisfied with detached houses and are seeking flats; the movers who have bought houses and are going to occupy them as soon as the leases expire; movers and movers and more movers.

The van companies report demands on their time for the next month. The rental agents report that few people have neglected to sign leases up to this time and almost everything is rented. The man who is moving reports that he's disgusted.

THIS SQUARES ALL ACCOUNTS.

To the Editor of The Herald:

The members of the Duluth Teachers' association by unanimous vote expressed their thanks for the valuable assistance rendered by The Herald in their recent efforts to secure an increase in the salaries of grade teachers of Duluth.

The able articles of the editorial page and the willingness to give space to the letters and comments by the teachers were greatly appreciated by the members of the association and they wish to express their gratitude to the members of the staff who have so generously aided them.

Spring Medicine

There is no other season when medicine is so much needed as in the spring. The blood is impure and impoverished—a condition indicated by pimples, boils and other eruptions on the face and body, by deficient vitality, loss of appetite, lack of strength.

The best spring medicine, according to the experience and testimony of thousands annually, is

Hood's Sarsaparilla

It purfies and enriches the blood, cures eruptions, builds up the system.

Get it today in usual liquid form or chocolated tablets known as Sarsatabs.

"The Store of Quality."

About Custom Made Suits

The term "Custom Made" is a very much abused one among advertisement writers. They play fast and loose with it, until a suit at $25.00 is put under that designation, altho $25.00 barely covers the cost of the hand tailoring alone of a "Custom Made" suit.

This store has endeavored to build up a higher standard for Duluth Women in ready-to-wear clothes, and one of its most effective weapons has been the introduction of the truly "Custom Made" suit. We want to put it plainly. This is the only store in Duluth where a strictly "Custom Made" suit can be had, that is "Custom Made" in the same sense that a suit ordered to be made to your measure at a custom tailor's would be made, by hand thruout.

You may be interested in knowing in what respect this suit differs from the ordinary suit sold in the ordinary store. To begin with—every stitch of the suit is done by hand. The bust form of every coat is made by hand by sewing multitudinous pieces of canvas cloth of many angles together, instead of using ready-made bust forms. The cloth that covers this bust-form is then worked into shape by hand-stretching instead of being pressed into shape by a hot iron. This ensures the coat never losing its shape, sagging or breaking. Every suit is cut independently of every other suit, by hand and not put thru by machinery with one or two hundred other suits like it. Every suit is fitted and draped individually over a model to see that the lines are correct. And here's another important point that distinguishes the "Custom Made" suit from the ordinary suit, and that is that not alone is the cloth shrunk, before it is even cut for the suit, but after the various pieces composing the suit have been put together, it is again shrunk so that every gore and part sets perfectly before the final finishing.

This class of suit is what we have reference to in speaking of the "Custom Made" suit. It ensures absolute satisfaction to the wearer and is an economy, notwithstanding the prices at which it is necessary to sell them—namely $50.00, $57.50 and $65.00.

What Makes a Good Figure?

From the Retailer's point of view a well molded corset of course. We think we are in a better position to give that service thru our expert corsetieres than any other shop hereabouts. Just now we are featuring two corsets which we think so well of that we have adopted them as our own.

The "La Helene," ranging from $3.50 to $25.00.
The "S. & B. Special," ranging from $1.00 to $3.00.
The "Modart," the improved front laced, $5.00 to $15.00.
The "Rengo Belt" corset for Obese women.

Hints for the Boudoir

BY MILDRED WYCKOFF.

Cold Baths.

One of the finest tonics in the world is a cold dip early in the morning, but it is not everyone who can take it—at all events during the winter.

Many people have cold baths and find them very beneficial. One should not begin to take them in the middle of the winter, and even later they should be discontinued if the reaction is not prompt and effective. By that I mean the glow and feeling of warmth which should occur immediately after taking a cold bath.

If one, on the contrary, feels cold and shivery the bath is not doing good, and should not be continued.

People who are very thin are not likely to react well, and the cold bath frequently makes them lose flesh. Often it is recommended to reduce flesh.

Cold baths, like many other things, must be determined by the effects on the individual and should not be taken indiscriminately. It should always be remembered that cold baths are used only as a tonic and must not be considered as cleansing.

* * *

Coiffure Flowers.

What you wear in your hair may make you a beauty or the reverse. It may be smart to wear something hard and glittering in the coiffure when it is dressed for the evening, but it may not be becoming.

For this reason the popular gold and silver bandeaux are not suitable to every wearer neither is the diamond tiara unless worn far enough from the face not to dim the luster of the eyes.

Another item that is not becoming to the eyes is roses and other deep hued flowers worn close to the face. They are certain to make the eyes lose in depth.

A girl must be sure of her color if she is to sport gold and silver flowers in her hair.

For the same reason the favorite lining to hats of gold or silver tissue over white satin is apt to be a taker away of beauty. Flowers that have a hard sheen and vivid tone are infinitely more trying to the complexion even of rosy cheeked youth than a velvet flower or those of soft colorings.

Unless sure of your features do not wear anything in your hair, despite the fashion. The snub-nosed, the round-faced and the haggard woman seldom looks anything but a conquest in the latest things in coiffure ornaments.

Avoid Chemicals.

One in Despair—There is no safe chemical that will destroy hair. The electric needle, used by a skillful surgeon, is the only thing I could rècommend.

Care of the Hands

By CONSTANCE CARRUTHERS.

Quite as much care is necessary for the hands as for the complexion, and expert treatment is called in after a season of neglect. Ladies who appreciate well-kept hands must remember that regular attention is important.

Massage keeps the skin firm and a certain discrimination must be exercised in selecting cream for this purpose as well as soap for washing. One day's use of a soap that does not suit the individual skin is sufficient, in cold weather, to nullify the improvement gained by the specialist's treatment.

No woman who possesses even the most superficial knowledge concerning the structure of the human skin fails to realize the delicacy of texture of the outer covering. She chooses her emollient cream or her astringent lotion with the utmost care. A dry skin requires soap that forms a good lather.

Cold water is preferred by many people, in which case a good cream is necessary in wintry weather. After the hands have been thoroughly dried and a cream that quickly settles has been rubbed into the skin, it is a nice habit to finish them with a dash of perfumed powder, particularly just before putting on gloves.

All the little appliances used for manicuring have become not only cheaper but neater and more tasteful than they were even at a recent date. It is not sufficient to buy cream, powder, a bleach or acid and set to work without nail file and orange sticks.

Every professional manicurist has her own specialties, and the amateur who keeps her own nails brilliant would do well to emulate her. Some nails are of thin quality, and easily polished, others are of thicker substance and require more frequent and more sustained application of the polishing pad.

The woman that has found the toilet requisites that suit her is not easily allured to make an essay with new ones. Improvements, however, should be studied in every direction and early spring is the season when the results of scientific research are put on the market.

Motor parties who have braved the winds of the last week have all made appointments with complexion specialists. Electric massage is excellent and quite a number of clever people learn to use the essential mechanism for themselves.

Indeed a certain deftness of touch, a little knowledge of the muscles of the face and nerves are necessary in these days, when a high standard of personal hygiene is demanded. This knowledge is not a dangerous thing, it is useful.

With regular periodic treatment from a specialist, the woman who has had a few lessons in face massage and manicure is in a position to easily keep herself thoroughly conversant with new methods and latest fashions in toilet matters.

Never have Duluthians responded so quickly to musical opportunities as they have this week in the advance subscription sale of tickets for the Spring Festival of Music, which will be given by the Minneapolis Symphony orchestra, Friday and Saturday, June 2 and 3 at the Lyceum theater, under the auspices of Horace W. Reyner, Stephen H. Jones and T. W. Hugo.

More than $500 has been received by Mr. Reyner since Saturday morning for seats at these concerts and he says the orders have been pouring in by every mail. Yesterday twenty-four orders were filed.

The need of sending in subscriptions early is evidently being felt by those who wish to hear the programs and it is most wise to get them in as soon as possible for orders are filed in the order in which they are received and seats may be selected by the subscriber in accordance with their number on the subscription list.

The Minneapolis orchestra has been most enthusiastically received by Duluth music lovers since its first appearance here and has gained many staunch supporters.

FARGO WEDDING.

W. F. Fortune Leads Miss Dorothea Kennedy to Altar.

Fargo, N. D., April 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—Miss Dorothy Kennedy, daughter of National Republican Committeeman Kennedy of Fargo, was married at 10 this morning to W. F. Fortune. The ceremony was performed in St. Mary's cathedral by Bishop O'Riley.

A number of out-of-town people were present at the ceremony. This was one of the most interesting weddings of the after-Easter season as well as one of the most beautiful. The bride has been in a whirl of social entertainments for the past week and showered with happy well wishes by her numerous friends. After the ceremony at the church a wedding breakfast was served at the family home on North Broadway. After June 1 Mr. Fortune and his bride will be at home in the Broadway apartments to their friends.

WILL COME WEDNESDAY

Dr. Rubinkam Wil Arrive to Deliver Lectures.

The executive board of the Twentieth Century club held its regular monthly meeting yesterday at the club rooms of the library for the purpose of settling the bills and accounts of the two benefits already given for the Neighborhood house and for making final arrangements for the lectures to be given by Dr. Rubinkam for the benefit of the same house.

Dr. Rubinkam, who is one of the foremost men of acknowledged literary ability of the day, will arrive tomorrow morning and will give his first lecture Thursday afternoon at 3:30 at the Endion M. E. church at Nineteenth avenue east and First street, on "Tennyson and Darwin." His second lecture will be given on Saturday afternoon at the same place and hour on "Jose Echegaray and the Great Galecto." Monday evening he will close the course with a lecture at 8 o'clock on "Materlinck and the Blue Bird." at the same place.

A great deal of interest has been manifested in this course and it promises to be a financial as well as literary success.

The hour for the afternoon lectures has been set a half hour later than was originally announced that the teachers may have a chance to attend them.

Dinner for Mme. Orendorff.

Frank Porter has returned from Grand Forks, N. D. While there he was a guest at a dinner given by O. Young for Mme. Orendorff, Mr. Porter's sister, who was the soprano soloist with the St. Paul Symphony orchestra this winter. She was also the only soloist who appeared with Mme. Schumann-Heink in her St. Paul concert. She has been making a tour of the larger cities of the Northwest with the orchestra, and made a most favorable impression in Grand Forks.

New Society.

A new society, the Duluth Young Men's Workmen's Circle, was organized Sunday at a meeting held in Odd Fellows hall, with twenty-five charter members. The officers for the circle are: J. Lussan, president; W. Litman, secretary, and H. Singer, treasurer.

This circle is a branch of the National order of the Workmen's Circle.

The Doctor

To Dress a Cut.

A severe cut should first be carefully washed with warm water to remove any dirt, glass or hairs, and to make sure that nothing is left in the wound. The edges should be carefully brought together and secured by a piece of bandage or sticking plaster.

The proper way to apply plaster is not to cover the wound completely. Several narrow strips should be cut and put on across the wound in order to keep the cut surfaces in contact, and a pad of lint, either dry or moistened, with an antiseptic solution, placed over and changed daily. Very large cuts may require stitching, but in such cases the help of the physician is necessary.

Asthma and Its Treatment.

Asthma is very much more common among men than among women, and it is a disease that is largely hereditary. The chief symptom is a distressing attack of shortness of breath, during which the patient feels as if he were suffocating.

The difficulty is to get air out of the chest and the air cells which make up the bulk of the lungs are in a state of over-distension. The face is generally bluish or pale, and bears an expression of distress and anxiety.

The attacks most commonly occur in the small hours of the morning, and sometimes a sufferer dare not lie down at all, but has to content himself with such rest as he can take in an armchair, or propped up in bed.

Much may be done to relieve a paroxysm by drinking strong coffee, or inhaling the fumes of burning nitre or stramonium, but it is best to consult a doctor as to which remedy would be most suitable for a particular case.

Any person having an asthmatic tendency should have as much fresh air as possible by night as well as by day, and he should also take a fair amount of gentle walking exercise.

Flannel clothing must be worn, with plenty of ventilation allowed for, as warmth and lightness of weight are to be equally aimed at.

A person having asthma must live very plainly and frugally, and must not have heavy meals at night.

THE EVENING STORY

A KISS

By Jean Davis.

He turned suddenly and said, "I am glad that you did not let me kiss you last night."

A flash of surprise, almost as swift as thought passed over her face. But she kept her curiosity well under control. "You should not have attempted it," she said, with an assumption of gentleness that she did not feel, for she was conscious of an inward burst of resentment at his remark, without knowing why. "You ought to have known," she added, "that it would not do."

"I know it," he said, "but somehow, I could not help it."

"Why"—in an innocent manner—"are you so repentant," he said. "It makes me long all the more eagerly to try again. But if you had failed me, if you had permitted me, then it might have been different."

She looked out thoughtfully through the door of the summer house, down over the slope of the verdure clad hills before her, into the slumbering valley below. "I do not understand you," she said at last.

"I almost hesitate to explain, for fear that you will understand me still less."

"Am I so dense as that?"

"Oh, no. But I am a man, and you are a woman. Our view points are so widely opposed."

"Come!" she replied, with a trace of impatience. "Please don't split hairs. You are a man, therefore you have a reason for everything. Why should you be timid about disclosing it? You remarked that you were glad I did not let you kiss me. Well, why?"

"Because I can now keep on wishing all the more for it."

"You mean——"

"You see," he went on, confidentially, "you are a wonderful girl to me. Everything about you is just splendid. I'm really—well gone on you. I might as well tell you that in the beginning.

"You've already—"

"I know it. But it will bear repeating. Now, I've seen enough of the world"—he drew himself up proudly—"and of man and things, to know that the moment you get what you want, you grow tired. Don't we see it everywhere? A man falls in love, marries the girl, they're in a dream of bliss, it's all lovey-dovey, and then the dream's over, and they settle down to a hum-drum life. Of course, I feel differently about it from what I did last night. Then I was anxious to kiss you, and when I found that I couldn't it fairly upset me. But now I can reason about it, and see what is best. And just because I couldn't do it makes me love you all the more. But now I can keep on loving you for ever, and longing for you. Promise me you won't yield. You might want to yourself, you know—I don't pretend, of course, to be able to answer for you—but if you should, don't give in. No matter how hard I may try, keep me off, will you, just enough to make it eternally interesting?"

"I'll try," she said. "In the meantime—" She rose. "I'm awfully hungry, arent you? Let's go in."

* * *

It was night, and they were alone again in the summer house.

He drew close to her. "Dearest," he whispered, "I was a fool this morning. Just remember that it never took place. I love you. I cannot live without you. All the days of my life are yours." He drew her to him. And suddenly, without warning of any kind, he kissed her, unresisting, and she permitted it.

She rose quickly and started to go. "Good night," she said.

"Where are you going?"

"In."

"But—"

She slipped away from him silently and swiftly. Before he realized it, he was alone with the stars.

It was morning again.

* * *

"Why did you leave me so suddenly last night?" he asked.

"A woman's reason—because—"

He caught her hands. "Don't you see," he said, "that you've driven me crazy, set me all on fire? Come, darling, I cannot wait!" He attempted to draw her to him.

She threw him off. There was a gleam in her eye. "Yesterday morning," she said, "you begged me not to permit you to kiss me. Last night, contrary to your request, I permitted it, just to prove that you were wrong. Now you may go. It is all over. You have what you asked for. You are satisfied. Go!"

"But you can not mean it. Don't make me pay such a penalty. Take me back."

"Never!" She turned to go.

"But dearest, I was a fool yesterday morning. Surely you—"

"No," she said, "you were not a fool. For a short time you were reasonable; something that no woman can ever forgive."

HOUSEHOLD ECONOMY

Hint for Amateur Carpenters.

To remove a tight screw from a piece of wood, heat a poker red hot and hold it against the screw head for a little while; wait a few minutes for the screw to cool down, when it will be found that the screw can be removed quite easily with the same screwdriver that just previously would not perform the work.

Choosing Window Blinds.

* * *

Always choose colored blind materials with a glazed surface, for the reason that they are far easier to keep clean than the dull finished ones. As soon as they begin to look soiled take them down, lay on the table, and rub with finely powdered bread crumbs. Unless they are very badly stained, which they should never be allowed to get, this will make them quite fresh and clean again. The great thing is not to let them get very dirty before cleansing.

* * *

Helps for the Housekeeper.

If new boots don't polish quickly, rub over with a piece of cut lemon.

When cutting new bread heat your knife by dipping it into a jug of hot water. In this way you may cut the thinnest slices from a new loaf quite easily.

To store furs safely from the ravages of moths, sprinkle the furs well with pepper and then wrap them in newspapers, and paste the newspapers all round securely on all sides.

Ground coffee sprinkled freely among the fur or feathers of freshly-shot game will keep it sweet for a considerable time. It should always be treated in this way when packed for traveling.

THE SEVEN BIBLES.

The American Hebrew: Mohammed in his capacity as legislator for the Arabs made a distinction in treating of the non-Islamic world between those peoples who had a scripture and those who had not. Among the former he included the Jews, the Christians, and strangely enough, the Sabaeans, whose holy writings have since disappeared.

It should be a curious problem for modern Mohammedan authorities to decide as to which peoples may be said to have what corresponds to a Bible. Would they include the Chinese, with their books of kings, Shi-King, Li-King, and the rest? Would the Brahmins, with their Vedas, be included? Or the Buddhists, with their Tripitaka? A still further problem would be raised by a case like the Eddas, which had the force of a Bible among the early Norsemen, but have since lost their force. Here would be the case of a Bible without a people rather than of a people without a Bible. On any method of enumeration, however, Jews would receive the benefit of the Mohammedan law with their Bible, which is acknowledged as authoritative even by the Koran.

MEETING OF PROTEST

Socialists and Labor Unions Will Unite in Mass Meeting.

Claim Indianapolis "Kidnaping" Is Similar to Haywood Incident.

Socialists of Duluth will hold an open meeting in Kalamazoo hall, 18 West Superior street, at 8 o'clock Thursday evening to protest against the "kidnaping" of John M. McNamara, secretary of the International Structural Iron Workers, who with two alleged confederates is being spirited from Indianapolis to Los Angeles, where they will be tried for blowing up the building occupied by the Los Angeles Times Oct. 1, 1910, when twenty-one men were killed.

The Socialists have invited the Industrial Workers of the World and the Duluth Trades assembly to meet with them. The invitations have been accepted by the two organizations. Socialist leaders declare McNamara was literally "kidnaped" as were Haywood and Moyer several years ago from Colorado to Idaho. They were accused of being implicated in the murder of Governor Stuenberg but they were acquitted.

Richard Jones, president of the Duluth Trades assembly, who will probably be one of the speakers at Thursday's meeting, said today that the chief question at issue now was not the guilt or innocence of McNamara. He said if McNamara is guilty he should be punished, but that if he is innocent he should be given a fair opportunity to prove his innocence.

He insisted that the guilt or innocence of McNamara is just now a secondary question and that the rights of any American citizen, guaranteed him by the Constitution and its amendments, are in jeopardy and are the principal question at issue. He compared the case to the Haywood and Moyer cases.

MINNEAPOLIS GETS GOOD.

Mayor Haynes Orders All Slot Machines Out of Business.

Minneapolis, Minn., April 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—Mayor James C. Haynes has issued an order to the chief of police prohibiting the use of slot machines in Minneapolis and ordering the police chief to confiscate all slot machines. The mayor's order is the result of his agreement with the grand jury to enforce the law prohibiting slot machines. The grand jury reported that there are 578 places in the city in which slot machines were operated.

The mayor's order does not apply to machines used in vending merchandise, such as gum machines or stamp machines.

Foley's Honey and Tar Compound has many times saved us much trouble and we are never without it in the house." All druggists.

WEST END

CONTRACT FOR NEW APARTMENTS

Handsome New Flat Building Is Planned for West Third Street.

Jacobson brothers were yesterday awarded the contract for the erection of a $10,000 brick flat building at 2313-15 West Third street. Ground for the new structure will be broken this week and the work will be rushed to an early completion. It will be erected for G. Anderson.

The new flat will be a four compartment affair and will be one of the most up-to-date structures on West Third street. It will have a fifty-foot frontage on Third street and will set back from the street in conformity with the building line. The architect is F. G. German.

Little property is for sale on West Third street and with the erection of the new flat building on the two vacant lots between Twenty-third and Twenty-fourth avenues, vacant property will be at a premium in the residence district.

During the past week, David Adams closed a deal for the sale of a cottage at Thirty-ninth avenue west and Third street, costing $2,400, to John Arenson. Mr. Adams also has other deals pending, but they have not been closed as yet.

Parish Meeting.

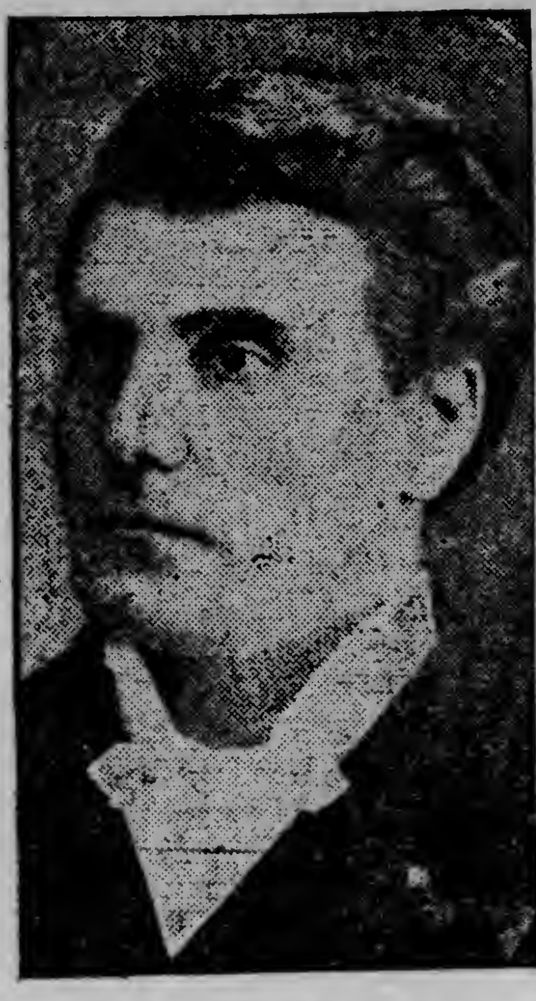
The annual meeting and banquet of the parishioners of St. Peter's Episcopal church, Twenty-eighth avenue west and First street, will be held Monday evening. Several speakers will be present at the affair and there will be a musical program in connection. Arrangements have not been completed.

WIFE RECOVERS; HUSBAND STRICKEN

New Mexico Climate Benefits Mrs. Stockland; Harmful to Husband.

Rev. M. O. Stockland, former pastor of Grace M. E. church, who exchanged pupils with Rev. J. H. Murray of Silver City, New Mexico, with the view of benefiting his wife's health, may have to move to another climate in the interests of his own health and that of his eldest son.

Duluth friends have received news to this effect from the Stocklands. Mrs. Stockland, who was suffering from tuberculosis in Duluth, has effected an almost complete cure in the New Mexico climate within the past few months.



REV. M. O. STOCKLAND.

On the other hand, the high altitude has had a harmful effect on the health of Mr. Stockland and his son, who have heart trouble. Physicians have recommended that they make a change.

Men's Club Meeting.

A program of speeches and music will be held in connection with the regular meeting of the recently organized Men's club of Grace M. E. church, Twenty-second avenue west and Third street, Friday evening. R. D. Haven heads the committee in charge of the affair.

Teacher Dies.

Edna Sofia Stahbrodt, aged 25, a teacher in the rural school district, died of tuberculosis yesterday at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Stahbrodt, who lives on the Hermantown road. Miss Stahbrodt returned a few months ago from the sanitarium at Pine City. The funeral will be held tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock from the residence to Union cemetery. Rev. J. W. Loughridge will officiate.

West End Briefs.

The Ladies' Aid Society of Grace M. E. church will be entertained Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. C. E. Dice of 2702 West Fourth street.

Mrs. Melker Peterson was surprised yesterday afternoon at her home, 2018 West Fourth street, in honor of her 50th birthday. She was presented with many gifts. About twenty-five guests were present.

Andrew Peterson, a former West end resident, now of Spokane, Wash., is visiting former friends in the western end of the city.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Webb and son of Glyndon, Minn., are guests today at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Jule of the United States block.

Miss Ethel Johnson of Twenty-third avenue west has returned from a trip to the Twin Cities.

The funeral of Mrs. Hildur Johanna Grenvall, aged 18, wife of Alex N. Grenvall of 2026 West Fifth street, who died Saturday at St. Luke's hospital, was held this afternoon from the Olson & Crawford undertaking rooms and the First Norwegian-Danish M. E. church to Park Hill cemetery. Rev. Edward Erickson officiated.

Henry A. Anderson of West Fourth street has gone to the Western coast cities for a month's trip.

E. B. Thompson has gone to Winona, Minn., where he expects to spend the summer on his farm.

The Parthenoi Society of the Swedish Mission church will meet this evening at the church, Twenty-first avenue west and Second street.

The Rebekah Guild of St. Peter's Episcopal church will be entertained Thursday afternoon at the guild rooms, Twenty-eighth avenue west and First street, by Mrs. Carl Frykman.

The Ladies' Aid Society of the First Swedish M. E. church will be entertained Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. L. G. Forsen of 1911 West Fourth street.

The Lion drug store has moved to the new Anderson-Thoorsell block, 2030 West Superior street.

FOREIGN WOMEN MORE PROLIFIC

Immigrants Have Nearly Twice as Many Babies as Americans.

Washington, April 25.—Immigrant women on an average bear nearly twice as many children as do American women of native parentage, according to statistics compiled from the twelfth census, which also show that as the races became Americanized the number of children is lowered, the first generation of the foreign stock almost invariably showing a greater number than the second.

French-Canadian immigrant women are bearing children two and one-half times as fast as the native Americans. The Italian women closely approach, but do not quite equal the French-Canadians.

Larger families are reared in the rural districts than in the cities, the returns show. The sections selected for this study were Rhode Island, Cleveland, Ohio, and forty-eight largely rural counties in Ohio, and Minneapolis, Minn., and twenty-one largely rural counties in Minnesota.

Polish Women Lead.

Among white women the first generation from Poland bears a child every 2.3 years of married life on the average, while the second generation of English women averages one child every five years. The averages for women of foreign parentage is one child every 3.2 years, compared with one in every 5.3 years for women of native parentage.

In the rural districts the women of native American parentage who were in the second decade of their married life had borne on the average one more child than the same class of women in Cleveland and Minneapolis or Rhode Island, the figures for the cities averaging 2.4 compared with 3.4 in the rural counties.

This difference is not usually so marked among women of foreign parentage. As a rule the average number of children in each nationality is highest in rural Minnesota and lowest in the cities or in Rhode Island.

One in Six Children.

In Rhode Island of the women of native parentage who had been married between ten and twenty years more than one in six had borne no children, while among the foreign women the proportion was less than one woman in twelve. The smallest percentages were those for the French-Canadian and Italian women, of whom only one in twenty have had no children, and the largest was that for native negro women, of whom 22.5 per cent have had no children.

Childlessness among negro women in the North is one of the notable facts brought out in the returns. In Minneapolis 19.1 per cent of the negro women bear no children. Practically the same percentage, 19.6, is shown for the city of Cleveland, while in Rhode Island the percentage was 23.1.

RUNAWAYS CAPTURED.

Ten of Twelve Boys Who Escaped From Red Wing Taken.

Red Wing, Minn., April 25.—Ten of the twelve boys who escaped from the state training school Sunday evening have been captured by officers and returned to the institution.

There is little opportunity for the other two to get away, as all the trains are being watched and the farmers living within a radius of from ten to fifteen miles have been notified to be on the lookout. If the boys are captured by citizens a reward of $10 is paid by the state.

Since the investigation of the school there has been a pronounced feeling of escape was effected when the windows of the lavatories were broken. How they got into the basement from their regular quarters is somewhat of a mystery.

Since teh investigation of the school ther has been a pronounced feeling of unrest among the boys and it is said many plans have been formulated by the older inmates for escaping.

BIG SIOUX FALLS FIRE.

Sioux Falls, S. D., April 25.—The shops and round house of the Dakota & Southwestern railway here were destroyed and several locomotives destroyed early today. The loss will aggregate $75,000.

Drink Beer With Your Meals

GOOD beer, unlike the other beverages generally used at meal time, has a value beyond its thirst-quenching and refreshing qualities. The malt contained is in itself a food, the hops provide a valuable tonic and the small percentage of alcohol is a valuable aid to digestion. Choose a beer that is absolutely pure, that is aged so perfectly it cannot cause billiousness and that has a genuinely delicious flavor. Such a beer is at certain periods of her life needs a tonic stimulant to help her overcome the trials and sickness which only a woman knows. Strength and health render unimportant the ills and troubles that otherwise seem so formidable. To build up the body and enrich the blood there's no tonic known so good as

Every Woman

Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey

For over fifty years it has been the standard remedy for every condition where a health and strength builder is needed. It overcomes weakness in a gradual natural manner—restores the tissues to a vigorous, healthy condition.

It is a wonderful remedy in the prevention and cure of consumption, pneumonia, coughs, colds, grip, malaria, low fevers, stomach troubles and all wasting and weakening conditions, if taken as directed.

Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey is the only whiskey that was taxed by the Government as a medicine during the Spanish-American war.

Every Woman Try This.

Every woman at some time or other needs a reliable, antiseptic sanative wash and here is a physician's formula for mixing the very best one at home. Obtain at the drug store 2 ounces antiseptic vilane powder, 1 ounce tannic acid, and 1 ounce sulphate of zinc. Mix together and use a teaspoonful to a quart of warm water, as a douche or injection. This is reliably antiseptic, and soon checks unnatural discharges, such as leucorrhea, or whites; overcomes inflammation, heals, tones and purifies the parts thus promoting regularity, health and happiness.

SESSION IS SECRET ONE

Labor Unions Will Not Disclose Plans for Strengthening Organizations.

Seventy Delegates Present at Conference—Adjourn Until May 8.

Whatever plans were made last night at the conference of Duluth labor unions to strengthen the unions in Duluth, will be kept secret.

Every union in the city was represented at the meeting, it is said. It was held at Rowley's hall on West First street. The next meeting will be held on May 8.

About seventy delegates were present at the first meeting of the conference. It is thought that a number of meetings of the delegates will be held before the conference finishes its work.

A great part of the evening is said to have been given over to the work of organizing. The delegates decided upon a series of meetings instead of the one as had been planned some time ago.

The object of the conference is to strengthen the unions in Duluth. It is probable that organizers will be brought to Duluth for several of the unions. An organizer from the state federation of labor is also expected, it is said.

Plans for a building to house local labor unions were not considered, as reported.

One Conductor Helped Back to Work.
Mr. Wilford Adams is his name, and he writes: "I was confined to my bed with chronic rheumatism and used two bottles of Foley's Kidney Remedy with good effect. The third bottle put me on my feet and I resumed work as conductor on the Lexington, Ky., Street Railway. It will do all you claim in cases of rheumatism." It clears the blood of uric acid. ALLEGED KIDNAPERS OF UNION OFFICIALS by the justice at $10,000 each for Drew and Ford and $5,000 for Fox.

Their attorney, W. A. Ketcham, after trying to secure bail, failed, and the men were taken to the county jail. A crowd had collected about the justice of the peace's office and when the men started for the jail there were applauding and jeering.

"What is the reason for increasing the bonds?" asked Mr. Ketcham of Justice Manning.

"Only the opinion of the court," the justice answered.

County Prosecutor Baker appointed this morning a special deputy, Henry Seyfried, to prosecute the cases.

Hunting for Burns.

During the proceedings in Justice Manning's court the search for Detective Burns was continued by four constables and it was stated that unless he was soon found ten more constables would join in the quest and all the rooms of the hotel in which Burns has been staying would be entered in an effort to arrest him.

The general charge against the men is that they conspired to take McNamara out of the state "without due process of law."

It is alleged he did not have an opportunity to consult counsel and resist extradition after his arrest last Saturday evening. After Governor Marshall had honored requisition papers for McNamara, Police Judge Collins turned him over to Police Sergeant Hossick of Los Angeles. He was put into an automobile driven by Fox and taken to Chicago Saturday night, bound for Los Angeles, to answer an indictment charging him with complicity in a dynamite explosion at the Llewellyn Iron works.

The affidavits against Drew, Ford and Cox were made by J. J. Keagan, a labor union leader of Indianapolis, and member of the Indiana legislature.

A. F. Badorff of New York, an assistant of Drew, was arrested by three constables at his room in the Claypool hotel at 11 o'clock this morning and taken before Justice of the Peace Manning. Badorff was taken in custody on a "John Doe" warrant, six of which were issued last night by Justice Manning on charges of kidnaping and conspiracy to kidnap.

The Marion county grand jury today starts its examination of the records, which were seized yesterday after a subpoena served on President Frank Ryan of the International Association of Bridge and Structural Iron Workers to produce the books before the grand jury, had been ignored.

An order, issued late yesterday by Judge J. T. Markey in criminal court, bars "private detectives and unofficial investigators" from examining the documents of the union, but permits the association officials to see the records in the presence of members of the grand jury or prosecutor.

Burns Has Evidence.

Columbus, Ohio, April 25.—Detective W. J. Burns, who was in Columbus for an hour last night en route to Indianapolis, divulged for the first time some of the evidence upon which he bases his charges that the McNamara brothers and O. F. McManigal were connected with the dynamite outrages in Los Angeles.

Burns said he had learned that J. W. McNamara was in Los Angeles at the time of the explosion, in fact, had been there for several days prior to the disaster.

"When J. W. McNamara arrives at Los Angeles this week he will be identified as the man who purchased dynamite from the Giant Powder company in that city and who used the alias of J. B. Bryce at that time," said Burns. "Aside from saying that he fits the description of the man who purchased the dynamite, I am not privileged at this time to say what other facts we have on which to base our conclusions. But you may say that I am absolutely positive that he will be recognized as the purchaser of the dynamite.

"Two sticks of dynamite were placed under the Times building, which failed to explode. They were taken to the Giant Powder company and identified as pieces which were purchased by this man Bryce."

Burns said that with McNamara when he bought the dynamite were David Caplan and M. A. Schmidt, for whom detectives have been searching since the dynamiting occurred. These two men, he says, were anarchists and had no connection with the international association of bridge and structural iron workers.

In Pay of McNamara.

"We have learned that J. W. McNamara was in the pay of J. J. McNamara, secretary of the iron workers' association, during the time that he was in Los Angeles and we also have proof that McManigal was in the pay of the secretary," continued Burns.

"Did McManigal have anything to do with the Times explosion?" Burns was asked.

"No, he is not charged with having had a hand in that," replied the detective. "He was the man whom we charge with blowing up the Llewellyn Iron works several weeks later."

Burns said that McManigal worked single-handed. He has proof, he says, that McManigal was in Los Angeles at the time of the iron works explosion and that he had traced his movements from the time he left the Middle West until he landed in Los Angeles.

"He also will be identified by persons in Los Angeles who can furnish proof that he was the man who did the job," said Burns.

"Have you any proof that McManigal was in touch with J. J. McNamara?"

"We have and we have further proof that J. J. McNamara furnished the money necessary to pull off both of the Los Angeles jobs. There is no doubt in the world that we have the right people."

RAIN

The weather man is still smiling upon Duluth. There is just a little too much chill in the air for the weather to be ideal, but one can easily forgive that much. The mercury ascended to 57 deg. yesterday and dropped to 35 deg. during the night. The weather man says showers for tonight with little change in temperature.

Cold weather prevailed a year ago today.

The sun rose this morning at 5:02 and it will set at 7:10 this evening, giving fourteen hours and eight minutes of sunlight.

Mr. Richardson makes the following comment on weather conditions:

"During the last twenty-four hours light rains fell over Southeastern Montana, South Dakota, Nebraska, Kansas, Colorado, New Mexico and Southern Florida in connection with low pressure areas centered over Alberta and Arizona. Temperatures have risen somewhat over North Atlantic states and the greater portion of the Northwest, except that the weather is a little cooler over Southeastern Montana and Wyoming. At the Head of the Lakes showers are quite likely during either tonight or Wednesday as a result of the easterly movement of the Alberta disturbance."

General Forecasts.

Chicago, April 25.—Forecasts for twenty-four hours ending at 7 p. m. Wednesday:

Upper Michigan—Fair tonight and Wednesday.

Wisconsin—Fair tonight, with warmer in north and west portions; Wednesday increasing cloudiness and warmer, and unsettled by night.

Minnesota — Increasing cloudiness, with probably showers tonight or Wednesday; warmer tonight in south and west portions.

Iowa—Increasing cloudiness, with showers tonight or Wednesday; warmer tonight.

North Dakota—Unsettled weather, with showers tonight or Wednesday; warmer in east portion tonight; cooler Wednesday.

South Dakota—Unsettled, with showers tonight or Wednesday; warmer in west portion tonight.

Montana—Cloudy tonight; Wednesday generally fair with cooler in east portion.

Upper Lakes—Moderate southeast to south winds; fair tonight and Wednesday.

TILDEN'S CASE TO BE CONSIDERED BY THE FULL SENATE

sentative Charles McMackin, from Southern Illinois.

Immediately upon reaching a decision, the committee adjourned until 2 o'clock this afternoon.

The recommendations of the committee were taken from the supreme court building to the state house by the chairman. At 11 o'clock the matter was ready for presentation to the body of the senate.

The committee reported to the body of the senate at 11:20 o'clock recommending that Edward Tilden, George M. Benedict and William C. Cummings, be compelled to appear before the bar of the senate, and there to explain why they should not stand in contempt of the senate.

The matter was made a special order of business for tomorrow morning, immediately following the reading of the journal. A distinct report was made by the committee for each of the three individuals concerned.

SHE GOT WHAT SHE WANTED

This Woman Had to Insist Strongly, but it Paid

Chicago, Ill.—"I suffered from a female weakness and stomach trouble, and I went to the store to get a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, but the clerk did not want to let me have it—he said it was no good and wanted me to try something else, but knowing all about it I insisted and finally got it, and I am so glad I did, for it has cured me.

"I know of so many cases where women have been cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound that I can say to every suffering woman if that medicine does not help her, there is nothing that will."—Mrs. Janetzki, 2963 Arch St., Chicago, Ill.

This is the age of substitution, and women who want a cure should insist upon Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound just as this woman did, and not accept something else on which the druggist can make a little more profit.

Women who are passing through this critical period or who are suffering from any of those distressing ills peculiar to their sex should not lose sight of the fact that for thirty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which is made from roots and herbs, has been the standard remedy for female ills. In almost every community you will find women who have been restored to health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

WOULD LIE AT ANY TIME FOR MONEY

when under oath at the time of casting his vote, he was asked by Attorney Morgan if he was in the habit of lying. To this question he answered that he would lie at any time or place if there was any money in sight.

Court Orders Arrest.

His examination was then interrupted by the court, who commanded a deputy sheriff to place the witness under arrest. Assistant County Attorney Warren E. Greene was communicated with and the charge of perjury will be charged against Shacdock and the matter brought to the attention of the May grand jury. In the meantime he will spend his time at the county jail.

Shacdock on direct examination said that he was raised in Wisconsin, about nine miles outside the city of Eau Claire. He said that he never was over the boundary into Minnesota until the month of January, 1911. He went to Brookston and entered the employ of Emil Gustafson, a saloon keeper, as bartender. The election at which he admits that he cast a vote was in March of the same year.

He says that his employer and the other men mentioned were much interested in the election and that they solicited his vote. They told him, he says, to swear that he had been in the state three years and in the village for a period of at least six months. They told him, he states, that if any trouble resulted, he would be "taken care of." He claims that he followed their orders.

The case or cases for there are a number of candidates who claim that they were defeated by fraud for office at Brookston last March, have been on before Judge Cant for several days past. After the occurrence today, the cases were continued until May 9.

Seven Cases.

There are in all seven cases. They are all being tried together. The defeated candidate for each of the village offices is suing the successful candidate. In each case the contestant asks that he be given the office for which he was a candidate claiming fraud against the winners.

The principal case is entitled "In the matter of the contest of Arthur F. Hutchins, contestant, against J. F. Ryan for the office of president of the village of Brookston, Minn."

Those bringing the suit claim that many were allowed to vote who had no right and that many who had a legal right to cast a vote, were not allowed near the polls.

There were a number of cases of the same kind from the same place, tried a year ago and it was found that a number had voted who were not residents of the village.

DIAZ IS CONVINCED PEACE WILL SOON BE RESTORED IN MEXICO

pointees as soon as the government representatives are named.

While members of the Madero family have not expressed themselves publicly, it is generally understood they regard El Paso as the most convenient meeting place for the peace commissioners. The meeting place, however, probably will be announced simultaneously with the names of the commissioners.

Peace negotiations, it is expected, will consume at least a fortnight. Confidence in the successful outcome of these negotiations marks the situation both in the insurrecto camp and in Juarez. Even Gen. Navarro, of martial mein and ferocious whiskers, is gentle as a lamb nowadays, according to reports from the Mexican city. The federal commander, it is said, has a smile and a cheery word for every one, including the once-hated reporters. His cane swings jauntily as he makes his inspections, and there is a coin for every beggar that besets his path. On odd moments he opens the prison gates to free some unfortunate—generally a harmless individual whose "viva," misdirected from the federal point of view, aroused official ire only a few short days ago.

Mormons Are Disturbed.

Apparently the only ones disturbed by the present situation in this part of Mexico — so lately the storm center—are the Mormons at Colonia Dublan. According to advices from Casas Grandes, most of the horses of Madero's army were left at that point when the insurrectos advanced on Juarez, and in their search for pasture many Mormon farmers have suffered. At least 1,000 horses are roaming in the vicinity of Casas Grandes, it is declared.

A rumor that the insurrectos intended to disarm the Dublan and Juarez colonists caused a delegation of Mormons to wait upon the insurrecto mayor of Casas Grandes, who assured them that there was no probability of such action. If the insurrectos were hard pressed, he said, they might buy arms and ammunition from the colonists. This, the Mormons replied, would be impossible, as they had none to sell.

All public gatherings in the evening have been discontinued in Colonia Dublan and Colonia Juarez.

PULP PLANT DAMAGED.

Fire Almost Destroys Tower and Elevator of Brainerd Concern.

Brainerd, Minn., April 25.—(Special to the Herald.) — The 75-foot tower and elevator of the Northwestern Paper company's pulp mill at the dam north of here was nearly destroyed by fire yesterday afternoon. The fire also burned a 200-foot tramway leading from the tower to the Minnesota & International railway tracks.

Two freight cars loaded with pulp sheets were also destroyed. The pulp mill, a brick structure, was not damaged and the day crew worked today.

ADA CASE APPEALED.

Supreme Court to Pass on Fight Over License Question.

Ada, Minn., April 25.—At the recent city election 265 votes were cast and of these license polled 131 and no license 123. Both the "wets" and the "drys" claim the victory. Ada is working under a home rule charter, which provides that when the question of granting saloon licenses is voted upon a majority of the votes cast upon that particular question is sufficient. The state law provides that a majority of all the votes cast at the election are necessary for the proposition to carry. An injunction was served upon the city council restraining it from issuing any license. The motion was heard before Judge Watts of Crookston, who denied the injunction. The state filed a complaint in intervention and it is now practically a state case, as the assistant attorney general, who was at the hearing before Judge Watts, has filed a notice of appeal to the supreme court.

THE WOMAN OF MAGNETIC PERSONALITY

(From Clubwoman's Magazine)

The woman who seems to draw all others to her, who is the center of attraction at all gatherings—let's analyze her. First of all, she is a healthy, wholesome individual, possessing abundant vital energy. That's the reason for the contagious smile, the snap in her eye, the scintillating wit.

Every woman can be like that. It's surprising that so many overlook the first principle of self development —physical health and cleanliness. How many there are, dull of eye, pale of face, worn and tired, because of weakening drains on the system, due to unnatural secretions. No one should permit such a condition to continue. It's a simple matter to use a douche made by dissolving a teaspoonful of alatone in a quart of warm water. This quickly stops the trouble, odor included. Any druggist can now supply alatone in original package.

MILD, GENTLE LAXATIVE FOR WOMEN GIVEN FREE

So many of the ills of women are due to habitual constipation, probably because of their false modesty on the subject, that their attention cannot be too strongly called to the importance of keeping the bowels open. It is always important to do that, regardless of the sex, but it is especially important in women.

From the time the girl begins to menstruate until menstruation ceases she has always vastly better prospects of coming through healthy if she watches her bowel movements. If you find yourself constipated, with bad breath, pimply complexion, headaches, belching gas and other symptoms of indigestion and constipation, take a small dose of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. It is a woman's favorite laxative. You will find that you can do away with salts, strong cathartics, etc., which are entirely unsuited to women's requirements.

Mrs. Katherine Haberstroh of McKees Rocks, Pa., and Mrs. A. E. Herrick of Wheeler, Mich., who was almost paralyzed in her stomach and bowels, are now cured by the use of this remedy. A free sample bottle can be obtained by addressing Dr. Caldwell, and after you are convinced of its merits buy it of your druggist at fifty cents and one dollar a bottle.

Dr. Caldwell does not feel that the purchase of his remedy ends his obligation. He has specialized in stomach, liver and bowel diseases for over forty years and will be pleased to give the reader any advice on the subject free of charge. All are welcome to write him. Whether for the medical advice or the free sample address him Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 541 Caldwell building, Monticello, Ill.

Health and Beauty Advice

BY MRS. MAE MARTYN.

G. E. A.: When you wear a veil face powder will not help your complexion much, as it rubs off too easily. What you need is a good lotion that will not show on the skin. The next time you go to the drug store get four ounces of spurmax and dissolve it in one-half pint of hot water, adding two teaspoonfuls of glycerine. This lotion will clear up and whiten your skin, make it soft and velvety and give you a beautiful complexion. It will rid your skin of that shiny, greasy, sallow look and make it appear charming and youthful. I find this excellent for cold sores, freckles and pimples. It costs very little and will protect your face from the winds, and prove a splendid beautifier.

Charlotte: The quickest way to rid the face of its hairy growth is to employ delatone. This is easy to use and can be found at any drug store. Get an ounce of delatone and mix a little with water to make a thick paste; then spread on hairy surface and after two or three minutes remove and wash the skin and you will find the hairs are gone. You will have to pay a dollar an ounce for delatone, but it is worth it as a second application seldom is required.

Loella: Premature aging of hair is very discomforting and mars womanly beauty, but you can soon restore the true blonde and glossy tint if you get an ounce of marlax from a nearby druggist and steep it in a pint of water. The hair should be first washed with canthrox to remove all oil and dust, then dried, after which wash with the marlax tea, rinse in clear water and dry. You will find marlax quite harmless and inexpensive and it will change dull, streaky, faded hair to a rich, lustrous golden shade without staining or discoloring the skin.

Harriet: For your tired, dull, inflamed eyes you need a good eye tonic. Dissolve an ounce of crystos in a pint of water. Two or three drops of this in each eye daily will strengthen your eyes and make them bright and sparkling. This tonic will not smart and has proven a great aid to those who wear glasses. A friend of mine who has remarkably clear, beautiful eyes tells me that she uses this simple tonic regularly to keep them bright and full of expression. I find it excellent for weak, inflamed, tired eyes and granulated eyelids.

Alma: Your scalp needs a good, stimulating quinine hair tonic to remove the dandruff, stop irritation and falling hair. Get from any drug store one-half pint alcohol and one ounce quinzoin and mix it with one-half pint water and you will have a much better tonic than any of those ready-prepared tonics you have been buying. Brush your hair daily and, twice a week, apply this tonic to the scalp, rubbing it in gently. This will do wonders for your dull, lifeless, falling hair, and put your scalp in a healthy condition. This tonic will make your hair soft, silky and lustrous. Keep the scalp clean by frequent shampoos with canthrox and you will not have further trouble with your hair.

Cora S.: (a) As your hair is short and thin and you have so much trouble to make it stay up and look neat, try shampooing it twice a month with a teaspoonful of canthrox dissolved in a cup of hot water. This shampoo is the one generally used by the best hairdressers to make the hair look thick and lustrous. It produces an abundant lather, dries quickly and not only cleans the hair and scalp well, but stops all irritation and gives the scalp a feeling of pleasing freshness. Canthrox makes a delightful shampoo and will make your hair soft and fluffy. You will have little trouble then to make your hair look nice. Never use soap for shampooing, as it makes the hair brittle, harsh and takes away the glossy look. (b) To get rid of dandruff and stop falling hair, see reply to Alma.

Constance: Right now before warm weather sets in the best time to get rid of facial blemishes such as freckles, pimples, skin roughness, wrinkles, etc. But you should not use soap on the face very often, as it makes the skin dry and harsh. I recommend the use of a good greaseless face cream, which can be made by dissolving one ounce of almozoin (get it at any druggist's) in one-half pint cold water, and add two teaspoonfuls glycerine. Stir and let stand an hour or so. It is inexpensive and you will find its regular use will improve your skin wonderfully. It keeps the skin soft and satiny, smooth and moist. Almozoin cream jelly is a fine and soothing cleanser and will prevent blackheads, premature wrinkles, and when used as a massage cream will restore color to dark, sallow skin.

Carmen: It is a very easy matter to reduce your weight without leaving the skin wrinkled and flabby if you only know how. Here is the secret: Buy at any drug store four ounces of parnotis and put in 1½ pints of hot water. When cold strain and take a tablespoonful of the liquid before each meal. This is harmless and the pleasing way it will cut down your weight will surprise you. Avoiding rich, solid foods and taking plenty of exercise will assist greatly in getting rid of your fat quickly.

Inez G.: Don't worry; almost everybody else has the same troubles. At the approach of spring impurities in the blood usually manifest themselves and what you require to overcome the pimply, "muddy" complexion with is a good system tonic and regulator. You can easily make it yourself. Get from your druggist one ounce of kardene and dissolve it in one-half pint alcohol; then add one-half cup sugar and enough hot water to make a quart of tonic. A tablespoonful taken before each meal will soon rid your system of poisonous accumulations, and make you strong and healthy, bringing the ruddy glow of perfect health to your cheeks.

Written Report of Diver Has Not Yet Been Received.

Little stock is taken in the report that the city water may be contaminated by the conditions at the intake pipe at the Lakewood pumping station. The explanation of the water board that the joints are such that a leak at any joint is highly improbable is accepted by most people. The board explains that although the expansion band, put in by Diver Thompson, may be defective in itself, it is on the inside of the pipe, was an added precaution and that the original joint should protect the pipe from an influx of water near the shore.

C. A. Graves of the Duluth Testing laboratory, says that in connection with his daily analyses of the bath water at the Y. M. C. A., he has to make corresponding analyses of the city water and has never found it so free from nitrates as it is as present. The presence of these ingredients would indicate sewage and organic matter and their absence is regarded as a reassuring fact.

The board of water and light commissioners has not yet received the written report of Harry Halverson the diver who made the examination of the pipe recently, but it is expected to follow out the verbal report made to Manager Case. That report was one that some of the bolts were slightly loose and the expansion band around a joint near the well showed that cement, which had been placed between the band and the pipe, has washed out. No mention was made of the probability of leakage.

H. H. Thompson, the diver who made the repairs last fall, denies that his work was defective and claims that everything was all right when he completed his contract. As soon as the board receives the written report of the diver, such repairs as he may recommend will be made. In the meantime the members of the board say there is nothing to fear in the condition of the city water as they are satisfied that none of the joints are leaking and that there is no organic matter in the water.

ANOTHER PROTEST AGAINST MERGER

Stockholder of Ahmeek Mining Company Objects to Consolidation.

Boston, Mass., April 25.—At a special meeting of the Calumet & Hecla Mining company stockholders today Chadbourne H. Shorts of New York representing the estate of the late Thomas Chadbourne, the holder of 3,000 shares of the Ahmeek Mining company, presented a formal protest against a consolidation of the two corporations and asked the right to make an examination of the Calumet & Hecla property.

The meeting was adjourned until May 2, without action being taken. A meeting of the Ahmeek stockholders called today was also adjourned for a week, pending the outcome of litigation in Michigan over the proposed merger of the subsidiary companies of the Calumet & Hecla company with the parent body.

Four-Mile Logging Road.

Pentoga, Mich., April 25.—(Special to The Herald.) — The Von Platen Lumber company, which last year erected a saw mill plant at Iron Mountain, Mich., is preparing to build a logging railroad four miles in length. The line will penetrate a large tract of timber in Florence county, Wis., and will connect with the Chicago & Northwestern system at a point near Pentoga. It will be of standard gauge. The work of grading will be started the middle of May.

UPPER PENINSULA FIREMEN'S ANNUAL MEET.

Republic, Mich., April 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—The annual tournament of the Upper Peninsula Firemen's association will be held at Bessemer the latter part of the summer and the people of the Gogebic iron range city already are preparing to make the event the biggest reunion of the kind in the history of the flame fighters' organization. Aside from the funds raised by the department and the money subscribed by the citizens in general, the common council has appropriated $1,500 to help entertain the firemen. The tournament will take place the latter part of July or the first of August. It will attract to the Gogebic county seat thousands of people from all portions of Upper Michigan. Red Jacket, a Copper country village, is a candidate for the tournament of 1912.

ALLEGES FALSE ARREST.

Watersmeet Man, Accused of Outrage, Sues for $25,000.

Watersmeet, Mich., April 25.—(Special to The Herald.) — On the ground of false imprisonment, Isaac Revoyr of this village has brought suit in the Gogebic county circuit court against Timothy A. Kelly of Watersmeet, asking damages in the sum of $25,000. Kelly and a party of friends were driving to town a year ago when dynamite, alleged to have been "planted" in the highway, exploded as the team of horses passed over it and the men narrowly escaped serious, if not fatal, injury. Revoyr was accused of the outrage and was arrested. He spent ten days in jail pending his hearing in justice court and then was released because of lack of evidence. He now seeks indemnity at the rate of $2,500 a day.

WILL MEET AT CLOQUET.

District Meeting of Swedish Methodists of Lake Superior.

Cloquet, Minn., April 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—The district meeting of the western part of the Lake Superior district of the Swedish Methodist church will be held here tomorrow, Rev. John A. Anderson of Marinette, Wis., the district superintendent, presiding.

The following preachers are expected to be present and take part in the proceedings: Rev. Edward Stromberg, Duluth; Rev. F. Gustafson, Superior; Rev. E. A. Wahlquist, Two Harbors; Rev. K. Akerman, Cloquet; Rev. John A. Anderson, the district superintendent from Marinette, Wis.; Rev. O. F. Challman, Ashland, Wis.; Rev. E. Eliason, Westboro, Wis.; Rev. O. N. Hildeton, Ironwood, Mich., and Rev. G. Tapper, Duluth.

FLORENCE, WIS., MINE TEMPORARILY SHUT DOWN.

Florence, Wis., April 25.—(Special to The Herald.) — Supt. E. from the Reserve Mining company to close the Buckeye and operations at the mine will be suspended today, although the pumps will be kept running. The shutdown is but temporary and is due to dull market conditions. It is thought that mining operations will be resumed in a very short time. The Buckeye is in excellent shape to produce ore, there being 30,000 tons in stock, all of which will be shipped this season. The mine employs 125 men.

DOWIE CREDITORS GET 2.8 PER CENT DIVIDEND.

Chicago, April 25.—Creditors of the late John Alexander Dowie were paid a final dividend of 2.8 per cent on their claims yesterday by order of United States District Judge Landis. A prior dividend of 10 per cent was paid by Receiver Thomas on claims which amount to $4,800,461.

Jude Landis also allowed the receiver to destroy a quantity of intimate correspondence betwen the former Zion leader and the persons asking spiritual and material advice.

PEMBINA COUNTY FAIR TO INCREASE PREMIUMS.

Hamilton, N. D., April 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—The directors of the Pembina County Fair association have announced Aug. 1, 2 and 3 as dates for this year's fair. They voted to increase the money value of the premiums 33 1-3 per cent and named all committees and superintendents that activities for building up the biggest fair in the history of the country may begin at once.

HOMESTEADER CREMATED.

Pat Rooney, Having Relatives at Alexandria, Minn., Loses Life.

Bowbells, N. D., April 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—While alone in his shack, Pat Rooney, a homesteader living north of Flaxton was burned to death. The explosion of a gasoline stove was the cause of the fatal accident and when neighbors arrived the body was found burned to a crisp and the shack reduced to ashes. The remains were shipped to Alexandria, Minn., for burial, the deceased having relatives there. His brother and sister accompanied the remains.

BANQUET AT NEW DULUTH

Strong List of Speakers Secured for First Gathering of Club.

Special Train Will Be Run for the Duluth Guests.

Final preparations for the annual banquet of the New Duluth Commercial club are now being made. The affair will be held Thursday evening at Kalnaszewicz hall. Covers will be laid for 200.

REV. PETER KNUDSON,
President of New Duluth Commercial Club.

A strong list of speakers has been secured. Dr. C. J. Wallace will be toastmaster. The address of welcome will be given by the president, Rev. Peter Knudson. Mayor M. B. Cullum of Duluth will give an address on "The City of Duluth," C. E. Lovett on "The Early History of New Duluth," P. E. Dowling of Eveleth on "The Future Manufacturers," W. A. McGonagle on "Steel," W. I. Prince on "The Commercial Club." There will be other speeches.

C. H. Giddings and Mrs. C. Peters will sing and Martel's orchestra will also contribute to the musical program. The arrangement of the program has not been announced. The supper will be served by the women of the New Duluth Presbyterian church.

During the course of the evening, it is expected that the speakers will have much to say of the future of New Duluth as the steel plant suburb. The growth of this section of the city has been phenomenal during the past few months. Although the affair Thursday evening is called the first annual banquet of the Commercial club, the organization was formed less than a year ago.

One of the main objects of the new club is to secure for the suburb, a number of public improvements. Water main extensions, as well as gas, electric lights and a sewer system are some of the things wanted by the New Duluthians. Electric power wires are now being extended to the suburb and will be in working order within a short time.

Peter Knudson is president of the club, F. W. Damkroeger, secretary, and U. C. Tower, treasurer.

Special accommodations for Duluth people, who wish to attend the banquet, have been made. A special train will leave the Union depot at 7 o'clock and will stop at Twentieth avenue west, West Duluth and Spirit Lake, for passengers. The train will return to the city after the banquet. The affair will start at 8 o'clock.

Held to Grand Jury.

Annibale Mandatore, arrested on a charge of second degree assault for the stabbing of Dominic Malerbo at Fifty-sixth avenue west and Main street Sunday evening, waived examination when arraigned in police court yesterday afternoon and was bound over to await the action of the next grand jury. His bail was fixed at $1,000. His victim is said to be recovering at the Duluth hospital, where his wound was dressed by Dr. David Graham.

Girl May Recover.

Anna Johnson, the 15-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Johnson, who live on a farm near Proctor, who was serevely burned Saturday afternoon, is said to have a good chance of recovery. She is at St. Mary's hospital. The girl was burned badly about the body, and it was thought at first that she would not survive.

George Flack has returned from a visit to Beloit, Wis.

Franklin Rice and sister, Mrs. F. Eber have been called to St. Thomas, Ont., to attend the funeral of their mother.

The funeral of Bror Hjalmar Soderstedt, aged 25, who died yesterday of tuberculosis, will be held tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock from the family residence, 3713 West Sixth street, and at 2:45 o'clock from the Swedish Mission church, Fifty-ninth avenue west and Green street. Interment will be in Oneota cemetery.

ROMANTIC MEETING

Of Alfred Vanderbilt and Mrs. McKim in Paris Quickly Ends.

Paris, April 25.—The romantic meeting here of Alfred Vanderbilt and Mrs. Margaret McKim, came to a rather abrupt conclusion, as both Mr. Vanderbilt and Mrs. McKim have left Paris for widely separated destinations.

Mr. Vanderbilt said he was returning to London, and Mrs. McKim departed, presumably, for Berlin.

At her little hotel, Mrs. McKim and her traveling companion, Miss F. McCormack, who declared on Saturday that they were here for a long visit, had as suddenly found Paris unattractive as did Mr. Vanderbilt.

Thus ended the much-heralded visit which friends believed would be attuned to wedding bells.

MEN

GET CURED
Of Blighting Weakness and Poisonous Diseases

There are thousands of partially and totally wrecked constitutions among men today from ignorance, neglect and indiscretions in early life. Their weakened vitality, shattered nerves and exhausted energies tell a pitiable story. Multitudes have brought upon themselves the horrors of disease and weakness through these causes, which sap the very foundation of manhood, destroying their health and strength, leaving them mental and physical wrecks, clouding the brightest minds and destroying all noble thoughts and aspirations; family circles disrupted and the poisonous fangs reaching out and blighting even succeeding generations.

WE HAVE CURED THOUSANDS OF men in Duluth, for we have been in practice in this city for over twenty years. Don't make the mistake of going to inexperienced doctors or those which go from one town to another, nor to those doctors which treat everything and everybody. They will experiment on you while we have passed this stage many years ago and either cure a man or we tell him that nothing can be done for him if his case is incurable. We have the most modern equipment for curing men's diseases, for which we spent more than $5,000. We guarantee to cure you of Stomach Trouble, Catarrh, Lung Trouble, Contagious Blood Poison, Eczema, Pimples, Rupture, Piles, Kidney and Bladder Diseases, Unnatural Discharges, Stricture, Skin Diseases, and all lingering, chronic and contagious men's diseases. We give you a written guarantee of a cure. Consultation free from 9 to 8 p. m. every day. Sundays, 10 to 1. Patients out of town may write for symptom blank if they cannot call.

Will Return to Duluth.

Word has been received that Alf Gillon, a former resident of this city, has sold his ranch near Sandpoint, Idaho, and will return to Duluth to make his home here in a short time. Mr. Gillon was recently a candidate for sheriff of his county and lost out by a narrow margin. He is a brother of Sergeant Gillon of the local police department.

For Deserting Children.

John Kiveatkouski was arraigned in municipal court this morning on a warrant sworn out by his wife charging him with deserting his minor children. He asked for an examination, which was set for tomorrow afternoon. Bail was fixed at $200. He is alleged to have contributed nothing toward the support of his family the last five weeks.

Struck By a Bicycle.

Sam Kassmir of the McKay Turkish baths had a narrow escape from serious injury at First avenue west and Second street early this afternoon. He had waited for a west bound street car to pass and was on his day down the avenue when a bicycle coming at a high rate of speed ran into him without warning. The rider didn't see him until it was too late to turn out of the road. Kassmir keeled over, but the worst that happened was some damage to his hat and a slight bruise. The bicycle was not smashed.

Jean Goes Into Business.

Jean Watts, the popular champion rag-time shoe shiner of America, is no longer with the Panton & White company. He has opened handsome new shining parlors at No. 19 Second avenue west, where he will be glad to welcome all his old friends. Mr. Watts has been for years with Panton & White. Before that he was with M. S. Burrows. Jean's fame is far-reaching. Not only is he known to nearly every resident of the city, but as a champion in the art of shining shoes to the tune of rag-time, a disappearing train, the exhaust of an automobile and many other imitations, he has a reputation that has traveled faster and further than most people do in the course of a lifetime. The new shop is fitted out in elegant shape and Jean, its proprietor, caters particularly to the trade of men, women and children. For shoes properly shined it will be well to drop in on Jean.

COPPERS HIGHER; MARKET IS ACTIVE

Values Advance When Amalgamated Shorts Run to Cover.

The copper market was higher today and active. There is a large short interest in malgamated and this factor of great consequence. The short interest was forced to cover and Amalgamated forged steadily upward. The favorable movement of several specialties helped the general situation.

The copper metal market shows improvement and copper shares reflected the improved tone. Between 60,000,000 and 75,000,000 pounds of the red metal have been disposed of within the last few days. The United Metals Selling company has booked large quantities of copper at a price between 12¼c and 12⅜c a pound.

The feature of the local market was Keating which continued to advance. It opened at $3.25 and after sales at the point it went up to sales at $3.37½ and closed strong. Calumet & Montana sold at 36c, 35c and 37c. Butte & Superior, old, sold at 84c, Calumet & Sonora at $6.75, Cliff at 95c.

Amalgamated sold at $63, $62.87½, $64 and $63.75, Arizona Commercial at $13.50 to $15.12½; Calumet and Arizona at $48.50 to $49.376 to $49.87½, Butte Ballaklava at $5; Butte Coalition at $17.25@17.50, East Butte at $10.75@11.25, Giroux at $6, Greene at $6.25, $6.12½ to $6.25, North Butte at $27, $26.75 to $28, Superior & Pittsburg at $14 to $14.12½.

* * *

A wire from Boston to Paine, Webber & Co. said: "The sudden advance in Arizona Commercial shares to $15 is due to extraordinary underground developments at the property on the 1,000-foot level. It will be remembered that last August a diamond drill was put down from the 700-foot level and at a point approximately 240 feet below a body of high grade ore was encountered. The drill core at that time indicated that the vein was twenty feet wide. A few days later the local officials were in receipt of assays of the drill core which showed 16 per cent to 25 per cent copper, 6.3 ounces of silver, 30 per cent iron and traces of gold.

"The Boston News bureau quoted President Amster on Aug. 11 as stating that he was 'firm in the belief that this discovery is the most important ever made on the property.'

"It is the above mentioned body of ore that has just been encountered by the cross-cut now being driven from the shaft at a depth of 1,000 feet. Assays' results have not been received in Boston, but it is known that the showing is very rich."

BILLINGS PARK CHURCH CELEBRATES ANNIVERSARY

The congregation of the Norwegian Danish M. E. church at Billings park celebrated the twentieth anniversary of its founding last evening. More than 300 people were in attendance. Rev. A. M. Treistad, former pastor, now of New Hope, N. D., was the principal speaker. Other speakers were: Rev. C. G. Gunderson, present pastor, J. O. Wick of the church board and Rev. C. W. Schevenius of West Duluth.

WILL BOOST HARD FOR SUPERIOR LEGISLATION.

Mayor Frank Crumpton and City Attorney R. I. Tipton left yesterday for Madison, where they will look after the interests of Superior in matters pending in the legislature. Of most importance is the terminal taxation bill, for which the city officials are working hard. Another piece of legislation for which the Superior delegation will work is that providing that the street railway company shall pay for the paving on the portion of streets that the tracks use.

SUPERIOR MAN WILL CONDUCT INSTITUTE.

Prof. A. M. Royce, institute conductor at the Superior normal school, will be principal of the Oconto summer normal school. The term will begin June 26. About 200 students will be enrolled. Prof. Royce, who has been at Oconto, making arrangements for the affair, returned yesterday.

HIGH HEELS FOR GIRLS

In Kansas City High Schools May Be Prohibited.

Kansas City, Mo., April 25.—Warfare is about to be declared against high heels in Kansas City high schools. At a meeting of the manual training high school yesterday the teachers discussed the question, and after the meeting it was hinted that the high heel had to go. E. D. Phillips, principal, was vehement in his expressions against the popular heel.

"It seems that the heel is the vulnerable spot of the girl, as it was also the vulnerable spot of Achillies," said Mr. Phillips yesterday. "If I had my way, I would put a heel three-quarters of an inch high on every girl in this school. I have cut down the heels of my own daughters to that height.

"Physicians say that high heels affect the eyes and affect the spine. What can we do about it? Well, I hardly know what the school board will do, but if I had my way they would go."

THREE CASES TO BE HEARD

Duluth, Superior and Milwaukee Actions to Be Joined in Hearing.

Complainants Hope to Obtain Readjustment of Grain Rates.

The interstate commerce commissioners have announced that providing the different complaints are so adjusted that one case can be made of the three, the actions brought by the Duluth board of trade, the Superior commercial club and the Milwaukee chamber of commerce against the railroads of the Northwest, charging discrimination in grain rates, will be heard at one time and as one case.

The Superior complaint differs from the Duluth complaint in that different territory is covered and a smaller number of railroads are named. The Milwaukee action is in the nature of an intervention to offset the actions brought by the cities at the Head of the Lakes.

No time or place for the hearing has yet been set, but part of the testimony at least, will very likely be heard at Duluth or Superior. The hearing will take the form of an investigation into the grain rates to the different primary centers in the Northwest and the Duluth and Superior people interested hope that a readjustment will result.

TO SEARCH FOR PROOF

Historical Society Will Seek Historical Relics Near Ashby.

Hopes to Establish Genuineness of the Kensington Runestone.

Fergus Falls, Minn., April 25.—It is reported from Ashby, twenty miles south of here, that the Minnesota Historical society soon will resume excavating for traces of the Norsemen who are believed to have been killed there in 1632. The work was begun on a small scale last year and if relics are found, it will definitely establish the genuineness of the famous Kensington runestone. The inscription on this stone is to the effect that eight Goths, (Swedes) and twenty-two Norwegians were upon a journey of discovery westward from Vinand, and while engaged in fishing at a point were two sherries, or rocks, jut out into the water, ten of their companions were killed in camp.

"We returned home and found the men red with blood and dead. Ave Marie, save us from evil," is the conclusion of the inscription.

Spot Tallies With Description.

The inscription states that the tragedy occured one day's journey from the place where the stone was found, and a point in Pelican lake, adjoining Ashby, is just about one day's journey from Kensington, and tallies perfectly with the description on the stone. The point is heavily wooded and runs well out into the lake, and two huge rocks jut out in the manner which the stone describes. The surviving members of the expedition were fishing on one side of the point, the record says, when their companions were slain on the other side. The Minnesota Historical society is planning to erect a monument on the point as as soon as the necessary funds are secured, as it is believed that ten of the original explorers of the continent were there slain by Indians.

May Have Been Knutson Party.

In this connection, an interesting document has recently been found in Norway, which may throw some light on the identity of the expedition. This document is a letter from the king of Norway to Paul Knutson, authorizing him to fit up an expedition to go to Greenland to fight the Eskimos there and in lands beyond. The expedition left Bergen, Norway, in 1355 and did not return until 1364. The Kensington Runestone bears the inscription, 1362, and it is not at all improbable that the venturesome Norsemen of this expedition pushed westward, possibly by way of Hudson's bay, and possibly by way of Vinland. In either case, they would have little difficulty in finding waters by which they could travel to the center of the continent, the Red River of the North, forming a waterway direct from Hudson's bay and the Great Lakes, pointing in this direction from the East. Prof. Winchell of the state university is confident that the scene of the massacre described on the stone has been correctly located, and the outcome of the excavations will be awaited with interest. Hjalmar R. Holland, who has been especially active in establishing the authenticity of the stone, is inclined to the belief that the expedition came into this section by way of Hudson's bay.

FREE LIST BILL IS UP

the masses by putting their food products on the free list."

Mr. Underwood announced that this was only the beginning of the Democratic revision of the tariff.

"We propose to revise the tariff, schedule by schedule," he said. "That is, in our opinion, the only proper way to handle the tariff question in congress. The Democratic party does not stand for the wiping out of the customs houses; we realize that the expenses of government may be borne by a judicious system of duties. But by lowering and adjusting prohibitive duties we can fully maintain the amount of customs revenues.

The minority on the free list bill, signed by all the Republicans on the ways and means committee, declares that the measure represents "a transparent attempt at the manufacture of political capital."

The Republican report asserts that congress was called together specifically to pass the Canadian reciprocity bill.

"The interests of the farmer and of everybody else will be subserved," says the report, "if the country is spared from further exploitation and further tariff legislation at the present time and if adjournment is taken promptly after the reciprocity bill shall have been acted upon."

about $5,000,000. The defendants have been on liberty on bonds which were furnished immediately after indictments had been returned against them.

Much indignation was expressed among the creditors of the Booth concern when the plans of State's Attorney Wayman became known.

Sometime ago Former Judge John Barton Payne, counsel for the defendants, sought to have the indictments quashed, but failed.

To Dismiss Robbins' Case.

It is said Mr. Wayman plans to enter a nolle prosse in the case of Robbins. If this is done the court will be forced, under the law, to dismiss the case against Robbins, as the state's attorney has sole authority to say whether a case shall be tried.

In some respects the Booth case is the most notorious that has ever figured in the criminal courts. The indictments were voted against the two defendants, Feb. 27, 1909. Since then Wayman has persistently refused to place the defendants on trial.

Wayman and Payne are close friends. The latter was appointed special state's attorney to investigate charges made against Attorney Charles E. Erbstein. Erbstein accused Wayman before the bar association of having "fixed" a juror in the Katz case.

Wayman retaliated by securing the appointment of Payne as special state's attorney. The indictment of Erbstein for conspiracy followed and Payne prosecuted him in the criminal court. The jury took one ballot and was out but five minutes when a verdict of not guilty was returned in court.

Repeated demands have been made on Wayman that he put the Booth case on trial, but he openly refused. Scores of unfortunates were indicted after the grand jury investigation into the Booth swindle and all of them were forced to trial, but the Booth case was permitted to rest in the vaults of the state's attorney's office.

ANOTHER FACTORY SETTLES STRIKE

Manufacturers of Bar Fixtures Reach Agreement With Employes.

Grand Rapids, Mich., April 25.—Another facvtory has reached an agreement with the striking furniture workers and will resume operations tomorrow. It is the Veit Manufacturing company, which employs from thirty to forty men in the making of bar and office fixtures. It granted a nine-hour day and the wage question was adjusted satisfactorily. The wage scale has been above that in most of the furniture factories. The concern is not a member of the Furniture Manufacturers' association, which stands solid. The employes of the Marvel company returned to work today under the terms of the agreement announced yesterday.

Have You Tried This?

Simple Prescription Said to Work Wonders for Rheumatism.

This has been well known to the best doctors for years and is now given to the public. "Get one ounce of syrup of Sarsaparilla compound and one ounce Toris compound. Then get half a pint of good whiskey and put the other two ingredients into it. Take a tablespoonful of this mixture before each meal and at bed time. Shake the bottle before using." Good effects are felt the first day. Many of the worst cases here have been cured by this. Any druggist has these ingredients on hand or will quickly get them from his wholesale house. Any one can mix them.

The orange is the most luscious and healthful fruit. California excels in quality of oranges. The best of the California oranges are now packed in individual wrappers labeled "Sunkist."

Five thousand orange farmers in California do their own packing, shipping and selling. They grade and select their crop into "firsts," "seconds," etc. The firsts are fancy, tree-ripened, hand-picked, seedless, fibreless, thin-skinned oranges—every individual orange a perfect specimen of the finest variety of oranges. They are not only more healthful and more palatable than other oranges, but they are actually cheaper, for they are nearly all meat and nourishment.

Your dealer sells "Sunkist" Oranges. Ask for them. You will know them by the tissue paper wrapper in which each "Sunkist" Orange is packed. On the wrapper note the label, "Sunkist." Keep all the wrappers. They are worth money to you

Best California Lemons Come in "Sunkist" Wrappers

You can judge lemons by the "clothes" they wear. If they wear "Sunkist" wrappers they are juicy and good, for they are not thick-skinned or pithy. They are just as fine as "Sunkist" Oranges, and their wrappers are equally valuable.

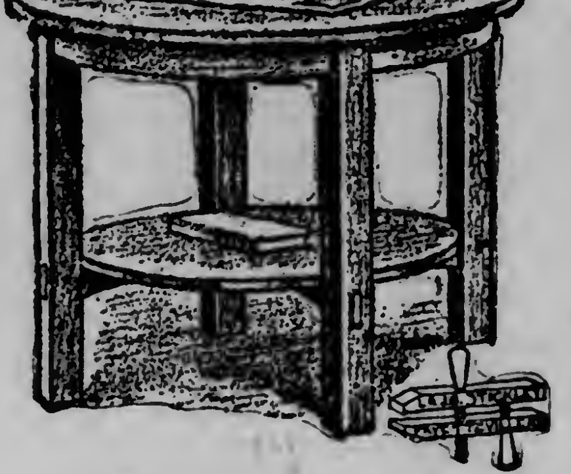
DEPENDABLE FURNITURE

Is a source of satisfaction to the user and to the store that sells it. Furniture that is backed by quality and that gives service that is lasting, endears itself to the user and becomes as much a part of the home as the occupants themselves. Such furniture is the only kind that it pays to put in your home. The quality is remembered long after the price is forgotten. To be absolutely sure of getting dependable furniture, trade at a store where the quality is guaranteed and where this guarantee means something more than mere words. The Bayha Store stands back of every piece of goods that it offers for sale. All goods are marked with plain figures and the values are exactly as represented.



Handcraft Furniture

built by L. & J. G. Stickley, is the truest conception of the old Mission pieces that is produced by any of the shops of today.

You can buy this furniture with a feeling of satisfaction and assurance in the knowledge that your rooms will be furnished right, and that everything is in perfect harmony.

Don't be misled by a similarity of names. There is only one line of Handcraft Furniture and that line bears the trade-mark shown in lower right hand corner of this illustration.

THE M'NAMARA CASE.

It is many years since the country has been so stirred over any individual case of arrest and extradition as it is over that of McNamara. The man was railroaded out of the state of Indiana by most unusual methods. The steps taken may have been entirely legal. There may be some warrant in law for the extraordinary sequence of arrest, arraignment and extradition. But the way in which it was done does not meet with the American idea of giving every man a fair chance before the law. The arrest of the men involved in the capture and removal of McNamara has brought the question to a climax, and there will be a definite decision on the legal phases of the matter. The action may be sustained in that decision, but it will not meet with general approval, even then. The system smacks too much of absolutism to take well in this country.

Probably it will be argued in defense of the detectives' course that all the steps of the law were complied with. They had the authority necessary to take their man away, and they had the papers for his arrest. They took him before a court and he was duly arraigned. It will be claimed that he was given every chance provided for under the law.

Most of that is true. They had the authority and they had the papers. And they had the man, which sometimes is the knottiest of the whole set of problems. But when they claim that he was given "every chance" they are getting a little beyond the limit that will suit the people of the country. You may give a man permission to climb a tree, and yet keep his hands tied so that he can't use them. Then your permission does no good. In McNamara's case they had him arraigned, but they gave him no chance to secure or consult counsel. They gave him every chance, indeed, except the one that could have helped him out. They furnished the tree and told him he might climb it, but they kept his hands tied.

There is no need of sympathy for a dynamiter. But, except as far as simple accusation is concerned, McNamara is not a dynamiter. He is an American citizen, with the rights and privileges that go with that estate. And he is entitled to be considered innocent of the charge against him until his guilt may have been proved. Such treatment as he got at the hands of the detectives in Indiana is not the kind of treatment to which an American citizen should be subject. If he were handled in that way by the authorities of some foreign country the diplomatic channels would be full to overflowing with representations and demands, and the people of this country are not inclined to endure that kind of thing at home, any more than they are when it is practiced abroad.

If, by any possibility, a court should find that the law upholds such affairs as this at Indianapolis, there will be an instant and forcible demand that the law be changed. But it does not seem possible that the law can be so construed. Certainly the action was against the spirit, if not absolutely against the letter, of American institutions and practice.

CLINGING TO THE OLD FETISH.

The News Tribune is seriously put out by the nature of the bill passed by the recent legislature insuring the nomination of United States senators from Minnesota under what has come to be known as "the Oregon plan." It approves the idea of making nominations by the people binding, but it holds up its hands in horror at the thought that the people may be willing to ignore party lines if by so doing they can get an able man for senator. Here is the way the News Tribune puts it:

> Anyone can be a candidate for the United States senate; it requires no nomination by convention or otherwise. It is a free-for-all. In the case of the presidency each party can have but one candidate, and no name goes on any ballot unless it is that of a party nominee. If the Oregon plan provided for this, there could be little or no objection to it.
>
> But the way it will work out in the actual test is this: The Democrats, as a minority party, will have one candidate and only one. He will be sufficiently Bryan to suit the Bryanites, and sufficiently conservative to suit the anti-Bryanites. He will have an ideal reversible coat. But the Republican party of Minnesota is split in two irreconcilable factions, which none know better than the Democrats. If the state convention names a man, he will either not be sufficiently radical to suit the La Follette wing, or so radical as to jeopardize the conservative vote.
>
> In either event the Democrats will see that there is another Republican candidate in the field. They have ways of doing this, not Sunday school ways, but known to practical politics. There will be one Democrat in the field against two or more Republicans and a plurality, the highest vote, elects under this system. It is a clever scheme for the Democrats, but the Republicans were asleep, or batty, when they voted for this Keefe measure, which should have been captioned "A Bill to Assure a Democratic senator of the United States for Minnesota."

There is just one place in the country where one expects to find such whole-souled devotion to the old-time fetish of partisanship as this, and that place is in the United States senate. For years the people of this country, and perhaps more particularly in Minnesota than in most of the other states, have been breaking away from hide-bound party leadership, and the movement has been hailed practically everywhere as a great gain for the cause of good government. Yet here we are being told that it is a heinous thing for a man to seek the senatorship unless he does so on strict party lines, and that the people are incapable of determining whom they want as a senator unless some convention of "practical" politicians shall first have passed upon each man's fitness for the position, including the size of his "barrel."

One of the greatest advantages of the Oregon plan is that it eliminates this strict observance of party lines; it enables a voter to pick and choose, according to his faith in the various candidates. The Oregon plan in operation means that a man must have some other qualification than rigid partisanship if he wants to represent his state in the United States senate. He cannot be elected on the strength of a plea that he belongs to the same party or faction as an Aldrich or a Hale or a Cummins or a La Follette. He must have some personal qualification, or must stand for some definite principle, whether that principle be indorsed by a party of practical politicians or not.

The people are tired of letting the practical politicians pick their principles for them. They have had enough of that kind of thing and the abuses that spring from it. They want to "go it" themselves, to some extent, and the Oregon plan is designed to enable them to do so intelligently and effectively. They want to get rid of the old fetish of partyism, and the Oregon plan makes it possible for them to do so. The people today care less about a man's party record than they do about his personal record, and it is well that such should be the case. Enough of this clinging to old ideas that have proved disastrous in the past, that have given us such burdens as the Payne tariff law. Let us welcome the Oregon plan for just what it is—a popular, progressive measure, and not shy at it on account of vain imaginings or because of its very progressiveness.

THE NAVAL SNOBS.

One of the most wholesome symptoms that has developed in American society in a long time is the furor that has sprung up over the snubbing of Miss Mary Beers at a naval academy hop. It appears that Miss Beers was invited to the hop, and went, and that she was given to understand, not in words, but by the actions of some of those present, that her presence there was unwelcome. Later her escort was "bawled out" for asking her to attend, because she was employed as governess in the home of one of the naval officers.

It made things unpleasant for Miss Beers and for her escort, and now the snobs who created that unpleasantness are getting some information from the country at large that ought to teach them a valuable and apparently much needed lesson in American ways and ideas.

According to all accounts, Miss Beers, the daughter of a professor in Yale university, is a cultured, able young woman, of at least average intelligence, and, since she was invited to attend the hop, of sufficient personal attractiveness to please young men. But she is not "living off the old man;" she is not riding in a motor bought with the income from a protected industry; she is not, in fact, rolling in money that somebody else earned and wearing clothes for which somebody else has paid. Instead of all this she is doing the same thing that thousands of other young women in this country are doing—earning her own living and paying her own way.

Imagine the horror of these pampered snobs, who owe their position in the national naval academy to political pull and who are living off Uncle Sam during their schooling period, when they found this self-reliant, bright girl thrust into their midst as a social equal! It could hardly have been a greater shock if they had been asked to shake hands with some one of the several thousand young fellows who are working their way through the various educational institutions of the country, and are thereby proving themselves a thousand-fold better men and better citizens than any or all of the uniform-clad persons who looked down on Miss Beers in scorn.

There is no place in this country for the kind of spirit that was shown at the naval academy hop. Even though one may not wish to receive another person on equal terms in all things, there is no excuse for open and supercilious boorishness, and that is just what these naval whippersnappers displayed.

It is well that Secretary of the Navy Meyer has ordered an apology. It is not surprising that Representative Korbly of Indiana has insisted that some further reparation be sought. If that spirit of snobbishness is the kind of spirit that is being taught at the United States naval academy, the place is in need of a thorough overhauling in its social life. It was bad enough when the midshipmen were allowed to haze some of their own number. That the hazing system should be extended, however different in form, to really deserving outsiders is intolerable.

THE COUNTRY IS WAITING.

Another "decision day" has passed without a pronouncement from the United States supreme court on the Standard Oil and tobacco trust cases, and the country is destined to at least another week of waiting. It is remarkable how calmly the wait for these decisions is being taken throughout the nation. In the ruling that the court shall make in these cases will lie the future action of practically every large corporation in the country. The investment, or at least the manner of investment, of thousands of millions of dollars is dependent on the finding of the judges. And yet the matter is being discussed but little, and as far as general appearances are concerned there might be no such issues pending.

But in another way the delay is exerting a powerful influence in the commercial world. There is a certain dullness noticeable that can be traced directly to indecision. Big interests do not care or dare to launch big undertakings with their legality uncertain. Small interests that follow more or less the course of the bigger ones are also holding off. Let the decision come, no matter which way it may lean, and there will be an immediate loosening of capital and restoration of activity. To get the uncertainty over with is the main thing at present.

As to speculations growing out of the delay in handing down the decisions, those are idle. One man regards the delay as indicative of a ruling adverse to the big corporations, and gives his reasons, and another, on the same grounds, predicts the opposite. There is no way of knowing which, if either, is right. The country must just continue to wait, as it already is waiting, and to content itself with the knowledge that whichever way the decision is given, it will be better for business than the uncertainty that now exists.

Let us not begrudge England her coronation excitement. She has no opening of the baseball season.

James Bryce says future historians will not distinguish between the United States and England. Great Scott! Has the annexation scare got as bad as that?

THE FARMERS' FREE LIST

By SAVOYARD.

The District of Columbia is a territory set down between Maryland and Virginia, states that are pronouncedly Democratic in political faith, and 80 per cent of their inhabitants, who read newspapers, are of the Democratic party. Washington, too, is a Southern city, and a majority of the newspaper readers of this town are Democrats. And yet every daily paper published in the District of Columbia is Republican in politics—the two leading ones, the Post and the Star, intensely so, and the other two, the Herald and the Times, mildly so. In this community, a Democrat must wait to hear from New York or Philadelphia, Baltimore or Richmond, or Norfolk, before he can get political opinions to suit him.

The following from the Washington Post is not only extreme in its Republicanism, but it is fanatic in its sectionalism:

"The Southern farmer never cried out against Canadian competition in the past, nor has he joined his Northern neighbor in opposing the ratification of the reciprocity agreement. The South was not in sympathy with the imposing of a high duty on Canadian products in the first place, for the two-fold reason that it derived no appreciable benefit, and then it was contrary to the Democratic low-tariff policy. The Canadian tariff was just high enough to protect the Northern farmer, and he alone could be affected one way or the other by taking the tariff off.

"These things being true, why should manufactures used exclusively in the South go on the 'farmers' free list?' Does it profit the farming community along the Canadian border for congress to take the tariff off of cotton gins, cotton bagging, gunny cloth, and all devices suitable for handling cotton, together with other articles of manufacture never seen in that latitude? The framers of the free list set up the plea that they would remove the tariff on articles used especially by the farmers in order to compensate them for any losses they might suffer through reciprocity, but how can they reconcile their words with their deeds? Besides, as the South—farmers and everybody—would share with the North any gain which might accrue from the adoption of the free list exclusive of the articles above mentioned, it would look as if the committee had deliberately gone out of the way to give the Southern farmer all the Northern farmer gets and untold millions more."

Now, let me look at that. Not for one moment of its entire existence has the G. O. P. been national, and every tariff it ever made was sectional, and the Payne-Aldrich monstrosity is exceptionally so. The "farmers' free list" prepared by Mr. Underwood takes a chunk of sectionalism out of the tariff. Now listen.

Binding twine, a necessary to the wheat grower, is on the free list. Why? Because the wheat states are at the North, and they vote the Republican ticket. On the other hand, steel ties are as much of a necessary to the cotton planter as binding twine to the wheat grower. But cotton ties are not only taxed in the Payne monopoly, but the tax is practically prohibitory, made so to swell the millions of Andrew Carnegie and the other forty-eight millionaires that Carnegie boasts he made by means of the tariff on metals. Simple justice demands that the man who tills the soil at the South shall be put on an exact equality with the man who tills the soil at the North.

* * *

Again, there is a tariff of 15 cents a bushel, or 20 per cent ad valorem, on corn, and it yielded $34,352 revenue the fiscal year 1909. The corn states are at the North, and they vote Republican. Cotton is on the free list—that is, the cotton in the ownership of him who grows it. In 1909 we imported 80,501,027 pounds of cotton in the bale, valued at $13,622,802, and there also came in of cotton "wastes or flacks," 28,830,958 pounds, valued at $1,221,518, total $14,843,320. A duty of 20 per cent ad valorem on that would have yielded $2,968,664. But the cotton states vote the Democratic ticket. Everybody, even the Washington Post, knows that had cotton been exclusively grown at the North, there would have been a protection duty of at least 50 per cent laid on it.

* * *

Now I am opposed to a duty on cotton in the bale, but I am also opposed to a duty on grain of every description. I was present the hot summer of 1909 when Mr. Aldrich said to the South that he was as much in favor of protecting what was produced in that section as he was inclined to protect the industries of the North. What a pity it is that some of his Southern friends, who are so anxious to reach the tariff teat, did not fling a 20 per cent duty on raw cotton at him, just to see him take water.

I heard John Sharp Williams make an eloquent speech on that very question, and had there coursed his veins "all the blood of all the Howards" he could not have done it grander. He said he was a cotton grower, and the duty would put money in his pocket; but thy servant was not a dog, and he scorned it. If every senator were to resign who votes to swell his own personal gains by means of the taxing power, I fear a search warrant would fail to discover a quorum of that body.

* * *

And why should not the cotton planter be put on an exact equality with the grain grower? There is no reason in morals, and the sole reason in politics is that one lives at the South and is a Democrat and the other lives at the North and is a Republican. It is well understood that no citizen of the South is eligible to the office of president or vice president. It is known of all men that of the billions paid in pensions to Northern soldiers the South cheerfully contributes her share, though the present Republican secretary of the treasury characterizes the thing thus:

"We have an enormous Civil war pension list which is not a credit to us. It has lost its patriotic aspects and has become a political list, costing the government about $160,000,000 per year."

* * *

Nor is that all. When the South was prostrate, devastate, helpless, indigent, congress levied an illegal tax on her cotton and collected $68,000,000 of it. Not one cent has been refunded, though everybody knows that had this tax been collected from the corn grower he would have received it back to the uttermost farthing as soon as its illegality was recognized.

Read that editorial from the Washington Post again, study it and master it. What do you conclude? Why, that the South ought to be grateful to congress that her presence in the Union is not proclaimed as an impertinence and considered as an intrusion.

* * *

What is the question here? The government exercises the taxing power for the benefit of a certain class on the Canadian border, that is to say, all the people are taxed for the benefit of a few people. But a Republican president smites that injustice and seeks a reform of it. The Washington Post argues that this graft is a vested right, and if it be taken from the class it benefits, something just as good must be substituted for it. Read that second paragraph from the Post I have quoted, again. Was ever such naivete before?

What do we have? The "farmers' free list" gives to the grain grower free thrashing machines. That is all right, because he is a Republican; but it is awful to give the Southern planter a free cotton gin. Why? I can conjure no reason unless it be that he is a Democrat. It is proposed in this bill to give the cotton planter free bagging; but in the same measure free sacks are provided for the wheat grower. The sack is an absolute necessity to the one and the bagging an absoute necessity to the other.

No, what's the matter is this: Canadian reciprocity is the tocsin to summon congress to do the "protection principle" to death. Hence the rage.

THE OPEN COURT.

(Readers of The Herald are invited to make free use of this column to express their ideas about the topics of general interest. Letters should not exceed 300 words—the shorter the better. They must be written on one side of the paper only, and they must be accompanied in every case by the name and address of the writer, though these need not be published. A signed letter is always more effective, however.)

FROM SUCH BEGINNINGS REVOLUTIONS GROW.

To the Editor of The Herald:

Police rule in this country is as autocratic as the iron hand of the Russian czar. No mailed fist ever was more insolent than the license of the American police which they use to cover their ignorance and their stupidity, their faults and their errors, their crimes and their tragic mistakes.

These thought are called to mind by the spiriting away of a union labor official from Indianapolis to Los Angeles. If McNamara were the president of the American Steel Products company, or the American Bridge company, the courts of Los Angeles would be brought to him—if he ever saw them at all. It is not the chief question now whether or not McNamara is guilty of complicity in destroying the Times building in Los Angeles. The question that is uppermost is the right of a man to enjoy those privileges guaranteed him by the Constitution of his country.

Why McNamara was not given an opportunity to prove his asserted innocence and thus avoid extradition is a question that has only one side. No man is guilty until he is proved as such. Even the fact that a prisoner at the bar does not testify in his own behalf is not held against him. If men are to be forcibly taken from their homes to places across the continent, and tried for alleged crimes then what is the use of government.

Does any one suppose that McNamara will get a fair trial in Los Angeles, a city that has lost the power to think with an unprejudiced mind? It is as biased in one direction as San Francisco is in another. Neither a pro-union nor a pro-capitalistic community could be expected to guarantee McNamara a fair trial. Yet he is being taken into a community that is so inflamed against them that it seems necessary to keep secret the time of his arrival at Los Angeles. The police force is being enlarged and McNamara will be spirited into the city and held from friends and counsel until the police and attorneys for the National Erectors Association have given him the third degree.

Such things controvert the idea of government as a safeguard of human rights. Revolutions that have changed the maps of empires have had less cause.

A. Y. U.

Duluth, April 24.

Jack Rabbit "Drive."

Spokane dispatch to New York World: Three hundred residents of Eltopia, Wash., including merchants who closed their stores for the day, dispatched several hundred rabbits in a drive near that town. The jacks were driven into a V-shaped inclosure of woven wire, where the drivers made short work of them with clubs.

The wire corral was more than 2,000 feet in length, and as the jacks dashed against it, the recoil hurled them back eight to ten feet. The drivers killed 200 rabbits before the corral was reached. Following the drive the ranchers served food and hot coffee.

Another drive has been arranged for when it is expected there will be hunters from various parts of the state of Washington and Oregon. The rabbits have caused much annoyance to ranchers and orchardists in the irrigated districts, and the growers have decided upon a series of drives to rid the communities of the pests.

They Did It.

Cleveland Leader: When in doubt, blame the Japanese.

A MOMENT WITH THE WITS.

Judge: "Those who dance have to pay the fiddler."

"Who pays the rest of the orchestra, pa?"

Chicago Tribune: "I do wish, Johnny," said Mrs. Lapsling, "you wouldn't chew gum so much. It overworks your salutary glands."

Toledo Blade: "Why doesn't your wife sing to the baby when it cries?"

"Sh! We've found out that the neighbors would rather listen to the baby."

Puck: Young Bachelor—"I often wonder if I am making enough money to get married on."

Old Benedict—"Well, I don't know how much you're making; but you ain't."

Washington Herald: "Why doesn't your magazine devote more space to the increased cost of living?" demanded the irate citizen.

"White paper is too high," explained the editor, courteously.

Chicago Daily News: Mrs. Willers—"I was carried three blocks past my crossing on the car."

Mrs. Wallers—"Weren't you put out about it?"

Mrs. Willers—"Oh, no; the conductor took it very good-naturedly."

Punch: "What are you girls doing?"

"Settling our costumes for the Shakespeare ball, mother."

"Take my advice and wait. They may dig up something at any moment to prove that there never was such a person, and then where would your Rosalind and Celia be?"

New York Times: Mrs. Crabshaw—My dear, you won't know me when I get my new hat.

Crabshaw—I don't suppose I will, if it's one of those contraptions that come down over your ears.

Toledo Blade: Mrs. Jawback—I suppose you consider your judgment far superior to mine.

Mr. Jawback—No, my dear. We proved the contrary when we chose to marry each other.

Chicago Record-Herald: "Pa, are there any miracles nowadays?"

"Yes, I heard of one last night. A young man who had inherited a million decided not to go to New York to spend it."

Meggendorfer Blaetter: Conceited Fop—I warn you to beware of me, for they say I am a dangerous man with the ladies.

Debutante—Do you really dance as awkwardly as that?

Washington Star: "You are becoming prosperous of late."

"Yep," replied Farmer Corntossel. "Hereafter we're goin' to enjoy ourselves when work gets slack an' look up some deservin' city folks that'll take winter boarders."

Toledo Blade: "Do you believe in government ownership?"

"I sure do. Horray fer it!"

"You will subscribe to it, then?"

"Well, wait. Does that mean we own th' government or th' government owns us?"

Light Work.

Lippencotts: A weather-beaten damsel somewhat over six feet in height and with a pair of shoulders proportionately broad, appeared at a back door in Wyoming and asked for light housework. She said that her name was Lizzie, and explained that she had been ill with typhoid and was convalescing.

"Where did you come from, Lizzie?" inquired the woman of the house. "Where have you been?"

"I've been workin' out on Howell's ranch," replied Lizzie, "diggin' postholes while I was gittin' my strength back."

TWENTY YEARS AGO

Prof. Myers has issued his announcement regarding the June festivities to be held in the Lyceum. There will be a chorus of 150 voices, a full orchestra and the following eminent musicians: Soprano, Miss Inez Mecusker; contralto, Miss Christine Neilson; tenor, Charles Knorr; basso, J. J. Isensee.

At a meeting held last evening the Duluth Jobbers' union was organized and put on a permanent footing. Thirty members signed the constitution, and officers were elected as follows: A. L. Ordean, president; F. F. McIver, first vice president; L. A. Barber, second vice president; H. C. Crawford, secretary; D. G. Cutler, treasurer.

K. D. Chase, president of the Duluth, Missabe & Northern railroad, arrived in the city from the East last night and will leave this evening for his home in Faribault. During the day he conferrred with Duluthians interested in the road. Mr. Chase says the company has contended against many obstacles during the past two years, but the road will be built, and the work may be done this season.

The Catholics of Duluth are making great preparations for the celebration of Bishop McGolrick's second feast day, which occurs on May 1. At the pontifical mass in the pro-cathedral, Very Rev. James Byrne of Minneapolis will deliver the sermon. The assistants will be: First master of ceremonies, Rev. T. Corbett; second master of ceremonies, Rev. James E. Connolly; assistant priest, Very Rev. Vicar General Bub; deacon and subdeacons, Revs. Gamacht and Kosmerl; deacons of honor, Revs. Roy and Lynch. In the evening a reception will be tendered to Bishop McoGirick in Catholic Association hall, Hon. R. A. Costello acting as master of ceremonies, when addresses will be delivered by Rev. P. R. Heffron, pastor of the St. Paul cathedral, Rev. Edward Lawler of Brainerd, Bishop John Shanley of North Dakota, Bishop Joseph Cotter of Winona and Hon. C. P. Maginnis. Bishop McGolrick will sail for Europe on May 16. He will visit Ireland, France and Germany and select candidates for the ministry from the sons of good families who will be trained at the new St. Thomas seminary at St. Paul.

The G. A. R. committee in charge of the arrangements for Decoration day has secured Charles A. Towne of this city as the orator of the day.

Dr. Haycock has sold the privilege of issuing the Lyceum theater program to Bob Graff. The consideration was $2,000.

The appointment of Miss Jennie Moody and Miss Grace Woodside as deputy clerks of the district court has been confirmed by Judge Stearns.

Capt. John W. Dempster of Port Huron arrived today to take the position of night dispatcher at Inman's tug office.

Joseph Wolf, the well known contractor, started last evening for Kentucky, where he will be married to Miss Jennie Cosby.

MINNESOTA OPINIONS.

Deserving of Thanks.

Warren Sheaf: Representative Dan P. O'Neill of Thief River Falls deserves the thanks of every person in Northern Minnesota for his able championship of reapportionment at this session and for the stand he took on the so-called "six senator" bill, which is a proposed amendment to the Constitution, limiting representation in the senate to six from any one county, and is but a blind to delay reapportionment.

The Seven Senator Deal.

Marshall News-Messenger: Had the effort followed the prestige of the Federal Constitution limiting United States senators to two from each state, and created a state senate of one from each county, there might have been a greater effort among the people to confirm the act. But even this result would require much effort to convince the people of justness in depriving a preponderance of population in any section of fair and equal representation.

A Fitting Finale.

International Falls Press: The passage of the infamous Duxbury-Moonan-Haycraft-Weis bill, limiting the representation of the cities, is a fitting finale to the legislature of broken promises, and self-perpetuating senators.

What Is the Use of Platforms?

Warren Register: Opponents of the extension of the primary election law to include state officials are exceedingly fearful of its effect upon party platforms. Why, bless you brethren! didn't both the Republicans and the Democrats of Minnesota hold conventions and adopt platforms last year? To be sure they did, but the voters paid little attention to those platforms during the campaign that then ensued, and the legislature just adjourned disregarded them entirely. What is the use of a political platform that imposes no obligation upon a member of the legislature who belongs to the party that made it?

Will They Do It?

Wilkin County News: The News wonders what the opponents of Canadian reciprocity will now say when most of the tariff burdens the farmers justly complain about will be done away with by the Democratic bill now pending in congress and which will surely pass the house of representatives with a fair show of its going through the senate. If these opponents are sincere in their protests they will now jump and help push the new bill along.

Much Disappointed.

Menahga Journal: They do say that Len Haines, "Hughy" Halbert, "Jim" Peterson, and the rest of the radical progressives, were very much disappointed at the conservative stand taken by ex-President Roosevelt in his address at St. Paul last week regarding the new-fangled legislation. Teddy's remarks were mostly of the safe and sane variety, which is so foreign to the members of the Minnesota Republican (?) Progressive Saturday Lunch club.

Thinks Spanking Wholesome.

Fergus Falls Free Press: The senate refused to censure Supt. Whittier of the Red Wing training school. That's right. He did no wrong and ought rather to be praised for bringing a lot of vicious boys to time by good, wholesome spanking.

No Encores Heard.

Little Falls Transcript: If any encores were given the state legislature they failed to reach our perch up here in the gallery.

The Return of Prosperity.

Houghton Mining Gazette: We made some comment yesterday on the evidences that business is picking up, not only here in the Copper country, but throughout the United States and some of the wisest of the observers are now convinced that this nation is on the eve of the best industrial advancement we have ever seen. Optimistic reviews as to the future are coming out from sources that are honest and that always speak the truth. The history of our country does not record a "panic" following a long period of "hard times"—on the contrary panics are invariably the sudden climax of a boom period—and the pessimist may take heart from this fact. For more than a year—in fact nearly ever since the business storm broke upon us in the fall of 1907—people have been talking hard times, but while profits have been reduced considerably, the actual statement of operations have not shown a serious condition of affairs. It is universally admitted that the general prosperity of our people is measured by railroad buying, and this has been practically a negligible quantity in the country's commerce for some months past. In fact we are told "there never has been a time before since railway organizations came into existence in this country when orders of these companies for materials from the iron and steel mills have been so small comparativey as at present."

In face of these conditions, however, reports that the iron and steel industry indicate a larger production in many lines than that seen in the most prosperous days of our country a few years since. Structural material is in great demand, tin plate mills are operating between 90 per cent and full capacity and iron furnaces which were closed down last summer are being steadily put into operation. These facts speak something on the side of awakening business and trade activity. A prominent railroad official is quoted as saying that in order to keep up the standard of service demanded by this country the railroads will have to spend fully one billion dollars within the next few years, and when this expenditure begins in earnest, as it must within a few months, the return of prosperity will be an established fact.

Light Work.

Lippincott's: A weather-beaten damsel somewhat over six feet in height and with a pair of shoulders proportionately broad, appeared at a back door in Wyoming and asked for light housework. She said that he name was Lizzie, and explained that she had been ill with typhoid and was convalescing.

"Where did you come from, Lizzie?" inquired the woman of the house. "Where have you been?"

"I've been workin' out on Howell's ranch," replied Lizzie, "diggin' postholes while I was gittin' my strength back."

A Kidney Cure You Can Bank On

Prove the Treatment Before You Pay For It. Your Druggist Has a Free Sample Package For You.

Kidney diseases justly produce intense fear in the hearts of those afflicted with it, for unless treated promptly by the right method they usually end fatally.

Every sufferer from kidney or bladder trouble may thank science for the new treatment, Dr. Derby's Kidney Pills.

Dr. Derby's Kidney Pills are remarkable. They straighten up lame backs every time and right off. Every man and woman can prove it without cost. No matter how badly or despondent you feel about your case, if you have back pains, bladder pains, Bright's disease, diabetes, or rheumatism in any form, do not worry an instant longer. Go to your druggist and get a package of Dr. Derby's Kidney Pills—25 and 50 cents, or direct from Derby Medicine Co., Eaton Rapids, Mich.

If you want to prove first that all these statements are true, tell your druggist to give you a free sample package. Try them and be convinced.

THE BACHELOR APARTMENTS

"I Suffered Intense Pains in My Left Side."

Do you realize it is better to be safe than sorry, that it is the best policy to lock the stable door before the horse is stolen?

Dr. Miles' Heart Remedy

cured Mrs. C. C. Gokey, of a stubborn case of heart disease, such as thousands are now suffering with. Read what she says:

"Before I began taking Dr. Miles' Heart Remedy I had been suffering from heart trouble for over five years. I had grown so weak that it was impossible for me to do thirty minutes work in a whole day. I suffered intense pains in my left side and under the left shoulder blade, I could not sleep on the left side, and was so short of breath that I thought I should never be able to take a full breath again. The least excitement would bring on the most distressing palpitation. I had scarcely taken a half-bottle of the Heart Remedy before I could see a marked change in my condition. I began to sleep well, had a good appetite, and improved so rapidly that when I had taken six bottles I was completely cured.
MRS. C. C. GOKEY, Northfield, Vt.

If you have any of the symptoms Mrs. Gokey mentions, it is your duty to protect yourself.

Dr. Miles' Heart Remedy.

is what you need. If the first bottle fails to benefit, your money is returned. Ask your druggist.

PREMIUM FOR BONDS

Boston Firms Offer Most Favorable Terms for Water Board Issue.

Amendments to Canadian Northern Franchise Adopted Without Compromise.

The $200,000 worth of water and light bonds which were recently advertised for sale, will probably go to George A. Fernald & Co., and Kuhn, Fisher & Co., incorporated, of Boston, who submitted a combined bid, offering to purchase them at par, with accrued interest and pay a premium of $4,180.

The bids were opened by the city council last night, but no action was taken on them. The award will likely be made next Monday night. The bonds run for thirty years and pay 4½ per cent interest. The proceeds of the sale will be used by the board of water and light department to make many extensions and improvements to the local water system.

The other firms bidding on the bonds were as follows: Minnesota Loan & Investment company, St. Paul, $3,000; Kissel, Kenniatt & Co., New York, $2,722.60; N. J. Upham & Co., Duluth, $2,601; William Read & Co., New York, $1,780; Parkinson & Burr, New York, $1,061.60; Hayden, Stone & Co., Boston, $572; Commercial Investment company, Duluth, $176. N. W. Halsey & Co., Chicago, offered to take the bonds at par, less a commission.

* * *

The police and licence committee made no report on the recommendation of the mayor that the license of Dunlop & Thatcher at 228 Lake avenue south be revoked. M. Lynch made application last night asking that the license be transferred to him, as he had bought the place.

* * *

The council granted the request that $50 be appropriated to construct an ammunition storehouse near the rifle range of the Third regiment, M. N. G. It was stated that the Armory could not be used for that purpose.

* * *

B. P. Neff, chairman of the water carnival committee, sent in a communication asking that no licenses for circuses be granted July 20, 21 or 22, the days on which the carnivel will be held.

* * *

The mayor sent in the names of J. M. Ottinger, C. Ottinger, M. D. McIntyre, John Mork, O. Devaney and T. B. Campbell as poundmasters for the coming season.

* * *

Dr. H. E. Webster, health commissioner, stated that he could not get a horse from the fire department earlier than June, and asked that immediate action be given his request for an appropriation of $400 for the improvement of the municipal garbage collection system.

* * *

The award of the contracts to D. H. Clough for the paving of Third alley between Twentieth and Twenty-first avenues and Twenty-first and Twenty-second avenues was approved. The cost of the first block will be $1,280.90 and of the second, $709.65.

* * *

The board of public works was ordered to proceed with the petition for a sanitary trunk sewer to drain the district between Thirty-eighth and Forty-second avenues west from Eighth street to the bay. The estimated cost is $9,413.

* * *

The Gogebic Steam Boiler works was awarded the contract for the delivery of a new boiler for the rock crusher at the Point of Rocks. Their price was $700, just $3 lower than the bid submitted by R. E. Patterson. The board of public works was authorized to advertise for bids for a gyratory crusher to be placed at the same place, the cost not to exceed $2,000 and to be paid from the general fund.

* * *

The council was notified that Lula Hodges had withdrawn her name from the petition for the paving of Glenwood street between Fifty-fourth and Sixtieth avenues east, which will make the petition invalid and stop the improvement.

* * *

Harry B. Raymond was given the contract for furnishing plank for sidewalks for the coming year. For the district east of Twelfth avenue west his bid was $5,569.50 and for that west of that avenue, $3,904.50.

* * *

The amendments to the Canadian Northern franchise prohibiting posts under the trestle which will cross Fifty-ninth avenue west, were passed. Nothing was said of a compromise in the nature of narrowing the street to fifty or sixty feet and then crossing it with a clear span.

* * *

The sum of $150 was appropriated for the employment of a special watchman on Park Point for the next six months. This is done each year about this time.

* * *

The railroad committee was directed to make an investigation to ascertain why the Northern Pacific has not complied with the orders of the council to install gates on its crossings at Fifty-seventh, Fifty-ninth and Sixty-third avenues west.

* * *

The committee on ordinances and resolutions will set a date for a public hearing on that provision of the Soo franchise requiring the establishment of a depot west of Forty-eighth avenue west. The Soo took over the Wisconsin Central franchise, one of the provisions of which called for the depot. The Soo officials sent a communication to the council last week stating that they didn't believe they could be held to it, but that they would do so should the traffic warrant the expenditure.

MONEY TALKS.

Russian Immigrant Could Not Speak English But Bank Bills Did.

New York, April 25.—Frederick Schneider, who arrived yesterday from Russia with a wife and fourteen of his fifteen children, could not answer in English when asked if he had money enough to provide for his army of Schneiders, but he replied in "American" with an eloquence that staggered the immigration officials.

From the depths of various pockets he brought forth rolls of bills, one after another, and tossed them upon the desk at Ellis Island, while officials and immigrants pressed around to hear the money talk. In all he produced $26,500.

Through an interpreter Schneider explained that his fortune came from the sale of a big farm near Odessa, and that he was on his way to Glen Ullen, N. D., whither his eldest son, Christian, had preceded him.

ECHO SHOWS POSITION.

Captain of Steamer Uses Whistle to Locate Icebergs.

Philadelphia, April 25.—Capt. Andersen of the Scandinavian-American liner Kentucky, which arrived in port today from Copenhagen, reported a novel but common sense method of determining the position of icebergs at sea in foggy weather. He used the blasts of a steam whistle, waited for a return echo and obtained the information desired.

When the vessel was to the eastward of the Grand Banks of Newfoundland in a dense fog the temperature began to drop and the chilly conditions of the atmosphere indicated the presence of icebergs, but the officers were at a loss to tell whether they were ahead, astern or abeam. The whistle was blown, the sound waves struck the huge masses of floating ice and by means of the echoes Capt. Andersen was able to get an approximate position of the drifting bergs ahead and in time to change the Kentucky's course to the southward and steam many miles away, where he was sure that dangers of this kind did not lurk.

For Piano Keys.

Piano keys get yellow with age. To whiten them, make a paste of sal volatile, prepared chalk and olive oil. Rub on twice and let dry each time. Then rub down with a soft cloth, and they will be whitened. Yellowness in the complexion may be eradicated by aiding digestion by the table use of golden grain belt beers, specially brewed for the digestion, and for their tonic effect. Your nearest dealer or duluth branch minneapolis brewing company will supply your needs.

PLAYGROUNDS ARE DISCUSSED

Duluth Association Lacks Money to Carry Out Its Plans.

The employment of directors of playgrounds in West Duluth, the West end and in the central part of the city, and the employment of a young woman to direct playground work for the girls and smaller children, were discussed at a meeting of the Playgrounds association at the Commercial club yesterday. No definite action was taken, the secretary reporting that the funds at the disposal of the association prohibited any systematic steps toward having the playgrounds properly directed.

Representatives from the Y. M. C. A., the Commercial club and the Women's council attended yesterday's meeting. J. R. Batchelor of the Y. M. C. A., touched upon the good results that may be obtained by the proper direction of playgrounds. Mayor Cullum reported on the playgrounds institute at Minneapolis early this month and urged the development of the playgrounds movement in Duluth as rapidly as possible.

The Sound Sleep of Good Health.

Can not be over estimated and any ailment that prevents it is a menace to health. J. L. Southers, Eau Claire, Wis., says: "I have been unable to sleep soundly nights, because of pains across my back and soreness of my kidneys. My appetite was very poor and my general condition was much run down. I have been taking Foley Kidney Pills but a short time and now sleep as sound as a rock, my general condition is greatly improved, and I know that Foley Kidney Pills have cured me. All druggists.

HIGH SCHOOL SQUAD REPORTS

Fifteen Candidates Turn Out for Spring Baseball Practice.

Fifteen candidates for the Central high school baseball team reported yesterday on the field to Coach Schillings. There are six veterans of last year's team and Capt. Boyle thinks that there are plenty of likely candidates to make up a fast preparatory school nine. The squad is short on pitchers. McClaran is again eligible for the team and he is the only pitcher available at the present time. From now on the boys will practice every afternoon under the direction of Coach Schillings.

APPOINTMENT OF HAGE

As Oil Inspector at Crookston Is Arousing Critics.

Crookston, Minn., April 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—If the report is true that Governor Eberhart has appointed Gilbert Hage oil inspector for this district, to succeed W. E. Black, there will be more than a tempest in a teapot in Republican ranks in Polk county and other portions of the Ninth district as well. Hage acted as secretary of the Citizens' league of Polk county, and it is claimed he fought Eberhart at the polls.

It is understood that Hage had the backing of Senators Saugstad and Sunberg and some other county optionist members of the legislature from this section.

Passengers and Crew Saved.

Tokio, April 25.—It was reported officially today that the passengers and crew of the Pacific Mail steamship Asia were rescued after the vessel went ashore on Finger Rock Sunday. The mails were saved.

GIVING OUT

The Struggle Discourages Many a Citizen of Duluth.

Around all day with an aching back;
Can't rest at night;
Enough to make any one "give out."
Doan's Kidney Pills will give renewed life.
They will cure the backache;
Cure every kidney ill.

Here is Duluth proof that this is so:

J. H. Tomlin, 112 W. Palmetto St., Duluth Heights, Duluth, Minn., says: "When I worked on the street railway in 1908, I publicly recommended Doan's Kidney Pills. At that time I said that I had suffered for two years from kidney complaint. I finally became so bad that I had to quit work for days. My back was painful and at night I was nervous. When I got up in the morning, I felt tired and worn out and I was made miserable by a kidney weakness. I have no doubt that the constant jar received while riding caused my trouble. Nothing helped me until I used Doan's Kidney Pills. They cured me and I have not had much trouble from my back or kidneys since. I always have a box of Doan's Kidney Pills in the house."

Seeger
Dry Air Siphon System

Study the detail sketch to the left and you will see why the Seegar is the only dry air refrigerator on the market. The inverted V-shaped partition forms the Siphon between the ice and food chamber. The cold air created by the ice falls downward to a special deflector under the ice chamber. This cold air is then thrown into the bottom compartment, where it ascends into the food chamber and is then drawn through the back into the ice chamber. This circulation continues as long as there is ice in the ice chamber. Come in and let us demonstrate the Seeger to you.

$7,000 VERDICT BEATEN.

Court Rules Plaintiff Delayed Too Long Bringing Suit.

Milwaukee, Wis., April 25.—Judge Chester A. Fowler of Portage has handed down a decision which knocks out the $7,000 jury verdict which the late Louis Hite of Louisville got against Francis B. Keene, United States consul at Geneva, Switzerland, in the circuit court here Nov. 21 last. Hite sued Keene for defamation of character based on a letter alleged to have been written to W. Stone Smith.

The court decided that the Swiss statute of limitations which calls for commencement of a suit within a year after having had knowledge of the alleged injury controls the case.

Hite, the plaintiff, died in Louisville on March 6 last.

The trouble between Consul Keene and Mr. Hite arose over the domestic differences of Mr. Hite and his wife. Mrs. Hite heard that Mr. Hite had circulated ugly stories about her and consulted Mr. Keene. The evidence tended to show that Mr. Keene wrote to W. Stone Smith a friend of Mr. Hite, referring to Hite as a coward, a depraved man, a drunkard and a man who has taken the drink cure.

MAKES APOLOGY.

Superintendent of Naval Academy Writes Letter to Miss Beers.

Annapolis, Md., April 25.—It was learned last night that Capt. J. M. Bowyer, superintendent of the naval academy, has forwarded to Miss Mary H. Beers, daughter of Prof. Beers of Yale university, a letter of apology for the action of one of the academy officers who suggested to her midshipman escort, that, by reason of her employment, she should not again be invited to an academy dance. The letter was not made public but it is understood that Miss Beers was assured that the incident was due to a misunderstanding of her status.

The body of midshipmen was not in sympathy with the attitude assumed by some of the officers in this matter. Their frequently expressed opinion is that a midshipman has a right to bring any respectable woman to a dance regardless of her employment or status.

RABBI SENT TO PRISON FOR PERJURING HIMSELF.

New York, April 25.—From two to seven years in Sing Sing was the sentence imposed upon Rabbi Hartog Veld in the supreme court of Brooklyn yesterday on conviction of perjury in connection with the recent trial of ex-Magistrate E. Gaston Higginbotham on a charge of having subjected a young woman who had visited his private chambers to indignities. Higginbotham was acquitted.

GUTTENBURG BIBLE IS SOLD FOR $50,000.

New York, April 25.—The first book ever printed from movable type brought the highest price ever paid for any book. The prize was the Guttenburg Bible, the purchaser was Henry E. Huntington of Los Angeles, and the price was $50,000.

The purchase was made at the opening session of the sale of the library of the late Robert Hoe, the largest public sale of books ever attempted. Experts have estimated the collection to be worth more than $1,000,000.

The highest previous price for the Guttenburg Bible was $20,000 at which Bernard Quaritch purchased it in England fourteen years ago. At a private sale he disposed of it shortly afterwards to Mr. Hoe at a profit of $2,500 and it has remained in the Hoe collection ever since. The copy was printed some time between 1450 and 1455.

BOYS AFTER 200 MEMBERS IN TWO DAYS.

Friday and Saturday will be two big days at the boys' department. The committee of 120 boys which is hustling to add 200 members on those days, is working hard to make April 28 and 29 red letter days in the history of the club.

Every boy in Duluth will have an opportunity to join the club for the next four and a half months for $2. This includes every privilege of the boys' department and the swimming pool, and the special program of summer outings, camps, etc. The reports that are coming in at the office are to the effect that the special summer ticket idea is a very popular one and that a large number of Duluth boys will avail themselves of the opportunity. A rally of the 120 will be held Wednesday at 7:30 p. m. Palmer Bevis, captain of the Blues, and Dick Cullum, captain of the Reds, will met their men for a final conference before the big hustle takes place.

Home-Made Tonic For Spring Use

(From Scientific Bulletin.)

After all has been said, there is nothing quite as reliable, nothing that cleanses the blood and regulates the system so thoroughly as this good, old-fashioned tonic:

Mix together one-half cup sugar, one ounce kardene and one-half pint alcohol (obtainable at any drug store), then add hot water to make a full quart. Take a tablespoonful before each meal and the health-restoring, strengthening properties of this tonic will soon be apparent. As a general energizer, body builder and system tonic it is unsurpassed. It is fine for correcting drowsiness, lost appetite, spring fever and other marks of ill health.

ON THE IRON RANGES

DRUNKEN WOMAN HAS TOUGH TIME

Visits Gilbert From Virginia, Is Arrested, Then Robbed By Friend.

Gilbert, Minn., April 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—Gertrude Pikkeraninen, said to be the wife of a former saloon keeper at Virginia, came to Gilbert and became intoxicated. Chief of Police Saline arrested her and ordered the woman out of town, but she became insolent and was landed in the village jail. She was brought before Judge Welch and fined $15 and costs, with the alternative of going to Duluth for thirty days. The woman asked permission to send a male friend to Virginia to get $100 she had hidden in her trunk. The man got the money and skipped out with it. The woman was allowed to return to her home in Virginia upon promising to pay the fine as soon as she could raise the amount.

Hemming Tammela was arrested Sunday night, on two charges, that of being drunk and disorderly, and riding a bicycle on the sidewalk. He was fined $5 and costs on each charge by Judge Welch, Monday morning.

Matt Suota was assesed $10 and costs by Judge Welch for being drunk and disorderly.

JAEDECKE FUNERAL LARGELY ATTENDED

Many Societies Join in Last Tribute to Man Stricken at Chisholm.

Ishpeming, Mich., April 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—The funeral of the late Herman Jaedecke, who died last Tuesday morning at Chisholm, Minn., after a four days' illness with pneumonia, held Sunday, was the largest ever seen here. Many members of fraternal societies to which the deceased belonged were present from Negaunee, Marquette and other places in the county.

The obsequies were held under direction of the Ishpeming lodge of the Masonic society, and there were nearly 1,000 men in the funeral cortege. The Ishpeming fire department, of which the deceased had been an active member for more than twenty years, led the line. The firemen were followed by the Eagles, there being members present from all of the cities of the county. The Elks were next in line and they were followed by the Woodmen. The Knights of Pythias came next, the Masons bringing up the rear. The Woodmen were headed by the degree team in uniform, and the uniform rank was at the head of the Pythian membership.

Commandery Head Masons.

The commandery, more than fifty strong, headed the Masonic delegation. A large number of the commandery were up from Marquette and Frank G. Jenks was in command.

Masonic services were conducted at the house and at the grave, and Rev. M. M. Allen pastor of the Presbyterian church, also conducted a short service. A quartet from the Masonic society sang at the grave and a chorus from the lodge sang at the grave.

The array of floral tributes was the most elaborate ever seen in Ishpeming. Flowers came from far and near, many pieces having been received from friends of the deceased in Minnesota, where he had traveled for his business for more than fifteen years, and where he was almost as well known as he was in his home city.

V. MURPHY WAS TWICE WOUNDED

Two Bullets Were Fired Into Man Killed North of Deer River.

Deer River, Minn., April 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—Later developments reveal that Vince Murphy, the oldtimer logging man, murdered near Wirt, north of here, was shot twice instead of once, as first reported. This leads to the impression the victim was slain from ambush. The widow of the murdered man, who arrived from Minneapolis, her home, took the body home with her yesterday.

Vincent Wood, held as a suspect at Grand Rapids, by order of County Attorney McOuat, will remain in jail at the county seat until Thursday when the inquest will be held by Coroner Russell.

Mrs. Ellen Wood, who lives at the Wood restaurant at Wirt, returned here after having traveled to Grand Rapids with Wood and the Sheriff Saturday, following the former's arrest.

Deputy Sheriff Gunderson is at Wirt serving subpoenes upon a number of people whom the county attorney wants in attendance at the inquest Thursday.

HAVE CELEBRATION.

Two Harbors High School Winning Debate Made Jubilee.

Two Harbors, Minn., April 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—The faculty of the Two Harbors high school, entertained the members of the school board and their wives, the local teachers, and the members of the junior and senior classes in the assembly hall of the high school, in honor of Miss K. E. Mark and the debating team as a jubilee for the winning of the state championship cup. A very interesting program was given consisting of music by the orchestra after which Miss Mark told "How We Won the St. Paul Debate." A monster banner with the names of the victorious debaters, the coach and superintendent, was presented to Miss Mark, the coach. A very interesting mock debate followed concerning the relative merits of the junior and senior classes. The seniors were supported by Grace Hunter and Arthur Emmett, while Cicero and Mark Antony—alias Leo Kain and Lawrence Foster—defended the juniors. A delightful lunch was served and all enjoyed a splendid time.

SEASON'S LOG CUT LARGE ONE

Virginia & Rainy Lake Road Company to Drive Logs Down River.

Virginia, Minn., April 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Virginia & Rainy Lake Lumber company had one of its largest log cuts in years last winter, and Frank H. Gillmore, superintendent of logging operations for the Virginia & Rainy Lake company and the Northern Lumber company, has been busy here for several days looking for men to go on the several drives for his employers.

Logs are to be floated down the streams in the north woods and loaded onto cars at the several points along the route of the Duluth, Rainy Lake & Winnipeg road and shipped to the mills here and at Cloquet.

HOLMAN MINE IS STARTING AGAIN

Many New Men Are Coming to Tacenite to Be Employed in Property.

Taconite, Minn., April 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Oliver Iron Mining company has opened up the Holman mine once more. The men are coming in by the hundreds, all the old familiar faces and many strangers are in town at present.

Clerk Harry Gott from the Garvey addition was in town Saturday and reported the loss of a number of chickens on account of strange dogs on the location. Easy enough to get rid of the dogs, Harry; get busy.

The Taconite Automobile club took their first spin around the country last Sunday. They made quite a display leaving in the morning. McCarron's new auto is something grand, one of the best up in the range country.

Charles Gorrell expects to open a new fish market on May 1.

Mrs. William Watson has had her sister, Mrs. Carl F. Moll from Michigan visting her for the past week.

The Modern Woodmen held their annual dance in the Taconite village hall Saturday night and it was a success. The hall was beautifully decorated and was filled to its capacity when the dance started. Music was furnished by the Coleraine orchestra and Caterer Doble saw that everybody had enough to eat. Supper was served at 12 o'clock. Floor Director Gus Huhn saw that all hands enjoyed themselves.

The Taconite baseball team has organized for the season and expects to have a walkaway this summer as Bud Cashen and Foxey Loux are playing again.

Dan Cassidy has engaged two new clerks to be ready for the summer rush of business.

Ky and Rae Rock, two little boys of Taconite, aged 10 and 12, went fishing Saturday last. They landed a fish that weighed eight pounds and was thirty-three inches long.

HIBBING WOMEN SHOW INTEREST

Indications Are Fair Sex Will Take Hand in Electing School Board.

Hibbing, Minn., April 25.—(Special toe The Herald.)—The women are taking up the matter of the coming election of the school board. The election is still a long way off but there is every evidence that whatever the men may do the women are determined to take up the cudgels and see to it that what they want is done. It is stated that in the recent report of Supt. Blair that two teachers who have served several years and are well liked locally were left out entirely. No statement was made public with regard to the affair and those interested in the well-being of the schools will have something to say about the time the members of the board are up for election.

LEONARD MINE AT HIBBING HAS RESUMED.

Hibbing, Minn., April 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—About 100 men were put to work at the Leonard mine Monday and the mine will be worked vigorously throughout the summer.

It is understood that the shutting down of the Hartley mine last week is due to the fact that the mine is held under a long lease and attention will be directed this summer to the mines that are being operated under short leases.

STUNTZ TOWNSHIP BOARD CONSIDERS ROAD MATTERS.

Hibbing, Minn., April 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—The township of Stuntz held their regular board meeting last night in the old city hall, the chief matter for consideration being that of road petitions.

Several changes in roads will have to be made on account of the new stripping work to be done at the Albany mine, and petitions were read for repairs and addition roads in the township. The regular routine work was also attended to by the board.

HIBBING PERSONALS.

Hibbing, Minn., April 25.—(Special to The Herald.—W. W. Brown returned from the Twin Cities Sunday night.

Mrs. Whitney of Center street, returned from Grand Rapids yesterday.

Miss Hazel Brown, who recently broke her arm at the skating rink is getting along nicely and was able to return to school yesterday. The injured member is in plaster of paris and will remain so for some time.

James Cameron of the Duluth, Missabe & Northern, has returned from Texas, where he spent the winter.

Miss Augustus Anderson leaves today for Duluth and the Twin Cities.

FAYAL SCHOOL OF EVELETH BURNED

Crossing of Electric Wires Presumed to Have Started the Fire.

Eveleth, Minn., April 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—Fire of an unknown origin starting at 6 a. m. today completely destroyed the Fayal school. The fire was discovered by Janitors Barrett and Erickson. Electric wires crossing is the probable cause. The building was erected in 1900, seated 300 and cost $17,600, and its contents, $3,500.

The insurance on the building is $12,000 and on the contents $3,500. The pupils affected will be seated in other schools. The adjusters have been wired for. A brick school building will probably replace the burned building which was frame.

NEW TIMBER IS BEING PLACED

Repairs Being Made in Spruce Mine Do Not Hamper Mining Work.

Eveleth, Minn., April 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—A repair crew is setting new timbers in the No. 1 shaft of the Spruce mine, as the old timbers cracked because of the frost. The replacing of the timbers will not impair mining operations at the shaft, and the regular crews are being worked.

Sinking operations will be resumed at the Leonidas shaft, next week, as the pumps have been installed at the 350-foot level.

The old Adams "dry" and captain's office will be removed next month to the No. 6 Adams, as mining operations will be started at that point, while the old machine shops will be either dismantled or moved.

TO DISCUSS BIBLE.

Eveleth, Minn., April 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—Rev. Philip A. Schwarz, Jr., of the First Presbyterian church plans on speaking on the Bible next Sunday to commemorate the 300th anniversary of King James' translation of the Bible. Members of the church will be called on to give short papers on the Bible. Other appropriate numbers are being arranged.

TUBERCULOSIS CLAIMS EVELETH BOY OF 13.

Eveleth, Minn., April 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—Magnus, the 13-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. John Bergstrom, died yesterday afternoon of tuberculosis after an illness of over two years. He formerly attended the primary grades of the high school building and was well and favorably known.

He is survived by his parents and a brother 8 years old. The funeral will be held from the Swedish Lutheran church, with interment following at Greenwood cemetery, Virginia.

Fake Hibbing Alarm.

Hibbing, Minn., April 25.—(Special to The Herald.) — The fire department had a second call to a false alarm last night about 7:30. The department turned out in quick time, especially fast time being made by the No. 2 department, which had to come from the uptown hall across the tracks. The fire alarm proved to be a mistake and after much investigation the teams returned.

Towerite in Washington.

Washington, April 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—Dr. Thomas M. Rodwell of Tower, Minn., is in Washington on business before the interior department.

Eveleth Baseball Notes.

Eveleth, Minn., April 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—L. Gaunitz has been appointed captain of the Fayal office team of the Western Mesaba league, which will open its season next month.

The militia team, which is composed of Raumer, catcher; V. Parks, pitcher; Cerveny, M. Van Buskrick and A. D. Pryor, infielders; R. B. Murray, A. Farnand and C. Y. Jenkins, outfielders, has organized with C. U. Jenkins as manager and Mr. Van Buskrick as captain. Games will be played out-of-town Saturdays and here on Sundays.

DAME NATURE HINTS

When the Food Is Not Suited.

When Nature gives her signal that something is wrong it is generally with the food; the old Dame is always faithful and one should act at once.

To put off the change is to risk that which may be irreparable. An Arizona man says:

"For years I could not safely eat any breakfast. I tried all kinds of breakfast foods, but they were all soft, starchy masses, which gave me distressing headaches. I drank strong coffee, too, which appeared to benefit me at the time, but added to the headaches afterwards. Toast and coffee were no better, for I found the toast very constipating.

"A friend persuaded me to quit coffee and the starchy breakfast foods, and use Postum and Grape-Nuts instead. I shall never regret taking his advice.

"The change they have worked in me is wonderful. I now have no more of the distressing sensations in my stomach after eating, and I never have any headaches. I have gained 12 pounds in weight and feel better in every way. Grape-Nuts make a delicious as well as a nutritious dish, and I find that Postum is easily digested and never produces dyspepsia symptoms."

MUCH TANGLED OVER ENGINEER

Two Harbors Council Trying to Find Out Just Where It Is Standing.

Two Harbors, Minn., April 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—The old matter of the appointment of a chief engineer for the water and light plant were brought up at last night's council meeting. It was moved by Strand that the council rescind its action at the last meeting in removing Aaron Elg from the position of chief engineer. This was voted down, 4 to 3, the opponents being Christensen, Tubman, Irwin and Risberg. President Esse then inquired of City Attorney B. F. Fowler whether the action of the city council in appointing S. S. Irwin to the new position of superintendent of the water and light plant and fixing his salary by mere motion would hold. The city attorney stated that the action of the city council was invalid, but that a new resolution authorizing the duties of the new superintendent and giving him the power of appointing and removing three stationary engineers would be in order. Accordingly, Christensen moved that such a resolution be drawn up. President Esse then wanted to know the position of the city in regard to the chief engineer proposition. The city attorney gave it as his opinion that at the present time W. R. Coleman was "de facto" chief engineer, and that he would be able to draw salary for the time he had put in. The city attorney stated that the new superintendent would have to draw up a contract with the city.

In regard to the septic tank, which the council as a committee of the whole visited Sunday, it was moved that the street commissioner be instructed to clean out the tank and then lay iron piping connecting it with the lake and also the box between the tank and the lake, and that he draw off the water from the slough hole in Burlington bay. Dr. Christensen recommended that the septic tank be cleaned more frequently. In regard to the water supply of the city, the board of health had been instructed at the last meeting to send samples weekly to the state board of health for analysis. A letter from Dr. Bracken of the state board of health was read, in which he stated that it was not customary for the state to make analyses of water; that the board of health only made bacteriological examinations; that they would do so in this case, if the city would furnish a laboratory and pay the expenses, and that, in his opinion, the source of the ill health of Two Harbors was in the water supply which had been shown by previous examinations.

To Buy City Scale.

Another Socialistic measure was put through providing for the purchase of a city scale, the need of which, according to the Socialists, has long been felt. The matter of purchasing a large supply of lumber also came up. Woodward & Mumford had not been notified to send in a bid so that the matter was left to the purchasing committee. In the matter of furnishing the city with coal, it was stated that the Northland Coal company, the Carnegie Coal company and the Pittsburgh Coal company of Duluth all offered to sell coal at $2.25 per ton. The Northland Coal company has furnished the city with coal in the past, but would not draw up a contract now, whereas the Pittsburgh company was willing to draw up a contract stating that they would not only furnish coal at a no higher price than $2.25 per ton but that the city would have the benefit of a reduction in market price. A resolution giving the contract to the Pittsburgh Coal company of Duluth was passed.

In the matter of letting the printing contract, A. De Lacy Wood, manager and editor of the Iron Port Advocate, was present and stated that the council had not inspected his plant. He was out of town on business when the council had called. The matter was laid over for one week.

John A. Barton spoke in behalf of the property owners on the east end of Third avenue, saying that they wished to put in a cement sidewalk but that they did not care to have it done by day labor, as is the present policy of the administration. They considered this an experimental proposition and recommended that it be done by contract system, unless the city would do it for a stipulated sum. Mr. Barton was instructed to draw a petition from the property owners to that effect.

Eveleth Class Play.

Eveleth, Minn., April 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—"The Elevator," a farce dealing with the troubles and trials of parties left in an elevator which refuses to work, by William Dean Howells, will be given by the seniors of the high school on class day, June 13. Class history, songs, yells and prophecy will also be given. Commencement day will be held June 15. School will close June 15.

Eveleth Socialists Meet.

Eveleth, Minn., April 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—J. S. Ingalls, associate editor of the Minnesota Socialist, addressed the Socialists at the Urnala hall, dealing with organization in Socialistic parties as well as in industries. His address was full of strong points and was well received.

Gilbert Mothers' Club Meet.

Gilbert, Minn., April 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Mothers' club will meet in the primary building auditorium on Friday afternoon, May 5, at 3 o'clock. The following program will be given: Piano solo, Mrs. Dowling; song, Jenny Frandila; stories by pupils from every room in the primary department; song, by pupils from Miss Gahan's room; folk games, by Miss Anderson's pupils; talk by Rev. Shorts; vocal solo by Miss Millie Johnson. Refreshments will be served after the program.

PAIR INDICTED FOR BEING WED

Iowa County Prosecutor and Bride Hide in Chicago Hotel.

Chicago, Ill., April 25.—Charged with assaulting Cupid, W. T. Oakes, county prosecutor of Clinton county, Iowa, and his bride of two days, who was Miss Marquis, are fugitives, and are in hiding at the Sherman house. They are hiding from their friends, however.

Mr. and Mrs. Oakes had planned to spend their honeymoon in Los Angeles. Transportation to that city had been purchased. Learning of the elaborate preparations for a charivari their friends had planned for them, they fled from the church after the ceremony to the railroad yards, about a mile west of the station. They planned thus to evade their friends, who believed they would go to the home of the bride's parents before taking their train.

Train Bound Wrong Way.

They had not been on the train long—they climbed aboard while it was waiting at a crossing—before they discovered they were on an east-bound train. In another minute the train stopped at the station at Clinton.

Seeing several hundred friends, accompanied by a brass band, coming down the street, bearing a large black coffin, they feared to get off to take the right train. Hence their presence in Chicago.

The coffin had been built to order. It was equipped with a lid large enough to permit the bridegroom entering easily. It was provided with heavy brass padlocks. A number of the more husky of the friends were to have accompanied the coffin and its freight to the western borders of Iowa and then leave the benedict to get out as best he could. They contended that a married man is worse than dead.

Grand Jury's Indictment.

The grand jury of Clinton county returned the following indictment against Oakes:

"The grand jury of the county of Clinton in the name and by the authority of the state of Iowa accuse W. T. Oakes of the crime of assaulting Cupid, committed as follows: The said W. T. Oakes, in the county aforesaid, did maliciously, arbitrarily, stubbornly and obstinately take unto himself a bride from the fair ranks of womankind with intent thereby to put to death, slay, murder, assassinate, strangle, stifle and suffocate all that is good in the holy realms of bachelordom, all of which is against the peace and dignity of the state of single bliss, and contrary to and in violation of the laws of the bona fide bachelors' club of which the defendant has long been a member."

AMUSEMENTS

TONIGHT'S ATTRACTIONS.

ORPHEUM—Vaudeville.
EMPRESS—Vaudeville.
ODEUM and LYRIC—Photoplay.

Green Room Gossip.

"All of a Sudden Peggy" will open at the Lyceum theater Wednesday night with the Maude Leone players as the producing company.

The play is a bright, lively little drama in three acts and there is said to be more real comedy, live situations and genuine humor in it than in any other society play written in recent years.

Marie Tempest made them laugh in England with it, and later the lines were translated into French and the play was put on in Paris. It has been seen all over the world. It is one of the plays that stands the wear and tear of time and refuses to be worn out.

"All of a Sudden Peggy" tells the story of a very unusual girl who did unexpected things at unexpected times and refused to be in love until she felt like it. It is a part for which Miss Leone is well fitted, in fact, it was as "Peggy" that she scored her greatest success on the occasion of her former engagement in this city about three years ago.

There will be the usual matinee Saturday.

"In these days a good vaudeville sketch is good for three or four years," said Clayton White, who is appearing in the feature attraction at the Orpheum this week, the vaudeville sketch "Cherie."

"Miss Stuart and I have been appearing in 'Cherie' for nearly four years. We have been together in vaudeville for ten years and during that time we have played only three sketches, two others in addition to 'Cherie.'

CLAYTON WHITE.

"We have always tried to get the best possible sketch, and then keep it for as long as it proves profitable. I think that is a far better plan than buying a new sketch every year, of indifferent worth. Buying a sketch is one place where a vaudeville performer cannot afford to be economical. The best that money can buy is none too good. I know that my present sketch is good. It has passed the judgment of the best vaudeville critics in all the big vaudeville theaters of America, so I propose to keep it until I get a better one, or until the audiences begin to tire of it. Good vaudeville sketches are hard to get these days, and when a performer gets one it behooves him to keep it."

There is a Duluth boy at the Empress this week.

Perrin G. Somers, who has lived in this city the greater part of his life, is appearing at the popular vaudeville theater in a sketch called "Jackson's Honeymoon." It is an amusing little story of the complications which arise in the lives of two newly married people. Mr. Somers has as his partner Miss Tillie Storke. They introduce several good songs during their act, and close with an exhibition of their skill on the xylophone.

PERRIN G. SOMERS.

Many of Mr. Somers' former friends have attended the Empress this week, and several little informal dinners have been given in his honor.

The photoplay at the Odeum has a big feature this week that is one of the most thrilling yet presented at that theater. "Madame Rex," is the title of the film. It tells the story of a woman who was forced, on the death of her husband, to assume the management of a gambling house. She kept her daughter in ignorance of her occupation. When the girl is 17, her mother falls in love with a young nobleman. The nobleman becomes engaged to her but when he meets the daughter he fall in love with her and the mother sacrifices her own love in order that her daughter may be happy.

Other films include "Easter Babes," "The White Squaw," and others. Mr. Caruso will sing an illustrated song.

The photo-play at the Lyric will be featured by "Opportunity and the Man." One man begins with the best of prospects, has money and is engaged to a beautiful girl. He falls, however, and becomes a common burglar. He is arrested. The other man is presented by chance with a $5 note. He uses it to good advantage, makes good, marries the other man's sweetheart and lives happily ever after.

Other films at the Lyric will include "In Old Florida," "The Wooing of Winnifred," and others. There will be an illustrated song by I. S. Mistachkin.

ON CHILD WELFARE.

International Congress Opens Sessions in Washington.

Washington, April 25.—The International congress on child welfare, meeting under the auspices of the National congress of mothers, began its sessions here today. Distinguished teachers, statesmen, physicians, jurists and clergymen from the world over have gathered to discuss subjects appertaining to the child.

An address by President Taft was the opening feature of the welfare congress program. Many other eminent speakers are to follow him during the progress of the convention, in which many women who have won distinction in their communities and been delegated to represent their states will participate. The speakers include Ambassador Bryce, Governor Hooper of Tennessee, Dr. Elmer E. Brown, Dr. Floyd Tomkins and Mrs. Ella Flagg Young, president of the National Educational association.

NEW MEXICO LANDS ARE WITHDRAWN FROM ENTRY.

Washington, April 25.—New Mexico lands, aggregating 223,545 acres, were today withdrawn from entry by President Taft, upon the recommendation of Secretary of the Interior Fisher, and reserved for examination and classification with respect to their coal value. Preliminary examinations of the geological survey indicated that these lands contained valuable coal deposits.

SPORTING NEWS OF THE DAY

DROPS FIRST TO ROCKFORD

Duluth Plays Well But Illinois Men Succeed in Bunching Hits.

Big Squad of New Men Reports to Duluth Manager.

Rockford, Ill., April 25.—In a hotly contested game of baseball yesterday afternoon, Rockford won from the Duluth team of the Minnesota-Wisconsin league by a score of 4 to 2.

For an early season game both teams showed considerable class and the contest was interesting to a large squad of spectators.

The Duluth team was tired, having traveled all night. Higley, Doty and Woodburn worked in the box for the Zenith City team and all did well. Rockford got eight hits altogether. Some of them were bunched, however, and the locals were able to nose out a victory.

Pitchers Cummings, Worman, Kramer, Speck, Holstrom and Catcher Doar, and Outfielders Johnson and Meneice joined the Duluth team today. O'Brien will have a hard time selecting his pitchers, as all of them are showing up in fine form and this department looks stronger than any other on the nine at present.

Catcher Jacobs of Evansville will join the team today. He is said to be a fast and steady man. Catcher Schaub is sick in the hospital at Cleveland. Duluth has been weak behind the bat in the games played thus far.

Webster, Kench and Reisinger worked for Rockford and they all did well. Both crews look good. The game yesterday was exciting and there were several sensational fielding stunts pulled off by both teams.

The same teams will meet again this afternoon.

RALLY IN EIGHTH WINS FOR THE REDS.

Cincinnati, Ohio, April 25.—A batting rally in the eighth inning, consisting of four singles after Pfeister had walked a man, gave Cincinnati four runs and allowed them to win the game, 7 to 4. Burns was knocked out in the early stages of the game, and Suggs and Pfeister had about equal honors up to the eighth. The fielding was sensational. Score: R. H. E.

PHILLIES BUNCH HITS AND DEFEAT GIANTS.

Philadelphia, April 25.—New York lost yesterday's game, 4 to 1. Philadelphia's victory was due to their bunching hits in the first and third innings, while Titus made a home run in the eighth. Rowan kept New York's hits scattered except three in one inning. Moore of the home team threatened to attack Manager McGraw of New York for remarks addressed to him while coaching, but Umpire Eason intercepted Moore in time to prevent blows from being struck. Moore was ordered to the clubhouse. Score: R. H. E.

SCHARDT'S WILDNESS LOSES FOR BROOKLYN.

Brooklyn, N. Y., April 25.—Brooklyn outhit Boston yesterday, but was beaten, 3 to 0, through the wildness of the pitchers. The visitors' first run was forced over the plate in the seventh by Schardt, who passed three men in a row after Goode had singled. Ryan relieved him immediately and did well until the ninth, when an error by Tooley, a batter hit, a sacrifice and an out scored two more. There were no strike-outs in the game. Score: R. H. E.

BROWNS FALL SHORT IN NINTH-INNING RALLY.

Detroit, Mich., April 25.—Baseball luck favored Detroit yesterday and St. Louis, after an exciting rally in the ninth, was defeated, 7 to 6. A unique play in the eighth lessened St. Louis' chances of victory. With Austin on second, Murray on first and nobody out, La Porte lifted an easy infield fly which Moriarity dropped. Austin and Murray, apparently confused, left their bases and Moriarity threw the ball to Bush, who retired both men unassisted. Score: R. H. E.

TEAM MAKES TWO TRIPLE PLAYS IN ONE GAME.

Battle Creek, Mich., April 25.—A baseball record said to be unequalled was made here yesterday afternoon when the Battle Creek team of the Southern Michigan league made two triple plays in a nine-inning game with Grand Rapids of the Central league. Battle Creek, won, 6 to 3. The first triple play was made by the catcher catching a bunt and retiring a man at second and another at first. The second was a line drive to the shortstop, the remaining put-outs being at third and first. Three players figured in each performance.

YOUNG MILLER WINS FROM OTTO SUTER.

St. Paul, Minn., April 25.—Young Miller, claimant of the world's welterweight wrestling championship, took two straight falls from Otto Suter of Cleveland, Ohio, here last night. The time for the first fall was one hour and eleven minutes and for the second, twenty-five minutes and ten seconds.

BILLIARD CHAMPION LOSES IN "MARATHON" CONTEST.

New York, April 25.—In a "Marathon" three-cushion billiard game, Sam Lazarus of Pittsburg defeated Thomas Hueston, former three-cushion champion, yesterday, 500 to 495. It took 837 innings to finish the game, which lasted twelve hours and twenty-five minutes, ending at 2 o'clock a. m. Four referees worked in relays.

Roller Throws Demetral.

Chicago, April 25.—Dr. B. F. Roller defeated William Demetral in straight falls here last night, securing the first in 1:11:30 and the second in 15 minutes. Americus, the Baltimore wrestler, failed to appear for his match with John Lemm, the Swiss champion, and the contest, billed as the feature event, was called off.

SPORTING NOTES

Frank Schulte is out to make a home-run record this year that will last for some years to come. He will do it if he keeps up the pace he has started.

* * *

About three of the present number of White Sox players will have to be lopped off before May 15. Manager Duffy has been waiting until he could get a chance to look all the youngsters over during the morning practice before deciding on the three to whom he will tie a can.

* * *

Unless the Athletics get started pretty soon they will be anchored so fast in last place they will begin to sprout there. Connie Mack is getting agitated, and that is a sure sign the team is in a bad way.

* * *

Every time Clarke Griffith looks at the score of the Phillies he tries to look pleasant and forget about that trade he made with Dooin last fall.

* * *

One of the St. Louis critics says the White Sox do not look as strong as they were in 1906. No one has claimed so much for them, for that was the year they won the world's championship and no one who watched them play at the Sox park thinks for a minute they will win the pennant this year.

* * *

Callahan hits the ball with a vengeance and makes the fans sit up and take notice. The former Logan square magnate seems to enjoy life more than he ever did before.

* * *

Charlie Dooin is going to make a strong bid for top honors in batting this year. He is surely the "livest" wire of the Phillies.

* * *

Those Hub players under Tenney seem to be raging demons with the stick once they get started.

* * *

* * *

* * *

Earl Moore is keeping the Phillies in the lead. He beat the Giants for the second time this year, allowing but one hit.

* * *

In letting Ben Houser go to the Indianapolis team of the American association, Connie Mack is said to have been actuated by philanthropic motives. He wanted Houser to have a chance to play and develop, but if he is a real player Connie surely has a string tied to him some place.

* * *

Fred Tenney is another example of a ball player that can "come back." The Boston manager is handling everything around first base as if he was just in his prime, but then the hot summer days are coming and he may feel differently then.

* * *

If it is true that Rube Marquard is in form again it is only another instance of the grand judgment of John McGraw. He has held the $12,000 beauty for two years in spite of all the adverse criticism of every critic in the country.

* * *

Sherwood Magee is going to give Frank Schulte a hard run for home run honors in the National league.

NEW CLUB HOUSE ON LAKE SHORE

Gun Club Begins Work on New Park Point Home.

The Central Gun club has begun the erection of its clubhouse on the property which it recently acquired on Park Point along the lake shore.

The clubhouse will be built along the most comfortable lines, fitted with all conveniences for the accommodation of its members. It will be surrounded on three sides by a large, roomy porch, which will add greatly to its attractiveness. A cement foundation is being put in for the trap, which reached the city a few weeks ago. Cement walks are being laid and small shrubs and trees will probably be planted as soon as the other improvments have been finished. The club recently instituted a campaign for new members which was highly successful. It is expected that the first shoot at the new grounds will be held in two or three weeks. The property is beautifully situated for the purposes for which it will be used. It has a frontage of 140 feet, and shooting towards the lake, absolutely all danger of hitting any one is eliminated.

CHICAGO BROWN GETS DECISION OVER BROAD.

Memphis, Tenn., April 25.—"Knockout" Brown, a Chicago welterweight, was given the decision over "Kid" Broad of Philadelphia after eight fast rounds before the Southern A. C. last night. Both men were badly battered.

O'Brien and Saylor.

Indianapolis, Ind., April 25.—Rouse O'Brien of Boston and Young Saylor of this city will box ten rounds tonight before the Washington Athletic club at 133 pounds.

Kid Williams of Philadelphia is scheduled for a ten-round bout with Jack Morgan of this city at 158 pounds.

Three Pitchers Sold.

Boston, April 25.—A further reduction has been made in the squad of the Boston American league club by the sale of three pitchers, Arellaines, Mahoney and Hunt, to the Sacramento, Cal., club. The men will start for the Pacific coast at once. Arellaines is a veteran, while Hunt and Mahoney have had only a single season in major league baseball.

Opening in Kansas City.

Kansas City, Mo., April 25.—With Louisville and Kansas City as the opposing teams, the American Association baseball season in this city will open today. It was announced today that either Slagle or Richter would pitch for Louisville and that Powell or Brandom would be in the box for Kansas City.

O'Keefe Will Meet Coulon.

Kansas City, Mo., April 25.—Johnny Coulon of Chicago and Eddy O'Keefe of Philadelphia, bantam weights, will meet in a ten-round bout at the Hippodrome in this city tonight.

According to the terms of the agreement each man is to weigh 116 pounds two hours before entering the ring.

TWICE STOLEN AND SOLD, MISSING MARES RETURN.

Lankin, N. D., April 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—Though stolen and sold two different times two valuable mares belonging to Thomas Healy of this city have wandered back to their original owner after an absence of more than six months. They have been more than 100 miles from the Healy farm, were first sold for $210 and later for $310 and though given up long ago for lost they have returned to prove that they were stolen and to put the authorities on the track of the horse thief.

FINDS BODIES OF PARENTS

Little Son of Mr. and Mrs. Dalzell First to Discover Tragedy.

Father and Mother Asphyxiated By Gas From Water Heater.

The report of the tragic deaths of Mr. and Mrs. John O. Dalzell of Spokane, Wash., former residents of this city, is amplified by newspapers received here.

Mr. Dalzell, who was promoted from the local general agency to be general agent for the Northern Pacific at Spokane, and his wife were overcome recently by carbon dioxide fumes generated by a gas water heater. The bodies were found by the 12-year-old son of the dead couple, John Dalzell, upon his return from a trip to St. Paul. The tragedy occurred in the Dalzell home ten hours previous to the finding of the bodies.

The body of Mrs. Dalzell was in a bathtub when the police came. The body of Mr. Dalzell, clad in night clothes, was on the floor in an adjoining room. The body of Mrs. Dalzell had been dragged from the adjoining room to the bathtub by a neighbor who responded to the cries of the Dalzell boy. The neighbor thought that the woman's life was not extinct. The woman had been dead several hours.

Little Florence Dalzell, aged 5, slept in a room across the hall from the quarter where the tragedy occurred. She was not killed by the deadly fumes of gas because the door of her room was closed and a window open.

It is supposed that Mrs. Dalzell was bathing when she became stricken. Her husband is supposed to have seen her plight. Under the influence of the fumes, he, too, was rapidly succumbing even as he noticed his wife's condition. Before he could reach her he fell, presumably unconscious. Three weeks before the Dalzell boy was overcome by fumes from the heater. He had a narrow escape from dying.

The Spokane police could not understand how either of the victims could have become asphyxiated before detecting that the heater was not working properly, as neither was asleep. The suicide theory was rejected by the police as Mr. and Mrs. Dalzell were seen sitting by their fireside chatting amiably, the night before their dead bodies were found. The theory that the tragedy was accidental and not premeditated was accepted by the authorities and everyone who investigated the affair.

MUST FORFEIT 200,000 ACRES

Government Wins Suit Against Railroads for Recovery of Lands.

Portland, Or., April 25.—Federal Judge Charles E. Wolverton decided yesterday that the Southern Pacific and the Oregon & California Railway companies must forfeit to the United States government about 200,000 acres of land which is valued at from $40,000,000 to $75,000,000.

Interpreting the act of congress granting the land as an aid to railway construction the court held that congress intended that this land should be sold to bona fide settlers in tracts not greater than 160 acres to one individual and at a price not exceeding $2.50 an acre.

While deciding in favor of the federal government, Judge Wolverton decided against the several thousand interveners in the case. He held that they had acquired no right whatever either by settling on the land or by tendering the maximum sum per claim specified by the law.

The effect of this portion of the decision is that the lands can not be procured by any individual until the president or congress again opens them to entry or file. The sixty-seven entrymen who had gone upon the land as settlers before the suits of the government began, also lose their claims and are held to have gained no advantage whatever by their period of settlement.

Supposed Rights Brushed Aside.

More than 5,000 interveners have filed applications to get a portion of the land, but their supposed rights are brushed aside, leaving the entire tract open to disposition by congress.

In brief the question raised by the Southern Pacific was whether congress had the power to make a subsequent act precedent to the rights conferred in an original grant.

The suit was instituted in 1908 by Attorney General Bonaparte following a memorial from the Oregon legislature to congress that the Southern Pacific company, successor to the Oregon & California railway, had forfeited its rights to a grant of land in Oregon and Washington.

The company was said to have refused the land as provided in the grant.

YEOMEN INSTALL THEIR OFFICERS

An installation of officers of Duluth Homestead, No. 3131, Brotherhood of American Yeomen, was held at a meeting in the hall at 118 West Superior street, last night. J. H. Murphy of Owatonna, state manager, was installing officer. He was assisted by Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Garland of Hibbing, P. F. Harouff of Two Harbors and Mrs. J. C. Wesenberg of Duluth. Mrs. Garland was district manager until recently. She was Mrs. Ada L. Hanson before her marriage a few days ago to Mr. Garland, who succeeded her as district superintendent. His wife and Deputy P. F. Harouff will assist him in the work of district superintendent.

Officers installed follow: Foreman, J. A. Bellmeur; master of ceremonies, Lillian Potter; correspondent, J. C. Wesenberg; master of accounts, Charles E. Dahlquist; chaplain, William McVeigh; overseer, Charles Gibson; watchman, Peter Hartogh; sentinel, Hugh J. Doherty; guard, C. O. Lindor; Lady Rowena, Mrs. Claudia Brassard; Lady Rebecca, Leah Dennie; courier, Mable Bordeleau; black knight, John Allen; musician, Marguerite Pierson.

Forty-six new members were initiated.

GOLD ORE SHOWS $500 TO THE TON

Kenora Excited By Development Work in the Ophir Mine.

Kenora, Ont., April 25.—Excitement is running high here over the results of the development work in the Ophir gold mine. At 100 feet depth, the vein is twelve feet high with an enormously rich streak three feet wide.

Visible gold is found in the All-Party vein, and the rich streak is producing specimens showing nuggets, leaves and wires of solid gold in the quartz, which give values of $500 and upwards per ton. Some of the specimens are the richest in visible gold ever seen in this or any other district.

The opinion of the conservative mining companies who have seen the mine and its present rich showing is that it will be the richest gold mine on the continent.

Kills His Son.

Cincinnati, Ohio, April 25.—Angered at being upbraided by his son for a debt that the father is alleged to have owed, August Sommerfeldt, Sr., a collector, shot and killed his son, August Sommerfeldt, Jr., here last night. The father was arrested.

Sunlight grows the Hops But will ruin the Brew

Most brewers follow the course of least resistance.

Schlitz is sold in brown bottles, to protect its purity from the brewery to your glass.

The first Schlitz was brewed in a hut over 60 years ago.

Now our agencies dot the earth. Our output exceeds a million barrels a year.

If you knew what we know about beer, you would say, "Schlitz—Schlitz in Brown Bottles."

CARGO OF PICTURES

Artist Will Return Home With Big Wad of Money.

New York, April 25.—Joaquin Sorolla Bastide, the Spanish painter, whose pictures two seasons ago at the Hispanic museum drew the phenomenal attendance of 159,892 New Yorkers, has returned from Chicago and St. Louis elated.

In Chicago the four weeks' exhibition was attended by 99,000 persons. Chicago Art museum bought one canvas, St. Louis museum three, and the returns are not in from enormous private sales. It seems, however, that not enough is left of the cargo he brought from Spain to furnish a New York exhibition.

In addition to this extraordinary Spaniard, who, for personal use, has dropped a syllable from a word traditionally in high esteem among his countryman and made "mana" ("tomorrow") has "mana" ("skill"), painted during his two months in Chicago eleven portraits, including those of Mr. and Mrs. J. Livingston Waller, Ira Nelson Morris, also his family group; Mrs. Orville Babcock, Miss Lydia Hubbard, daughter of F. Hibbard, and Mr. Hibbard's mother; Ralph Clarkson, and Miss Martha Baker and others. Miss Baker is a miniaturist, whose work Sorolla highly praised.

At his usual prices these yielded $55,000. But one of the family of Ira Nelson Morris was a canvas six and one-half feet by seven feet and must have cost double.

If he took $500,000 after his New York show it is likely that he will take home near $750,000 this time.

And this is the man who, as an orphan child, was advised "not to go into art—an artist doesn't eat till he dies!"

Of "Los ricos Americanos" he said: "Although I once thought that the collecting by rich Americans had an aspect of vanity, I have learned since I came here that this collecting has been a wonderful force toward American culture.

"In Chicago I conducted a class at the Art Museum. It was the first time that I had had an opportunity to study American students. What impressed me was the prodigious desire to do well, to succeed. Indeed, the more I see of America the more I find myself enthusiastic over the virility, the force in her art work. Little by little you are freeing yourselves of foreign influence. I went to exhibitions. One by young men was remarkable.

"I saw collections of exquisite etchings; I saw plans for the city of the future, the city that is to be, and I was pleased. Everything, everything here is marching on."

BULL TERRIER MOTHERS KITTENS

Whose Parent Disappears From Her Home in New York.

New York, April 25.—If it had not been that Lady Duff was a most good-natured and motherly sort of a Boston bull terrier and did not put any faith in the hereditary theory, the four little Angora kittens owned by Mrs. Lillian Shafer of No. 1 West One Hundredth street, would have had a pretty hard time of it and would not be so happy today. As it was the kittens have forgotten that they ever had a regular mother and are perfectly satisfied with their foster parent's treatment of them and her method of teaching them to take care of themselves, even if they can't learn to bark as she wants them.

The kittens were just ten days old when their highly bred mother, Toto, went out for an airing one day. That was the last ever seen of her. The cat's disappearance was naturally a signal for great grief for the four kittens, but after they had worried for a while about their mother's absence and the messengers sent out by Mrs. Shafer had reported that they could find no trace of the missing cat, Lady Duff took it upon herself to act as foster mother for the four and has kept up the role ever since.

The five sleep together in a big lined basket in the kitchen of the Shafer home, and the kittens are just as mindful of Lady Duff's bark as they would be of their mother's commanding call. They take even greater liberties with the dog than they would with their mother, and the mere fact that her ears make excellent teething rings and that her nose is a beautiful one to scratch does not bother her a bit. She is a good-natured canine and, acting as an orphan asylum appeals to her, the dog will allow no one she does not know to touch the kittens and is constantly on the lookout for their welfare.

CENTER OF POPULATION.

New York World: An uneven field of rocks and scraggly trees partly covered with snow; a frozen creek; a quarter of a mile away a farmhouse of hewn logs. Not a sign of life except a thin trail of smoke issuing from the chimney of the log cabin. A desolate scene, made even more so by lowering clouds and a biting north wind which whistled through the trees.

Such is the picture of the center of population of the United States in Washington township, Brown county, Ind., A two-hour drive due west from Columbus, Ind., on the county pike, brought the writer to the spot. It was easy to find, for it was scarcely a stone's throw from where the road crosses a little creek at the county line.

As I stood looking at the barren field a figure emerged from the low cabin and approached me. It was a tall, lanky figure of a man, and as he came nearer I saw he was clad in overalls tucked into high boots. He was bareheaded and without a coat.

"Hi, there! What d'ye want here?" he hallooed.

As I did not answer he hurried toward me, and when he was within speaking distance he asked me in Hoosier dialect, "what all my business was thar," and "who I was a-lookin' fer."

"The center of population of the United States is situated on this tract," I told him. "Do you own it?"

"Do tell," he said, slowly, in puzzled amazement. When he recovered from his surprise—he spent fully twenty seconds scratching his head and gazing about the desolate field—he eyed me over carefully.

"I thought you was some assessor or somethin' like that when I seen you git out and walk over here," he explained. "Who sent you here if you ain't no government agent?"

I explained that I had come on purpose to see the center of population of the United States. I told him he was the center of population of the United States; that it was a great honor to own the land on which the center of population was located. Then he opened up and admitted that it was part of his farm.

"I reckon it won't increase the value of this yer land," he ventured, after he had told me that his name was Scott Cooper, or "Pop" as he is generally known, and that he owned 220 acres along the country pike.

"What's the land worth an acre?" I asked.

"Couldn't sell it at any price," he answered. "But I reckon it's worth $20 an acre—maybe more. There ain't much land in Brown county worth more 'en $40 an acre."

"A mortgage on it?"

"Not yet. Don't reckon anyone would loan more 'en $100 on it. All the timber has been stripped. Nothin' but rocks."

"Any children?"

His face brightened. "Ye-up, five," he answered, proudly. "Had seven, but two is dead," he added.

"Well, you've got something else to be proud of," I told him. "You'll soon have a monument on your farm to mark the center of population."

"Wall, I don't reckon it will bring me nothin'," he laughed. "The center of population on my farm! Wall, it will surprise the ole woman. Thanks for tellin' me."

A moment later Scott Cooper strode off for his cabin to convey the news to his family. He was the owner of the center of population, but as he lived in Brown county he knew it wasn't worth a cent.

Brown county is the wildest and least known part of the Hoosier state. Until three years ago no railroad crossed its borders and even now the Indiana Southern cuts off only one small corner of this barren tract. Yet here is the center of population of the United States.

The center of population in 1900 was in Bartholomew county, about five miles southeast of Columbus, Ind. The great increase in population of some of the Southwestern states as shown by the census of 1910 caused the center to move westward about twenty miles, bringing it just over the line into Brown county, which adjoins Bartholomew county on the west. The census department has located the center as close as a forty-acre plot and in course of time the exact point will be determined by astronomical experts who will visit the tract and take observations. And in all probability it will be marked with a stone monument such as marks the spot where the center of population was in 1900.

NORTHERN MINNESOTA WILL BECOME MECCA FOR SPORTSMEN AND CAMPERS FROM ALL PARTS OF THE COUNTRY

LAKE LACROIX FROM BATTLE PORTAGE
PATTERSON ISLAND BURNSIDE LAKE
LONG LAKE
ON LAKE VERMILION
GRAMM

The lake region of Northern Minnesota, particularly in the vicinity of Tower and Ely, offers excellent facilities for the out-of-door pleasure seeker, and this year it will be advertised as a summer resort throughout the country. One could not ask for grander scenery, better boating, finer fishing or hunting than is to be found in this vicinity.

Beautiful Lake Vermilion, located at Tower, is about thirty-five miles long and six miles in width. It contains 365 islands, ranging from 100 feet square to several thousand acres in extent. Burntside lake near Ely is an ideal spot for the vacationist and camper. Most of the islands are covered with virgin forests of tamarack, pine, spruce and birch, and with the shore lines clothed in the same manner a panoramic view of verdant beauty is presented. The scenery along the shores cannot be surpassed anywhere. The lakes contain an abundance of pike, perch, pickerel, bass and muskellonge. Land locked salmon are to be found near the shores.

Boating companies have been organized and are prepared to rent canoes, row boats, launches, camp equipage, and will furnish guides in fact, the campers' trip will be arranged for him by giving reasonable notice in advance of his plans. A number of very nice cottages, accommodating from four to eight people and equipped with cooking utensils, etc., have been constructed on Lake Vermilion, and may be rented at reasonable rates. In fact it looks as if Northern Minnesota will come into its own as a summer resort this year.

WHO KNOWS ADA KALEH?

Wide World Magazine: Ada Kaleh is the name of an island lying in the Danube, just above the famous Iron Gates, and close to where the three countries of Hungary, Roumania, and Servia meet. It played a great part in the earlier history of Eastern Europe; its name alone—"The Island Fortress"—explains this, and in days gone by it effectually prevented the passage of enemies by water. Today, shorn of its ancient glory and in ruins, it is a queer, out-of-the-world corner, almost if not quite, an Arcadia, a community of peace grown up on the remains of war.

The first time Ada Kaleh is actually mentioned in history is when John Cordin of Hunyady constructed a fortress here, but the place must surely have been occupied by the Emperor Trajan's legions, for the road they made and followed was the one over there on the Servian bank, gleaming white among the oaks.

Leopold I, rebuilt the fortress, to help in the struggle against the Turks, but, after the fall of Belgrade, in the year 1789, it came into their possession, and has remained so ever since, though many have been the struggles to wrest it from them. In 1878, to prevent the Russians from seizing it, the Porte requested Austria to occupy it temporarily.

At the treaty of Berlin, when Turkey once and forever renounced all right of suzerainty over the various Danubian provinces, this little island was completely forgotten, and its name was omitted from the actual treaty. Consequently it remains to this day an integral part of the Ottoman Empire.

Since 1878 Austria has been pretending, on account of her temporary occupation, that the island is hers, and last year, when annexing Bosnia and Herzegovina, she wished to include this small island. Turkey, however, obstinately refused, and today, though Austria still keeps her few frontier guards there on the pretence of better watching the Servian frontier, Ada Kaleh is part of Turkey still.

POKER AND BRIDGE.

Kansas City Times: A Kansas statesman at Topeka laments that bridge has replaced the great American game of poker. With no attempt to go into such a delicate question as that of the comparative merits of the two games, it may be suggested that if the versatile R. F. Foster is right, bridge has attained its present vogue because it more nearly represents the American character than poker.

In the period preceding the Civil war, according to Mr. Foster, people had little confidence in each other, life was a game of big risks and bluff, and so poker was naturally the national game. In the era of carpet bags and credit, men tried to do a big business on small capital, with the expectation that they could make up for their deficiencies by getting the best of somebody else. Then euchre came into vogue, the best bower representing the advantage conferred, say by rebates. A period of partnerships followed, in which business was conducted on scientific principles by combining the best elements in concerns that had previously been competitors. Whist was pre-eminently the scientific partnership game. Finally came the time of the great combinations which can dictate terms—precisely as the dealer's combination has the make at bridge.

Here is an ingenious explanation, for the Kansas statesman, of why bridge has waxed and poker waned. As to its correctness, why, that is another matter.

FINLAND'S FOREIGN TRADE.

From a Helsingfors correspondent in London Financial Times: The commercial development of Finland continues in a very satisfactory manner, both imports and exports reaching record figures. The total foreign trade in 1910 amounted to $131,142,442, being an increase over 1909 of $9,635,670. The imports reached $71,459,686, an advance of $3,231,356, while exports were $56,451,400, or $6,248,586 more than in the previous year. The debit balance, therefore, was $15,008,286, or about $5,000,000 less than in 1909, when it was $19,952,650.

The principal exports of the country are timber, pulp, paper and butter. It is obviously impossible to much increase the exports of either logs or sawn goods without inviting a collapse in prices. The pulp market lives under the depression caused by enormous overproduction in Norway and Sweden, and an expansion of the Finnish output would have a most disastrous result all round. Efforts have been made with fair success to introduce Finnish "news" into England, but prices are not remunerative. In butter the local consumption is increasing at the expense of exports, and with the result that arable land is being turned into pasturage, leading incidentally also to vast increases in the imports of grain and flour. The imperial authorities have as yet failed to confirm the law passed by the Diet in 1908 allowing the import of margarin. Their view is that this law would lead to a deterioration in the quality of butter shipped. The new state butter warehouse and sampling establishment erected at Hango in 1909 is, however, an adequate control over the purity of butter shipments, and it is to be hoped, therefore, that confirmation of the law will soon be granted, as thereby some 10,000 tons a year minimum would be released for export purposes.

The value of the total timber exports was $31,418,124, against $26,921,478 in 1909. This was not due so much to increase in quantity shipped, which was not large, as to the high level at which prices commenced and were maintained throughout the season. In pulp increased sales made up for low values, while in payment a slight rise in price was accompanied by a considerable expansion in exports. Butter quotations as early as March were hoisted to an exorbitant level, owing to speculation in England. Later prices fell as the result of the cold-storage houses throwing their stocks on the market. There were no labor stoppages of any importance during the year.

The following are the dividends (in percentage) proposed to be paid by the leading banks on 1910 account: Foreningsbanken, 10; Wasa Aktiebank, 8, a decrease of 5; Privatbanken in Helsinfors, 12; Fasti Hetsbanken, 6; Nylands Aktiebank, 11; Tammerfors Aktiebank, 6¾, an increase of one fourth of 1; Nordska Aktiebank, 12½; Luomen Kauppapaukki, 4, an increase of one-half of 1; Kausallis Osake Paukki, 15; Abo Aktiebank, 8, an increase of 1.

WHITTIER WROTE HER A POEM.

Montgomery correspondence Kansas City Star: While rummaging through some old treasures of early days Mrs. C. P. Evered of this city, who will celebrate her eighty-first birthday anniversary in a few days, found an unpublished poem by John Greenleaf Whittier. It was given to Mrs. Evered by the poet himself while she was visiting a relative, Mrs. Alvira Vinning, at Acton, Mass., many years ago. The poet was at that time the guest of Mrs. Vinning. It is copied from the original, which was in Mr. Whittier's handwriting, being written on both sides of the paper. The poem follows:

He is never the one great poet
Who catches the hymns of the stars
And at sunset sees faces of angels
Aflame through the gold and blue bars.

But he is the poet and prophet
Who sees in the merest brown clod
A soul and a life and a purpose
That is one with the purpose of God;

Who wins from our everyday workings
A hope and a trust that are grand,
And sees in his garden of roses
The whole round earth at his hand;

Who reads by far deeper and sweeter
Than others in all human faces,
And catches where no one has dreamed it
A glimpse of the inlurking graces.

O wondrous, rare things have I read
In your face—it has proved me not poet.
Like the sunlight behind the noon cloud
The dullest beholder would know it;

Would know it with rapture and bless it
With joy for the charm of its sweetness,
And mingle with every true prayer
Its vision of perfect completeness.

I might wish you all bright and sweet things
But they sparkle around and above you
With a light that is surely immortal.
I can only remember—I love you.

Mrs. Evered recalls Whittier as one of the most charming personages she ever met. He sprang from Quaker ancestry, being born near the town of Haverhill, surrounded by fields and woods near which a brook "foamed, rippled and laughed."

STOMACHS OF ANCESTORS.

Harper's Weekly: Our ability to eat, if one may judge from the old records, ancient cook books, and such bits of literature as deal with the subject, is slowly dying out. Not only is it dying out, but physicians and nurses are aiding and abetting the process. A half glass of milk and a piece of bread is supposed by some persons to be an adequate meal for a man today.
